AMERICAN RADIO SYSTEMS CORPORATION
116 HUNTINGTON AVENUE
BOSTON, MA 02116

February , 1998

Dear Stockholder:

On behalf of the Board of Directors of American Radio Systems Corporation, I am pleased to inform you that American Radio and CBS Corporation have entered into the Amended and Restated Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of December 18, 1997 (as amended, the "Merger Agreement"). Pursuant to the Merger Agreement, American Radio will be merged (the "Merger") with, and become, a subsidiary of CBS. Upon consummation of the Merger, unless the Tower Merger (as defined below) has previously been consummated, each outstanding share of American Radio common stock (the "ARS Common Stock") will be converted into (i) $44.00 in cash and (ii) one share of the common stock of American Tower Systems Corporation (the "ATS Common Stock"), currently a majority-owned subsidiary of American Radio ("ATS"), of the same class as the class of ARS Common Stock surrendered.

The Merger Agreement is the culmination of the decision by the Board to dispose of the radio broadcasting business to a third party and to separate the communications sites business into a separate publicly owned corporation for the benefit of the holders of ARS Common Stock. This separation (the "Tower Separation") will be effected pursuant to the consummation of the Merger or, in the event the Merger has not been consummated on or prior to May 31, 1998 (which date could be extended with the consent of CBS and a third party with which ATS has entered into a merger agreement), pursuant to the merger of a newly organized wholly-owned subsidiary into American Radio (the "Tower Merger"). Pursuant to the Tower Merger, holders of ARS Common Stock will receive the same number and class of shares of ATS Common Stock as they would have received had the Merger been consummated at such time, in exchange for a portion of their ARS Common Stock. In such event, the amount of cash to be received per share for ARS Common Stock pursuant to the Merger will be increased in proportion to the reduction in the number of shares of ARS Common Stock outstanding following the Tower Merger so that each ARS common stockholder will receive the same aggregate amount of cash consideration pursuant to the Merger as he or she would have received had the Tower Merger not occurred. In the event the Tower Merger were consummated but the Merger were not, American Radio common stockholders would continue to own their interests in American Radio and such interests, while represented by a reduced number of shares, would represent the same proportionate interests as existed immediately prior to the Tower Merger.

Following consummation of the Merger (or the Tower Merger), ATS will operate as an independent publicly owned corporation. Application will be made to list the Class A Common Stock of ATS (the class that will be distributed to current holders of ARS Class A Common Stock) on the Nasdaq National Market. Subject to the satisfaction of various closing conditions, including approval of the Federal Communications Commission to the transfer of control of American Radio's FCC licenses to CBS and the expiration or earlier termination of the antitrust waiting period, the Merger is expected to be consummated this spring.

In the event the Merger (but not the Tower Merger) is consummated, a holder of ARS Common Stock holding his or her shares as a capital asset will recognize capital gain or loss equal to the difference between the tax basis in the ARS Common Stock surrendered pursuant to the Merger and the sum of (i) the aggregate cash received and (ii) the fair market value of the shares of ATS Common Stock received pursuant to the Merger. In the event both the Tower Merger and the Merger are consummated, as explained more fully in the Information Statement/Prospectus, comparable tax consequences will ensue for the American Radio common stockholders. However, in the event the Tower Merger were consummated and the Merger were not, the redemption of shares of ARS Common Stock pursuant to the Tower Merger would not meet the applicable requirements of the Internal Revenue Code for such redemption to qualify for sale or exchange treatment, and the fair market value of the shares of ATS Common Stock received pursuant to the Tower Merger would be taxable as a dividend. Because of these adverse federal income tax consequences, the Board of Directors has not made a final determination whether to proceed with the Tower Merger. It intends to evaluate all of the facts and circumstances existing at the time of any such proposed consummation to determine whether it is in the best interests of the American Radio common stockholders, notwithstanding such possible adverse tax consequences. Because the federal income tax consequences of the Merger and the Tower Merger are far more complex than the brief foregoing summary, I urge you to review carefully the detailed material included in the Information Statement/Prospectus, and to confer with your tax advisors.

The Board of Directors has unanimously approved the Merger and determined that its terms are fair to, and in the best interest of, the holders of ARS Common Stock. In reaching its conclusion, the Board gave careful consideration to a number of factors, which are described in the Information Statement/Prospectus. I urge you to read the enclosed material carefully, particularly before determining whether to exercise your appraisal rights. Credit Suisse First Boston was engaged to act as American Radio's financial advisor in connection with the Merger. Credit Suisse First Boston delivered its written opinion dated September 19, 1997 (the date the Merger Agreement was originally entered into by the parties), which, in effect, states that as of such date the $44.00 per share to be received by the holders of ARS Common Stock for their interest in American Radio's radio broadcasting business was fair to such stockholders from a financial point of view. Stockholders should recognize that the opinion of Credit Suisse First Boston addressed only the issue of the fairness of the cash consideration to be received for the radio broadcasting business of ARS and did not address the issue of the fairness of the distribution of ATS Common Stock as part of the Tower Separation. The Board of Directors did not seek the opinion of Credit Suisse First Boston (or any other firm) as to the fairness of the distribution of ATS Common Stock as part of the Tower Separation (whether pursuant to the Merger or the Tower Merger) because such distribution will be made to ARS common stockholders on a pro rata basis and will preserve the relative voting rights of the ARS common stockholders at the time of the Tower Separation. A copy of the opinion of Credit Suisse First Boston is included in its entirety as Appendix III to the Information Statement/Prospectus.

On December 19, 1997, certain stockholders of American Radio, owning of record in excess of 50% of the combined voting power of the ARS Common Stock then outstanding, delivered written consents approving the Merger, the Tower Merger and the Tower Separation. These written consents are sufficient under the Delaware General Corporation Law to approve the Merger Agreement and the Tower merger agreement, and, therefore, no further action by the stockholders of American Radio is necessary to consummate the Merger or the Tower Merger and no such approval will be sought. The stockholders who so consented to the Merger and the Tower Merger consisted principally of members of the Board of Directors (Messrs. Box (and his wife), Kellar, Stoner (and certain members of his family or trusts for their benefit), and myself) and a partner of our legal counsel, Sullivan & Worcester LLP.

On or about the time the Merger (and/or the Tower Merger) is expected to be consummated, a letter of transmittal and instructions for its use will be sent to holders of ARS Common Stock to enable such holders to surrender such stock in exchange for the cash and ATS Common Stock (or ATS Common Stock only, in the case of the Tower Merger) as described above. Accordingly, you are requested not to surrender your certificates for exchange until you receive a letter of transmittal and instructions on how to surrender your shares in connection with consummation of the Merger and/or the Tower Merger.

It has been a pleasure serving as an officer and director and sharing in the rewards as a fellow stockholder in American Radio, and I look forward to continuing those relationships with you in American Tower Systems.

Sincerely,

Steven B. Dodge
Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer

INFORMATION STATEMENT/PROSPECTUS

INFORMATION STATEMENT FOR AMERICAN RADIO SYSTEMS CORPORATION
PROSPECTUS FOR AMERICAN TOWER SYSTEMS CORPORATION

This Information Statement/Prospectus is being furnished by American Radio Systems Corporation, a Delaware corporation ("American Radio" or "ARS"), and American Tower Systems Corporation, a Delaware corporation and currently a majority-owned subsidiary of ARS ("American Tower Systems" or "ATS"), in connection with the disposition of ARS' radio broadcasting business and the separation of its communications site business (the "Tower Separation"), pursuant to the Amended and Restated Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of December 18, 1997, among ARS, CBS Corporation, a Pennsylvania corporation ("CBS"), and a wholly-owned subsidiary of CBS (as amended, the "Merger Agreement") providing for the merger (the "Merger") of such subsidiary with and into ARS. Upon consummation of the Merger (unless the Tower Merger has previously been consummated) each holder of record of ARS common stock (the "ARS Common Stock") will receive:

(a) $44.00 per share in cash; and

(b) one share of common stock of American Tower Systems (the "ATS Common Stock") of the same class as the class of ARS Common Stock surrendered.

In the event the Merger is not consummated on or prior to May 31, 1998 (which date could be extended with the consent of CBS and a third party with which ATS has entered into a merger agreement), the Tower Separation may be consummated before the Merger pursuant to a merger (the "Tower Merger") between American Radio and a newly organized wholly-owned subsidiary of American Radio. Pursuant to the Tower Merger, holders of ARS Common Stock will receive the same number and class of shares of ATS Common Stock as they would have received had the Merger been consummated at such time, in exchange for a portion of their ARS Common Stock. In such event, the amount of cash to be received per share of ARS Common Stock pursuant to the Merger will be increased in proportion to the reduction in the number of shares of ARS Common Stock outstanding following the Tower Merger so that each American Radio common stockholder will receive the same aggregate amount of cash consideration he or she would have received had the Tower Merger not occurred. In the event the Tower Merger were consummated but the Merger were not, American Radio common stockholders would continue to own their interests in American Radio and such interests, while represented by a reduced number of shares, would represent the same proportionate interests as existed immediately prior to the Tower Merger. However, because of the adverse federal income tax consequences which would result from consummation of the Tower Merger if the Merger were not thereafter consummated, the Board of Directors of American Radio has not made a final determination whether to proceed with the Tower Merger.

The Merger and the Tower Merger have been approved by the Board of Directors of American Radio and by the holders of shares representing the required majority of the voting power of ARS Common Stock. As a result of the Merger, American Radio will become a subsidiary of CBS. Consummation of the Merger is subject, among other things, to the expiration or earlier termination of the waiting period under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended ("HSR Act"), and the approval by the Federal Communications Commission (the "FCC") of the transfer of control of ARS' FCC licenses with respect to its radio stations to CBS. Subject to the satisfaction of such conditions, the Merger is expected to be consummated in the spring of 1998. Following consummation of the Merger (or the Tower Merger), American Tower Systems will operate as an independent publicly owned corporation. Application will be made to list the ATS Class A Common Stock on the Nasdaq National Market. To date, there has been no trading market for any class of ATS Common Stock.

This Information Statement/Prospectus is also being furnished in connection with the decision by the holders of ARS Common Stock whether to exercise their appraisal rights with respect to the Merger under the Delaware General Corporation Law. See "The Merger and Tower Separation--Appraisal Rights".

IN REVIEWING THIS INFORMATION STATEMENT/PROSPECTUS, STOCKHOLDERS SHOULD CAREFULLY CONSIDER THE MATTERS DESCRIBED UNDER THE SECTION ENTITLED "RISK FACTORS" ON PAGE 18.

TABLE OF CONTENTS

SUMMARY

All information with respect to American Tower Systems Corporation, a Delaware corporation ("American Tower Systems" or "ATS"), and American Radio Systems Corporation, a Delaware corporation ("American Radio" or "ARS"), except as otherwise noted below, gives effect to the consummation of all acquisitions, dispositions and exchanges of communications sites and related businesses and radio stations which have been consummated since January 1, 1997 or which are subject to a binding agreement (the "Recent Transactions"). See "Business of American Tower Systems--Recent Transactions." The Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements of ATS (and certain other pro forma financial information) give effect only to the ATS Pro Forma Transactions, which do not include all of the Recent Transactions but do include consummation of the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement and the transfer of towers from ARS to ATS in connection with the Tower Separation. See the "Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements of American Tower Systems".

The term "Tower Separation" as used in this Information Statement/Prospectus refers to the separation of the communications site business into a separate publicly traded corporation. The Tower Separation will consist of a sale of the radio broadcasting business to CBS and the distribution of the ATS Common Stock to the holders of ARS Common Stock. The Tower Separation will be effected pursuant to the Merger or, under certain circumstances which management does not anticipate occurring, the Tower Merger (which, if consummated, will occur prior to the consummation of the Merger). Whether or not the Tower Merger is consummated, the holders of ARS Common Stock will receive the identical aggregate amount of cash and number of shares of American Tower Systems.

The following is a summary of certain information contained in this Information Statement/Prospectus. This summary is not intended to be complete and is qualified in its entirety by reference to the more detailed information set forth or incorporated by reference in this Information Statement/Prospectus.

AMERICAN TOWER SYSTEMS

General

American Tower Systems is a leading independent owner and operator of wireless communications towers in the U.S. with over 1,580 towers in 39 states and the District of Columbia, including approximately 510 towers managed for third party owners (of which approximately 255 are rooftop towers). Of such 1,580 towers, approximately 810 are presently operated by ATS (approximately 425 of which are owned by it and the balance of which are managed for others), and approximately 775 are presently operated by American Tower Corporation (of which approximately 125 are managed for a third party; ATC is a party to agreements or letters of intent to acquire approximately 125 currently operating towers). In addition to such 1,580 towers, ATS and ATC have more than 90 and 50 towers, respectively, currently under construction. ATS rents tower space and provides related services for a diverse range of wireless communications industries including: personal communications services, cellular, paging, specialized mobile radio, enhanced specialized mobile radio and fixed microwave, as well as radio and television broadcasters. ATS has significant networks of sites throughout the United States with its most significant tower networks in California, Florida and Texas, and owns and operates communications sites or is constructing networks of tower sites in cities such as Albuquerque, Atlanta, Austin, Baltimore, Boston, Dallas, Jacksonville, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Miami-Ft. Lauderdale, Nashville, New York, Philadelphia, Sacramento, San Antonio, San Diego, San Francisco, Tucson, Washington, D.C. and West Palm Beach. On a pro forma basis ATS' customers (which aggregate more than 2,390) include many of the major companies in the wireless communications industries, including: AT&T, Arch, Bell Atlantic Mobile, BellSouth Mobility, GTE Mobilnet, Houston Cellular, Prime Co., Metrocall, Nextel, PageMart, PageNet, Pittencrief Communications, SBC Communications, Southwestern Bell, SNET and Sprint, and in the radio and television broadcasting industry, including: ABC, American Radio, CBS, Chancellor Media, Clear Channel, CNN, Fox, Jacor and NBC. While none of ATS' customers accounted for as much as 10% of its pro forma revenues for the nine months ended September 30, 1997, most of the named customers accounted for more than 1% of such revenues and each is considered by ATS to be an important customer.

ATS' primary business is the leasing of antennae sites on multi-tenant towers and rooftops, primarily for its own towers and, to a lesser extent, for unaffiliated communications site owners. In support of its rental business, ATS also offers its customers network development services, including: site acquisition, zoning, antennae installation, site construction and network design. These services are offered on a time and materials or fixed fee basis or incorporated into build to suit construction contracts. American Tower Systems is also engaged in the video, voice and data transmission business, which it currently conducts in the New York City to Washington, D.C. corridor and in Texas. For the nine months ended September 30, 1997, giving effect to the ATS Pro Forma Transactions, ATS had revenues and EBITDA of $66.0 million and $30.4 million, respectively.

Recent Developments

On December 12, 1997, ATS entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the "ATC Merger Agreement") with American Tower Corporation, an unaffiliated Delaware corporation ("ATC"), pursuant to which, following the Tower Separation, ATC will merge with and into ATS, which will be the surviving corporation (the "ATC Merger"). ATC is a leading independent owner and operator of wireless communications towers with approximately 775 towers in 31 states. Pursuant to the ATC Merger, ATS will issue an aggregate of approximately 31.1 million shares of ATS Class A Common Stock (including shares issuable upon exercise of options). Such number of shares will represent 35% of the number of shares of ATS Common Stock that would be outstanding, assuming consummation of the Merger, the ATC Merger, the exercise of all options to acquire ARS Common Stock, ATC Common Stock and ATS Common Stock proposed to be outstanding, and the conversion of all shares of ARS Convertible Preferred Stock. Consummation of the ATC Merger is conditioned on, among other things, the expiration or earlier termination of the waiting period under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended (the "HSR Act"), and consummation of the Tower Separation and, accordingly, is not expected to take place until the spring of 1998. On January 28, 1998, the Justice Department issued a formal request for additional information (a "Second Request"). ATS and ATC are in the process of compiling the information requested by the Justice Department and intend to meet with its representatives to address any questions they may have regarding such information. Upon consummation of the ATC Merger, ATS will be renamed American Tower Corporation. A description of the business and management of ATC, as well as certain financial information, is included in Appendix V to, and ATC's consolidated financial statements are included in, this Information Statement/Prospectus. See "Business of American Tower Systems--Recent Transactions--ATC Merger".

On January 22, 1998, ATS consummated an agreement to acquire a company engaged primarily in the site acquisition business for third parties that also owns or has under construction 40 towers (the "Gearon Transaction"). The merger price of approximately $80.0 million was paid by delivery of 5,333,333 shares of ATS Class A Common Stock, and approximately $30.0 million in cash and assumed liabilities. See "Business of American Tower Systems--Recent Transactions".

On January 22, 1998, American Tower Systems consummated a stock purchase agreement (the "ATS Stock Purchase Agreement"), dated as of January 8, 1998, with Steven B. Dodge, Chairman of the Board, President and Chief Executive Officer of ARS and ATS, and certain other officers and directors of ARS (or their affiliates or family members or family trusts), pursuant to which those persons purchased 8.0 million shares of ATS Common Stock at a purchase price of $10.00 per share for an aggregate purchase price of $80.0 million, including 4.0 million shares by Mr. Dodge for $40.0 million. See "The Merger and Tower Separation--ATS Stock Purchase Agreement".

Industry Overview

Communications site owners and operators have benefited in recent years from a substantial increase in demand for wireless communications services. The Cellular Telecommunications Industry Association ("CTIA") estimates that the number of subscribers to wireless telephone services was approximately five million in 1990. According to The Strategis Group, a telecommunications marketing research firm, the number of subscribers to cellular and personal communication services ("PCS") is over 50 million today, and is projected to increase to over 100 million by the year 2001. This demand has prompted the issuance of new wireless network licenses and construction of new wireless networks. ATS believes that the increase in demand for wireless communications is attributable to a number of factors, including: the increasing mobility of the U.S. population and the growing awareness of the benefits of mobile communications, technological advances in communications equipment and decreasing costs of wireless services, favorable changes in telecommunications regulations, and business and consumer preferences for higher quality voice and data transmission. Consequently, more towers will be required to accommodate the anticipated increase in the demand for higher frequency technologies (such as PCS and enhanced specialized mobile radio ("ESMR")) which have a reduced cell range and thus require a more dense network, or "footprint", of towers. The Personal Communications Industry Association ("PCIA") estimates that over 100,000 additional antennae sites will have to be built to accommodate the needs of cellular and PCS over the next ten years.

ATS believes that, as the wireless industry has become more competitive, many carriers are seeking to focus their capital and operational resources primarily on activities that contribute directly to subscriber growth, such as the marketing and distribution of products. Management believes that these carriers, therefore, may seek to preserve capital and to speed access to their markets through the outsourcing of infrastructure requirements such as communications site ownership, construction, operation and maintenance. Also, in order to accelerate network deployment or expansion and to generate efficiencies, ATS has observed in the course of its operations that many carriers are increasingly co-locating transmission infrastructure with that of other network operators. The need for co-location has also been driven by regulatory restrictions and the growing trend in local municipalities to slow the proliferation of towers in their communities by requiring that towers accommodate multiple tenants.

ATS believes that national and other large wireless service providers will prefer to deal with a company that can meet the majority of such providers' needs within a particular market or region, rather than, as had been the historical model, working with a large number of individual tower owners, construction companies and other service providers. There can be no assurance that ATS will be able to secure a substantial portion of such potential business. See "Risk Factors".

While the wireless communications industry is experiencing rapid growth, the television broadcasting industry, pursuant to a mandated construction timetable imposed on television broadcast licensees by the Federal Communications Commission ("FCC"), is actively planning its strategy for the transition from analog to digital technology. The FCC construction timetable, although subject to potential revision by the FCC, currently requires a number of television stations to commence digital service as soon as May 1, 1999, and some stations have promised to begin such service even earlier. ATS believes that this transition will require a substantial investment in enhanced broadcast infrastructure, including the construction or reengineering of broadcast towers. While ATS expects much of the associated capital requirements will be borne by the broadcasters, management believes that a significant opportunity exists to invest profitably in the creation of tower capacity designed to accommodate digital antennas for television broadcasters. Management believes that, as with the deployment of towers for the wireless carriers, speed to market and limited capital resources will cause certain broadcasters to outsource the construction or reengineering of their towers in order to accommodate digital technology.

Management believes that, in addition to the favorable growth and outsourcing trends in the wireless communications and broadcasting industries, the communications site industry benefits from several favorable characteristics including: a diversified customer base, a stable and growing revenue stream based primarily on long-term leases from substantial companies, low tenant "churn" due to the costs and disruption associated with reconfiguring a wireless network or broadcasting location, local government initiatives to reduce the numbers of towers thereby requiring carriers to co-locate towers, and the opportunity to consolidate in what is currently a highly fragmented industry, thereby creating the potential for enhanced levels of customer service and operating efficiency.

Growth Strategy

ATS' objective is to maintain and extend its position as a leading U.S. provider of communications sites and network development services to the wireless communications and broadcasting industries. ATS' growth strategy includes:

Internal Growth through Selling, Service and Capacity Utilization. Management believes that a substantial opportunity for profitable growth exists by maximizing the utilization of existing towers through targeted sales and marketing techniques. Management believes that the key to the success of this strategy lies in its ability to develop and consistently deliver a high level of customer service, and to be widely recognized as a company that makes realistic commitments and then delivers on them. Since speed to market and reliable network performance are critical components to the success of wireless service providers, ATS' ability to assist its customers in meeting these criteria will ultimately define its marketing success and capacity utilization. ATS targets wireless providers that are expanding or improving their existing network infrastructure as well as those deploying new technologies. ATS focuses on building or acquiring towers engineered to hold as many tenants as possible and acquiring towers with underutilized capacity because the costs of operating a site are largely fixed, and increasing tower utilization results in significantly improved site operating margins. When a specific tower reaches full antennae attachment capacity, ATS is often able to construct an additional tower at the same location, thereby further leveraging its investment in land, related equipment and certain operating costs, such as taxes, utilities and telephone service.

Growth by Construction (Build to Suit). ATS believes that attractive investment returns can be achieved by constructing new tower networks ("footprints") in and around markets in which it already has a presence, along major highways, and in targeted new markets, particularly markets that have not been significantly built out by carriers or other communications site companies. By working with one or more "anchor" tenants (in much the same manner as a shopping mall developer), ATS will seek to develop an overall master plan for a particular market by locating new sites in areas identified by its customers as optimal for their network expansion requirements (build to suit). ATS generally secures commitments for leasing prior to commencing construction, thereby minimizing, to some extent, the risks associated with the investment. In certain cases, ATS may identify and secure all zoning and other regulatory permits for a site in anticipation of customer demand, with actual construction being delayed until an anchor tenant is secured on reasonable terms. Strategic acquisitions are also pursued as a means of filling out or, in certain cases, initiating a tower network.

American Tower Systems currently has under construction or plans to construct during 1998 (exclusive of those which ATC is constructing or plans to construct) approximately 300 towers (most of which are on a build to suit basis) at an estimated aggregate cost of approximately $60.0 million. In addition, ATS is actively competing for the opportunity to construct more than 600 towers in 1998 for an estimated cost of approximately $120.0 million, although there can be no assurance as to how many, if any, of such towers ATS will be engaged to construct. ATC has under construction or plans to construct during 1998 approximately 125 towers at an estimated aggregate cost of approximately $28.0 million.

Because of the relatively attractive initial returns which can be achieved from new tower construction, and because ATS can design and build towers to specifications that assure ample future capacity and minimize the need for future capital expenditures, management intends to place a strong emphasis on new tower development for the foreseeable future. Management also intends to pursue new tower construction to service the demand for digital television and for tower space for radio antennae displaced by digital television requirements. Over time, management believes that more than half of its towers will result from new construction, with the substantial majority of these designed to serve the wireless communications industry.

ATS believes that the ability to obtain, and commit to, large new construction (build to suit) projects will require significant financial resources. Based on its previous capital market transactions, management believes that it has a good reputation in the financial community, including among banks, investment banking firms, institutional investors and public investors, and that such reputation will help it attract capital on the favorable terms necessary to finance its growth, although there can be no assurance that funds will be available to ATS on such terms. Further, management believes that its cost of capital, relative to the cost of capital of its competitors, will be an important factor in implementing this aspect of its growth strategy.

Growth by Acquisition. ATS intends to continue to target strategic acquisitions in markets or regions where it already owns towers as well as new markets, including possibly non-U.S. markets. ATS has achieved a leading industry position primarily through acquisitions. ATS will attempt to increase revenues and operating margins at acquired communications sites through expanded sales and marketing efforts, improved customer service, the elimination of redundant overhead and, in certain instances, increasing tower capacity. Acquisitions are evaluated using numerous criteria, including potential demand, tower location, tower height, existing capacity utilization, local competition, and local government restrictions on new tower development. ATS also intends to pursue, on a selective basis, the acquisition of site acquisition companies and providers of video, voice and data transmission services. ATS may also pursue acquisitions related to the communications site industry, including companies engaged in the tower fabrication business.

While to date the majority of ATS' growth has resulted from acquisition activities, once the remaining Recent Transactions are consummated, management expects to shift ATS' emphasis more toward build to suit and new tower construction, where it believes investment returns are more attractive. It will, however, continue to evaluate numerous acquisition prospects, and expects to consummate selected acquisitions when the economics or fit are sufficiently attractive.

Growth through the Negotiation of Lease Escalators. The value of a tower and its growth prospects are affected by the terms of the leases associated with it. Most leases have escalator provisions (annual automatic increases based on specified estimated cost measures or on increases in the consumer price index) that permit ATS to keep pace with inflation. While these provisions are not by themselves intended to be a primary source of growth, they provide a stable and predictable growth component which is then enhanced by increased tower utilization.

History of ATS

In early 1995, Steven B. Dodge, Chairman of the Board, President and Chief Executive Officer of American Radio, and other members of American Radio's management, recognized the opportunity in the communications site industry through ARS' ownership and operation of broadcast towers. ATS was formed in July 1995 to capitalize on this opportunity. During 1996, ATS' acquisition program was modest, entailing the acquisition of companies owning an aggregate of ten communications sites and managing approximately 250 sites for others, for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $21.0 million. During that year, however, ATS entered into several more significant acquisition agreements that were consummated in 1997.

Since January 1, 1997, ATS has acquired more than 525 communications sites (including the consummation of acquisition agreements entered into in 1996), for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $290.0 million. All of such transactions, as well as the ATC Merger, are included in the Recent Transactions. As explained elsewhere herein, consummation of the ATC Merger will result in the acquisition of more than 775 towers by ATS. In addition to its acquisition program, ATS (including for this purpose companies it acquired in 1997) will have constructed approximately 120 towers in 1997 at an aggregate cost of approximately $25.7 million, and has plans to construct approximately 300 towers in 1998 (exclusive of ATC's construction plans and exclusive of a bid to construct approximately 600 towers at a cost of approximately $120.0 million) at a total estimated cost of approximately $60.0 million. ATS intends to pursue, on a selective basis, the acquisition of other communications sites and related businesses, although it is not party to any definitive binding agreements with respect to any material transactions, except as described in this Information Statement/Prospectus. Although such acquisition or construction activity will not, except under circumstances in which consummation of the Merger could be delayed materially (i.e., by more than 15 business days), require the consent of CBS under the Merger Agreement, such activity may require certain regulatory approvals.

Management

The senior management of American Tower Systems consists of the following senior executive officers (all of whom, with the exception of Messrs. Eisenstein and Gearon, will continue to hold positions with American Radio until the consummation of the Merger): Steven B. Dodge, Chairman of the Board of Directors, President and Chief Executive Officer; Alan L. Box, Chief Operating Officer and a director; Joseph L. Winn, Treasurer, Chief Financial Officer and a director; James S. Eisenstein, Executive Vice President-Corporate Development; and J. Michael Gearon, Jr., the former principal stockholder and chief executive officer of Gearon & Co., Inc., Executive Vice President of ATS, the chief executive officer of ATS' site acquisition business, and a director. ATS is managed through a central headquarters in Boston, but relies on regional offices for marketing, operations and site management.

ATS is a holding company whose principal asset is all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of American Tower Systems (Delaware), Inc. ("ATSI" or, collectively with ATSLP, the "Tower Operating Subsidiary"). ATSI, which directly or through two limited liability company subsidiaries had previously owned all of the assets and conducted all of the business of ATS and its consolidated subsidiaries, transferred all of its assets and business to American Tower Systems, L.P., a Delaware limited partnership ("ATSLP"), immediately prior to the consummation of the Gearon Transaction pursuant to which Gearon was merged into ATSI. References to ATS include ATS and its consolidated subsidiaries, unless the context otherwise requires.

AMERICAN TOWER CORPORATION

ATC is a leading independent owner and operator of wireless communications towers with more than 775 towers in 31 states, including approximately 125 towers managed for a third party owner. ATC has agreed to acquire an additional 125 towers pursuant to letters of intent which are expected to be consummated, subject to negotiation and execution of definitive agreements and satisfaction of closing conditions, including, in certain cases, expiration or earlier termination of the HSR Act waiting period, in the first half of 1998. During 1997, ATC acquired or agreed to acquire 192 towers and constructed or had, at year end, under construction an aggregate of 64 towers; ATC plans to construct approximately 125 towers in 1998. ATC rents tower space and provides related services to wireless communications service providers, as well as operators of private networks and government agencies, for a diverse range of applications including paging, cellular, PCS, fixed microwave, SMR and ESMR. ATC owns and operates towers in 45 of the largest 100 metropolitan statistical areas in the United States and has clusters of towers in cities such as Albuquerque, Atlanta, Baltimore, Dallas, Houston, Jacksonville, Kansas City, Nashville, San Antonio and San Diego. ATC's customers (which aggregate more than 865) include Bell South Mobility, CSX Transportation, Inc. ("CSX Transportation"), GTE Mobilnet, Houston Cellular Telephone Company ("Houston Cellular"), Nextel, PageMart, PageNet, Pittencrief Communications, SBC Communications, Shell Offshore, and various federal and local government agencies. While none of ATC's customers accounted for as much as 10% of its pro forma revenues for the nine months ended September 30, 1997, most of the named customers accounted for more than 1% of such revenues and each is considered by ATC to be an important customer.

ATC was organized in October 1994 by an investor group led by Summit Capital Inc. of Houston and Chase Capital to acquire Bowen-Smith Corp. ("Bowen-Smith"). Bowen-Smith had been in the tower rental business since 1966, initially serving the communications tower requirements of two-way radio and microwave transmission users. At the time of the acquisition (the "Bowen-Smith Acquisition"), Bowen-Smith owned 184 towers on 175 sites located primarily in Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma. Within the first year after the Bowen- Smith Acquisition, ATC acquired or constructed more than 75 communications towers. In December 1995, ATC acquired 103 towers from CSX Realty Development Corporation ("CSX"), and in October 1996, ATC acquired 154 towers from Prime Communication Sites Holding, L.L.C. ("Prime").

AMERICAN RADIO

American Radio is a national radio broadcasting company committed to developing and operating groups of complementary radio stations in major and growing advertising markets. American Radio is among the five largest radio groups in the nation, owning and/or programming pursuant to local marketing agreements ("LMAs") approximately 90 radio stations in 19 markets across the United States. Consistent with its strategy of operating in the top 60 markets (as ranked by revenues), American Radio owns or programs pursuant to LMAs stations in the following markets: Boston, Seattle, St. Louis, Baltimore, Cincinnati, Portland, Pittsburgh, Sacramento, Charlotte, Kansas City, Hartford, Austin, Buffalo, Las Vegas, San Jose, West Palm Beach, Rochester, Fresno and San Bernardino/Riverside. ARS station groups ranked first or second among station operators in radio advertising revenues in 18 of its 19 markets, based on the 1997 edition of Duncan's Radio Market Guide (the "Duncan Guide").*

THE MERGER AND TOWER SEPARATION

Tower Separation..... The Board of Directors of ARS (the "ARS Board") has determined that it was in the best interests of the holders of ARS Common Stock to dispose of American Radio's radio broadcasting business and to separate its communications site business through the distribution of ATS Common Stock to the holders of ARS Common Stock. Pursuant to that decision, it has unanimously approved the Merger (and, should the Merger not be consummated prior to May 31, 1998, the Tower Merger) as the means of effecting those goals. Pursuant to the Tower Separation, regardless of how effected, holders of ARS Common Stock will receive approximately 38.8% of the ATS Common Stock, assuming consummation of the Merger, the ATC Merger, the exercise of all options to acquire ARS Common Stock, ATC Common Stock and ATS Common Stock proposed to be outstanding, and the conversion of all shares of ARS Convertible Preferred Stock. See "The Merger and Tower Separation".

The Merger..... On September 19, 1997, American Radio, CBS and R Acquisition Corp., a Delaware corporation ("CBS Sub"), entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the "Original Merger Agreement"), pursuant to which CBS Sub will be merged with and into American Radio and American Radio will become a subsidiary of CBS. On December 18, 1997, ARS, CBS and CBS Sub entered into an Amended and Restated Agreement and Plan of Merger. Pursuant to the Merger, each holder of ARS Common Stock, at the effective time (the "Effective Time") of the Merger, will receive for each share of ARS Common Stock held by such holder, if the Tower Merger has not then been consummated, $44.00 per share in cash and one share of ATS Common Stock of the same class as the ARS Common Stock to be surrendered. On December 19, 1997, ARS, CBS and CBS Sub executed an amendment to the Merger Agreement reflecting ATS common stockholder approval and adoption of the Merger Agreement and approval of the Merger.

The Tower Merger..... In order to facilitate the ATC Merger, ARS has entered into a merger agreement (the "Tower Merger Agreement") with a newly organized wholly-owned subsidiary of ARS which provides for the Tower Merger, pursuant to which such subsidiary would be merged with and into ARS. The Tower Merger will occur only if the Merger has not been consummated on or prior to May 31, 1998 (or such later date as may be agreed to by ATC, ARS and CBS) and then only if the ARS Board has determined that, in light of all of the facts and circumstances then existing, such merger is in the best interests of the ARS common stockholders. Pursuant to the Tower Merger, holders of ARS Common Stock would receive the shares of ATS Common Stock they would have received had the Merger been consummated, in exchange for a portion of their ARS Common Stock. In such event, the amount of cash to be received per share of ARS Common Stock pursuant to the Merger would be increased in proportion to the reduction in the number of shares of ARS Common Stock outstanding following the Tower Merger so that each holder of ARS Common Stock will receive the same aggregate amount of cash consideration such holder would have received had the Tower Merger not occurred (assuming such holder did not dispose of any shares of ARS Common Stock between the effective time of the Tower Merger and the Effective Time). See "The Merger and Tower Separation--Tower Merger".

Stockholder Approval.....	The Merger and the Tower Merger have been approved by the holders of a majority of the voting power of ARS Common Stock. Accordingly, stockholder proxies are not required and are not being sought from ARS common stockholders. CBS stockholder approval is not required in connection with the Merger.
Appraisal Rights.....	Holders of ARS Common Stock who have not previously consented to the Merger are entitled to appraisal rights as dissenting stockholders to the Merger, which must be exercised within twenty (20) days of the date this Information Statement/Prospectus is first mailed to stockholders of American Radio, as indicated on the cover page. No such appraisal rights are applicable with respect to the Tower Merger. See "The Merger and Tower Separation--Appraisal Rights".
Estimated Merger Effective Date.....	Subject to the satisfaction or waiver of the conditions to closing, consummation of the Merger is expected to occur in the spring of 1998. See "--Regulatory Matters" below.
Reasons for the Tower Separation.....	The ARS Board has unanimously approved the Merger Agreement and concluded that its terms are fair to and in the best interests of the holders of ARS Common Stock. The ARS Board determined that, in light of the growing consolidation of the larger radio broadcasting companies that had taken place and was being discussed, it was in the best interests of the common stockholders of ARS to seek a merger partner for ARS' radio broadcasting business before such a possibility became impossible or was seriously impaired. For a description of the negotiations leading up to the execution of the Merger Agreement and related matters and the reasons for the Merger, see "Background of the Merger". The ARS Board has also unanimously approved the distribution of the ATS Common Stock to the holders of ARS Common Stock as part of the Tower Separation, and concluded that its terms are fair to and in the best interests of such holders. The ARS Board determined that such distribution will enable holders of ARS Common Stock to realize a greater value, in the long run, than if the communications site business had been offered for sale as part of the sale of the radio broadcasting business or separately at this time.
Opinion of ARS Financial Advisor.....	American Radio retained Credit Suisse First Boston Corporation ("Credit Suisse First Boston") as its financial advisor in connection with the Merger. Credit Suisse First Boston has delivered its written opinion to the ARS Board stating that, as of September 19, 1997, the date of such opinion, the $44.00 per share in cash to be received by the holders of ARS Common Stock for, in effect, their interest in ARS' radio broadcasting business was fair to such holders from a financial point of view. The Credit Suisse First Boston opinion was based on the procedures and subject to the assumptions described therein. See "Background of the Merger--Opinion of Financial Advisor to American Radio". Since the ARS Board had determined not to sell the communications site business but to distribute it to the holders of ARS Common Stock, the opinion of Credit Suisse First Boston was limited to the fairness, from a financial point of view, as of its date, of the $44.00 per share of ARS Common Stock to be received by such holders in the Merger. Stockholders should recognize that the opinion of Credit Suisse First Boston addressed only the issue of the fairness of the cash consideration to be received for the radio broadcasting business of ARS and did not address the issue of the fairness of the distribution of ATS Common Stock as part of the Tower Separation. The Board of Directors did not seek the opinion of Credit Suisse First Boston (or any other firm) as to the fairness of the distribution of ATS Common Stock as part of the Tower Separation (whether pursuant to the Merger or the Tower Merger) because such distribution will be made on a pro rata basis to ARS common stockholders and will preserve the relative voting rights of the ARS common stockholders at the time of the Tower Separation. In addition, because the modifications to the Original Merger Agreement did not affect the amount of cash consideration to be received by the holders of ARS Common Stock, no updating of that opinion was considered necessary by the ARS Board.

Termination of the Merger Agreement.....	The Merger Agreement may be terminated by American Radio or CBS under various circumstances, including the failure to consummate the Merger on or before December 31, 1998.
Regulatory Matters.....	The receipt of certain federal governmental and regulatory approvals is required in order to consummate the Merger, including approvals from the FCC of the transfer of control to CBS of the subsidiaries holding ARS' FCC licenses and the expiration or earlier termination of the waiting period under the HSR Act. Each of American Radio and CBS has agreed in the Merger Agreement to use its best efforts to obtain such regulatory approvals.
Certain Federal Income Tax Consequences.....	The Tower Separation will result in taxable gain to American Radio (most of which is required to be borne by ATS pursuant to the provisions of the ARS-ATS Separation Agreement to be executed by ARS and ATS to implement certain provisions of the Merger Agreement). In the event the Merger (but not the Tower Merger) is consummated, a holder of ARS Common Stock holding his or her shares as a capital asset will recognize gain or loss equal to the difference between the tax basis in the ARS Common Stock surrendered pursuant to the Merger and the sum of (i) the aggregate cash received and (ii) the fair market value of the shares of ATS Common Stock received pursuant to the Merger. In the event both the Tower Merger and the Merger are consummated, comparable tax consequences will ensue for such holders of ARS Common Stock. However, in the event the Tower Merger were consummated and the Merger were not, the redemption of shares of ARS Common Stock pursuant to the Tower Merger would not meet the applicable requirements of the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended (the "Code") for such redemption to qualify for sale or exchange treatment, and the fair market value of the shares of ATS Common Stock received pursuant to the Tower Merger would be taxable as a dividend. See "The Merger and Tower Separation--Certain Federal Income Tax Consequences of the Merger and Tower Merger".

Classes of ATS Common Stock.....	As is the case with the ARS Common Stock, the Class A Common Stock of ATS (the "ATS Class A Common Stock") is entitled to one (1) vote per share, the Class B Common Stock of ATS (the "ATS Class B Common Stock") is entitled to ten (10) votes per share, and the Class C Common Stock of ATS (the "ATS Class C Common Stock") is nonvoting, except as otherwise provided by applicable law. The holders of each class of ATS Common Stock are entitled to identical rights with respect to cash dividends and upon liquidation and dissolution of ATS. Except as otherwise provided by applicable law and except for the rights of the holders of the ATS Class A Common Stock to elect two "independent" directors, the holders of ATS Class A Common Stock and ATS Class B Common Stock vote together on all matters requiring the vote of the ATS common stockholders.
Trading Market.....	ATS intends to seek a Nasdaq National Market ("Nasdaq") listing for the ATS Class A Common Stock. While ATS believes it currently meets the financial listing criteria for such listing, no application for such listing has been filed, and there can be no assurance that such listing will be obtained.
Principal ATS Stockholders.....	Assuming consummation of the Merger and the ATC Merger, and the conversion of all shares of ARS Convertible Preferred Stock, Steven B. Dodge, Chairman of the Board of the Directors of ATS (the "ATS Board") and the ARS Board, President and Chief Executive Officer of ATS and ARS, and Thomas H. Stoner, Chairman of the Executive Committee of the ATS and ARS Boards, together with their affiliates, owned "beneficially", on February 1, 1998, approximately 51.4% (approximately 63.0% prior to the consummation of the ATC Merger) of the combined votes of the ATS voting stock. See "Principal Stockholders of American Tower Systems".
Relationship with ARS after the Tower Separation.....	As a result of the Tower Separation, American Tower Systems will cease to be a subsidiary of, or otherwise be affiliated with, American Radio and will thereafter operate as an independent publicly held company. However, ARS and ATS have entered or will enter into certain agreements providing for, among other things, (i) the orderly separation of ARS and ATS and the completion of the Tower Separation, (ii) the lease of space on certain towers owned or leased by ATS to ARS, (iii) the allocation of certain tax and other liabilities between ARS and ATS, and (iv) certain indemnification obligations of ATS to ARS. See "The Merger and Tower Separation--ARS-ATS Separation Agreement".

Market Prices.....	On August 19, 1997, the day prior to the announcement by ARS that management was exploring ways to maximize stockholder value, the last reported sale price per share of the ARS Class A Common Stock on the New York Stock Exchange (the "NYSE") was $39.125. On September 18, 1997, the day prior to the announcement by American Radio of the signing of the Original Merger Agreement with CBS, the last reported sale price per share of ARS Class A Common Stock on the NYSE was $51 7/8. On February 6, 1998, the last reported sale price per share of the ARS Class A Common Stock on the NYSE was $60.

RISK FACTORS

Holders of ARS Common Stock should carefully consider the information set forth or referred to under the heading "Risk Factors", in addition to the other information contained in this Information Statement/Prospectus.

AMERICAN TOWER SYSTEMS DIVIDEND POLICY

American Tower Systems currently does not intend to pay cash dividends on ATS Common Stock for the foreseeable future and any such payments would be limited by the restrictions set forth in the Tower Loan Agreement. See "Description of American Tower Systems Capital Stock--Dividend Restrictions" and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations of American Tower Systems--Liquidity and Capital Resources".

AMERICAN TOWER SYSTEMS SELECTED FINANCIAL DATA

The following Selected Financial Data of American Tower Systems has been derived from the consolidated financial statements of American Tower Systems included elsewhere in this Information Statement/Prospectus. The data as of and for the nine months ended September 30, 1996 is unaudited, but in the opinion of management contains all adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring accruals, necessary for a fair presentation of such information. (1) ATSI was organized on July 17, 1995 and American Radio contributed all of the issued and outstanding capital stock of ATSI to ATS on September 24, 1996. Year-to-year comparisons are significantly affected by the timing of acquisitions of communications sites and related businesses and construction of towers, both of which have been numerous during the period.

See "Business of American Tower Systems--Recent Transactions" and the consolidated financial statements of American Tower Systems elsewhere in this Information Statement/Prospectus for a description of the acquisitions made and construction activity in 1995, 1996 and the first nine months of 1997.

(2) The unaudited pro forma Statement of Operations Data and Other Operating Data for the year ended December 31, 1996 gives effect to the ATS Pro Forma Transactions and the Merger, including the Tower Separation, as if each of the foregoing had occurred on January 1, 1996. The term "ATS Pro Forma Transactions" includes the Meridian Transaction, the Diablo Transaction, the MicroNet Transaction, the Tucson Transaction, the Gearon Transaction, the ATC Merger, consummation of transactions contemplated by the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement and the transfer of towers from ARS to ATS and does not include all of the Recent Transactions relating to American Tower Systems or pending construction. See "Business of American Tower Systems--Recent Transactions" and "Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements of American Tower Systems".

(3) The unaudited pro forma Statement of Operations Data and Other Operating Data for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 gives effect to the ATS Pro Forma Transactions and the Merger, including the Tower Separation, as if each of the foregoing had occurred on January 1, 1997. The unaudited pro forma Balance Sheet Data as of September 30, 1997 gives effect to the ATS Pro Forma Transactions not consummated as of September 30, 1997 and the Merger, including the Tower Separation, as if each of the foregoing had occurred on September 30, 1997. See "Business of American Tower Systems--Recent Transactions" and "Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements of American Tower Systems".

(4) Represents the elimination of the 49.9% member's earnings of ATS Needham, LLC, in which Tower Operating Subsidiary holds a 50.1% interest and the elimination of the 30% member's loss of Communications Systems Development LLC, in which Tower Operating Subsidiary holds a 70% interest.

(5) Pro forma net income (loss) per share has been computed using (a) in the case of historical information, the number of shares expected to be outstanding following the Tower Separation and (b) in the case of pro forma information, the number of shares expected to be outstanding following the Tower Separation and the transactions discussed in Note 2 to the "American Tower Systems Selected Financial Data" and the Notes to Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Statement of Operations.

(6) "Tower Cash Flow" means operating income (loss) before depreciation and amortization and corporate general and administrative expenses. "EBITDA" means operating income (loss) before depreciation and amortization. "After-tax cash flow" means income (loss) before extraordinary items, plus depreciation and amortization. Tower Cash Flow, EBITDA and after-tax cash flow should not be considered in isolation from, or as a substitute for, operating income, net income or cash flow and other consolidated income or cash flow statement data computed in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles or as a measure of ATS' profitability or liquidity. Although these measures of performance are not calculated in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, many of them are widely used in the communications site industry as a measure of a company's operating performance because they assist in comparing company performance on a consistent basis without regard to depreciation and amortization, which can vary significantly depending on accounting methods (particularly where acquisitions are involved) or non-operating factors such as historical cost bases. Tower Cash Flow also excludes the effect of corporate general and administrative expenses, which generally do not relate directly to communications site performance. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations of American Tower Systems--General" and "--Liquidity and Capital Resources".

AMERICAN RADIO SELECTED COMBINED FINANCIAL DATA

The following Selected Combined Financial Data of American Radio has been derived from the consolidated financial statements of American Radio and the Selected Financial Data of the four predecessor entities of American Radio (the "ARS Predecessor Entities"), which are contained in the American Radio Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 1996 (the "ARS 10-K") and the American Radio Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 (the "ARS September 199710-Q"). The data as of and for the nine months ended September 30, 1996 and 1997 is unaudited, but in the opinion of management contain all adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring accruals, necessary for a fair presentation of such information. The American Radio Selected Combined Financial Data should be read in conjunction with American Radio's audited and unaudited financial statements and the notes thereto and with "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" contained in the ARS 10-K and the ARS September 1997 10-Q. The following financial data presents the combined operating results of the ARS Predecessor Entities for periods prior to the date of the formation of American Radio (November 1, 1993) for 1992 and the ten months ended October 31, 1993 as if such entities had combined effective January 1, 1992 or, if later, the date of commencement of operations of certain ARS Predecessor Entities. The data for the two months ended December 31, 1993 and the years ended December 31, 1994, 1995 and 1996 is based on the historical audited American Radio consolidated financial statements. The pro forma financial data with respect to the year ended December 31, 1996 and the nine months ended September 30, 1997 included below reflects certain adjustments, as explained elsewhere in this Information Statement/Prospectus, and therefore any comparison of such pro forma financial data with the American Radio Selected Combined Financial Data appearing below for periods prior to 1996 is inappropriate. Such pro forma financial data for the year ended December 31, 1996 and the nine months ended September 30, 1997 gives effect to the ARS Pro Forma Transactions, the ATS Pro Forma Transactions and to the Merger, including the Tower Separation, as described in the Notes to Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Statement of Operations of American Radio. The ARS Pro Forma Transactions do not include all of the Recent Transactions but do include the sale pursuant to the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement of ATS Common Stock to Steven B. Dodge, Chairman of the Board, President and Chief Executive Officer of ARS and ATS and certain other officers and directors of ARS and ATS (or their affiliates, family members or family trusts) and the transfer of towers from ARS to ATS in connection with the Tower Separation. See "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations" in the ARS 10-K and the ARS September 1997 10-Q and the financial statements of EZ in the EZ Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 1996 (the "EZ 10-K").

(1) Year-to-year comparisons are significantly affected by the timing of acquisitions and dispositions of radio stations, which have been numerous during the periods shown. See "Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements of American Radio" in Appendix I and the consolidated financial statements of American Radio in the ARS 10-K and the ARS September 1997 10-Q for a description of the acquisitions and dispositions made in 1995, 1996 and the first nine months of 1997.

(2) The information for the Combined ARS Predecessor Entities includes the results of operations of the following entities for the following periods: two entities--the year ended December 31, 1992 and ten months ended October 31, 1993; one entity--the fiscal year ended August 31, 1992 (included in calendar year 1992) and the sum of (a) eight-twelfths of the fiscal year ended August 31, 1993 and (b) the historical results for the two months ended October 31, 1993 (included in the ten months ended October 31, 1993); and the fourth entity--the one-month period ended December 31, 1992 (in calendar year 1992) and the ten months ended October 31, 1993 (in that period). In addition, the 1993 financial information combines the ARS Predecessor Entities for the ten months ended October 31, 1993 and historical American Radio financial statements for the two month period ended December 31, 1993.

(3) The unaudited pro forma Statement of Operations Data and Other Operating Data for the year ended December 31, 1996 give effect to (i) the ARS Pro Forma Transactions, (ii) the ATS Pro Forma Transactions, (iii) the offering and exchange of the 11 3/8% Cumulative Exchangeable Preferred Stock (the "ARS Cumulative Preferred Stock") and the use of the proceeds thereof, and (iv) the Tower Separation, as if each of the foregoing had occurred on January 1, 1996. The term "ARS Pro Forma Transactions" means the EZ Merger, the BayCom Transaction, the Hartford Transaction, the HBC Merger (excluding the Omaha stations which have been sold) and the Baltimore Transaction and does not include all of the Recent Transactions. See "Business of American Tower Systems--Recent Transactions" and "Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements of American Radio" in Appendix I.

(4) The unaudited pro forma Statement of Operations Data and Other Operating Data for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 gives effect to (i) the EZ Merger, (ii) the Baltimore Transaction, (iii) the ATS Pro Forma Transactions, (iv) the offering and exchange of the ARS Cumulative Preferred Stock and the use of the proceeds thereof, and (v) the Tower Separation, as if each of the foregoing had occurred on January 1, 1997. The unaudited pro forma Balance Sheet Data as of September 30, 1997 gives effect to (i) the ATS Pro Forma Transactions and (ii) the Tower Separation, as if each of the foregoing had occurred on September 30, 1997. See "Business of American Tower Systems--Recent Transactions" and "Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements of American Radio" in Appendix I.

(5) In connection with a number of Recent Transactions, ARS entered into local marketing agreements ("LMAs"). Net LMA expense represents the excess of monthly payments payable by ARS to the station owners over LMA revenue received by ARS. Net LMA expense is, in effect, a reimbursement to the station owners of their depreciation and amortization and interest expense and, upon acquisition of the stations by ARS, will be replaced by such expenses.

(6) The ARS Predecessor Entities' provision (benefit) for income taxes for the periods prior to 1994 represents the historical provision (benefit) for one of such entities. One of the other predecessors was a partnership and one was an S corporation and, accordingly, taxable income or loss flowed through to the partners and stockholder, respectively, of those entities. The fourth predecessor had net operating loss carryforwards available to reduce future taxable income. As the realization of the benefit of those losses was not assured, no income tax benefit was recorded. Based on these circumstances, a combined tax provision for periods prior to 1994 has not been presented.

(7) "Broadcast cash flow" means operating income (loss) before net LMA expenses, depreciation and amortization and corporate general and administrative expenses. "EBITDA" means operating income (loss) before LMA expenses and depreciation and amortization. LMA expenses are, as explained in note (5), fees paid by American Radio which permit American Radio to program stations prior to their acquisition. "After-tax cash flow" means income (loss) before extraordinary items, plus depreciation and amortization, less stock dividends. Broadcast cash flow, EBITDA and after-tax cash flow should not be considered in isolation from, or as a substitute for, operating income, net income or cash flow and other consolidated income or cash flow statement data computed in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles or as a measure of American Radio's profitability or liquidity. Although these measures of performance are not calculated in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, they are widely used in the broadcasting industry as a measure of a radio company's operating performance because they assist in comparing radio station performance on a consistent basis across radio companies without regard to depreciation and amortization, which can vary significantly depending on accounting methods (particularly where acquisitions are involved) or non-operating factors such as historical cost bases. Broadcast cash flow also excludes the effect of corporate general and administrative expenses, which generally do not relate directly to station performance.

RISK FACTORS

The following risk factors should be considered by the holders of ARS Common Stock in evaluating the Merger and whether to exercise their appraisal rights. These factors should be considered in conjunction with the other information included and incorporated by reference in this Information Statement/Prospectus.

RISK FACTORS RELATING TO THE MERGER AND THE TOWER MERGER

MERGER AGREEMENT--CERTAIN CONTINGENT LIABILITIES

The Merger Agreement provides that ATS will be responsible for the tax consequences of the Tower Separation to the extent that the aggregate amount of taxes required to be paid by CBS or any of its affiliates (including without limitation ARS after the Merger) exceeds $20.0 million. The amount of that tax liability is dependent on the "fair market value" of the ATS Class A Common Stock at the time of the Tower Separation. Such "fair market value" is likely to be based on the initial trading levels of such stock for some reasonable period after the Tower Separation. American Tower Systems estimates that, assuming such fair market value is $10.00 per share (the price at which ATS Common Stock was issued pursuant to the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement), the federal tax liability of American Radio for which ATS will be responsible will be approximately $66.6 million (after giving effect to the $20.0 million of taxes to be borne by ARS pursuant to the provisions of the Merger Agreement), and that for each $1.00 by which such fair market value exceeds or is less than $10.00 per share, the federal tax liability would increase or decrease by approximately $14.8 million. In addition, state taxes could be payable by ARS in connection with the Tower Separation for which ATS would also be responsible. See "The Merger and Tower Separation--ARS-ATS Separation Agreement--Sharing of Tax and Other Consequences".

The Merger Agreement also provides for closing date balance sheet adjustments based upon the working capital and specified debt levels (including the liquidation preference of the ARS Cumulative Preferred Stock) of ARS at the Effective Time which may result in payments to be made by either ARS or ATS to the other party following the Closing Date. ATS will benefit from or bear the cost of such adjustments. Since the amounts of working capital and debt are dependent upon future operations and events, including without limitation cash flow from operations, capital expenditures, and expenses of the Merger and the Tower Separation, neither ARS nor ATS is able to state with any degree of certainty what payments, if any, will be owed following the Closing Date by either ARS or ATS to the other party. However, as indicated in the pro forma financial information with respect to ATS included elsewhere in this Information Statement/Prospectus, and based on the assumptions stated therein, ARS has estimated that the payment, if any, required to be paid or to be received by ATS will not be material as a result of those provisions. See "The Merger and Tower Separation--Closing Date Adjustments".

CERTAIN EFFECTS OF THE MERGER

If the Merger is consummated, the present holders of ARS Common Stock will no longer have the opportunity to share in ARS' radio business' future earnings and growth. Instead each such holder will have the right to receive cash consideration and shares of ATS Common Stock pursuant to the Tower Separation of the same class as the class of ARS Common Stock to be surrendered.

FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES OF TOWER MERGER

In the event the Tower Merger were consummated and the Merger were not, the redemption of shares of ARS Common Stock pursuant to the Tower Merger would not meet the applicable requirements of the Code for such redemption to qualify for sale or exchange treatment, and the fair market value of the shares of ATS Common Stock received pursuant to the Tower Merger would be taxable as a dividend. Because of these adverse federal income tax consequences, the ARS Board has not made a final determination of whether to proceed with the Tower Merger. It intends to evaluate all of the facts and circumstances existing at the time of any such proposed consummation to determine whether the Tower Merger is in the best interests of the ARS common stockholders, notwithstanding such possible adverse consequences. See "The Merger and Tower Separation--Certain Federal Income Tax Consequences of Merger and Tower Merger".

ABSENCE OF OPINION ON TOWER SEPARATION

Stockholders should recognize that the opinion of Credit Suisse First Boston as to the fairness of the Merger addressed only the issue of the fairness of the cash consideration to be received by ARS common stockholders for the radio broadcasting business of ARS and did not address the issue of the fairness of the distribution of ATS Common Stock as part of the Tower Separation. The ARS Board did not seek the opinion of Credit Suisse First Boston (or any other firm) as to the fairness of the distribution of ATS Common Stock as part of the Tower Separation (whether pursuant to the Merger or the Tower Merger) because such distribution will be made to ARS common stockholders on a pro rata basis and will preserve the relative voting rights of the ARS common stockholders existing at the time.

INTERESTS OF CERTAIN ARS PERSONS IN THE MERGER

In reviewing the recommendation of the ARS Board with respect to the Merger, ARS common stockholders should be aware that certain members of American Radio management and the ARS Board may have interests in the Merger and the Tower Separation that may present them with actual or potential conflicts of interest. See "The Merger and Tower Separation--Interest of Certain Persons in the Merger".

POTENTIAL LOSS OF KEY PERSONNEL

The pendency of the Merger may increase the risk that certain key employees, including the co-chief operating officers, station general managers, sales managers and program directors, as well as on-air announcers who are well recognized and established in the markets in which ARS conducts business, could decide to seek employment elsewhere.

RISK FACTORS RELATING TO AMERICAN TOWER SYSTEMS

DEPENDENCE ON DEMAND FOR WIRELESS COMMUNICATIONS AND IMPLEMENTATION OF DIGITAL TELEVISION

The demand for rental space on ATS' towers is dependent on a number of factors beyond ATS' control, including demand for wireless services by consumers, the financial condition and access to capital of wireless providers, the strategy of wireless providers with respect to owning or leasing their own communications sites, government licensing of broadcast rights, changes in FCC regulations and general economic conditions. A slowdown in the growth of wireless communications in the United States would depress network expansion activities and reduce the demand for ATS' antennae sites. In addition, a downturn in a particular wireless segment, or of the number of carriers, nationally or locally, in a particular segment, as a result of technological or other competition or other factors beyond the control of ATS could adversely affect the demand for its antennae sites. Finally, advances in technology could reduce the need for tower-based transmission and reception. The occurrence of any of these factors could have a material adverse effect on ATS' financial condition and results of operations. See "Industry Overview".

The demand for rental space on ATS' towers is also dependent on the demand for tower sites by television and radio broadcasters. Many of the same factors described above with respect to wireless providers are also applicable to television and radio broadcasters. Additionally, certain technological advances, including the development and implementation of satellite-delivered radio, may reduce the need for tower-based broadcast transmission. ATS could also be affected adversely should the development of digital television ("DTV") be delayed or impaired, particularly should the intensity of demand for DTV service decrease because of the speed with which the industry implements the changes or because of regulatory requirements.

ACQUISITION STRATEGY

American Tower Systems has pursued on an aggressive basis, and intends to continue to pursue on a selective basis, the acquisition of other companies in the communications site industry. Inherent in such a strategy are certain risks, such as increasing leverage and debt service requirements, combining disparate company cultures and facilities, and operating towers in many geographically diverse markets. Certain of these risks may be increased to the extent that ATS' acquisitions (including the ATC Merger) are larger and/or involve communications sites in diverse geographic areas. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that one or more of ATS' past or future acquisitions may not have an adverse effect on its business.

ATS competes with certain wireless service providers, site developers and other independent tower owners and operators, as well as financial institutions, for acquisitions of towers and potential sites and expects such competition to increase. Certain of those competitors have greater financial and other resources than ATS. The success of ATS' growth strategy continues to be dependent, although to a lesser extent than in the past, on its ability to identify and complete acquisitions of communications site companies. Increased competition may result in fewer acquisition opportunities as well as higher acquisition prices. No assurance can be given that ATS will be able to identify, finance and complete future acquisitions on acceptable terms. See "Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements of American Tower Systems" and "Business of American Tower Systems--Recent Transactions".

The ATC Merger Agreement provides for a termination fee to ATC of $15.0 million (together with reimbursement of reasonable out-of-pocket expenses up to an aggregate of $1.0 million) in the event such agreement is terminated because of the failure of either the Merger or the Tower Merger to occur or the failure of American Radio to obtain the approval, if required, of the holder of ARS Common Stock. Such termination fee and reimbursement would be the sole and exclusive recourse of ATC in the event of any such termination. See "Business of American Tower Systems--Recent Transactions--ATC Merger".

CONSTRUCTION OF NEW TOWERS

American Tower Systems currently has under construction, or plans to construct during 1998 (exclusive of those which ATC is constructing or plans to construct), an aggregate of approximately 300 towers (most of which are on a build to suit basis) at an estimated aggregate cost of approximately $60.0 million. In addition, ATS is actively competing for the opportunity to construct more than 200 towers in 1998 for an estimated cost of approximately $42.0 million, although there can be no assurance as to how many, if any, of such towers ATS will be engaged to construct. ATC has under construction or plans to construct during 1998 an aggregate of approximately 125 towers at an estimated aggregate cost of approximately $28.0 million. The success of ATS' growth strategy is highly dependent on its ability to complete new tower construction. Such construction can be prevented, delayed and/or made more costly by factors beyond the control of ATS, including zoning and local permitting requirements, FCC and Federal Aviation Administration ("FAA") regulations, environmental group opposition, availability of erection equipment and skilled construction personnel, and adverse weather conditions. In addition, as the pace of tower construction has increased in recent years, manpower and equipment needed to erect towers have been in increasing demand. Such factors could increase costs associated with new tower construction and could have a material adverse effect on ATS' financial condition or result of operations. In light of the anticipated increase in construction activity, both for ATS and the communications site industry generally, these factors may, in the future, be significantly exacerbated. The construction of towers for the broadcasting industry could be particularly affected by a potential shortage of construction capability should a large number of towers be required to be built in a relatively short period of time to accommodate the initiation of digital television service. See "Business of American Tower Systems--Regulatory Matters".

ATS competes for new tower construction site opportunities with wireless service providers, site developers and other independent tower operating companies. ATS believes that competition for tower construction sites will increase and that additional competitors will enter the tower market, certain of which may have greater financial resources than ATS.

Build to suit activities (such as the 200-tower project described above) involve certain additional risks. While they do involve at least one "anchor" tenant, there can be no assurance that a sufficient number of additional tenants will be secured for all or most of the towers to be constructed pursuant to such projects (particularly the larger ones such as the 600-tower project), to ensure that such projects will be profitable. Moreover, ATS may find that one of the reasons wireless carriers are willing to permit ATS to build towers for them is that certain or many of such towers may be on sites that are either expensive or difficult to build on or that they are such that they are unlikely to attract a sufficient number of other tenants.

SUBSTANTIAL CAPITAL REQUIREMENTS AND LEVERAGE

ATS' acquisition and construction activities will create substantial ongoing capital requirements. During 1997, ATS made capital investments aggregating approximately $178.0 million in communications site acquisitions and approximately $25.7 million in new tower construction, including site upgrades. ATS has financed its capital expenditures through a combination of bank borrowings, equity investments by American Radio, and cash flow from operations. As of September 30, 1997, on a pro forma basis, assuming consummation of the ATS Pro Forma Transactions and all other Recent Transactions relating to ATS, the Tower Separation and the transactions contemplated by the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement, ATS would have had aggregate indebtedness of approximately $323.0 million. Based on the foregoing assumptions and the estimated current pro forma cash flow, ATS would be able to borrow an additional $61.5 million under the Tower Loan Agreement; the total capacity under the Tower Loan Agreement is $400.0 million. ATS expects that it will continue to be required to borrow funds to finance construction and, to a lesser extent, acquisitions and to operate with substantial leverage. If ATS' revenues and cash flow do not meet current expectations, or if its borrowing base is reduced as a result of operating performance, American Tower Systems may have limited ability to access necessary capital. If such cash flow is not sufficient to meet its debt service requirements, ATS could be required to sell equity or debt securities, refinance its obligations or dispose of certain of its operating assets in order to make scheduled payments. There can be no assurance that ATS would be able to effect any such transactions on favorable terms.

The Tower Operating Subsidiary is a party to a loan agreement (the "Tower Loan Agreement") providing for maximum borrowing, subject to compliance with certain financial ratios, of $400.0 million. The Tower Loan Agreement includes certain financial and operational covenants and other restrictions with which Tower Operating Subsidiary must comply, including, among others, limitations on additional indebtedness, capital expenditures, investments in Unrestricted Subsidiaries (as defined therein) and cash distributions, as well as restrictions on the use of borrowings and requirements to maintain certain financial ratios. The obligations of Tower Operating Subsidiary under the Tower Loan Agreement are collateralized by a pledge of the stock and partnership interests of each Tower Operating Subsidiary and a first priority security interest in substantially all of each Tower Operating Subsidiary's assets.

Assuming consummation of all of the Recent Transactions and the Merger, management believes that, in light of current construction plans and potential acquisitions, ATS will require additional financing during 1998. Any such financing could take the form of an increase in the maximum borrowing levels under the Tower Loan Agreement, the issuance, publicly or privately, of debt securities (which could have the effect of increasing its consolidated leverage ratios) or equity securities (which, in the case of ATS Common Stock or securities convertible into or exercisable for ATS Common Stock, would have a dilutive effect on the proportionate ownership of ATS by its then existing common stockholders). There can be no assurance that any such debt or equity financing would be available on favorable terms.

CONTROL BY THE PRINCIPAL STOCKHOLDERS; RESTRICTIONS ON CHANGE OF CONTROL

Assuming consummation of the Merger and the ATC Merger, and the conversion of all shares of ARS Convertible Preferred Stock, Messrs. Dodge and Stoner, together with their affiliates (the "ATS Principal Stockholders"), owned "beneficially", on January 27, 1998, approximately 51.4% (approximately 63.0% prior to consummation of the ATC Merger) of the combined voting power of the ATS voting stock. See "Principal Stockholders of American Tower Systems". Accordingly, the ATS Principal Stockholders may, in effect, be able to control the vote on all matters submitted to a vote of the holders of the ATS Common Stock, except with respect to (i) the election of two independent directors, (ii) those matters which the Restated Certificate of Incorporation of ATS (the "ATS Restated Certificate") or applicable law requires a 66 2/3% vote, and (iii) those matters requiring a class vote by law. Control by the ATS Principal Stockholders may have the effect of discouraging certain types of transactions involving an actual or potential change of control of ATS. See

"Business of American Tower Systems--Recent Transactions--ATC Merger" and "Description of American Tower Systems Capital Stock--Common Stock".

The Tower Loan Agreement provides that an "Event of Default" will occur upon certain changes in the ownership interests and executive positions in American Tower Systems of Mr. Dodge. In addition, the Communications Act of 1934, as amended (the "Communications Act"), and the rules of the FCC require the prior consent of the FCC for any change in control of ATS. In addition to the stock ownership by the ATS Principal Stockholders and the FCC restrictions, certain provisions of the Delaware law may have the effect of discouraging a third party from making an acquisition proposal for ATS and may thereby inhibit a change of control. See "Description of American Tower Systems Capital Stock--Delaware Business Combination Provisions".

DEPENDENCE ON KEY PERSONNEL

The implementation of ATS' growth strategy is dependent, to a significant degree, on the efforts of ATS' Chief Executive Officer and certain other executive officers. ATS has not entered into employment agreements with any of its executive officers, other than with J. Michael Gearon, Jr., the former principal stockholder and chief executive officer of Gearon & Co., Inc. which was merged into ATSI pursuant to the Gearon Transaction in January 1998. Many of the executive and other officers have been granted options to purchase shares of ATS Common Stock that are subject to vesting provisions generally over a five-year period. However, there can be no assurance that American Tower Systems will be able to retain such officers, the loss of whom could have a material adverse effect upon ATS, or that ATS will be able to prevent them from competing in the event of their departure. ATS does not maintain key man life insurance of any significance on the lives of any of such officers.

ENVIRONMENTAL MATTERS

Under various federal, state and local environmental laws, ordinances and regulations, an owner of real estate or a lessee conducting operations thereon may become liable for the costs of investigation, removal or remediation of soil and groundwater contaminated by certain hazardous substances or wastes. Certain of such laws impose cleanup responsibility and liability without regard to whether the owner or operator of the real estate or operations thereon knew of or was responsible for the contamination, and whether or not operations at the property have been discontinued or title to the property has been transferred. The owner or operator of contaminated real estate also may be subject to common law claims by third parties based on damages and costs resulting from off-site migration of the contamination. In connection with its former and current ownership or operation of its properties, ATS may be potentially liable for environmental costs such as those discussed above. See "Business of American Tower Systems--Environmental Matters".

LACK OF DIVIDENDS; RESTRICTIONS ON PAYMENTS OF DIVIDENDS AND REPURCHASE OF COMMON STOCK

American Tower Systems intends to retain all available earnings, if any, generated by its operations for the development and growth of its business and does not anticipate paying any dividends on the ATS Common Stock in the foreseeable future. In addition, each Tower Operating Subsidiary is and will be restricted under the Tower Loan Agreement from paying dividends on its stock (distributions to its partners, in the case of ATSLP) and from repurchasing, redeeming or otherwise acquiring any shares of ATS Common Stock. Since ATS has no significant assets other than its ownership of all of the capital stock of Tower Operating Subsidiary, its ability to pay dividends to its stockholders in the foreseeable future is restricted.

NO PRIOR MARKET FOR ATS COMMON STOCK

Prior to the Tower Separation, there will be no public market for the ATS Common Stock, and there can be no assurance that an active trading market will develop or be sustained in the future. ATS intends to seek listing on Nasdaq for the ATS Class A Common Stock. While ATS believes it currently meets the financial listing criteria for such listing, no application has been filed and such listing will be subject to the discretion of the applicable authorities. Accordingly, there can be no assurance that any such listing will be obtained. There also can be no assurance as to the price at which the ATS Class A Common Stock will trade or as to the liquidity or volatility of any such trading market. Market prices might also be affected by shares available for future sale held by certain stockholders who hold freely saleable shares. See "Shares Eligible for Future Sales".

MARKET PRICES AND DIVIDEND POLICY

Shares of ARS Class A Common Stock were quoted on Nasdaq under the symbol "AMRD" from the consummation of the ARS Class A Common Stock initial public offering in June 1995 through February 4, 1997. On February 5, 1997, shares of ARS Class A Common Stock began trading on the NYSE under the symbol "AFM". The following table sets forth, for the calendar quarters indicated, the high and low closing sales prices per share of Class A Common Stock on Nasdaq and the NYSE for the applicable periods, as reported in published financial sources in the case of Nasdaq, and thereafter as reported on the NYSE.

On September 18, 1997, the day prior to the announcement by American Radio of the signing of the Original Merger Agreement with CBS, the last reported sale price per share of the ARS Class A Common Stock on the NYSE was $51 7/8. On February 6, 1998, the last reported sale price per share of the ARS Class A Common Stock on the NYSE was $60 per share. As of January 30, 1998, there were 339 holders of record of the ARS Class A Common Stock.

No established public trading market currently exists for the ATS Class A Common Stock. As of February 1, 1998, there were 18 holders of record of ATS Class Common Stock.

ATS anticipates that it will retain future earnings, if any, to fund the development and growth of its business and does not anticipate paying cash dividends on shares of ATS Common Stock in the foreseeable future. In addition, each Tower Operating Subsidiary is and will be restricted under the Tower Loan Agreement from paying dividends on the stock (distributions to its partners, in the case of ATSLP) and repurchasing, redeeming or otherwise acquiring any shares of ATS Common Stock. Since ATS has no significant assets other than its ownership of all of the capital stock of ATSI, its ability to pay dividends to its stockholders in the foreseeable future is restricted. See "Description of American Tower Systems Capital Stock--Dividend Restrictions" and "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations of American Tower Systems--Liquidity and Capital Resources".

AMERICAN TOWER SYSTEMS CAPITALIZATION

Prior to the consummation of the Merger (or the Tower Merger), American Tower Systems will have been operated as part of American Radio. The following table sets forth the capitalization of American Tower Systems as of September 30, 1997, and as adjusted to give effect to (a) the ATS Pro Forma Transactions and (b) the Merger and the related transactions (including the Tower Separation), and events described in the notes hereto as if all of the foregoing had been consummated on September 30, 1997. See Notes to the Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet of American Tower Systems included in this Information Statement/Prospectus, and "The Merger and Tower Separation--ATS Stock Purchase Agreement".

Management believes that the assumptions used provide a reasonable basis on which to present such capitalization. The capitalization table below should be read in conjunction with the historical financial statements of ATS included elsewhere in this Information Statement/Prospectus, "Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations of American Tower Systems" and "Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements of American Tower Systems". The capitalization table below is provided for informational purposes only and (i) should not be construed to be indicative of ATS' capitalization or financial condition had the transactions and events referred to above been consummated on the date assumed, (ii) may not reflect the capitalization or financial condition which would have resulted had ATS been operated as a separate, independent company during such period, and (iii) is not necessarily indicative of ATS' future capitalization or financial condition.

UNAUDITED PRO FORMA CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS OF AMERICAN TOWER SYSTEMS

The following unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated financial statements of American Tower Systems consist of an unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated balance sheet as of September 30, 1997 and unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated statements of operations for the year ended December 31, 1996 and for the nine months ended September 30, 1997, adjusted for the ATS Pro Forma Transactions and the Merger, as if such transactions had been consummated on January 1, 1996. With respect to acquisitions, the pro forma statements give effect only to the ATS Pro Forma Transactions based on their significance in relation to all of ATS' acquisitions. The unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated balance sheet and the unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated statements of operations should be read in conjunction with American Tower Systems' consolidated financial statements and notes thereto, as well as the financial statements and notes thereto of certain businesses that have been or may be acquired, which are included elsewhere in this Information Statement/Prospectus. The unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated balance sheet and the unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated statements of operations are not necessarily indicative of the financial condition or the results of operations that would have been reported had such events actually occurred on the date specified, nor are they indicative of ATS' future results of operations or of the financial condition or the results of operations which would have resulted had ATS been operated as a separate, independent company during such periods, and are not necessarily indicative of ATS' future financial conditions or results of operations.

In reviewing the unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated financial statements set forth below, in addition to the assumptions and other matters noted in the above paragraph and in the notes to the unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated financial statements, it should be noted that estimated incremental costs that will be incurred because ATS is an independent company have been reflected in the pro forma adjustments. However, there can be no assurance that actual incremental costs for such independent operation will not exceed such estimated amounts.

NOTES TO UNAUDITED PRO FORMA CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED BALANCE SHEET

The unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated balance sheet as of September 30, 1997 gives effect to the Diablo Transaction, the MicroNet Transaction, the Tucson Transaction, the Gearon Transaction and the ATC Merger (collectively, with the Meridian Transaction, the transfer of towers from ARS to ATS, and the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement, the "ATS Pro Forma Transactions") and the Merger, including the Tower Separation, as if each of the foregoing had occurred on September 30, 1997. See "Business of American Tower Systems--Recent Transactions" for a description of each of the transactions included in the ATS Pro Forma Transactions.

(a) The following table sets forth the pro forma balance sheet adjustments for the ATS Pro Forma Transactions as of September 30, 1997. (In thousands).

The Diablo Transaction, MicroNet Transaction, Tucson Transaction, Gearon Transaction and the ATC Merger will be accounted for under the purchase method of accounting. The anticipated purchase price of each transaction has been allocated among the assets acquired based upon preliminary appraisals of those assets' fair values. With the exception of the ATC Merger, working capital of the acquired companies was not transferred to ATS.

The following table describes the financing of the transactions described above. In connection with certain of these transactions, ARS consummated the transactions directly using borrowings against their line of credit and subsequently contributed the assets (at ARS' cost) to ATS.

	PURCHASE PRICE	BORROWINGS BY ATS	BORROWINGS BY AND CONTRIBUTIONS FROM ARS	COMMON STOCK ISSUED BY ATS
		(IN THOUSANDS)
Diablo Transaction	$45,000	$2,500	$40,500
MicroNet Transaction	70,250	29,750	40,500
Tucson Transaction	12,000		12,000
Gearon Transaction	80,000	26,400	5,600	$ 48,000
ATC Merger	500,459	72,967		308,096

In addition, in connection with the ATC Merger, a deferred tax liability of $116.3 million will be established for the differences in bases for book and tax purposes resulting from transaction. The working capital deficiency of ATC at September 30, 1997 ($3.1 million) has also been recorded as a pro forma adjustment.

The Transfer of Towers from ARS to ATS will be recorded at the historical depreciated net book value of such towers on the books of ARS on the date of transfer.

As a result of the Tower Separation, ATS will be required to bear an estimated $66.6 million of income tax liabilities (net of $20.0 million to be borne by ARS pursuant to the provisions of the Merger Agreement.) In addition, the tax bases of ATS' assets will be increased as a result of the separation; a deferred tax asset of $86.6 million has been recorded for such increase. The estimated tax liability of $66.6 million is based on an assumed fair market value of the ATS Common Stock of $10.00 per share, which is the price at which shares were issued pursuant to the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement. Such estimated tax liability would increase or decrease by approximately $14.8 million for each $1.00 per share increase or decrease in the fair market value of the ATS Common Stock.

The issuance of ATS Common Stock pursuant to the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement for an aggregate of $80.0 million, $79.4 million net of expenses (of which approximately $49.4 million was paid in the form of secured notes due upon consummation of the Merger and the balance in cash).

ATS expects to issue a total of 43,132,691 shares of Common Stock to effect all of the transactions described above. The following shares will be issued pursuant to the Gearon Transaction (5,333,333), the ATC Merger (29,799,358), and the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement (8,000,000).

No adjustment has been included in the pro forma information with respect to certain adjustment provisions in the Merger Agreement related to the Working Capital and Debt Amount (each as defined in the Merger Agreement) of ARS at the time of consummation of the Merger because ARS currently estimates that the payment, if any, which would be required to be paid or to be received by ATS would not be material.

The ATS Pro Forma Transactions referred to above do not constitute all of the Recent Transactions. Since January 1, 1997, ATS has consummated more than 15 acquisitions (four of which are included in the ATS Pro Forma Transactions) involving more than 525 sites, including sites on which towers are to be constructed (of which approximately 285 are represented by the ATS Pro Forma Transactions referred to above), in a variety of regions for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $290.0 million (of which approximately $207.3 million was represented by the ATS Pro Forma Transactions referred to above). ATS is a party to two pending transactions, one of which (the ATC Merger) is included in the ATS Pro Forma Transactions and one of which (the acquisition of the assets relating to a teleport serving the Washington, D.C. area for approximately $30.5 million) is not. See "Business of American Tower Systems--Recent Transactions".

NOTES TO UNAUDITED PRO FORMA CONDENSED
CONSOLIDATED STATEMENT OF OPERATIONS

The unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated statement of operations for the year ended December 31, 1996 gives effect to the ATS Pro Forma Transactions and the Merger as if each of the foregoing had occurred on January 1, 1996.

(a) To record the results of operations for the ATS Pro Forma Transactions. The results of operations have been adjusted to: (i) reverse historical interest expense of $4.2 million; (ii) record interest expense of $11.7 million for the year ended December 31, 1996, as a result of approximately $128.4 million of additional net debt to be incurred in connection with the ATS Pro Forma Transactions and payment of the estimated tax liability attributable to the Tower Separation of approximately $66.6 million (net of the $20.0 million to be borne by ARS pursuant to the provisions of the Merger Agreement), after giving effect to (x) capital contributions by ARS of $146.1 million, representing the difference between the aggregate amount invested by ARS in ATS at January 1, 1996 of $3.9 million and the maximum amount ($150.0 million) permitted by the Merger Agreement, and (y) the proceeds from the issuance of ATS Common Stock pursuant to the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement for an aggregate purchase price of $80.0 million, $79.4 million net of expenses (of which approximately $49.4 million was paid in the form of secured notes which are due upon consummation of the Merger and the balance in cash); and (iii) the historical depreciated book value of $4.2 million for an aggregate of 16 towers transferred or to be transferred by American Radio to ATS representing an additional ARS equity investment in ATS. Each 1/4% change in the interest rate applicable to the change in floating rate debt would increase or decrease, as appropriate, the net adjustment to interest expense by approximately $0.3 million. The estimated tax liability shown in clause (i) preceding is based on an assumed fair market value of the ATS Common Stock of $10.00 per share, which is the price at which shares were issued pursuant to the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement. Such estimated tax liability would increase or decrease by approximately $14.8 million for each $1.00 per share increase or decrease in the fair market value of the ATS Common Stock. No adjustment has been included in the pro forma information with respect to certain adjustment provisions in the Merger Agreement relating to the Working Capital and Debt Amount (each as defined in the Merger Agreement) of ARS at the time of the consummation of the Merger, because ARS estimates that the payment, if any, required by such provisions to be paid or to be received by ATS will not be material. For information with respect to such adjustments, see "The Merger and Tower Separation--Closing Date Adjustments".

The results of operations have also been adjusted to reverse historical depreciation and amortization expense of $7.7 million for the year ended December 31, 1996 and record depreciation and amortization expense of $48.7 million for the year ended December 31, 1996 based on estimated allocations of purchase prices. Depreciation expense for property, plant and equipment acquired has been determined based on an average life of fifteen years. Costs of acquired intangible assets for the transactions are amortized over 15 years. The preliminary estimates of the fair value of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets may change upon final appraisal.

Corporate general and administrative expenses of the prior owners have not been carried forward into the pro forma condensed financial statements as these costs represent duplicative facilities and compensation to owners and/or executives not retained by ATS. Because ATS maintains a separate corporate headquarters which provides services substantially similar to those represented by these costs, they are not expected to recur following acquisition. After giving effect to an estimated $2.0 million of incremental costs, ATS believes that it has existing management capacity sufficient to provide such services without incurring additional incremental costs.

NOTES TO UNAUDITED PRO FORMA CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED STATEMENT OF OPERATIONS

The unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated statement of operations for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 gives effect to the ATS Pro Forma Transactions and the Merger as if each of the foregoing had occurred on January 1, 1997.

(a) To record the results of operations for the ATS Pro Forma Transactions. The results of operations have been adjusted to: (i) reverse historical interest expense of $4.2 million; (ii) record interest expense of $8.2 million for the nine months ended September 30, 1997, as a result of approximately $118.8 million of additional net debt to be incurred in connection with the ATS Pro Forma Transactions and payment of the estimated tax liability attributable to the Tower Separation of approximately $66.6 million (net of the $20.0 million to be borne by ARS pursuant to the provisions of the Merger Agreement), after giving effect to (x) capital contributions by ARS of $98.6 million, representing the difference between the aggregate amount invested by ARS in ATS at September 30, 1997 of $51.4 million and the maximum amount ($150.0 million) permitted by the Merger Agreement, and (y) the proceeds from the issuance of ATS Common Stock pursuant to the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement for an aggregate purchase price of $80.0 million, $79.4 million net of expenses (of which approximately $49.4 million was paid in the form of secured notes which are due upon consummation of the Merger and the balance in cash); and (iii) the historical depreciated book value of $4.2 million for an aggregate of 16 towers transferred or to be transferred by American Radio to ATS representing an additional ARS equity investment in ATS. Each 1/4% change in the interest rate applicable to the change in floating rate debt would increase or decrease, as appropriate, the net adjustment to interest expense by approximately $0.2 million. The estimated tax liability shown in clause (i) preceding is based on an assumed fair market value of the ATS Common Stock or $10.00 per share, which was the price at which shares were issued pursuant to the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement. Such estimated tax liability would increase or decrease by approximately $14.8 million for each $1.00 per share increase or decrease in the fair market value of the ATS Common Stock. No adjustment has been included in the pro forma information to certain adjustment provisions in the Merger Agreement relating to the Working Capital and Debt Amount (each as defined in the Merger Agreement) of ARS at the time of the consummation of the Merger, because ARS estimates that the payment, if any, required to be paid or to be received by ATS will not be material. For information with respect to such adjustments, see "The Merger and Tower Separation--Closing Date Adjustments".

The results of operations have also been adjusted to reverse historical depreciation and amortization expense of $6.8 million for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 and record depreciation and amortization expense of $36.0 million for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 based on estimated allocations of purchase prices. Depreciation expense for property, plant and equipment acquired has been determined based on an average life of fifteen years. Costs of acquired intangible assets for the transaction are amortized over 15 years. The preliminary estimates of the fair value of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets may change upon final appraisal.

Corporate general and administrative expenses of the prior owners have not been carried forward into the pro forma condensed financial statements as these costs represent duplicative facilities and compensation to owners and/or executives not retained by ATS. Because ATS maintains a separate corporate headquarters which provides services substantially similar to those represented by these costs, they are not expected to recur following acquisition. After giving effect to an estimated $1.5 million of incremental costs, ATS believes that it has existing management capacity sufficient to provide such services without incurring additional incremental costs.

The following table sets forth the historical results of operations for the ATS Pro Forma Transactions for the periods in which they were not owned by American Radio for the nine months ended September 30, 1997. (In thousands).

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS OF AMERICAN TOWER SYSTEMS

GENERAL

This discussion contains "forward-looking statements" including statements concerning projections, plans, objectives, future events or performance and underlying assumptions and other statements which are other than statements of historical fact. ATS wishes to caution readers that certain important factors may have affected and could in the future affect ATS' actual results and could cause ATS' actual results for subsequent periods to differ materially from those expressed in any forward-looking statement made by or on behalf of ATS. These important factors include among others, the risk factors set forth herein under "Risk Factors--Risk Factors Relating to American Tower Systems". The discussion should be read in conjunction with the American Tower Systems Consolidated Financial Statements and the notes thereto contained elsewhere in this Information Statement/Prospectus. As ATS was a wholly-owned subsidiary of American Radio during the periods presented, the consolidated financial statements may not reflect the results of operations or financial position of ATS had it been an independent, public company during the periods. Because of ATS' relatively brief operating history and the large number of recent acquisitions, the following discussion, while presented to satisfy certain SEC disclosure requirements, will not necessarily reveal any significant developing or continuing trends. See "Business of American Tower Systems--Growth Strategy".

ATS was formed in July 1995 to capitalize on the opportunity in the communications site industry. ATS is a leading independent owner and operator of wireless communications towers in the United States. On a pro forma basis, ATS currently owns and operates in excess of 1,580 towers in 39 states and the District of Columbia, including approximately 510 towers managed for third party owners (of which approximately 255 are rooftop towers). ATS' rapid growth has come from numerous strategic acquisitions during 1996 and 1997. During 1996, ATS acquired approximately ten communications sites and site management businesses involving approximately 250 sites for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $21.0 million. Through September 1997, its acquisition activity accelerated and ATS acquired approximately 360 sites (and related site management businesses) for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $62.8 million.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

Management expects that acquisitions consummated to date and the major acquisition now pending (the ATC Merger) will have a material impact on future revenues, expenses and income from continuing operations. As indicated in the Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Statement of Operations for the year ended December 31, 1996 and the nine months ended September 30, 1997, there is a dramatic difference between the historical results and the pro forma results for each of the foregoing items. The notes to the Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Statement of Operations for the year ended December 31, 1996 and the nine months ended September 30, 1997 indicate the effect of certain of the acquisitions, both consummated and pending, and their impact on revenues, expenses and income from continuing operations. In that connection, the increase in operating expenses and, to a greater extent, depreciation and amortization, each as a percentage of net revenues in the pro forma information compared to the historical information, should be noted. The effects shown do include all of the ATS Pro Forma Transactions which, as explained elsewhere herein, do not constitute all of the Recent Transactions. See "Business of American Tower Systems--Recent Transactions". Since January 1, 1997, ATS has consummated more than 15 acquisitions involving more than 525 communications sites (of which approximately 340 sites are represented by the ATS Pro Forma Transactions that have been consummated and approximately 60 are sites on which towers are to be built), in a variety of regions for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $290.0 million (of which approximately $240.5 million is represented by ATS Pro Forma Transactions which have been consummated). In addition, the ATC Merger (which is included in the ATS Pro Forma Transactions) will represent the acquisition of not less than an additional 775 communications sites for approximately 35% of the pro forma ATS Common Stock. Accordingly, the impact of the Recent Transactions which are not included in the pro forma financial information on revenues, expenses and income from continuing operations, when compared to those that are so included, is not likely to prove material. Finally, the impact of the construction program of ATS is not reflected to any significant extent in the pro forma information because most of that activity is of more recent origin and is expected to accelerate in 1998. Management believes that such activity will have a material effect on future operations, which effect, in the initial years, will probably be negative until such time, if ever, as the newly constructed towers approach full or close to full utilization. Management believes that ARS common stockholders should be aware of the dramatic changes in the nature and scope of ATS' business in reviewing the ensuing discussion of comparative historical results.

NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 1997 AND 1996 (DOLLARS IN THOUSANDS)

As of September 30, 1997, ATS owned and/or operated approximately 370 wireless communications sites principally in the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic regions, Florida and California. As of September 30, 1996, ATS owned and/or operated approximately 250 wireless communications sites, principally in the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic regions and Florida. See the Notes to the Consolidated Financial Statements of American Tower Systems for a description of the acquisitions consummated in 1997 and 1996. These transactions have significantly affected operations for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 as compared to the nine months ended September 30, 1996.

Net revenues were $7,902 for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 compared to $1,858 for the same nine months in 1996, an increase of $6,044 or 325.3%. This increase was attributable to the impact of communications sites and related business acquisitions that occurred in the first nine months of 1997.

Tower lease revenues were $4,803 or 60.8% of net revenues for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 compared to $1,057 or 56.9% of net revenues for the same nine months in 1996; an increase of $3,746. This increase was attributable to revenue growth from the communications site acquisitions that occurred in the first nine months of 1997.

Sublease revenues were $702 or 8.9% of net revenues for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 compared to $296 or 15.9% of net revenues for the same period in 1996; an increase of $406. This increase was due to the impact of revenue growth from the communications site acquisitions that occurred in the first nine months of 1997.

Management fee revenues were $621 or 7.9% of net revenues for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 compared to $362 or 19.5% of net revenues for the same nine months in 1996; an increase of $259. The increase is due to the increased number of site management agreements ATS assumed in connection with the communications site acquisitions that occurred in the first nine months of 1997.

Consulting revenues from site acquisition services were $1,436 or 18.2% of net revenues for the nine months ended September 30, 1997. The revenues are attributable to the acquisition of a company in May of 1997, which performs site acquisition professional services to customers in the wireless communications industry.

Operating expenses excluding depreciation and amortization and corporate general and administrative expenses were $3,588 for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 compared to $1,066 for the same period in 1996, an increase of $2,522. This increase was due to the impact of increased costs associated with ATS' acquisitions.

Depreciation and amortization was $2,706 and $614 for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 and 1996, respectively, an increase of $2,092. This increase was primarily attributable to the increase in depreciable and amortizable assets resulting from the 1996 and 1997 acquisitions, and to a lesser extent, completed construction projects.

Corporate general and administrative expenses increased to $919 for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 from $506 for the nine months ended September 30, 1996, an increase of $413 or 81.6%. This increase was primarily attributable to the higher personnel costs associated with supporting ATS' greater number of tower properties and growth strategy.

Interest income was $97 for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 compared to $18 for the nine months ended September 30, 1996, an increase of $79. The increase is attributable to higher investable cash balances and interest income earned on a note receivable in 1997 as compared to 1996.

Interest expense net of amounts capitalized was $1,318 for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 compared to $0 for the 1996 period, an increase of $1,318. The increase is related to higher borrowing levels under the Tower Loan Agreement in 1997 as compared to 1996. Such borrowings were used to fund the 1997 acquisitions.

Minority interest in net earnings of subsidiary was $221 for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 compared to $75 for the 1996 period, an increase of $146. This represents the elimination of the minority shareholder's earnings of consolidated subsidiaries. The increase is related to increased overall earnings of ATS Needham, LLC, in which ATS holds a 50.1% interest.

The income tax benefit for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 was $49 as compared to an income tax provision of $69 for nine months ended September 30, 1996. The effective tax rate for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 was approximately 6% compared to 18% in 1996. The effective rate in 1997 and 1996 is due to the effect of permanent differences, principally amortization of non-deductible goodwill, on certain stock acquisitions.

The net loss was $707 for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 compared to $454 for the nine months ended September 30, 1996, as a result of the factors discussed above.

Tower Cash Flow for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 was $4,314 as compared to $792 for the nine months ended September 30, 1996, as a result of the factors discussed above.

EBITDA for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 was $3,395 as compared to $286 for the nine months ended September 30, 1996, as a result of the factors discussed above.

YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1996 AND PERIOD ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1995 (DOLLARS IN THOUSANDS)

As of December 31, 1996, ATS owned and/or operated approximately 260 wireless communications sites principally in the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic regions and Florida. As of December 31, 1995, ATS owned and/or operated one wireless communications site in Florida. See the Notes to the ATS consolidated financial statements for a description of the acquisitions consummated in 1996. These transactions have significantly affected operations for the year ended December 31, 1996 as compared to the period from July 17, 1995 (date of incorporation) to December 31, 1995.

Net revenues were $2,897 for the year ended December 31, 1996 compared to $163 for period ended December 31, 1995, an increase of $2,734. This increase was primarily attributable to the impact of the tower site acquisitions that occurred in 1996.

Tower lease revenues were $1,804 or 62.3% of net revenues for the year ended December 31, 1996 compared to $163 or 100% of net revenues for the period ended December 31, 1995; an increase of $1,641. This increase was attributable to revenue growth from the communications site acquisitions that occurred during 1996.

Sublease revenues were $468 for the year ended December 31, 1996 compared to $0 for the period ended December 31, 1995. This increase was attributable to revenue growth from the communications site acquisitions that occurred during 1996.

Management fee revenues were $467 for the year ended December 31, 1996 compared to $0 for the period ended December 31, 1995. This increase was attributable to revenue growth from the communications site acquisitions that occurred during 1996.

Operating expenses excluding depreciation and amortization and corporate general and administrative expenses were $1,362 for the year ended December 31, 1996 compared to $60 for the 1995 period, an increase of $1,302. This increase was due to the impact of increased costs associated with ATS' acquisitions and revenue growth.

Depreciation and amortization was $990 for the year ended December 31, 1996 and $57 for the 1995 period, an increase of $933. This increase was primarily attributable to the increase in depreciable and amortizable assets resulting from the 1996 acquisitions.

Corporate general and administrative expenses were $830 for the year ended December 31, 1996 and $230 for the 1995 period, an increase of $600. This increase was primarily attributable to the higher personnel costs associated with supporting ATS' greater number of tower properties.

Interest income was $36 for the year ended December 31, 1996 and $0 for the 1995 period. The increase is attributable to higher investable cash balances in 1996 as compared to 1995.

Minority interest in net earnings of subsidiary was $185 for the year ended December 31, 1996. This represents the elimination of the minority shareholder's earnings of consolidated subsidiaries. ATS purchased its 50.1% interest in ATS Needham, LLC, in July 1996.

The income tax provision for the year ended December 31, 1996 was $46 as compared to a benefit for income taxes of $74 for the 1995 period. The effective tax rate for the year ended December 31, 1996 was approximately 11% compared to 40% in 1995. The effective rate in 1996 is due to the effect of permanent differences, principally amortization of non-deductible goodwill on certain stock acquisitions. The effective tax rate in 1995 was consistent with the statutory rate.

The net loss was $480 for the year ended December 31, 1996 compared to $110 for the 1995 period, as a result of the factors discussed above.

Tower Cash Flow was $1,535 for the year ended December 31, 1996 as compared to $103 for the year ended December 31, 1995, as a result of the factors discussed above.

EBIDTA was $705 for the year ended December 31, 1996 as compared to a negative $127 for the year ended December 31, 1995, as a result of the factors discussed above.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

ATS' liquidity needs arise from its acquisition-related activities, debt service, working capital, and capital expenditures. Historically, ATS has met its operational liquidity needs with internally generated funds and has financed the acquisition of tower related properties, including related working capital needs, with a combination of contributions from American Radio and bank borrowings. For the nine months ended September 30, 1997, cash flow from operating activities was $3.1 million, as compared to $1.0 million for the nine months ended September 30, 1996. The change is primarily attributable to working capital investments related to communications site acquisitions and growth.

Cash flows used for investing activities were $74.3 million for the nine months ended September 30, 1997. ARS funded substantially all of the ATS investing activities during 1996.

Cash provided by financing activities was $71.1 million for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 as compared to $.6 million for the nine months ended September 30, 1996. The increase in 1997 is due to the impact of borrowings under the Tower Loan Agreement, offset somewhat by contributions from American Radio.

Pending Sale of American Radio Operations and Tower Separation: In September 1997, ARS entered into a merger agreement with CBS, pursuant to which a subsidiary of CBS will merge with and into ARS, each holder of ARS Common Stock at the Effective Time of the Merger will receive $44.00 per share in cash and, assuming the Tower Merger has not been consummated, a share of the same class of ATS Common Stock as the share of ARS Common Stock surrendered, and ARS will become a subsidiary of CBS. As a result of the Tower Separation, ATS will cease to be a subsidiary of, or otherwise be affiliated with, ARS and will thereafter operate as an independent publicly held company. ARS and ATS will enter into certain agreements pursuant to the Merger Agreement providing for, among other things, the orderly separation of ARS and ATS, certain closing date adjustments based on ARS' debt levels and working capital (current assets less defined liabilities), the transfer of lease obligations to ATS of leased space on certain towers owned or leased by ARS to ATS, and the allocation of certain tax liabilities between ARS and ATS and certain indemnification obligations of ATS to ARS. The Tower Separation will result in a taxable gain to ARS, of which $20.0 million will be borne by ARS, and the remaining obligation (currently estimated at approximately $66.6 million, based on an assumed value of ATS Common Stock of $10.00 per share) will be required to be borne by ATS pursuant to the Merger Agreement. The liability is expected to be paid with borrowings under the Tower Loan Agreement.

Prior to the Tower Separation, ARS intends to increase its overall investment in ATS from $51.4 million at September 30, 1997 to $150.0 million and to contribute tower properties with a net book value of approximately $4.2 million to ATS; 14 of the 16 towers to be so contributed were transferred in January 1998. In January 1998, ATS issued 8,000,000 shares of ATS Common Stock at a purchase price of $10.00 per share, for an aggregate purchase price of $80.0 million, of which an aggregate of 4,487,500 shares of ATS Class B Common Stock and 450,000 shares of ATS Class A Common Stock were issued in exchange for an aggregate of $49.375 million of notes secured by ARS Common Stock having a market value of not less than 175% of the principal amount and accrued and unpaid interest on such notes. These transactions will increase ATS' ability to fund acquisitions and meet its liquidity and capital resource needs.

Credit Agreements: As of September 30, 1997, ATS had approximately $54.2 million of total long-term debt (including the current portion thereof) outstanding. This included approximately $52.5 million of borrowings outstanding under ATS' then credit facility and approximately $1.7 million outstanding under other obligations. As of such date, assuming consummation of all of the Recent Transactions relating to ATS, the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement and the Tower Separation, the aggregate principal amount outstanding under the Tower Loan Agreement would have been approximately $321.3 million. In October 1997, ATS entered into the Tower Loan Agreement, which replaced the previously existing credit facility. All amounts outstanding under the previous facility ($55.0 million) were repaid with proceeds from the Tower Loan Agreement. The Tower Loan Agreement provides ATS with a $250.0 million loan commitment based on ATS maintaining certain operational ratios and an additional $150.0 million loan at the discretion of ATS, which is available through June 2005. Following the closing of the Tower Loan Agreement and repayment of amounts outstanding under the previous agreement, ATS incurred an extraordinary loss in the fourth quarter of 1997 of approximately $1.2 million which will be recorded net of the applicable income tax benefit, representing the write-off of deferred financing fees associated with the previous facility. The terms of the Tower Loan Agreement are discussed in the Notes to the Consolidated ATS Financial Statements. In January 1998, the Tower Loan Agreement was amended to reflect the transfer of substantially all of the assets and business of ATSI (immediately prior to consummation of the Gearon Transaction) to ATSLP, as a consequence of which ATSI and ATSLP are co-borrowers and jointly and severally liable under the Tower Loan Agreement and various subsidiaries of ATS and ATSI have guaranteed all of the obligations of ATSI and ATSLP under the Tower Loan Agreement. As of the date of this Information Statement/Prospectus, approximately $132.5 million of borrowings were outstanding under the Tower Loan Agreement.

In order to finance acquisitions of tower related properties and for general corporate purposes, ATS has borrowed and expects to continue to borrow under the Tower Loan Agreement. A substantial portion of ATS' cash flow from operations is required for debt service. Accordingly, ATS' leverage could make it vulnerable to a downturn in the operating performance of its tower properties or in economic conditions.

ATS believes that its cash flows from operations will be sufficient to meet its debt service requirements for interest and scheduled payments of principal under the Tower Loan Agreement. If such cash flow is not sufficient to meet such debt service requirements, ATS may be required to sell equity securities, refinance its obligations or dispose of one or more of its properties in order to make such scheduled payments. There can be no assurance that ATS would be able to effect any of such transactions on favorable terms.

ATS historically has had sufficient cash from its operations to meet its working capital needs, apart from needs generated by acquisitions and construction, and believes that it has sufficient financial resources available to it, including borrowings under the Tower Loan Agreement, to finance operations for the foreseeable future.

ATS has entered into several merger and acquisition agreements (see the Notes to the ATS Consolidated Financial Statements). The consummation of certain of the transactions contemplated by these agreements is subject to, among other things, the expiration or earlier termination of the HSR Act waiting period. Unless otherwise noted, ATS intends to effect all of the Recent Transactions as soon as the necessary approvals are obtained and any conditions to closing are satisfied. ATS intends to finance the acquisitions with contributions from American Radio, available cash, borrowings under the Tower Loan Agreement, and, in certain cases, issuance of equity securities.

ATS made approximately $7.8 million in capital expenditures in the nine months ended September 30, 1997, principally related to tower construction. ATS expects capital expenditures in 1998 to be approximately $60.0 million (exclusive of ATC which plans to construct approximately 125 towers at a cost of approximately $28.0 million) and of up to $42.0 million to construct approximately 200 towers as to which ATS has submitted a bid), consisting principally of tower site construction and ongoing technical improvements. To the extent that funds generated from operations, or available cash, are insufficient to finance non-recurring capital expenditures, ATS would seek to borrow the necessary funds under the Tower Loan Agreement. The availability of funds under the Tower Loan Agreement is dependent upon ATS being able to meet certain leverage ratios. Assuming consummation of all of the Recent Transactions and the Merger, management believes that, in light of current construction plans and potential acquisitions, ATS will require additional financing during 1998. Any such financing could take the form of an increase in the maximum borrowing levels under the Tower Loan Agreement, the issue, publicly or privately, of debt securities (which could have the effect of increasing its consolidated leverage ratios) or equity securities (which, in the case of ATS Common Stock or securities convertible into or exercisable for ATS Common Stock, would have a dilutive effect on the proportionate ownership of ATS by its then existing common stockholders). There can be no assurance that any such financing would be available on favorable terms.

Management expects that the consummated acquisitions, the consummation of the ATC Merger and current and future construction activities will have a material impact on liquidity. As indicated in the Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Balance Sheet for the nine months ended September 30, 1997, and the foregoing discussion there is a substantial difference in the historical liquidity and pro forma liquidity of ATS. Management believes that the acquisition activities once integrated will have a favorable impact on liquidity and will offset the initial effects of the funding requirements. Management also believes that the construction activities may initially have an adverse effect on the future liquidity of ATS as newly constructed towers will initially decrease the overall liquidity of ATS, although as such sites become more fully operational and achieve higher utilization, they should generate cash flow and, in the longer term, increase liquidity. Management intends to plan its construction activities in a manner designed to ensure that no violations occur in the Tower Loan Agreement. However, in order to facilitate such construction activity and to avoid any such violation ATS will require, as noted above, additional financing during 1998. Any such financing could take the form of an increase in the maximum borrowing levels under the Tower Loan Agreement, the issue, publicly or privately, of debt securities (which could have the effect of increasing its consolidated leverage ratios) or equity securities (which, in the case of ATS Common Stock or securities convertible into or exercisable for ATS Common Stock, would have a dilutive effect on the proportionate ownership of ATS by its then existing common stockholders). There can be no assurance that any such financing would be available on favorable terms.

See the Notes to the ATS Consolidated Financial Statements with respect to acquisition and related construction commitments.

ATS is aware of the issues associated with the Year 2000 as it relates to information systems. The Year 2000 is not expected to have a material impact on ATS' current information systems because current software is either already Year 2000 compliant or required changes are not expected to be material. Based on the nature of ATS' business, ATS anticipates it is not likely to experience material business interruption due to the impact of Year 2000 compliance on its customers and vendors. As a result, ATS does not anticipate that incremental expenditures to address Year 2000 compliance will be material to ATS' liquidity, financial position or results of operations over the next few years.

INFLATION

The impact of inflation on ATS' operations has not been significant to date. However, there can be no assurance that a high rate of inflation in the future will not have material adverse effect on ATS' operating results.

RECENT ACCOUNTING PRONOUNCEMENTS

In March 1997, the Financial Accounting Standards Board ("FASB") released Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (FAS) No. 128, "Earnings Per Share" ("FAS 128"), which ATS will adopt in the fourth quarter of 1997.

In June 1997, the FASB released FAS No. 130 "Reporting Comprehensive Income" ("FAS 130"), and FAS No. 131 "Disclosures about Segments of and Enterprise and Related Information" ("FAS 131"). These pronouncements will be effective in 1998. FAS 130 establishes standards for reporting comprehensive income items and will require ATS to provide a separate statement of comprehensive income; reported financial statement amounts will not be affected by this adoption. FAS 131 established standards for reporting information about the operating segments in its annual report and interim reports and will require ATS to adopt this standard in the first quarter of 1998.

INDUSTRY OVERVIEW

Communications site owners and operators have benefited in recent years from a substantial increase in demand for wireless communications services. The CTIA estimates that the number of subscribers to wireless telephone services was approximately five million in 1990. According to The Strategis Group, a telecommunications marketing research firm, the number of subscribers to cellular and PCS is over 50 million today, and is projected to increase to over 100 million by the year 2001. This demand has prompted the issuance of new wireless network licenses and construction of new wireless networks. ATS believes that the increase in demand for wireless communications is attributable to a number of factors, including: the increasing mobility of the U.S. population and the growing awareness of the benefits of mobile communications, technological advances in communications equipment, decreasing costs of wireless services, favorable changes in telecommunications regulations, and business and consumer preferences for higher quality voice and data transmission. Consequently, more towers will be required to accommodate the anticipated increase in the demand for higher frequency technologies (such as PCS and ESMR) which have a reduced cell range and thus require a more dense network, or "footprint", of towers. PCIA estimates that over 100,000 additional antennae sites will have to be built to accomodate the needs of cellular and PCS over the next ten years.

ATS believes that, as the wireless industry has become more competitive, many carriers are seeking to focus their capital and operation resources primarily on activities that contribute directly to subscriber growth, such as the marketing and distribution of products. Management believes that these carriers, therefore, may seek to preserve capital and speed access to their markets through the outsourcing of infrastructure requirements such as communications site ownership, construction, operation and maintenance. Also, in order to accelerate network deployment or expansion and to generate efficiencies, carriers are increasingly co-locating transmission infrastructure with that of other network operators. The need for co-location has also been driven by regulatory restrictions and the growing trend in local municipalities to slow the proliferation of towers in their communities by requiring that towers accommodate multiple tenants.

While the wireless communications industry is experiencing rapid growth, the television broadcasting industry, with strong encouragement from both Congress and the FCC, is actively planning its strategy for the transition from analog to digital technology. ATS believes that this transition will require a substantial investment in enhanced broadcast infrastructure, including the construction or reengineering of broadcast towers. While ATS expects much of the associated capital requirements will be borne by the broadcasters, management believes that a significant opportunity exists to invest profitably in the creation of tower capacity designed to accommodate digital antennas for television broadcasters. Management believes that, as with the deployment of towers for the wireless carriers, speed to market and limited capital resources will cause certain broadcasters to outsource the construction or reengineering of their towers in order to accommodate digital technology.

The attractiveness of a communications site is dependent on its location and the loaded capacity at certain wind speeds of its towers, which determine its desirability to wireless carriers and the number of antennae that its towers can support. Virtually all forms of wireless communications depend upon placing transmitting and receiving antennae at some level of altitude, the height depending on whether the site is elevated above sea level or not and what is in the surrounding area. A transmitter's height on a tower and such tower's location determine the line-of-sight of such transmitter with the horizon and, consequently, the distance a signal can be transmitted. Some users, such as paging companies and specialized mobile radio ("SMR") providers in rural areas, need higher elevations for broader coverage. Other businesses such as ESMR, PCS and cellular companies in metropolitan areas usually do not need to place their equipment at the highest tower point to maximize transmission distance and quality.

A tower can be either self-supported or supported by guy wires. There are two types of self-supported towers: the lattice and the monopole. A lattice model is usually tapered from the bottom up and can have three or four legs. A monopole is a tubular structure that is typically used as a single purpose tower or in places where there are space constraints or a need to address aesthetic concerns. Self-supported towers typically range in height from 50-200 feet for monopoles and up to 1,000 feet for lattices, while guyed towers can reach 2,000 feet or more. A typical communications site consists of a compound enclosing the tower or towers and an equipment shelter (which houses a variety of transmitting, receiving and switching equipment).

Rooftop or other building top sites are more common in urban downtown areas where tall buildings are generally available and multiple communications sites are required due to high traffic density. One advantage of a rooftop site is that zoning regulations typically permit installation of antennae. In cases of such population density, neither height nor extended radius of coverage are as important. Moreover, the installation of a tower structure in urban areas will often prove to be impossible due to zoning restrictions, land cost and land availability.

The cost of construction of a tower varies both by site location (which will determine, among other things, the required height of the tower) and type of tower. Non-broadcast towers (whether on a rooftop or the ground) generally cost between approximately $150,000 and $200,000, while broadcasting towers (which generally are built to bear a greater load) generally cost between approximately $300,000 and $1.0 million if on an elevated location and between approximately $1.0 million and $3.5 million if on flat terrain. While the number of tenants which a tower can accommodate will vary depending on the nature of the services provided by such tenants, well-constructed non-broadcast towers generally are capable of housing between five and ten tenants using an aggregate of between 25 and 50 antennae and broadcasting towers generally are capable of housing between ten and forty tenants using an aggregate of between 50 and 100 antennae. Annual rental payments vary considerably depending upon (i) the type of service being provided; (ii) the size of the line and the number and weight of the antennae on the tower; (iii) the existing capacity of the tower; (iv) the location on the tower; and (v) the competitive environment.

Lease terms vary depending upon the industry user, with television and radio broadcasters tending to prefer longer term leases (15 to 20 years) than wireless communications service providers (five to ten years). In either case, most of such leases contain provisions for multiple renewals at the option of the tenant. Governmental agencies, because of budgetary restrictions, generally have one year leases, but tend to renew automatically. Leases tend to be renewed because of the complications associated with moving antennae. In the case of a television or radio broadcaster, such a move might necessitate FCC approval and could entail major dislocations and the uncertainty associated with building antennae in new coverage areas. In the case of cellular, PCS and other wireless users, moving one antenna might necessitate moving several others because of the interlocking grid-like nature of such systems. In addition, the increasing difficulty of obtaining local zoning approvals, the environmental activism of community groups, and the restrictions imposed upon owners and operators by the FAA and upon tenants by the FCC, tend to reduce significantly the number of alternatives available to a tower user. Leases generally provide for annual automatic price increases (escalator provisions) based on specified estimated cost measures or on increases in the consumer price index. Owners and operators generally also receive fees for installing customers' equipment and antennae on the communications site.

Wireless communications towers are owned by a wide range of companies, including wireless communications providers, regional Bell operating companies, long distance companies, television and radio broadcasting companies, independent tower operators, utilities and railroads. Despite the increasing demand for communications sites, the industry remains highly fragmented, with few independent operators owning a large number of towers. ATS estimates that no one independent tower owner and operator (one which owns and operates communications sites principally for other entities) owns more than 2% of the towers in the United States. The pace of consolidation has begun to accelerate, however, as the larger independent operators continue to acquire small local or regional operators and purchase communications sites and related assets from wireless communications carriers. Management believes that a major factor contributing to such consolidation is the emergence of many major companies seeking to provide increasingly sophisticated wireless services on a national basis. This, in turn, creates a need for substantial companies capable of developing and constructing networks of communications sites and maintaining and servicing the sophisticated support facilities associated with ongoing operations. ATS believes that the national and other large wireless service providers will prefer to deal with a company that can meet the majority of such providers' needs within a particular market or region, rather than, as has been the historical model, a large number of individual tower owners, construction companies and other service providers. There can, of course, be no assurance that ATS will be able to secure a substantial portion of such potential business. See "Risk Factors--Factors Relating to American Tower Systems".

ATS believes that there is another significant trend influencing the wireless service providers that is likely to continue to have important implications for independent tower operators. In the increasingly competitive environment, ATS believes that many carriers are seeking to dedicate their capital and operations primarily to those activities, such as marketing and distribution of products, that directly contribute to subscriber growth. Management believes these carriers, therefore, may seek to preserve capital and to speed access to their markets through the outsourcing of infrastructure network requirements such as communications site ownership, construction, operation and maintenance. Previously, carriers typically sourced many of such services in-house while local non-integrated service contractors focused on specific segments such as radio frequency engineering, site acquisition and tower construction. To meet those needs, independent operators have expanded into a number of associated network and communications site services, including the selection and acquisition of communications sites (including the resolution of zoning and permitting issues), the design of wireless and broadcast sites and networks, and the construction or supervision of construction of towers.

Unlike the fragmented nature of the communications site business, customers in all segments of the wireless communications industry and the broadcast industry tend to be large, financially responsible national companies. As a consequence of the foregoing factors, as well as the lack of seasonality of the industry, the communications site industry is characterized by a predictable and recurring stream of income.

BUSINESS OF AMERICAN TOWER SYSTEMS

GENERAL

American Tower Systems is a leading independent owner and operator of wireless communications towers in the U.S. with over 1,580 towers in 39 states and the District of Columbia, including approximately 510 towers managed for third party owners (of which approximately 255 are rooftop towers). Of such 1,580 towers, approximately 810 are presently operated by ATS (approximately 750 of which are owned by it and the balance of which are managed for others), and approximately 775 are presently operated by ATC (of which approximately 125 are managed for a third party; ATC is a party to agreements or letters of intent to acquire approximately 125 currently operating towers). In addition to such 1,580 towers, ATS and ATC have more than 90 and 50 towers, respectively, currently under construction. ATS rents tower space and provides related services to a diverse range of wireless communications service industries, including PCS, cellular, paging, SMR, ESMR and fixed microwave, as well as radio and television broadcasters. ATS has significant tower networks throughout the United States with its most significant networks in California, Florida and Texas, and owns and operates communications sites or is constructing networks of tower sites in cities such as Albuquerque, Atlanta, Austin, Baltimore, Boston, Dallas, Jacksonville, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Miami-Ft. Lauderdale, Nashville, New York, Philadelphia, Sacramento, San Antonio, San Diego, San Francisco, Tucson, Washington, D.C. and West Palm Beach.

ATS' primary business is the leasing of antennae sites on multi-tenant towers and rooftops, primarily for its own towers and, to a lesser extent, for unaffiliated communications site owners. In support of its rental business, ATS also offers its customers network development services, including: site acquisition, zoning, antennae installation, site construction and network design. These services are offered on a time and materials or fixed fee basis or incorporated into build to suit construction contracts. American Tower Systems is also engaged in the video, voice and data transmission business, which it currently conducts in the New York City to Washington, D.C. corridor and in Texas. For the nine months ended September 30, 1997, giving effect to the ATS Pro Forma Transactions, ATS had revenues and EBITDA of $66.0 million and $30.4 million, respectively.

On a pro forma basis, ATS' customers (which aggregate more than 2,390) include many of the major companies in the wireless communications industry, including: (i) cellular and PCS, including AT&T Corp. ("AT&T"), Bell Atlantic NYNEX Mobile ("Bell Atlantic Mobile"), BellSouth Mobility, Inc. ("BellSouth Mobility"), GTE Mobilnet of South Texas ("GTE Mobilnet"), Houston Cellular, Prime Co. ("Prime"), SBC Communications, Inc. ("SBC Communications"), Southern New England Telephone ("SNET"), Southwestern Bell Mobile Systems (operating as Cellular One) ("Southwestern Bell") and Sprint Corp. ("Sprint"); (ii) paging, including Arch Communications Group Inc. ("Arch"), Metrocall, Inc. ("Metrocall"), PageMart Inc. ("PageMart"), PageNet, Inc. ("PageNet") and Pittencrief Communications, Inc. ("Pittencrief Communications"); (iii) ESMR, including Nextel Communications, Inc. ("Nextel"); and (iv) the television and radio broadcasting industries including American Broadcasting Company ("ABC"), American Radio, CBS, Chancellor Media Corporation ("Chancellor Media"), Clear Channel Communications, Inc. ("Clear Channel"), Cable News Network ("CNN"), The Fox Network ("Fox"), Jacor Communications, Inc. ("Jacor") and the National Broadcasting Company ("NBC"). ATS' site acquisition activities, which affords the opportunity to provide additional services such as the construction and leasing of communications sites, are provided to Bell Atlantic Mobile, SNET and Southwestern Bell, and ATS has constructed or is constructing towers on a build to suit basis for companies such as Nextel, Omnipoint and Southwestern Bell. The principal users of ATS' video, voice and data transmission services are television broadcasters and other video suppliers such as CBS, CNN, Fox and Home Box Office ("HBO"). While none of ATS' customers accounted for as much as 10% of its pro forma revenues for the nine months ended September 30, 1997, most of the named customers accounted for more than 1% of such revenues and each is considered by ATS to be an important customer.

Giving effect to all ATS Pro Forma Transactions, management estimates that its site leasing activities, which it believes to generate the highest profit margin of its businesses, account for approximately 49% of such revenues, site acquisition activities (including construction for others) account for 31%, and the video, voice and data transmission business accounts for 20%. However, in light of management's intention to focus on construction (build to suit) activities, which will increase the number of sites available for leasing, it believes that antennae site leasing is likely to grow at a more rapid rate than other aspects of ATS' business.

ATS derives its revenue from various industry segments. The percentage of ATS' revenues derived from the various industry segments is approximately as follows: PCS--15%; Paging--24%; Cellular--12%; ESMR/SMR--12%; radio and television broadcasting--9%; Microwave--3%; private industrial users--3%; and Governmental and others--2%. The remaining approximately 20% of ATS' revenues are derived from its video, voice and data transmission customers which are primarily the major television networks, CNN and HBO. Management believes that the foregoing percentages are not necessarily indicative of future contributions likely to be made by the various aspects of its business or of the several different types of wireless providers, particularly in light of the anticipated growth of PCS and cellular compared to other wireless providers and management's intended focus on build to suit and other tower construction activities.

GROWTH STRATEGY

ATS' objective is to maintain and extend its position as a leading U.S. provider of communications sites and network development services to the wireless communications and broadcasting industries. ATS' growth strategy includes:

Internal Growth through Selling, Service and Capacity Utilization. Management believes that a substantial opportunity for profitable growth exists by maximizing the utilization of existing towers through targeted sales and marketing techniques. Management believes that the key to the success of this strategy lies in its ability to develop and consistently deliver a high level of customer service, and to be widely recognized as a company that makes realistic commitments and then delivers on them. Since speed to market and reliable network performance are critical components to the success of wireless service providers, ATS' ability to assist its customers in meeting these criteria will ultimately define its marketing success and capacity utilization. ATS targets wireless providers that are expanding or improving their existing network infrastructure as well as those deploying new technologies. ATS focuses on building or acquiring towers engineered to hold as many tenants as possible and acquiring towers with underutilized capacity because the costs of operating a site are largely fixed, and increasing tower utilization results in significantly improved site operating margins. When a specific tower reaches full antennae attachment capacity, ATS is often able to construct an additional tower at the same location, thereby further leveraging its investment in land, related equipment and certain operating costs, such as taxes, utilities and telephone service.

Growth by Construction (Build to Suit). ATS believes that attractive investment returns can be achieved by constructing new tower networks ("footprints") in and around markets in which it already has a presence, along major highways, and in targeted new markets, particularly markets that have not been significantly built out by carriers or other communications site companies. By working with one or more "anchor" tenants (in much the same manner as a shopping mall developer), ATS will seek to develop an overall master plan for a particular market by locating new sites in areas identified by its customers as optimal for their network expansion requirements (build to suit). ATS generally secures commitments for leasing prior to commencing construction, thereby minimizing, to some extent, the risks associated with the investment. See "Risk Factors--Risk Factors Relating to American Tower Systems--Construction of New Towers". In certain cases, ATS may identify and secure all zoning and other regulatory permits for a site in anticipation of customer demand, with actual construction being delayed until an anchor tenant is secured on reasonable terms. Strategic acquisitions will also be pursued as a means of filling out or, in certain cases, initiating, a tower network.

American Tower Systems currently has under construction or plans to construct during 1998 (exclusive of those which ATC is constructing or plans to construct) approximately 300 towers (most of which are on a build to suit basis) at an estimated aggregate cost of approximately $60.0 million. In addition, ATS is actively competing for the opportunity to construct more than 200 towers in 1998 for an estimated cost of approximately $42.0 million, although there can be no assurance as to how many, if any, of such towers ATS will be engaged to construct. ATC has under construction or plans to construct during 1998 approximately 125 towers at an estimated aggregate cost of approximately $28.0 million.

Because of the relatively attractive initial returns which can be achieved from new tower construction, and because ATS can design and build towers to specifications that assure ample future capacity and minimize the need for future capital expenditures, management intends to place a strong emphasis on new tower development for the foreseeable future. Management also intends to pursue new tower construction to service the demand for digital television and for tower space for radio antennae displaced by digital television requirements. Over time, management believes that more than half of its towers will result from new construction, with the substantial majority of these designed to serve the wireless communications industry.

ATS believes that the ability to obtain, and commit to, large new construction (build to suit) projects will require significant financial resources. Management believes its reputation in the financial community, including among banks, investment banking firms, institutional investors and public investors, will attract such capital, on the favorable terms necessary to finance its growth, although there can be no assurance that funds will be available to ATS on such terms. Further, management believes that its cost of capital, relative to the cost of capital of its competitors, will be an important factor in implementing this aspect of its growth strategy.

Growth by Acquisition. ATS intends to continue to target strategic acquisitions in markets or regions where it already owns towers as well as new markets, including possibly non-U.S. markets. ATS has achieved a leading industry position primarily through acquisitions. ATS will attempt to increase revenues and operating margins at acquired communications sites through expanded sales and marketing efforts, improved customer service, the elimination of redundant overhead and, in certain instances, increasing tower capacity. Acquisitions are evaluated using numerous criteria, including potential demand, tower location, tower height, existing capacity utilization, local competition, and local government restrictions on new tower development. ATS also intends to pursue, on a selective basis, the acquisition of site acquisition companies and providers of video, voice and data transmission services. ATS may also pursue acquisitions related to the communications site industry, including companies engaged in the tower fabrication business.

While to date the majority of ATS' growth has resulted from acquisition activities, once the Recent Transactions are consummated management expects to shift ATS' emphasis more towards build to suit and new tower construction, where it believes investment returns are more attractive. It will, however, continue to evaluate numerous acquisition prospects, and expects to consummate selected acquisitions when the economics or fit are sufficiently attractive.

Growth through the Negotiation of Lease Escalators. The value of a tower and its growth prospects are affected by the terms of the leases associated with it. Most leases have escalator provisions (annual automatic increases based on specified estimated cost measures or on increases in the consumer price index) that permit ATS to keep pace with inflation. While these provisions are not by themselves intended to be a primary source of growth, they provide a stable and predictable growth component which is then enhanced by increased tower utilization.

PRODUCTS AND SERVICES

Leasing of Antennae Sites. ATS' primary business is the leasing of antennae sites on multi-tenant towers to companies in all segments of the wireless communications and broadcasting industries. ATS' communications site business (including that of ATC) consists of more than 1,580 towers in 39 states and in the District of Columbia, including approximately 510 towers managed for third party owners (of which approximately 255 are rooftop towers). Of such 1,580 towers, approximately 810 are presently operated by ATS (approximately 425 of which are owned by it and the balance of which are managed for others), and approximately 775 are presently operated by American Tower Corporation (of which approximately 125 are managed for a third party; ATC is a party to agreements or letters of intent to acquire approximately 125 currently operating towers). In addition to such 1,580 towers, ATS and ATC have more than 90 and 50 towers, respectively, currently under construction. ATS rents tower space and provides related services for a diverse range of wireless communications industries, including: PCS, cellular, paging, SMR, ESMR, paging, fixed microwave, as well as radio and television broadcasters. ATS has significant networks of sites throughout the United States with its most significant clusters in California, Florida and Texas, and owns and operates communications sites or is constructing networks of tower sites in cities such as Albuquerque, Atlanta, Austin, Baltimore, Boston, Dallas, Jacksonville, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Miami-Ft. Lauderdale, Nashville, New York, Philadelphia, Sacramento, San Antonio, San Diego, San Francisco, Tucson, Washington, D.C. and West Palm Beach.

ATS' leases, like most of those in the industry, generally vary depending upon the industry user, with television and radio broadcasters preferring long term leases (generally from 15 to 20 years), and wireless communications providers favoring somewhat shorter lease terms (generally from five to ten years), with multiple renewals at the option of the tenant. Leases contain escalator provisions based on the consumer price index or a predetermined minimum increase, and tend to be renewed due to the costs and disruption associated with reconfiguring a network or broadcast location. The number of antennae which ATS' towers can accommodate varies depending on the type of tower (broadcast or non-broadcast) and nature of the services provided by such antennae, although broadcasting towers generally are capable of holding more and larger antennae and serving more tenants than non-broadcasting towers. Annual rental payments vary considerably depending upon (i) the type of service being provided; (ii) the size of the line and the number and weight of the antennae on the tower; (iii) the existing capacity of the tower; (iv) the location on the tower; and (v) the competitive environment. Management believes that it is not possible to state with any degree of precision the vacancy or unused capacity of a "typical" tower, group of related towers or all of its towers for a variety of reasons, including, among others, the variations that occur depending on the types of antennae placed on the tower, the types of service being provided by the tower users, the type and location of the tower or towers, the ability to build other towers so as to configure a "footprint" of related towers, whether any of the users have imposed restrictions on competitive users, and whether there are any environmental, zoning or other restrictions on the number or type of users.

Build to Suit Business. Historically, cellular and other wireless service providers have constructed a majority of towers for their own use, while usually outsourcing certain services such as site acquisition and construction management. More recently, however, service providers have expressed a growing interest in having independent companies own the towers on which they will secure space under long-term leases. Management believes this trend is the result of a need among such providers to preserve capital and to speed access to their markets, as they seek to focus their capital and operational resources primarily on activities that contribute to subscriber growth, such as marketing and distribution of products. ATS has positioned itself as an attractive choice for this build to suit opportunity. It has done so by acquiring and developing reputable site acquisition companies with established client relationships in both site acquisition and construction management, and by securing the financial resources necessary to participate in the build to suit arena on a substantial scale. Management believes companies that are able to demonstrate the ability to successfully locate, acquire, permit, finance and construct towers in a timely manner will be used by a significant number of wireless service providers on an expanded basis. ATS is currently engaged in build to suit efforts for a range of clients including Nextel, Omnipoint, Prime and Southwestern Bell.

In most cases, well engineered and well located towers built to serve the specifications of an initial anchor tenant in the wireless communications sector will attract three or more additional wireless tenants over time, thereby increasing revenue and enhancing margins. ATS has had only limited experience, to date, with build to suit projects and those that it has completed and are operational have been on a much smaller scale than those on which it is now bidding or considering bidding. Management believes that ATS' favorable results (occupancy and financial) achieved on completed projects is not representative of the results likely to be achieved from the larger projects ATS is currently contemplating and, therefore, has not included information herein with respect to the typical vacancy rates or financial results that can be expected to be generated by such build to suit projects.

Although build to suit projects involve at least one "anchor" tenant, there can be no assurance that a sufficient number of additional tenants will be secured for all or most of the towers to be constructed pursuant to such projects (particularly the larger ones such as the 600-tower project on which ATS is bidding as described elsewhere in this Information Statement/Prospectus), to ensure that such projects will be profitable. Moreover, ATS may find that one of the reasons that carriers are willing to permit ATS to build towers for them is that certain or many of such towers may be on sites that are either expensive or difficult to build on or that they are such that they are unlikely to attract a sufficient number of other tenants.

Site Acquisition Business. The site selection and acquisition process begins with the network design. Highway corridors, population centers and topographical features are identified within the carrier's existing or proposed network, and drive tests are performed to monitor all PCS, cellular and ESMR frequencies to locate the systems then operating in that geographic area and identify where any holes in coverage may be. Based on this data, the carrier and ATS develop a "search ring", generally of one-mile radius, within which the site acquisition department identifies land available either for purchase or lease. ATS personnel select the most suitable sites, based on demographics, traffic patterns and signal characteristics. The site is then submitted to the local zoning/planning board for approval. If the site is approved, in certain instances ATS will supervise construction of the towers and other improvements on the various communications sites. ATS' site acquisition services are provided on a fixed fee or time and materials basis. Existing users of ATS' site acquisition business, include Bell Atlantic Mobile, SNET and Southwestern Bell. While ATS will continue to provide site acquisition services to those customers desiring them, it also intends to actively market its construction and leasing services as an extension of these services.

Communications Site Management Business. ATS is a leading manager of communications sites, principally rooftop sites but also including ground towers, for other owners. A principal aspect of this business is the development of new sources of revenue for building owners by effectively managing all aspects of rooftop telecommunications, including two-way radio systems, microwave, fiber optics, wireless cable, paging and rooftop infrastructure construction services. ATS currently manages more than 380 sites in 35 states, exclusive of the approximately 125 sites managed by ATC for a third party. Management contracts are generally for a period of five years and contain automatic five-year renewal periods unless terminated by either party on notice prior to such renewal term or upon an uncured default. Pursuant to these contracts, ATS is responsible for marketing antennae sites on the tower, reviewing existing and negotiating future license agreements with tenant users, managing and enforcing those agreements, supervising installation of equipment by tenants to ensure, among other things, non-interference with other users, supervising repairs and maintenance to the towers, as well as site billing, collections and contract administration. In addition, ATS handles all calls as well as questions regarding the site so that the building management team or owner is relieved of this responsibility. For such services, ATS is entitled to a percentage of lease payments, which is higher for new tenants than for existing tenants. Upon any termination of a contract, unless because of its default, ATS is entitled to its percentage with respect to then existing tenants so long as they remain tenants.

Voice, Video and Data Transmission Business. ATS' voice, video and data transmission business is operated in the New York City to Washington, D.C. corridor and in Texas. ATS owns a teleport outside of New York City and has an agreement to acquire a teleport outside of Washington, D.C., and distributes video, voice and data over the New York to Washington D.C. corridor through a fiber and microwave network, including 13 towers. The New York teleport system is located on a 70-acre owned site which is zoned for 29 microwave dishes of which 22 are existing, thereby providing significant expansion capacity. The Washington teleport system is located in Northern Virginia, inside of the Washington Beltway, on ten acres and houses 40 antennae with the capacity for an additional ten antennae. The network includes both fiber and microwave channels, is used by all of the major television broadcast networks, and accesses all domestic and major international satellites in the operating region. The system is able to distribute voice, video and data through satellite or terrestrial distribution. The Texas systems consists of a teleport outside of Dallas that enables it to distribute video, voice and data from Dallas to Corpus Christi through a fiber and microwave network including 35 towers. This system includes 15 microwave dishes and covers the most populated area of Texas, servicing Austin, Corpus Christi, Dallas, Houston and San Antonio. The system connects to all major sports and convention venues, video companies and broadcast networks in those cities. The principal users of ATS' video, voice and data transmission services are television broadcasters and other video suppliers such as CBS, CNN, Fox and HBO.

MANAGEMENT ORGANIZATION

ATS is organized on a regional basis. Management believes that its regional operations centers should be capable of responding effectively to the opportunities and customer needs of its defined geographic area and that these operations centers should have skilled engineers, construction management and marketing personnel. Management also believes that over time enhanced customer service and greater operating efficiencies can be achieved by centralizing certain operating functions, including accounting and lease administration. Such centralization, when achieved, will enable key information about each site, tower lease and customer to become part of a centralized database, with communications links to regional operating centers.

In conjunction with its acquisition of various companies, management believes it has obtained the services of key personnel with skills in areas such as engineering, site acquisition, construction management, tower operations, marketing, lease administration, and finance. However, as ATS seeks to expand its size and improve on the quality and consistency of service delivery, it believes it will need to supplement its current workforce in certain critical areas and intensify its dedication to customer service. Accordingly, management is actively recruiting key personnel to complete the staffing of its regional operations centers and to strengthen and deepen its corporate group. ATS focuses its efforts on recruiting people from the industry sectors it serves and in some instances recruiting skilled engineers, marketing and other personnel from outside the communications site, wireless communications and broadcasting industries.

HISTORY OF ATS

In early 1995, Steven B. Dodge, Chairman of the Board, President and Chief Executive Officer of American Radio, and other members of American Radio's management, recognized the opportunity in the communications site industry through ARS' ownership and operation of broadcast towers. ATS was formed in July 1995 to capitalize on this opportunity. During 1996, ATS' acquisition program was modest, entailing the acquisition of companies owning an aggregate of ten communications sites and managing approximately 250 sites for others, for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $21.0 million. During that year, however, ATS entered into several more significant acquisition agreements that were consummated in 1997.

RECENT TRANSACTIONS

The following transactions constitute the Recent Transactions (of which only the Meridian Transaction, the Diablo Transaction, the MicroNet Transaction, the Tucson Transaction, the Gearon Transaction and the ATC Merger are, together with the Tower Separation and the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement, included in the ATS Pro Forma Transactions).

Consummated Acquisitions. Since January 1, 1997, ATS has consummated more than 15 acquisitions (including those agreed to in 1996) involving more than 525 sites (including sites on which towers are to be constructed), in a variety of regions for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $290.0 million, certain of which are described below.

In May 1997, ATS consummated, among others, three acquisitions as follows:

- the purchase for approximately $13.0 million of two related companies engaged in the site acquisition business for unaffiliated third parties in various locations in the United States;

- the purchase for approximately $5.4 million of 21 tower sites, and a tower site management business, in Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina. The acquisition agreement also provided for additional payments if the seller is able to arrange for the purchase or management of tower sites presently owned by an unaffiliated public utility in South Carolina, which payments are estimated to aggregate up to approximately $1.2 million; management believes that it is unlikely that any such arrangement will be entered into; and

- the purchase of a 70% interest in a business that will initially own and operate communications towers that are to be constructed on 58 sites in northern California; the remaining 30% of the joint venture is owned by an unaffiliated party. ATS paid the other party approximately $0.8 million in cash for its 70% interest and is obligated to provide equity financing for the construction of those towers (estimated at approximately $5.0 million) as well as any others that the joint venture may construct.

In July 1997, ATS consummated four unrelated acquisitions, including the purchase for approximately $33.5 million for 56 sites and a tower site management business in southern California (the "Meridian Transaction").

In October 1997, ATS consummated two unrelated acquisitions as follows:

- the purchase for approximately $45.0 million of 110 sites and a site management business primarily in northern California (the "Diablo Transaction"); and

- the purchase for approximately $70.25 million of 128 owned or leased tower sites, principally in the Mid-Atlantic region, with the remainder in California and Texas. The acquisition also provided ATS with its video, voice and data transmission business (the "MicroNet Transaction").

In January 1998, ATS consummated the acquisition of OPM-USA-INC. ("OPM"), a company which owned approximately 90 towers at the time of acquisition (the "OPM Transaction"). In addition, OPM is in the process of developing an additional approximately 160 towers that are expected to be constructed during the next 12 to 18 months. The purchase price, which is variable and based on the number of towers completed and the forward cash flow of the completed OPM towers, could aggregate up to $105.0 million, of which approximately $21.3 million was paid at the closing. ATS has also agreed to provide the financing to OPM to enable it to construct the 160 towers in an aggregate amount not to exceed $37.0 million (less advances as of consummation aggregating approximately $5.7 million).

In January 1998, ATS consummated the Gearon Transaction pursuant to which ATSI merged with a company engaged primarily in the site acquisition business for unaffiliated third parties that also owned or had under construction 40 tower sites. The merger price of approximately $80.0 million was paid by delivery of 5,333,333 shares of ATS Class A Common Stock, the payment of approximately $30.0 million in cash and assumed liabilities.

In January 1998, ARS transferred to ATS 14 of the 16 communications sites currently used by American Radio and various third parties and ARS and ATS entered into leases or subleases of space on the towers transferred. The remaining two communications sites will be transferred and leases entered into following acquisition by ARS of the sites from third parties. See "The Merger and Tower Separation--Lease Arrangements".

In January 1998, ATS consummated the purchase of a communications site with six towers in Tucson, Arizona (the "Tucson Transaction") for approximately $12.0 million.

In February 1998, ATS acquired 11 communications tower sites in northern California for approximately $11.8 million.

Pending Acquisitions. In January 1998, ATS entered into an agreement to purchase the assets relating to a teleport serving the Washington, D.C. area for a purchase price of approximately $30.5 million. The facility is located in northern Virginia, inside of the Washington Beltway, on ten acres. Consummation of the transaction, which is subject to certain conditions, including receipt of FCC approvals and the expiration or earlier termination of the HSR Act waiting period, is expected to occur in the first half of 1998.

ATC Merger. On December 12, 1997, ATS entered into the ATC Merger Agreement pursuant to which ATC will merge with and into ATS which will be the surviving corporation. Pursuant to the ATC Merger, ATS will issue an aggregate of approximately 31.1 million shares of ATS Class A Common Stock (including shares issuable upon exercise of options to acquire ATC Common Stock which, to the extent they are outstanding as of the effectiveness of the ATC Merger, will become options to acquire ATS Class A Common Stock). The 31.1 million shares of ATS Class A Common Stock will represent 35% of the aggregate number of shares of ATS Common Stock which would be outstanding on a pro forma basis, assuming consummation of the ATC Merger, the Merger, the exercise of all ATS and ATC stock options currently proposed to be outstanding and the conversion of all ARS Convertible Preferred Stock.

The ATS Board and the Board of Directors of ATC each believes that the ATC Merger Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby (including the respective proportions of the combined company to be owned by the ATS common stockholders and the ATC common stockholders) are fair to, and in the best interests of, its respective stockholders. ARS, as the then sole ATS stockholder, has approved the ATC Merger Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby. Approval of the holders of a majority of the ATC Common Stock will be required to approve and adopt the ATC Merger Agreement and approve the ATC Merger.

The ATS Board, in reaching its conclusions, considered the factors discussed below. In view of the wide variety of factors considered in connection with the evaluation of the ATC Merger, the ATS Board did not find it practicable, nor did it attempt, to quantify or otherwise to assign relative weights to the specific factors it considered in reaching its determinations.

Amount and Form of ATC Merger Consideration. The ATS Board viewed favorably the exchange ratio and the proportions of the combined company to be owned by the ATS stockholders and the ATC stockholders. Such determination was based on all of the factors discussed herein. The ATS Board also viewed as favorable the fact that ATC Merger would result in a decrease in the combined company's leverage ratios, thereby enabling ATS to continue the construction activities of both companies which were viewed as essential to the long term growth of ATS.

Other Terms of the ATC Merger Agreement. The ATS Board considered the legal and other financial terms of the ATC Merger Agreement. The ATS Board gave consideration to, in addition to the amount and form of consideration offered to the ATC stockholders, the provisions of the ATC Merger Agreement that would permit ATS to terminate the agreement, if the Merger had not occurred and the ATS Board determined that consummation of the Tower Separation was not in the best interests of the ATS common stockholders, upon the payment of $15.0 million (together with reimbursement of reasonable out-of-pocket fees and expenses up to $1.0 million). Finally, the ATS Board considered the absence of any term or condition in the ATC Merger Agreement that was unduly onerous or could materially impede or impair the consummation of the ATC Merger.

Industry Changes and Consolidation. The ATS Board was aware of the changes that are taking place and will take place in the wireless communications and broadcasting industries, as well as the consolidation that had been taking place in the communications site industry. Particularly as a result of the outsourcing by many wireless carriers and the growth in build to suit projects, the ATS Board viewed as favorable the increased size and capacity that the combination with ATC would achieve, and believed that such fact would enhance its ability to compete effectively in the build to suit market and, of equal importance, to be able to provide enhanced levels of service to the much larger carriers, wireless and broadcasting, that dominate the communications industry.

ATS' and ATC's Business, Conditions and Prospects. In evaluating the terms of the ATC Merger, the ATS Board reviewed, among other things, information with respect to the financial condition, results of operations and businesses of ATS and ATC, on both an historical and prospective basis, and current industry, economic and market conditions. In evaluating ATS' and ATC's prospects and the terms of the ATC Merger, the ATS Board considered, among other things, the strengths and weaknesses of the two companies. Included in that consideration were the financial, accounting and computer systems and programs that ATC had available to it, the depth and quality of its employees, the location and clustering of its communications sites, and the identity of its stockholders. In this connection, management had prepared and presented to the ATS Board various financial projections with respect to ATS and had received comparable projections from ATC. Among the specific financial information considered were the following: (a) debt levels of the two companies anticipated to exist at the time of the merger and at December 31, 1998; (b) financial projections of the two companies with respect to operating cash flow for 1998 and fourth quarter of 1998; (c) revenue per tower information with respect to ATC; (d) a summary of ATC's acquisitions, including prices paid (and the then current multiples of annualized revenues) as compared to current annualized revenues and the multiple thereof represented by the purchase price; and (e) a summary of construction opportunities for ATC (potential and expected) and the likely customer or customers. One of the more significant factors in determining the relative value of the two companies was the fact that ATC was engaged exclusively in the ownership and operation of communications sites, an activity that was considered to command a higher multiple of operating cash flow than certain aspects of ATS' business (the site acquisition business and the voice, video and data transmission business).

Depending on the period measured, the multiple applied, and whether such multiple was, in the case of ATS, applied to its overall business or whether different multiples were used for the different aspects of ATS' business, the information considered by the ATS Board indicated a range of comparative values for the two companies. For example, based on applying the same multiples (ranging from 12 times to 15 times) to all aspects of ATS' business, the percentage allocable to ATC ranged from 36.4% to 31.7% annualizing estimated 1997 fourth quarter EBITDA, 31.2% to 28.0% using estimated 1998 EBITDA, and 31.8% to 29.7% annualizing estimated 1998 fourth quarter EBITDA. However, using blended multiples (17.2 times for tower rental business, 8.0 times for site acquisition business, and 6.0 for audio, video and data transmission business, which resulted in a "blended" rate for ATS of 14.0 times EBITDA), the percentage allocable to ATC was 42.5% (based on annualized 1997 fourth quarter EBITDA), 37.2% (based on estimated 1998 EBITDA), and 36.9% (based on annualized estimated 1998 fourth quarter EBITDA). When an 18.7 (rather than 17.2) multiple (resulting in a "blended" rate for ATS of 15.0 times EBITDA) was applied to tower rental business, ATC's percentage allocations were 41.4%, 36.4% and 36.4%, respectively.

Other Acquisition Information. The ATS Board also considered the historical prices that had been paid by it for other communications sites companies, although this was a factor of less importance given the fact that none of the prior acquisitions were of companies of a comparable size or state of development as ATC.

Management did not believe that the obtaining of a fairness opinion from an independent investment banking firm in connection with the ATC Merger was necessary. Management believed that it could evaluate and make a recommendation to the ATS Board with respect to the fairness of the ATC Merger, without the need of any such opinion. Among the factors leading to that conclusion were management's prior experience in acquiring other companies in the communications site industry, the extensive experience that management had over twenty years in buying and selling businesses in the cable and radio broadcasting industries, and the absence of any conflict of interest on the part of any member of management (and the fact that the one member of the ATS Board who had a conflict of interest abstained from participating in any of the negotiations of the terms and conditions of the ATC Merger).

ATC required, as conditions of consummation of the ATC Merger, that (i) the ATS Class A Common Stock be publicly traded and (ii) the ATC Merger occur on or prior to May 31, 1998. While management believes that the merger with CBS (which will result in such a public trading market) will be consummated prior to that time, since clearance of the Merger by the Justice Department under the HSR Act and FCC approval of the transfer of ARS' FCC licenses to CBS are not within the control of either ARS or CBS, ATC was not willing to enter into the ATC Merger Agreement unless an alternative means of creating such a public trading market was included. Accordingly, provisions were added to the ATC Merger Agreement and the Merger Agreement to provide for such separation through the Tower Merger, which could be effected on June 1, 1998, if the Merger has not been consummated on or prior to May 31, 1998. See "The Merger and Tower Separation--Tower Merger". Management believes that the merger with CBS will be consummated by such time and therefore intends to consummate the Tower Merger only if required to timely consummate the ATC Merger. However, in light of the adverse federal income tax consequences to the ARS common stockholders should the Tower Merger occur and the merger with CBS not occur, the ARS Board intends to evaluate all of the facts and circumstances existing at the time of any proposed consummation of the Tower Merger to determine whether it is in the best interests of the ARS common stockholders, notwithstanding such adverse tax consequences. In that connection, the ARS Board will also consider the provision of the ATC Merger Agreement which provides for a termination fee to ATC of $15.0 million (together with reimbursement of reasonable out-of-pocket expenses up to an aggregate of $1.0 million) in the event that such agreement is terminated because of the failure of either the Merger or the Tower Merger to occur on or prior to May 31, 1998. Such termination fee would be the sole and exclusive recourse of ATC in the event of any such termination. See "The Merger and Tower Separation--Certain Federal Income Tax Consequences of ATC Merger".

Consummation of the ATC Merger is also conditioned on, among other things, the expiration or earlier termination of the HSR Act waiting period. On January 28, 1998, the Justice Department issued a Second Request with respect to the ATC Merger. ATS and ATC are in the process of compiling the information requested by the Justice Department and intend to meet with its representatives to address any questions they may have regarding such information. (For information on the effects of a Second Request, see "The Merger and Tower Separation--Regulatory Matters--Antitrust".)

In light of the fact that ARS management would prefer not to consummate the Tower Merger (which would occur prior to the consummation of the Merger with the consequence of two publicly traded companies), the ATC Merger is not expected to be consummated prior to the spring of 1998, which is the anticipated timing for consummation of the Merger.

It is a condition of ATC's obligation to consummate the ATC Merger that Messrs. Dodge and Stoner shall have entered into a voting agreement with ATC and certain of the ATC common stockholders, pursuant to which Messrs. Dodge and Stoner will have agreed to vote in favor of the election of each of Messrs. Lummis and Mays (or any other nominee of Mr. Lummis and Clear Channel reasonably acceptable to the ATS Board) so long as Messrs. Lummis and Clear Channel (or their respective affiliates), as the case may be, hold at least 50% of the shares of ATS Class A Common Stock to be received by him or it, as the case may be, in the ATC Merger.

Chase Manhattan Capital Corporation ("Chase Capital"), which is an affiliate of Chase Equity Associates, a stockholder of ARS, and of Mr. Chavkin, a director of ARS, owned approximately 18.1% of the ATC common stock as of February 1, 1998 and has a representative on the ATC Board of Directors. See "Principal Stockholders of American Tower Systems" below and "Principal Stockholders of American Tower Corporation" in Appendix V to this Information Statement/Prospectus. Summit Capital, Inc. ("Summit Capital") is entitled upon closing of the ATC Merger to receive from ATC a $2.25 million broker's fee. Fred Lummis, President and Chief Executive Officer of ATC, is an affiliate of Summit Capital.

The provisions of the ATC Merger Agreement are comparable to those customary in similar transactions, including without limitation (a) detailed, substantially identical representations and warranties of ATS and ATC; (b) covenants as to the interim conduct of the business of ATS and ATC (including the necessity of approval of the other party for acquisitions or construction commitments not therein disclosed and over certain specified amounts); (c) agreements of ATS to (i) indemnify the officers and directors of ATC and to maintain officer and director insurance for their benefit, (ii) maintain employment benefits for a period of one year for officers and employees of ATC, both on terms and conditions comparable to those which CBS has agreed to in the Merger Agreement, and (iii) continue the employment of ATC employees at existing salary levels for a period of one year; (d) closing conditions, (including (i) the delivery of customary closing opinions, (ii) the receipt of opinions of counsel as to the federal income tax consequences of the ATC Merger to the parties and, in the case of ATC, its stockholders, (iii) the election of Messrs. Lummis and Mays as directors of ATS; and (iv) the amendment of the ATS Restated Certificate to (A) prohibit future issuances of ATS Class B Common Stock (except upon exercise of then outstanding options and pursuant to stock dividends or stock splits), (B) limit transfers of the ATS Class B Common Stock, (C) limit Steven B. Dodge's voting power to 49.99%, (less the voting power represented by the shares of Class B Common Stock acquired by the Stoner purchasers pursuant to the ATS Private Placement and still owned by them), (D) provide for automatic conversion of the ATS Class B Common Stock to ATS Class A Common Stock should Mr. Dodge's aggregate voting power fall below either (i) 50% of his initial aggregate voting power (immediately after consummation of the ATC Merger) or (ii) 20% of the aggregate voting power of all shares of ATS Common Stock at the time outstanding, and (E) require consent of the holders of a majority of ATS Class A Common Stock for amendments adversely affecting the ATS Class A Common Stock; (e) the nonsolicitation of employees in the event of termination of the ATC Merger Agreement; (f) a termination fee of $15.0 million (together with reimbursement of reasonable out-of-pocket fees and expenses up to $1.0 million) payable to (i) ATS in the event that the ATC stockholders do not approve the ATC Merger Agreement, and (ii) ATC in the event that (A) neither the Merger nor the Tower Merger has occurred on or prior to May 31, 1998, or (B) if required, approval of the ATC Merger by the ARS common stockholders has not been obtained; and (g) the nonsurvival of the representations and warranties of both parties. The ATC Merger Agreement provides, among other conditions of consummation, that there shall not have been any event which shall have had a Material Adverse Effect (as defined in the ATC Merger Agreement) on ATS or ATC.

A copy of the ATC Merger Agreement has been filed as an exhibit to the registration statement of which this Information Statement/Prospectus is a part and will be furnished to any ARS common stockholder on request.

Other Transactions. ATS is negotiating and intends to pursue the acquisition of other communications sites and management and related businesses on a selective basis, although there are no definitive binding agreements with respect to any material transaction except as referred to above, and, accordingly, such transactions are not included in Recent Transactions. Neither the Recent Transactions nor any such acquisitions (unless they could delay consummation of the Merger for a period of more than 15 business days) will require the consent of CBS under the provisions of the Merger Agreement, although certain regulatory approvals may be required.

ATS Stock Purchase Agreement. In January 1998, American Tower Systems consummated the transactions contemplated by the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement, dated as of January 8, 1998, with Steven B. Dodge, Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer of ARS and ATS, and certain other officers and directors of ARS (or their affiliates, members of their families or family trusts), pursuant to which those persons purchased 8.0 million shares of ATS Common Stock at a purchase price of $10.00 per share for an aggregate purchase price of $80.0 million, including 4.0 million shares by Mr. Dodge for $40.0 million. See "The Merger and Tower Separation--ATS Stock Purchase Agreement".

SALES AND MARKETING

American Tower Systems' sales and marketing personnel target wireless carriers expanding their network capabilities as well as carriers entering new markets. ATS attempts to minimize hurdles to purchasing decisions by offering master license agreements which correspond to the internal requirements of wireless operators. ATS also offers standardized system pricing in areas in which it operates tower networks which enable potential customers to obtain pricing information for an entire service area rather than on a tower-by-tower basis. ATS believes customer satisfaction is the key to successful marketing and that referrals from its current customers are a primary source of new customers.

REGULATORY MATTERS

Federal Regulations. Both the FCC and the FAA regulate towers used for wireless communications transmitters and receivers and radio and television transmitters. Such regulations control the siting, lighting, marking and maintenance of towers and may, depending on the characteristics of the tower, require registration of tower facilities. Wireless communications devices operating on towers are separately regulated and independently licensed by the FCC based upon the regulation of the particular frequency used. In addition, the FCC also separately licenses and regulates television and radio broadcast stations operating on towers. Most proposals to construct new antenna structures or to modify existing antenna structures are reviewed by both the FCC and the FAA to ensure that a structure will not present a hazard to aircraft. Tower owners also may bear the responsibility for notifying the FAA of any tower lighting failures. ATS generally indemnifies its customers against any failure to comply with applicable standards. Failure to comply with applicable requirements may lead to civil penalties.

The introduction and development of digital television also may affect ATS and some of its largest customers. In addition, the structural and power requirements for DTV transmission facilities may necessitate the relocation of many currently co-located FM antennae. The construction and reconstruction of this substantial number of antenna structures presents a potentially significant state and local regulatory obstacle to the communications site industry. As a result, the FCC has solicited comments on whether, and in what circumstances, the FCC should preempt state and local zoning and land use laws and ordinances regulating the placement and construction of communications sites. There can be no assurance as to whether or when any such federal preemptive regulations may be promulgated or, if adopted, what form they might take, whether they would be more or less restrictive than existing state regulation, or whether the constitutionality of such regulation, if challenged, would be upheld.

Local Regulations. Local regulations include city and other local ordinances, zoning restrictions and restrictive covenants imposed by community developers. These regulations vary greatly, but typically require tower owners to obtain approval from local officials or community standards organizations prior to tower construction. Local regulations can delay or prevent new tower construction or site upgrade projects, thereby limiting ATS' ability to respond to customer demand. In addition, such regulations increase costs associated with new tower construction. There can be no assurance that existing regulatory policies will not adversely affect the timing or cost of new tower construction or that additional regulations will not be adopted which increase such delays or result in additional costs to ATS. Such factors could have a material adverse effect on ATS' financial condition or results of operations.

ENVIRONMENTAL MATTERS

Under various federal, state and local environmental laws, ordinances and regulations, an owner of real estate or a lessee conducting operations thereon may become liable for the costs of investigation, removal or remediation of soil and groundwater contaminated by certain hazardous substances or wastes. Certain of such laws impose cleanup responsibility and liability without regard to whether the owner or operator of the real estate or operations thereon knew of or was responsible for the contamination, and whether or not operations at the property have been discontinued or title to the property has been transferred. The owner or operator of contaminated real estate also may be subject to common law claims by third parties based on damages and costs resulting from off-site migration of the contamination. In connection with its former and current ownership or operation of its properties, ATS may be potentially liable for environmental costs such as those discussed above.

ATS believes it is in compliance in all material respects with all applicable material environmental laws. ATS has not received any written notice from any governmental authority or third party asserting, and is not otherwise aware of, any material environmental non-compliance, liability or claim relating to hazardous substances or wastes or material environmental laws. However, no assurance can be given (i) that there are no undetected environmental conditions for which ATS might be liable in the future or (ii) that future regulatory action, as well as compliance with future environmental laws, will not require ATS to incur costs that could have a material adverse effect on ATS' financial condition and results of operations.

COMPETITION

ATS' competes for antennae site customers with wireless carriers that own and operate their own tower networks and lease tower space to other carriers, site development companies that acquire space on existing towers for wireless providers and manage new tower construction, other national independent tower companies and traditional local independent tower operators. Wireless service providers that own and operate their own tower networks generally are substantially larger and have greater financial resources than ATS. ATS believes that tower location and capacity, price, quality of service and density within a geographic market historically have been and will continue to be the most significant competitive factors affecting owners, operators and managers of communications sites.

ATS competes for acquisition and new tower construction site opportunities with wireless service providers, site developers and other independent tower operating companies, as well as financial institutions. ATS believes that competition for acquisitions and tower construction sites will increase and that additional competitors will enter the tower market, certain of which may have greater financial resources than ATS.

PROPERTIES

ATS' interests in its communications sites are comprised of a variety of fee interests, leasehold interests created by long-term lease agreements, private easements, and easements, licenses or rights-of-way granted by government entities. In rural areas, a communications site typically consists of a three to five acre tract which supports towers, equipment shelters and guy wires to stabilize the structure. Less than 2,500 square feet are required for a self-supporting tower structure of the kind typically used in metropolitan areas. Land leases generally have twenty (20) to twenty-five (25) year terms, with three five-year renewals, or are for five-year terms with automatic renewals unless ATS otherwise specifies. Some land leases provide "trade-out" arrangements whereby ATS allows the landlord to use tower space in lieu of paying all or part of the land rent. As of September 30, 1997, giving effect as of such date to the Recent Transactions, ATS had more than 1,000 land leases. Pursuant to the Tower Loan Agreement, the senior lenders have liens on substantially all of the fee interests, leasehold interests and other assets of the Tower Operating Subsidiary which owns, directly or, in certain cases, through subsidiaries all of the assets of the consolidated group.

LEGAL PROCEEDINGS

ATS is occasionally involved in legal proceedings that arise in the ordinary course of business. While the outcome of these proceedings cannot be predicted with certainty, management does not expect any pending matters to have a material adverse effect on ATS' financial condition or results of operations.

EMPLOYEES

As of January 1, 1998, ATS employed approximately 140 full time individuals and considers its employee relations to be satisfactory. Such number does not include employees of companies included in Recent Transactions which had not then been consummated (such as ATC, Gearon and OPM) or members of the corporate administrative staff of ARS that may be employed by ATS upon consummation of the Merger. ATS estimates that on a pro forma basis, giving effect to consummation of all of the Recent Transactions and the Merger, it will have approximately 450 full time employees.

As of the consummation of the Merger (or the earlier consummation of the Tower Merger), the ATS Board will be expanded to include two "independent" directors. Although management has had discussions with certain persons concerning their willingness to serve as "independent" directors, no decisions or commitments have been made with respect to filling those positions. The two "independent" directors will be elected annually, commencing in the year following consummation of the Merger (or the earlier consummation of the Tower Merger), by the holders of ATS Class A Common Stock, voting as a separate class. All directors hold office until the annual meeting of the stockholders of ATS next following their election or until their successors are elected and qualified. Each executive officer is appointed annually and serves at the discretion of the ATS Board.

As a condition to the consummation of the ATC Merger, two nominees of ATC, Fred R. Lummis, Chairman of the Board, President and Chief Executive Officer of ATC, and Randall Mays, the Chief Financial Officer and Executive Vice President of Clear Channel, one of the principal stockholders of ATC, will be elected as directors of ATS, and Mr. Winn will resign as a director of ATS.

Steven B. Dodge is the Chairman, President and Chief Executive Officer of American Tower Systems. Mr. Dodge is also the Chairman of the Board, President and Chief Executive Officer of ARS, a position he has occupied since its founding on November 1, 1993. ARS completed its initial public offering in June 1995 at $16.50 per share of ARS Class A Common Stock. Mr. Dodge was the founder in 1988 of Atlantic Radio, L.P. ("Atlantic") which was one of the predecessor entities of American Radio. Prior to forming Atlantic, Mr. Dodge served as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of American Cablesystems Corporation ("American Cablesystems"), a cable television company he founded in 1978 and operated as a privately-held company until 1986 when it completed a public offering in which its stock was priced at $14.50 per share. American Cablesystems was merged into Continental Cablevision, Inc. in 1988 in a transaction valued at more than $750 million, or $46.50 per share. EXECUTIVE COMPENSATION

All of the executive officers of American Tower Systems are employees of and have been paid by ARS (or, in the case of Mr. Box, by EZ prior to the EZ Merger and in the case of Mr. Gearon, by Gearon prior to consummation of the Gearon Transaction) since the organization of ATS in 1995. During that period the highest paid executive officers, other than Mr. Dodge, who are employees of ATS, were Messrs. Box, Winn and Eisenstein. The compensation of each of those individuals (other than Mr. Eisenstein) was principally for acting as an executive officer of American Radio (or, in the case of Mr. Box, EZ prior to the EZ Merger) and, accordingly, information provided with respect to their executive compensation represents compensation paid by ARS (with the exception of Mr. Eisentein).

DIRECTOR COMPENSATION

As of the consummation of the Merger, the ATS Board will be expanded to include two independent directors. Such independent directors will be granted options to purchase 25,000 shares of common stock, which will be exercisable in 20% cumulative annual increments commencing one year from the date of grant and will expire at the end of ten years. The outside directors will also receive fees of $3,000 for each Board of Directors meeting attended and $1,000 for each committee meeting attended held apart from a board meeting and will be reimbursed for expenses.

STOCK OPTION INFORMATION

Effective November 5, 1997, ATS instituted the 1997 Stock Option Plan (the "Plan"), which is administered by the Compensation Committee of the ATS Board. The Plan was designed to encourage directors, consultants and key employees of American Tower Systems and its subsidiaries to continue their association with ATS by providing opportunities for such persons to participate in the ownership of American Tower Systems and in its future growth through the granting of stock options, which may be options designed to qualify as incentive stock options ("ISOs") within the meaning of Section 422 of the Code, or options not intended to qualify for any special tax treatment under the Code ("NQOs"). The Plan provides that ATS may not grant options to purchase more than 5,000,000 shares per year per participant.

The duration of the ISOs and NQOs granted under the Plan may be specified by the Compensation Committee pursuant to each respective option agreement, but in no event can any such option be exercisable after the expiration of ten (10) years after the date of grant. In the case of any employee who owns (or is considered under Section 424(d) of the Code as owning) stock possessing more than ten percent of the total combined voting power of all classes of stock of ATS, no ISO shall be exercisable after the expiration of five (5) years from the date such option is granted. The option pool under the Plan consists of an aggregate of 10,000,000 shares of ATS Common Stock, which may consist of shares of ATS Class A Common Stock, shares of ATS Class B Common Stock or some combination thereof. It is a condition to consummation of the ATC Merger that all future grants of options under the Plan must be to purchase shares of ATS Class A Common Stock.

In July 1996, Tower Operating Subsidiary adopted its 1996 Stock Option Plan (the "ATSI Plan") and, pursuant thereto, options were granted to various officers of ATSI (the "ATSI Subsidiary Options"). In connection with the Merger, those options to purchase the common stock of ATSI will be converted into options to acquire shares of ATS Class A Common Stock (the "ATS Options"). In addition, each option to purchase shares of ARS Common Stock (the "ARS Options") may be exchanged for ATS Options. Both the ATSI Options and the ARS Options may be exchanged in a manner that will preserve the spread in such ARS Options between the option exercise price and the fair market value of ARS Common Stock and the ratio of the spread to the exercise price prior to such conversion and, to the extent applicable, otherwise in conformity with the rules under Section 424(a) of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder. See "The Merger and Tower Merger--Certain Other Covenants--ARS Options".

During the year ended December 31, 1997 the only options granted pursuant to the ATSI Plan to the individuals referred to in "--Executive Compensation" above were to Mr. Eisenstein.

(a) Assuming the exchange of ATSI Options to purchase 20,000 shares at $7.00 per share for ATS Options.
(b) The potential realizable value at assumed annual rates of stock price appreciation for the option term of 5% and 10% would be $94,353 and $239,109, respectively. A 5% and 10% per year appreciation in stock price from $5.41 per share yields appreciation of $3.40 per share and $8.62 per share, respectively. The actual value, if any, Mr. Eisenstein may realize will depend on the excess of the stock price over the exercise price on the date the option is exercised, so that there is no assurance the value realized by an executive will be at or near the amounts reflected in this table.

The only unexercised options granted pursuant to the AISI Plan to the individuals referred to in the "--Executive Compensation" above were to Mr. Eisenstein .

NAME	NUMBER OF UNEXERCISED OPTIONS AT DECEMBER 31, 1997 EXERCISABLE(A)	UNEXERCISABLE	VALUE OF UNEXERCISED IN-THE-MONEY OPTIONS AT DECEMBER 31, 1997(B) EXERCISABLE	UNEXERCISABLE
James S. Eisenstein.....	116,472	188,576	$734,278	$1,165,061

(a) In 1996 Mr. Eisenstein was granted options pursuant to the ATSI Plan for an aggregate of 200,000 shares at $5.00 per share. Such options became exercisable to the extent of 80,000 shares on July 1, 1997 and become exercisable in 20% cumulative annual increments commencing on July 1, 1998, and expire September 9, 2006. Assuming the exchange of ATSI Options for ATS Options, Mr. Eisenstein will have options to purchase 277,316 shares of ATS Class A Common Stock at $3.61 per share, of which 110,926 shares will be exercisable. An additional ten-year option to purchase 20,000 shares of common stock of ATSI at $7.50 per share was granted to Mr. Eisenstein on January 2, 1997. Assuming the exchange of ATSI Options for ATS Options, this option will convert into options to purchase 27,732 of shares of ATS Class A Common Stock at $5.41 per share, of which 5,546 shares will be exercisable.
(b) The value of unexercised in-the-money options of Mr. Eisenstein at December 31, 1997, based on an assumed price of $10.00 per share was approximately $1,899,339.

In January 1998, the ATS Compensation Committee granted options to purchase shares of ATS Common Stock to the executive officers of ATS in the amounts shown (which will be increased by subsequent grants, contingent upon consummation of the ATC Merger, as shown in parenthesis). All existing options have an exercise price of $10.00, the price at which shares of ATS Common Stock were sold pursuant to the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement, are to purchase ATS Class A Common Stock (ATS Class B Common Stock in the case of Mr. Dodge's option to purchase 1,700,000 shares) and become exercisable in 20% cumulative annual increments commencing one year from the grant dates): Mr. Dodge--1,700,000 shares (an additional 1,300,000 shares); Mr. Box--120,000 shares (an additional 80,000 shares); Mr. Eisenstein--28,000 shares (an additional 22,000 shares); and Mr. Winn--275,000 shares (an additional 210,000 shares). Pursuant to options granted as a condition to consummation of the Gearon Transaction, Mr. Gearon received an option to purchase 234,451 shares of ATS Class A Common Stock at $13.00 per share, which also becomes exercisable in 20% cumulative annual increments.

The information set forth above does not include ARS Options held by Messrs. Dodge, Box, Eisenstein and Winn which, as explained elsewhere in this Information Statement/Prospectus, may be converted into options to purchase ATS Common Stock at the election of the optionee. Such individuals have indicated that they intend to elect to convert their ARS Options as follows: Mr. Dodge--290,000 shares; Mr. Box--options to purchase 100,000 shares; Mr. Eisenstein--options to purchase 40,000 shares; and Mr. Winn--options to purchase 285,000 shares; however, such indications are not binding on such individuals and they will not be required to make a definitive election until shortly before the consummation of the Tower Separation. See "The Merger and Tower Merger--Certain Covenants--ARS Options" and "Principal Stockholders of American Tower Systems".

Except as noted below, each holder has sole voting and investment power with respect to all shares of ATS Common Stock listed as owned by such person or entity. BACKGROUND OF THE MERGER

GENERAL BACKGROUND

The radio broadcasting industry has undergone significant changes in the last several years in anticipation and, after February 1996, as a consequence of a new regulatory structure. The passage of the Telecommunications Act of 1996 (the "Telecommunications Act") fundamentally altered the landscape in the radio broadcasting industry by dramatically expanding the number of radio stations that could be owned in a local market and eliminating all FCC restrictions on the number of stations that could be owned nationwide by a single entity. In anticipation of those changes, ARS began to pursue, and after such legislation was enacted pursued even more aggressively, the acquisition of additional radio stations in new and existing markets, in order to achieve, among other things, increased size and greater geographic diversification. ARS intended to increase its presence in these markets through further acquisitions, as well as to expand into new markets. ARS concentrated these efforts in markets ranked in the top 60 (with an emphasis on markets ranked 10 through 50) in terms of radio advertising revenues where management had believed it could have ultimately achieved a substantial market position. When evaluating acquisition opportunities in new markets, ARS assessed the potential to achieve a strong position in audience share and to generate significant cash flow growth through owning multiple stations and through improved programming, marketing, sales and operating efficiencies.

Commencing in the spring of 1997, ARS perceived a change in the nature of the consolidation taking place in the radio broadcasting industry with a shift from local or regional acquisitions to mergers between more substantial companies beginning to accelerate. As a consequence, ARS began to consider and evaluate possible strategic alternatives for ARS, including potential major transactions with third parties. In August 1997, American Radio announced that it was exploring ways to maximize stockholder value in the immediate future. On behalf of ARS, Credit Suisse First Boston contacted thirteen potential merger or acquisition candidates, eleven of whom were engaged in the radio broadcasting industry and two of which were leveraged buyout firms or financial companies. Of these thirteen, eleven signed confidentiality agreements and received an informational memorandum prepared by ARS. The informational memorandum contained detailed historical and projected financial information with respect to ARS' radio broadcasting business distribution of revenues by stations and markets, station rating information, "value" of "underdeveloped" stations, and historical and projected financial information with respect to the communications site business. Management consulted with Credit Suisse First Boston as to the companies to whom the informational memorandum should be sent, recognizing that such companies would need to have the financial resources to be able to consummate a transaction with ARS. The prospective bidders were advised to submit their best and final bid to ARS no later than September 19, 1997.

During the course of the due diligence which was conducted by the prospective bidders, ARS made clear to them that their bids were to relate solely to ARS' radio broadcasting business and not to the communications site business. The ARS Board had concluded that the separation of the communications site business through the distribution of ATS Common Stock to the ARS common stockholders would enable such stockholders to realize a greater value, in the long run, than if the communications site business had been offered for sale as part of the radio broadcasting business. The ARS Board based such belief on two principal groups of factors: (i) factors affecting the communications site industry, including that the communications site business was a new one as far as the market place was concerned, that there were no publicly traded communications site companies, and that the amount of information publicly available about such industry was limited, together with the ARS Board's knowledge with respect to the prices at which companies in the industry were being bought and sold; and (ii) factors affecting ATS, including that ATS was in the very early stages of development, that ATS was engaged in a major acquisition program only a portion of which had been completed, that ATS had not had the opportunity to consolidate its acquisitions and to begin to reap the benefits of such acquisition program, and that ATS' construction activities had been relatively minimal (compared to its projected program) and therefore the benefits of such program were in the future. See also the discussion below under "The Merger and Tower Separation--Reasons for the Tower Separation".

The principal alternatives to a cash sale of the radio broadcasting business to another radio broadcasting company considered by the ARS Board were (i) an acquisition by ARS of another radio broadcasting company, including one which might be larger than ARS, in which management of ARS would be the continuing management, (ii) a merger of ARS with another radio broadcasting company in which stock or other securities of the other company would be the principal consideration and in which management of the other company would be the continuing management, and (iii) a management cash buyout, financed by a leverage buyout firm or other financial institutions. All of the alternatives were ultimately rejected, some (the management leveraged buyout) earlier than others for the reasons explained in more detail below and which can be summarized as follows: (a) the ARS Board did not believe ARS had the capacity, either financially or, equally importantly from management's perspective, operationally to continue to operate effectively and grow a company which was engaged, to such a significant extent, in both the radio broadcasting business and the communications site business, and (b) the ARS Board's evaluation of the current and long term values of potential stock merger candidates.

On September 12, 1997, one of the prospective bidders, CBS, indicated that it was not willing to participate in a bidding process and that, if it had not negotiated and executed a definitive merger agreement prior to the time when bids were due, it would not submit a bid. No bids had been received by ARS at the time, although that fact was not revealed to CBS. ARS indicated that it was willing to enter into negotiations with CBS, but that it would not stop the bidding process unless and until a satisfactory merger agreement was executed by ARS and CBS. ARS' willingness to enter into negotiations with CBS was based on a number of factors: (i) its belief that CBS was the most likely (and probably the only) all cash purchaser; (ii) ARS' indication to CBS that it would not (and it did not) terminate the bidding process until after an agreement had been reached with CBS; and (iii) its belief (based on its knowledge of what the management of CBS with whom it was negotiating had done in other similar situations) that CBS was serious in its intention not to participate in the bidding process and its belief that it was essential that CBS not be eliminated as a potential purchaser. On September 15, 1997, CBS advised ARS that it was willing to pay $2.5 billion for ARS' radio broadcasting business, which amount included the assumption of all ARS indebtedness as well as the liquidation preference of the ARS Preferred Stock. Such amount resulted in a per share price for the ARS Common Stock of approximately $41.30. ARS indicated that such offer was inadequate and further negotiations ensued. An agreement in principle on a $2.6 billion overall or $44.00 per share price was reached on September 16, 1997. However, while an agreement in principle with respect to price had been reached, a number of material financial and legal issues remained to be resolved, CBS had not conducted its due diligence investigation and a definitive merger agreement remained to be negotiated. Thereafter, CBS conducted its due diligence and representatives of ARS and CBS negotiated the terms and conditions of the definitive merger agreement. Such negotiations were completed on September 19, 1997.

An informational meeting of the ARS Board took place by telephone conference on September 17, 1997, at which all of the directors other than Messrs. Kellar and Primis were present. Also in attendance were representatives of Credit Suisse First Boston, Sullivan & Worcester LLP, counsel for ARS ("Sullivan & Worcester") and Sullivan & Cromwell, counsel for Credit Suisse First Boston. Credit Suisse First Boston presented certain informational material and analyses (described in detail below under "--Opinion of Financial Advisor to American Radio"), including an overview of the transaction, the background to the offer, a list of the persons who had been furnished information concerning ARS and invited to participate in the bidding process, and the financial terms of the CBS offer. Also included in the material presented by Credit Suisse First Boston was its evaluation of the likely form (all or predominantly stock) of potential bids to be received by those companies that had indicated they were likely to submit a bid and the likely range of those bids, to the extent known by it. Among the matters reviewed by the directors were the market performance of the ARS Common Stock and trading statistics, and various valuation analyses. The nature of the CBS bid was discussed, including the risks associated with accepting or not accepting it before determining the results of the bidding process.

Mr. Dodge then explained in detail the reasons why he was recommending the sale of the radio broadcasting business at this time and why he favored the CBS proposal. Among Mr. Dodge's concerns were the high multiples at which radio companies were trading and his opinion that there were substantial risks that those multiples may not be sustained. In that regard, Mr. Dodge considered the factors that might cause such multiples to decline substantially, including the failure of a leading radio broadcaster to achieve expected results, an economic or stock market decline, and regulatory and technological factors. He also advised the directors that he was concerned, in light of the known discussions that were currently taking place among the larger companies in the industry, that, in the not too distant future, if ARS did not act promptly, the number of prospective bidders would be considerably smaller than at present (and that the antitrust and FCC regulatory problems most of such bidders would face in merging with ARS would have been exacerbated) and that perhaps none of them would be able to offer an all or predominantly cash transaction. Mr. Dodge also believed that once a "deal" had been reached with CBS, it would be consummated based on CBS' record of successfully closing large mergers and acquisitions. He then outlined the history of his negotiations with Mr. Mel Karmazin, who negotiated the transaction on behalf of CBS and who is the Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the CBS Stations Group. With the assistance of Credit Suisse First Boston, Mr. Dodge advised the ARS Board, based upon discussions between Mr. Dodge and one of the potential bidders and between representatives of Credit Suisse First Boston and certain of the other potential bidders, on the prospects of other bids, who might be making them, what form the consideration might take, and, if known, the amount of such bids, based on the respective current market prices per share of the potential bidders' common stock. In that connection, Mr. Dodge and representatives of Credit Suisse First Boston reported to the ARS Board that based on preliminary indications from potential bidders to date the ARS Board that it appeared likely that a maximum of three bids (other than the CBS offer) would be received, that all of those bids would likely be from other radio broadcasting companies, and that in two, or possibly three cases, the consideration to be offered would consist solely of common stock (with the possibility in one case of convertible preferred stock), and that while one bidder might possibly offer some cash, the amount was not likely to be significant in light of certain other transactions that that bidder had recently announced. The ARS Board was then advised as to the value of each of such bids, which in a majority of the cases was approximately the same as that of CBS (valuing such bids on the current trading levels per share of the bidders' common stock). The ARS Board then proceeded to consider at length the merits of the CBS offer and the potential other bids. Among the factors considered was the likelihood and timing of consummation of the CBS transaction compared to those of the other potential bidders. Mr. Dodge expressed the view that he believed a merger with CBS involved far fewer regulatory problems which could be resolved far quicker than those with two of the other potential bidders and that while the regulatory fit with the third bidder was somewhat more favorable than with CBS, he did not believe the difference was material or should be considered as an important factor. An extended discussion ensued on the comparative "value" of the CBS cash offer and those likely to be received from the other potential bidders. The ARS Board, with the assistance of Mr. Dodge, considered the management and reputation of the other bidders, the nature of their respective businesses, including in one case businesses other than the radio broadcasting business, and each potential bidder's ability to digest and operate a potentially much larger radio broadcasting business. After such discussion, the ARS Board tentatively concluded that it appeared to be in the best interests of the ARS common stockholders to pursue the CBS all cash offer, given the trading levels of the common stock of the other potential bidders, the market risks inherent therein, and its assessment of the prospects for the potential "stock" bidders.

A meeting of the ARS Board took place by telephone conference on September 18, 1997, at which all of the directors other than Mr. Peebler (who had indicated his approval of the proposed CBS transaction at the prior day's meeting) were present. Also in attendance were representatives of Credit Suisse First Boston, Sullivan & Worcester and Sullivan & Cromwell. The ARS Board reviewed the substance of the prior days' discussion and materials and then considered the basic terms of the proposed merger agreement, including both the financial and legal terms and conditions. Mr. Dodge also presented more current information concerning the prospects of bids from other parties, including the fact that the one potential bid that he had been aware of that was higher than the CBS offer was being substantially reduced. He also indicated that no bids had, in fact, been received. The directors were also advised in general terms of the proposed distribution to the ARS stockholders of the stock of ATS, although it was noted that many of the details of that transaction needed to be resolved and that a definitive proposal regarding the separation of ATS would be presented to the directors at a future meeting. Thereafter, the ARS Board unanimously approved the Merger with CBS pursuant to the Original Merger Agreement which had been presented to it.

On September 19, 1997, American Radio, CBS and CBS Sub executed and delivered the Original Merger Agreement. CBS requested that certain stockholders (who were, in most instances members of the ARS Board: Messrs. Box (and his wife), Buckley, Dodge, Kellar and Stoner (and certain members of his family or trusts for their benefit), and a partner of ARS' legal counsel, Sullivan & Worcester) execute and deliver consents, in accordance with the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL") and the proxy rules under the Exchange Act, approving and adopting the Original Merger Agreement and approving the Merger. As a result of such requests, holders of shares of ARS Common Stock representing a majority of the voting power of the shares of the ARS Common Stock entitled to vote with respect to the Original Merger Agreement executed and delivered such consents on September 19, 1997, thereby approving and adopting the Original Merger Agreement and approving the Merger. CBS advised ARS that its Board of Directors had approved the Original Merger Agreement on September 18, 1997. On September 18, 1997, ARS and Credit Suisse First Boston advised the other potential bidders of the agreement with CBS. No other bids had been or were thereafter received.

During the period from September to early December 1997, management considered various means of effecting the Tower Separation in order to increase the likelihood that the distribution of ATS Common Stock to the holders of ARS Common Stock would be treated as capital gains for federal income tax purposes. On December 10, 1997, the ARS Board approved the form of an Amended and Restated Agreement and Plan of Merger (referenced elsewhere herein as the "Merger Agreement") to provide for such means of effectuating the Tower Separation. On December 18, 1997, ARS, CBS and CBS Sub executed and delivered the Merger Agreement, a copy of which is included as Appendix II. As a result of the request of one of the ARS common stockholders, which was aware of the tax benefit to holders of ARS Common Stock of the new provision in the Merger Agreement, holders of ARS Common Stock representing a majority of the voting power of the shares of the ARS Common Stock entitled to vote with respect to such matters executed and delivered on December 19, 1997 written consents approving and adopting the Merger Agreement and the Tower Merger Agreement and approving the Merger and the Tower Merger, each on the respective terms set forth therein and in accordance with the DGCL.

On December 19, 1997, ARS, CBS and CBS Sub executed an amendment to the Merger Agreement reflecting ATS common stockholder approval and adoption of the Merger Agreement and approval of the Merger, changing all references to the term "Proxy Statement" to "Information Statement" and to the term "Tower Proxy Statement" to "Tower Information Statement", deleting the requirement that a meeting of ARS common stockholders be held to approve and adopt the Merger Agreement and the Tower Merger Agreement and approve the transactions contemplated by each of them, and acknowledging that the Merger Agreement amended and restated the Original Merger Agreement. The amendment also contained a representation and warranty of ARS to the effect that the stockholder consents constituted the Required Vote. A copy of such amendment is included as Appendix IIB to this Information Statement/Prospectus.

RECOMMENDATION OF THE ARS BOARD; ARS' REASONS FOR THE MERGER

The ARS Board believes that the Merger Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby are fair to, and in the best interests of, its common stockholders. Accordingly, the ARS Board unanimously recommended that the ARS common stockholders vote for the approval of the Merger Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby. The ARS Board, in reaching its conclusions, considered the factors discussed below. In view of the wide variety of factors considered in connection with the evaluation of the Merger, the ARS Board did not find it practicable, nor did it attempt, to quantify or otherwise to assign relative weights to the specific factors it considered in reaching its determinations.

Amount and Form of Merger Consideration. The ARS Board viewed favorably the price of $44.00 per share to be received by the holders of ARS Common Stock for their interest in the ARS radio broadcasting business. The ARS Board concluded that this price represented, in light of estimated value of ATS, a significant premium to the trading prices of ARS Class A Common Stock during the period prior to the announcement that ARS was exploring ways to maximize stockholder values. Also viewed as extremely favorable to the ARS common stockholders was the fact that CBS had offered an all cash transaction. The ARS Board was aware of the other potential bidders as a result of the due diligence process and concluded, after advice from Credit Suisse First Boston, that none of such potential bidders would be financially able to offer an all or principally cash transaction. Consideration was given to the mix of cash, if any, and securities and the nature of the securities likely to be offered by other bidders and how the intrinsic value of such securities compared to the ARS Common Stock.

Other Terms of the Merger Agreement. The ARS Board considered the legal and other financial terms of the Merger Agreement. The ARS Board gave consideration to, in addition to the amount and form of consideration offered to the ARS common stockholders (i.e., $44.00 cash) for their interest in the ARS radio broadcasting business, the provisions of the Merger Agreement that (i) the closing date adjustment provisions (which would not affect the $44.00 per share price but which would benefit or burden ATS); and (ii) permit the Tower Separation to be implemented on terms favorable to the holders of ARS Common Stock. Finally, the ARS Board considered the absence of any term or condition in the Merger Agreement that was unduly onerous or could materially impede or impair the consummation of the Merger.

Trading History of ARS Common Stock and Other Market Information. The ARS Board also considered historical market prices and trading volume of the ARS Class A Common Stock and historical and projected earnings, the premium CBS' offer represented over the historical trading prices of the ARS Class A Common Stock during the period prior to the announcement that ARS was exploring ways to maximize stockholder values, the market prices and financial data relating to companies engaged in similar businesses to ARS, and prices and premiums paid in recent acquisitions of similar companies.

Market Consolidation. In light of changes effected by the Telecommunications Act, ARS and other radio broadcasting companies have aggressively pursued the acquisition of additional radio stations. More recently, such acquisitions have taken the form of consolidation among larger companies and the ARS Board was aware that a number of possible further consolidations were being discussed. Management had advised the ARS Board that, in light of that phenomenon, ARS could not continue to rely solely on pursuing the acquisition of isolated stations or groups of stations, but would have to enter into a major transaction if it was to remain competitive. The ARS Board was concerned that were ARS to do nothing in the way of a merger with another large company, it might be left, in a relatively short period, with no potential or possibly only one merger candidate. Accordingly, it had retained Credit Suisse First Boston to seek possible merger candidates.

ARS' Business, Conditions and Prospects. In evaluating the terms of the Merger, the ARS Board reviewed, among other things, information with respect to the financial condition, results of operations and businesses of ARS, on both a historical and prospective basis, and current industry, economic and market conditions. In evaluating ARS' prospects and the terms of the Merger, the ARS Board considered, among other things, the strengths of ARS' radio broadcasting business, including the markets in which it operates, its management team, and the state of the development of its stations. The ARS Board also considered the current industry-specific challenges facing the business including, among other things, increased review by the Antitrust Division of acquisitions in local markets, increased capital requirements, and competition from larger and rapidly growing competitors established pursuant to the changes effected by the Telecommunications Act.

Opinion of Credit Suisse First Boston. The ARS Board considered as favorable to its determination the oral opinion delivered by Credit Suisse First Boston on September 17 and 18, 1997, subsequently confirmed in a written opinion to the ARS Board, dated September 19, 1997, that, as of such date, the $44.00 per share to be received by the holders of ARS Common Stock in the Merger for, in effect, their interest in the ARS radio broadcasting business was fair to such stockholders from a financial point of view. The ARS Board also considered the presentation made to it by Credit Suisse First Boston. See "--Opinion of Financial Advisor to American Radio". Although the Merger Agreement executed on December 18, 1997 changed the means by which the Tower Separation would be effected, it did not affect the amount of the aggregate cash consideration (which had been set forth in the Original Merger Agreement, as executed on September 19, 1997) to be received by holders of ARS Common Stock for their interest in ARS' radio broadcasting business. In connection with the adoption of the Merger Agreement, the ARS Board did not seek an updated fairness opinion from its financial advisor. The Credit Suisse First Boston Opinion obtained in connection with the Original Merger Agreement addressed the fairness of the consideration to be received for American's radio business and concluded that the $44.00 per share was fair from a financial point of view to the American common stockholders. See "--Opinion of Financial Advisor to American Radio" and Appendix III. The ARS Board determined that, with respect to the Merger Consideration, the Merger Agreement changed only the form of the Tower Separation and did not change the net economics of the Merger Consideration. Accordingly, it concluded that it would not be necessary to incur the expense of engaging Credit Suisse First Boston to re-issue its opinion in connection with such modifications to the Merger Agreement.

OPINION OF FINANCIAL ADVISOR TO AMERICAN RADIO

Credit Suisse First Boston was engaged by ARS to act as a financial advisor, including rendering a fairness opinion letter to the ARS Board in connection with the cash consideration in payment for ARS' radio broadcasting business to be received by the holders of ARS Common Stock in connection with the Merger (but not the distribution of ATS Common Stock as part of the Tower Separation). At the September 18, 1997 meeting of the ARS Board, Credit Suisse First Boston delivered its oral opinion to the ARS Board, subsequently confirmed in a written opinion (the "Credit Suisse First Boston Opinion") to the ARS Board on September 19, 1997 that, as of such date, the $44.00 per share of ARS Common Stock to be received by the ARS stockholders in the Merger for, in effect, their interest in the ARS radio broadcasting business was fair to such holders from a financial point of view.

The full text of the Credit Suisse First Boston Opinion, which sets forth the procedures followed, assumptions made, matters considered and limitations on the review undertaken, is attached hereto as Appendix III, is incorporated herein by reference and is included with the consent of Credit Suisse First Boston. ARS common stockholders are urged to, and should, read the Credit Suisse First Boston Opinion carefully and in its entirety. The Credit Suisse First Boston Opinion is directed to the ARS Board and relates only to the fairness of the Cash Consideration (in payment for ARS' radio broadcasting business) from a financial point of view. It does not address the distribution of ATS Common Stock as part of the Tower Separation or any other aspect of the Merger nor does it constitute a recommendation to any ARS stockholder with respect to the Merger. The summary of the Credit Suisse First Boston Opinion set forth below is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full text of such opinion.

In arriving at its opinion, Credit Suisse First Boston: (i) reviewed certain publicly available business and financial information relating to ARS, as well as the Merger Agreement; (ii) reviewed certain other information, including financial forecasts and pro forma financial information provided to it by ARS concerning ARS, after giving effect to a distribution by ARS of all of the capital stock of ATS or the net proceeds from the sale thereof to the ARS stockholders; (iii) discussed the business and prospects of ARS with management of ARS; (iv) considered certain financial and stock market data of ARS; (v) compared such data with similar data for other publicly held companies in similar businesses; (vi) considered the financial terms of certain other business combinations and other transactions which have recently been effected; and (vii) considered such other information, financial studies, analyses and investigations and financial, economic and market criteria as Credit Suisse First Boston deemed relevant.

In connection with its review, Credit Suisse First Boston did not assume any responsibility for independent verification of any of the information provided to or otherwise received by Credit Suisse First Boston and relied on its being complete and accurate in all material respects. With respect to the financial forecasts, Credit Suisse First Boston assumed that they had been reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the best currently available estimates and judgments of ARS' management as to the future financial performance of ARS. In addition, Credit Suisse First Boston was not requested to make, and did not make, an independent evaluation or appraisal of the assets or liabilities (contingent or otherwise) of ARS nor was Credit Suisse First Boston furnished with any such evaluations or appraisal. The Credit Suisse First Boston Opinion was necessarily based upon financial, economic, market and other conditions as they existed and could be evaluated on the date of its opinion. In connection with its engagement, Credit Suisse First Boston approached third parties to solicit indications of interest in a possible acquisition of ARS and held preliminary discussions with certain of such parties which discussions, at ARS' request, were not completed, prior to the date on which its opinion was rendered. Although Credit Suisse First Boston evaluated the Merger Consideration from a financial point of view, Credit Suisse First Boston was not requested to, and did not, recommend the specific consideration payable in the Merger. Interested stockholders are encouraged to review the Credit Suisse First Boston Opinion in its entirety.

In preparing its opinion to the ARS Board, Credit Suisse First Boston performed a variety of financial and comparative analyses, including those described below. The summary of Credit Suisse First Boston's analyses set forth below does not purport to be a complete description of the analyses underlying the Credit Suisse First Boston Opinion. The preparation of a fairness opinion is a complex analytic process involving various determinations as to the most appropriate and relevant methods of financial analyses and the application of those methods to the particular circumstances and, therefore, such an opinion is not readily susceptible to summary description. In arriving at its opinion, Credit Suisse First Boston made qualitative judgments as to the significance and relevance of each analysis and factor considered by it. Accordingly, Credit Suisse First Boston believes that its analyses must be considered as a whole and that selecting portions of its analyses and factors, without considering all analyses and factors, could create a misleading or incomplete view of the processes underlying such analyses and its opinion. In its analyses, Credit Suisse First Boston made numerous assumptions with respect to ARS, industry performance, general business, economic, market and financial conditions and other matters, many of which are beyond the control of ARS. No company, transaction or business used in such analyses as a comparison is identical to ARS or the Merger, nor is an evaluation of the results of such analyses entirely mathematical; rather, such analyses involve complex considerations and judgments concerning financial and operating characteristics and other factors that could affect the acquisition, public trading or other values of the companies, business segments or transactions being analyzed. The estimates contained in such analyses and the ranges of valuations resulting from any particular analysis are not necessarily indicative of actual values or predictive of future results or values, which may be significantly more or less favorable than those suggested by such analyses. In addition, analyses relating to the value of businesses or securities do not purport to be appraisals or to reflect the prices at which businesses or securities may actually be sold. Accordingly, such analyses and estimates are inherently subject to substantial uncertainty. Credit Suisse First Boston's opinion and financial analyses were only one of many factors considered by the ARS Board in its evaluation of the Merger and should not be viewed as determinative of the views of the ARS Board or management with respect to the Cash Consideration in payment for the interest in ARS' radio broadcasting business or the Merger.

The summary set forth below does not purport to be a complete description of the Credit Suisse First Boston Opinion or Credit Suisse First Boston's analysis related thereto. As used in the following discussion, ARS and American Radio refer only to American Radio's broadcasting assets and operations.

Premium to Unaffected Market Price. Credit Suisse First Boston analyzed the premium to market value of the $44.00 per share price to be received by holders of ARS Common Stock. Assigning a valuation of ATS of $9.00 (per share of ARS Common Stock), Credit Suisse First Boston computed the premiums to be paid over the ARS Class A Common Stock as follows: 35.5% over the $39.125 closing price on August 19, 1997 (the last unaffected trading price) and 6.3% over the $49.875 closing price on September 15, 1997. The price was also determined to provide a 221.2% premium over the June 9, 1995 initial public offering price of ARS of $16.50 and a 17.9% premium over the "unaffected" all-time high stock price of $44.938 (July 17, 1997).

Discounted Cash Flow Analysis. Credit Suisse First Boston performed a discounted cash flow analysis of the projected cash flow of ARS for the period 1997 through 2006 based in part upon certain operating and financial assumptions, forecasts and other information provided by the management of ARS. Using the financial information set forth by management, Credit Suisse First Boston calculated the estimated free cash flow based on forecast net revenues, cash flow margins and cash expenditures. Credit Suisse First Boston analyzed the financial information provided by management and discounted the stream of free cash flows provided in such forecast back to September 30, 1997 using discount rates ranging from 10.5% to 11.5%. To estimate the residual value of ARS at the end of the forecast, Credit Suisse First Boston applied a range of terminal multiples of 9.5x to 11.0x to the forecasted fiscal 2007 broadcast cash flow ("BCF") and discounted such value estimates back to September 30, 1997 using discount rates ranging from 10.5% and 11.5%. The range of discount rates was selected based on a variety of factors including analysis of the estimated cost of capital and capital structures for companies operating in businesses similar to that in which ARS operates, and the range of terminal year multiples was selected based on the trading multiples for such companies. Credit Suisse First Boston performed this analysis on three different cases. The first case was based upon management projections. Under this scenario, revenues grow at approximately 14.25% in 1997, and 1998 and revenue growth declines to 6.0% (industry average) by 2005. BCF grows at approximately 22% in 1998 and BCF growth declines to 9% by 2005. In the "Upside" case, revenue growth declines from 14.25% in 1998 to 7% by 2005 and BCF growth declines from 22% in 1998 to 10% by 2004. In the "Downside" case, revenue growth declines from 8% in 1998 to 6% in 1999 and BCF growth remains constant at 10%. Credit Suisse First Boston then summed the present values of the free cash flows and the present values of the residual value to derive a reference range of values for ARS of approximately $2.5 billion to $2.8 billion in the "Management" case, $2.6 billion to $2.875 billion in the Upside case and $2.05 billion to $2.25 billion in the "Downside" case. This reference range of values was then adjusted for non-operating assets and liabilities including (i) total debt and other liabilities of $1,045,622,289 (assuming conversion of the 7% Convertible Exchangeable Preferred Stock, par value $.01 per share, of ARS (the "ARS Convertible Preferred Stock") and pro forma for $62.5 million of debt to be spun off with ATS); and (ii) cash and cash equivalents of $53,557,000 (including $39,088,000 of option proceeds) (collectively the "Corporate Adjustments") and then divided by 36,697,241 fully diluted shares of ARS Common Stock (including 2,674,078 shares issuable upon exercise of options and 3,897,059 shares issuable upon conversion of the ARS Convertible Preferred Stock) outstanding to yield a valuation reference range for ARS of $41.09 to $49.27 per share in the Management case, $43.82 to $51.31 in the Upside case and $28.83 to $34.28 in the Downside case.

Comparable Company Analysis. Credit Suisse First Boston reviewed and compared certain actual and forecasted financial, operating and stock market information of ARS with selected publicly traded radio broadcasting companies considered by Credit Suisse First Boston to be reasonably comparable to ARS. These companies included Chancellor Media (pro forma for the merger of Chancellor Broadcasting Company and Evergreen Media Corporation), Clear Channel, Saga Communications, Jacor, Emmis Broadcasting, Cox Radio and Heftel Broadcasting Corporation (the "Comparable Companies"). Credit Suisse First Boston calculated a range of market multiples for the Comparable Companies by dividing the market capitalization (total common shares outstanding plus "in the money" exercisable options times the closing market price per share on September 15, 1997 plus latest reported total debt, capitalized leases, preferred stock and minority interest, minus cash and cash equivalents and option proceeds of each of the Comparable Companies), by such company's sales, BCF and operating cash flow ("OFC") for fiscal 1997 and 1998 on the basis of estimates of selected investment banking firms. This analysis indicated that the average fiscal 1997 multiples of sales, BCF and OCF for the Comparable Companies were 5.9x, 15.2x and 16.6x, respectively and that the average fiscal 1998 multiples of sales, BCF and OCF for the Comparable Companies were 5.1x, 12.4x and 13.5x, respectively. Prior to the announcement that American Radio had retained Credit Suisse First Boston, ARS traded in a range between 12.0x-13.0x forward year broadcasting cash flow, which is in-line, or slightly better than most of the Comparable Companies.

Comparable Acquisition Analysis. Credit Suisse First Boston analyzed the purchase prices and multiples paid or proposed to be paid in selected merger or acquisition transactions using publicly available information in the radio broadcasting industry which occurred over the last two years including: Capstar Broadcasting/SFX, Clear Channel/Paxson, Evergreen & Chancellor/Viacom, Evergreen/Chancellor, SFX/Secret, Jacor/Regent, Chancellor/Colfax, American Radio/EZ, Heftel & Clear Channel/Tichenor, CBS/Infinity, Clear Channel/Heftel, Cox/New City, Chancellor/OmniAmerica, Clear Channel/Equity Radio Partners, SFX/Multi-Market, ARS/Henry, Infinity/Granum, Jacor/Citicasters, SFX/Prism, Jacor/Noble, SFX/Liberty, Infinity/Alliance, Chancellor/ Shamrock, Evergreen/Pyramid and Capstar's acquisitions of Commodore Media, Osborn, Benchmark, Community Pacific, Madison, Knight Quality and Patterson (the "Comparable Transactions"). Credit Suisse First Boston selected these acquisitions based on the comparability of businesses conducted by the acquired company to that of ARS. Credit Suisse First Boston calculated the adjusted purchase price (purchase price plus total assumed debt less assumed cash) as a multiple of BCF for each acquired company.

Credit Suisse First Boston determined that the relevant ranges of multiples derived from the Comparable Transactions as they applied to ARS were 16.0x to 19.0x 1997 estimated BCF and 13.5x to 16.0x 1998 estimated BCF. Credit Suisse First Boston then calculated imputed valuation ranges of ARS by applying projected results for fiscal 1997 and 1998 to the multiples derived from its analysis of the Comparable Transactions. Using such information, Credit Suisse First Boston derived a reference range of values for ARS of $2.25 billion to $2.65 billion. This reference range of values was then adjusted for the Corporate Adjustments and then divided by 36,550,182 fully diluted shares of ARS Common Stock outstanding to yield a valuation reference range for ARS of $34.28 to $45.18 per share.

Credit Suisse First Boston also valued ARS based upon acquisition multiples appropriate for cash flowing stations, separating out non-cash flowing or under-performing stations and accounting for such stations on a "stick value" basis. Credit Suisse First Boston determined that the relevant ranges of multiples for cash flowing stations, derived from the Comparable Transactions, were 14.5x to 17.0x 1997 estimated BCF and 12.5x to 15.0x 1998 estimated BCF. Using such information, Credit Suisse First Boston derived a reference range of values for ARS of $2.3 billion to $2.675 billion, or $35.64 to $45.86 per share.

The ARS Board retained Credit Suisse First Boston based upon its experience and expertise. Credit Suisse First Boston is an internationally recognized investment banking and advisory firm. Credit Suisse First Boston, as part of its investment banking business, is continuously engaged in the valuation of businesses and securities in connection with mergers and acquisitions, negotiated underwritings, competitive biddings, secondary distributions of listed and unlisted securities, private placements and valuations for corporate and other purposes. Credit Suisse First Boston is a full-service securities firm engaged in securities trading and brokerage activities, as well as providing investment banking financing and financial advisory services. In the ordinary course of its trading and brokerage activities, Credit Suisse First Boston or its affiliates may at any time hold long or short positions, and may trade or otherwise effect transactions, for its own account or the accounts of customers, in securities or senior loans of ARS or CBS. In the past, Credit Suisse First Boston and its affiliates have provided financial services to ARS and have received customary fees for rendering these services.

Pursuant to a letter agreement dated as of August 20, 1997, ARS has agreed to pay Credit Suisse First Boston a fee of $7.0 million in consideration for its services. In addition to the foregoing compensation, ARS has agreed to reimburse Credit Suisse First Boston for its expenses, including reasonable fees and expenses of its counsel, and to indemnify Credit Suisse First Boston for liabilities and expenses arising out of its engagement and the transactions in connection therewith, including liabilities under federal securities laws.

The following is a brief summary of the material provisions of the Merger Agreement, a copy of which is attached as Appendix II to this Information Statement/Prospectus and is incorporated by reference herein. This summary is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full and complete text of the Merger Agreement. Capitalized terms used in this Section describing the provisions of the Merger Agreement which are not otherwise defined in this Information Statement/Prospectus shall have the meaning ascribed thereto in the Merger Agreement.

GENERAL

Subject to the terms and conditions of the Merger Agreement, the closing of the transactions contemplated thereby (the "Closing") will take place on the date (the "Closing Date") that is the second business day after the date on which all of the conditions set forth in the Merger Agreement, other than those which require the delivery of opinions or documents on the Closing Date, is fulfilled or waived, unless another date is agreed to by CBS and ARS. The Merger will become effective at the Effective Time, which will be the time at which a Certificate of Merger is filed with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware, or such later time as is specified in such Certificate of Merger. At such time, CBS Sub will be merged with and into ARS, with ARS continuing as the surviving corporation and a subsidiary of CBS. As a result of the Merger, American Tower Systems will become an independent, publicly owned corporation.

Upon consummation of the Merger, assuming the Tower Merger has not occurred, each holder of record of shares of ARS Common Stock at the Effective Time will receive for each share so held: (i) $44.00 per share in cash; and (ii) one share of ATS Common Stock, with such holders receiving the same class of ATS Common Stock as they owned of ARS Common Stock. Upon consummation of the Tower Merger, holders of ARS Common Stock will receive the same number and class of shares of ATS Common Stock as they would have received had the Merger been consummated at such time, in exchange for a portion of their ARS Common Stock. In such event, the amount of cash to be received per share of ARS Common Stock pursuant to the Merger will be increased in proportion to the reduction in the number of shares of ARS Common Stock outstanding following the Tower Merger so that each ARS common stockholder will receive the same aggregate amount of cash consideration pursuant to the Merger he or she would have received had the Tower Merger not occurred. The following table indicates how the foregoing provisions (which are those described below under "--Conversion of Securities") would operate to increase proportionately the amount of cash consideration to be received in the Merger if the Tower Merger (and related redemption of a portion of ARS Common Stock outstanding at the Tower Merger Effective Time) is effected prior the Merger. Numbers in the table have been rounded for ease of presentation.

ASSUMED CLOSING SALE PRICE OF ARS CLASS A COMMON STOCK ON NYSE AT TOWER MERGER EFFECTIVE TIME	ASSUMED VALUE OF ATS COMMON STOCK AT TOWER MERGER EFFECTIVE TIME	PERCENT OF SHARES OF ARS COMMON STOCK REDEEMED IN TOWER MERGER	ADJUSTED CASH CONSIDERATION IN MERGER (IN LIEU OF $44.00 PER SHARE)
$53.00	$ 9.00	17%	$53.00
$54.00	$10.00	18.5%	$53.99
$55.00	$11.00	20%	$55.00
$56.00	$12.00	21.4%	$55.98
$57.00	$13.00	22.8%	$56.99

For example, if the closing sale price per share of the ARS Class A Common Stock was $54.00 at the Tower Merger Effective Time, then a holder of 1,000 shares of ARS Class A Common Stock would then have the right to exchange such shares at the Tower Merger Effective Time for 815 shares of ARS Class A Common Stock and 1,000 shares of ATS Class A Common Stock. If the Merger is subsequently consummated, such holder would at the Effective Time have the right to receive $53.99 per share for his or her 815 shares of ARS Class A Common Stock (assuming such holder did not dispose of such shares in the interim). In summary, as a result of the Tower Merger followed by the Merger, such holder would have the right to receive 1,000 shares of ATS

Class A Common Stock and $44,000 in cash consideration ($53.99 multiplied by 815 shares). If the Tower Merger had not occurred prior to the Merger, then such holder at the Effective Time would receive 1,000 shares of ATS Class A Common Stock and $44,000 in cash ($44 per share multiplied by 1,000 shares). In the event the Tower Merger were consummated but the Merger were not, ARS common stockholders would continue to own their interests in American Radio and such interests, while represented by a reduced number of shares, would represent the same proportionate interests as existing immediately prior to the Tower Merger.

CONVERSION OF SECURITIES

Conversion of ARS Common Stock. Upon consummation of the Merger, each share of ARS Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time (other than Dissenting Shares) will be converted into the right to receive the following:

(a) in the event the Tower Merger has not occurred, (i) $44.00 in cash and (ii) one share of ATS Common Stock of the same class as the shares of ARS Common Stock surrendered (the "Tower Stock Consideration"); or

(b) in the event the Tower Merger has occurred, (i) an amount in cash determined by dividing $44.00 by the American Conversion Factor.

The term (i) "Cash Consideration" means (x) if the Tower Merger has not occurred, $44.00, and (y) if the Tower Merger has occurred, the amount of cash determined pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (b) preceding, and (ii) "American Conversion Fraction" means a fraction (x) the numerator of which is the difference between (A) the denominator and (B) the value (determined as set forth in the Merger Agreement) of one share of ATS Class A Common Stock immediately prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time, and (y) the denominator of which is the value (determined as set forth in the Merger Agreement) of one share of American Class A Common immediately prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time. The Merger Agreement provides that for purposes of determining the value of the American Class A Common and the ATS Class A Common Stock immediately prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time the following principles shall apply:

(x) each share of American Class A Common shall be valued at an amount equal to the average closing sales price of the American Class A Common on the NYSE, as reported by the Wall Street Journal, for the ten (10) consecutive trading days immediately preceding the second trading date prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time; and

(y) each share of ATS Class A Common Stock shall be valued at the amount determined in good faith by the ARS Board to be its fair market value immediately prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time.

The term "Merger Consideration" means the Cash Consideration and, if the Tower Merger Effective Time shall not have occurred, the Tower Stock Consideration.

Conversion of ARS Options. Upon consummation of the Merger, each ARS Option outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time will be canceled and the holders thereof will be entitled to receive (i) one share of ATS Class A Common Stock and (ii) the difference between $44.00 and the exercise price per share of the ARS Option so canceled, multiplied, in both cases, by the number of shares subject to such ARS Option. See "--Certain Other Covenants--ARS Options" for information concerning exchange of ARS Options held by ARS employees who will become ATS employees for options to acquire ATS Common Stock.

ARS Preferred Stock. Upon consummation of the Merger, each share of Preferred Stock, par value $.01 per share (the "ARS Preferred Stock"), issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time will remain issued and outstanding and will not be changed in any respect by the Merger, except that, in accordance with its terms, the ARS Convertible Preferred Stock will become convertible into cash and ATS Class A Common Stock.

CERTAIN FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES OF MERGER AND TOWER MERGER

The Internal Revenue Service (the "IRS") has not ruled directly on the tax status of the Merger or the Tower Merger, and no such ruling will be sought. Set forth below is a description of certain material federal income tax consequences of the Merger and the Tower Merger which would be applicable to holders of ARS Common Stock. Sullivan & Worcester, tax counsel to ARS, has rendered its opinion (a copy of which has been filed as an exhibit to the Registration Statement) that the discussion contained in this section describes the material federal income tax consequences of the Merger and the Tower Merger. There can, however, be no assurance that the IRS would agree with the conclusions discussed or refrain from challenging some or all of the described consequences. Except as otherwise expressly indicated, the following only describes certain tax consequences to United States persons (e.g., citizens or residents of the United States and domestic corporations) who hold shares of ARS Common Stock as capital assets. It does not discuss the tax consequences that might be relevant to holders of such stock who may be subject to special rules under the federal income tax law, such as life insurance companies, regulated investment companies, tax-exempt organizations, financial institutions, dealers in securities or foreign currency, persons that have a functional currency other than the U.S. dollar, persons who acquired ARS Common Stock or options to acquire such stock in connection with their employment, persons subject to alternative minimum tax or persons who hold ARS Common Stock as part of a straddle, hedging transaction or conversion transaction.

Tax Consequences to ARS and ATS. American Radio will recognize gain, but not loss, in an amount equal to the difference between the fair market value of the shares of ATS Common Stock distributed in the Merger (or, if applicable, the fair market value of the shares of ATS Common Stock distributed in the Tower Merger) and American Radio's basis in such shares. Pursuant to the Merger Agreement, ATS is obligated to indemnify and hold American Radio harmless, on an after-tax basis, from any tax liability imposed upon it in connection with the distribution of ATS Common Stock in the Merger (and, if applicable, the Tower Merger), or in connection with certain associated intercompany sales and transfers of property and assets between and among ATS and other affiliates of American Radio, in excess of $20.0 million. See "--ARS-ATS Separation Agreement" below.

Tax Consequences to Holders of ARS Common Stock in the Merger. The surrender of ARS Common Stock for cash and ATS Common Stock in the Merger will be treated as a sale of such stock. Each holder of ARS Common Stock will recognize capital gain or loss equal to the difference between (i) the amount of cash received and the fair market value of ATS Common Stock received, and (ii) the adjusted tax basis of the shares of ARS Common Stock surrendered. Any such capital gain or loss will be long-term capital gain or loss if, as of the effective date of the Merger, the holding period for such shares is more than one year. Amounts treated as long-term capital gain are subject to taxation at varying rates, depending among other things on the holding period of the property disposed of and the tax status of the holder. The holder's basis in any ATS Common Stock received will equal its fair market value on the date of the Merger, and the holder's holding period therein will commence on the following day.

It is possible that circumstances may delay consummation of the Merger beyond May 31, 1998 and that ATC would be unwilling to extend the termination date (May 31, 1998) set forth in the ATC Merger Agreement. Under such circumstances, management may determine to effect the Tower Merger. See "Business of American Tower Systems--Recent Transactions--ATC Merger". The discussion in the following section below will only be applicable should management determine to pursue the Tower Merger.

Tax Consequences to Holders of ARS Common Stock of the Tower Merger. The surrender in the Tower Merger of a number of shares of ARS Common Stock in exchange for a number of shares of ATS Common Stock (plus cash in lieu of fractional shares) will be treated as a redemption of such ARS Common Stock for an amount of consideration equal to the fair market value of any ATS Common Stock received plus any cash received. Such redemption will be treated as a sale or exchange of the surrendered ARS Common Stock in which gain or loss is recognized equal to the difference between the fair market value of any ATS Common Stock received plus any cash received and the holder's adjusted tax basis in the ARS Common Stock surrendered (with such gain or loss constituting long-term capital gain or loss if the holding period for the surrendered ARS Common Stock exceeded one year), provided the redemption (i) results in a "complete termination" of the holder's stock interest in ARS under section 302(b)(3) of the Code, (ii) is "substantially disproportionate" with respect to the holder under section 302(b)(2) of the Code, or (iii) is "not essentially equivalent to a dividend" with respect to the holder under section 302(b)(1) of the Code. A distribution to a holder is "not essentially equivalent to a dividend" if it results in a "meaningful reduction" in the holder's stock interest in ARS, but there cannot always be certainty as to when such a "meaningful reduction" has occurred because the applicable test is not based on numerical criteria. Satisfaction of the "complete termination" and "substantially disproportionate" exceptions is dependent upon compliance with the more objective tests set forth in sections 302(b)(3) and 302(b)(2) of the Code, respectively.

In determining whether any of the tests under sections 302(b)(1)-(3) of the Code have been met, the holder must take into account not only stock he actually owns, but also stock he constructively owns within the meaning of section 318 of the Code, and in addition, a redemption that is part of a firm and fixed integrated plan is to be tested under Code sections 302(b)(1)-(3) by taking into account all changes in proportionate stock ownership in ARS that occur as a result of such overall plan. Accordingly, assuming that the Merger is consummated, a holder of ARS Common Stock surrendering shares of ARS Common Stock in the Tower Merger should be treated as subsequently disposing of the balance of his shares of ARS Common Stock in the Merger (or selling or exchanging such shares in a sooner disposition) as part of a firm and fixed integrated plan for a "complete termination" of his interest in ARS or, alternatively, a "substantially disproportionate" reduction or "meaningful reduction" thereof. However, whether such a firm and fixed integrated plan exists is in part a question of fact, and accordingly counsel is unable to conclude with certainty that such a plan would be considered to exist if the Merger is ultimately consummated. If the Merger is ultimately not consummated, the Tower Merger would constitute a pro rata redemption of ARS Common Stock that, absent a holder's firm and fixed integrated plan to otherwise sell or exchange a sufficient amount of his remaining ARS Common Stock, would generally not affect a holder's proportionate ownership of ARS, and accordingly would not qualify for sale or exchange treatment under any of the tests under sections 302(b)(1)-(3) of the Code. Because of the absence of any definitive judicial precedent or regulatory provision, it is not at all clear that a holder's sale of remaining ARS Common Stock into the market, if the Merger is ultimately not consummated, would meet the standard of a firm and fixed integrated plan.

If the redemption is not treated as a sale or exchange to the holder of ARS Common Stock under the tests of sections 302(b)(1)-(3) of the Code, the redemption will be treated as a distribution in the amount of the fair market value of any ATS Common Stock received plus any cash received, which distribution will be taxable as ordinary dividend income to the extent of the holder's share of ARS' current or accumulated earnings and profits for federal income tax purposes. The holder's adjusted tax basis in the redeemed ARS Common Stock will be transferred to the holder's remaining stock holdings in ARS, and if the holder has no actual stock interest in ARS remaining (having only a constructive stock interest), the holder may lose such basis entirely. To the extent that the foregoing amount of the distribution exceeds the holder's share of ARS' current or accumulated earnings and profits, such distribution will be treated first as a return of capital that will be applied against and reduce the adjusted tax basis of the holder's remaining ARS Common Stock. Any remaining amount of the distribution after such basis has been reduced to zero will be taxed as capital gain and will be long-term capital gain if the holding period for the applicable ARS Common Stock exceeds one year. For purposes of determining ARS' current or accumulated earnings and profits for federal income tax purposes, the distribution of shares of ATS Common Stock in the Tower Merger is deemed to be a taxable sale by ARS of the shares of ATS Common Stock so distributed and will, therefore, increase such current earnings and profits to the extent that the value of the ATS Common Stock exceeds ARS' adjusted tax basis therein at the time of distribution. In addition, prior transactions that had the effect of causing ATS to cease to be a member of ARS' consolidated group (i.e., consummation of the Gearon Transaction and the transactions contemplated by the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement), also had the effect of triggering any previously deferred intercompany gains arising from transactions between ATS (or one of its subsidiaries) and certain members of the ARS consolidated group (including ATS and its subsidiaries). Such gains will increase ARS' current earnings and profits for federal income tax purposes. See "Unaudited Pro Forma Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements of American Tower Systems" for ARS' estimate of the tax payable by ATS as a result of gain likely to result as a consequence of such transactions.

Whether or not the tests of sections 302(b)(1)-(3) of the Code are satisfied in respect of ARS Common Stock surrendered in the Tower Merger, the holder's basis in any ATS Common Stock received will equal its fair market value on the date of the Tower Merger, and the holder's holding period therein will commence on the following day.

Amounts treated as long-term capital gain are subject to taxation at varying rates, depending among other things on the holding period of the property disposed of and the tax status of the holder.

Backup Withholding. Under the federal income tax backup withholding rules, unless an exemption applies, the Exchange Agent will be required to withhold, and will withhold, 31% of certain payments to which a holder of ARS Common Stock or other payee is entitled pursuant to the Merger (or the Tower Merger) and related transactions, unless the holder or other payee provides a tax identification number (social security number in the case of any individual, or employer identification number in the case of other ARS stockholders) and certifies under penalties of perjury that such number is correct. Each holder of ARS Common Stock, and, if applicable, each other payee, should complete and sign the substitute Form W-9 which will be included as part of the letter of transmittal to be returned to the Exchange Agent in order to provide the information and certification necessary to avoid backup withholding, unless an applicable exemption exists and is proved in a manner satisfactory to the Exchange Agent. Certain holders (including, among others, corporations) are not subject to these backup withholding requirements. Any amounts withheld will be allowed as a credit against the holder's federal income tax liability for such year.

HOLDERS OF ARS COMMON STOCK SHOULD CONSULT THEIR TAX ADVISORS AS TO THE PARTICULAR TAX CONSEQUENCES TO THEM OF THE MERGER AND TOWER MERGER, INCLUDING THE APPLICABILITY AND EFFECT OF ANY FEDERAL, STATE, LOCAL AND FOREIGN IN OTHER TAX LAWS.

CERTAIN FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES OF ATC MERGER

The following discussion summarizes certain federal income tax consequences of the ATC Merger, including certain consequences to holders of ATC Common Stock and ATC Preferred Stock who are citizens or residents of the United States and who hold their shares as capital assets. It does not discuss all aspects of federal income taxation that may be relevant to a particular holder of ATC Common Stock of ATC Preferred Stock in light of the holder's personal circumstances or special federal income tax treatment (such as foreign persons, insurance companies, regulated investment companies, dealers in securities, certain retirement plans, financial institutions, tax exempt organizations, persons subject to the alternative minimum tax, persons that have a functional currency other than the U.S. dollar, persons who have received ATC Common Stock or ATC Preferred Stock in connection with the performance of services or upon exercise of options received in connection with the performance of services, or persons who hold ATC Common Stock or ATC Preferred Stock as part of a straddle, hedging transaction or conversion transaction). In addition, this summary does not address any aspects of state, local, foreign or other tax laws that may be relevant to holders of ATC Common Stock or ATC Preferred Stock.

It is the policy of the IRS not to rule directly on the tax status of transactions such as the ATC Merger, and no such ruling will be sought. The obligations of ATS and ATC to effect the ATC Merger are each conditioned upon receipt by each from its counsel of an opinion dated as of the effective time of the ATC Merger, in form and substance reasonably satisfactory to it, regarding certain federal income tax consequences of the ATC Merger. Such opinions are required to be collectively substantially to the effect that for federal income tax purposes the ATC Merger constitutes a reorganization within the meaning of section 368 of the Code, that no gain or loss will be recognized by ATS or ATC as a result of the ATC Merger and that no gain or loss will be recognized by United States holders of ATC Common Stock as a result of the ATC Merger, except that gain or loss will be recognized in respect of cash received in lieu of a fractional share of ATS Common Stock. In rendering their opinions, counsel will rely upon, and assume the factual accuracy of, representations of ATS, ATC, and certain holders of ATC Common Stock, including a representation that there is no plan or intent on the part of the holders of ATC Common Stock receiving ATS Common Stock to engage in a sale or other disposition of such stock that would result in the reduction of the ownership of shares of ATS Common Stock received by the holders of ATC Common Stock in the ATC Merger to a number of shares having a value as of the Effective Time less than 50% of the aggregate fair market value of all the outstanding shares of ATC Common Stock and ATC Preferred Stock at such time. Such opinions are not binding on the IRS and would not, in any event, prevent the IRS from challenging the tax-free nature of the ATC Merger under the Code.

The following discussion is a general summary of the material United States federal income tax consequences of the ATC Merger and assumes that the ATC Merger will qualify as a tax-free reorganization within the meaning of section 368 of the Code. Sullivan & Worcester, tax counsel to ATS, has rendered its opinion (a copy of which has been filed as an exhibit to the Registration Statement) that the discussion contained in this section describes the material federal income tax consequences of the ATC Merger. The discussion is based upon the Code, regulations proposed or promulgated thereunder, judicial precedent relating thereto, and current rulings and administrative practice of the IRS, in each case as in effect as of the date hereof, all of which are subject to change at any time, possibly with retroactive effect.

Tax Consequences to ATS and ATC. No gain or loss will be recognized for federal income tax purposes by ATS or ATC as a consequence of the ATC Merger.

Tax Consequences to Holders of ATC Common Stock. Except to the extent of cash received in lieu of fractional shares (discussed below), no gain or loss will be recognized by a holder of ATC Common Stock who receives ATS Common Stock pursuant to the ATC Merger. Except to the extent of tax basis allocable to cash received in lieu of fractional shares (discussed below), the tax basis of the ATS Common Stock received by a holder of ATC Common Stock will be the same as the aggregate tax basis of the ATC Common Stock surrendered therefor. The holding period of the ATS Common Stock received will include the holding period of the ATC Common Stock surrendered therefor.

Cash received by a holder of ATC Common Stock in lieu of a fractional share interest in ATS Common Stock will be treated as received in exchange for such fractional share interest, and gain or loss will be recognized for federal income tax purposes, measured by the difference between the amount of cash received and the portion of the basis of the ATC Common Stock allocable to such fractional share interest (measured as though such fractional share interest were actually issued and allocated tax basis pursuant to the above allocation). Such gain or loss would be capital gain or loss, and will be long-term if such share of ATC Common Stock had been held for more than one year at the effective time of the ATC Merger. Amounts treated as long-term capital gain are subject to taxation of varying rates, depending among other things on the holding period of the property disposed of and the tax status of the holder.

Notwithstanding the above, because ATC is a "United States real property holding corporation" as defined in section 897 of the Code, certain U.S. flow-through entities such as partnerships, trusts, and estates may have a tax withholding liability under Section 1445 of the Code in respect of the gain realized on their ATC Common Stock in the ATC Merger that is allocable to such flow-through entity's foreign partners or beneficiaries.

Tax Consequences to Holders of ATC Preferred Stock. The treatment accorded to the exchange of ATC Preferred Stock for cash pursuant to the ATC Merger can only be determined on the basis of the particular facts of each holder of ATC Preferred Stock. In general, a holder of ATC Preferred Stock will recognize gain (but not loss) measured by the difference between the amount of cash received by the holder for its ATC Preferred Stock pursuant to the ATC Merger and such holder's adjusted tax basis in the ATC Preferred Stock surrendered. Such recognized gain will be capital gain if the exchange is "not essentially equivalent to a dividend" with respect to the holder under section 302(b)(1) of the Code, and will be taxed as a dividend distribution otherwise to the extent of such holder's share of ATC's earnings and profits for federal income tax purposes. In determining whether or not the exchange is "not essentially equivalent to a dividend" each holder's ownership of ATS Common Stock following the ATC Merger, as well as any options to acquire any ATS Common Stock, must be taken into account. A holder of ATS Preferred Stock must also take into account for these purposes ATS Common Stock that is considered to be owned by such holder by reason of the constructive ownership rules set forth in section 318 of the Code.

If a holder of ATC Preferred Stock owns (actually or constructively) only an insubstantial percentage of the outstanding ATS Common Stock following the ATC Merger, it is probable that the exchange of the ATC Preferred Stock for cash pursuant to the ATC Merger will be considered "not essentially equivalent to a dividend," and hence that the recognized gain from such disposition will constitute capital gain. Such capital gain will constitute long-term capital gain if the holder's holding period in the ATC Preferred Stock surrendered exceeds one year. Amounts treated as long-term capital gain are subject to taxation at varying rates, depending among other things on the holding period of the property disposed of and the tax status of the holder.

Backup and FIRPTA Withholding. Under the Code, a holder of ATC Common Stock or ATC Preferred Stock may be subject, under certain circumstances, to back-up withholding at a 31% rate with respect to the amount of cash received pursuant to the ATC Merger unless such holder provides to the exchange agent proof of an applicable exemption or a correct taxpayer identification number, and otherwise complies with applicable requirements of the back-up withholding rules to be described in more detail in the exchange transmittal documents. In addition, because ATC is a "United States real property holding corporation" as defined in section 897 of the Code, the total consideration otherwise issuable to a holder of ATC Common Stock or ATC Preferred Stock pursuant to the ATC Merger will be subject to withholding of 10% of such total amount, unless prior to the effective time of the ATC Merger and pursuant to instructions to be mailed to holders of ATC Common Stock and ATC Preferred Stock prior to such effective time, such holder certifies to ATS under penalties of perjury that the holder is a citizen or resident of the United States, a domestic corporation, a domestic partnership, or other United States person as defined in Code section 7701(a)(30), and provides such other customary information as may be required in connection with such certification. Amounts withheld under the foregoing withholding rules are not an additional tax and may be refunded or credited against the holder's federal income tax liability, provided that the required information is furnished to the IRS.

HOLDERS OF ATC COMMON STOCK OR ATC PREFERRED STOCK SHOULD CONSULT THEIR TAX ADVISORS AS TO THE PARTICULAR TAX CONSEQUENCES TO THEM OF THE ATC MERGER, INCLUDING THE APPLICABILITY AND EFFECT OF ANY FEDERAL, STATE, LOCAL AND FOREIGN INCOME AND OTHER TAX LAWS.

THE FOREGOING TWO SECTIONS ARE A SUMMARY DESCRIPTION OF MATERIAL FEDERAL INCOME TAX CONSEQUENCES OF THE MERGER, THE TOWER MERGER, THE ATC MERGER AND RELATED TRANSACTIONS, WITHOUT CONSIDERATION OF THE PARTICULAR FACTS AND CIRCUMSTANCES OF ANY HOLDER OF ARS COMMON STOCK OR ATS COMMON STOCK. IN ADDITION, IT DOES NOT ADDRESS THE STATE, LOCAL OR FOREIGN TAX ASPECTS OF THE MERGER, THE TOWER MERGER, THE ATC MERGER AND RELATED TRANSACTIONS. THE DISCUSSION IS BASED ON CURRENTLY EXISTING PROVISIONS OF THE CODE, EXISTING AND PROPOSED TREASURY REGULATIONS THEREUNDER AND CURRENT ADMINISTRATIVE RULINGS AND COURT DECISIONS. ALL OF THE FOREGOING ARE SUBJECT TO CHANGE AND ANY SUCH CHANGE COULD AFFECT THE CONTINUING VALIDITY OF THE DISCUSSION.

EXCHANGE PROCEDURES

As soon as reasonably practicable after the Effective Time (and the Tower Merger Effective Time, as applicable), an exchange agent (the "Exchange Agent") selected by CBS and not reasonably disapproved of by ARS, will mail to each holder of record of a certificate or certificates which immediately prior to the Effective Time evidenced outstanding shares of ARS Common Stock (the "Certificates") (i) a letter of transmittal and (ii) instructions for use in effecting the surrender of the Certificates in exchange for the Merger Consideration

(or the Tower Merger Consideration) to which such holder is entitled. Such letter of transmittal and instructions will be available at the Closing for holders of ARS Common Stock. The amount of the cash to be paid to the holder of Certificates shall be in the form of a wire transfer of immediately available funds if so requested by any holder entitled to receive not less than $500,000 in cash, and the cost of such wire transfers shall be borne by ARS.

Upon surrender of an ARS Certificate for cancellation to the Exchange Agent, together with the letter of transmittal, duly executed, and such other documents as ARS or the Exchange Agent may reasonably request, the holder of such ARS Certificate will be entitled to receive in exchange therefor, the Merger Consideration (or the Tower Merger Consideration) that such holder has the right to receive (in each case less the amount of any required withholding taxes, if any), and the Certificate so surrendered shall forthwith be canceled. Until surrendered, each Certificate will, at any time after the consummation of the Merger, represent only the right to receive the Merger Consideration (or the Tower Merger Consideration) with respect to the shares of ARS Common Stock formerly represented thereby.

HOLDERS OF ARS COMMON STOCK SHOULD SEND CERTIFICATES TO THE EXCHANGE AGENT ONLY AFTER THEY RECEIVE, AND IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE INSTRUCTIONS ACCOMPANYING, THE LETTER OF TRANSMITTAL.

No dividends or other distributions declared after the Effective Time on ATS Common Stock will be paid with respect to any shares of ATS Common Stock represented by a Certificate until such Certificate is surrendered for exchange in accordance with the procedures described above.

REASONS FOR THE TOWER SEPARATION

The Tower Separation has been designed to separate American Radio's interests in the communications site business from its interests in the radio broadcasting business. Management had concluded that the continued combination of the radio broadcasting business and the communications site business was not, in the long run, in the best interests of the ARS common stockholders. Among the factors leading to such conclusion was that such businesses are in management's judgment fundamentally different and require different management skills. Management's experience in talking to investors and industry analysts confirmed its judgment that the market place had difficulty in evaluating the ARS Common Stock given the disparity in the development stages and potential of ARS' two businesses. Management believes and the ARS Board has concluded that the separation of ARS' communications site business through the distribution of ATS Common Stock to the holders of shares of ARS Common Stock will enable such stockholders to realize a greater value, in the long run, than if such business had been offered for sale at this time, whether as part of the radio broadcasting business or separately. Such belief was based on two groups of factors: (i) factors affecting the industry, including that the communications site business was a new one as far as the market place was concerned, that there were no publicly traded communications site companies, and that the amount of information publicly available about such industry was limited, together with the ARS Board's knowledge as to the prices at which companies in the industry were being bought and sold; and (ii) factors affecting ATS, including that ATS was in the very early stages of development, that ATS was engaged in a major acquisition program only a portion of which had been completed, that ATS had not had the opportunity to consolidate its acquisitions and to begin to reap the benefits of such acquisition program, and that ATS' construction activities had been relatively minimal (compared to its projected program) and therefore the benefits of such program were in the future.

The communications site business has grown substantially in recent years and, as a result, the joint valuation and operation of these businesses has, in management's opinion, become less desirable. ARS' management believed that, because of the relative size of ATS' business compared to ARS' business on a consolidated basis, the value of ATS had been largely overlooked by the investment community. The separation of the communications site business from its radio broadcasting business will, the ARS Board believes, enable the market to focus on the individual strengths of ATS and more accurately evaluate ATS' performance compared to other companies in that business. By allowing the market to establish a separate valuation for ATS, the Tower

Separation should, in management's opinion, result in an increase in the long-term value of the ARS current investment in ATS. The Tower Separation will also give the ARS common stockholders and other potential investors the opportunity to continue to retain an interest in the communications site business. As a separate, publicly traded company, ATS will also have increased flexibility to raise capital and effect acquisitions by issuing its own securities.

Finally, the separation of the communications site business from the radio broadcasting business will permit management of ATS to focus on the development and expansion of its business in a manner best suited to that business and its market, without concern for the objectives of, or competitive effect of such expansion on, ARS' radio broadcasting business. Management will be able to concentrate its efforts on responding to the operational characteristics and competitive dynamics of the communications site business, an industry which is undergoing dramatic change and expansion. ATS' management will be able to tailor its business strategies and capital investments to the specific requirements of that industry. Further, as an independent, publicly traded company, ATS will be able to design more effective incentive compensation programs for its management and employees by linking their compensation to the performance of ATS' business, as reflected in the stock market's evaluation of the ATS Common Stock, thereby enhancing ATS' ability to attract, motivate and retain high quality employees.

TOWER MERGER

If the Merger has not been consummated on or prior to May 31, 1998 (as such date may be extended by American Radio with the written consent of CBS, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned), on June 1, 1998 (or the date following the date, if any, to which the May 31, 1998 has been so extended), pursuant to the Merger Agreement and the Tower Merger Agreement, the ARS Board shall, in its sole discretion, elect to consummate or irrevocably abandon the Tower Merger. If consummated, the Tower Merger will involve the merger of ATS Merger Corporation, a Delaware corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary ARS ("ATS Mergercorp"), with and into ARS which will be the surviving corporation. Pursuant to the Tower Merger Agreement, a copy of which is included as Exhibit D as part of Appendix II, each share of ARS Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Tower Merger (the "Tower Merger Effective Time") will be converted into the right to receive:

(a) one share of ATS Common Stock, with (i) each share of American Class A Common being converted into the right to receive one share of ATS Class A Common Stock, (ii) each share of American Class B Common being converted into the right to receive one share of ATS Class B Common Stock, and (iii) each share of American Class C Common being converted into the right to receive one share of ATS Class C Common Stock (collectively, the "Tower Merger Tower Consideration"); and

(b) a fraction (the "American Conversion Fraction") of a share of ARS Common Stock of the same class as the class of ARS Common Stock being converted, (i) the numerator of which is the difference between (A) the denominator and (B) the value (as described above) of one share of ATS Class A Common Stock immediately prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time, and (ii) the denominator of which is the value (as described above) of one share of American Class A Common immediately prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time (collectively with the Tower Merger Tower Consideration, the "Tower Merger Consideration").

No certificates in respect of fractional shares of ARS Common Stock shall be issued in the Tower Merger, fractional shares otherwise so issuable shall be satisfied in cash as provided in the Tower Merger Agreement, and the certificates that immediately prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time represent outstanding shares of ARS Common Stock shall be deemed, without any action of the holders thereof, to represent (i) the number of shares of ARS Common Stock the holder thereof has the right to receive pursuant to paragraph (b) above, together with cash in lieu of fractional shares as provided in the Tower Merger Agreement and (ii) the Tower Merger Tower Consideration.

CERTIFICATE OF INCORPORATION AND BY-LAWS

The Certificate of Incorporation of ARS, as in effect immediately prior to the Effective Time, will be amended as of the Effective Time as read in its entirety as set forth in Exhibit A to the Merger Agreement and, as so amended, such Certificate of Incorporation, together with the certificates of designation for the ARS Cumulative Preferred Stock and the ARS Convertible Preferred Stock, will be the Certificate of Incorporation of the surviving corporation in the Merger until thereafter changed or amended as provided therein or by applicable law. Such amendment will not be deemed to affect in any manner the Certificate of Designation of (i) the ARS Cumulative Preferred Stock or (ii) the ARS Convertible Preferred Stock. The by-laws of ARS in effect at the Effective Time will be the by-laws of the surviving corporation in the Merger until amended in accordance with Applicable law and the organic documents of ARS.

The ATS Restated Certificate and the ATS by-laws are identical in all material respects to those of ARS except as follows:

(i) the authorized number of shares of preferred stock and common stock are greater in the case of ATS and there will be no preferred stock of ATS outstanding upon consummation of the Tower Separation (unless authorized and issued subsequent to the date hereof by the ATS Board);

(ii) dividends and other distributions of securities of Persons other than ATS (including its subsidiaries) can be made in the form of different classes of securities of such Persons in a manner designed to preserve the voting rights of the ATS common stockholders; such distributions are permitted by the ARS Restated Certificate of Incorporation only in the context of a merger or consolidation;

(iii) the ATS Class C Common Stock can be converted into ATS Class A Common Stock with the consent of the ATS Board; no such provision is contained in the ARS Restated Certificate of Incorporation;

(iv) the definition of "Transferred" in the ATS Restated Certificate of Incorporation has been clarified to provide that such term does not include the granting of a proxy or the entering into of a voting agreement, whether revocable or irrevocable, and whether generally or with respect to a specific issue or issues; such had been the intent of the provisions of the ARS Restated Certificate of Incorporation; and

(v) the provisions of the ATS Restated Certificate of Incorporation with respect to class voting by the ATS common stockholders has been clarified to provide that there is no such class vote, notwithstanding the provisions of Delaware law, with respect to increases or decreases in the authorized number of shares of any class; such had been the intent of the provisions of the ARS Restated Certificate of Incorporation.

In addition, in order to satisfy a condition to the consummation of the ATC Merger, if it is consummated, the ATS Restated Certificate will be amended to (a) prohibit future issuances of ATS Class B Common Stock (except upon exercise of then outstanding options and pursuant to stock dividends or stock splits), (b) limit transfers of ATS Class B Common Stock to a more narrow group than is provided in the ARS Restated Certificate of Incorporation, (c) limit Mr. Dodge's voting power to 49.99% (less the voting power represented by the shares of Class B Common Stock acquired by the Stoner purchasers pursuant to the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement and still owned by them), (d) provide for automatic conversion of the ATS Class B Common Stock to ATS Class A Common Stock should Mr. Dodge's aggregate voting power fall below either (i) 50% of his initial aggregate voting power (immediately after consummation of the ATC Merger) or (ii) 20% of the aggregate voting power of all shares of ATS Common Stock at the time outstanding, and (e) require consent of the holders of a majority of ATS Class A Common Stock for amendments adversely affecting the ATS Class A Common Stock.

DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS

From and after the Effective Time, until successors are duly elected or appointed and qualified, or upon their earlier resignation or removal, in accordance with applicable law and the organic documents of CBS Sub and ARS, as applicable, (a) the directors of CBS Sub at the Effective Time will be the directors of the surviving corporation, and (b) the officers of ARS at the Effective Time will be the officers of the surviving corporation, except that as explained elsewhere herein, Messrs. Dodge, Box, Winn and certain other ARS officers who will become ATS officers will resign from their positions with ARS.

ARS-ATS SEPARATION AGREEMENT

The Merger Agreement requires that American Radio and American Tower Systems enter into an agreement (the "ARS-ATS Separation Agreement") to provide for (i) the sharing of various liabilities and obligations, including without limitation those relating to the taxes payable by American Radio as a consequence of the Tower Separation, (ii) certain adjustments based on American Radio's working capital and indebtedness as of the Effective Time of the Merger, and (iii) the leasing of space to American Radio on certain of American Tower Systems' towers. The following is a brief summary of the material provisions of the Merger Agreement, a copy of which is attached as Appendix II to this Information Statement/Prospectus and is incorporated by reference herein, which are to be contained in the ARS-ATS Separation Agreement. This summary is qualified in its entirety by reference to the full and complete text of the Merger Agreement. Capitalized terms used in this Section describing the provisions of the Merger Agreement which are not otherwise defined in this Information Statement/Prospectus shall have the meaning prescribed therefor in the Merger Agreement.

Sharing of Tax and Other Consequences. With respect to the terms and conditions of the Tower Separation, including the sharing of the tax consequences thereof, the ARS-ATS Separation Agreement provides as follows:

(a) American Tower Systems is obligated to indemnify American Radio and its Subsidiaries (other than the Tower Subsidiaries, collectively the "ATS Group") harmless from and against any liabilities (other than income tax liabilities) to which American Radio or any of its Subsidiaries (other than the ATS Group) may be or become subject that relate to or arise from the assets, business, operations, debts or liabilities of the ATS Group, including without limitation (i) the assets to be transferred to American Tower Systems except certain leases listed in the Merger Agreement, (ii) liabilities (A) in connection with the distribution of the Tower Stock Consideration as part of the Tower Merger or the Merger, (B) relating to or arising from any agreement, arrangement or understanding (other than the Tower Documentation) entered into by American Radio, ATS or any member of the American Tower Group (x) for the benefit of any member of the American Tower Group, (y) in contemplation of the Tower Separation, or (z) with respect to the sale, assignment, transfer or other disposition of shares of ATS Common Stock, (C) relating to or arising from any untrue statement or alleged untrue statements of a material fact contained in this Information Statement/Prospectus, any proxy statement used in connection with any ARS stockholder meeting with respect to approval of the Tower Merger, the Registration Statement or in any document filed or required to be filed in connection with the Merger, or in any document filed or required to be filed by American or any member of the American Tower Group in connection with the preceding clause (B) or any omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, except with respect to information provided by or relating solely to American Radio (excluding ATS Mergercorp and the American Tower Group) which is contained in or expressly consistent with the Filed American SEC Documents or the American Form 10-Q for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 filed by American Radio with the Commission under the Exchange Act, or (D) in connection with any action or omission of any Tower Employee for the benefit of, including without limitation in furtherance of the business of, any member of the American Tower Group or in connection with or incident to such employee's duties and responsibilities as a Tower Employee, (iii) any economic impact related to or arising from the failure to obtain any government authorizations, private authorizations or other third party consents, or to make any governmental filings, necessary to consummate the Tower Separation, as the case may be, and (iv) the rental and related expenses for the relevant portion of the leased premises located at 116 Huntington Avenue, Boston Massachusetts in the event of the failure to obtain the landlord's consent to the assignment of the obligations relating to, or sublease of, such relevant portion of such premises.

(b) American Radio is obligated to indemnify the ATS Group harmless from and against any liabilities (other than income tax liabilities) to which the ATS Group may be or become subject that relate to or arise from the assets, business, operations, debts or liabilities of American Radio or its Subsidiaries (other than the ATS Group) whether arising prior to, concurrent with or after the Merger.

(c) The allocation of Tax liabilities and deconsolidation of American Radio and the ATS Group is to be made in accordance with the principles set forth in the ARS-ATS Separation Agreement, including without limitation that ATS is obligated to indemnify (and make whole on an after-tax basis) American for all Taxes imposed by any Taxing Authority on any member of the American Tax Group or on CBS as a result of or in connection with sale or transfer of assets to the American Tower Group pursuant to Section 6.17(f) of the Merger Agreement (or between members of the American Tax Group prior to the final transfer to a member of the American Tower Group or between members of the American Tower Group), the Merger, the Tower Merger, the Tower Separation, any other disposition of stock of ATS contemplated or permitted by the Merger Agreement, or the merger of ATS with any other Person as the case may be, including without limitation any Taxes on any gain to any member of the American Tax Group arising under Section 311 of the Code, any Taxes on any deferred gain to any member of the American Tax Group triggered as a result of or upon any such event, any gain attributable to any excess loss account triggered upon any such event, any Taxes arising as a result of the election or other transactions contemplated by clause 6.17(c)(xii) of the Merger Agreement, income or gain arising as a result of transactions described in Section 3.4(c) or the second sentence of Section 6.8(a) of the Merger Agreement, and gain on the conversion of ARS Convertible Preferred Stock into ATS Common Stock, and any transfer Taxes arising from any such event, all to the extent that the additional liability for such Taxes payable by the American Tax Group as a consequence of such events (on a "but for" basis) exceeds $20,000,000.

(d) The ARS-ATS Separation Agreement provides that a member of the ATS Group shall assume to the extent permitted by the landlord, the obligations under the lease of 116 Huntington Avenue, Boston, Massachusetts, with respect to the relevant portion of such leased premises.

(e) American Radio is obligated to transfer, or cause its Subsidiaries to transfer, to ATS the communications towers agreed upon by CBS and American Radio prior to the execution of the Merger Agreement (the "Transferred Towers"), and ATS is obligated to assume all of American Radio's and such Subsidiaries' obligations with respect to the Transferred Towers to the extent set forth in the ATS-ARS Separation Agreement.

(f) On the earlier to occur of the Merger or the Tower Merger, certain employees of American Radio (the "ATS Employees") are to be offered full-time employment by ATS or one of its Subsidiaries. If the Tower Separation occurs prior to the Closing Date, such employees shall continue to offer management services to American Radio and ATS is obligated to make such ATS Employees available to ARS to provide such services in order to enable ARS to fulfill its obligations under Section 6.10(i) of the Merger Agreement (i.e., conduct its business in the ordinary and usual course of business and consistent with past practice). For a period of eighteen (18) months following the consummation of the Tower Separation, members of the ATS Group shall not actively solicit or seek to hire any employees of American Radio or its Subsidiaries not engaged in the business of the ATS Group as of the date of the Merger Agreement, other than the ATS Employees, it being understood and agreed that such agreement shall not be deemed to prevent members of the ATS Group from placing general advertisements in publications or on the Internet or soliciting any such employee who (i) initiates employment discussions with a member of the ATS Group or (ii) is not employed by American Radio or CBS or any of their respective Subsidiaries on the date such a member first solicits such employee.

For a complete description of the material terms and conditions of the ARS-ATS Separation Agreement relating to the sharing of tax and other liabilities, see Section 6.17 of the Merger Agreement attached hereto as Appendix II.

The foregoing is a description of the rights and obligations of ARS and ATS in the event the Merger is consummated. Although the ARS-ATS Separation Agreement will be effective and operational upon consummation of the Tower Merger, in the event the Merger were not subsequently consummated, the ARS Board has reserved the right to alter the terms of that agreement to provide for a sharing of the rights and obligations in a manner that may be more or less favorable to ATS. Because the ARS Board believes that the Merger will be consummated, it has not made any determination of what the rights and obligations of ARS and ATS should be in the event it were not.

CLOSING DATE ADJUSTMENTS

The Merger Agreement also contains provisions (that are to be included in the ARS-ATS Separation Agreement) relating to adjustments of the amount required to be paid by CBS in the Merger, based on American Radio's working capital and indebtedness as of the Closing Date. Any such adjustments are required to be paid by or to ATS; they will not, in any event, affect the Merger Consideration payable to the holders of ARS Common Stock. With respect to such adjustments, the Merger Agreement provides, among other things, for an adjustment as follows:

(a) Subject to paragraph (c) below, if Closing Working Capital is less than (i) $60,000,000 in the event the Closing Date is on or prior to March 31, 1998 or (ii) $70,000,000 in the event the Closing Date is after March 31, 1998 (the "WC Amount"), then ATS shall, and if Closing Working Capital is greater than the WC Amount, CBS shall, owe the other the amount of such difference. The term "Working Capital" shall mean Current Assets minus Liabilities. The terms "Current Assets" and "Liabilities" shall mean the current assets and liabilities of the Post-Closing American Group calculated in accordance with GAAP, except that (i) outstanding principal amount of indebtedness and liquidation preference of preferred stock will be excluded, (ii) cash will be excluded, (iii) accruals for taxes will be included except that (A) tax liabilities which ATS is obligated to indemnify American Radio and its Subsidiaries (other than the American Tower Group) pursuant to the provisions of the Tower Documentation, and deferred income Tax assets and liabilities that exist or arise from differences in basis for Tax and financial reporting purposes attributable to acquisitions, exchanges and dispositions or attributable to depreciation and amortization shall not be taken into account, (B) Tax benefits arising from the exercise or cancellation of options between the date of the Original Merger Agreement and the Effective Time shall not be taken into account, and (C) accruals for taxes relating to acquisitions, exchanges or dispositions will be determined in accordance with ARS' past accounting practices, (iv) Current Assets will be increased by amount equal to the sum of (x) the amount derived by multiplying the Cash Consideration by the number of shares of ARS Common Stock held in its treasury as of the Effective Date and (y) the aggregate amount of the spread of $44.00 over the exercise price of each ARS Option outstanding on the date of the Original Merger Agreement terminated or canceled prior to the Effective Time or for which the holder has elected to receive an option to acquire ATS Common Stock in lieu thereof, less the tax benefit that would have been received with respect to the exercise of such options, (v) Current Assets will be (A) increased (if the number of shares of ARS Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the American Convertible Preferred Stock is fewer than 3,750,000 (or if the Tower Merger Effective Time shall have occurred, 3,750,000 multiplied by the American Conversion Fraction)) by an amount equal to the amount derived by multiplying the Cash Consideration by the excess of (I) 3,750,000 (or if the Tower Merger Effective Time shall have occurred, 3,750,000 multiplied by the American Conversion Fraction)) less (II) the number of shares of ARS Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the American Convertible Preferred Stock or (B) decreased (if the number of shares of ARS Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the American Convertible Preferred Stock is greater than 3,750,000 (or if the Tower Merger Effective Time shall have occurred, 3,750,000 multiplied by the American Conversion Fraction)) by an amount equal to the amount derived by multiplying the Cash Consideration by the excess of (I) the number of shares of ARS Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the American Convertible Preferred Stock less (II) 3,750,000 (or if the Tower Merger Effective Time shall have occurred, 3,750,000 multiplied by the American Conversion Fraction)) (vi) liabilities from the radio broadcasting rights contracts for St. Louis Rams games will be limited to $3,300,000, and (vii) amounts owed by American Tower to American pursuant to Section 9.3(c) shall be excluded from Current Assets and liabilities with respect to such amounts shall be excluded from Liabilities.

(b) Subject to paragraph (c) below, if Closing Net Debt is greater than the Debt Amount minus $50,419,000, minus cash received by the Post-Closing American Group in respect of options exercised between the date of the Original Merger Agreement and the Effective Time (the "CD Amount"), ATS shall, and if Closing Net Debt is less than the CD Amount, CBS shall, owe the other the amount of such difference. "Debt Amount" shall mean $1,066,721,000, subject to adjustment for the failure to consummate any of the Recent Transactions relating to American Radio and for the consummation of any other acquisitions or dispositions. The term "Net Debt" shall mean outstanding principal amount of indebtedness (including, without duplication, guarantees of indebtedness) plus outstanding liquidation preference of all preferred stock (other than the American Convertible Preferred Stock) minus cash.

(c) The amounts owed pursuant to the provisions of paragraphs (a) and (b) above shall be aggregated or netted, as appropriate (the resulting amount, the "Adjustment Amount"). In the event that the Adjustment Amount minus $10,000,000 is greater than $0 (the "Final Adjustment Amount"), the party that owes the Final Adjustment Amount will make payment by wire transfer of immediately available funds of the Final Adjustment Amount together with interest thereon at a rate of interest equal to the lesser of (i) 10% per annum and (ii) if ATS is being charged a rate of interest by a financial institution, such rate, but in no event lower than the prime rate as reported in the Wall Street Journal on the date of the Closing Statement becomes final and binding on the parties, calculated on the basis of the actual number of days elapsed divided by 365, from the date of the Effective Time to the date of actual payment.

(d) The scope of the disputes to be resolved by the Accounting Firm is limited to whether the Closing Statement was prepared in compliance with the requirements set forth above and the allocation of the costs of dispute resolution, and the Accounting Firm is not to make any other determination.

(e) During the period of time from and after the delivery of the Closing Statements to ATS through the date the Closing Statement becomes final and binding on CBS, ARS and the Tower Entity, CBS will cause the Post-Closing American Group to afford the Tower Entity and any accountants, counsel or financial advisors retained by the Tower Entity in connection with the adjustments described above reasonable access (with the right to make copies) during normal business hours to the books and records of the Post-Closing American Group to the extent relevant to the adjustments.

(f) Any adjustment pursuant to Section 6.18 of the Merger Agreement shall be taken into account in the calculation of Tax liability pursuant to Section 6.17(c) of the Merger Agreement, and any increase or decrease in the amount of Taxes that are reimbursable or indemnifiable by the ATS Group as a result of any such adjustment shall be treated as an adjustment to Taxes for purposes of Section 6.17(c) of the Merger Agreement.

See Section 6.18 of the Merger Agreement for a complete description of the Closing Date adjustments.

LEASE ARRANGEMENTS

In connection with the Tower Separation, CBS and ARS will agree on the definitive documentation ("Tower Leases") to be executed by ARS and ATS with respect to certain broadcasting towers ("Towers"). The markets in which such Towers are located and the annual "market price" for each antenna are set forth in Exhibit B to the Merger Agreement. Subject to certain exceptions, 14 of such Towers were owned or leased by ARS and in January 1998 became the property of ATS; the balance will be transferred by ARS to ATS prior to the Tower Separtion. Each of the Tower Leases contains or will contain standard and customary terms and conditions and CBS and ARS specifically agree to the inclusion of the following in each of the Tower Leases: (a) except for certain exceptions, each Tower Lease will be for a term of twenty (20) years with four (4) renewal periods of five (5) years each; each such renewal to be upon the same terms and conditions as the original Tower Lease; (b) Prior to the Effective Time, ARS will use its best efforts to extend the term of each lease ("Land Leases") to a minimum duration of twenty (20) years, inclusive of renewal periods, if any, and provide CBS with respect to the Towers subject to the extended Land Leases, tower leases with the equivalent benefits set forth in clauses (c), (d) and (e) and for a minimum duration of twenty (20) years ("Extended Tower Leases"). With respect to any such Land Lease that is not so extended (except with respect to the Land Lease for KBAY (FM) (formerly KUFX (FM)), Gilroy, California which present term of approximately eighteen (18) remaining years shall be deemed to satisfy the foregoing requirement of a minimum duration of twenty (20) years), ARS, ATS and CBS will negotiate in good faith to agree upon definitive documentation to provide CBS with respect to the Towers subject to such Land Leases, tower leases with the benefits equivalent of such Extended Tower Leases or mutually agreed to alternative arrangements providing equivalent value to CBS; (c) each Tower Lease will provide that no payments will be payable by CBS for a period of three (3) years from the Effective Time; for the next three (3) years the payments will be as follows: one-third (1/3) of the market price as set forth in Exhibit B to the Merger Agreement corresponding to each FM antenna (or AM/FM antenna) for year four (4); two-thirds (2/3) for year five (5) and full market price for year six (6); thereafter, for the balance of the term and any renewals thereof, the payments will be the market price, together with an annual increase every year, beginning for year seven (7), of the lesser of five percent (5%) or the Consumer Price Index for all Urban Consumers over the previous year's payments (except with respect to (KBAY (FM) (formerly KUFX (FM)), Gilroy, California and WNFT (AM), Boston, Massachusetts which such payments will begin at the Effective Time, with respect to CBS, and will begin on January 1, 1998 as between ARS and ATS). Notwithstanding the foregoing, CBS acknowledges that Tower Lease payments at the full "market price" indicated on Exhibit B to the Merger Agreement by ARS to ATS may commence upon such leases becoming the property of ATS and will continue until the Effective Time; (d) all expenses for taxes, insurance, maintenance and utilities in respect of each Tower shall be paid by ATS; and (e) ATS will assume the obligation and responsibility for complying with all applicable law with respect to the Towers.

REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES

The Merger Agreement contains certain customary representations and warranties relating to, among other things: (a) each of CBS' and ARS' organization and similar corporate matters; (b) ARS' capital structure; (c) the authorization, execution, delivery, performance and enforceability of the Merger Agreement with respect to CBS and ARS; (d) the financial statements and certain other documents filed by ARS with the Commission and the accuracy of the information contained therein; (e) the absence of undisclosed material litigation relating to ARS; (f) the absence of material adverse changes with respect to the business of ARS; (g) certain tax and employee benefit matters with respect to ARS; (h) the holding of FCC licenses and other governmental and private authorizations by CBS and ARS; (i) certain environmental and tax matters with respect to ARS; (j) the conduct by ARS of its business in the ordinary and usual course; (k) the absence of litigation or similar proceedings of CBS and ARS; and (l) that CBS will have sufficient funds to consummate the Merger. The Merger Agreement provides that the representations and warranties of the parties do not survive consummation of the Merger.

CERTAIN OTHER COVENANTS

The Merger Agreement contains certain customary covenants and agreements, including, without limitation, the following:

Certain Efforts; FCC and Antitrust Requirements. Pursuant to the Merger Agreement, each of ARS and CBS have agreed to use best efforts (x) to take, or cause to be taken, all actions and to do, or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or advisable under Applicable Law to consummate the Merger and the Tower Separation, and (y) to refrain from taking, or cause to be taken, any action and to refrain from doing or causing to be done, anything which could impede or impair the consummation of the Merger or the Tower Separation, including, in all cases, without limitation, using its best efforts (i) to prepare and file with the applicable Authorities as promptly as practicable after the execution of the Merger Agreement all requisite applications and amendments thereto, together with related information, data and exhibits, necessary to request issuance of orders approving the Merger by all such applicable Authorities, each of which is required to be obtained or become final in order to satisfy the condition applicable to it set forth in the Merger Agreement, (ii) to obtain all necessary or appropriate waivers, consents and approvals, (iii) to effect all necessary registrations, filings and submissions, (iv) to defend any suit, action or proceeding, whether judicial or administrative, challenging the Merger or any of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement, including seeking to lift any injunction or other legal bar to the Merger (and, in such case, to proceed with the Merger as expeditiously as possible), and (v) to obtain the satisfaction of the conditions specified in the Merger Agreement, including without limitation the securing of all authorizations, consents, waivers, modifications, orders and approvals set forth in the Merger Agreement relating to the FCC and the HSR Act.

ARS and CBS agree to use their best efforts to take such steps as may be necessary (i) diligently to prosecute the Applications and to prepare and file any further Applications or amendments as may be necessary to obtain the consent to the transfer of control to CBS of the licensees that will hold the FCC licenses for the ARS Brokered Stations that are expected to be acquired by ARS and (ii) to obtain the FCC Consents, including action by CBS, at its sole cost and expense (except as provided elsewhere in the Merger Agreement), to satisfy or cause to be removed all Divestiture Conditions, if any. The failure by ARS or CBS to use its best efforts to timely file or diligently prosecute its portion of any Application or, in the case of CBS, the failure to use its best efforts to make any Required Divestiture or otherwise satisfy or cause to be removed all Divestiture Conditions on or before the Termination Date, shall be a material breach by ARS or CBS, as the case may be, of the Merger Agreement. ARS agrees that any delay in prosecuting the Applications or obtaining the FCC Consents resulting from CBS' good faith negotiations, subject to Applicable Law, with the FCC, Antitrust Division or FTC with respect to the imposition of a Divestiture Condition shall not constitute a failure by CBS to use its best efforts diligently to prosecute the Applications or obtain the FCC Consents and so long as such negotiations do not interfere with satisfaction of all conditions to Closing prior to the Termination Date. If reconsideration or judicial review is sought with respect to any FCC Consent, ARS and CBS shall (promptly and with all due efforts) oppose such efforts to obtain reconsideration or judicial review.

Each of ARS and CBS has agreed to file all applications required under the HSR Act on a timely basis and to (i) use its best efforts to comply as expeditiously as possible with all lawful requests of the FTC or the Antitrust Division for additional information and documents and (ii) not extend any waiting period under the HSR Act or enter into any agreement with the FTC or the Antitrust Division not to consummate the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement, except with the prior written consent of the other; provided, however, that nothing shall limit the ability of CBS to extend the 20-day waiting period under the HSR Act following substantial compliance with any request for additional information that may be forthcoming, if such extension is reasonably necessary to allow the continuation of good faith negotiations intended to remove any objection to the transaction that the FTC or Antitrust Division may have asserted, and if such extension will expire not less than 30 days prior to the Termination Date.

Anything in the Merger Agreement, including without limitation Section 6.2(b), to the contrary notwithstanding, CBS is obligated to obtain the FCC Consents and clearances under the HSR Act and the grant of any waivers in connection therewith prior to the Termination Date unless the failure to obtain such FCC Consents, clearances and waivers is primarily the result of one or more Uncontrollable Events. For purposes of the Merger Agreement, the term "Uncontrollable Events" shall mean (i) acts or omissions on the part of ARS or any of its Subsidiaries in conducting its respective operations other than those relating to the number of ARS FCC Licenses or amount of revenues in a particular market, (ii) an unremedied or unwaived material breach by ARS of its obligations under the Merger Agreement, or (iii) any change in or enactment of Applicable Law by Congress and signed by the President and which (A) has the effect of decreasing the number of radio licenses which a Person may own nationally or locally or (B) materially and adversely relates to the concentration of radio licenses which a Person may own in a market, and as a result of the change or enactment referred to in either clause (A) or (B) above, CBS' performance of its obligations under the Merger Agreement would have a Material Adverse Effect on CBS' radio and television broadcasting business. CBS is obligated to file with the FCC, within sufficient time to permit timely grant of the Applications, applications for consent to assign or transfer, pursuant to trust arrangements satisfying the FCC's local multiple ownership rules and policies, such radio broadcast stations as CBS may designate, so that the radio broadcast stations of CBS and ARS not designated for such trust arrangements may be held by the Surviving Corporation (i.e., ARS) in compliance with the FCC's local multiple ownership rules and policies. CBS is obligated, to the extent necessary to obtain grant of the trust applications, thereafter promptly to file or cause to be filed any further applications (including applications to assign radio broadcast stations to third party purchasers for value) that may be required by the FCC. Notwithstanding the two preceding sentences, with regard to stations located in the San Jose market, the obligations of CBS to submit trust or sale applications shall be excused for such stations to the extent and for the duration of the period that CBS is unable to identify the stations to be placed in trust or sold because of the failure of ARS to notify CBS of the resolution of the Antitrust Division impediment impacting the ARS transactions pending in the San Jose market.

If CBS or any of its Affiliates receives an administrative or other order or notification relating to any violation or claimed violation of the rules and regulations of the FCC, or of any other Authority (including without limitation seeking or relating to a Divestiture Condition), that could affect CBS' ability to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby, or if CBS or any of its Affiliates should become aware of any fact relating to the qualifications of CBS or any of its Affiliates that reasonably could be expected to cause the FCC to withhold its consent to the assignment of the ARS FCC Licenses, CBS is required to promptly notify ARS thereof and use its best efforts, and take such steps as are necessary, in order to satisfy or remove the Divestiture Condition to enable the Closing to occur prior to the Termination Date. CBS has covenanted and agreed to keep ARS fully informed as to all matters concerning all Required Divestitures and promptly to notify ARS in writing of any and all significant developments relating thereto and ARS has agreed to do likewise with CBS.

CBS has acknowledged and agreed that certain of the ARS Stations and ARS Brokered Stations may file or have pending applications for renewal of their licenses during the time that an application for the FCC Consents is pending before the FCC. To the extent any such application for renewal may be filed or remain pending, CBS has agreed to amend the transferee's portion of any application for the FCC Consents and, as may be required, to amend any license renewal applications for all of the ARS Stations or ARS Brokered Stations, to confirm CBS' intention to consummate the Merger Agreement during the pendency of such license renewal application, and to agree to assume the consequences associated with succeeding to the place of ARS in such license renewal applications. The making of this statement shall not be deemed to limit or waive any other rights that CBS may otherwise have under the Merger Agreement.

CBS and ARS will cooperate with one another in the preparation, execution and filing of all Tax Returns, questionnaires, applications, or other documents regarding any real property transfer or gains, sales, use, transfer, value added, stock transfer and stamp Taxes, any transfer, recording, registration and other fees, and any similar Taxes which become payable in connection with the Merger that are required or permitted to be filed on or before the Closing Date.

Subject to Applicable Laws relating to the exchange of information, ARS and CBS have the right to review in advance, and to the extent practicable each will consult the other with respect to, all the information relating to ARS or CBS, as the case may be, and any of their respective Subsidiaries, that appear in any filing made with, or written materials submitted to, any Authority and/or other Person in connection with the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement. In exercising the foregoing right, each of ARS and CBS shall act reasonably and as promptly as practicable.

Conduct of Business. ARS has agreed that, during the period from September 19, 1997, until the Closing Date or earlier termination of the Merger Agreement, except as contemplated by the Merger Agreement, unless CBS shall otherwise consent in writing, ARS will and will cause its Subsidiaries, to:

(i) conduct their respective businesses in the ordinary and usual course of business and consistent with past practice;

(ii) not (A) amend or propose to amend their respective Organic Documents, (B) split, combine or reclassify (whether by stock dividend or otherwise) their outstanding capital stock or issue or authorize the issuance of any other securities in respect of, in lieu of, or in substitution for shares of its capital stock, or (C) declare, set aside or pay any dividend or distribution payable in cash, stock, property or otherwise, except for (x) the payment of dividends or the making of distributions by a direct or indirect wholly owned Subsidiary of ARS and (y) the payment of dividends on shares of the ARS Preferred Stock in accordance with their terms;

(iii) not issue, sell, pledge or dispose of, or agree to issue, sell, pledge or dispose of, any shares of ARS Stock, Convertible Securities or Option Securities, except that ARS may issue shares of ARS Common Stock upon conversion of Convertible Securities and exercise of Option Securities outstanding on the date of the Original Merger Agreement and in accordance with their then existing terms, including any adjustment to the conversion price of Convertible Securities as a result of the Tower Separation;

(iv) not (A) incur or become contingently liable with respect to any indebtedness other than (x) short-term borrowings not to exceed $25 million in the aggregate outstanding at any one time, (y) borrowings to finance pending acquisitions of certain radio stations and, pursuant to agreements in effect on the date of the Original Merger Agreement and (z) borrowings not to exceed $120 million to finance or acquire any shares of its capital stock, Convertible Securities or Option Securities, except pursuant to the conversion or exercise thereof, as the case may be, or except to the extent pursuant to the conversion or exercise thereof, as the case may be, or except to the extent required by the then existing terms thereof, (C) sell, lease, license, pledge, dispose of or encumber any properties or assets or sell any businesses other than pursuant to agreements in effect on the date of the Original Merger Agreement or Liens arising in accordance with the provisions of indebtedness in effect on such date and in accordance with their then existing terms, or (D) make any loans, advances or capital contributions to, or investments in, any other Person, other than to any direct or indirect wholly owned Subsidiary of ARS (other than the Tower Subsidiaries) and, except as provided in clause (z) above, or to officers and employees of ARS or any of its Subsidiaries for travel, business or relocation expenses in the ordinary course of business;

(v) use all reasonable efforts to preserve intact their respective business organizations and goodwill, keep available the services of their respective present officers and key employees, and preserve the goodwill and business relationships with customers and others having business relationships with them and not engage in any action, directly or indirectly, with the intent to adversely impact the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement;

(vi) confer on a regular and frequent basis with one or more representatives of CBS to report material operational matters and the general status of ongoing operations;

(vii) not adopt, enter into, amend or terminate any employment, severance, special pay arrangement with respect to termination of employment or other similar arrangements or agreements with any directors, officers or key employees;

(viii) maintain with financially responsible insurance companies insurance on their respective tangible assets and their respective businesses in such amounts and against such risks and losses as are consistent with past practice;

(ix) not make any Tax election that could reasonably be likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on ARS or settle or compromise any material income Tax liability;

(x) except in the ordinary course of business or except as would not reasonably be likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on ARS, not modify, amend or terminate any Material Agreement to which ARS or any Subsidiary is a party or waive, release or assign any material rights or claims thereunder;

(xi) not make any material change to its accounting methods, principles or practices, except as may be required by GAAP;

(xii) not acquire or agree to acquire (x) by merging or consolidating with, or by purchasing a substantial portion of the assets of, or by any other manner, any business or any Person or other business organization or division thereof or (y) any assets that, individually or in the aggregate, are material to ARS and its Subsidiaries taken as a whole, in each case, other than pursuant to agreements in effect on the date the Original Merger Agreement was signed (CBS has agreed not to unreasonably withhold, delay or condition a consent to any matters described in this paragraph);

(xiii) subject to certain exceptions, (a) not grant to any executive officer or other key employee of ARS or any of its Subsidiaries any increase in compensation, except for normal increases in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice or as required under Benefit Arrangements in effect as of June 30, 1997, (b) not grant to any such executive officer any increase in severance or termination pay, except as was required under any Benefit Arrangements in effect as of June 30, 1997, or (c) not adopt or amend any Plan or Benefit Arrangement (including change any actuarial or other assumption used to calculate funding obligations with respect to any Plan, or change the manner in which contributions to any Plan are made or the basis on which such contributions are determined) and (d) except in the ordinary course, not enter into, amend in any material respect or terminate any Governmental Authorization (except as would not be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on ARS), material Private Authorization or Contract; and

(xiv) not authorize or enter into any agreement that would violate any of the foregoing.

Anything in this subsection to the contrary notwithstanding, the provisions of this subsection, other than clause (ii), will not apply to ATS or any of its Subsidiaries.

CBS has agreed that, during the period from September 19, 1997, until the Closing Date or earlier termination of the Merger Agreement, except as otherwise contemplated by the Merger Agreement or as has been publicly disclosed prior to the date of the Merger Agreement, unless ARS shall otherwise agree in writing, with respect to CBS's media business, CBS will and will cause its Subsidiaries, to:

(i) conduct their respective businesses in the ordinary and usual course of business and consistent with past practice, which includes the acquisition of other radio broadcasting stations;

(ii) not amend or propose to amend its Organic Documents in any manner materially adverse to holders of the ARS Preferred Stock;

(iii) use all best efforts to preserve intact their respective business organizations and goodwill, keep available the services of their respective present officers and key employees, and preserve the goodwill and business relationships with customers and others having business relationships with them and not engage in any action, directly or indirectly, with the intent to adversely affect the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement; and

(iv) not authorize or enter into any agreement that would violate any of the foregoing.

Notwithstanding the foregoing covenants, the Merger Agreement provides that nothing contained therein shall give to (a) ARS, directly or indirectly, rights to control or direct CBS' operations prior to the Effective Time, or (b) CBS, directly or indirectly, rights to control or direct ARS' operations prior to the Effective Time. The Merger Agreement further provides that prior to the Effective Time, consistent with the terms and conditions of the Merger Agreement, (a) CBS shall exercise, complete control and supervision of its operations, and (b) ARS shall exercise complete control and supervision of its operations.

Meetings of Stockholders. ARS has received the written consent of the holders of shares of ARS Common Stock representing a majority of the votes entitled to be cast with respect to the approval and adoption of the Original Merger Agreement, the Merger Agreement and the Tower Merger Agreement and the approval of the transactions contemplated thereby. Accordingly, no special meeting of the ARS common stockholders is required in connection with either the Merger or the Tower Merger. Nevertheless, if for any reason such consent is not effective with respect to either the Merger or the Tower Merger, ARS has agreed to call and hold a special meeting of the ARS common stockholders. Approval of the CBS stockholders of the Merger Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby is not required under Applicable Law. CBS, as the sole stockholder of CBS Sub, has approved and adopted the Merger Agreement and approved the transactions contemplated thereby.

Indemnification. Directors', Officers' and Employees' Indemnification and Insurance. The Organic Documents of the Surviving Corporation will contain provisions no less favorable with respect to indemnification than are set forth in the Organic Documents of ARS, as in effect on the date of the Original Merger Agreement, which provisions will not be amended, repealed or otherwise modified for a period of six (6) years from the Effective Time in any manner that would affect adversely the rights thereunder of individuals who at any time prior to the Effective Time were directors, officers or employees of ARS or any of its Subsidiaries, unless such modification is required by Applicable Law.

From and after the Effective Time, CBS will indemnify, defend and hold harmless the present and former officers, directors and employees of ARS or any of its Subsidiaries (collectively, the "Indemnified Parties") against all losses, expenses, claims, damages, liabilities or amounts that are paid in settlement of, or otherwise in connection with any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation (as used in this paragraph, a "claim"), based in whole or in part on the fact that the Indemnified Party (or the Person controlled by the Indemnified Party) is or was a director, officer or employee of ARS or any of its Subsidiaries and arising out of actions or omissions occurring at or prior to the Effective Time whether asserted or claimed prior to, at or after the Effective Time, in each case to the fullest extent permitted under the DCL (and will pay any expenses, as incurred, in advance of the final disposition of any such action or proceeding to each Indemnified Party to the fullest extent permitted under the DCL). Without limiting the foregoing, in the event any such claim is brought against any of the Indemnified Parties, (i) such Indemnified Parties may retain counsel (including local counsel) satisfactory to them and which will be reasonably satisfactory to CBS and they will pay all reasonable fees and expenses of such counsel for such Indemnified Parties; and CBS will use its best efforts to assist in the defense of any such claim; provided, however, that CBS will not be liable for any settlement effected without its written consent, which consent will not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing contained in this paragraph shall be deemed to grant any right to any Indemnified Party which is not permitted to be granted to an officer, director or employee of CBS under the DCL, assuming for such purposes that CBS's Organic Documents provided for the maximum indemnification permitted by the DCL.

CBS will cause to be maintained for a period of not less than six (6) years from the Effective Time ARS' current directors' and officers' insurance and indemnification policy to the extent that is provides coverage for events occurring prior to the Effective Time ("D&O Insurance") for all Persons who are directors and officers of ARS on the date of the Merger Agreement, so long as the annual premium therefor would not be in excess of 200% of the last annual premium therefor paid prior to the date of the Original Merger Agreement (the "Maximum Premium"); provided, however, that if the annual premiums of such insurance coverage exceed such amount, CBS will only be obligated to obtain the greatest coverage available under such policy for a cost not exceeding such amount, provided further, however, that CBS may, in lieu of maintaining such existing D&O Insurance as provided above, cause coverage to be provided under any policy maintained for the benefit of CBS or any of its Subsidiaries, so long as the terms thereof are no less advantageous to the intended beneficiaries thereof than the existing D&O Insurance. If the existing D&O Insurance expires, is terminated or canceled during such six-year period, CBS will use its best efforts to cause to be obtained as much D&O Insurance as can be obtained for the remainder of such period for an annualized premium not in excess of the Maximum Premium, on terms and conditions no less advantageous to the covered Persons than the existing D&O Insurance. ARS represented to CBS that the Maximum Premium is not greater than $500,000.

In the event CBS or CBS Sub or any or their respective successors or assigns (i) consolidates with or merges into any other person and shall not be the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger or (ii) transfers all or substantially all of its properties and assets to any person, then and in each such case, proper provisions will be made so that the successors and assigns of CBS or CBS Sub, as the case may be, will assume the obligations set forth in this subsection.

The foregoing provisions are intended to be for the benefit of, and will be enforceable by, the Indemnified Parties, their heirs and personal representatives and will be binding on CBS, CBS Sub and their respective successors and assigns.

Employee Benefits. CBS is obligated to maintain, for a period of one (1) year following the Effective Time, employee benefits plans and programs (other than equity incentive arrangements) for ARS officers and employees which are no less favorable in the aggregate than those generally available pursuant to existing employee benefit plans and programs, except that CBS has the right to determine the types and levels of specific benefits to be so provided.

Solicitation of Employees. CBS has agreed, in the event the Merger Agreement is terminated, that for a period of eighteen (18) months following such termination, it will not solicit or actively seek to hire any key employees (including without limitation any station manager, sales manager, program manager or any individual senior to any of such individuals) who during such period is employed by ARS or any of its Subsidiaries, whether or not such individual would commit breach of such individual's employment agreement or contract in leaving such employment; provided, however, that the foregoing shall not prevent the solicitation of any such key employee who (i) initiates employment discussions with CBS, (ii) in not employed by ARS or any of its Subsidiaries on the date CBS first solicits such employee, or (iii) is solicited through general advertisement or on-going and ordinary course hiring practices at CBS' broadcasting stations that do not have access to any of the evaluation material furnished by ARS to CBS in connection with its offer to merge with ARS.

American Radio Name. All right, title and interest to the name "American Radio" and all related goodwill trademarks, service marks, logos and the like are to be transferred, without expense, from ARS to ATS immediately prior to the Closing and, thereafter, CBS will cause all of its Subsidiaries to cease using such name as soon as practicable and, in any event, within six (6) months.

ARS Options. All ARS Options outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time, except as provided otherwise in Section 6.8 of the Merger Agreement, will be canceled by ARS and will be converted into the right to receive, for each share of ARS Common Stock subject to such option: the Merger Consideration, or, if the Tower Merger Effective Time shall have occurred, the cash that the Optionholder would have received pursuant to the Merger and shares of ATS Common Stock that the Optionholder would have received pursuant to the Tower Merger, in each case with respect to each share of the ARS Common Stock subject to an unexpired ARS Option of the Optionholder had such ARS Option been exercised immediately prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time, in all cases reduced by an amount of cash (and, to the extent necessary, Tower Common Stock) equal to the exercise price per share of ARS Common Stock subject to such ARS Option. Except as provided in the preceding sentence, no other consideration will be paid by ARS to an option holder in respect of his or her canceled ARS Options. If the Merger is not consummated, the cancellation of the ARS Options shall be rescinded and the holders shall continue to hold such ARS Options upon their original terms and conditions. At the election of any option holder who is a "disqualified individual" (as such term is defined in proposed Treasury Regulation Section 1.280G-1), Section 6.8(b) of the Merger Agreement will be inoperative with respect to such ARS Options as he or she may specify to the extent that the acceleration, vesting cancellation and cash-out of ARS Options at the Effective Time as provided in the Merger Agreement would constitute an "excess parachute payment" (as such term is defined in Section 280G(b)(1) of the Code). Any option holder who makes such election shall forfeit the ARS Options which are subject to such election and shall receive no consideration therefor.

ATS Employees (which includes, among others, Messrs. Box, Dodge, Eisenstein and Winn) who hold ARS Options to purchase an aggregate of 710,000 shares of ARS Common Stock (including Mr. Box: 100,000 shares; Mr. Dodge: 290,000 shares; Mr. Eisenstein: 40,000 shares; and Mr. Winn: 280,000 shares) will be given the opportunity to convert their ARS Options into ATS Options, such conversion to be effectuated at the time of the Tower Separation in a manner that will preserve the spread in such ARS Options between the option exercise price and the fair market value of ARS Common Stock and the ratio of the spread to the exercise price prior to such conversion and, to the extent applicable, otherwise in conformity with the rules under Section 424(a) of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder. Messrs. Box, Dodge, Eisenstein and Winn have advised ARS of the extent to which they intend to exercise their respective rights to exchange ARS Options for ATS Options; based on such advice (which they have the right to change at any time prior to the effectiveness of the Tower Separation, such individuals will hold ATS Options as follows (assuming a $54.00 and $10.00 per share value for the ARS Common Stock and ATS Common Stock, respectively): Mr. Box: 540,000 shares of ATS Class A Common Stock at 5.05 per share; Mr. Dodge: an aggregate of 1,566,000 shares of ATS Class B Common Stock at prices ranging between $1.83 and $5.23 per share; Mr. Eisenstein: 216,000 shares of ATS Class B Common Stock at $4.40 per share; and Mr. Winn: 1,468,422 shares of ATS Class B Common Stock and an aggregate of 43,578 shares of ATS Class A Common Stock at prices ranging between $1.18 and $5.23 per share.

ARS will use its best efforts (including best efforts to obtain any consents of employees or directors of ARS or any of its subsidiaries (each, an "Optionholder"), if required) to cause the cancelation of all of the ARS Options immediately prior to the Effective Time.

Notwithstanding the foregoing paragraphs, in the event that any amount payable under the foregoing provisions to Optionholders in respect of his ARS Options would fail to be deductible by ARS (or any successor thereto) solely by reason of (S)162(m) of the Code (after taking into account all amounts paid or reasonably expected to be payable to the Optionholder in the same taxable year in which the payments under this subsection are made to the Optionholder and which are not otherwise exempt from Code (S)162(m) in determining whether any amount payable to the Optionholder will fail to be deductible thereunder), then, with respect to such portion of the Optionholder's ARS Options the cancellation and cash-out of which would be nondeductible under said (S)162(m) (the "(S)162(m) Options"), such (S)162(m) Options will be canceled in accordance with the foregoing provisions, but the payments of the excess of the aggregate Merger Consideration over the aggregate exercise price of each Optionholder's (S)162(m) Options that the Optionholder would have received in connection with the Tower Separation and other cash consideration contemplated in respect of the Optionholder's (S)162(m) Options will be made to the Optionholder on the 110th day following the Effective Time. ARS will use its best efforts to obtain the written consent of each Optionholder affected by this provision.

All amounts payable to an Optionholder pursuant to the foregoing provisions will be reduced by any applicable withholding taxes.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in the Merger Agreement, ARS will have the right in its sole and absolute discretion, to accelerate, on such terms and conditions as it shall determine, in whole or in part, the vesting of any or all of the ARS Options outstanding on the date hereof so that such ARS Options are exercisable in full prior to the Effective Date.

To the extent that Tower Employees elect to convert their ARS Options into options to acquire ATS Common Stock, ARS is obligated to contribute (without the payment of any amount or the issuance of any securities by ATS) to the capital of ATS at the earlier to occur of the Tower Merger Effective Time and the Effective Time a number of shares of ATS Common Stock equal to the excess, if any, of (i) the number of shares of ATS Common Stock owned by ARS immediately prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time or the Effective Time, as the case may be, over (ii) the number of shares of ATS Common Stock required to be delivered (x) to the holders of shares of ARS Common Stock, (y) to holders of ARS Options pursuant to the provisions of Section 6.8(a) of the Merger Agreement, and (z) upon conversion of the ARS Convertible Preferred Stock.

Information Statement/Registration Statements. ARS is obligated to, and to cause ATS to, prepare and file with the Commission an information statement and a registration statement on Form S-4 complying with the applicable rules and regulations of the Commission and the DGCL, to correct promptly any false or misleading information therein, and take all steps necessary to file with and have cleared by the Commission any amendment or supplement thereto so as to correct it and cause the same to be disseminated to the ARS common stockholders to the extent required by Applicable Law. Such registration statement is required to cover the registration under the Securities Act of the shares of Tower Common Stock to be delivered as the Tower Stock Consideration or Tower Merger Consideration to the holders of shares of ARS Common Stock and to holders of ARS Options at the Effective Time or the Tower Merger Effective Time, as the case may be. This Information Statement/Prospectus is being furnished pursuant to such undertaking by ARS.

ATS is also required to file with, and cause to be declared effective by, the Commission prior to the Effective Time, (i) a registration statement on Form S-8 to register under the Securities Act the shares of Tower Common Stock subject to all ARS Options which have been converted into ATS Options, and (ii) a registration statement to permit the delivery of shares of Tower Common Stock by ARS upon conversion of the ARS Convertible Preferred Stock following the Effective Time and to maintain, on customary terms, the effectiveness of such registration statement under the Securities Act until such time as ATS shall deliver to ARS an opinion of legal counsel reasonably satisfactory to ARS and CBS that such registration statement is no longer required to permit such delivery in accordance with the Securities Act.

Affiliate Agreements. ARS is obligated to use its best efforts to cause each principal executive officer, each director and each other person who is an "affiliate" of ARS for purposes of Rule 145 under the Securities Act at the time each of the Merger Agreement and the Tower Merger Agreement was approved by written consents of the ARS common stockholders to deliver to ATS, on or prior to the earlier of Effective Time and the Tower Merger Effective Time, a written agreement, reasonably satisfactory in form, scope and substance to ARS and CBS, to the effect that such person will not offer to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any shares of ATS Common Stock issued in the Merger or the Tower Merger, as the case may be, except, in each case, pursuant to an effective registration statement or in compliance with Rule 145, or in a transaction which, in the opinion of legal counsel reasonably satisfactory to ARS and CBS, is exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act.

Certain Other Covenants. Both CBS and ARS have also agreed, among other things: (a) to consult with each other prior to issuing any press release or public statement; and (b) that CBS and its representatives be granted access to the management, accounts, books, records, contracts, and other materials, as well as to the directors, officers, employees and independent accountants, of ARS. ARS has agreed, to the extent permitted by its debt instruments and by the ARS Cumulative Preferred Stock, to pay dividends on the ARS Cumulative Preferred Stock in the form of cash.

No Material Delay. ARS has agreed that it will not, and will not permit any of its Subsidiaries to, take any action or enter into any agreement, plan or arrangement to take any action that could reasonably be expected to materially delay the date of the Effective Time (it being provided that any delay in excess of fifteen (15) business days which would arise as a result of any such action shall be deemed "material" for purposes of such provision).

CONDITIONS TO THE MERGER

Joint Conditions. The obligations of ARS, CBS and CBS Sub to consummate the Merger are subject to the satisfaction of the following conditions, any or all of which may be waived, in whole or in part, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law:

(a) The Required Vote shall have been obtained;

(b) The FCC shall have issued the FCC Order approving the applications for transfer of control of ARS' FCC Licenses in connection with the transactions contemplated herein, and the FCC Order shall have been obtained without the imposition of conditions that would have a Material Adverse Effect on CBS' television and radio broadcasting business; provided that without triggering CBS' right to approve such conditions or restrictions, the FCC Order (i) may condition consummation of the Merger on CBS complying with the numerical limits on local multiple radio ownership imposed by 47 C.F.R. (S)73.3555(a) by affording CBS a period of at least six (6) months following the Effective Time within which to comply with such rule through the use of divestiture trusts on terms and conditions required by the FCC, provided further, however, that to the extent that the FCC authority for such divestiture trusts provides for a period of less than six (6) months, (A) ARS has the right to postpone the Effective Time (and, to the extent necessary, the Termination Date), so that CBS is afforded the six (6) month divestiture period, whether before or after the Effective Time and (B) if ARS exercises such right, CBS' right to approve such condition will not be triggered, and (ii) may grant CBS temporary, rather than permanent, waivers of the One-to-a-Market Rule, so long as such temporary waivers shall remain in effect until at least six (6) months following the effective date of FCC action concluding the ongoing rulemaking proceeding with respect to such Rule, all as set forth in Section 7.1(b) of the Merger Agreement and described under "--Regulatory Matters" below;

(c) No Authority of competent jurisdiction shall have enacted, issued, promulgated, enforced or entered any Law (whether temporary, preliminary or permanent) that remains in effect and restraints, enjoins or otherwise prohibits consummation of the Merger; and

(d) The waiting period applicable to the consummation of the Merger under the HSR Act shall have expired or been terminated.

CBS Conditions. The obligations of CBS and CBS Sub to consummate the Merger are also subject to the satisfaction of the following additional conditions, any or all of which may be waived, in whole or in part, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law:

(a) ARS shall have furnished CBS with an opinion, dated the Closing Date, of Dow, Lohnes & Albertson, PLLC, FCC counsel for ARS, substantially in the form attached to the Merger Agreement as Exhibit C;

(b) (i) The representations and warranties of ARS contained in the Merger Agreement (other than those relating to capital stock, voting requirements and capitalization of ATS and certain related matters) shall be true and correct as of the date of the Original Merger Agreement and as of the Closing Date as though made on and as of such date except (x) to the extent such representations and warranties speak as of an earlier date (in which case such representations and warranties shall be true and correct as of such earlier date) and (y) to the extent that the failure of such representations and warranties to be true and correct, individually or in the aggregate, would not have a Material Adverse Effect on ARS; provided, however, that for the purposes of this clause (y), representations and warranties that are qualified as to materiality (including by reference to "Material Adverse Effect") shall not be deemed to be so qualified, and (ii) the representations and warranties relating to capital stock, voting requirements and capitalization of ATS and certain related matters shall be true and correct in all material respects as of the date of the Original Merger Agreement and as of the Closing Date;

(c) ARS shall have performed in all material respects all obligations to be performed by it under the Merger Agreement at or prior to the Closing Date; and

(d) Between the date of the Original Merger Agreement and the Closing Date, except as contemplated by the Merger Agreement, including without limitation the Tower Separation, and except as set forth in Section 4.3 of the American Disclosure Schedule, there shall not have occurred and be continuing any Material Adverse Change in ARS.

ARS Conditions. The obligations of ARS to consummate the Merger are also subject to the satisfaction of the following additional conditions, any or all of which may be waived, in whole or in part, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law:

(a) The representations and warranties of CBS contained in the Merger Agreement shall be true and correct as of the date of the Original Merger Agreement and as of the Closing Date as though made on and as of such date except (i) to the extent such representations and warranties speak as of an earlier date (in which case such representations and warranties shall be true and correct as of such earlier date) and (ii) to the extent that the failure of such representations and warranties to be true and correct, individually or in the aggregate, would not have a Material Adverse Effect on CBS; provided, however, that for the purposes of this clause (ii), representations and warranties that are qualified as to materiality (including by reference to "Material Adverse Effect") shall not be deemed to be so qualified; and

(b) CBS shall have performed in all material respects all obligations to be performed by it under the Merger Agreement at or prior to the Closing Date.

TERMINATION

Termination Events. The Merger Agreement may be terminated at any time prior to the Closing Date, whether before or after approval by the stockholders of ARS:

(a) by mutual consent of CBS, CBS Sub and ARS;

(b) by either ARS or CBS if any Authority of competent jurisdiction shall have enacted, issued, promulgated, enforced or entered any Law that shall have become final and nonappealable and that restraints, enjoins or otherwise prohibits consummation of the Merger, unless the party seeking such restraint, injunction or prohibition or any Affiliate thereof was the terminating party;

(c) by either ARS or CBS if the Merger shall not have been consummated by the Termination Date for any reason; provided, however, that the right to terminate the Merger Agreement under this provisions shall not be available to any party whose action or failure to act (or the action of failure to act of any Affiliate) has been a principal cause of or resulted in the failure of the Merger to occur on or before such date and such action or failure to act constitutes a breach of the Merger Agreement;

(d) by either ARS or CBS of the Required Vote shall not have been obtained;

(e) by ARS in the event (i) ARS is not in material breach of the Merger Agreement and none of its representations or warranties shall have been or become and continue to be untrue in any manner that would cause the condition in Section 7.2(b) (i.e., paragraph (b) under "--Conditions to the Merger--CBS Conditions" above) not to be satisfied, and (ii) CBS is in material breach of the Merger Agreement or any of its representations or warranties shall have been or become and continue to be untrue in any manner that would cause the condition in Section 7.3(a) (i.e., paragraph (c) under "--Conditions to the Merger--ARS Conditions" above) not to be satisfied, and such a breach or untruth exists and is not capable of being cured by and will prevent or delay consummation of the Merger by or beyond the Termination Date; or

(f) by CBS in the event (i) CBS is not in material breach of the Merger Agreement and none of its representations or warranties shall have been or become and continue to be untrue in any manner that would cause the condition in Section 7.3(a) (i.e., paragraph (c) under "--Conditions to the Merger--ARS Conditions" above) not to be satisfied, and (ii) ARS is in material breach of the Merger Agreement or any of its representations or warranties shall have become and continue to be untrue in any manner that would cause the condition in Section 7.2(b) (i.e., paragraph (b) under "--Conditions to the Merger--CBS Conditions" above) not to be satisfied, and such a breach or untruth exists and is not capable of being cured by and will prevent or delay consummation of the Merger by or beyond the Termination Date.

"Termination Date" means December 31, 1998 or such other date may from time to time be extended pursuant to the provisions of Section 7.1(b) (i.e., paragraph (b) under "--Conditions to the Merger--Joint Conditions" above) or by mutual agreement of the parties. The right of ARS or CBS to terminate the Merger Agreement as described above shall remain operative and in full force and effect regardless of any investigation made by or on behalf of either party, any Person controlling any such party or any of their respective Representatives, whether prior to or after the execution of the Merger Agreement.

Effect of Termination. Except as specifically provided in the Merger Agreement, in the event of the termination of the Merger Agreement as described above, or in the event the Merger shall not have become effective prior to the end of business on the day prior to the Termination Date, the Merger Agreement shall forthwith become void, there shall be no liability on the part of either party, or any of their respective stockholders, officers or directors, to the other; provided, however, that such termination shall not relieve either party from liability for any misrepresentation or breach of any of its warranties, covenants or agreements set forth in the Merger Agreement. The Merger Agreement provides that in the event the Merger Agreement is terminated by any party pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (d) under "--Termination Events" above, then ARS shall pay to CBS a fee equal to $35.0 million, together with the reasonable and reasonably documented out-of-pocket fees and expenses incurred or paid by or behalf of CBS in connection with the Merger or the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement, including all fees and expenses of its counsel, commercial banks, investment banking firms, accountants, experts and consultants in an aggregate amount not to exceed $5.0 million.

AMENDMENT

The Merger Agreement may be amended from time to time by the parties at any time prior to the Closing Date but only by an instrument in writing signed by the parties and, after receipt of the Required Vote, subject, in the case of ARS, to Applicable Law.

WAIVER

At any time prior to the Closing Date, except to the extent not permitted by Applicable Law, CBS or ARS may, either generally or in a particular instance and either retroactively or prospectively, extend the time for the performance of any of the obligations or other acts of the other, subject, however, to the above under "--Termination--Termination Events", waive any inaccuracies in the representations and warranties of the other contained within the Merger Agreement or in any document delivered pursuant to the Merger Agreement, and waive compliance by the other with any of the agreements, covenants, conditions or other provision contained within the Merger Agreement. Any such extension or waiver will be valid only if set forth in an instrument in writing signed by the party or parties to be bound thereby.

INTEREST OF CERTAIN PERSONS IN THE MERGER

In reviewing the recommendation of the ARS Board with respect to the Merger, ARS stockholders should be aware that certain members of ARS' management and the ARS Board have certain interests in the Merger that may present them with actual or potential conflicts of interest.

ARS Stock Options. The directors and officers who are or will become ATS Employees, including without limitation Messrs. Box, Dodge, Eisenstein and Winn, will be entitled to convert their ARS Options into options to purchase ATS Common Stock, as described under "--Certain Other Covenants--ARS Options" above. See "Principal Stockholders of American Tower Systems" for information with respect to ARS Options held by the directors and executive officers of ARS who will become directors and executive officers of ATS.

Indemnification. The directors and officers of ARS will be indemnified by CBS and CBS is obligated, subject to certain conditions, to provide insurance for such directors and officers as described under "--Certain Other Covenants--Indemnification" above.

Benefit Arrangements. The officers of ARS who will remain with it (which does not include Messrs. Dodge, Box and Winn) will receive the benefit of the arrangements described under "--Certain Other Covenants--Employee Benefits". In addition, ARS' three Chief Co-Operating Officers (Messrs. Bouloukos, Gehron and Pearlman) may be granted severance arrangements, for which no definite agreements have been reached.

ATS Stock Purchase Agreement. Certain officers and directors (or their affiliates, family members or trusts for the benefit of family members) of ARS entered into the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement pursuant to which they purchased shares of ATS Common Stock at $10.00 per share, which had been determined by the Special Committee of the ARS Board to be "fair" from a financial point of view to ARS common stockholders. See""-- ATS Stock Purchase Agreement" below.

REGULATORY MATTERS

The receipt of certain federal and state governmental or regulatory approvals is required in order to consummate the Merger, including the approval of the FCC, and the expiration or termination of the waiting period under the HSR Act. ARS and CBS have agreed in the Merger Agreement to use best efforts to obtain such approvals or waivers, but there can be no assurance as to when or if such approvals or waivers will be obtained.

FCC Approvals. On October 24, 1997, ARS and CBS filed an application (the "Transfer Application") with the FCC requesting the FCC's consent to transfer control of the subsidiaries of ARS holding the FCC licenses for each of the ARS broadcast Stations, from the holders of ARS Common Stock to CBS. As a result of the transfer and giving effect to the Recent Transactions, the Transfer Application demonstrates that CBS and its subsidiaries would have attributable interests that would (a) exceed the numerical limits on local multiple radio station ownership (the "Multiple Ownership Limit") in the Boston, Baltimore and San Francisco/San Jose markets, and (b) violate the limits on common ownership of television and radio stations serving the same market (the "One-to-a-Market Rule") in Boston, Baltimore, Pittsburgh and San Francisco/San Jose. CBS has requested temporary waivers of any obligation to divest itself of stations as follows: (a) with respect to the Multiple Ownership Limit, CBS has indicated that it would divest the necessary number of stations in the appropriate markets prior to the consummation of the Merger Agreement, or, if divestiture could not be completed in a timely manner, it would place certain stations in insulated trusts to comply with the Multiple Ownership Limit; and (b) with respect to the One-to-a-Market Rule, CBS has requested that the FCC issue temporary waivers of such Rule to permit CBS to retain all of its radio and television stations which would otherwise be in violation of such Rule until at least six (6) months following the effective date of final FCC action concluding the ongoing rulemaking proceeding in MM Docket Nos. 91-221, 87-8 (FCC 94-322) or a successor rulemaking proceeding pending at the time of the grant of the FCC Order, that considers the One-to-a-Market Rule.

The Merger Agreement provides, among other things, that, as a condition of the obligation of the parties to consummate the Merger, the FCC shall have issued the FCC Order approving the applications for transfer of control of the ARS FCC Licenses, and that the FCC Order shall have been obtained without the imposition of conditions that would have a Material Adverse Effect on CBS' television and radio broadcasting business. However, without triggering CBS' right to approve such conditions or restrictions, the FCC Order (i) may condition consummation of the Merger on CBS complying with the Multiple Ownership Limitation by affording CBS a period of at least six (6) months following the Effective Time within which to comply with such rule through the use of divestiture trusts on terms and conditions required by the FCC, provided that to the extent that the FCC authority for such divestiture trusts provides for a period of less than six (6) months, (x) ARS has the right to postpone the Effective Time (and, to the extent necessary, the Termination Date), so that CBS is afforded the six (6) month divestiture period, whether before or after the Effective Time and (y) if ARS exercises such right, CBS' right to approve such condition shall not be triggered, and (ii) may grant CBS temporary, rather than permanent, waivers of the One-to-a-Market Rule, so long as such temporary waivers shall remain in effect until at least six (6) months following the effective date of FCC action concluding the ongoing rulemaking proceeding in MM Docket Nos. 91-221, 87-8 (FCC 94-322), or a successor rulemaking proceeding pending at the time of the grant of the FCC Order, that considers the One-to-a-Market Rule. "FCC Order" is defined in the Merger Agreement to mean an action by the FCC approving the transfer of the ARS FCC Licenses with respect to which, except as may be waived in writing by CBS in its sole discretion, (i) no timely request for stay, petition for reconsideration or appeal or sua sponte action of the FCC with comparable effect is pending, or (ii) if any of the foregoing is pending, in the judgment of CBS it lacks any substantial merit or is contrary to established FCC precedent, or (iii) if it were to be so granted, it would not have a Material Adverse Effect on CBS' televisions and radio broadcasting business and as to which the thirty (30) day time period specified in 47 U.S.C. (S)405(a) for initiating a petition for reconsideration of the grant of the FCC Order has expired.

CBS is obligated under the terms of the Merger Agreement to obtain the required FCC Consents except as described above under "--Certain Other Covenants--Certain Efforts; FCC and Antitrust Requirements" above.

On August 13, 1997, a petition to deny alleging multiple ownership violations, assertion of excessive control by American Radio, and lack of candor with respect to radio stations in the West Palm Beach market was filed against American Radio's FCC application to acquire WTPX(FM), Jupiter, Florida, submitted in FCC File No. BALH-970703GM (the "WTPX(FM) Application"). On September 16, 1997, American Radio and the current FCC licensee of WTPX(FM) jointly requested the dismissal of the WTPX(FM) Application. The FCC granted the request without prejudice to whatever further actions, if any, the Commission may deem appropriate with respect to the matters raised in the petition, and dismissed the petition as moot. American Radio is reviewing the alleged course of conduct to ensure compliance with the Communications Act and FCC rules. In December 1997, an objection was lodged at the FCC against the license renewal application of WAAF(FM), Worcester, Massachusetts, claiming that the station aired allegedly indecent programming. American Radio is investigating the allegations.

On November 3, 1997, the FCC issued a public notice accepting the Transfer Application for filing. Pursuant to the Communications Act and the FCC's rules, interested third parties had until December 3, 1997 to file petitions to deny the Transfer Application, and thereafter may file informal objections until the Transfer Application is granted. On October 27, 1997, a letter was filed alleging improprieties in CBS' employment practices at WLIF (FM) in Baltimore, Maryland and objecting to the grant of the application for FCC consent to the transfer of control of the subsidiaries holding ARS' FCC licenses. CBS opposed the letter on November 10, 1997, and the opposing party thereafter filed an undated reply. By letter dated January 22, 1998, the FCC's staff dismissed this letter on procedural grounds, and the allegations set forth therein were otherwise denied. On December 3, 1997, an objection was filed against the merger application alleging that KMJ(AM), Fresno, California had broadcast advertisements that were false and deceptive and defamed a local business. A similar objection to the KMJ(AM) renewal application was filed November 3, 1997, by the same parties. On December 18, 1997, ARS filed a consolidated opposition to both pleadings, and, on January 7, 1998, the petitioners filed a consolidated reply to both pleadings. A letter opposing the Merger was filed with the FCC, on behalf of a former ATS employee, but the FCC has notified the complainant that, in light of procedural deficiencies, the letter will not be considered in connection with the FCC's review of the merger application. In addition, a former American Radio consulting engineer wrote to the FCC complaining about a debt he claims is owed to him by American Radio stations in Fresno. The FCC has sent a letter to the engineer stating that his claim is a private dispute that is not relevant to the Merger.

On December 24, 1997, applications were filed with the FCC seeking authority to place certain stations in insulated trusts so as to permit CBS to achieve compliance with the Multiple Ownership Limit at the time of consummation of the Merger Agreement (the "Trust Applications"). The Trust Applications were amended at the request of the FCC's staff on January 28, 1998.

In evaluating any opposition to the Transfer Application or the Trust Applications, the FCC will determine on the basis of the petitions or informal responses, objections that may be filed by ARS and/or CBS, and such other facts as it may officially notice, whether there are substantial and material issues of fact that will require an evidentiary hearing to resolve. In the absence of issues requiring an evidentiary hearing, and upon a finding that a grant of the Transfer Application (and the associated waivers noted above) and the Trust Applications would serve the public interest, convenience and necessity, the FCC, or the FCC's staff acting by delegated authority, will grant the Transfer Application and the Trust Applications. In the unlikely event that there are any issues of fact which cannot be resolved without an evidentiary hearing, the FCC must designate the Transfer Application or the Trust Applications for such a hearing, and the consummation of the Merger could be jeopardized due to the length of time ordinarily required to complete such proceedings.

Within thirty (30) days following FCC public notice of a grant of the Transfer Application or the Trust Applications, parties in interest may file a petition for reconsideration requesting that the FCC (or the FCC's staff in the case of a staff grant, which, nonetheless, is unlikely in the case of a transfer of control or assignment involving an unusual waiver request), reconsider its action. Alternatively, in the case of a staff grant, parties in interest may within the same thirty-day period file an "Application for Review" requesting that the FCC review and set aside the staff grant. In the event of a staff grant, a party in interest could take both actions, by first filing a petition for reconsideration with the staff and later, within thirty (30) days following public notice of denial of that petition, filing an Application for Review. In the case of a staff grant, the FCC may also review the staff action on its own motion within forty (40) days following public notice of the staff's action. The FCC may review any of its own actions on its own motion within thirty (30) days following public notice of the action.

Within thirty (30) days of public notice of an action by the FCC (i) granting the Transfer Application or the Trust Applications, (ii) denying a petition for reconsideration of such a grant or (iii) denying an Application for Review of a staff grant, parties in interest may appeal the FCC's action to the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit.

In the event that the Transfer Application or the Trust Applications should be denied or the requested waivers in the Transfer Application not granted by the FCC or its staff, ARS and CBS would have the same rights to seek reconsideration or file an appeal as set forth above with respect to adverse parties.

If the FCC does not, on its own motion, or upon a request by an interested party for reconsideration or review, review a staff grant or its own action within the time periods set forth above, an action by the FCC or its staff granting the Transfer Application and the Trust Applications would become final. The Merger Agreement provides that the parties are not obligated to consummate the Merger upon the issuance of an FCC grant of the Transfer Application, until such grant has become final.

When the FCC considers a proposed transfer of control of an FCC licensee that holds multiple FCC licenses, some of which licenses are subject to pending renewal applications, the FCC's recently adopted policy provides that so long as there are no unresolved issues pertaining to the qualifications of the transferor or the transferee and so long as the transferee is willing to substitute itself as the renewal applicant, the FCC will grant a transfer application for a licensee holding applications for one or several of the licensee's stations. This new policy should permit the parties to consummate the Merger (assuming satisfaction or waiver of all other conditions and the FCC's grant of the Transfer Application) during those periods when renewal applications are pending for one or more of ARS' stations. CBS has acknowledged and agreed that certain of the ARS Stations and ARS Brokered Stations may file or have pending applications for renewal of license during the time that an application for the FCC Consents is pending before the FCC. To the extent any such application for renewal may be filed or remain pending, CBS has agreed to amend the transferee's portion of any application for the FCC Consents and, as may be required, to amend any license renewal applications for the ARS Stations or ARS Brokered Stations, to confirm CBS' intention to consummate the Merger Agreement during the pendency of such license renewal application, and to agree to assume the consequences associated with succeeding to the place of ARS in such license renewal applications. The making of this statement shall not be deemed to limit or waive any other rights that CBS may otherwise have under the Merger Agreement.

Antitrust. Under the HSR Act and the rules promulgated thereunder, the Merger may not be consummated until notifications have been given and certain information has been furnished to the Antitrust Division of the United States Department of Justice (the "Antitrust Division") and the Federal Trade Commission (the "FTC") and the FTC and specified waiting period requirements have been satisfied. ARS and CBS intend to file in due course with the Antitrust Division and the FTC a Notification and Report Form with respect to the Merger.

The Antitrust Division and the FTC determine between themselves which agency is to review a proposed transaction. The Antitrust Division or the FTC, as the case may be, may then issue a formal request for additional information (the "Second Request"). Under the HSR Act, if a Second Request is issued, the waiting period then would be extended and would expire at 11:59 p.m., on the twentieth calendar day after the date of substantial compliance by both parties with such Second Request. Only one extension of the waiting period pursuant to a request for additional information is authorized by the HSR Act. Thereafter, such waiting period may be extended only by court order or with the consent of the parties. In practice, complying with a request for additional information or material can take a significant amount of time. In addition, if the Antitrust Division or the FTC raises substantive issues in connection with a proposed transaction, the parties frequently engage in negotiations with the relevant governmental agency concerning possible means of addressing those issues and may agree to delay consummation of the transaction while such negotiations continue.

The Antitrust Division and the FTC frequently scrutinize the legality under the antitrust laws of transactions such as the Merger. In light of the continuing consolidation occurring in the radio broadcasting industry, the Antitrust Division and the FTC may be expected to give increased attention to the Merger. Moreover, divestures required to comply with the Multiple Ownership Limit may not necessarily be sufficient to meet the requirements of the Antitrust Division and the FTC. At any time before or after the consummation of the Merger, the Antitrust Division or the FTC could take such action under the antitrust laws as it deems necessary or desirable in the public interest, including seeking to enjoin the Merger or seeking the divesture of substantial assets of ARS or CBS.

In addition, state antitrust authorities may also bring legal action under the antitrust laws. Such action could include seeking to enjoin the consummation of the Merger or seeking divestiture of certain assets of ARS or CBS. No state authorities have indicated that they will undertake an investigation of the Merger. Private parties may also seek to take legal action under the antitrust laws under certain circumstances. There can be no assurance that a challenge to the Merger on antitrust grounds will not be made or, if such a challenge is made, what the result of such challenge may be.

OTHER CONSENTS

Consummation of the Merger will require the consent of the lenders under the ARS Credit Agreement. ARS believes that such consent will be obtained. The consent of the holders of ARS' other debt is not required for consummation of the Merger. ARS does not anticipate any problem in CBS obtaining the necessary consents. Holders of the requisite majority of the ARS Cumulative Preferred Stock have consented to the Tower Separation, whether pursuant to the Merger or the Tower Merger, on terms satisfactory to CBS. Consummation of the Tower Merger will also require the consent of the banks under ARS' Credit Agreements. CBS has no obligation to assist ARS in obtaining such consent and there can be no assurance that such consent will be obtained.

ATS STOCK PURCHASE AGREEMENT

ATS recently consummated the transactions contemplated by the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement, dated as of January 8, 1998, with certain officers and directors of ARS (or their affiliates or members of their family or family trusts), pursuant to which those persons purchased shares of ATS Common Stock at $10.00 per share, as follows: Mr. Dodge: 4,000,000 (Class B); Mr. Box: 450,000 (Class A); Mr. Buckley: 300,000 (Class A); each of Messrs. Eisenstein and Steven J. Moskowitz: 25,000 (Class A); Mr. Kellar: 400,000 (Class A); Mr. Stoner, his wife and certain family trusts: 649,950 (Class B); other Stoner family and trust purchasers: 150,050 (Class A); and Chase Equity Associates: 2,000,000 (Class C). Messrs. Buckley and Kellar are directors of ARS, and Mr. Chavkin, a director of ARS and ATS, is an affiliate of Chase Equity Associates. See "Principal Stockholders of American Radio" in Appendix I. Mr. Moskowitz is a newly recruited Vice President of ATS, responsible for the Northeast Region.

Payment of the purchase price was in the form of cash in the case of Chase Equity Associates, all members of Mr. Stoner's family and the family trusts (but not Mr. Stoner and his wife) and Messrs. Buckley, Eisenstein, Kellar and Moskowitz, and, in the case of Messrs. Dodge, Box and Stoner (and his wife) in the form of a note due on the earlier of the consummation of the Merger or, in the event the Merger Agreement is terminated, December 31, 2000. The notes bear interest at the six-month London Interbank Rate, from time to time, plus 1.5% per annum, and are secured by shares of ARS Common Stock having a fair market value of not less than 175% of the principal amount of and accrued and unpaid interest on the note. The notes are prepayable at any time at the option of the obligor and will be due and payable, at the option of American Tower Systems, in the event of certain defaults as described therein.

The ARS Board appointed a special committee (the "Special Committee") consisting of Messrs. Duncan, Peebler and Primis, with Mr. Peebler acting as chairman, to determine the fairness to ARS from a financial point of view of the terms and conditions of the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement. None of the members of the Special Committee was a party to the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement. No limitations were imposed on the activities of the Special Committee by the ARS Board. The Special Committee retained Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner & Smith Incorporated ("Merrill Lynch") to act as its exclusive financial advisor in connection with the transactions contemplated by the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement. No limitations were placed on the activities of Merrill Lynch. Merrill Lynch delivered its written opinion, dated January 8, 1998, to the Special Committee that, as of such date and based upon and subject to the matters set forth therein, the purchase price of $10.00 per share to be received by ATS pursuant to the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement was fair from a financial point of view to ARS. Based upon such opinion, and its own evaluation of the terms and conditions of the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement, the Special Committee approved the ATS Stock Purchase as fair to and in the best interests of ARS.

Pursuant to an Engagement Letter, dated November 20, 1997, ARS has agreed to pay Merrill Lynch a fee of $500,000 in consideration for its services. ARS has also agreed to reimburse Merrill Lynch for its expenses, including reasonable fees and expenses of its counsel, and to indemnify Merrill Lynch for liabilities and expenses arising out of its engagement and the transactions in connection therewith, including liabilities under the federal securities laws. ATS has agreed to pay to ARS immediately following the Effective Time all such fees and expenses which ARS has incurred to Merrill Lynch.

APPRAISAL RIGHTS

Certain holders of ARS Common Stock immediately prior to the Effective Time have the right to dissent from the Merger and demand and perfect appraisal rights in accordance with the conditions established by Section 262 of the DGCL ("Section 262"). The ARS stockholders who have executed the consent pursuant to which the Merger Agreement was approved and adopted have, in effect, waived their appraisal rights with respect to their shares of ARS Common Stock. No such appraisal rights are applicable to the Tower Merger.

SECTION 262 IS REPRINTED IN ITS ENTIRETY AS APPENDIX IV TO THIS INFORMATION STATEMENT/PROSPECTUS. THE FOLLOWING DISCUSSION IS NOT A COMPLETE STATEMENT OF THE LAW RELATING TO APPRAISAL RIGHTS AND IS QUALIFIED IN ITS ENTIRETY BY REFERENCE TO APPENDIX IV. THIS DISCUSSION AND APPENDIX III SHOULD BE REVIEWED CAREFULLY BY ANY HOLDER WHO WISHES TO EXERCISE STATUTORY APPRAISAL RIGHTS OR WHO WISHES TO PRESERVE THE RIGHT TO DO SO, AS FAILURE TO COMPLY WITH THE PROCEDURES SET FORTH HEREIN OR THEREIN WILL RESULT IN THE LOSS OF APPRAISAL RIGHTS. A PERSON HAVING A BENEFICIAL INTEREST IN SHARES OF ARS COMMON STOCK HELD OF RECORD IN THE NAME OF ANOTHER PERSON, SUCH AS A BROKER OR NOMINEE, MUST ACT PROMPTLY TO CAUSE THE RECORD HOLDER TO FOLLOW THE STEPS SUMMARIZED BELOW PROPERLY AND IN A TIMELY MANNER TO PERFECT APPRAISAL RIGHTS.

A holder of record of shares of ARS Common Stock who makes the demand described below with respect to such shares, who continuously is the record holder of such shares through the Effective Time, who otherwise complies with the statutory requirements of Section 262 and who neither votes in favor of the Merger Agreement nor consents thereto in writing may be entitled to an appraisal by the Delaware Court of Chancery (the "Delaware Court") of the fair value of his or her shares of stock. All references in this summary of appraisal rights to a "stockholder" is to the record holder of shares of ARS Common Stock.

Under Section 262, where a merger has been approved by written consent pursuant to the provisions of Section 228 of the DGCL, as in the case of adoption of the Merger by the ARS common stockholders, each constituent corporation must notify each of the holders of its stock for which appraisal rights are available, either before the Effective Time or within ten days thereafter, that such appraisal rights are available and include in each such notice a copy of Section 262. This Information Statement/Prospectus shall constitute such notice to the record holders of ARS Common Stock.

Holders of ARS Common Stock immediately prior to the Effective Time who desire to exercise their appraisal rights must not vote in favor of the Merger Agreement or the Merger and must deliver a separate written demand for appraisal to ARS within twenty (20) days after the date this Information Statement/Prospectus is first mailed to common stockholders of American Radio. A demand for appraisal must be executed by or on behalf of the stockholder of record fully and correctly, as his, hers or its name appears on his, hers or its stock certificates and must state that such person intends to demand appraisal of his, hers or its shares of ARS Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time. A person having beneficial interests in shares of ARS Common Stock that are held of record in the name of another person, such as a broker, fiduciary or other nominee, must act promptly to cause the record holder to follow the steps summarized herein properly and in a timely manner to perfect whatever appraisal rights are available. If the shares of ARS Common Stock are owned of record by a person other than the beneficial owner, including a broker, fiduciary (such as a trustee, guardian or custodian) or other nominee, such demand must be executed by or for the record owner. If the shares of ARS Common Stock are owned of record by more than one person, as in a joint tenancy or tenancy in common, such demand must be executed by or for all joint owners. An authorized agent, including an agent for two or more joint owners, may execute the demand for appraisal for a stockholder of record; however, the agent must identify the record owner and expressly disclose the fact that, in exercising the demand, such person is acting as agent for the record owner.

A record owner, such as a broker, fiduciary or other nominee, who holds shares of ARS Common Stock as a nominee for others, may exercise appraisal rights with respect to the shares held for all or less than all beneficial owners of shares as to which such person is the record owner. In such case, the written demand must set forth the number of shares covered by such demand. Where the number of shares is not expressly stated, the demand will be presumed to cover all shares of ARS Common Stock outstanding in the name of such record owner. Former stockholders who held their shares of ARS Common Stock in brokerage accounts or other nominee forms and who wish to exercise appraisal rights are urged to consult with their brokers to determine the appropriate procedures for the making of a demand for appraisal by such a nominee.

A stockholder who elects to exercise appraisal rights, if available, should mail or deliver his or her written demand to: American Radio Systems Corporation, 116 Huntington Avenue, Boston, Massachusetts 02116, Attention: Secretary.

The written demand for appraisal should specify the stockholder's name and mailing address, the number of shares of ARS Common Stock owned, and that the stockholder is thereby demanding appraisal of his or her shares. Within ten (10) days after the Effective Time, the Surviving Corporation must provide notice of the Effective Time to all stockholders who have complied with Section 262.

Within one hundred and twenty (120) days after the Effective Time, but not thereafter, either the Surviving Corporation or any former holders of ARS Common Stock who has complied with the required conditions of Section 262 may file a petition in the Delaware Court, with a copy served on the Surviving Corporation in the case of a petition filed by a stockholder, demanding a determination of the fair value of the shares of all dissenting stockholders. The Surviving Corporation is under no obligation to and has no present intention to file such a petition. Accordingly, ARS stockholders immediately prior to the Effective Time who desire to have their shares appraised should initiate any petitions necessary for the perfection of their appraisal rights within the time periods and in the manner prescribed in Section 262. Within one hundred and twenty (120) days after the Effective Time, any former ARS stockholder who has theretofore complied with the applicable provisions of Section 262 will be entitled, upon written request, to receive from the Surviving Corporation a statement setting forth the aggregate number of shares of ARS Common Stock not voting in favor of the Merger Agreement and with respect to which demands for appraisal were received by ARS and the number of holders of such shares. Such statement must be mailed within 10 days after the written request therefor has been received by the Surviving Corporation or within ten days after the expiration of the period for delivery of demands for appraisal, whichever is later.

If a petition for an appraisal is timely filed and assuming appraisal rights are available by a former ARS stockholder and a copy thereof is served on the surviving corporation, the surviving corporation will then be obligated within 20 days to file with the Delaware Register in Chancery a duly verified list containing the names and addresses of all former stockholders who have demanded appraisals of their shares and with whom agreements as to the value of their shares have not been reached. After such notice to such former stockholders as required by the Delaware Court prepared to conduct a hearing on such is empowered to conduct a hearing on such petition. At the hearing on such petition, the Delaware Court will determine which stockholders, if any, are entitled to appraisal rights. The Delaware Court may require the stockholders who have demanded an appraisal for their shares and who hold stock represented by certificates to submit their certificates of stock to the Register in Chancery for notation thereon of the pendency of the appraisal proceedings; and if any stockholder fails to comply with such direction, the Delaware Court may dismiss the proceedings as to such stockholder. Where proceedings are not dismissed, the Delaware Court will appraise the shares of ARS Common Stock owned by such stockholders, determining the fair value of such shares exclusive of any element of value arising from the accomplishment or expectation of the Merger, together with a fair rate of interest, if any, to be paid upon the amount determined to be the fair value. Former holders of ARS Common Stock considering seeking appraisal should be aware that the fair value of their shares of ARS Common Stock as determined by Section 262 could be more than, the same as or less than the consideration they would receive pursuant to the Merger if they did not seek appraisal of their shares of ARS Common Stock and that the investment banking opinions as to the fairness from a financial point of view are not necessarily opinions as to the fair value under Section 262. In determining fair value, the Delaware Court is to take into account all relevant factors. In Weinberger v. UOP Inc., the Delaware Supreme Court discussed the factors that could be considered in determining fair value in an appraisal proceeding, stating that "proof of value by any techniques or methods which are generally considered acceptable in the financial community and otherwise admissible in court" should be considered, and that "fair price obviously requires consideration of all relevant factors involving the value of a company." The Delaware Supreme Court stated that in making this determination of fair value the court must consider market value, asset value, dividends, earnings prospects, the nature of the enterprise and any other facts ascertainable as of the date of the Merger that throw light on future prospects of the merged corporation. In Weinberger, the Delaware Supreme Court stated that "elements of future value, including the nature of the enterprise, which are known or susceptible of proof as of the date of the Merger and not the product of speculation, may be considered." Section 262, however, provides that fair value is to be "exclusive of any element of value arising from the accomplishment or expectation of the Merger." In addition, Delaware courts have decided that the statutory appraisal remedy, depending on factual circumstances, may or may not be a dissenter's exclusive remedy.

The Delaware Court will also determine the amount of interest, if any, to be paid upon the amounts to be received by persons whose shares of ARS Common Stock have been appraised. The cost of the appraisal proceeding may be determined by the Delaware Court and taxed against the parties as the Delaware Court deems equitable in the circumstances. Upon application of a dissenting stockholder of ARS, the Delaware Court may order that all or a portion of the expenses incurred by any dissenting stockholder in connection with the appraisal proceeding, including, without limitation, reasonable attorney's fees and the fees and expenses of experts, be charged pro rata against the value of all shares of stock entitled to appraisal.

Any holder of shares of ARS Common Stock who has duly demanded appraisal in compliance with Section 262 will not, after the Effective Time, be entitled to vote for any purpose any shares subject to such demand or to receive payment of dividends or other distributions on such shares, except for dividends or distributions payable to stockholders of record at a date prior to the Effective Time.

If no petition for appraisal is filed with the Delaware Court within one hundred and twenty (120) days after the Effective Time, stockholders' rights to appraisal shall cease. Any stockholder may withdraw such stockholder's demand for appraisal by delivering to the Surviving Corporation a written withdrawal of his or her demand for appraisal and acceptance of the Merger, except that (i) any such attempt to withdraw made more than 60 days after the Effective Time will require written approval of the Surviving Corporation and (ii) no appraisal proceeding in the Delaware Court will be dismissed as to any stockholder without the approval of the Delaware Court, which may be conditioned upon such terms as the Delaware Court deems just. If any former stockholder who demands appraisal of his, hers, or its shares of ARS Common Stock under Section 262 fails to perfect, or effectively withdraw or losses his, hers or its right to appraisal as provided by the DGCL, the shares of ARS Common Stock of such stockholders will be converted into the right to receive the consideration of the Merger (without interest).

If the Tower Merger Effective Time shall not have occurred and the Delaware Court of Chancery (the "Court") conducts an appraisal proceeding pursuant to Section 262 of the DCL relating to an obligation to pay the appraised value per share of ARS Common Stock ("Appraised Total Value") to the holders of the Dissenting Shares, American Tower shall promptly pay to American Radio the portion of the Appraised Total Value attributable to the Tower Stock Consideration (the "Tower Stock Payment") and American Radio shall contribute (without the payment of any other amount or the issuance of any securities by American Tower) to the capital of American Tower such shares of Tower Common Stock owned by American Radio that the holders of the Dissenting Shares would have been entitled to receive had they not exercised their appraisal rights. The Tower Stock Payment shall be determined pursuant to the following provisions:

(i) American Radio shall request the Court to determine in writing the Tower Stock Payment. If the Court shall make such determination the Tower Stock Payment shall be the amount so determined; and

(ii) If the Court shall not make such determination within a thirty (30) day period following such request (at which time such request shall be withdrawn) (the "Determination Deadline"), American Radio, ATS and CBS shall submit to an arbitrator (the "Arbitrator") for review and resolution the determination of the Tower Stock Payment. The Arbitrator shall be a nationally recognized investment banking firm which shall be agreed upon by American Radio, CBS and ATS in writing. The Arbitrator shall be requested to render a decision resolving the amount of the Tower Stock Payment within thirty (30) days following the date of its selection. If the parties cannot agree on the firm to be selected as Arbitrator within fifteen (15) days following the Determination Deadline, then American Radio and CBS, on the one hand, and ATS, on the other hand, shall each choose one such firm within ten (10) days following the expiration of such fifteen (15) day period to review, resolve and agree on the determination of the Tower Stock Payment, which determination, once agreed to in writing by both such firms, shall be final, conclusive and binding on the parties. If such two firms cannot agree on the amount of the Tower Stock Payment within thirty (30) days following the date on which the second of such firms is selected, then such two firms shall promptly select a third such firm to make such determination, which determination shall be made by such third firm within thirty (30) days of the date on which such third firm is selected. The determination of such third firm of the amount of the Tower Stock Payment shall be final, conclusive and binding on the parties. The cost of any such arbitration (including the fees of the Arbitrator and any other firm selected hereunder) shall be borne 50% by American Radio and 50% by ATS. ATS shall promptly pay to American Radio the amount of the Tower Stock Payment once such amount is determined in accordance with this clause (ii).

FAILURE TO FOLLOW THE STEPS REQUIRED BY SECTION 262 FOR PERFECTING APPRAISAL RIGHTS MAY RESULT IN THE LOSS OF SUCH RIGHTS (IN WHICH EVENT A FORMER STOCKHOLDER OF ARS COMMON STOCK WILL BE ENTITLED TO RECEIVE THE MERGER CONSIDERATION FOR EACH SHARE OF ARS COMMON STOCK ISSUED AND OUTSTANDING IMMEDIATELY PRIOR TO THE EFFECTIVE TIME OWNED BY HIM, HER OR IT).

EXPENSES

Each of the parties will pay its own fees and expenses, except that the Merger Agreement provides that (a) ATS is obligated to indemnify and hold harmless ARS with respect to certain liabilities, and (b) the Merger Agreement provides for an adjustment (the cost or benefit of which is borne or inures to the benefit of ATS) based on the working capital and aggregate debt of ARS at the Closing Date. See "The Merger and Tower Separation--ARS-ATS Separation Agreement". The Merger Agreement also provides that in the event the Merger Agreement is terminated by any party pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (d) under "--Termination--Termination Events" above, then ARS shall pay to CBS a fee equal to $35.0 million, together with the reasonable and reasonably documented out-of-pocket fees and expenses incurred or paid by or on behalf of CBS in connection with the Merger or the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement, including all fees and expenses of its counsel, commercial banks, investment banking firms, accountants, experts and consultants in an aggregate amount not to exceed $5.0 million. Estimated fees and expenses of ARS in connection with the Merger and related transactions (including the Tower Separation and assuming the consummation thereof) are as follows (in millions):

Financial advisory fees and expenses	$ 7.5
Consent solicitation fees and expenses	2.3
Legal and accounting fees and expenses	2.3
Printing and mailing to stockholders	0.4
SEC fees	0.4
Bonus and severance arrangements payable to officers and employees	1.1
Miscellaneous	0.3
Total Fees and Expenses	$14.3

Promptly following the Effective Time, ATS is obligated to pay to ARS in immediately available funds (and make ARS whole on an after-tax basis under the principles set forth in Section 6.17(c)(iv) of the Merger Agreement) an amount equal to the aggregate costs and expenses incurred by ARS in connection with any agreement, arrangement or understanding (other than the Tower Documentation) entered into by ARS, ATS Mergercorp or any member of the American Tower Group following the date of the Original Merger Agreement (x) for the benefit of any member of the American Tower Group, (y) in contemplation of the Tower Separation or (z) in connection with the sale, assignment, transfer or other disposition of shares of ATS Common Stock, including without limitation such costs and expenses incurred by ARS to Merrill Lynch and any such costs and expenses incurred by ARS to Credit Suisse First Boston in excess of those set forth in the engagement letter between ARS and Credit Suisse First Boston provided by ARS to CBS.

DESCRIPTION OF AMERICAN TOWER SYSTEMS CAPITAL STOCK

GENERAL

The authorized capital stock of American Tower Systems consists of 20,000,000 shares of Preferred Stock, $.01 par value per share (the "Preferred Stock") 200,000,000 shares of ATS Class A Common Stock, $.01 par value per share, 50,000,000 shares of ATS Class B Common Stock, $.01 par value per share, and 10,000,000 shares of ATS Class C Common Stock, $.01 par value per share. The outstanding shares of ATS Common Stock (there being no Preferred Stock outstanding) as of February 1, 1998 were as follows: ATS Class A Common Stock--36,351,265; ATS Class B Common Stock--9,320,576; and ATS Class C Common Stock--3,295,518. The Restated Certificate of Incorporation of ATS is identical to the Restated Certificate of Incorporation of ARS. Accordingly, the rights of the holders of ATS Common Stock are identical to the respective rights of the holders of the ARS Common Stock.

PREFERRED STOCK

The 20,000,000 authorized and unissued shares of Preferred Stock may be issued with such designations, preferences, limitations and relative rights as the ATS Board may authorize, including, but not limited to: (i) the distinctive designation of each series and the number of shares that will constitute such series; (ii) the voting rights, if any, of shares of such series; (iii) the dividend rate on the shares of such series, any restriction, limitation or condition upon the payment of such dividends, whether dividends shall be cumulative, and the dates on which dividends are payable; (iv) the prices at which, and the terms and conditions on which, the shares of such series may be redeemed, if such shares are redeemable; (v) the purchase or sinking fund provisions, if any, for the purchase or redemption of shares of such series; (vi) any preferential amount payable upon shares of such series in the event of the liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of ATS or the Tower Separation of its assets; and (vii) the price or rates of conversion at which, and the terms and conditions on which the shares of such series may be converted into other securities, if such shares are convertible. Although ATS has no present intention to issue shares of Preferred Stock, the issuance of Preferred Stock, or the issuance of rights to purchase such shares, could discourage an unsolicited acquisition proposal.

COMMON STOCK

Dividends. Holders of record of shares of ATS Common Stock on the record date fixed by the ATS Board are entitled to receive such dividends as may be declared by the ATS Board out of funds legally available for such purpose. No dividends may be declared or paid in cash or property on any share of any class of ATS Common Stock, however, unless simultaneously the same dividend is declared or paid on each share of the other classes of ATS Common Stock, except that in the event of any such dividend in which shares of stock of any company (including American Tower Systems or any of its Subsidiaries) are distributed, such shares may differ as to voting rights to the extent that voting rights now differ among the different classes of ATS Common Stock. In the case of any dividend payable in shares of ATS Common Stock, holders of each class of ATS Common Stock are entitled to receive the same percentage dividend (payable in shares of that class) as the holders of each other class.

Voting Rights. Except as otherwise required by law and in the election of directors, holders of shares of ATS Class A Common Stock and ATS Class B Common Stock have the exclusive voting rights and will vote as a single class on all matters submitted to a vote of the stockholders, with each share of ATS Class A Common Stock entitled to one vote and each share of ATS Class B Common Stock entitled to ten votes. The holders of the ATS Class A Common Stock, voting as a separate class, have the right to elect two independent directors. The ATS Class C Common Stock is nonvoting except as otherwise required by the DGCL.

Under Delaware law, the affirmative vote of the holders of a majority of the outstanding shares of any class of common stock is required to approve, among other things, a change in the designations, preferences and limitations of the shares of such class of common stock. Under the ATS Restated Certificate, the affirmative vote of the holders of not less than 66 2/3% of the ATS Class A Common Stock and ATS Class B Common Stock, voting as a single class, is required in order to amend most of the provisions of the ATS Restated Certificate, including those relating to the provisions of the various classes of ATS Common Stock, indemnification of directors, exoneration of directors for certain acts, and such super-majority provision.

Conversion Provisions. Shares of ATS Class B Common Stock and, except as hereinafter noted, ATS Class C Common Stock are convertible, at any time at the option of the holder, on a share for share basis into shares of ATS Class A Common Stock. The present owner of ATS Class C Common Stock can convert such stock only in the event of a Conversion Event (as defined in the ATS Restated Certificate) or with the consent of the ATS Board. Shares of ATS Class B Common Stock automatically convert into shares of ATS Class A Common Stock upon any sale, transfer, assignment or other disposition other than to Permitted Transferees (as defined in the ATS Restated Certificate) which term presently includes certain family members, trusts and other family entities and charitable organizations and upon pledges but not to the pledgee upon foreclosure.

It is a condition of consummation of the ATC Merger Agreement that the ATS Restated Certificate be amended to (i) limit the aggregate voting power of Steven B. Dodge (and his Controlled Entities as to be defined therein) to 49.99% of the aggregate voting power of all shares of capital stock entitled to vote generally from the election of directors (less the voting power represented by the shares of ATS Class B Common Stock acquired by the Stoner purchasers pursuant to the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement and owned by them at such time), (ii) prohibit future issuances of ATS Class B Common Stock (except upon exercise of then outstanding options and pursuant to stock dividends or stock splits), (iii) limit transfers of ATS Class B Common Stock to a more narrow group than is provided in the ATS Restated Certificate, (iv) provide for automatic conversion of the ATS Class B Common Stock to ATS Class A Common Stock at such time as the aggregate voting power of Mr. Dodge (and his Controlled Entities) falls below either (x) 50% of their initial aggregate voting power (immediately after consummation of the ATC Merger) or (y) 20% of the aggregate voting power of all shares of ATS Common Stock at the time outstanding, and (v) require consent of the holders of a majority of ATS Class A Common Stock for amendments adversely affecting the ATS Class A Common Stock.

Liquidation Rights. Upon liquidation, dissolution or winding-up of ATS, the holders of each class of ATS Common Stock are entitled to share ratably (based on the number of shares held) in all assets available for distribution after payment in full of creditors and payment in full to any holders of the Preferred Stock then outstanding of any amount required to be paid under the terms of the Preferred Stock.

Other Provisions. The holders of ATS Common Stock are not entitled to preemptive or subscription rights. The shares of ATS Common Stock presently outstanding are validly issued, fully paid and nonassessable. In any merger, consolidation or business combination, the consideration to be received per share by holders of each class of ATS Common Stock must be identical to that received by holders of the other class of ATS Common Stock, except that in any such transaction in which shares of ATS Common Stock (or any other company) are distributed, such shares may differ as to voting rights to the extent that voting rights now differ among the different classes of ATS Common Stock. No class of ATS Common Stock may be subdivided, consolidated, reclassified or otherwise changed unless, concurrently, the other classes of ATS Common Stock are subdivided, consolidated, reclassified or otherwise changed in the same proportion and in the same manner.

DIVIDEND RESTRICTIONS

ATSI is prohibited under the terms of the Tower Loan Agreement from paying cash dividends on its capital stock (including Preferred Stock) except that, beginning on April 15, 2000, Tower Operating Subsidiary may pay cash dividends if (a) no Default exists or would be created thereby under the Tower Loan Agreement, and (b) (ii) the ratio of Total Debt to Annualized Operating Cash Flow is less than 4.0 after giving effect to certain payments required under the Tower Loan Agreement out of the proceeds of any equity offering, and (c) then only to the extent that Restricted Payments do not exceed (i)(x) 50% of Excess Cash Flow for the preceding calendar year minus (y) any portion thereof used to invested in Unrestricted Subsidiaries, or (ii) (x) 50% of the net proceeds of any equity offering minus (y) any portion thereof used to invested in Unrestricted Subsidiaries (as each such term is defined in the Tower Loan Agreement). Comparable restrictions are imposed on the ability of ATSLP to make distributions to its partners. Since American Tower Systems has no other assets other than its ownership of all of the capital stock of the Tower Operating Subsidiary, its ability to pay dividends to its stockholders in the foreseeable future is restricted.

DELAWARE BUSINESS COMBINATION PROVISIONS

Under the DGCL, certain "business combinations" (including the issuance of equity securities) between a Delaware corporation and any person who owns, directly or indirectly, 15% or more of the voting power of the corporation's shares of capital stock (an "Interested Stockholder") must be approved by the holders of at least 66 2/3% of the voting stock not owned by the Interested Stockholder if it occurs within three years of the date such person became an Interested Stockholder unless prior to such date the ATS Board approved either the business combination or the transaction which resulted in the stockholder becoming an Interested Stockholder. The Tower Separation and the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement were approved by the ATS Board.

LISTING OF CLASS A COMMON STOCK

There has been no trading market for the ATS Class A Common Stock, and there can be no assurances as to the establishment or continuity of any such market. However, it is expected that a "when-issued" trading market may develop on or about the consummation of the Merger. ATS intends to seek a Nasdaq listing for the ATS Class A Common Stock. While ATS believes it currently meets the financial listing criteria for Nasdaq listing, no application has been filed, any such listing is subject to the distribution of the relevant exchange and there can be no assurance that a Nasdaq or other listing will be obtained. If a listing is not obtained, the ATS stock would trade in the over-the-counter market which is generally less liquid.

Prices at which the ATS Class A Common Stock may trade after the Merger cannot be predicted. Prices at which trading in shares of ATS Class A Common Stock occurs may fluctuate significantly. See "Risk Factors--Risk Factors Relating to American Tower Systems--No Prior Market for ATS Common Stock". The prices at which the ATS Class A Common Stock trades will be determined by the marketplace and may be influenced by many factors, including, among others, quarter to quarter variations in the actual or anticipated financial results of ATS or other companies in the communications site industry or the markets served by ATS. These and other factors may adversely affect the market price of the ATS Class A Common Stock.

TRANSFER AGENT AND REGISTRAR

The Transfer Agent and Registrar for the ATS Common Stock is Harris Trust and Savings Bank, 311 West Monroe Street, Chicago, Illinois 60606 (telephone number (312) 461-4600).

SHARES ELIGIBLE FOR FUTURE SALE

GENERAL

Upon completion of the ATS Pro Forma Transactions and the Merger, there will be an aggregate of approximately 80.0 million shares of ATS Common Stock outstanding. All of such shares, other than an aggregate of 5,333,333 shares issued in connection with the Gearon Transaction, will be freely transferable without restriction or future registration under the Securities Act, unless held by an "affiliate" (as that term is defined under the Securities Act) of ATS. Persons who may be deemed to be affiliates of ATS after the Merger generally include individuals or entities that directly, or indirectly through one or more intermediaries, control, are controlled by, or are under common control with, ATS. Person who are affiliates of ATS will be permitted to sell their ATS Common Stock received pursuant to the Merger only pursuant to an effective registration statement under the Securities Act or pursuant to an exemption from registration under the Securities Act, such as the exemption afforded by Rule 144 thereunder.

In general, under Rule 144 as currently in effect, any person (or persons whose shares are aggregated) who has beneficially owned restricted shares of ATS Common Stock for at least one year is entitled to sell, within any three-month period, a number of such shares which does not exceed the greater of 1% of the then outstanding shares of ATS Class A Common Stock (approximately 362,000 shares immediately after the Merger and prior to the consummation of the ATC Merger, approximately 660,000 shares thereafter) or the average weekly public trading volume of the ATS Class A Common Stock during the four calendar weeks preceding the date on which notice of the sale is filed with the Commission. Sales under Rule 144 are also subject to certain manner of sale provisions, notice requirements and the availability of current public information about ATS. Any person (or persons whose shares are aggregated) who has not been an affiliate of ATS at any time during the past three months preceding a sale and who has owned shares of ATS Common Stock for at least two years is entitled to sell such shares under Rule 144(k) without regard to the volume limitations, manner of sale provisions, public information or notice requirements of Rule 144. In February 1997, the Commission solicited comments regarding certain proposed amendments to Rule 144, including reducing the aforementioned one year and two year holding periods.

Options to purchase an aggregate of approximately 12.6 million shares of ATS Common Stock will be outstanding immediately following the consummation of the ATS Pro Forma Transactions and the Merger. Shares of ATS Common Stock issued upon exercise of such options will be registered on Form S-8 under the Securities Act and will, therefore, be freely transferable under the securities laws. American Tower Systems has entered into agreements to register shares of ATS Common Stock under the Securities Act issued pursuant to the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement, the ATC Merger and the Gearon Transaction and shares held by certain affiliates of ATS.

American Tower Systems cannot make any predictions as to the effect, if any, sales of shares of ATS Common Stock, or the availability of shares for future sale, will have on the market price of the ATS Class A Common Stock prevailing from time to time.

VALIDITY OF THE SHARES

The validity of the ATS Common Stock to be issued in the Merger will be passed upon by Sullivan & Worcester LLP, Boston, Massachusetts. Norman A. Bikales, a member of the firm of Sullivan & Worcester LLP, is the owner of 9,000 shares of ARS Class A Common Stock and 41,490 shares of ARS Class B Common Stock and has an option to purchase 20,000 shares of ATS Class A Common Stock at $10.00 per share. Mr. Bikales and/or associates of that firm serve as secretary or assistant secretaries of American Radio and certain of its subsidiaries.

INDEX TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT

To the Board of Directors ofAmerican Tower Systems Corporation:

We have audited the accompanying consolidated balance sheets of American Tower Systems Corporation and subsidiaries (the "Company"), a wholly owned subsidiary of American Radio Systems Corporation, as of September 30, 1997 and December 31, 1996 and the related consolidated statements of operations, stockholder's equity and cash flows for the nine months ended September 30, 1997, the year ended December 31, 1996 and the period from July 17, 1995 ("Incorporation") to December 31, 1995. These financial statements are the responsibility of the Company's management. Our responsibility is to express an opinion on these financial statements based on our audits.

We conducted our audits in accordance with generally accepted auditing standards. Those standards require that we plan and perform the audits to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial statements are free of material misstatement. An audit includes examining, on a test basis, evidence supporting the amounts and disclosures in the financial statements. An audit also includes assessing the accounting principles used and significant estimates made by management, as well as evaluating the overall financial statement presentation. We believe that our audits provide a reasonable basis for our opinion.

In our opinion, such consolidated financial statements present fairly, in all material respects, the consolidated financial position of the companies as of September 30, 1997 and December 31, 1996, and the results of their operations and their cash flows for the nine months ended September 30, 1997, the year ended December 31, 1996 and the period from Incorporation to December 31, 1995 in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles.

AMERICAN TOWER SYSTEMS CORPORATION AND SUBSIDIARIES

NOTES TO CONSOLIDATED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. BUSINESS AND SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Business and Corporate Structure--American Tower Systems Corporation and subsidiaries (formerly American Tower Systems Holding Corporation) (collectively, ATS or the Company) is a wholly-owned subsidiary of American Radio Systems Corporation (ARS or the Parent). American Tower Systems (Delaware), Inc. (ATSI) is a wholly-owned subsidiary of the Company which holds substantially all the operating assets and liabilities of the business.

ATSI was incorporated on July 17, 1995 (Incorporation) for the purpose of acquiring, developing, marketing, managing and operating wireless communications tower sites throughout the United States, for use by communications related businesses, such as paging companies, cellular telephone providers, fixed microwave transmission companies, specialized mobile radio companies, and television and radio broadcasters. As of September 30, 1997, the Company owned and/or operated approximately 370 wireless communication sites, principally in the Northeast and Mid-Atlantic regions, Florida and California.

In September 1997, ARS entered into a merger agreement (the Merger Agreement) with a subsidiary of CBS Corporation (formerly Westinghouse Electric Corporation) (CBS), pursuant to which a subsidiary of CBS will merge with and into ARS, each holder of ARS common stock at the effective time of the merger will receive $44.00 per share in cash, and ARS will become a subsidiary of CBS (the Merger). As part to the Merger, ARS will distribute all of its outstanding shares of ATS common stock owned by ARS to the holders of record of ARS common stock at or about the time of the Merger (the Tower Separation). As a result of the Tower Separation, ATS will cease to be a subsidiary of, or otherwise be affiliated with ARS, and will thereafter operate as an independent publicly held company. ARS and ATS will enter into certain agreements pursuant to the Merger Agreement providing for, among other things, the orderly separation of ARS and ATS, the transfer of lease obligations to ATS of leased space on certain towers owned or leased by ARS to ATS, and the allocation of certain tax liabilities between ARS and ATS. The Tower Separation will result in a taxable gain to ARS, of which approximately $20.0 million will be borne by ARS and the remaining obligation (currently estimated at approximately $66.6 million) will be required to be paid by ATS pursuant to provisions of the Merger Agreement. The estimated tax liability shown in the preceding sentence is based on an assumed fair market value of the ATS Common Stock of $10.00 per share, which is the price at which shares were issued pursuant to the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement. This liability is expected to be paid with borrowings under ATS' loan agreement. (See Note 12).

To facilitate the Tower Separation, the Company's common stock will be divided into three classes, A, B, and C, consistent with the capital structure of ARS. Each holder of ARS stock will receive a share of ATS stock with the same designation and rights and privileges as the related ARS share. (See Note 12).

Prior to the Tower Separation, ARS intends to increase its overall investment in ATS to approximately $150.0 million, contribute tower properties with a net book value of approximately $4.2 million and ATS intends to sell shares of common stock for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $80.0 million to certain of the stockholders of ARS, of which approximately $50.0 million will be issued in exchange for promissory notes, secured by ARS Common Stock. In addition, following the Merger, ATS will assume ARS' lease obligation with respect to ARS' corporate headquarters in Boston, Massachusetts and certain senior executives of ARS will become employees of ATS. Future lease payments required under the lease agreement assumed aggregate approximately $1.6 million through July 2006. (See Note 12).

The Merger has been approved by the stockholders of ARS who hold sufficient voting power to approve such action. Consummation of the Merger is subject to, among other things, the expiration or earlier termination of the waiting period under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Antitrust Improvements Act of 1976, as amended (HSR Act) and the approval by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC) of the transfer of control of ARS' FCC licenses with respect to its radio stations to CBS. Subject to the satisfaction of such conditions, the Merger is expected to be consummated in the spring of 1998.

Principles of Consolidation and Basis of Presentation--The accompanying consolidated financial statements include the accounts of the Company and its subsidiaries. All significant intercompany accounts and transactions have been eliminated. Investments in affiliates, where ATS owns more than 20 percent of the voting power of the affiliate but not in excess of 50 percent, are accounted for using the equity method. Separate financial information regarding equity method investees is not significant. The Company also consolidates its 50.1% interest and its 70.0% interest in two other tower communications limited liability companies, with the other members' investments reflected as minority interest in subsidiaries in the accompanying financial statements.

Through September 30, 1997, ATS effectively operated as a stand-alone entity, with its own corporate staff and headquarters, and received minimal assistance from personnel of the Parent. Accordingly, the accompanying consolidated financial statements do not include any cost allocations from the Parent. However, the consolidated financial statements may not reflect the results of operations or financial position of ATS had it been an independent public company during the periods presented.

Use of Estimates--The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results may differ from those estimates, and such differences could be material to the financial statements.

Revenue Recognition--Tower and sublease revenues are recognized when earned. Escalation clauses and other incentives present in lease agreements are recognized on a straight-line basis over the term of the leases. Management fee revenues are recognized when earned. Consulting revenues are recognized as such services are provided. Amounts billed or received prior to services being performed are deferred until such time as the revenue is earned.

Corporate General and Administrative Expense--Corporate general and administrative expense consists of corporate overhead costs not specifically allocable to any of the Company's individual business properties.

Concentration of Credit Risk--The Company extends credit to customers on an unsecured basis in the normal course of business. The Company has policies governing the extension of credit and collection of amounts due from customers.

Derivative Financial Instruments--The Company uses derivative financial instruments as a means of managing interest-rate risk associated with current debt or anticipated debt transactions that have a high probability of being executed. The Company's interest rate protection agreements generally consist of interest rate swap agreements and interest rate cap agreements. These instruments are matched with either fixed or variable rate debt and payments thereon, are recorded on a settlement basis as an adjustment to interest expense. Premiums paid to purchase interest rate cap agreements are amortized as an adjustment of interest expense over the life of the contract. Derivative financial instruments are not held for trading purposes. (See Note 4).

Cash and Cash Equivalents--Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, demand deposits and short-term investments with remaining maturities when purchased of three months or less.

Property and Equipment and Intangible Assets--Property and equipment are recorded at cost, or at estimated fair value in the case of acquired properties. Cost includes expenditures for communications sites and related assets and the net amount of interest cost associated with significant capital additions. Approximately $258,000 and $120,000 of interest was capitalized for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 and the year ended December 31, 1996, respectively. Depreciation is provided using the straight-line method over estimated useful lives ranging from three to fifteen years.

The excess of purchase price over the estimated fair value of net assets acquired has been preliminarily recorded as unallocated purchase price and is being amortized over an estimated aggregate useful life of fifteen years using the straight-line method. Accumulated amortization aggregated approximately $2,025,000 at September 30, 1997 and $356,000 at December 31, 1996. The consolidated financial statements reflect the preliminary allocation of certain purchase prices as the appraisals for some acquisitions have not yet been finalized. The Company is currently conducting studies to determine the purchase price allocations and expects that upon final allocation the average estimated useful life will approximate fifteen years. The final allocation of purchase price is not expected to have a material effect on the Company's results of operations, liquidity or financial position. Other intangible assets consist principally of a noncompetition agreement, deferred financing costs and deferred acquisition costs and are being amortized over their estimated useful lives, generally five years. (See Note 3).

Note Receivable--In connection with an acquisition described in Note 11, the Company agreed to advance the sellers an amount not to exceed $1,400,000 of which an aggregate of approximately $260,000 was advanced. The advance bore interest at 8.5%, was unsecured, and was due in full at the earlier of the consummation of the acquisition or June 30, 2000. The note was repaid upon consummation of the acquisition in October 1997.

Income Taxes--Deferred taxes are provided to reflect temporary differences in basis between book and tax assets and liabilities, and net operating loss carryforwards. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using currently enacted tax rates. ATS files as part of a consolidated filing group with ARS; there are no significant differences between the tax provision or benefit recorded and the amounts measured on a separate return basis. (See Note 7).

Pro forma Loss Per Share--The pro forma loss per share for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 and the year ended December 31, 1996 has been computed using the number of ATS shares expected to be distributed to ARS shareholders as part of the Tower Separation. (See Note 12).

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets--Recoverability of long-lived assets is determined by periodically comparing the forecasted undiscounted net cash flows of the operations to which the assets relate to the carrying amount, including associated intangible assets of such operations. Through September 30, 1997, no impairments requiring adjustment have occurred.

Stock-Based Compensation--Compensation related to equity grants or awards to employees is measured using the intrinsic value method prescribed by Accounting Principles Board Opinion No. 25. (See Note 8).

Fair Value of Financial Instruments--The Company believes that the carrying value of all financial instruments, excluding the interest rate protection agreements, is a reasonable estimate of fair value as of September 30, 1997 and December 31, 1996. The fair value of the interest rate protection agreements are obtained from independent market quotes. These values represent the amount the Company would receive or pay to terminate the agreements taking into consideration current market interest rates. The Company would expect to pay approximately $15,000 to settle these agreements at September 30, 1997. (See Note 4).

Retirement Plan--Employees of the Company are eligible for participation in a 401(k) plan sponsored by ARS, subject to certain minimum age and length-of-employment requirements. Administrative expenses of the Plan are borne by ARS and are not significant to ATS. Under the plan, the Company matches 30% of the participants' contributions up to 5% of compensation. The Company contributed approximately $10,800 and $6,000 for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 and the year ended December 31, 1996, respectively. The Company's contributions for the nine months ended September 30, 1996 and for the period from Incorporation to December 31, 1995 were not material.

Unaudited Interim Financial Information--In the opinion of management, the financial statements and related footnote disclosures for the unaudited 1996 period presented include all adjustments necessary for a fair presentation in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, consisting solely of normal recurring accruals and adjustments. The results of operations and cash flows for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 and 1996 are not necessarily indicative of results that would be expected for a full year.

Recent Accounting Pronouncements--In February 1997, the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB) released Statement of Financial Accounting Standards (FAS) No. 128, "Earnings Per Share" which ATS will adopt in the fourth quarter of 1997.

In June 1997, the FASB released FAS No. 131 "Disclosures about Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information" (FAS 131). This pronouncement will be effective in 1998. FAS 131 established standards for reporting information about the operating segments in its annual report and interim reports. ATS will adopt this statement in the first quarter of 1998.

Reclassifications--Certain reclassifications have been made to the 1995 and 1996 financial statements to conform with the 1997 presentation.

Less current portion	(108,457)	(117,362)
Long-term debt	$54,094,507	$4,417,896

Loan Agreements--In October 1997, ATSI entered into a new loan agreement with a syndicate of banks (the Loan Agreement), which replaced the previously existing credit agreement. All amounts outstanding under the previous agreement were repaid with proceeds from the Loan Agreement; the following discussion, with the exception of the information regarding interest rates and availability under the agreements, is based on the terms and conditions of the Loan Agreement. Collectively, the previous loan agreement and the 1997 loan agreement are referred to as the Loan Agreements.

The Loan Agreement provides ATSI with a $250.0 million loan commitment based on ATSI maintaining certain operational ratios, and an additional $150.0 million loan at the discretion of ATSI. The Loan Agreement may be borrowed, repaid and reborrowed without reducing the availability until June 2005 except as specified in the Loan agreement; thereafter, availability decreases in an amount equal to 50% of excess cash flow, as defined in the Loan Agreement, for the fiscal year immediately preceding the calculation date. In addition, the Loan Agreement requires commitment reductions in the event of sale of ATSI's common stock or debt instruments, and/or permitted asset sales, as defined in the Loan Agreement.

Outstanding amounts under the Loan Agreements bear interest at either LIBOR (5.72% as of September 30, 1997 and 5.78% as of December 31, 1996) plus 1.0% to 2.25% or Base Rate, as defined in the Loan Agreements, plus 0.00% to 1.00%. The spread over LIBOR and the Base Rate varies from time to time, depending upon the Company's financial leverage. Under certain circumstances, the Company may request that rates be fixed or capped. For the nine months ended September 30, 1997 and year ended December 31, 1996 the weighted average interest rate of the Loan Agreements was 7.23% and 8.75%, respectively.

There was $37.5 million, and $67.5 million available under the Loan Agreements at September 30, 1997 and December 31, 1996, respectively. ATSI pays quarterly commitment fees ranging from .375% to .50%, based on ATSI's financial leverage and the aggregate unused portion of the aggregated commitment. Commitment fees paid related to the Loan Agreements aggregated approximately $196,000, and $24,000 for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 and year ended December 31, 1996, respectively.

The Loan Agreement contains certain financial and operational covenants and other restrictions with which ATSI must comply, whether or not any borrowings are outstanding, including among others, maintenance of certain financial ratios, limitations on acquisitions, additional indebtedness and capital expenditures, as well as restrictions on cash distributions unless certain financial tests are met, and the use of borrowings. The obligations of ATSI under the Loan Agreement are collateralized by a first priority security interest in substantially all of the assets of ATSI. ATS has pledged all of its stock to the banks as security for ATSI's obligations under the Loan Agreement. The Loan Agreement is expected to be amended to provide for the Tower Separation.

Following the closing of the Loan Agreement in October 1997, ATSI incurred an extraordinary loss of approximately $1,156,000 (approximately $694,000 net of the applicable income tax benefit) representing the write-off of deferred financing fees associated with the previous agreement.

Derivative Positions--Under the terms of the Loan Agreement, ATSI is required, under certain conditions, to enter into interest rate protection agreements. There were no such agreements outstanding at December 31, 1996. As of September 30, 1997, ATSI maintained a swap agreement, expiring in January 2001, under which the interest rate is fixed with respect to $7.3 million of notional principal amount at approximately 6.4%. ATSI also maintained a cap agreement, expiring in July 2000, under which the interest rate is fixed with respect to $21.6 million of notional principal amount at approximately 9.5%. ATSI's exposure under these agreements is limited to the impact of variable interest rate fluctuations and the periodic settlement of amounts due under these agreements if the other parties fail to perform.

Note Payable--Other--A limited liability company, which is under majority control of the Company, has a note secured by the minority shareholder's interest in the limited liability company. Interest rates under this note are determined, at the option of the corporation, at either the Floating Rate (as defined in the note agreement), the Federal Home Loan Bank of Boston rate plus 2.35% or the Treasury Fixed Rate plus 3%. As of September 30, 1997 and December 31, 1996, the effective interest rate on borrowings under this note was 8.02%. The note is payable in equal monthly principal payments with interest through 2008.

Other Obligations--In connection with various acquisitions, the Company has assumed certain long-term obligations of the acquired entities. These obligations bear interest at rates ranging from 9% to 10% and are payable in various monthly installments through 2007. Substantially all of these obligations were repaid during 1997, with the remaining unpaid obligation bearing interest at 9% and payable in monthly installments through 2007.

Future principal payments required under the Company's financing arrangements at September 30, 1997 are approximately:

Period Ending:
Three months ending December 31, 1997	$ 26,000
Year ending December 31, 1998	110,000
Year ending December 31, 1999	119,000
Year ending December 31, 2000	128,000
Year ending December 31, 2001	137,000
Year ending December 31, 2002	148,000
Thereafter	53,535,000
Total	$54,203,000

5. COMMITMENTS AND CONTINGENCIES

Lease Obligations--The Company leases space for its existing offices in Florida and Virginia and space on various communications towers and land under operating leases that expire over various terms. The Company also subleases space on communications towers under substantially the same terms and conditions, including cancellation rights, as those found in its own lease contracts. Most leases allow cancellation at will or under certain technical circumstances. Many of the leases also contain renewal options with specified increases in lease payments upon exercise of the renewal option.

Future minimum rental payments under noncancelable leases in effect at September 30, 1997 are approximately as follows:

Period Ending:
Three months ending December 31, 1997	$ 398,000

Aggregate rent expense under operating leases for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 and 1996, and the years ended December 31, 1996 and 1995 approximated $945,000, $78,000, $420,000, and $5,000, respectively.

Customer Leases--As described in Note 1, the Company leases space on its various tower properties (both owned and managed) to customers. Leases are typically for set periods of time, although some leases are cancellable at the customers' option and others are automatically renewed and have no fixed term. Long-term leases typically contain provisions for renewals and specified rent increases over the lease term.

Future minimum rental receipts expected to be received from customers under noncancelable lease agreements in effect at September 30, 1997 are approximately as follows:

Period Ending:
Three months ending December 31, 1997	$ 3,277,000

See Notes 9, 11 and 12 for information with respect to acquisition and related commitments.

Litigation--ATS periodically becomes involved in various claims and lawsuits that are incidental to its business. In the opinion of management, there are no matters currently pending which would, in the event of adverse outcome, have a material impact on the Company's consolidated financial position, the results of operations or liquidity.

6. RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Company received revenues of approximately $255,000 and $70,000 from ARS for tower rentals at Company-owned sites for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 and the year ended December 31, 1996, respectively.

ARS has contributed all of the Company's capitalization and had funded, through December 1996, substantially all of the acquisitions described in Note 9.

During January 1996, ARS contributed a tract of undeveloped land of approximately two acres to the Company. The transfer was recorded at ARS' book value of approximately $425,000.

In March 1996, ARS contributed approximately 200 acres of undeveloped land to the Company. The transfer was recorded at ARS' book value of approximately $2.3 million.

In November 1996, the Company transferred a tract of land to ARS. The transfer was recorded at ATS' book value of approximately $1.1 million.

In December 1996, ARS contributed a tower site and related assets in Peabody, Massachusetts to the Company at ARS' book value, which aggregated approximately $1.1 million.

In December 1996, ARS contributed a tower site and related assets located in Philadelphia, Pennsylvania, to the Company. These assets were contributed at their initial estimated fair value of approximately $1.5 million, based on a preliminary appraisal. In June 1997, the fair value of the tower site and related assets was determined to be approximately $775,000 based on a final independent appraisal. The net book value and contributions from parent balance was adjusted by approximately $725,000 to reflect the change in estimate. This change in estimate did not have a material effect on the consolidated financial position or the results of operations of ATS.

7. INCOME TAXES

Effective October 15, 1996, the Company entered into a tax sharing agreement with ARS. In accordance with this agreement, the Company's share of the consolidated federal income tax benefit (liability) is calculated as a portion of ARS' consolidated income tax benefit (liability). Any income tax benefit (provision) attributable to the Company is payable to (due from) ARS. The Company's reported provision or benefit is not significantly different from what would have been recorded on a separate return basis.

The income tax benefit (provision) was comprised of the following:

	NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30,		PERIOD ENDED DECEMBER 31,
	1997	1996	1996	1995
Current:
Federal	$ 319,922	$ 130,914	$ 53,907	$ 62,503
State	93,429	23,103	9,418	10,921
Deferred:
Federal	(310,196)	(182,738)	(92,547)

Income tax benefit (provision)	$ 49,039	$ (69,308)	$ (45,390)	$ 73,424

A reconciliation between the U.S. statutory rate and the effective rate was as follows for the periods presented:

	NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30,		PERIOD ENDED DECEMBER 31,
	1997	1996	1996	1995
Statutory tax rate	(34)%	(34)%	(34)%	(34)%

Nondeductible intangible amortization	34	58	57
Other			1
Effective tax rate	(6)%	18 %	18 %	(40)%

Significant components of the Company's deferred tax assets and liabilities were composed of the following:

	SEPTEMBER 30, 1997	DECEMBER 31, 1996
Assets:
Allowances for financial reporting purposes which are currently nondeductible	$ 440,522
Net operating loss carryforwards		$ 2,071

8. STOCKHOLDER'S EQUITY

Stock Option Plan--ATSI has a stock option plan which provides for the granting of options to employees to acquire up to 1,000,000 shares of the common stock of ATSI. These options are expected to be converted into options to acquire stock of ATS, as part of the Tower Separation. Exercise prices in the case of incentive stock options are not less than the fair value of the underlying common stock on the date of grant. Exercise prices in the case of non-qualified stock options are set at the discretion of the Board of Directors. Options vest ratably over various periods, generally five years, commencing one year from the date of grant. There have been no option grants at exercise prices different from fair value.

The following table summarizes the option activity for the periods presented:

	OPTIONS	EXERCISE PRICE PER SHARE	NUMBER CURRENTLY EXERCISABLE	WEIGHTED AVERAGE REMAINING LIFE (YEARS)
Granted during 1996 and outstanding at December 31, 1996	550,000	$5.00	160,000	8.91
Granted	167,000	$7.50-$8.00		9.47
Cancelled	(40,000)	$5.00
Outstanding as of September 30, 1997	677,000		160,000	9.09

As described in Note 1, the intrinsic value method is used to determine compensation associated with stock option grants. No compensation cost has been recognized to date for grants under the Plan. Had compensation cost for the Company's stock option plan been determined based on the fair value of the grant date for awards in 1996 and 1997 consistent with the provisions of SFAS 123, the Company's net loss would have been approximately $882,000 for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 and approximately $568,000 for the year ended December 31, 1996.

The "fair value" of each option grant is estimated on the date of grant using the minimum value method based on the following key assumptions: risk-free interest rate of 6.53% and expected lives of 5 years. In accordance with the provisions of SFAS 123, since the Company's stock is not publicly traded, expected volatility in stock price has been omitted in determining the fair value for options granted.

In November 1997, ATS instituted the 1997 Stock Option Plan which provides for the granting of options to employees to acquire up to 10,000,000 shares of ATS Class A and Class B Common Stock. The Plan is expected to be amended in connection with the ATC Merger, described in Note 12, to limit future grants to Class A Common Stock.

9. ACQUISITIONS

1997 Acquisitions--

In September 1997, the Company acquired nine tower sites in Massachusetts and Rhode Island for approximately $7.2 million and land in Oklahoma for approximately $0.6 million.

In August 1997, the Company acquired six tower sites in Connecticut and Rhode Island for approximately $1.5 million.

In July 1997, the Company, in individual transactions, acquired the following:

(i) the assets of three affiliated entities which owned and operated approximately fifty towers and a tower site management business in southern California for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $33.5 million;

(ii) the assets of one tower site in Washington, D.C. for approximately $0.9 million;

(iii) the assets of six tower sites in Pennsylvania for approximately $0.3 million and

(iv) the rights to build five tower sites in Maryland for approximately $0.5 million.

In May 1997, the Company acquired 21 tower sites and a tower site management business in Georgia, North Carolina and South Carolina for approximately $5.4 million. The agreement also provides for additional payments by the Company if the seller is able to arrange for the purchase or management of tower sites presently owned by an unaffiliated public utility in South Carolina, which payments could aggregate up to approximately $1.2 million.

In May 1997, the Company acquired the assets of two affiliated companies engaged in the site acquisition business in various locations in the United States for approximately $13.0 million.

In May 1997, the Company and an unaffiliated party formed a limited liability company to own and operate communication towers which will be constructed on over 50 tower sites in northern California. The Company advanced approximately $0.8 million to this entity and currently owns a 70% interest in the entity, with the remaining 30% owned by an unaffiliated party. The Company is obligated to provide additional financing for the construction of these and any additional towers it may approve; the obligation for such 50 tower sites is estimated to be approximately $5.3 million. The accounts of the limited liability company are included in the consolidated financial statements with the other party's investment reflected as minority interest in subsidiary.

In May 1997, the Company acquired three tower sites in Massachusetts for approximately $0.26 million.

In February 1996, the Company acquired Skyline Communications and Skyline Antenna Management in exchange for an aggregate of 26,989 shares of ARS Class A common stock, having a fair value of approximately $774,000, $2.2 million in cash, and the assumption of approximately $300,000 of long-term debt which was paid at closing. Skyline Communications owned eight towers, six of which are in West Virginia and the remaining two in northern Virginia. Skyline Antenna Management managed more than 200 antenna sites, primarily in the northeast region of the United States.

In April 1996, the Company acquired BDS Communications, Inc. and BRIDAN Communications Corporation for 257,495 shares of ARS Class A common stock having a fair value of approximately $7.4 million and $1.9 million in cash of which approximately $1.5 million was paid at closing. BDS Communications owned three towers in Pennsylvania and BRIDAN Communications managed or had sublease agreements on approximately forty tower sites located throughout the mid-Atlantic region.

In July 1996, the Company entered into a limited liability corporation agreement with an unaffiliated party relating to the ownership and operation of a tower site in Needham, Massachusetts, whereby the Company acquired a 50.1% interest in the corporation for approximately $3.8 million in cash. The accounts of the limited liability corporation are included in the consolidated financial statements with the other party's investment reflected as minority interest in subsidiary.

In October 1996, the Company acquired the assets of tower sites in Hampton, Virginia and North Stonington, Connecticut for approximately $1.4 million and $1.0 million in cash, respectively.

Substantially all of the 1996 acquisitions were consummated by ARS and the net assets were subsequently contributed to the Company. The following schedule summarizes the above-described 1996 acquisitions:

	SKYLINE	BDS/ BRIDAN	NEEDHAM	HAMPTON	STONINGTON	TOTAL
Cash paid by Parent.....	$2,453,761	$1,906,629	$3,843,559	$1,368,791	$1,008,712	$10,581,452
Stock issued by Parent..	773,505	7,379,807				8,153,312
Liabilities assumed.....	519,637	100,000	1,600,000			2,219,637
Purchase price of net assets acquired.....	$3,746,903	$9,386,436	$5,443,559	$1,368,791	$1,008,712	$20,954,401

The acquisitions consummated during 1996 and 1997 have been accounted for by the purchase method of accounting. The purchase price has been allocated to the assets acquired, principally intangible and tangible assets, and the liabilities assumed based on their estimated fair values at the date of acquisition. The excess of purchase price over the estimated fair value of the net assets acquired has been recorded as unallocated purchase price. The financial statements reflect the preliminary allocation of certain purchase prices as the appraisals of the assets acquired have not been finalized. The Company does not expect any changes in depreciation and amortization as a result of such appraisals to be material to the statement of operations.

Unaudited Pro Forma Operating Results--The operating results of these acquisitions have been included in the Company's consolidated results of operations from the date of acquisition. The following unaudited pro forma summary presents the consolidated results of operations as if the acquisitions had occurred as of January 1, 1996 after giving effect to certain adjustments, including depreciation and amortization of assets and interest expense on debt incurred to fund the acquisitions. These unaudited pro forma results have been prepared for comparative purposes only and do not purport to be indicative of what would have occurred had the acquisitions been made as of January 1, 1996 or results which may occur in the future.

11. SUBSEQUENT EVENTS

Pending Transactions:

In October 1997, the Company entered into an agreement to acquire the outstanding stock of a company operating in Florida (OPM-USA-INC. or OPM) for a maximum purchase price of approximately $105.0 million. By December 31, 1997 such company is expected to own approximately ninety towers. The final purchase price is contingent upon the actual number of towers that have been built, and sites permitted and the actual cashflows generated from those towers. The Company has also agreed to provide financing to the seller on identified sites which are in various stages of receiving site permits to enable the seller to construct additional towers; the aggregate amount of such financing cannot exceed $37.0 million. (See Note 12).

In October 1997, the Company entered into an agreement to acquire a communications site with six towers in Tucson, Arizona for approximately $12.0 million. (See Note 12).

Consummation of these transactions is conditioned on various matters, including, in the case of the OPM transaction, the expiration or earlier termination of the HSR Act waiting period. Subject to the satisfaction of such conditions, the acquisitions are expected to be consummated in the first quarter of 1998.

The Company is also pursuing the acquisitions of tower properties and tower businesses in new and existing locations, although there are no definitive purchase agreements with respect thereto. (See Note 12).

Consummated Transactions:

In October 1997, the Company acquired two affiliated entities operating approximately 110 tower sites and a tower site management business located principally in northern California for approximately $45.0 million. In connection therewith, the Company had also agreed to loan up to $0.65 million to the sellers on an unsecured basis, of which approximately $0.26 million had been advanced through September 30, 1997 and was re-paid at closing.

In October 1997, the Company acquired tower sites and certain video, voice and data transport operations for approximately $70.25 million. The acquired business owned or leased approximately 128 tower sites, principally in the Mid-Atlantic region, with the remainder in California and Texas.

12. EVENTS SUBSEQUENT TO DATE OF INDEPENDENT AUDITORS' REPORT (UNAUDITED)

Authorized Shares:

In November 1997, the Company restated its certificate of incorporation to increase the aggregate number of shares of all classes of stock which it is authorized to issue to 280,000,000 shares as follows: 20,000,000 shares of preferred stock $.01 par value per share, 260,000,000 shares of common stock $.01 par value per share, of which 200,000,000 is Class A, 50,000,000 is Class B and 10,000,000 is Class C.

Consummated Transactions:

In November 1997, the Company entered into an agreement to acquire all of the outstanding stock of a company based in Atlanta, Georgia for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $80.0 million consisting of approximately $32.0 million in cash and assumed liabilities and the issuance of approximately 5.3 million shares of ATS Class A common stock. The company acquired is engaged in site acquisition, development, construction and facility management of wireless network communication facilities on behalf of its customers and owns or has under construction approximately 40 tower sites. Consummation of the transaction occurred in January 1998. Following consummation, the Company granted options to acquire up to 1,200,000 shares of Class A Common Stock at an exercise price of $13 to employees of the acquired company.

In December 1997, the Company entered into a merger agreement with American Tower Corporation (ATC) pursuant to which ATC will merge with and into ATS which will be the surviving corporation. Pursuant to the merger, ATS expects to issue an aggregate of approximately 31.1 million shares of ATS class A common stock (including shares issuable upon exercise of options to acquire ATC common stock which will become options to acquire ATS class A common stock). ATC is engaged in the business of acquiring, developing, and leasing wireless communications sites to companies using or providing cellular telephone, paging, microwave and specialized mobile radio services. ATC currently owns and operates approximately 775 communications towers located in 31 states primarily in the Western, Eastern and Southern United States. Consummation of the transaction is subject to, among other things, the expiration or earlier termination of the HSR Act waiting period, and is expected to occur in the spring of 1998.

In January 1998, ATS consummated the acquisition of OPM, a company which owned approximately 90 towers at the time of acquisition. In addition, OPM is in the process of developing an additional approximately 160 towers that are expected to be constructed during the next 12 to 18 months. The purchase price, which is variable and based on the number of towers completed and the forward cash flow of the completed OPM towers, could aggregate up to $105.0 million, of which approximately $21.3 million was paid at the closing. ATS has also agreed to provide the financing to OPM to enable it to construct the 160 towers in an aggregate amount not to exceed $37.0 million (less advances as of consummation aggregating approximately $5.7 million).

In January 1998, ATS consummated the purchase of a communications site with six towers in Tucson, Arizona for approximately $12.0 million.

In January 1998, ARS transferred to ATS 14 of the 16 communications sites currently used by ARS and various third parties, and ARS and ATS entered into leases or subleases of space on the towers transferred. The remaining two communications sites will be transferred and leases entered into following acquisition by ARS of the sites from third parties.

In February 1998, ATS acquired 11 communications tower sites in northern California for approximately $11.8 million.

Pending Transactions:

In January 1998, ATS entered into an agreement to purchase the assets relating to a teleport serving the Washington, D.C. area for a purchase price of approximately $30.5 million. The facility is located in northern Virginia, inside of the Washington Beltway, on ten acres. Consummation of the transaction, which is subject to certain conditions, including receipt of FCC approvals and the expiration or earlier termination of the HSR Act waiting period, is expected to occur in the first half of 1998.

ATS Stock Purchase Agreement:

On January 22, 1998, ATS consummated a stock purchase agreement (the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement), dated as of January 8, 1998, with Steven B. Dodge, Chairman of the Board, President and Chief Executive Officer of ARS and ATS, and certain other officers and directors of ARS (or their affiliates or family members or family trusts), pursuant to which those persons purchased 8.0 million shares of ATS Common Stock at a purchase price of $10.00 per share for an aggregate purchase price of $80.0 million, including 4.0 million shares by Mr. Dodge for $40.0 million. Payment of the purchase price was in the form of cash aggregating approximately $30.6 million and in the form of notes aggregating approximately $49.4 million due on the earlier of the consummation of the Merger or, in the event the Merger Agreement is terminated, December 31, 2000. The notes bear interest at the six-month London Interbank Rate, from time to time, plus 1.5% per annum, and are secured by shares of ARS Common Stock having a fair market value of not less than 175% of the principal amount of and accrued and unpaid interest on the note. The notes are prepayable at any time at the option of the obligor and will be due and payable, at the option of the Company, in the event of certain defaults as described herein.

Tower Separation:

Based on the $10.00 per share price paid pursuant to the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement, the Tower Separation will result in a taxable gain to ARS, of which approximately $20.0 million will be borne by ARS and the remaining obligation (currently estimated at approximately $66.6 million) will be required to be paid by ATS pursuant to provisions of the Merger Agreement. This liability is expected to be paid with borrowings under ATS' loan agreement. The estimated tax liability shown in the preceding sentence is based on an assumed fair market value of the ATS Common Stock of $10.00 per share, which is the price at which shares were issued pursuant to the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement. Such estimated tax liability would increase or decrease by approximately $14.8 million for each $1.00 per share increase or decrease in the fair market value of the ATS Common Stock.

The Merger Agreement also provides for closing date balance sheet adjustments based upon the working capital and specified debt levels (including the liquidation preference of the ARS Cumulative Preferred Stock) of ARS at the effective time of the Merger which may result in payments to be made by either ARS or ATS to the other party following the closing date of the Merger. ATS will benefit from or bear the cost of such adjustments. Since the amounts of working capital and debt are dependent upon future operations and events, including without limitation cash flow from operations, capital expenditures, and expenses of the Merger and the Tower Separation, neither ARS nor ATS is able to state with any degree of certainty what payments, if any, will be owed following the closing date by either ARS or ATS to the other party. However, based on certain assumptions, ARS has estimated that the payment, if any, required to be paid or to be received by ATS will not be material as a result of those provisions.

NOTES TO COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

DECEMBER 31, 1996 AND SEPTEMBER 30, 1997
(INFORMATION AS OF SEPTEMBER 30, 1997, AND FOR THE NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 1996 AND 1997, IS UNAUDITED)

NOTE A--SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

This summary of significant accounting policies of MicroNet, Inc. and affiliates (the "Company") is presented to assist in understanding its combined financial statements. These accounting policies conform to generally accepted accounting principles and have been consistently applied in the preparation of the combined financial statements.

Basis of Presentation and Combination

The accompanying combined statements of net assets to be sold to American Tower Systems, Inc. ("ATS") are intended to present the assets and liabilities of the Company expected to be transferred to ATS (the "Net Assets") pursuant to an asset purchase agreement between ATS and Suburban Cable TV Co. Inc. ("Suburban") and the income and cash flows derived from such assets and liabilities. MicroNet is a wholly owned subsidiary of Suburban (the "Company's Parent"), which is a wholly owned subsidiary of Lenfest Communications, Inc. ("LCI"). As of July 8, 1997, the Company agreed to sell substantially all of the operating assets of its communication towers, satellite transmission and microwave video and data signal transmission businesses to ATS for approximately $70.25 million. The accompanying combined statements include 128 operating tower sites of the Company, including 28 tower sites operated by Suburban and other cable TV operating subsidiaries of LCI. The transaction closed as of October 31, 1997.

The combined financial statements include the accounts of MicroNet, Inc. and those of all wholly owned subsidiaries, excluding the assets, liabilities and results of operations of assets not sold to ATS. The combined financial statements also include the assets, liabilities and results of operations of the 28 tower sites included in the sale that are operated by Suburban and other cable TV operating subsidiaries of LCI.

Business Activity and Concentrations of Credit Risk

The Company provides satellite and microwave transmission of video, voice and data communications and tower site rental throughout the United States. The Company grants credit to broadcast and cable networks and cellular and paging companies throughout the nation. Consequently, the Company's ability to collect the amounts due from customers is affected by economic fluctuations in these industries.

Unaudited Interim Financial Information

The interim financial statements as of September 30, 1997, and for the nine months ended September 30, 1996 and 1997, are unaudited; however, in the opinion of the management of the Company, all adjustments (consisting solely of normal recurring adjustments) necessary for a fair presentation of the combined financial statements on the same basis as the audited combined financial statements for these interim periods have been made. The results for the interim periods ended September 30, 1996 and 1997, are not necessarily indicative of the results to be obtained for a full fiscal year.

Use of Estimates

The preparation of the combined financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amount of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the combined financial statements and reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results may differ from those estimates, and such differences could be material to the combined financial statements.

Property and Equipment

Property and equipment are stated at cost. For acquired communication networks and facilities, the purchase price has been allocated to net assets on the basis of appraisal reports issued by an independent appraiser. Depreciation is provided using the accelerated and straight-line methods of depreciation for financial reporting purposes at rates based on estimated useful lives ranging from 3 to 33 years.

Expenditures for renewals and betterments that extend the useful lives of property and equipment are capitalized. Expenditures for maintenance and repairs are charged to expense as incurred.

Capitalization of Costs

All costs properly attributable to capital items, including that portion of employees' compensation allocable to installation, engineering, design, construction and various other capital projects are capitalized.

Goodwill and Intangible Assets

Goodwill and intangible assets acquired in connection with the purchases of communications networks and facilities have been valued at acquisition cost on the basis of the allocation of the purchase price on a fair market value basis to net assets as determined by an independent appraiser. Additions to these assets are stated at cost. Intangible assets consist of FCC licenses, organization costs and covenants not to compete. The intangible assets are being amortized on the straight-line method over their legal or estimated useful lives to a maximum of forty (40) years. Goodwill represents the cost of an acquired partnership interest in excess of amounts allocated to specific assets based on their fair market values. Goodwill is amortized on the straight-line method over ten years. In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 121"Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed of", the Company assesses on an on-going basis the recoverability of intangible assets based on estimates of future undiscounted cash flows for the applicable business acquired compared to net book value. If the future undiscounted cash flow estimate is less than net book value, net book value is then reduced to the undiscounted cash flow estimate. The Company also evaluates the amortization periods of intangible assets to determine whether events or circumstances warrant revised estimates of useful lives. As of September 30, 1997, management believes that no revisions to the remaining useful lives or writedowns of deferred charges are required.

Revenue Recognition

The Company bills certain customers in advance; however, revenue is recognized as services are provided. Credit risk is managed by discontinuing services to customers who are delinquent.

Income Taxes

The Company, as a participating subsidiary, joins in the filing of a consolidated Federal tax return with LCI. Current and deferred Federal income taxes are allocated among LCI and its consolidated subsidiaries based upon the respective net income (loss) and timing differences of each company. The Company files separate state tax returns. No provision for income taxes has been made in the combined financial statements. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are excluded from net assets to be sold.

Advertising

The Company follows the policy of charging the costs of advertising to expense as incurred.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments

The Company believes that the carrying value of all financial instruments is a reasonable estimate of fair value at December 31, 1996 and September 30, 1997.

NOTE B--SUPPLEMENTAL DISCLOSURE OF CASH FLOW INFORMATION

ATS did not assume any debt of the Company. There is no interest expense paid reflected in the accompanying financial statements. The Company did not make any income tax payments to LCI.

In 1996, the Company wrote down $65,313 of property and equipment to net realizable value. (See Note C).

NOTE C--PROPERTY AND EQUIPMENT

The schedule of property and equipment at December 31, 1996 and September 30, 1997, is as follows:

	DECEMBER 31, 1996	SEPTEMBER 30, 1997 (UNAUDITED)	ESTIMATED USEFUL LIVES IN YEARS

	$ 39,564,758	$ 40,541,672

During 1996, the Company recognized an impairment loss in connection with a failed project to rebuild a tower. The township denied the Company's request to tear-down and rebuild a larger tower on an existing tower site. Legal and engineering costs associated with the project in the amount of $65,313, previously capitalized, were written off. This impairment loss is included in general and administrative expenses in the 1996 combined statement of income.

NOTE D--GOODWILL

The excess of the purchase price paid over the acquired net assets has been allocated to goodwill. Accumulated amortization at December 31, 1996 and September 30, 1997, was $1,030,069 and $1,416,345, respectively.

NOTE E--INTANGIBLE ASSETS

A schedule of intangible assets and accumulated amortization at December 31, 1996 and September 30, 1997, is as follows:

	DECEMBER 31, 1996

NOTE F--LEASES

The Company leases office space from an individual who is a shareholder, chairman of the board and chief executive officer of LCI. The lease began on May 24, 1990, and is classified as an operating lease. The initial lease term assumed by ATS expires October 31, 1998.

Future minimum lease payments under all non-cancelable operating leases with initial terms of one year or more consisted of the following at December 31, 1996:

YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31,	RELATED PARTY	OTHER
1997	$ 81,874	$ 901,084
1998	68,228	814,674
1999	--	674,389
2000	--	356,820
2001	--	296,001
Thereafter	--	870,036
Total minimum lease payments	$ 150,102	$ 3,913,004

Rental expense for all operating leases, principally head-end land and building facilities, amounted to $1,149,855 for the year ended December 31, 1996 and $833,215 and $868,154 for the nine months ended September 30, 1996 and 1997, respectively. In addition, the Company made total payments to the related party for office space of $81,874 for the year ended December 31, 1996, and $61,405 in each of the nine month periods ended September 30, 1996 and 1997.

In addition to fixed rentals, certain leases require payment of maintenance and real estate taxes and contain escalation provisions based on future adjustments in price indices. It is expected that, in the normal course of business, expiring leases will be renewed or replaced by leases on other properties; thus, it is anticipated that future minimum operating lease commitments will not be less than the amount shown for 1996.

NOTE G--LESSOR OPERATING LEASES

The Company is the lessor of tower and head-end equipment and microwave equipment under operating leases expiring in various years through 2005. Rental income from operating leases amounted to $5,909,260 for the year ended December 31, 1996, and $4,074,175 and $6,725,321 for the nine months ended September 30, 1996 and 1997, respectively.

Following is a summary of property held for lease at December 31, 1996 and September 30, 1997:

NOTE H--OTHER INCOME (EXPENSE)

The schedules of other income (expense) for the year ended December 31, 1996, and nine months ended September 30, 1996 and 1997 are as follows:

	YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1996	NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 1996 (UNAUDITED)	NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 1997 (UNAUDITED)

NOTE I--EMPLOYEE HEALTH BENEFIT PLAN

As a subsidiary of LCI, the Company participates in the Lenfest Group Employee Health Plan (a trust) in order to provide health insurance for its employees. This trust is organized under Internal Revenue Code Section 501(c)(9)--Voluntary Employee Beneficiary Association (VEBA). Benefits are prefunded by contributions from the Company and all other participating LCI subsidiaries. Insurance expense is recognized as incurred. The Company does not provide postretirement benefits to its employees. Therefore, Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 106, Employers' Accounting for Postretirement Benefits Other than Pensions, does not have an impact on the Company's financial statements.

NOTE J--401(K) PLAN

LCI provides a 401(k) retirement plan to the employees of its subsidiaries. The Company, as an indirect wholly owned subsidiary, is entitled to participate. The Company matches the entire amount contributed by an eligible employee up to 5% of their salary, subject to regulatory limitations. For the year ended December 31, 1996, the Company matched $112,033 of contributions. For the nine months ended September 30, 1996 and 1997, the Company matched $79,735 and $86,144, respectively.

NOTE K--RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS

The Company does business and generates revenue with subsidiaries of Tele-Communications, Inc. (TCI) (a stockholder of LCI, through an indirect, wholly owned subsidiary). The amount of revenues generated was $1,225,000 for the year ended December 31, 1996, and $863,000 and $1,330,000 for the nine months ended September 30, 1996 and 1997, respectively. An additional $69,000 and $74,000 received from TCI was included in customer service prepayments as of December 31, 1996 and September 30, 1997, respectively.

All services provided to related parties were at standard billing rates.

Certain management services are provided to the Company by Suburban. Such services include legal, tax, treasury, risk management, benefits administration and other support services. Included in selling, general and administrative expenses for the year ended December 31, 1996, and the nine months ended September 30, 1996 and 1997 were allocated expenses of $108,000, $81,000 and $81,000, respectively, related to these services. Allocated expenses are based on Suburban's estimate of expenses related to the services provided to the Company in relation to those provided to other affiliates of Suburban. Management believes that these allocations were made on a reasonable basis. However, the allocations are not necessarily indicative of the level of expenses that might have been incurred had the Company contracted directly with third parties. Management has not made a study or any attempt to obtain quotes from third parties to determine what the cost of obtaining such services from third parties would have been. The fees and expenses charged by Suburban are subject to change.

The Company entered into a lease agreement with a principal stockholder of LCI (See Note F).

(A CALIFORNIA S CORPORATION)

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS
(INFORMATION AS OF AND FOR THE NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 1996 AND 1997 IS UNAUDITED)

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Business and Corporate Structure--Diablo Communications, Inc. (the "Company") is engaged in acquiring, developing and operating communications towers, for use by radio operators as well as other communication related businesses. As of December 31, 1996, the Company owned and/or operated 81 towers and rooftops throughout Northern California.

Sale of the Company--On October 9, 1997, substantially all of the Company's assets were sold to American Tower Systems, Inc. ("ATS"). ATS also assumed the Company's operating lease agreements and certain of the Company's liabilities on that date. The sale price was approximately $40,000,000. Subsequent to the sale, the Company changed its name and will pursue other business opportunities as Tyris Corporation.

Use of Estimates--The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual amounts could differ from these estimates.

Unaudited Interim Information--The financial information with respect to the nine-month periods ended September 30, 1996 and 1997 is unaudited. In the opinion of management, such information contains all adjustments, consisting only of normal recurring adjustments, necessary for a fair presentation of the results of such periods. The results of operations for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 are not necessarily indicative of the results to be expected for the full year.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets--In March 1995, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 121, Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed of ("FAS 121"). FAS 121 addresses the accounting for the impairment of long-lived assets, certain intangibles and goodwill when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. The Company adopted this statement during 1996 and the impact on the Company's results of operations, liquidity or financial position was not material.

Property and Equipment--Property and equipment are recorded at cost. Depreciation is provided using the double-declining method over estimated useful lives ranging from 3 to 15 years.

Investment in Affiliate--The Company owns a 25% interest in New Loma Communications, Inc. which is accounted for using the equity method of accounting.

Revenue Recognition--Tower and sublease revenues are recognized when earned over the lease terms. Management fee revenues are recognized when earned over the terms of the management contracts. Deferred revenue represents advance payments by customers where related revenue is recognized when services are provided.

S Corporation Election--The accompanying financial statements do not include any provision for federal or state income taxes since the Company is treated as a partnership under Subchapter S of the Internal Revenue Code and under similar state income tax provisions. Accordingly, income or loss is allocated to the shareholders and included in their tax returns.

Retirement Plan--Employees of the Company are eligible for participation in a 401-K plan managed by the Company, subject to certain minimum age and length-of-employment requirements. Under the plan, the Company does not match the participants' contributions.

DIABLO COMMUNICATIONS OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA, INC.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

NOTE 1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES:

Nature of business:

The Company develops and operates telecommunications sites in Southern California. The Company has a broad customer base which includes specialized mobile radio companies, paging companies, cellular telephone providers, broadcasters, emergency services, various private and governmental two-way radio users, and other entities with wireless communications needs.

Revenues are generated primarily from individual license agreements which entitle a customer to use an antenna system or antenna tower space, and to use on-site space in a climate controlled building for their transmitters, receivers, and related equipment.

For most of its sites, the Company holds a long-term lease interest. As a recognized full service site manager, the Company also manages sites for outside site owners.

Allowances for doubtful accounts:

The Company uses the allowance method for accounting for bad debts. An allowance for bad debts has not been provided currently since the Company's bad debt experience indicates that the amount would not be material.

Leases:

Leases meeting certain criteria are treated as capital leases requiring related assets and lease obligations to be recorded at their present value in the financial statements. Other leases, not qualifying under these criteria, are treated as operating leases for which rentals are charged to expense.

S Corporation election:

The Company has elected, by unanimous consent of its stockholders, to have its income taxed directly to the stockholders. Accordingly, provision for income taxes, except for an $800 minimum state franchise taxes, has not been made. Deferred income taxes have not been recorded because such amounts are immaterial.

Property and equipment:

Property and equipment are recorded at cost and depreciation is computed using a combination of straight-line and accelerated methods of accounting over useful lives of 5 to 15 years.

Organization costs and loan fees:

Organization costs and loan fees are amortized using the straight-line method of accounting over 5 years.

Unaudited interim financial information:

In the opinion of management, the financial statements for the unaudited periods presented include all adjustments necessary for a fair presentation in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, consisting solely of normal recurring accruals and adjustments. The results of operations and cash flows for the nine months ended September 30, 1996 and September 30, 1997 are not necessarily indicative of results which would be expected for a full year.

Use of estimates:

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of disclosures. Accordingly, actual results could differ from those estimates.

Concentration of Credit Risk:

The Company extends credit to customers on an unsecured basis in the normal course of business. No individual customer is significant to the Company's customer base. The Company has policies governing the extension of credit and collection of amounts due from customers.

Recognition of Revenues:

Tower and sublease revenues are recognized when earned over the lease terms. Management fee revenues are recognized when earned over the terms of the management contracts.

Corporate general and administrative expenses:

Corporate general and administrative expenses consists of corporate overhead costs not specifically allocable to any of the Company's direct operating profit centers.

Impairment of long-lived assets:

In accordance with Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 121 "Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed of ", the company assesses on an on-going basis the recoverability of intangible assets based on estimates of future undiscounted cash flows for the applicable business acquired compared to net book value. If the future undiscounted cash flow estimate is less than net book value, net book value is then reduced to the undiscounted cash flow estimate. The Company also evaluates the amortization periods of intangible assets to determine whether events or circumstances warrant revised estimates of useful lives. As of September 30, 1997, management believes that no revisions to the remaining useful lives or writedowns of deferred charges are required.

Fair value of financial instruments:

The Company believes that the carrying value of all financial instruments is a reasonable estimate of fair value as of December 31, 1996 and September 30, 1997.

Retirement plan:

Employees of the Company, through its affiliate Diablo Communications, Inc., are eligible for participation in a 401(k) plan, subject to certain minimum age and length-of-employment requirements. The plan does not provide for any Company contributions.

Supplemental cash flow information:

For financial statement purposes of the statements of cash flows, the Company issued capital stock in exchange for $450,921 in net assets, primarily property and equipment on September 1, 1995.

NOTES TO COMBINED FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

YEARS ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1995 AND 1996 AND SIX MONTHS ENDED JUNE 30, 1996 AND 1997
(INFORMATION PERTAINING TO THE SIX MONTHS ENDED JUNE 30, 1996 AND 1997 IS UNAUDITED)

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

General--The combined financial statements include the accounts of Meridian Sales and Services Company ("MSSC"), a California S corporation, Meridian Communications North ("MCN"), a general partnership, and Meridian Radio Sites ("MRS"), a general partnership (referred to collectively as Meridian Communications or the "Company") which share common ownership and management. All significant intercompany balances and transactions have been eliminated in combination.

Meridian Communications develops and manages telecommunication antenna site facilities and repeater (mobile relay) equipment throughout Southern California.

Cash and Cash Equivalents--Cash and cash equivalents include cash in the bank as well as short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less.

Use of Estimates--The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Property and Equipment--Property and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation. Major renewals or betterments are capitalized and depreciated over their estimated useful lives. Repairs and maintenance are charged to expense in the period incurred.

Depreciation for financial statements purposes is computed using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets. Buildings and leasehold improvements are depreciated over a period of 20 years, antenna site equipment over a period of 7 years, and office furniture, equipment, and automobiles over a period of 5 years.

Intangibles--Intangible assets are primarily comprised of the rights to a site lease acquired in 1996 and, to a lesser extent, an FCC license. The FCC license was sold in February 1997 with the sale of the assets used in connection with the repeater business for $3,000,000 (see Note 8). The site lease rights are amortized on a straightline basis over the remainder of the lease term of 8 years.

Long-Lived Assets--The Company records impairment losses on long-lived assets when events and circumstances indicate that the assets might be impaired and the undiscounted cash flows estimated to be generated by those assets are less than the carrying amounts of those assets.

Concentration of Credit Risk--The Company performs ongoing credit evaluation of its customers' financial condition and generally requires a one-month security deposit from its customers. As of December 31, 1996, the Company had no significant concentrations of credit risk.

Revenue Recognition and Deferred Revenue--Revenue is recorded when services are provided, according to rates set forth in customer contracts. Deferred revenue is recorded when services are paid in advance of performance.

Income Taxes--The Company is comprised of an S corporation and two partnerships for federal and state income tax purposes. The stockholders and partners report any income or loss of the Company directly on their personal tax returns. State income tax expense is computed using statutory tax rates applicable to S corporations.

Interim Financial Statements--The accompanying combined balance sheet as of June 30, 1997 and the combined statements of income, partners' capital and stockholders' equity, and cashflows for the six months ended June 30, 1997 and 1996 are unaudited. In the opinion of management, such unaudited financial statements include all adjustments necessary to present fairly the information set forth therein. These adjustments consist of normal recurring adjustments. The results of operations for such interim periods are not necessarily indicative of results for the full year.

TUCSON COMMUNICATIONS COMPANY

YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1996 AND NINE-MONTH PERIOD ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 1997 (UNAUDITED)

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Business and Partnership Structure--Tucson Communications Company (the "Partnership") was organized as a limited partnership in the state of California on October 6, 1983 for the purpose of developing, managing and leasing a communications site located in the Tucson Mountains near Tucson, Arizona. Income allocations and cash distributions are in accordance with the partnership agreement.

Use of Estimates--The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the amounts reported in the financial statements and accompanying notes. Actual results may differ from those estimates, and such differences could be material to the financial statements.

Concentration of Credit Risk--The Partnership extends credit to customers on an unsecured basis in the normal course of business. The Partnership has policies governing the extension of credit and collection of amounts due from customers.

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets--In March 1995, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 121, Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to Be Disposed Of ("FAS 121"). FAS 121 addresses the accounting for the impairment of long-lived assets when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. The Partnership adopted this statement during 1996 and the impact on the Partnership's results of operations, liquidity or financial position was not material.

Cash and Cash Equivalents--Cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, demand deposits, and short-term investments with original maturities of three months or less.

Property and Equipment--Property and equipment are recorded at cost. Cost includes expenditures for tower and related assets. Depreciation is provided using the double-declining balance method on equipment and straight-line method on buildings over estimated useful lives ranging from seven to 31.5 years.

Fair Value of Financial Instruments--The Partnership believes that the carrying value of all financial instruments is a reasonable estimate of fair value as of December 31, 1996 and September 30, 1997.

Recognition of Revenues--Tower revenues are recognized when earned over the lease terms.

Income Taxes--The financial statements contain no provision for income taxes since the income or loss of the Partnership flows through to the Partners, who are responsible for including their share of the taxable results of operations on their respective tax returns.

Unaudited Interim Financial Information--The accompanying unaudited financial statements have been prepared in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles for interim financial information and with the instructions to Article 10 of Regulations S-X. In the opinion of management, all adjustments (consisting of normal recurring accruals) considered necessary for a fair presentation have been included. Operating results for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 1997 and 1996 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the year ended December 31, 1997.

The party has requested a settlement payment of $800,000. Management of the Partnership believes any liability arising from this matter will be covered by insurance and will not have a material impact on the Partnership's financial statements.

NOTES TO FINANCIAL STATEMENTS

1. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

Business and Corporate Structure--Gearon & Co., Inc. (the "Company"), a Georgia corporation, was incorporated on September 6, 1991 and is engaged in the site acquisition, development, construction and facility management, of wireless network communication facilities on behalf of its customers. The Company operates in markets throughout the United States. In addition, as of September 30, 1997, the Company owned and operated four communications towers with an additional twenty-seven towers in varying stages of development. The towers are located in Georgia, Florida, and Tennessee.

On January 22, 1998, the Company merged into and became a part of American Tower Systems, Inc. (ATSI) a subsidiary of American Radio Systems Corporation (ARS), pursuant to an Agreement and Plan of Merger ("the Merger Agreement") executed on November 21, 1997. Under the Merger Agreement, the holders' of the Company's common stock at the effective date of the merger received a total of $32,000,000 in cash and liabilities assumed by ATSI and 5,333,333 shares of ATSI stock with an agreed-upon fair value of $48,000,000.

Prior to the closing of the merger, the Company awarded a total of 56,338 shares of Class B common stock valued at $5,600,000 (based on the share price paid by ATSI in the merger) to certain key employees, paid cash bonuses totaling approximately $7,667,000 to certain employees, and incurred approximately $580,000 in other merger related expenses.

In addition, pursuant to the Merger Agreement, the Company borrowed a total of $10,000,000 from ATSI in two $5,000,000 installments to fund working capital and merger related expenses. Such borrowing was repaid at closing.

Unaudited Interim Information--In the opinion of management, the financial statements for the unaudited period presented include all adjustments necessary for a fair presentation in accordance with generally accepted accounting principles, consisting solely of normal recurring accruals and adjustments. The results of operations and cash flows for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 are not necessarily indicative of results which would be expected for a full year.

Use of Estimates--The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect the reported amounts of assets and liabilities and disclosure of contingent assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

Concentration of Credit Risk--The Company extends credit to customers on an unsecured basis in the normal course of business. Credit risk is limited due to the financial reputation of the customers comprising the Company's customer base. The Company has policies governing the extension of credit and collection of amounts due from customers.

The following represents a summary of fees and bonuses earned from individual customers in excess of 10% of total fees and bonuses:

	NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30,		YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31,
	1997	1996	1996
Customer A	$3,697,000	$3,557,000	$4,773,000
Customer B	5,018,000
Customer C	3,304,000
Customer D	1,922,000
Customer E		3,385,000	4,423,000
Customer F		1,691,000	1,752,000

Impairment of Long-Lived Assets--In March 1995, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards No. 121, Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to be Disposed Of ("FAS 121"). FAS 121 addresses the accounting for the impairment of long-lived assets, certain intangibles and goodwill when events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. The Company adopted this statement during 1996 and the impact on the Company's results of operations, liquidity or financial position was not material.

Cash and Cash Equivalents--Cash and cash equivalents includes cash on hand, demand deposits and short-term investments with original maturities of three months or less.

Property and Equipment--Property and equipment are recorded at cost. Ordinary repairs and maintenance are expensed as incurred; major replacements and improvements are capitalized and depreciated over their estimated useful lives. Depreciation is provided using the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets ranging from three to fifteen years.

Construction in Progress--The Company's tower construction expenditures are recorded as construction in progress until the assets are placed in service. When the assets are placed in service, they are transferred to the appropriate property and equipment category and depreciated. The Company also capitalizes subcontractor and employee labor and overhead costs incurred in connection with the construction of towers.

Revenue Recognition--Revenues from fees and bonuses are recognized based upon the completion of certain activities as defined by the respective contracts with individual customers. Several of the contracts provide for reimbursement by customers of certain costs in addition to fees earned. Such costs are recognized on the accrual basis and are reflected as pass-through revenues and expenses in the statements of income. Tower and sublease revenues are recognized when earned over the terms of the related leases.

Income Taxes--At inception, the Company elected to be treated as a Subchapter S Corporation (S Corporation) for income tax purposes. Accordingly, no recognition has been given to income taxes in the financial statements since the income is reportable on the individual tax return of the stockholder. Two states in which the Company does business do not recognize S Corporations for tax purposes and therefore the Company is liable for income taxes in those states. The amounts paid or accrued for income taxes were not material in relation to the financial statements.

Deferred Revenue--Deferred revenue represents advance payments from a customer which will be applied to future billings upon the attainment of certain billing milestones.

(1) SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES

(a) Formation and Organization

The accompanying consolidated financial statements reflect the financial position, results of operations, and cash flows of American Tower Corporation and its wholly-owned subsidiaries, collectively referred to as ATC or the Company. All significant intercompany transactions and balances have been eliminated.

ATC was created for the purpose of acquiring 100% of the outstanding common stock of Bowen-Smith Holdings, Inc., which was completed in October 1994. This acquisition was accounted for as a purchase. The cost of the acquisition was allocated on the basis of the estimated fair values of the assets acquired and the liabilities assumed. The financial information for the period from January 1, 1994 to October 14, 1994 reflects Bowen-Smith Holdings, Inc.'s historical cost of the assets and liabilities. As a result of the acquisition and different cost basis with respect to the assets and liabilities of the Company, financial information for periods before and after October 15, 1994 is not comparable. For purposes of identification and description, Bowen-Smith Holdings, Inc. is referred to as the "Predecessor" for the period prior to the acquisition; ATC is the "Successor" for the period subsequent to the acquisition.

(b) Description of Business

The primary business of the Company is the leasing of antenna and transmitter space on communication towers to companies using or providing cellular telephone, paging, microwave and specialized mobile radio services. ATC currently owns and operates communication tower sites located primarily in the western, eastern and southern United States.

(c) Interim Financial Information

The unaudited financial statements for the nine months ended September 30, 1996 and 1997 are presented for comparative purposes only and have been prepared on a basis substantially consistent with that of the audited financial statements included herein. In the opinion of management, such unaudited financial statements include all adjustments, which are of a normal and recurring nature, considered necessary for a fair presentation. Operating results for the nine-month periods ended September 30, 1997 and 1996 are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for a full year.

(d) Cash Equivalents

Cash equivalents consist of short-term investments with an original maturity of three months or less. Cash equivalents include an interest-bearing money market account with a balance of approximately $1,834,000 at December 31, 1995 and $12,000 at December 31, 1996.

(e) Rental Towers and Related Fee Based Assets

Rental towers and related fee based assets are stated at cost. Depreciation on rental towers and related fee based assets is calculated on the straight-line method over the estimated useful lives of the assets which range from 3 to 25 years.

(f) Other Assets

Other assets include licenses and permits which are amortized on a straight-line basis over their expected period of benefit, 25 years, and a noncompete agreement with the Predecessor majority stockholder which is amortized on a straight-line basis over its seven year term. Also included are deferred loan costs associated with various debt issuances which are amortized over the terms of the related debt based on the amount of outstanding debt using the interest method.

(g) Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and Long-Lived Assets to Be Disposed Of

The Company adopted the provisions of SFAS No. 121, Accounting for the Impairment of Long-Lived Assets and for Long-Lived Assets to Be Disposed Of, on January 1, 1996. This Statement requires that long-lived assets and certain identifiable intangibles be reviewed for impairment whenever events or changes in circumstances indicate that the carrying amount of an asset may not be recoverable. Recoverability of assets to be held and used is measured by a comparison of the carrying amount of an asset to future net cash flows expected to be generated by the asset. If such assets are considered to be impaired, the impairment to be recognized is measured by the amount by which the carrying amount of the assets exceeds the fair value of the assets. Assets to be disposed of are reported at the lower of the carrying amount or the fair value less costs of disposal. Adoption of this Statement did not have a material impact on the Company's financial position, results of operations, or liquidity.

(h) Income Taxes

Deferred tax assets and liabilities are recognized for the future tax consequences attributable to differences between the financial statement carrying amounts of existing assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases. Deferred tax assets and liabilities are measured using enacted tax rates expected to apply to taxable income in the years which those temporary differences are expected to be recovered or settled. The effect on deferred tax assets and liabilities of a change in tax rates is recognized in income in the period that includes the enactment date.

(i) Fair Value of Financial Instruments

In December 1991, the Financial Accounting Standards Board issued Statement of Financial Accounting Standards 107, Disclosure about Fair Value of Financial Instruments. This Statement requires the Company to disclose estimated fair values for its financial instruments.

Fair value estimates are made at discrete points in time based on relevant market information. These estimates may be subjective in nature and involve uncertainties and matters of significant judgment and therefore, cannot be determined with precision.

The Company believes that the carrying amounts of its current assets and current liabilities approximate the fair value of such items due to their short-term nature. The carrying amount of long-term debt approximates its fair value because the interest rates approximate market.

(j) Revenue Recognition

Revenues are recognized as tower services are provided. Amounts billed or received prior to services being performed are deferred until such time as the revenue is earned.

(k) Stock Option Plan

Prior to January 1, 1996, the Company accounted for its stock option plan in accordance with the provisions of Accounting Principles Board (APB) Opinion No. 25, Accounting for Stock Issued to Employees, and related interpretations. On January 1, 1996, the Company adopted SFAS No. 123, Accounting for Stock-Based Compensation, which permits entities to recognize as expense over the vesting period the fair value of all stock-based awards on the date of grant. Alternatively, SFAS No. 123 also allows entities to continue to apply the provisions of APB Opinion No. 25 and provide pro forma net income and pro forma earnings per share disclosures for employee stock option grants made in 1995 and future years as if the fair-value-based method defined in SFAS No. 123 had been applied. The Company has elected to continue to apply the provisions of APB Opinion No. 25 and provide the pro forma disclosure provisions of SFAS No. 123.

(l) Interest Rate Cap Agreements

The Company is party to a financial instrument to reduce its exposure to fluctuations in interest rates. The purchase price of the interest rate cap agreements is capitalized and included in prepaid expenses in the accompanying consolidated balance sheets and amortized over the life of the agreements using the straight-line method.

(m) Use of Estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with generally accepted accounting principles requires management to make estimates and assumptions that affect reported amounts of assets and liabilities at the date of the financial statements and the reported amounts of revenues and expenses during the reporting period. Actual results could differ from those estimates.

(n) Reclassifications

Certain reclassifications have been made to prior period amounts in order to conform to the current presentation.

(2) RENTAL TOWERS AND RELATED FEE BASED ASSETS

Asset Acquisitions

In December 1995, the Company acquired in a single transaction substantially all of the tower sites and locations of CSX Realty Development Corporation (CSX) for $9,750,000 which was funded through cash and seller financed debt. In addition during 1995, the Company acquired 81 other tower sites in several unrelated transactions.

In October 1996, the Company acquired in a single transaction substantially all of the tower sites and locations of Prime Communications Sites Holding, L.L.C. and its subsidiary (Prime) for approximately $15.3 million which was funded through borrowings under the Company's credit facility, seller financed debt and the issuance of common stock of the Company to the seller. In addition, during 1996 the Company acquired four other tower sites in two unrelated transactions. The purchase price for all acquisitions has been allocated to the land, towers and related fee based assets and licenses and permits based on their respective estimated fair values.

The following unaudited proforma consolidated results of operations give effect to the above acquisitions as though the 1995 and 1996 acquisitions had occurred on January 1, 1995:

	1995	1996
	(IN THOUSANDS, EXCEPT PER SHARE DATA)
Rental revenues	$10,575	$13,565
Operating income	$ 3,737	$ 4,855

During the nine months ended September 30, 1997, the Company acquired in a single transaction 32 tower sites for approximately $11.8 million. In addition, during 1997 the Company acquired 45 tower sites in several unrelated transactions.

Tower Disposal

On January 13, 1997, the Company entered into a binding letter agreement with a related shareholder and director to sell 45 communication towers for a purchase price of $700,000. The closing of this transaction occurred during March 1997. At the closing, the Company sold the communication towers to the shareholder in exchange for a $700,000 reduction in payments owed under the subordinated note payable issued in October 1994. See Note 6 for further discussion. Due to the agreement, the related assets have been reflected as assets held for resale on the December 31, 1996 balance sheet.

(6) LONG-TERM DEBT

On June 30, 1997, the Company entered into a new senior credit agreement (credit agreement). The credit agreement includes a $100 million revolving line of credit, which included a sub-allotment for letters of credit and a $25 million term loan facility. In connection with entering into the credit agreement, the Company expensed $594,000, net of taxes, of deferred loan and other financing costs associated with the prior credit facility. These deferred loan and other financing costs written off in 1997 have been reflected as extraordinary loss in the consolidated statements of operations.

On October 11, 1996, the Company entered into a senior credit facility (credit facility) in connection with the acquisition of the communication towers from Prime as discussed in Note 2.

The credit facility included a $23 million revolving line of credit, which included a sub-allotment for letters of credit, and a $37 million term loan facility. The Company utilized the proceeds of the term loan to (i) repay $21.6 million of principal and interest to its existing senior lenders, (ii) prepay in full $6.1 million of principal and interest to its senior subordinated lender, and (iii) to fund $8.6 million of the purchase price for the Prime acquisition. The Company had borrowed an additional $2.8 million under the revolving credit facility as of December 31, 1996.

The credit facility incurred interest at LIBOR plus 275 basis points for interest periods ranging up to five months; thereafter, the credit facility incurred interest at LIBOR plus an applicable margin, not to exceed 275 basis points, based upon a defined leverage ratio, for interest periods of one, three or six months. The term loan portion of the credit facility required principal amortization with quarterly payments totaling $5.6 million in 1999, $7.4 million in 2000 and 2001, $9.3 million in 2002 and $7.3 million in 2003. The revolving credit facility required the maximum amount outstanding to be reduced quarterly beginning in January 1999. The maximum amount allowed to be outstanding under the revolving credit facility in 1999 is $22.4 million, in 2000 is $19.6 million, in 2001 is $15.0 million, in 2002 is $10.4 million, in 2003 is $4.6 million with a final maturity of October 2003. The credit facility contained restrictions on payment of dividends, and set forth minimum operating cash flows, as defined, to be attained by the Company.

Immediately prior to entering into the credit facility in October 1996, the Company owed its senior lenders $21.5 million under a term loan, revolving line of credit and acquisition line of credit facilities which had been amended and extended in December 1995. The outstanding balance of the prior senior agreement bore interest at LIBOR plus 275 basis points. In connection with entering into the credit facility, the Company expensed $451,000, net of taxes, of deferred loan and other financing costs associated with prior credit facilities. In connection with the amendment of the Company's senior credit agreement in December 1995, the Company expensed $207,000, net of taxes, of deferred loan and other financing costs associated with prior credit facilities. Such deferred loan and other financing costs written off in 1996 and 1995 have been reflected as extraordinary losses in the consolidated statements of operations.

Seller Acquisition Financing

In connection with the acquisition of the towers and related sites in October 1996 as more fully discussed in Note 2 and above, the Company issued an aggregate of $2.5 million of subordinated term notes to certain sellers. Payment terms require (i) a single installment on October 11, 2004 or (ii) immediate payment upon an initial public offering. The subordinated term notes bear interest at 11% payable quarterly commencing January 1997. During 1997 these notes were fully repaid.

Long-term debt consisted of the following:

The Company is a party to a financial instrument in order to reduce its exposure to fluctuations in interest rates. The agreement provides for the third parties to make payments to the Company whenever a defined floating interest rate exceeds 10 percent per annum. No such payments were made in 1995 or 1996. Payments on the interest rate cap agreements are based on the notional principal amount of the agreements; no funds were actually borrowed or are to be repaid as of December 31, 1996. The unamortized portion of the purchase price was approximately $107,000 and $50,000 at December 31, 1995 and 1996, respectively. $5,000,000 under this interest rate cap agreement expired in 1995 and the remaining $9,000,000 agreement expires in December 1997.

The aggregate annual maturities of long-term debt (not reduced for discount rates on non-interest bearing obligations) as of September 30, 1997 are as follows:

YEAR ENDING DECEMBER 31,	(IN THOUSANDS)
1997	$ 1,000
1998	1,007
1999	2,757
2000	4,134
2001	6,010
Thereafter	55,248
	$70,156

(7) FEDERAL INCOME TAXES

Income tax expense for the successor period ended December 31, 1994, and the years ended December 31, 1995 and 1996 consisted of the following:

	1994	1995	1996
	(IN THOUSANDS)
Current	$--	$ --	$--
Deferred	50	(217)	303
	$ 50	$(217)	$303

Income tax expense at December 31, 1994, 1995 and 1996 differed from the amounts computed by applying the U.S. federal income tax rate of 34% to income before taxes and extraordinary items as follows:

	1994	1995	1996
	(IN THOUSANDS)
Computed "expected" tax expense (benefit)	$41	$(198)	$272
State taxes	2	29	28
Other	7	(48)	3
Total	$50	$(217)	$303

At December 31, 1996, the Company had net operating loss carryforwards (NOLs) of approximately $9,258,000 for U.S. Federal income tax purposes. The NOLs, if unused, will expire between 2004 and 2008. The portion of the NOLs which existed prior to October 15, 1994 are subject to annual limitations imposed by the Internal Revenue Code under Section 382.

The tax effects of temporary differences that give rise to significant portions of the deferred tax assets and deferred tax liabilities at December 31, 1995 and 1996 are as follows:

	1995	1996
	(IN THOUSANDS)
Deferred tax assets:
Operating loss and alternative minimum tax credit carryforward	$1,968	$3,472
Accrued liabilities	400	64
Other	27	72
Deferred tax assets	2,395	3,608
Deferred tax liability - rental towers and related fee based assets, principally due to differences in basis for financial reporting purposes and tax purposes	8,701	9,945
Net deferred tax liability	$6,306	$6,337

There is no valuation allowance at December 31, 1995 and 1996 recorded against the deferred tax assets. It is the opinion of management that the scheduled reversal of deferred tax liabilities, projected future taxable income, and tax planning strategies will more likely than not result in the realization of the deferred tax assets.

(8) REDEEMABLE PREFERRED STOCK

In December 1995, the Company commenced a private placement offering to its existing security holders to sell up to 22,500 newly created shares of Series A Redeemable Preferred Stock, $0.01 par value (Series A Preferred Stock), at $200 per share. Net proceeds to the Company were approximately $4,500,000. As of December 31, 1995, the Company had received $4,133,000 in cash for the offering. The remaining $367,000 was received in January 1996.

The shares of Series A Preferred Stock were sold together with 10-year warrants to purchase a total of 22,500 shares of Common Stock at a nominal exercise price. The Company determined the warrants to have an estimated fair value of $500,000 at the offering date which was recorded as additional paid-in capital and a reduction of the outstanding Series A Preferred Stock. As of September 30, 1997, all of these warrants had been exercised.

Each share of Series A Preferred Stock has a liquidation preference of $200 per share. The Company at its option can redeem any or all the outstanding shares of preferred stock for $200 per share. The Company is required to redeem all such shares at a price of $200 per share upon the occurrence of (i) a public offering or (ii) a change of control. The preferred shares have no voting or dividend rights.

(9) STOCKHOLDERS' EQUITY

In June 1997, the Company completed a private placement offering of common stock with Clear Channel Communications, Inc. whereby the Company raised net proceeds of $23 million. The Company utilized the private placement proceeds in connection with securing the new senior credit agreement described in Note 6.

In conjunction with the purchase of the common stock of the predecessor, the Company issued warrants to the senior subordinated debt holder for 12,642 shares of common stock with an exercise price of $.01 per share. This warrant is immediately exercisable into common stock of the Company. The Company determined this warrant to have an estimated value of $600,000 at the acquisition date which was recorded as additional paid-in capital and a reduction of the outstanding principal of the senior subordinated note payable. The Company recorded accretion of the debt discount of $16,000, $75,000 and $59,000 for the successor period ended December 31, 1994, and the years ended December 31, 1995 and 1996, respectively. As discussed further in Note 6, the Company prepaid the senior subordinated debt holder in connection with the October 1996 amendment and extension of the Company's senior credit facility. The remaining unamortized debt discount of $450,000 was included as an extraordinary loss on the consolidated statement of operations for the year ended December 31, 1996. The senior subordinated warrant holder can require the Company to purchase the stock warrants beginning in October 2002 (put right). The put amount is defined in the warrant agreement with the senior subordinated lender. At December 31, 1995 and 1996, the accompanying consolidated financial statements include an accrual for $115,000 and $174,000, respectively, related to the put feature of the warrants granted to the senior subordinated lender. These warrants were exercised on June 30, 1997.

A warrant was also issued to one of the previous sellers for 3,115 shares of common stock with a nominal exercise price. Due to certain restrictions as to the exercisability of this warrant, it was determined to have a value of $75,000. This amount is reduced against the principal amount of the seller note. The Company recorded accretion of the debt discount of $12,000 for each of the years ended December 31, 1995 and 1996. This warrant was exercised in 1997 in connection with the retirement of the subordinated note payable to shareholder.

(10) STOCK OPTION PLAN

In 1995, the Company adopted a stock option plan (the Plan) pursuant to which the Company's Board of Directors may grant stock options to officers and key employees. The Plan authorizes grants of options to purchase up to 9,231 shares of common stock. Stock options are granted with an exercise price equal to the stock's fair market value at the date of grant. All stock options have 10-year terms and vest and become fully exercisable after a range of 3 to 4 years from the date of grant.

At December 31, 1996, there were 2,981 additional shares available for grant under the Plan. The per share weighted-average value of stock options granted during 1995 and 1996 was $37 and $192, respectively, on the date of grant, using the Black Scholes model with the following assumptions: risk-free interest rate of 5.71% for the 1995 options and 6.58% for the 1996 options, expected life of 8 years, expected volatility of 0%, and an expected dividend yield of 0%.

The Company applies APB Opinion No. 25 in accounting for its Plan and, accordingly, no compensation cost has been recognized for its stock options in the consolidated financial statements. Had the Company determined compensation cost based on the fair value at the grant date for its stock options under SFAS No. 123, the Company's net income would have been reduced to the pro forma amounts indicated below:

	(IN THOUSANDS, EXCEPT PER SHARE DATA)
Net income(loss)
As reported	$(572)	$ 47
Pro forma	(579)	(231)

At December 31, 1996 the range of exercise prices and weighted-average remaining contractual life of outstanding options was $100-$475 and 3.7 years, respectively. Stock option activity during the periods indicated is as follows:

	NUMBER OF SHARES	WEIGHTED-AVERAGE EXERCISE PRICE
Balance at December 31, 1994	--	$--
Granted	1,100	100
Balance at December 31, 1995	1,100	100
Granted	5,650	475
Forfeited	(500)	100
Balance at December 31, 1996	6,250	$439

At December 31, 1996, the number of options exercisable was 166 and the weighted-average exercise price of these options was $100 per share. During the first quarter of 1997, the Company granted an additional 250 options at an exercise price of $475.

(11) RELATED PARTY TRANSACTIONS AND COMMITMENTS

In the ordinary course of business the Company leases land and buildings under long-term (ranging from one to ten years) operating leases. The Company has entered into consulting agreements with three shareholders. The total management payments under these agreements was approximately $38,000 for the successor period ended December 31, 1994, $300,000 for each of the years ended December 31, 1995 and 1996, respectively, and $225,000 for the nine months ended September 30, 1997, and future minimum payments required by these management agreements are $300,000, $300,000 and $262,500 for the years ended December 31, 1997, 1998 and 1999, respectively.

In addition, the Company paid the investment firm a financial advisory fee of $600,000 in connection with the Bowen-Smith Holdings, Inc. acquisition in October 1994. The Company's president and chairman, as well as another director are the principal executive officers in the private investment firm.

The Company leases land for certain of its tower sites from an entity owned by a shareholder. During the period from October 15 to December 31, 1994 and the years ended December 31, 1995 and 1996, rental expense relating to these land leases totaled $12,500, $33,000 and $35,000, respectively. Additionally, prior to 1997, the Company leased its office facility from the same entity. Annual expense for the office facility approximated $48,000 per year. The same shareholder is President of a tower fabrication and construction company. The Company has acquired the majority of its new towers from this entity at prices and on terms it considers no less favorable than could have been obtained from other vendors. During the years ended 1995 and 1996 and the nine months ended September 30, 1997, the Company made payments of $304,000, $1,710,000 and $2,124,000, respectively, to this entity.

NOTES TO UNAUDITED PRO FORMA CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED BALANCE SHEET

(a) The ARS Pro Forma Transactions and ATS Pro Forma Transactions will be accounted for under the purchase method of accounting. The following adjustments have been recorded as of September 30, 1997: (i) ARS borrowed approximately $118.8 million, net and used currently outstanding escrow deposits to finance the ATS Pro Forma Transactions; (ii) ARS borrowed approximately $107.6 million, net and used currently outstanding escrow deposits to finance the ARS Pro Forma Transactions relating to American Radio; and (iii) minority interests attributable to the ATS Common Stock issued upon consummation of the Gearon Transaction (valued at $48.0 million) and for cash ($30.2 million) upon consummation of the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement (the remaining proceeds of the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement represent secured notes of $49.4 million and have been recorded as credit to stockholders' equity). The preliminary estimates of fair value of property, plant and equipment and FCC licenses may change upon final appraisal.

(b) The accounts of ATS and its subsidiaries have been eliminated pursuant to the assumed consummation of the Tower Separation. The Tower Separation reflects the recapitalization of ATS prior to the Tower Separation, as if the Tower Separation occurred on September 30, 1997, including: (i) a capital contribution of $98.6 million (including the $118.8 million referred to in clause (i) of (a) above), representing the difference between the aggregate amount invested by ARS in ATS at September 30, 1997 of $51.4 million and the maximum amount ($150.0 million) permitted by the Merger Agreement; (ii) payment of the $49.4 million of secured notes referred to in clause (iii) of note (a) above; and (iii) a tax liability attributed to the Tower Separation of $20.0 million which is the maximum amount required to be borne by ARS pursuant to the provisions of the Merger Agreement. The table above reflects elimination of the intercompany balance through an ARS capital contribution and the incurrence by ATS of external borrowings.

NOTES TO UNAUDITED PRO FORMA CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED STATEMENT OF OPERATIONS

The unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated statement of operations for the year ended December 31, 1996 gives effect to (i) the EZ Merger, the Hartford Transaction, the HBC Merger (excluding the Omaha stations all of which have been sold), the BayCom Transaction and the Baltimore Transaction (collectively, the "ARS Pro Forma Transactions"); (ii) the ATS Pro Forma Transactions; and (iii) the Tower Separation, as if each of the foregoing had occurred on January 1, 1996. See the Unaudited Pro forma Condensed Consolidated Financial Statements of ATS in the Information Statement for information with respect to the ATS Pro Forma Transactions.

ARS PRO FORMA TRANSACTIONS

EZ Merger: Pursuant to the consummation of the EZ Merger on April 4, 1997, ARS acquired 18 FM and six AM stations in eight markets: Seattle, St. Louis, Pittsburgh, Sacramento, Charlotte, Kansas City, New Orleans and Philadelphia, assumed approximately $222.4 million of long-term debt, paid approximately $108.9 million and issued approximately 8.3 million shares of ARS Class A Common Stock to the EZ stockholders. The foregoing station information does not give effect to the consummation of certain then prospective EZ transactions which were subsequently consummated. The aggregate purchase price was approximately $830.0 million, including goodwill, assumed liabilities and transaction costs.

Baltimore Transaction: In February 1997, ARS acquired WWMX-FM and WOCT-FM serving Baltimore (the "Baltimore Transaction") for approximately $90.0 million. ARS began programming and marketing the stations pursuant to an LMA in November 1996.

HBC Merger: In July 1996, ARS consummated a merger (the "HBC Merger") pursuant to which Henry Broadcasting Company ("HBC") merged into ARS. Pursuant to the HBC Merger, ARS issued an aggregate of 1,879,034 shares of ARS Class A Common Stock valued at $64.0 million, paid approximately $10.4 million in cash, and assumed long-term debt of approximately $37.3 million which was paid in full at closing. As part of a related transaction, ARS acquired certain real estate used in the business of HBC for approximately $2.0 million and obtained a five-year option to acquire certain other real estate for approximately $1.0 million. HBC owned an aggregate of 12 stations, of which nine were included as part of the HBC Merger as follows: KUFO-FM and KUPL-AM in Portland, Oregon, KYMX-FM and KCTC-AM in Sacramento, KGOR-FM and KFAB-AM in Omaha and KSKS-FM, KRNC-FM and KMJ-AM in Fresno.

Hartford Transaction: In May 1996, ARS consummated the acquisition of WTIC-FM and WTIC-AM in Hartford. In August 1995, ARS had entered into a series of transactions (the "Hartford Transaction") with the owner of those stations and certain affiliates, pursuant to which, among other things, ARS agreed to purchase the assets of those stations for approximately $39.0 million, including approximately $1.1 million of working capital and an obligation to make payments aggregating $8.5 million pursuant to a consulting and non-competition agreement with an affiliate of the owner of the stations. Also as part of the Hartford Transaction, ARS paid $1.0 million for a two-year option to purchase for $1.00 the New England Weather Service (which provides weather information to subscribers). ARS exercised its option and consummated the acquisition in the fourth quarter of 1997. Because ARS was prevented under the then current FCC regulations from acquiring these stations, it loaned an aggregate of $35.5 million to the owner of such stations and an affiliate thereof and made a $2.0 million escrow deposit. A portion of the loans was used to finance the acquisition of the stations and the balance was used to satisfy ARS' obligations under the consulting and non-competition agreement. ARS also paid $3.5 million to purchase the tower of one of the stations in October 1995.

BayCom Transaction: In August 1996, ARS acquired KUPL-FM and KKJZ-FM, serving Portland, Oregon, and KSJO-FM and KBAY (FM) (formerly KUFX-FM), serving San Jose (the "BayCom Transaction"), for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $103.0 million.

ATS PRO FORMA TRANSACTIONS

Meridian Transaction: In July 1997, ATS acquired 56 sites and a tower site management business in southern California for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $33.5 million.

Diablo Transaction: In October 1997, ATS acquired 110 sites and a site management business primarily in northern California for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $45.0 million.

Tucson Transaction: In October 1997, ATS entered into an agreement to purchase six towers in Tucson for approximately $12.0 million. Consummation of the transaction, which is subject to certain conditions, is expected to occur in the first quarter of 1998.

MicroNet Transaction: In October 1997, ATS acquired 128 owned or leased tower sites, principally in the Mid-Atlantic region, with the remainder in California and Texas for an aggregate purchase price of approximately $70.25 million. The acquisition also included ATS' video, voice and data transmission business.

Gearon Transaction: In January 1997, ATS acquired (through a merger with American Tower Systems (Delaware), Inc., a wholly-owned subsidiary of ATS) a company engaged primarily in the site acquisition business for unaffiliated third parties that also owns or has under construction approximately 40 tower sites. The merger price of approximately $80.0 million was paid by delivery of 5.3 million shares of ATS Class A Common Stock and approximately $32.0 million in cash and assumed liabilities.

ATC Merger: In December 1997, ATS entered into an agreement to acquire (through the ATC Merger) a company which is a leading independent owner and operator of wireless communications towers with more than 650 towers on approximately 618 sites in 31 states. Pursuant to the ATC Merger, ATS will issue an aggregate of approximately 31.1 million shares of ATS Common Stock (including shares issuable upon exercise of options). Consummation of the ATC Merger, is conditioned on, among other things, the expiration or earlier termination of the waiting period under the HSR Act, and consummation of the Tower Separation and, accordingly is not expected to take place until the spring of this year.

Tower Separation: ARS will distribute all of the ATS Common Stock owned by it to the holders of ARS Common Stock, to the holders of options to acquire ARS Common Stock and to the holders of ARS Convertible Preferred Stock upon conversion of ARS Convertible Preferred Stock, pursuant to either the Merger or the Tower Merger.

(a) To record the results of operations for the ARS Pro Forma Transactions. The results of operations have been adjusted to (i) reverse historical interest expense of $25.9 million and $1.3 million of interest income recorded on the Hartford Transaction station investment notes, (ii) record interest expense of $41.0 million for the year ended December 31, 1996, as a result of approximately $162.8 million of additional debt and the refunding of approximately $72.4 million of existing EZ debt, both bearing interest at an assumed rate of 8.75%, and the assumption of $150.0 million principal amount of notes bearing interest at 9.75%, all to be incurred in connection with the ARS Pro Forma Transactions. Weighted average common shares outstanding have been adjusted to reflect approximately 8.3 million shares issued in the EZ Merger; because the pro forma adjustments result in a loss, approximately 900,000 common equivalent shares have been excluded from pro forma earnings per share as they become anti-dilutive. Each 1/4% change in the interest rate applicable to the change in floating rate debt would increase or decrease, as appropriate, the net adjustment to interest expense by approximately $0.6 million.

The results of operations have also been adjusted to reverse historical depreciation and amortization expense of $13.4 million for the year ended December 31, 1996 and record depreciation and amortization expense of $42.6 million for the year ended December 31, 1996 based on estimated allocations of purchase prices. Depreciation expense for property, plant and equipment acquired has been determined based on an average life of ten years. Costs of acquired FCC licenses and goodwill for the transactions are amortized over 25 and 40 years, respectively. The preliminary estimates of the fair value of property, plant and equipment, FCC licenses and goodwill may change upon final appraisal.

Corporate general and administrative expenses of the prior owners have not been carried forward into the pro forma condensed financial statements as these costs represent duplicative facilities and compensation to owners and/or executives not retained by ARS. Because ARS maintains a separate corporate headquarters which provides services substantially similar to those represented by these costs, they are not expected to recur following acquisition. After giving effect to an estimated $1.0 million of incremental costs, ARS believes that it has existing management capacity sufficient to provide such services without incurring additional incremental costs.

	EZ MERGER	HARTFORD TRANSACTION	HBC MERGER	BAYCOM TRANSACTION	BALTIMORE TRANSACTION	PRO FORMA ADJUSTMENTS	TOTAL

Merger costs of EZ have not been carried forward into the pro forma condensed financial statements as these costs represent direct costs incurred by EZ as a result of the EZ Merger. Such costs consist primarily of professional fees, compensation to employees of EZ and regulatory related costs, including $4.5 million that was paid to settle a license renewal proceeding; satisfactory arrangements with respect to the station involved were a condition precedent to closing.

(b) To record the results of operations for the ATS Pro Forma Transactions. The results of operations have been adjusted to: (i) reverse historical interest expense of $4.2 million; (ii) record interest expense of $11.7 million for the year ended December 31, 1996, as a result of approximately $128.4 million of additional net debt to be incurred in connection with the ATS Pro Forma Transactions and payment of the estimated tax liability attributable to the Tower Separation of approximately $66.6 million (net of the $20.0 million to be borne by ARS pursuant to the provisions of the Merger Agreement), after giving effect to (x) capital contributions by ARS of $146.1 million, representing the difference between the aggregate amount invested by ARS in ATS at January 1, 1996 of $3.9 million and the maximum amount ($150.0 million) permitted by the Merger Agreement, and (y) the proceeds from the issuance of ATS Common Stock pursuant to the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement for an aggregate purchase price of $80.0 million, $79.4 million net of expenses (of which $49.4 million was paid in the form of secured notes and the balance in cash); (iii) and the historical depreciated book value of $4.2 million of an aggregate of 16 towers transferred or to be transferred by American to ATS representing an additional ARS equity investment in ATS. Each 1/4% change in the interest rate applicable to the change in floating rate debt would increase or decrease, as appropriate, the net adjustment to interest expense by approximately $0.3 million. The estimated tax liability shown in clause (i) preceding is based on an assumed fair market value of the ATS Common Stock of $10.00 per share which is the price at which shares were issued pursuant to the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement. Such estimated tax liability would increase or decrease by approximately $14.8 million for each $1.00 per share increase or decrease in the fair market value of the ATS Common Stock. No adjustment has been included in the pro forma information with respect to certain adjustment provisions in the Merger Agreement relating to the Working Capital and Debt Amount (each as defined in the Merger Agreement) of ARS at the time of the consummation of the Merger, because ARS estimates that the payment, if any, required by such provisions to be paid or received by ATS will not be material. For information with respect to such adjustments, see "The Merger and Tower Separation--ARS-ATS Separation Agreement--Closing Date Adjustments."

The results of operations have also been adjusted to reverse historical depreciation and amortization expense of $7.7 million for the year ended December 31, 1996 and record depreciation and amortization expense of $48.7 million for the year ended December 31, 1996 based on estimated allocations of purchase prices. Depreciation expense for property, plant and equipment acquired has been determined based on an average life of fifteen years. Costs of acquired intangible assets for the transactions are amortized over 15 years. The preliminary estimates of the fair market value of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets may change upon final appraisal.

Corporate general and administrative expenses of the prior owners have not been carried forward into the pro forma condensed financial statements as these costs represent duplicative facilities and compensation to owners and/or executives not retained by ATS. Because ATS maintains a separate corporate headquarters that provides services substantially similar to those represented by these costs, they are not expected to recur following acquisition. After giving effect to an estimated $2.0 million of incremental costs, ATS believes that it has existing management capacity sufficient to provide such services without incurring additional incremental costs.

NOTES TO UNAUDITED PRO FORMA CONDENSED CONSOLIDATED STATEMENT OF OPERATIONS

The unaudited pro forma condensed consolidated statement of operations for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 gives effect to (i) the EZ Merger and the Baltimore Transaction; (ii) the ATS Pro Forma Transactions; and (iii) the Tower Separation, as if they had occurred on January 1, 1997.

(a) To record the results of operations for the EZ Merger. The Baltimore Transaction has not been given pro forma effect for any items other than depreciation and amortization, interest expense and income taxes as the revenues and operating expenses are included in the historical numbers pursuant to the pre-existing LMA. The results of operations have been adjusted to record interest expense of $10.1 million for the nine months ended September 30, 1997, as a result of approximately $200.9 million of additional debt and the refunding of approximately $72.4 million of existing EZ debt, both bearing interest at an assumed rate of 8.25%, and the assumption of $150.0 million principal amount of notes bearing interest at 9.75%, incurred in connection with the EZ Merger. Weighted average common shares outstanding have been adjusted to reflect 8.3 million shares issued in the EZ Merger. Each 1/4% change in the interest rate applicable to the change in floating rate debt would increase or decrease, as appropriate, the net adjustment to interest expense by approximately $0.34 million.

The results of operations have also been adjusted to reverse historical depreciation and amortization expense of $2.5 million for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 and record depreciation and amortization expense of $8.7 million for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 based on estimated allocations of purchase prices. Depreciation expense for property, plant and equipment acquired has been determined based on an average life of ten years. Costs of acquired FCC licenses and goodwill for the transactions are amortized over 25 and 40 years, respectively. The preliminary estimates of the fair value of property, plant and equipment, FCC licenses and goodwill may change upon final appraisal.

Corporate general and administrative expenses of the prior owners have not been carried forward into the pro forma condensed financial statements as these costs represent duplicative facilities and compensation to owners and/or executives not retained by ARS. Because ARS maintains a separate corporate headquarters that provides services substantially similar to those represented by these costs, they are not expected to recur following acquisition. After giving effect to an estimated $0.5 million of incremental costs, ARS believes that it has existing management capacity sufficient to provide such services without incurring additional incremental costs.

The following table sets forth the historical results of operations for the ARS Pro Forma Transactions for the periods in which they were not owned or operated by ARS for the nine months ended September 30, 1997.

	EZ MERGER	PRO FORMA ADJUSTMENTS	TOTAL

Income (loss) from operations before income taxes	$(2,066)	$(10,888)	$(12,954)

(b) To record the results of operations for the ATS Pro Forma Transactions. The results of operations have been adjusted to: (i) reverse historical interest expense of $4.2 million; (ii) record interest expense of $8.2 million for nine months ended September 30, 1997, as a result of approximately $118.8 million of additional net debt to be incurred in connection with the ATS Pro Forma Transactions, and payment of the estimated tax liability attributable to the Tower Separation of approximately $66.6 million (net of $20.0 million to be borne by ARS pursuant to the provisions of the Merger Agreement) after giving effect to (x) capital contributions by ARS of $98.6 million, representing the difference between the aggregate amount invested by ARS in ATS at September 30, 1997 of $51.4 million and the maximum amount ($150.0 million) permitted by the Merger Agreement, and (y) the proceeds from the issuance of ATS Common Stock pursuant to the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement for an aggregate purchase price of $80.0 million, $79.4 million net of expenses (of which $49.4 million was be paid in the form of secured notes and balance in cash); and (iii) the historical depreciated book value of $4.2 million of an aggregate of 16 towers transferred or to be transferred by American to ATS representing an additional ARS equity investment in ATS. Each 1/4% change in the interest rate applicable to the change in floating rate debt would increase or decrease, as appropriate, the net adjustment to interest expense by approximately $0.2 million. The estimated tax liability shown in clause (i) preceding is based on an assumed fair market value of the ATS Common Stock of $10.00 per share which is the price at which shares are proposed to be issued pursuant to the consummation of the transactions contemplated by the ATS Stock Purchase Agreement. Such estimated tax liability would increase or decrease by approximately $14.8 million for each $1.00 per share increase or decrease in the fair market value of the ATS Common Stock. No adjustment has been included in the pro forma information with respect to certain adjustment provisions in the Merger Agreement relating to the Working Capital and Debt Amount (each as defined in the Merger Agreement) of ARS at the time of the consummation of the Merger, because ARS estimates that the payment, if any, required by such provisions to be paid or received by ATS will not be material. For information with respect to such adjustments, see "The Merger and Tower Separation--ARS-ATS Separation Agreement--Closing Date Adjustments."

The results of operations have also been adjusted to reverse historical depreciation and amortization expense of $6.8 million for the year ended September 30, 1997 and record depreciation and amortization expense of $36.0 million for the year ended September 30, 1997 based on estimated allocations of purchase prices. Depreciation expense for property, plant and equipment acquired has been determined based on an average life of fifteen years. Costs of acquired intangible assets for the transactions are amortized over 15 years. The preliminary estimates of the fair market value of property, plant and equipment and intangible assets may change upon final appraisal.

Corporate general and administrative expenses of the prior owners have not been carried forward into the pro forma condensed financial statements as these costs represent duplicative facilities and compensation to owners and/or executives not retained by ATS. Because ATS maintains a separate corporate headquarters which provides services substantially similar to those represented by these costs, they are not expected to recur following acquisition. After giving effect to an estimated $1.5 million of incremental costs, ATS believes that it has existing management capacity sufficient to provide such services without incurring additional incremental costs.

(ii) if the Tower Merger Effective Time shall have occurred, an amount in cash determined by dividing $44.00 by the American Conversion Fraction.

The term "Cash Consideration" shall mean the following: (x) if the Tower Merger Effective Time shall not have occurred, $44.00, and (y) if the Tower Merger Effective Time shall have occurred, the amount of cash determined pursuant to the provisions of clause (ii) preceding. The term "Merger Consideration" shall mean the Cash Consideration and, if the Tower Merger Effective Time shall not have occurred, the Tower Stock Consideration.

(e) Each share of American Common Stock owned by American or any of its Subsidiaries or Mergeparty or any of its Subsidiaries immediately prior to the Effective Time shall automatically be canceled and extinguished without any conversion thereof and no payment shall be made with respect thereto.

As a result of the Merger and without any action on the part of the holder thereof, at the Effective Time all shares of American Common Stock shall cease to be outstanding and shall be canceled and retired and shall cease to exist, and each holder of any certificates formerly representing such shares shall thereafter cease to have any rights with respect to such shares, except, subject to paragraph (e) above, the right to receive, without interest, the Merger Consideration, or, in the case of a holder of Dissenting Shares, the right to perfect the right to receive payment for Dissenting Shares pursuant to Section 262 of the DCL.

3.2 Exchange of Certificates.

(a) From time to time, on or prior to or after the Effective Time, Mergeparty shall deposit or cause to be deposited with an exchange agent selected by Mergeparty and not reasonably disapproved of by American (the "Exchange Agent") in trust for the benefit of the holders of American Common Stock cash in amounts and at times necessary for the prompt payment of the Cash Consideration, and American shall deposit or cause to be deposited with the Exchange Agent in trust for the benefit of the holders of American Common Stock shares of Tower Common Stock in amounts and at times necessary for the prompt delivery of the Tower Stock Consideration, if any, upon the surrender of Certificates.

(b) Not more than five (5) business days subsequent to the Effective Time, the Exchange Agent shall mail to each holder of record of a certificate or certificates that immediately prior to the Effective Time represented outstanding shares of American Common Stock (the "Certificates") (i) a letter of transmittal (which shall specify that delivery shall be effected, and risk of loss and title to the Certificates shall pass, only upon actual delivery of the Certificates to the Exchange Agent and shall be in such form and have such other provisions as American and Mergeparty may agree) and (ii) instructions for use in effecting the surrender of the Certificates in exchange for the Merger Consideration. Upon surrender of Certificates for cancellation to the Exchange Agent, together with a duly executed letter of transmittal and such other documents as the Exchange Agent shall reasonably require, the holder of such Certificate shall receive in exchange therefor the Merger Consideration multiplied by the number of shares of American Common Stock formerly represented by such Certificates. The amount of Cash Consideration paid to the holder of Certificates shall be in the form of a wire transfer of immediately available funds if so requested by any holder entitled to receive not less than $500,000 in cash, and the cost of such wire transfers shall be borne by the Surviving Corporation. Such letter of transmittal and instructions shall be available at the Closing for holders of American Common Stock. Notwithstanding the foregoing, neither the Exchange Agent nor any party hereto shall be liable to a holder of shares of American Common Stock for any Merger Consideration delivered to a public official pursuant to applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar Laws.

(c) Promptly following the date which is six (6) months after the Closing Date, the Exchange Agent shall deliver to Mergeparty all cash and any shares of Tower Common Stock in its possession relating to the transactions described in this Agreement that remain unclaimed, and the Exchange Agent's duties shall terminate. Thereafter, each holder of a Certificate may surrender such Certificate to the Surviving Corporation and (subject to applicable abandoned property, escheat and similar Laws) receive in exchange therefor the aggregate Merger Consideration to which such holder is entitled, without any interest thereon, but together with dividends and distributions, if any, paid by American Tower on or with respect to the Tower Common Stock in accordance with the provisions of Section 3.2(d).

(d) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Agreement, no dividends or other distributions declared after the earlier to occur of the Tower Merger Effective Time or the Effective Time on Tower Common Stock shall be paid with respect to any shares of Tower Common Stock represented by a Certificate until such Certificate is surrendered for exchange as provided herein or, if the Tower Merger Effective Time shall have occurred, as provided in the Tower Merger Agreement. Subject to the effect of Applicable Laws, following surrender of any such Certificate, there shall be paid to the holder of the shares of Tower Common Stock issued in exchange therefor, without interest, (i) at the time of such surrender, the amount of dividends or other distributions with a record date after the earlier to occur of the Tower Merger Effective Time or the Effective Time theretofore payable with respect to such shares of Tower Common Stock and not paid, less the amount of any withholding taxes which may be required thereon, and (ii) at the appropriate payment date, the amount of dividends or other distributions with a record date after the earlier to occur of the Tower Merger Effective Time or the Effective Time but prior to surrender and a payment date subsequent to surrender payable with respect to such shares of Tower Common Stock, less the amount of any withholding taxes which may be required thereon.

(e) If the Merger Consideration (or any portion thereof) is to be delivered to a Person other than the Person in whose name the Certificate surrendered in exchange therefor is registered, it shall be a condition to the delivery of the Merger Consideration that the Certificate so surrendered shall be properly endorsed or accompanied by appropriate stock powers (with signatures guaranteed in accordance with the transmittal letter) and otherwise in proper form for transfer, that such transfer otherwise be proper and that the Person requesting such transfer pay to the Exchange Agent any transfer or other Taxes payable by reason of the foregoing or establish to the satisfaction of the Exchange Agent that such Taxes have been paid or are not required to be paid.

(f) In the event any Certificate shall have been lost, stolen or destroyed, upon the making of an affidavit of that fact by the Person claiming such Certificate to be lost, stolen or destroyed and subject to such other reasonable conditions as the Exchange Agent may impose, the Exchange Agent shall issue in exchange for such lost, stolen or destroyed Certificate the Merger Consideration (to the extent applicable) deliverable in respect thereof as determined in accordance with this Article. When authorizing such issue of the Merger Consideration in exchange therefor, the Exchange Agent may, in its discretion and as a condition precedent to the issuance thereof, require the owner of such lost, stolen or destroyed Certificate (if other than a recognized financial institution) to give the Exchange Agent a bond or other surety in such sum as it may reasonably direct as indemnity against any Claim that may be made against the Exchange Agent with respect to the Certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

(g) At and after the Effective Time, the holder of a Certificate shall cease to have any rights as a holder of shares of American Common Stock, except for the right to surrender Certificates in the manner prescribed by Section 3.2 in exchange for delivery of the Merger Consideration, or, in the case of a holder of Dissenting Shares, the right to perfect the right to receive payment for Dissenting Shares pursuant to Section 262 of the DCL.

(h) The Surviving Corporation shall be entitled to, or shall be entitled to cause the Exchange Agent to, deduct and withhold from the consideration otherwise deliverable pursuant to this Agreement to any holder of shares of American Common Stock such amounts as are required to be deducted and withheld with respect to the making of such payment under the Code, or any provision of state, local or foreign Tax Law. To the extent that amounts are so withheld by the Surviving Corporation or the Exchange Agent, as the case may be, such withheld amounts shall be treated for all purposes of this Agreement as having been delivered to the holder of the shares of American Common Stock in respect of which such deduction and withholding was made by the Surviving Corporation or the Exchange Agent.

(i) The Exchange Agent shall invest any funds held by it for purposes of this Section 3.2 as directed by Mergeparty, on a daily basis. Any interest and other income resulting from such investments shall be paid to Mergeparty and any risk of loss resulting from such investments shall be borne by Mergeparty.

3.3 Closing of American's Transfer Books. At the Effective Time, the stock transfer books of American relating to American Common Stock shall be closed and no transfer of shares of American Common Stock which were outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall thereafter be made. If, after the Effective Time, subject to the terms and conditions of this Agreement, Certificates formerly representing American Common Stock are presented to the Surviving Corporation, they shall be canceled and exchanged for the Merger Consideration in accordance with the provisions of this Article.

3.4 Dissenting Shares.

(a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement to the contrary, shares of American Common Stock that are outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time and which are held by American stockholders who shall have not voted in favor of the Merger or consented thereto in writing and who shall be entitled to and shall have demanded properly in writing appraisal rights for such shares of American Common Stock in accordance with Section 262 of the DCL and who shall not have withdrawn such demand or otherwise have forfeited appraisal rights (collectively, the "Dissenting Shares"), shall not be converted into or represent the right to receive the Merger Consideration payable in respect of each share of American Common Stock represented thereby. Such American stockholders shall be entitled to receive payment of the appraised value of such shares of American Common Stock held by them in accordance with the provisions of the DCL; provided, however, that all Dissenting Shares held by American stockholders who shall have failed to perfect or who effectively shall have withdrawn, forfeited or lost their appraisal rights with respect to such shares of American Common Stock under the DCL shall thereupon be deemed to have been converted into and to have become exchangeable for, as of the Effective Time, the right to receive, without any interest thereon, the Merger Consideration upon surrender, in the manner provided in Section 3.2, of the Certificates with respect to such shares.

(b) American shall give Mergeparty prompt notice of any demands for appraisal rights received by it, withdrawals of such demands, and any other instruments served pursuant to the DCL and received by American and relating thereto. American shall give Mergeparty the opportunity to direct all negotiations and proceedings with respect to demands for appraisal rights under the provisions of the DCL. American shall not, except with the prior written consent of Mergeparty, make any payment with respect to any demands for appraisal rights, or offer to settle, or settle, any such demands.

(c) If the Tower Merger Effective Time shall not have occurred and the Delaware Court of Chancery (the "Court") conducts an appraisal proceeding pursuant to Section 262 of the DCL relating to an obligation to pay the appraised value per share of American Common Stock ("Appraised Total Value") to the holders of the Dissenting Shares, American Tower shall promptly pay to American the portion of the Appraised Total Value attributable to the Tower Stock Consideration (the "Tower Stock Payment") and American shall contribute (without the payment of any amount or the issuance of any securities by American Tower) to the capital of American Tower such shares of Tower Common Stock owned by American that the holders of the Dissenting Shares would have been entitled to receive had they not exercised their appraisal rights. The Tower Stock Payment shall be determined pursuant to the following provisions:

(i) American shall request the Court to determine in writing the Tower Stock Payment. If the Court shall make such determination the Tower Stock Payment shall be the amount so determined; and

(ii) If the Court shall not make such determination within a 30-day period following such request (at which time such request shall be withdrawn) (the "Determination Deadline"), American, American Tower and Mergeparty shall submit to an arbitrator (the "Arbitrator") for review and resolution the determination of the Tower Stock Payment. The Arbitrator shall be a nationally recognized investment banking firm which shall be agreed upon by American, Mergeparty and American Tower in writing. The Arbitrator shall be requested to render a decision resolving the amount of the Tower Stock Payment within 30 days following the date of its selection. If the parties cannot agree on the firm to be selected as Arbitrator within 15 days following the Determination Deadline, then American and Mergeparty, on the one hand, and American Tower, on the other hand, shall each choose one such firm within 10 days following the expiration of such 15-day period to review, resolve and agree on the determination of the Tower Stock Payment, which determination, once agreed to in writing by both such firms, shall be final, conclusive and binding on the parties. If such two firms cannot agree on the amount of the Tower Stock Payment within 30 days following the date on which the second of such firms is selected, then such two firms shall promptly select a third such firm to make such determination, which determination shall be made by such third firm within 30 days of the date on which such third firm is selected. The determination of such third firm of the amount of the Tower Stock Payment shall be final, conclusive and binding on the parties. The cost of any such arbitration (including the fees of the Arbitrator and any other firm selected hereunder) shall be borne 50% by American and 50% by American Tower. American Tower shall promptly pay to American the amount of the Tower Stock Payment once such amount is determined in accordance with this clause (ii).

3.5 Tower Merger. Anything in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, if the Effective Time shall not have occurred by May 31, 1998 (as such date may be extended by American with the written consent of Mergeparty, such consent not to be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned), on June 1, 1998 (or the date following the date, if any, to which the May 31, 1998 date shall have been so extended), the Board of Directors of American shall, in its sole discretion, either (i) consummate the merger of ATS Merger Corporation, a Delaware corporation and a wholly-owned subsidiary of American ("ATS Mergercorp"), with and into American, which will be the surviving corporation (the "Tower Merger"), pursuant to the agreement and plan of merger between American and ATS Mergercorp dated as of the date hereof and set forth as Exhibit D hereto (the "Tower Merger Agreement"), or (ii) irrevocably elect to abandon the Tower Merger. Pursuant to the Tower Merger Agreement, each share of ATS Mergercorp Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the effective time of the Tower Merger (the "Tower Merger Effective Time") shall, by virtue of the Tower Merger and without any action on the part of the holder thereof, be automatically canceled and extinguished and each share of American Common Stock issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time shall be converted into the right to receive:

(a) one share of Tower Common Stock, with (i) each share of American Class A Common being converted into the right to receive one share of Tower Class A Common, (ii) each share of American Class B Common being converted into the right to receive one share of Tower Class B Common, and (iii) each share of American Class C Common being converted into the right to receive one share of Tower Class C Common (collectively, the "Tower Merger Tower Consideration"); and

(b) a fraction (the "American Conversion Fraction") of a share of American Common Stock of the same class as the class of American Common Stock being converted, (i) the numerator of which is the difference between (A) the denominator and (B) the value (determined as set forth below) of one share of Tower Class A Common immediately prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time, and (ii) the denominator of which is the value (determined as set forth below) of one share of American Class A Common immediately prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time (collectively with the Tower Merger Tower Consideration, the "Tower Merger Consideration").

For purposes of determining the value of the American Class A Common and the Tower Class A Common immediately prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time the following principles shall apply:

(x) each share of American Class A Common shall be valued at an amount equal to the average closing sales price of the American Class A Common on the NYSE, as reported by the Wall Street Journal, for the ten (10) consecutive trading days immediately preceding the second trading date prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time; and

(y) each share of Tower Class A Common shall be valued at the amount determined in good faith by the American Radio Board of Directors to be its fair market value immediately prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time.

No certificates in respect of fractional shares of American Common Stock shall be issued in the Tower Merger, and cash shall be paid in lieu thereof as provided in the Tower Merger Agreement. The certificates that immediately prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time represented outstanding shares of American Common Stock shall be deemed, without any action of the holders thereof, to represent that number of shares of American Common Stock that the holder thereof has the right to receive pursuant to clause 3.5(b), together with cash in lieu of fractional shares as provided in the Tower Merger Agreement.

Immediately prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time, American shall contribute to ATS Mergercorp a number of shares of Tower Common Stock equal to the Tower Merger Tower Consideration.

As of the date hereof, the Board of Directors of American, at a meeting duly called and held at which a quorum was present throughout, has approved the Merger and this Agreement, and the Tower Merger and the Tower Merger Agreement, and has recommended that the holders of shares of American Common Stock approve and adopt this Agreement, the Tower Merger Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby, including without limitation the Merger and the Tower Merger.

qualification, with full power and authority (corporate and other) to carry on the business in which it is engaged, except where the failure to be so qualified or in good standing, individually or in the aggregate, would not be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American. American owns, directly or indirectly, all of the outstanding capital stock and equity interests (as shown in Section 4.1(d) of the American Disclosure Schedule) of such Subsidiaries, free and clear of all Liens (except as set forth in the American Financial Statements or Section 4.1(d) of the American Disclosure Schedule), and all such stock has been duly authorized and validly issued and is fully paid and nonassessable. There are no outstanding Option Securities or Convertible Securities, or agreements or understandings of any nature whatsoever, relating to the authorized and unissued outstanding capital stock of such Subsidiaries (except, with respect to American Tower, pursuant to the following: (i) the Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of December 12, 1997 (the "ATC Merger Agreement"), by and between American Tower and American Tower Corporation, an unaffiliated Delaware corporation, a copy of which has been delivered to Mergeparty prior to the date hereof, (ii) the Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of November 21, 1997, by and among American Tower, American Tower Systems (Delaware), Inc., Gearon & Co., Inc., and J. 4.2 Financial and Other Information. American has heretofore furnished to Mergeparty copies of the audited consolidated financial statements of American and its Subsidiaries set forth in its Annual Report on Form 10-K (the "American 10-K") for the fiscal year ended December 31, 1996 and the unaudited consolidated financial statements of American and its Subsidiaries set forth in its Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the fiscal quarter ended June 30, 1997 and its Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q for the fiscal quarter ended September 30, 1997 (the "American September 10-Q") (collectively, the "American Financial Statements"). The American Financial Statements, including in each case the notes thereto, comply as to form, in all material respects, with applicable accounting requirements and the published rules and regulations of the Commission with respect thereto, have been prepared in accordance with GAAP applied on a consistent basis throughout the periods covered thereby, except as otherwise noted therein, and fairly present in all material respects the financial condition, results of operations and cash flows of American and its Subsidiaries on the bases therein stated, as of the respective dates thereof, and for the respective periods covered thereby subject, in the case of unaudited financial statements, to normal year-end audit adjustments and accruals. American has filed all required reports and other documents with the Commission since July 1, 1995 (the "American SEC Documents"). Except as set forth in the American SEC Documents filed and publicly available prior to the date of the Original Merger Agreement (the "Filed American SEC Documents"), neither American nor any of its Subsidiaries has any liabilities or obligations of any nature (whether accrued, absolute, contingent or otherwise) which, individually or in the aggregate, would be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American. None of the American Disclosure Schedule or the American SEC Documents contains or will contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omits or will omit to state a material fact required to be stated herein or therein or necessary in order to make the statements contained herein or therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

4.3 Changes in Condition. Except as set forth in Section 4.3 of the American Disclosure Schedule, between June 30, 1997 and the date of the Original Merger Agreement, there has been no Material Adverse Change in American.

4.4 Properties. (a) American and each of its Subsidiaries (other than the Tower Subsidiaries) has good and marketable title to all material parcels of real property owned by it and good and merchantable title to all material items of property and assets, tangible and intangible, (i) reflected in the financial statements of American as of June 30, 1997, and (ii) acquired after June 30, 1997, except in each case for those sold or otherwise disposed of since June 30, 1997, in each case free and clear of all Liens, except (x) Permitted Liens and (y) Liens set forth in the American Financial Statements or Section 4.4 of the American Disclosure Schedule.

(b) All of the assets of American and its Subsidiaries material to the continued operation of their respective businesses are in good operating condition, reasonable wear and tear excepted, and usable in the ordinary course of business, except where the failure to be in such condition or so usable would not, individually or in the aggregate, be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American.

4.5 Compliance with Private Authorizations. American and each of its Subsidiaries (other than the Tower Subsidiaries) has obtained all Private Authorizations which are necessary for the ownership and operation by American or its Subsidiaries of the business of American and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole, and the conduct of business thereof as now conducted and which, if not obtained and maintained, would, individually or in the aggregate, be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American. All such Private Authorizations are, to American's knowledge, in full force and effect, and neither American nor any of its Subsidiaries (other than the Tower Subsidiaries) is, to American's knowledge, in breach or violation of, or in default in the performance, observance or fulfillment of, any such Private Authorization, and, to American's knowledge, no Event exists or has occurred, which constitutes, or but for any requirement of the giving of notice or passage of time or both would constitute, such a breach, violation or default, under any such Private Authorization, except for such defaults, breaches or violations as would not, individually or in the aggregate, be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American.

4.6 Compliance with Governmental Authorizations and Applicable Law; Litigation.

(a) Section 4.6(a) of the American Disclosure Schedule contains a list of each material Governmental Authorization (including without limitation all material American FCC Licenses) required under Applicable Laws to own and operate the business of American and its Subsidiaries (other than the Tower Subsidiaries), including without limitation each of the American Stations, as currently operated, all of which are in full force and effect, subject to such qualifications and exceptions as may be set forth in Section 4.6(a) of the American Disclosure Schedule. Certain of the Subsidiaries of American (other than any of the Tower Subsidiaries) are the authorized legal holders of the American FCC Licenses listed in Section 4.6(a) of the American Disclosure Schedule, none of which is subject to any restriction or condition which would limit in any material respect the operations of any of the American Stations as currently conducted except as noted in Section 4.6(a) of the American Disclosure Schedule. The American FCC Licenses listed in Section 4.6(a) of the American Disclosure Schedule are valid and in full force and effect and are not impaired in any material respect by any act or omission of American or any of its Subsidiaries, subject to such qualifications and exceptions as may be set forth in Section 4.6(a) of the American Disclosure Schedule; and the operation of each of the American Stations is in accordance with such American FCC Licenses in all material respects, except to the extent so listed in Sections 4.6(a) and (b) of the American Disclosure Schedule. American is fully qualified to be the transferor of control of the American FCC Licenses. All material reports, forms and statements required to be filed by American or any of its Subsidiaries with the FCC with respect to each of the American Stations have been filed and are true, complete and accurate in all material respects. American or one of its Subsidiaries (other than the Tower Subsidiaries) has obtained all Governmental Authorizations in addition to the American FCC Licenses listed in Section 4.6(a) of the American Disclosure Schedule which are necessary for the ownership or operations or the conduct of the business of American and its Subsidiaries, taken as a whole (except with respect to the American Brokered Stations), as now conducted and which, if not obtained and maintained, would, individually or in the aggregate, be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American and American's performance with respect thereto, and the operation of the American Brokered Stations is in accordance with all applicable Governmental Authorizations except where the failure to be so in accordance would not be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American. As of the date of the Original Merger Agreement, except as noted in Section 4.6(a) of the American Disclosure Schedule, no application, action or proceeding is pending for the renewal or material modification of any of the American FCC Licenses and, to American's knowledge, except as noted in Section 4.6(b) of the American Disclosure Schedule, there was not as of the date of the Original Merger Agreement before the FCC any material investigation, proceeding, notice of violation, order of forfeiture or complaint against American or any of its Subsidiaries relating to any of the American Stations or other FCC licensed facilities that, if adversely decided, would be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American (and as of the date of the Original Merger Agreement American did not have knowledge of any basis that would cause the FCC not to renew any of the American FCC Licenses). Except as noted in Schedule 4.6(b) of the American Disclosure Schedule, as of the date of the Original Merger Agreement, there was not then pending and, to American's knowledge, there was not threatened, any action by or before the FCC to revoke, suspend, cancel, rescind or modify in any material respect any of the American FCC Licenses that, if adversely decided, would be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American (other than proceedings to amend FCC rules of general applicability to the radio industry).

(b) Except as otherwise specifically set forth in Section 4.6(b) of the American Disclosure Schedule, since January 1, 1996, American and its Subsidiaries (other than the Tower Subsidiaries) have conducted its and each of their respective businesses and owned and operated its and each of their respective properties in accordance with all Applicable Laws (excluding Environmental Laws) and Governmental Authorizations, except for such breaches, violations and defaults as, individually or in the aggregate, have not had and are not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American. Except as otherwise specifically described in Section 4.6(b) of the American Disclosure Schedule and except with respect to Environmental Laws, neither American nor any of its Subsidiaries is in or is charged in writing by any Authority with, or, to American's knowledge, is threatened or under investigation by any Authority with respect to, any breach or violation of, or default in the performance, observance or fulfillment of, any Applicable Law relating to the ownership and operation of American's and its Subsidiaries' properties or the conduct of American's and its Subsidiaries' business which will, individually or in the aggregate, be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American. Except as otherwise specifically described in Section 4.6(b) of the American Disclosure Schedule and except with respect to Environmental Laws, no Event exists or has occurred, which constitutes, or but for any requirement of giving of notice or passage of time or both would constitute, such a breach, violation or default, under any Governmental Authorization or any Applicable Law, except for such breaches, violations or defaults as, individually or in the aggregate, have not had and would not be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American. With respect to matters, if any, of a nature referred to in Section 4.6(b) of the American Disclosure Schedule, except as otherwise specifically described in Section 4.6(b) of the American Disclosure Schedule, all such information and matters set forth in the American Disclosure Schedule, if adversely determined against American or one of its Subsidiaries (other than the Tower Subsidiaries), individually or in the aggregate, would not be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American.

(c) Except as disclosed in the Filed American SEC Documents or in Section 4.6(c) of the American Disclosure Schedule, there are no Legal Actions pending or, to the knowledge of American, threatened against or affecting American or any of its Subsidiaries (other than the Tower Subsidiaries) including any action by or before the FCC to revoke, suspend, cancel, rescind or modify in any material respect any of the American FCC Licenses, except for Legal Actions that, individually or in the aggregate, would not be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American.

Except as set forth in Section 4.7 of the American Disclosure Schedule, as contemplated herein or as disclosed in the Filed American SEC Documents, no director, officer, Affiliate or "associate" (as such term is defined in Rule 12b-2 under the Exchange Act) of American or any of its Subsidiaries is currently a party to any transaction which would be required to be disclosed under Item 404 of Regulation S-K of the Securities Act.

(a) American has filed completely and correctly in all material respects all Tax Returns which are required by all Applicable Laws to be filed by it, and has paid, or made adequate provision for the payment of, all material Taxes which have or may become due and payable pursuant to said Tax Returns and all other Taxes, governmental charges and assessments received to date other than those Taxes being contested in good faith for which adequate provision has been made on the most recent balance sheet forming part of the American Financial Statements. The Tax Returns of American have been prepared, in all material respects, in accordance with all Applicable Laws and generally accepted principles applicable to taxation consistently applied;

American has furnished to Mergeparty true and complete copies of all agreements under which any such fees or expenses may be payable and all indemnification and other agreements related to the engagement of the persons to whom such fees may be payable.

For purposes of the foregoing, the truth of any information or the existence of any omissions at the time of the American Stockholders Meeting and the American Stockholders Tower Meeting shall be determined with reference to the Proxy Statement and the Tower Proxy Statement, respectively, as then amended or supplemented. The Proxy Statement and the Tower Proxy Statement will comply as to form in all material respects with the requirements of the Exchange Act and the rules and regulations thereunder. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no representation or warranty is made by American with respect to statements made or incorporated by reference therein based on information specifically supplied by Mergeparty or Mergeparty Subsidiary for inclusion or incorporation by reference in the Proxy Statement or the Tower Proxy Statement.

(b) The Registration Statement to be filed with the Commission by American Tower pursuant to the provisions of Section 6.6(b) will not (except to the extent revised or superseded by amendments or supplements contemplated hereby), at the time such Registration Statement is filed with the Commission, at the time such Registration Statement is amended or supplemented or at the time such Registration Statement becomes effective under the Securities Act, contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state any material fact required to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading.

ordinary course, and (f) any damage, destruction or loss, whether or not covered by insurance, that has had a Material Adverse Effect on American.

4.17 Environmental Matters. Except as set forth in the American SEC Documents or Section 4.17 of the American Disclosure Schedule, American:

(a) (i) has not been notified in writing that it is potentially liable and, has not received any written request for information or other correspondence concerning its potential liability with respect to any site or facility, under or pursuant to any Environmental Law, (ii) to the knowledge of American, is not a potentially "responsible party" under, the Comprehensive Environmental Response, Compensation and Liability Act of 1980, as amended, the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act, as amended, or any similar state Law, and (iii) to the knowledge of American, is not the subject of or, to the knowledge of American, threatened with any Legal Action involving a demand for damages or other potential liability, including any Lien, with respect to violations or breaches of any Environmental Law;

(b) to the knowledge of American, is in compliance with all Environmental Laws and has obtained all Environmental Permits required under Environmental Laws, except for such noncompliances and failures to obtain Environmental Permits as, individually or in the aggregate, have not had and would not be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Affect on American;

(c) (i) has not entered into or received any consent decree, compliance order or administrative order issued pursuant to any Environmental Law, and (ii) is not a party in interest or in default under any judgment, order, writ, injunction or decree of any Final Order issued pursuant to any Environmental Law; and

(d) to the knowledge of American, there have not been any releases, spills or disposal activities of or involving Hazardous Materials, including without limitation from underground storage tanks, on or from any property owned, operated or leased by American which releases, spills or disposal activities resulted or could reasonably be expected to result in investigation and cleanup expenditures which upon payment of such expenditures would be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Agreement, American makes no representation or warranty with respect to its compliance with Environmental Laws or environmental matters generally, except as specifically set forth in this Section 4.17.

4.18 Opinion of Financial Advisor. American has received the opinion of CSFB, dated the date of the Original Merger Agreement, to the effect that, as of such date, the Merger Consideration (as defined in the Original Merger Agreement) to be received by the holders of American Common Stock in the Merger is fair from a financial point of view to the holders of American Common Stock.

4.19 Contracts; Debt Instruments.

(a) Except as set forth in Section 4.20 of the American Disclosure Schedule, neither American nor any of its Subsidiaries is in violation of or in default under (nor does there exist any condition which upon the passage of time or the giving of notice, or both, would cause such a violation of or default under) any material agreement, arrangement, contract, undertaking, understanding or other obligation, including the American Preferred Stock ("Contracts"), to which it is a party or by which it or any of its properties or assets is bound, except for violations or defaults, that individually or in the aggregate, would not be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American, and none of the Contracts prohibits American from incurring an additional $1.00 of indebtedness.

(b) American has made available to Mergeparty (i) true and correct copies of all Contracts to which any indebtedness of American or any of its Subsidiaries (other than the Tower Subsidiaries) in an aggregate principal amount in excess of $1,000,000 is outstanding or may be incurred and (ii) accurate information regarding the respective principal amounts currently outstanding as of the date of the Original Merger Agreement thereunder.

4.21 Appraisal Rights. No appraisal rights under Section 262 of the DCL are applicable to the Tower Merger or the Tower Merger Consideration.

ARTICLE 5

Representations and Warranties of Mergeparty

Except as set forth with respect to specifically identified representations and warranties in the Mergeparty Disclosure Schedule, Mergeparty represents and warrants to American as follows:

5.1 Organization and Business; Power and Authority; Effect of Transaction.

(a) Each of Mergeparty and Mergeparty Subsidiary is a corporation duly incorporated, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of its jurisdiction of organization and has all requisite power and authority (corporate and other) to own or hold under lease its properties and to conduct its business as now conducted and as presently proposed to be conducted. Each of Mergeparty and Mergeparty Subsidiary is duly qualified and in good standing as a foreign corporation in each other jurisdiction (as shown on Section 5.1(a) of the Mergeparty Disclosure Schedule) in which the character of the property owned or leased by it or the nature of its business or operations requires such qualification, with full power and authority (corporate and other) to carry on the business in which it is engaged, except in such jurisdictions where the failure to be so qualified and in good standing, individually or in the aggregate, is not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on Mergeparty.

(b) Each of Mergeparty and Mergeparty Subsidiary has all requisite power and authority (corporate and other) to execute, deliver and perform its obligations under this Agreement and each Collateral Document executed or required to be executed by Mergeparty and/or Mergeparty Subsidiary pursuant hereto or thereto or to consummate the Merger and the other transactions contemplated hereby and thereby, and the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and each Collateral Document executed or required to be executed pursuant hereto have been duly authorized by all requisite corporate or other action on the part of Mergeparty and/or Mergeparty Subsidiary, and no other corporate proceedings on the part of Mergeparty and/or Mergeparty Subsidiary are necessary to authorize this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby or to consummate the Merger or the other transactions so contemplated. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by each of Mergeparty and Mergeparty Subsidiary and constitutes, and each Collateral Document executed or required to be executed pursuant hereto or to consummate the Merger when executed and delivered by Mergeparty and/or Mergeparty Subsidiary will constitute, a valid and binding obligation of Mergeparty and/or Mergeparty Subsidiary, enforceable in accordance with their respective terms, except as such enforceability may be limited by bankruptcy, moratorium, insolvency and similar laws affecting the rights and remedies of creditors and obligations of debtors generally and by general principles of equity.

(c) At the time of execution of this Agreement, Mergeparty and all of its Affiliates or "associates" (as defined in the Exchange Act) collectively beneficially own less than 5% of the outstanding shares of American Common Stock.

(d) The execution, delivery and performance by each of Mergeparty and/or Mergeparty Subsidiary of this Agreement and any Collateral Document executed or required to be executed by such party pursuant hereto or thereto, do not, and the consummation by Mergeparty Subsidiary of the Merger and the other transactions hereby and thereby and compliance with the terms, conditions and provisions hereof or thereof by Mergeparty and/or Mergeparty Subsidiary will not:

(i) (A) conflict with, or result in a breach or violation of, or constitute a default under, any Organic Document of Mergeparty or Mergeparty Subsidiary or (B) any Applicable Law applicable to Mergeparty or

Mergeparty Subsidiary, or conflict with, or result in a breach or violation of, or constitute a default under, or permit the termination, cancellation or acceleration of any obligation or liability in, or but for any requirement of the giving of notice or passage of time or both would constitute such a conflict with, breach or violation of, or default under, or permit any such termination, cancellation or acceleration of, any Contract or Private Authorization of Mergeparty or Mergeparty Subsidiary, except, in the case of clause (B), for such conflicts, breaches, violations, terminations, cancellations or accelerations that would not, individually or in the aggregate, be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on Mergeparty; or

(ii) result in or permit the creation or imposition of any Lien upon any property now owned or leased by Mergeparty or Mergeparty Subsidiary except for such Liens that would not, individually or in the aggregate, be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on Mergeparty or Mergeparty Subsidiary; or

(iii) require any Governmental Authorization or Governmental Filing except for (A) the FCC Consents, (B) filings under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Act, (C) the filing with the Commission of such reports under Section 13(a) or 15(d) of the Exchange Act as may be required in connection with this Agreement and the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, (D) the filing of the Certificate of Merger with the Delaware Secretary of State and appropriate documents with the relevant authorities of other states in which American is qualified to do business and (E) such other Governmental Authorizations and Governmental Filings the failure of which to be made or obtained would, individually or in the aggregate, not be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American.

(e) Mergeparty Subsidiary was formed solely for the purpose of engaging in the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and has not engaged in any business activities or conducted any operations other than in connection with the transactions contemplated by this Agreement.

5.2 Compliance with Governmental Authorizations and Applicable Law; Litigation. Except as disclosed in any report or other document filed by Mergeparty with the SEC prior to the date of the Original Merger Agreement or in Section 5.2 of the Mergeparty Disclosure Schedule, there are no Legal Actions pending or, to the knowledge of Mergeparty, threatened against Mergeparty or any of its Subsidiaries, except for Legal Actions that, individually or in the aggregate, would not be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on Mergeparty or prevent or materially burden or materially impair the ability of Mergeparty to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement. Except as set forth in Section 5.2 of the Mergeparty Disclosure Schedule, there are not facts relating to Mergeparty (or any Affiliate thereof) under the FCA that would disqualify it (or any Affiliate or assignee) from obtaining control of the American FCC Licenses or that would prevent it (or any Affiliate or assignee) from consummating the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or, to Mergeparty's knowledge, materially delay the grant of the FCC Consents. Except as may be set forth in Section 5.2 of the Mergeparty Disclosure Schedule, it is not necessary for Mergeparty or any of its Subsidiaries or other Affiliates (or assigns) to (a) seek or obtain any waiver from the FCC, (b) dispose of any interest in any media or communications property or interest (including without limitation any of the American Stations or the American Brokered Stations), (c) terminate any venture or arrangement, or (d) effectuate any change or restructuring of ownership (including without limitation the removal or withdrawal of officers or directors or the conversion or repurchase of equity securities in Mergeparty or any Affiliate) to obtain, or to avoid any delay in obtaining, the FCC Consents. Mergeparty is able to certify on an FCC Form 315 that it is financially qualified.

5.3 Mergeparty Financing. On the Closing Date, Mergeparty will have sufficient funds to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, including without limitation the Merger, and to pay all related fees and expenses.

ARTICLE 6

Covenants

6.1 Access to Information; Confidentiality. American shall afford to Mergeparty and its accountants, counsel, investment bankers, financial advisors and other agents and representatives (the "Representatives") full access during normal business hours throughout the period prior to the Closing Date to all of its (and its Subsidiaries', other than those of the Tower Subsidiaries) properties, books, contracts, commitments and records (including without limitation Tax Returns) and, during such period, shall furnish promptly upon request (i) a copy of each report, schedule and other document filed or received by it pursuant to the requirements of any Applicable Law (including without limitation the FCA) or filed by it or any of its Subsidiaries (other than the Tower Subsidiaries) with any Authority in connection with the Merger or which may have a material effect on it or its business, financial condition or results of operations, and (ii) such other information concerning any of the foregoing as Mergeparty shall reasonably request; provided, however, that the foregoing shall not require American to permit any disclosure or to disclose any information, that in the reasonable judgment of American would result in the disclosure of any trade secrets of third parties or violate any of its obligations with respect to confidentiality if American shall have used its best efforts to obtain the consent of such third party to such inspections or disclosure. All requests for information shall be directed to an executive officer of American or such other Persons as may be designated by American. All information disclosed pursuant to this Section or otherwise shall be governed by the terms of the Confidentiality Agreement, the terms and provisions of which are incorporated herein by reference with the same force and effect as though set forth here in their entirety. No investigation pursuant to this Section or otherwise shall affect any representation or warranty of American in this Agreement or any condition to the obligations of Mergeparty hereto.

6.2 Agreement to Cooperate.

(a) Upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, each of the parties hereto shall use best efforts (x) to take, or cause to be taken, all actions and to do, or cause to be done, all things necessary, proper or advisable to consummate the Merger and (y) to refrain from taking, or cause to be taken, any action and to refrain from doing or causing to be done, any thing which could impede or impair the consummation of the Merger, including, in all cases, without limitation using its best efforts (i) to prepare and file with the applicable Authorities as promptly as practicable after the execution of this Agreement all requisite applications and amendments thereto, together with related information, data and exhibits, necessary to request issuance of orders approving the Merger by all such applicable Authorities, (ii) to obtain all necessary or appropriate waivers, consents and approvals, (iii) to effect all necessary registrations, filings and submissions, (iv) to defend any suit, action or proceeding, whether judicial or administrative, challenging the Merger or any of the transactions contemplated by the Merger Agreement, including seeking to lift any injunction or other legal bar to the Merger (and, in such case, to proceed with the Merger as expeditiously as possible), and (v) to obtain the satisfaction of the conditions specified in Article 7, including without limitation the securing of all authorizations, consents, waivers, modifications, order or approvals referred to in Sections 7.1(b) and 7.1(d) and, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, and notwithstanding any provision contained in this Agreement to the contrary, including without limitation the last sentence of Section 6.10, American shall not, and shall not permit any Tower Subsidiary to, take any action or enter into any agreement, plan or arrangement to take any action (a "Prohibited Transaction") which could reasonably be expected to materially delay the date of the American Stockholders Meeting or the Effective Time (it being understood that any delay in excess of fifteen (15) business days which would arise as a result of any such action shall be deemed "material" for purposes hereof). American hereby agrees to provide Mergeparty with prior written notification of any proposed action which could reasonably be expected to constitute a Prohibited Transaction.

(b) Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the parties acknowledge and agree that the transfer of control of the American FCC Licenses as contemplated by this Agreement is subject to the prior consent and approval of the FCC. American and Mergeparty acknowledge that they have heretofore filed with the FCC appropriate applications requesting the FCC's written consent to the transfer of control of the American FCC Licenses pursuant to this Agreement and have caused all necessary persons to join in one or more such applications filed with the FCC (the "Applications"). American and Mergeparty will use their best efforts to take such steps as may be necessary (i) diligently to prosecute the Applications and to prepare and file any further Applications or amendments as may be necessary to obtain the consent for the transfer of control to Mergeparty of the licenses held by the American Brokered Stations to be acquired by American and (ii) to obtain the FCC Consents, including action by Mergeparty, at its sole cost and expense (except as provided elsewhere in this Agreement), to satisfy or cause to be removed all Divestiture Conditions, if any. The failure by American or Mergeparty to use its best efforts to timely file or diligently prosecute its portion of any Application or, in the case of Mergeparty, the failure to use its best efforts to make any Required Divestiture or otherwise satisfy or cause to be removed all Divestiture Conditions on or before the Termination Date, shall be a material breach by American or Mergeparty, as the case may be, of this Agreement. American agrees that any delay in prosecuting the Applications or obtaining the FCC Consents resulting from Mergeparty's good faith negotiations, subject to Applicable Law, with the FCC, Antitrust Division or FTC with respect to the imposition of a Divestiture Condition shall not constitute a failure by Mergeparty to use its best efforts diligently to prosecute the Applications or obtain the FCC Consents and so long as such negotiations do not interfere with satisfaction of all conditions to Closing prior to the Termination Date. If reconsideration or judicial review is sought with respect to any FCC Consent, American and Mergeparty shall (promptly and with all due efforts) oppose such efforts to obtain reconsideration or judicial review.

(c) Without limiting the generality of Section 6.2(a), the parties undertake and agree to file as soon as practicable after the date hereof, and in any event within sufficient time to be able to consummate the Merger prior to the Termination Date, a Notification and Report Form under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Act with the Federal Trade Commission (the "FTC") and the Antitrust Division of the Department of Justice (the "Antitrust Division"). Each of the parties shall (i) use its best efforts to comply as expeditiously as possible with all lawful requests of the FTC or the Antitrust Division for additional information and documents and (ii) not extend any waiting period under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Act or enter into any agreement with the FTC or the Antitrust Division not to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, except with the prior written consent of the other party hereto; provided, however, that nothing shall limit the ability of Mergeparty to extend the 20-day waiting period under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Act following substantial compliance with any request for additional information that may be forthcoming, if such extension is reasonably necessary to allow the continuation of good-faith negotiations intended to remove any objection to the transaction that the FTC or Antitrust Division may have asserted, and if such extension will expire not less than 30 days prior to the Termination Date.

(d) Anything in this Agreement, including without limitation Section 6.2(b), to the contrary notwithstanding, Mergeparty shall obtain the FCC Consents and clearances under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Act and the grant of any waivers in connection therewith prior to the Termination Date in accordance with this Agreement unless the failure to obtain such FCC Consents, clearances and waivers is primarily the result of one or more Uncontrollable Events. For purposes of this Agreement, the term "Uncontrollable Events" shall mean (i) acts or omissions on the part of American or any of its Subsidiaries in conducting its respective operations other than those relating to the number of American FCC Licenses or amount of revenues in a particular market, (ii) an unremedied or unwaived material breach by American of its obligations under this Agreement, or (iii) any change in or enactment of Applicable Law by Congress and signed by the President and which (A) has the effect of decreasing the number of radio licenses which a Person may own nationally or locally or (B) materially and adversely relates to the concentration of radio licenses which a Person may own in a market, and as a result of the change or enactment referred to in either clause (A) or (B) above, Mergeparty's performance of its obligations under this Agreement would have a Material Adverse Effect on Mergeparty's radio and television broadcasting business. Mergeparty shall file with the FCC, within sufficient time to permit timely grant of the Applications, applications for consent to assign or transfer, pursuant to trust arrangements satisfying the FCC's local multiple ownership rules and policies, such radio broadcast stations as Mergeparty may designate, so that the radio broadcast stations of Mergeparty and American not designated for such trust arrangements may be held by the Surviving Corporation in compliance with the FCC's local multiple ownership rules and policies. Mergeparty shall, to the extent necessary to obtain grant of the trust applications, thereafter promptly file or cause to be filed any further applications (including applications to assign radio broadcast stations to third party purchasers for value) that may be required by the FCC. Notwithstanding the two preceding sentences, with regard to stations located in the San Jose market, the obligations of Mergeparty to submit trust or sale applications shall be excused for such stations to the extent and for the duration of the period that Mergeparty is unable to identify the stations to be placed in trust or sold because of the failure of American to notify Mergeparty of the resolution of the Antitrust Division impediment impacting the American transactions pending in the San Jose market.

(e) If Mergeparty or any of its Affiliates receives an administrative or other order or notification relating to any violation or claimed violation of the rules and regulations of the FCC, or of any other Authority (including without limitation seeking or relating to a Divestiture Condition), that could affect Mergeparty's or Mergeparty Subsidiary's ability to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby, or if Mergeparty or any other Affiliate of Mergeparty should become aware of any fact relating to the qualifications of Mergeparty or any of its Affiliates that reasonably could be expected to cause the FCC to withhold its consent to the assignment of the American FCC Licenses, Mergeparty shall promptly notify American thereof and American shall do likewise with Mergeparty and Mergeparty shall use its best efforts, and take such steps as are necessary, in order to satisfy or remove the Divestiture Conditions to enable the Closing to occur prior to the Termination Date. Mergeparty covenants and agrees to keep American fully informed as to all matters concerning all Required Divestitures and shall promptly notify American in writing of any and all significant developments relating thereto and American agrees to do likewise with Mergeparty.

(f) Mergeparty acknowledges and agrees that certain of the American Stations and American Brokered Stations may file applications for renewal of license during the time that an application for the FCC Consents is pending before the FCC. To the extent any such application for renewal may be filed, Mergeparty agrees to amend the transferee's portion of any application for the FCC Consents and, as may be required, to amend any license renewal applications for all of the American Stations or American Brokered Stations, to confirm Mergeparty's intention to consummate this Agreement during the pendency of such license renewal application, and to agree to assume the consequences associated with succeeding to the place of American in such license renewal applications. The making of this statement shall not be deemed to limit or waive any other rights that Mergeparty may otherwise have under this Agreement.

(g) The parties shall cooperate with one another in the preparation, execution and filing of all Tax Returns, questionnaires, applications, or other documents regarding any real property transfer or gains, sales, use, transfer, value added, stock transfer and stamp Taxes, any transfer, recording, registration and other fees, and any similar Taxes which become payable in connection with the Merger that are required or permitted to be filed on or before the Closing Date.

(h) Subject to Applicable Laws relating to the exchange of information, American, on the one hand, and Mergeparty, on the other hand, shall have the right to review in advance, and to the extent practicable each will consult the other with respect to, all the information relating to American or Mergeparty, as the case may be, and any of their respective Subsidiaries, that appear in any filing made with, or written materials submitted to, any Authority and/or other Person in connection with the Merger and the other transactions contemplated by this Agreement. In exercising the foregoing right, each of American and Mergeparty shall act reasonably and as promptly as practicable.

6.3 Public Announcements. Until the Closing, or in the event of termination of this Agreement, each party shall consult with the other before issuing any press release or otherwise making any public statements with respect to this Agreement or the Merger and shall not issue any such press release or make any such public statement without the prior consent of the other. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the parties acknowledge and agree that they may, without each other's prior consent, issue such press releases or make such public statements as may be required by Applicable Law, in which case, to the extent practicable, they will consult with the other regarding the nature, content and form of such press release or public statement.

6.4 Notification of Certain Matters. Each party shall give prompt notice to the other, of the occurrence or non-occurrence of any Event the occurrence or non-occurrence of which would be reasonably likely to cause (i) any representation or warranty made by it contained in this Agreement to be untrue or inaccurate in any material respect or (ii) any failure made by it to comply with or satisfy, or be able to comply with or satisfy, in any material respect, any covenant, condition or agreement to be complied with or satisfied by it under this Agreement in any material respect, such that, in any such case, one or more of the conditions of Closing would not be satisfied; provided, however, that the delivery of any notice pursuant to this Section shall not limit or otherwise affect the rights and remedies available hereunder to the party receiving such notice or the obligations of the party delivering such notice and shall not, in any event, affect the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements of the parties or the conditions to their respective obligations under this Agreement.

6.5 Stockholder Approval. American will, as soon as practicable following the date thereof, establish separate record dates (which will be as soon as practicable following the date hereof) for, duly call, give notice of, convene and hold (on separate dates) (i) a meeting (the "American Stockholders Meeting") of the holders of shares of American Common Stock for the purpose of obtaining the Required Vote and (ii) a meeting (the "American Stockholders Tower Meeting") of holders of shares of American Common Stock for the purpose of obtaining the Required Tower Vote. American will, through its Board of Directors, recommend to the holders of shares of American Common Stock approval and adoption of this Agreement and the Tower Merger Agreement, subject, with respect to approval and adoption of this Agreement, to the fiduciary duties of the Board of Directors of American under Applicable Law.

6.6 Proxy Statement; Registration Statement.

(a) American shall prepare and file with the Commission as soon as is reasonably practicable after the date hereof a proxy statement in connection with the American Stockholders Meeting (the "Proxy Statement") and a proxy statement in connection with the American Stockholders Tower Meeting (the "Tower Proxy Statement"), in each case complying with applicable rules and regulations of the Commission and the DCL.

(b) American shall cause American Tower to prepare and file with the Commission as soon as is reasonably practicable after the date hereof a registration statement on Form S-4 (the "Registration Statement") complying with applicable rules and regulations of the Commission. The Registration Statement shall cover the registration under the Securities Act of the shares of Tower Common Stock to be delivered as the Tower Stock Consideration or Tower Merger Tower Consideration to the holders of shares of American Common Stock at the Effective Time or the Tower Merger Effective Time, as the case may be.

(c) Mergeparty and American shall, and American shall cause American Tower to, promptly furnish to the other all information, and take such other actions, as may reasonably be requested in connection with any action taken to comply with the provisions of this Section 6.6. Each of American and Mergeparty shall, and American shall cause American Tower to, correct promptly any information provided by it to be used specifically in the Proxy Statement, the Tower Proxy Statement or the Registration Statement that shall have become false or misleading in any material respect and shall take all steps necessary to file with the Commission and have cleared by the Commission any amendment or supplement to the Proxy Statement, the Tower Proxy Statement or the Registration Statement so as to correct such Proxy Statement, such Tower Proxy Statement or such Registration Statement and cause it to be disseminated to the stockholders of American, to the extent required by Applicable Law. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, American shall, and American shall cause American Tower to, notify Mergeparty promptly of the receipt of the comments of the Commission and of any request by the Commission for amendments or supplements to the Proxy Statement, the Tower Proxy Statement or the Registration Statement, or for additional information, and shall supply Mergeparty with copies of all correspondence between it or its representatives, on the one hand, and the Commission or members of its staff, on the other hand, with respect to the Proxy Statement, the Tower Proxy Statement or the Registration Statement. Whenever any event occurs which should be described in an amendment or a supplement to the Proxy Statement, the Tower Proxy Statement or the Registration Statement, American shall, and American shall cause American Tower to, upon learning of such event, promptly prepare, file and clear with the Commission and, if prior to the Effective Time, mail to the holders of shares of American Common Stock such amendment or supplement; provided, however, that, prior to such mailing, (i) American shall, and American shall cause American Tower to, consult with Mergeparty with respect to such amendment or supplement, (ii) shall afford Mergeparty reasonable opportunity to comment thereon, and (iii) each such amendment or supplement shall be reasonably satisfactory to Mergeparty.

6.7 Miscellaneous. Nothing contained in this Agreement shall prohibit American from (a) taking and disclosing to its stockholders a position contemplated by Rules 14d-9 and 14e-2(a) promulgated under the Exchange Act or (b) making any disclosure to American's stockholders if, in the good faith judgment of the majority of the members of the Board of Directors of American, after consultation with independent counsel, failure to so disclose would be inconsistent with Applicable Laws.

6.8 Option Plans.

(a) All unexpired options to purchase American Common Stock that are outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time (each, an "American Option"), except as provided otherwise in this Section 6.8, will be canceled by American immediately prior to the Effective Time. Each employee or director of American or any of its Subsidiaries immediately prior to the Effective Time (each, an "Optionholder") shall receive, with respect to each share of American Common Stock subject to an unexpired American Option of the Optionholder so canceled by American, the Merger Consideration, or, if the Tower Merger Effective Time shall have occurred, the cash that the Optionholder would have received pursuant to the Merger and shares of American Tower Common Stock that the Optionholder would have received pursuant to the Tower Merger, in each case with respect to each share of American Common Stock subject to an unexpired American Option of the Optionholder had such American Option been exercised immediately prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time, in all cases reduced by an amount of cash (and, to the extent necessary, Tower Common Stock) equal to the exercise price per share of American Common Stock subject to such American Option. Except as provided in the preceding sentence, no other consideration will be paid by American to an Optionholder in respect of his or her canceled American Options. If the Merger is not consummated, the cancellation of the Optionholder's American Options shall be rescinded and the Optionholder shall continue to hold such American Options upon their original terms and conditions. At the election of any Optionholder who is a "disqualified individual" (as such term is defined in proposed Treasury Regulation Section 1.280G-1), this Section 6.8(a) will be inoperative with respect to such American Options as he or she may specify to the extent that the acceleration, vesting cancellation and cash-out of American Options at the Effective Time as provided herein would constitute an "excess parachute payment" (as such term is defined in Section 280G(b)(1) of the Code). Any Optionholder who makes such election shall forfeit the American Options which are subject to such election and shall receive no consideration therefor.

(b) With respect to American Options held by Tower Employees, notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 6.8 and in lieu thereof, and subject to the approval of the provisions of this Section 6.8 by the Board of Directors of American and the Compensation Committee thereof, such Tower Employees may elect to have their American Options assumed by American Tower and converted into options to acquire Tower Common Stock as of the earlier to occur of the Tower Merger Effective Time and the Effective Time, such conversion to be effectuated in a manner that will preserve the spread in such American Options between the option exercise price and the fair market value of American Common Stock at the time of such conversion, and the ratio of the spread to the exercise price prior to such conversion and, to the extent applicable, otherwise in conformity with the rules under Section 424(a) of the Code and the regulations promulgated thereunder. To the extent that Tower Employees elect to so convert their American Options into options to acquire Tower Common Stock, American shall contribute (without the payment of any amount or the issuance of any securities by American Tower) to the capital of American Tower at the time of such conversion a number of shares of Tower Common Stock equal to the excess, if any, of (i) the number of shares of Tower Common Stock owned by American immediately prior to the Tower Merger Effective Time or the Effective Time, as the case may be, over (ii) the number of shares of Tower Common Stock required to be delivered (x) to the holders of shares of American Common Stock, (y) to holders of American Options pursuant to the provisions of Section 6.8(a), and (z) upon conversion of American Convertible Preferred Stock. If the Tower Employees set forth on Schedule 4.1(e) do not enter into definitive agreements prior to the earlier to occur of the Tower Merger Effective Time and the Effective Time to convert the American Options which are held by such Tower Employees and set forth on such Schedule into options to acquire Tower Common Stock in accordance with this Section 6.8(b), American shall, prior to the earlier to occur of the Tower Merger Effective Time and the Effective Time, cause American Tower to issue to American in exchange for payment of the par value thereof a number of shares of Tower Common Stock equal to the aggregate number of shares of American Common Stock subject to such American Options set forth on such Schedule. American shall cause American Tower to file with, and cause to be declared effective prior to the earlier to occur of the Tower Merger Effective Time or the Effective Time under the Securities Act by, the Commission, a registration statement on Form S-8 to register the shares of Tower Common Stock subject to such converted American Options under the Securities Act.

(c) American will use its best efforts (including best efforts to obtain any consents of Optionholders, if required) to cause the cancellation of all of the American Options immediately prior to the Effective Time.

(d) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this Section 6.8, in the event that any amount payable under Section 6.8(a) to an Optionholder in respect of his American Options would fail to be deductible by American (or any successor thereto) solely by reason of (S)162(m) of the Code (after taking into account all amounts paid or reasonably expected to be payable to the Optionholder in the same taxable year in which the payments under Section 6.8(a) are made to the Optionholder and which are not otherwise exempt from Code (S)162(m) in determining whether any amount payable to the Optionholder will fail to be deductible thereunder), then, with respect to such portion of the Optionholder's American Options the cancellation and cash-out of which would be nondeductible under said (S)162(m) (the "(S)162(m) Options"), such (S)162(m) Options shall be canceled in accordance with the foregoing provisions of this Section 6.8, but the payments contemplated in Section 6.8(a) in respect of the Optionholder's (S)162(m) Options shall be made to the Optionholder on the 110th day following the Effective Time. American shall use its best efforts to obtain the written consent of each Optionholder affected by this Section 6.8(e) to the foregoing provisions hereof.

(e) All amounts payable hereunder to an Optionholder shall be reduced by any applicable withholding taxes.

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in this Agreement, American shall have the right, in its sole and absolute discretion, to accelerate, on such terms and conditions as it shall determine, in whole or in part, the vesting of any or all of the American Options outstanding on the date hereof (other than the (S)162(m) Options) so that such American Options are exercisable in full prior to the Effective Time.

6.9 Conduct of Business by Mergeparty Pending the Merger. Except as otherwise contemplated by this Agreement, or as has been publicly disclosed prior to the date of the Original Merger Agreement, after the date of the Original Merger Agreement and prior to the Closing Date or earlier termination of this Agreement unless American shall otherwise agree in writing, with respect to Mergeparty's media business, Mergeparty shall, and shall cause its Subsidiaries, to:

(i) conduct their respective businesses in the ordinary and usual course of business and consistent with past practice, which includes the acquisition of other radio broadcasting stations;

(ii) not amend or propose to amend its Organic Documents in any manner materially adverse to the holders of the American Preferred Stock;

(iii) use all best efforts to preserve intact their respective business organizations and goodwill, keep available the services of their respective present officers and key employees, and preserve the goodwill and business relationships with customers and others having business relationships with them and not engage in any action, directly or indirectly, with the intent to adversely affect the transactions contemplated by this Agreement; and

(iv) not authorize or enter into any agreement that would violate any of the foregoing.

6.10 Conduct of Business by American Pending the Merger. Except as set forth in Section 6.10 of the American Disclosure Schedule or as otherwise contemplated by this Agreement, including without limitation the transactions contemplated by the Tower Documentation and Section 6.19 hereof, after the date of the Original Merger Agreement and prior to the Closing Date or earlier termination of this Agreement, unless Mergeparty shall otherwise consent in writing, American shall, and shall cause its Subsidiaries, to:

(i) conduct their respective businesses in the ordinary and usual course of business and consistent with past practice;

(ii) not (A) amend or propose to amend their respective Organic Documents, (B) split, combine or reclassify (whether by stock dividend or otherwise) their outstanding capital stock or issue or authorize the issuance of any other securities in respect of, in lieu of, or in substitution for shares of its capital stock, or (C) declare, set aside or pay any dividend or distribution payable in cash, stock, property or otherwise, except for (x) the payment of dividends or the making of distributions by a direct or indirect wholly-owned Subsidiary of American and (y) the payment of dividends on shares of the American Preferred Stock in accordance with their terms;

(iii) not issue, sell, pledge or dispose of, or agree to issue, sell, pledge or dispose of, any shares of its capital stock, Convertible Securities or Option Securities, except that American may issue shares of American Common Stock upon conversion of Convertible Securities and exercise of Option Securities outstanding on the date hereof and in accordance with their present terms;

(iv) not (A) incur or become contingently liable with respect to any indebtedness other than (x) short-term borrowings not to exceed $25 million in the aggregate outstanding at any one time, (y) borrowings to finance pending acquisitions of radio stations set forth in Section 6.10 of the American Disclosure Schedule and, pursuant to agreements in effect on the date of the Original Merger Agreement and (z) borrowings not to exceed $120 million to finance a capital contribution by American to Tower, (B) redeem, purchase, acquire or offer to purchase or acquire any shares of its capital stock, Convertible Securities or Option Securities, except pursuant to the conversion or exercise thereof, as the case may be, or except to the extent required by the present terms thereof, (C) sell, lease, license, pledge, dispose of or encumber any properties or assets or sell any businesses other than pursuant to agreements in effect on the date of the Original Merger Agreement and set forth in Section 6.10 of the American Disclosure Schedule or Liens arising in accordance with the provisions of indebtedness in effect on the date of the Original Merger Agreement and in accordance with their present terms, or (D) make any loans, advances or capital contributions to, or investments in, any other Person, other than to any direct or indirect wholly owned Subsidiary of American (other than the Tower Subsidiaries) and, except as provided in clause (z) above, or to officers and employees of American or any of its Subsidiaries for travel, business or relocation expenses in the ordinary course of business;

(v) use all reasonable efforts to preserve intact their respective business organizations and goodwill, keep available the services of their respective present officers and key employees, and preserve the goodwill and business relationships with customers and others having business relationships with them and not engage in any action, directly or indirectly, with the intent to adversely impact the transactions contemplated by this Agreement;

(vi) confer on a regular and frequent basis with one or more representatives of Mergeparty to report material operational matters and the general status of ongoing operations;

(vii) not adopt, enter into, amend or terminate any employment, severance, special pay arrangement with respect to termination of employment or other similar arrangements or agreements with any directors, officers or key employees;

(viii) maintain with financially responsible insurance companies insurance on their respective tangible assets and their respective businesses in such amounts and against such risks and losses as are consistent with past practice;

(ix) not make any Tax election that could reasonably be likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American or settle or compromise any material income Tax liability;

(x) except in the ordinary course of business or except as would not reasonably be likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American, not modify, amend or terminate any Material Agreement to which American or any Subsidiary is a party or waive, release or assign any material rights or claims thereunder;

(xi) not make any material change to its accounting methods, principles or practices, except as may be required by GAAP;

(xii) not acquire or agree to acquire (x) by merging or consolidating with, or by purchasing a substantial portion of the assets of, or by any other manner, any business or any Person or other business organization or division thereof or (y) any assets that, individually or in the aggregate, are material to American and its Subsidiaries taken as a whole, in each case, other than pursuant to agreements in effect on the date of the Original Merger Agreement and set forth in the Section 6.10 of the American Disclosure Schedule (Mergeparty agrees not to unreasonably withhold, delay or condition a consent to any matters described in this paragraph);

(xiii) except as set forth in Section 4.9(a) or Section 4.16 of the American Disclosure Schedule, (a) not grant to any executive officer or other key employee of American or any of its Subsidiaries any increase in compensation, except for normal increases in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice or as required under Benefit Arrangements in effect as of June 30, 1997, (b) not grant to any such executive officer any increase in severance or termination pay, except as was required under any Benefit Arrangements in effect as of June 30, 1997, (c) not adopt or amend any Plan or Benefit Arrangement (including change any actuarial or other assumption used to calculate funding obligations with respect to any Plan, or change the manner in which contributions to any Plan are made or the basis on which such contributions are determined) and (d) except in the ordinary course, not enter into, amend in any material respect or terminate any Governmental Authorization (except as would not be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on American), material Private Authorization or Contract; and

(xiv) not authorize or enter into any agreement that would violate any of the foregoing.

Anything in this Section to the contrary notwithstanding, the provisions of this Section (other than clause (ii) hereof) shall not apply to any of the Tower Subsidiaries.

6.11 Control of Operations. Nothing contained in this Agreement shall give to Mergeparty, directly or indirectly, rights to control or direct American's operations prior to the Effective Time. Prior to the Effective Time, American shall exercise, consistent with the terms and conditions of this Agreement, complete control and supervision of its operations. Nothing contained in this Agreement shall give to American, directly or indirectly, rights to control or direct Mergeparty's operations prior to the Effective Time. Prior to the Effective Time, Mergeparty shall exercise, consistent with the terms and conditions of this Agreement, complete control and supervision of its operations.

6.12 Directors', Officers' and Employees' Indemnification and Insurance.

(a) The Organic Documents of the Surviving Corporation shall contain provisions no less favorable with respect to indemnification than are set forth in the Organic Documents of American, as in effect on the date of the Original Merger Agreement, which provisions shall not be amended, repealed or otherwise modified for a period of six (6) years from the Effective Time in any manner that would affect adversely the rights thereunder of individuals who at any time prior to the Effective Time were directors, officers or employees of American or any of its Subsidiaries, unless such modification shall be required by Applicable Law.

(b) From and after the Effective Time, Mergeparty shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless the present and former officers, directors and employees of American or any of its Subsidiaries (collectively, the "Indemnified Parties") against all losses, expenses, claims, damages, liabilities or amounts that are paid in settlement of, or otherwise in connection with any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation (as used in this Section, a "claim") (including, without limitation, in connection with this Agreement, the Merger and the transactions contemplated hereby), based in whole or in part on the fact that the Indemnified Party (or the Person controlled by the Indemnified Party) is or was a director, officer or employee of American or any of its Subsidiaries and arising out of actions or omissions occurring at or prior to the Effective Time whether asserted or claimed prior to, at or after the Effective Time, in each case to the fullest extent permitted under the DCL (and shall pay any expenses, as incurred, in advance of the final disposition of any such action or proceeding to each Indemnified Party to the fullest extent permitted under the DCL). Without limiting the foregoing, in the event any such claim is brought against any of the Indemnified Parties, (i) such Indemnified Parties may retain counsel (including local counsel) satisfactory to them and which shall be reasonably satisfactory to Mergeparty and they shall pay all reasonable fees and expenses of such counsel for such Indemnified Parties; and (ii) Mergeparty shall use its best efforts to assist in the defense of any such claim; provided, however, that Mergeparty shall not be liable for any settlement effected without its written consent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned. Notwithstanding the foregoing, nothing contained in this Section shall be deemed to grant any right to any Indemnified Party which is not permitted to be granted to an officer, director or employee of Mergeparty under the DCL, assuming for such purposes that Mergeparty's Organic Documents provide for the maximum indemnification permitted by the DCL.

(c) Mergeparty will cause to be maintained for a period of not less than six (6) years from the Effective Time American's current directors' and officers' insurance and indemnification policy to the extent that it provides coverage for events occurring prior to the Effective Time ("D&O Insurance") for all Persons who are directors and officers of American on the date of this Agreement, so long as the annual premium therefor would not be in excess of 200% of the last annual premium therefor paid prior to the date of the Original Merger Agreement (the "Maximum Premium"); provided, however, that if the annual premiums of such insurance coverage exceed such amount, Mergeparty shall only be obligated to obtain the greatest coverage available under such policy for a cost not exceeding such amount, provided further, however, that Mergeparty may, in lieu of maintaining such existing D&O Insurance as provided above, cause coverage to be provided under any policy maintained for the benefit of Mergeparty or any of its Subsidiaries, so long as the terms thereof are no less advantageous to the intended beneficiaries thereof than the existing D&O Insurance. If the existing D&O Insurance expires, is terminated or canceled during such six-year period, Mergeparty will use its best efforts to cause to be obtained as much D&O Insurance as can be obtained for the remainder of such period for an annualized premium not in excess of the Maximum Premium, on terms and conditions no less advantageous to the covered Persons than the existing D&O Insurance. American represents to Mergeparty that the Maximum Premium is not greater than $500,000.

(d) In the event Mergeparty or Mergeparty Subsidiary or any of their respective successors or assigns (i) consolidates with or merges into any other person and shall not be the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger or (ii) transfers all or substantially all of its properties and assets to any person, then and in each such case, proper provisions shall be made so that the successors and assigns of Mergeparty or Mergeparty Subsidiary, as the case may be, shall assume the obligations set forth in this Section.

(e) This Section is intended to be for the benefit of, and shall be enforceable by, the Indemnified Parties, their heirs and personal representatives and shall be binding on Mergeparty, Mergeparty Subsidiary and their respective successors and assigns.

6.13 Solicitation of Employees. If this Agreement is terminated, Mergeparty agrees that neither it nor any of its Subsidiaries or other Affiliates will, for a period of eighteen (18) months from the date of such termination, solicit or actively seek to hire any key employees (including without limitation any station manager, sales manager, program director or any individual senior to any of such individuals) who during such period is employed by American or any of its Subsidiaries, whether or not such individual would commit breach of such individual's employment agreement or contract in leaving such employment; provided, however, that the foregoing shall not prevent Mergeparty from taking any action permitted by the Confidentiality Agreement.

6.14 Change of Name. Within ten (10) days after the Closing, Mergeparty shall cause each of its Subsidiaries, if necessary, to file certificates of amendment with the appropriate Secretary of State, amending such company's Organic Documents to change the name of such company to any name which does not include the words "American Radio". Immediately prior to the Closing, American will assign to American Tower or its designee all right, title and interest, including all the goodwill related thereto, in and for past infringements of the name "American Radio" and related trademarks, service marks, logos and the like. As soon as commercially practicable, but in no event later than six (6) months from the Closing Date, Mergeparty Subsidiary and its Subsidiaries shall cease all use of the name "American Radio" in all modes.

6.15 Benefit Plans. Mergeparty shall take such action as may be necessary so that on and after the Effective Time and for one (1) year thereafter, officers and employees of American and its Subsidiaries (other than Tower Employees) shall be provided employee benefits, plans and programs (excluding equity incentive arrangements) which are no less favorable in the aggregate than those generally available pursuant to those employee benefit plans and programs in effect for such officers and employees immediately prior to the Effective Time; it being understood that Mergeparty shall determine the types and levels of specific benefits to be so provided. For purposes of eligibility to participate and vesting in all benefits provided to officers and employees of American and its Subsidiaries (other than Tower Employees), such officers and employees of American and its Subsidiaries will be credited with their years of service with American and its Subsidiaries and prior employers to the extent service with American and its Subsidiaries and prior employers is taken into account under the applicable plans of American and its Subsidiaries as in effect as of the date of the Original Merger Agreement. Upon termination of any health plan of American or any of its Subsidiaries, individuals who were officers or employees of American or its Subsidiaries at the Effective Time (other than Tower Employees) shall if employed by Mergeparty or its Subsidiaries become eligible to participate in such health plans as may be established or maintained by Mergeparty or its Subsidiaries to the extent that such individuals were eligible to participate in the applicable health plan of American or its Subsidiaries immediately prior to the Effective Time. Amounts paid during the calendar year in which the Effective Time occurs, but before the Effective Time, by officers and employees of American and its Subsidiaries (other than Tower Employees) under any health plans of American shall after the Effective Time be taken into account in applying deductible and out-of-pocket limits applicable under the health plans of Mergeparty or its Subsidiaries provided during such calendar year to the same extent as if such amounts had been paid under such health plans of Mergeparty or its Subsidiaries and Mergeparty shall cause to be waived under its health plans any pre-existing conditions as of the date of termination of the American health plan and eligibility to participate in such health plan to the extent such conditions would be waived under the applicable plans of American and its Subsidiaries as in effect on the date of the Original Merger Agreement. Nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as granting to any employee of American or its Subsidiaries any rights of continuing employment.

6.16 American Cumulative Preferred Stock. To the extent permitted under Contracts, pursuant to which any indebtedness for money borrowed of American or any of its Subsidiaries is outstanding as of the date of the Original Merger Agreement, and by the American Preferred Stock, American shall pay all dividends in respect of the American Cumulative Preferred Stock in cash.

6.17 American Tower Transaction. As soon as practicable following the execution of the Original Merger Agreement and in any event prior to the consummation of the Merger, American shall prepare, in consultation with Mergeparty and its counsel, the definitive documentation to be executed by American and American Tower to effect the delivery of the shares of Tower Common Stock as part of the Tower Merger Consideration or the Merger Consideration, as the case may be (the "Tower Separation"), and submit such documentation to Mergeparty for its approval, which approval shall not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned (as approved, the "Tower Documentation"), and American and American Tower shall execute and deliver the Tower Documentation in the form so approved. Mergeparty and American agree that the Tower Documentation shall include or be prepared on a basis consistent with the following:

(a) American Tower shall indemnify, defend and hold Mergeparty, American and Subsidiaries of American (other than the Tower Subsidiaries, collectively in this Section the "American Tower Group") harmless from and against any liabilities to which American or any of its Subsidiaries (other than the American Tower Group or, in the case of clauses (B) and (C) below of this paragraph (a), any of their officers or directors) may be or become subject that relate to or arise from the assets, business, operations, debts or liabilities of ATS Mergercorp or the American Tower Group (other than, in the case of the American Tower Group, income tax liabilities), including without limitation (i) the assets to be transferred to American Tower pursuant to Section 6.17(f), (ii) liabilities (A) in connection with the distribution of the shares of Tower Common Stock as part of the Tower Merger Consideration or the Merger Consideration, as the case may be, (B) relating to or arising from any agreement, arrangement or understanding (other than the Tower Documentation) entered into by American, ATS Mergercorp or any member of the American Tower Group (x) for the benefit of any member of the American Tower Group, (y) in contemplation of the Tower Separation, or (z) with respect to the sale, assignment, transfer or other disposition of shares of American Tower Common Stock, (C) relating to or arising from any untrue statement or alleged untrue statements of a material fact contained in the Proxy Statement, the Tower Proxy Statement, the Registration Statement or in any document filed or required to be filed in connection with the Merger, or in any document filed or required to be filed by American, ATS Mergercorp or any member of the American Tower Group in connection with the preceding clause (B) or any omission or alleged omission to state therein a material fact required to be stated therein or necessary to make the statements therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, except with respect to information provided by or relating solely to American (excluding ATS Mergercorp and the American Tower Group) which is contained in or expressly consistent with the Filed American SEC Documents or the American September 10-Q, (iii) any economic impact related to or arising from the failure to obtain any Governmental Authorizations, Private Authorizations or other third party consents, or to make any Governmental Filings, necessary to consummate the Tower Separation, and (iv) the rental and related expenses for the relevant portion of the leased premises located at 116 Huntington Avenue, Boston, Massachusetts in the event of the failure to obtain the landlord's consent to the assignment of the obligations relating to, or sublease of, such relevant portion of such premises.

(b) American shall indemnify, defend and hold the American Tower Group harmless from and against any liabilities (other than income tax liabilities) to which the American Tower Group may be or become subject that relate to or arise from the assets, business, operations, debts or liabilities of American or its Subsidiaries (other than the American Tower Group) whether arising prior to, concurrent with or after the Merger.

(c) The Tower Documentation shall include an agreement that addresses issues of the allocation of Tax liabilities and deconsolidation of American and the American Tower Group which shall contain principles to the following effect:

(i) The tax sharing agreement among members of the American Tower Group and American and its other Subsidiaries shall be terminated as of the earlier of (x) the effective date of the Merger, and (y) the date (the "Tower Deconsolidation Date") that the American Tower Group is no long eligible to be included in the consolidated tax returns of American and its other Subsidiaries under Sections 1501 to 1504 of the Code (the "Tower Deconsolidation") and will have no further effect for any taxable year (whether the current year, a future year, or a past year).

(ii) American shall include the income of the American Tower Group (including any deferred income triggered into income by Reg. (S)1.1502-13 and Reg. (S)1.1502-14 and any excess loss accounts taken into income under Reg. (S)1.1502-19) on American's consolidated federal income Tax returns and consolidated or combined state and local income Tax returns to the extent such income is properly includible thereon for all periods through the Tower Deconsolidation Date, and pay any income Taxes attributable to such income. American Tower shall reimburse American for any such federal, state and local income Taxes payable by the American Tax Group attributable to such income, as determined on a separate company basis; provided, however, that American Tower shall have no reimbursement obligation if American has no income Tax liability on a consolidated basis as a result of a net operating loss or to the extent that the income of the American Tower Group is offset by a net operating loss under the principles of clause 6.17(c)(v). The American Tower Group will furnish Tax information to American for inclusion in American's federal consolidated income Tax return for the period through the Tower Deconsolidation Date in accordance with American Tower's past custom and practice. The income of the American Tower Group will be apportioned to the period up to and including the Tower Deconsolidation Date and the period after the Tower Deconsolidation Date by closing the books of the American Tower Group as of the end of such date.

(iii) American Tower shall indemnify the American Tax Group and Mergeparty for all Taxes imposed by any Taxing Authority on any member of the American Tax Group or on Mergeparty (or on any member of its consolidated tax group) as a result of or in connection with the sale or transfer of assets to the American Tower Group pursuant to Section 6.17(g) (or between members of the American Tax Group prior to the final transfer to a member of the American Tower Group or between members of the American Tower Group), the Merger, the Tower Merger, the Tower Separation, any other disposition or issuance of stock of American Tower contemplated or permitted hereby, or the merger of American Tower with any other Person, as the case may be, including without limitation any Taxes on any gain to any member of the American Tax Group arising under Section 311 of the Code, any Taxes on any deferred gain to any member of the American Tax Group triggered as a result of or upon any such event, any gain attributable to any excess loss account triggered upon any such event, any Taxes arising as a result of the election or other transactions contemplated by clause 6.17(c)(xii), income or gain arising as a result of transactions described in Section 3.4(c) or the second sentence of Section 6.8(a), and gain on the conversion of American Convertible Preferred Stock into Tower Common Stock and any transfer Taxes arising from any such event; provided, however, that such indemnity shall only apply to the extent that the additional liability for such Taxes payable by the American Tax Group as a consequence of such events (on a "but for" basis) exceeds $20,000,000.

(iv) If, as a result of any payment by American Tower to any member of the American Tax Group or to Mergeparty pursuant to this Section 6.17(c) (including this clause (iv)), Mergeparty (or any member of its consolidated group for Federal income tax purposes) or any member of the American Tax Group becomes liable in any taxable year to pay any Taxes in excess of the Taxes they would have owed in the absence of any such payment by American Tower, American Tower will indemnify such Person for such Tax liability and make such Person whole on an after-tax basis for such Tax liability.

(v) For the purposes of clauses 6.17(c)(ii) and (iii), net operating losses of the American Tax Group shall be reduced and deemed absorbed in the following order for each taxable year of the American Tax Group: first, by all income unrelated to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement of members of the American Tax Group other than members of the American Tower Group for the entire applicable taxable year of the American Tax Group; second, by income of the American Tower Group described in clause 6.17(c)(ii); and third, by income of the American Tax Group described in Section 6.17(c)(iii). Neither the American Tax Group nor Mergeparty (or any member of its consolidated group for Federal income tax purposes) shall have any claim under either Section 6.17(c)(ii) or (iii) for additional Tax liability arising in subsequent taxable years solely as a result of the absorption of net operating losses of the American Tax Group in this manner.

(vi) American shall control any audit or contest relating to Taxes attributable to the American Tax Group. To the extent such audit or contest relates to Taxes that American Tower is obligated to reimburse or indemnify American under this agreement, American shall (x) regularly consult with American Tower in connection with such audit or contest; (y) provide American Tower with periodic reports on the status of such audit or contest; and (z) not enter into a settlement agreement relating to such audit or contest that materially prejudices American Tower without American Tower's consent.

(vii) If pursuant to any Tax audit or contest there is an adjustment to any Taxes that are reimbursable or indemnifiable by the American Tower Group to any member of the American Tax Group under this Agreement, including clauses 6.17(c)(ii), (iii) and (iv), then (x) any additional Taxes imposed on the American Tax Group as a result of such adjustment shall be indemnified by the American Tower Group; and (y) any refund of Taxes paid to the American Tax Group as a result of such adjustment of amounts previously indemnified by American Tower shall be promptly paid over to American Tower (including additional amounts to make American Tower whole on an after-Tax basis, not exceeding amounts previously paid by American Tower Group with regard to such Taxes).

(viii) American Tower shall not have the right to any refund, credit (or other reduction) of Taxes realized by the American Tax Group resulting from a carry back of a post-acquisition Tax attribute of any of the American Tower Group into a Tax Return filed by the American Tax Group.

(ix) American Tower, American and Mergeparty agree to attempt in good faith to mutually agree on such terms as promptly as practicable after the date hereof. If American Tower, American and Mergeparty cannot agree on such terms, then any disagreement shall be resolved by an arbitrator jointly selected by American Tower, American and Mergeparty. The arbitrator shall be a law or accounting firm nationally recognized in tax matters. The costs of such arbitration shall be shared equally by American Tower and American. The decision of the arbitrator shall be binding on all parties.

(x) American shall not elect to retain any net operating loss carryovers or capital loss carryovers of the American Tower Group.

(xi) The indemnities of the American Tower Group described in this Section 6.17(c) shall apply to all applicable Taxes whenever they shall arise.

(xii) At the request of any member of the American Tower Group, American agrees that it shall, and shall cause its Subsidiaries or other appropriate Affiliates to, make and/or cooperate with members of the American Tower Group (x) in making an election under Section 336(e) of the Code with respect to the Tower Separation, or (y) in effecting intercompany sales or exchanges of assets designed to achieve a comparable effect whereby deferred intercompany gains are recognized immediately prior to the Tower Deconsolidation.

(d) The Tower Documentation shall provide that American shall obtain all Governmental Authorizations, Private Authorizations or other third party consents, and make any necessary Governmental Filings, necessary to consummate the Tower Separation, except where the failure to obtain such consents, in the aggregate, would not (i) be reasonably likely to have any adverse effect on American, (ii) materially impair the ability of American to perform its obligations under this Agreement or the Tower Documentation, or (iii) materially delay or prevent the consummation of the Merger. The Tower Documentation shall provide that the Tower Separation shall be done in compliance with American's certificate of incorporation and by-laws and in material compliance with all Applicable Laws.

(e) At the Effective Time, a member of the American Tower Group shall assume (i) to the extent permitted by the landlord, the obligations under the lease of 116 Huntington Avenue, Boston, Massachusetts, with respect to the relevant portion of such leased premises or, if such permission is not obtained, sublease such relevant portion, and (ii) all liabilities with respect to which indemnification is provided under Section 6.17(a). American shall cause all members of the American Tower Group to be released from all other liabilities; provided, however, that American Tower agrees to reimburse American for any expenses incurred in obtaining such release. American and its Subsidiaries (other than the American Tower Group) shall release the American Tower Group from all Claims by American or its Subsidiaries (other than the American Tower Group), and the American Tower Group shall release American and its other Subsidiaries from all Claims by the American Tower Group, in each case except for Claims arising from or attributable to the transactions contemplated by this Agreement or any Collateral Document or otherwise asserted prior to the Effective Time.

(f) Except as otherwise provided by Section 6.19, American shall, or shall cause its Subsidiaries to, as applicable, contribute, transfer or convey to American Tower the assets described in Section 6.17 of the American Disclosure Schedule, and American Tower shall assume all of American's and such Subsidiaries' obligations with respect to such assets to the extent so set forth.

(g) The Tower Documentation shall not include any representations or warranties by American or American Tower relating to the business, operations, assets, debts or liabilities of American and its Subsidiaries (other than the American Tower Group) or the American Tower Group.

(h) On the Closing Date, the employees of American listed in Section 6.17 of the American Disclosure Schedule (the "Tower Employees") shall be offered full-time employment by American Tower or one of its Subsidiaries. Effective immediately prior to the Effective Time, American Tower shall assume all obligations arising under any Plan or Benefit Arrangement between American or any of its Subsidiaries and the Tower Employees other than the rights, if any, of the Tower Employees with respect to the American Options (which are being satisfied by American as provided in Section 6.8) and all existing rights to indemnification. Such assumption agreement shall provide that American and its Subsidiaries, effective as of the Effective Time shall be indemnified by American Tower from all obligations arising under such employment agreements or arrangements (except in respect of any American Option which is not converted into an option to acquire Tower Common Stock in accordance with the provisions of Section 6.8(b) and all existing rights to indemnification). For a period of eighteen (18) months following the consummation of the Merger, members of the American Tower Group shall not actively solicit or seek to hire any employees of American or its Subsidiaries not currently engaged in the Tower Business, other than the Tower Employees, it being understood and agreed that such agreement shall not be deemed to prevent members of the American Tower Group from placing general advertisements in publications or on the Internet or soliciting any such employee who (i) initiates employment discussions with a member of the American Tower Group or (ii) is not employed by American or Mergeparty or any of their respective Subsidiaries on the date such a member first solicits such employee.

(i) At the request of American Tower and subject to the requirements and restrictions imposed on American by any of its financing documents (as from time to time amended), American shall, from time to time after the date of the Original Merger Agreement and prior to the Effective Time, permit American Tower to (i) acquire (whether by merger, stock or asset acquisition or otherwise) additional businesses engaged in the business in which American Tower is engaged, (ii) construct additional communication towers, or (iii) make other capital improvements on assets owned or leased by American Tower or its Subsidiaries, and in each such case make additional capital contributions in American Tower, or make loans to American Tower, of the funds.

(j) The indemnification and other obligations referred to in this Section shall survive the consummation of the Merger.

(k) The Tower Documentation shall provide that prior to the Effective Time, American shall amend (i) its Section 401(k) Plan to permit a transfer of the assets held thereunder for the benefit of the Tower Employees to a Section 401(k) Plan to be established by American Tower and, prior to the Effective Time, such assets will be so transferred (along with any outstanding qualified domestic relations orders and loans) and (ii) any other Benefit Plan arrangements with respect to Tower Employees to reflect the Merger.

(l) The Tower Documentation shall provide that prior to the Effective Time American shall, to the extent requested by Mergeparty, cause the American Tower Group to perform its obligations under the Tower Documentation.

(m) Mergeparty shall, at the written request of American in its sole and absolute discretion, immediately prior to the Merger, and subject to the satisfaction of all of the conditions to the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby, purchase, at their then fair market value, shares of a new class of American preferred stock that constitutes "Junior Securities" (as defined in the American Cumulative Preferred Stock) in an amount (which shall not in the aggregate exceed $200,000,000) necessary to enable (i) the Tower Stock Consideration to be delivered to the holders of shares of American Common Stock and holders of American Options pursuant to the Merger, and (ii) Tower Common Stock to be delivered upon conversion of the American Convertible Preferred Stock, without causing any conflict with, or breach or violation of, or default under, or creating any right to accelerate any obligation or liability in, or causing or creating any of the foregoing after the giving of notice or passage of time or both with, of, under or in any indebtedness of American or the American Cumulative Preferred Stock; provided, however, that anything in this Section or elsewhere in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, in such event such new class of American preferred stock shall remain outstanding immediately following the Effective Time.

(n) The Tower Documentation shall provide that American shall cause American Tower to file with, and cause to be declared effective under the Securities Act prior to the Effective Time by, the Commission a registration statement to permit the delivery of shares of Tower Common Stock by American upon conversion of American Convertible Preferred Stock following the Effective Time under the Securities Act. Such Tower Documentation shall further provide that American Tower shall maintain, on customary terms, the effectiveness of such registration statement under the Securities Act until such time as American Tower shall deliver to American an opinion of legal counsel reasonably satisfactory to American and Mergeparty that such registration statement is no longer required to permit such delivery in accordance with the Securities Act.

6.18 Purchase Price Adjustment. (a) Within 90 days after the Closing Date, Mergeparty shall prepare and deliver to American Tower (i) a consolidated balance sheet (the "Closing Balance Sheet") of American and its Subsidiaries (other than the Tower Subsidiaries) (the "Post-Closing American Group"), prepared from the books and records of the Post-Closing American Group, and (ii) a statement (the "Closing Statement") setting forth (A) Working Capital (as defined below) as of the Effective Time ("Closing Working Capital") and (B) Net Debt (as defined below) as of the Effective Time ("Closing Net Debt"), together with a certificate of Mergeparty's chief financial officer that the Closing Statement has been prepared in accordance with this Section 6.18.

During the 45-day period following American Tower's receipt of the Closing Statement, American Tower shall be permitted to review (and make copies of) the working papers of Mergeparty relating to the Closing Statement. The Closing Statement shall become final and binding upon the parties on the forty-sixth day following delivery thereof, unless American Tower gives written notice of its disagreement with the Closing Statement ("Notice of Disagreement") to Mergeparty prior to such date. Any Notice of Disagreement shall (i) specify in reasonable detail the nature of any disagreement so asserted, (ii) only include disagreements based on Closing Working Capital or Closing Net Debt (or the components thereof) not being calculated in accordance with this Section 6.18 and (iii) be accompanied by a certificate of American Tower's chief financial officer that he or she concurs with each of the positions taken by American Tower in the Notice of Disagreement. If a Notice of Disagreement is received by Mergeparty in a timely manner, then the Closing Statement (as revised in accordance with clause (A) or (B) immediately following) shall become final and binding on the earlier of (A) the date Mergeparty and American Tower resolve in writing any differences they have with respect to the matters specified in the Notice of Disagreement or (B) the date any disputed matters are finally resolved in writing by the Accounting Firm (as defined below).

During the 30-day period following delivery of a Notice of Disagreement, Mergeparty and American Tower shall seek in good faith to resolve in writing any differences which they may have with respect to the matters specified in the Notice of Disagreement. During such period Mergeparty shall have access to (and shall be permitted to make copies of) the working papers of American Tower prepared in connection with the Notice of Disagreement. At the end of such 30-day period, Mergeparty and American Tower shall submit to an independent accounting firm (the "Accounting Firm") for review and resolution any and all matters which remain in dispute and which were properly included in the Notice of Disagreement and each of Mergeparty and American Tower shall submit a memorandum setting forth in reasonable detail the basis for its positions. The Accounting Firm shall be a nationally recognized independent public accounting firm agreed upon by Mergeparty and American Tower in writing. Mergeparty and American Tower shall jointly use all reasonable efforts to cause the Accounting Firm to render a decision within thirty (30) days following submission or as promptly thereafter as is practicable. Mergeparty and American Tower agree that judgment may be entered upon the determination of the Accounting Firm in any court having jurisdiction over the party against which such determination is to be enforced. The cost of any dispute resolution (including the fees and expenses of the Accounting Firm and reasonable attorney fees and expenses of the parties) pursuant to this Section 6.18 shall be borne by Mergeparty and American Tower in inverse proportion as they may prevail on matters resolved by the Accounting Firm, which proportionate allocations shall also be determined by the Accounting Firm at the time the determination of the Accounting Firm is rendered on the merits of the matters submitted.

(b) Subject to Section 6.18(d), if Closing Working Capital is less than (i) $60,000,000 in the event the Closing Date is on or prior to March 31, 1998 or (ii) $70,000,000 in the event the Closing Date is after March 31, 1998 (the "WC Amount"), American Tower shall, and if Closing Working Capital is greater than the WC Amount, Mergeparty shall, owe the other the amount of such difference. The term "Working Capital" shall mean Current Assets minus Liabilities (in each case as defined below). The terms "Current Assets" and "Liabilities" shall mean the current assets and liabilities of the Post-Closing American Group calculated in accordance with GAAP except that (i) outstanding principal amount of indebtedness and liquidation preference of preferred stock shall be excluded, (ii) cash shall be excluded, (iii) accruals for Taxes shall be included, except that (A) Tax liabilities which American Tower is obligated to indemnify American and its Subsidiaries (other than the American Tower Group) pursuant to the provisions of the Tower Documentation, and deferred income Tax assets and liabilities that exist or arise from differences in basis for Tax and financial reporting purposes attributable to acquisitions, exchanges and dispositions or attributable to depreciation and amortization, shall not be taken into account, (B) Tax benefits arising from the exercise or cancellation of options between the date of the Original Merger Agreement and the Effective Time shall not be taken into account, and (C) accruals for Taxes relating to acquisitions, exchanges or dispositions shall be determined in accordance with American's past accounting practices, (iv) Current Assets shall be increased by an amount equal to the sum of (x) the amount derived by multiplying the Cash Consideration by the number of shares of American Common Stock held in its treasury as of the Effective Date and (y) the aggregate amount of the spread of $44.00 over the exercise price of each American Option outstanding on the date of the Original Merger Agreement terminated or cancelled prior to the Effective Time or for which the holder has elected to receive an option to acquire Tower Common Stock in lieu thereof, less the Tax benefit that would have been received with respect to the exercise of such options, (v) Current Assets shall be (A) increased (if the number of shares of American Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the American Convertible Preferred Stock is fewer than 3,750,000 (or if the Tower Merger Effective Time shall have occurred, 3,750,000 multiplied by the American Conversion Fraction)) by an amount equal to the amount derived by multiplying the Cash Consideration by the excess of (I) 3,750,000 (or if the Tower Merger Effective Time shall have occurred, 3,750,000 multiplied by the American Conversion Fraction) less (II) the number of shares of American Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the American Convertible Preferred Stock or (B) decreased (if the number of shares of American Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the American Convertible Preferred Stock is greater than 3,750,000 (or if the Tower Merger Effective Time shall have occurred, 3,750,000 multiplied by the American Conversion Fraction) by an amount equal to the amount derived by multiplying the Cash Contribution by the excess of (I) the number of shares of American Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the American Convertible Preferred Stock less (II) 3,750,000 (or if the Tower Merger Effective Time shall have occurred, 3,750,000 multiplied by the American Conversion Fraction), (vi) liabilities from the radio broadcasting rights contracts for St. Louis Rams games shall be limited to $3,300,000 and (vii) amounts owed by American Tower to American pursuant to Section 9.3(b) shall be excluded from Current Assets, and liabilities of American, if any, with respect to such amounts shall be excluded from Liabilities (it being understood that neither American nor Mergeparty shall be responsible for any such liabilities).

(c) Subject to Section 6.18(d), if Closing Net Debt is greater than the Debt Amount (as defined below) minus $50,419,000, minus cash received by the Post-Closing American Group in respect of options exercised between the date of the Original Merger Agreement and the Effective Time (the "CD Amount"), American Tower shall, and if Closing Net Debt is less than the CD Amount, Mergeparty shall, owe the other the amount of such difference. "Debt Amount" shall mean $1,066,721,000, minus the consideration that was expected to be paid (as set forth on Section 6.10(a) of the American Disclosure Schedule) with respect to all acquisitions set forth in Section 6.10(a) of the American Disclosure Schedule which were not consummated prior to the Closing Date, plus the consideration that was expected to be received (as set forth in Section 6.10(a) of the American Disclosure Schedule) with respect to all dispositions set forth in Section 6.10(a) of the American Disclosure Schedule which were not consummated prior to the Closing Date, plus the consideration paid in connection with acquisitions consummated prior to the Closing Date which were not listed in Section 6.10(a) of the American Disclosure Schedule, minus the consideration received in connection with dispositions consummated prior to the Closing Date which were not listed in Section 6.10(a) of the American Disclosure Schedule. The term "Net Debt" shall mean outstanding principal amount of indebtedness (including, without duplication, guarantees of indebtedness) plus outstanding liquidation preference of all preferred stock (other than the American Convertible Preferred Stock) minus cash.

(d) Amounts owed pursuant to the first sentence of Section 6.18(b) and the first sentence of 6.18(c) shall be aggregated or netted, as appropriate (the resulting amount, the "Adjustment Amount"). In the event that the Adjustment Amount minus $10,000,000 is greater than $0 (the "Final Adjustment Amount"), the party that owes the Final Adjustment Amount shall make payment by wire transfer of immediately available funds of the Final Adjustment Amount together with interest thereon at a rate of interest equal to the lesser of (i) 10% per annum and (ii) if American Tower is being charged a rate of interest by a financial institution, such rate, but in no event lower than the prime rate as reported in the Wall Street Journal on the date the Closing Statement becomes final and binding on the parties, calculated on the basis of the actual number of days elapsed divided by 365, from the date of the Effective Time to the date of actual payment.

(e) The scope of the disputes to be resolved by the Accounting Firm is limited to whether the Closing Statement was prepared in compliance with the requirements of this Section 6.18 and the allocation of the costs of dispute resolution, and the Accounting Firm is not to make any other determination.

(f) During the period of time from and after the delivery of the Closing Statement to American Tower through the date the Closing Statement becomes final and binding on Mergeparty, American and American Tower, Mergeparty shall cause the Post-Closing American Group to afford to American Tower and any accountants, counsel or financial advisors retained by American Tower in connection with the adjustment contemplated by this Section 6.18 reasonable access (with the right to make copies) during normal business hours to the books and records of the Post-Closing American Group to the extent relevant to the adjustment contemplated by this Section 6.18.

(g) Any adjustment pursuant to this Section 6.18 shall be taken into account in the calculation of Tax liability pursuant to clause 6.17(c)(iii), and any increase or decrease in the amount of Taxes that are reimbursable or indemnifiable by the American Tower Group as a result of any such adjustment shall be treated as an adjustment to Taxes for purposes of clause 6.17(c)(vii)

6.19 Tower Leases. In connection with the Tower Separation, Mergeparty and American shall agree on the definitive documentation ("Tower Leases") to be executed by American and American Tower with respect to certain broadcasting towers set forth in Section 6.17(i) of the American Disclosure Schedules ("Towers"). The markets in which such Towers are located and the annual "market price" for each antenna are set forth in Exhibit "B." Except as set forth in Section 6.17(i) of the American Disclosure Schedule, such Towers are now owned or leased by American and shall become the property of American Tower. Each of the Tower Leases shall contain standard and customary terms and conditions and Mergeparty and American specifically agree to the inclusion of the following in each of the Tower Leases:

(a) except as provided in clause (b) below with respect to those Tower Leases set forth in Section 6.19 of the American Disclosure Schedule, each Tower Lease shall be for a term of twenty (20) years with four (4) renewal periods of five (5) years each, each such renewal to be upon the same terms and conditions as the original Tower Lease;

(b) Prior to the Effective time, American shall use its best efforts to extend the term of each lease set forth in Section 6.19 of the American Disclosure Schedule ("Land Leases") to a minimum duration of twenty (20) years, inclusive of renewal periods, if any, and provide Mergeparty with respect to the Towers subject to the extended Land Leases, tower leases with the equivalent benefits set forth in clauses (c), (d) and (e) and for a minimum duration of twenty (20) years ("Extended Tower Leases"). With respect to any such Land Lease that is not so extended (except with respect to the Land Lease for KUFX(FM), which present term of approximately eighteen (18) remaining years shall be deemed to satisfy the foregoing requirement of a minimum duration of twenty (20) years), American, American Tower and Mergeparty shall negotiate in good faith to agree upon definitive documentation to provide Mergeparty with respect to the Towers subject to such Land Leases, tower leases with the benefits equivalent of such Extended Tower Leases or mutually agreed to alternative arrangements providing equivalent value to Mergeparty;

(c) each Tower Lease shall provide that no payments shall be payable by Mergeparty for a period of three (3) years from the Effective Time; for the next three (3) years the payments shall be as follows: one-third (1/3) of the market price as set forth in Exhibit B corresponding to each FM antenna (or AM/FM antenna) for year four (4); two-thirds (2/3) for year five (5) and full market price for year six (6); thereafter, for the balance of the term and any renewals thereof, the payments shall be the market price, together with an annual increase every year, beginning for year seven (7), of the lesser of five percent (5%) or the Consumer Price Index for all Urban Consumers over the previous year's payments (except with respect to San Jose (KUFX) and Boston (WNFT) which such payments shall begin at the Effective Time, with respect to Mergeparty, and will begin on January 1, 1998 as between American and American Tower). Notwithstanding the foregoing, Mergeparty acknowledges that Tower Lease payments at the full "market price" indicated on Exhibit B by American to American tower may commence upon such leases becoming the property of American Tower and shall continue until the Effective Time;

(d) all expenses for taxes, insurance, maintenance and utilities in respect of each Tower shall be paid by American Tower; and

(e) American Tower will assume the obligation and responsibility for complying with all Applicable Law with respect to the Towers.

6.20 Affiliates of American. American shall use its best efforts to cause each principal executive officer, each director and each other person who is an "affiliate" of American for purposes of Rule 145 under the Securities Act at the times each of this Agreement and the Tower Merger Agreement is submitted for a vote of the holders of shares of American Common Stock to deliver to American Tower on or prior to the Effective Time and the Tower Merger Effective Time, respectively, a written agreement (an "Affiliate Agreement"), reasonably satisfactory in form, scope and substance to American and Mergeparty, to the effect that such Person will not offer to sell, assign, transfer or otherwise dispose of any shares of Tower Common Stock issued in the Merger or the Tower Merger, as the case may be, except, in each case, pursuant to an effective registration statement or in compliance with Rule 145, or in a transaction which, in the opinion of legal counsel reasonably satisfactory to American and Mergeparty, is exempt from the registration requirements of the Securities Act.

Closing Conditions

7.1 Conditions to Obligations of Each Party to Effect the Merger. The respective obligations of each party to effect the Merger shall, except as hereinafter provided in this Section, be subject to the satisfaction at or prior to the Closing Date of the following conditions, any or all of which may be waived, in whole or in part, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law:

(a) the Required Vote shall have been obtained;

(b) the FCC shall have issued the FCC Order (as defined below) approving the applications for transfer of control of American's FCC Licenses in connection with the transactions contemplated herein, and the FCC Order shall have been obtained without the imposition of conditions that would have a Material Adverse Effect on Mergeparty's television and radio broadcasting business; provided that without triggering Mergeparty's right to approve such conditions or restrictions, the FCC Order (i) may condition consummation of the Merger on Mergeparty complying with the numerical limits on local multiple radio ownership imposed by 47 C.F.R. (S) 73.3555(a) by affording Mergeparty a period of at least six (6) months following the Effective Time within which to comply with such rule through the use of divestiture trusts on terms and conditions required by the FCC, provided further, however, that to the extent that the FCC authority for such divestiture trusts provides for a period of less than six (6) months, (A) American has the right to postpone the Effective Time (and, to the extent necessary, the Termination Date), so that Mergeparty is afforded the six (6) month divestiture period, whether before or after the Effective Time and (B) if American exercises such right, Mergeparty's right to approve such condition shall not be triggered, and (ii) may grant Mergeparty temporary, rather than permanent, waivers of the "one-to-a-market" rule, 47 C.F.R. (S) 73.3555(c), so long as such temporary waivers shall remain in effect until at least six (6) months following the effective date of FCC action concluding the ongoing rulemaking proceeding in MM Docket Nos. 91-221, 87-8 (FCC 94-322) or a successor rulemaking proceeding pending at the time of the grant of the FCC Order, that considers the "one-to-a-market" rule. The "FCC Order" shall be an action by the FCC approving the transfer of the American FCC Licenses with respect to which, except as may be waived in writing by Mergeparty in its sole discretion, (i) no timely request for stay, petition for reconsideration or appeal or sua sponte action of the FCC with comparable effect is pending, or (ii) if any of the foregoing is pending, in the judgment of Mergeparty it lacks any substantial merit or is contrary to established FCC precedent, or (iii) if it were to be so granted, it would not have a Material Adverse Effect on Mergeparty's television and radio broadcasting business; and as to which the thirty (30) day time period specified in 47 U.S.C. (S) 405(a) for initiating a petition for reconsideration of the grant of the FCC Order has expired;

(c) no Authority of competent jurisdiction shall have enacted, issued, promulgated, enforced or entered any Law (whether temporary, preliminary or permanent) that remains in effect and restrains, enjoins or otherwise prohibits consummation of the Merger; and

(d) the waiting period applicable to the consummation of the Merger under the Hart-Scott-Rodino Act shall have expired or been terminated.

7.2 Conditions to Obligations of Mergeparty. The obligation of Mergeparty and Mergeparty Subsidiary to effect the Merger shall be subject to the satisfaction of the following conditions, any or all of which may be waived, in whole or in part, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law:

(a) American shall have furnished Mergeparty, with an opinion, dated the Closing Date of Dow, Lohnes & Albertson, FCC counsel for American, substantially in the form attached hereto as Exhibit C;

(b) (i) the representations and warranties of American set forth in this Agreement (other than in Sections 4.1(e), 4.11 and 4.13) shall be true and correct as of the date of the Original Merger Agreement and as of the Closing Date as though made on and as of the Closing Date except (x) to the extent such representations and warranties expressly speak as of an earlier date (in which case such representations and warranties shall be true and correct as of such earlier date) and (y) to the extent that the failure of such representations and warranties to be true and correct, individually or in the aggregate, would not have a Material Adverse Effect on American; provided, however, that for the purpose of this clause (y), representations and warranties that are qualified as to materiality (including by reference to "Material Adverse Effect") shall not be deemed to be so qualified, and (ii) the representations and warranties of American set forth in Sections 4.1(e), 4.11 and 4.13 of this Agreement shall be true and correct in all material respects as of the date of the Original Merger Agreement and as of the Closing Date; and

(c) American shall have performed in all material respects all obligations required to be performed by it under this Agreement at or prior to the Closing Date;

(d) between the date of the Original Merger Agreement and the Closing Date, except as contemplated by this Agreement, and except as set forth in Section 4.3 of the American Disclosure Schedule, there shall not have occurred and be continuing any Material Adverse Change in American.

7.3 Conditions to Obligations of American. The obligation of American to effect the Merger shall be subject to the satisfaction of the following conditions, any or all of which may be waived, in whole or in part, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law:

(a) the representations and warranties of Mergeparty set forth in this Agreement shall be true and correct as of the date of the Original Merger Agreement and as of the Closing Date as though made on and as of the Closing Date except (x) to the extent such representations and warranties expressly speak as of an earlier date (in which case such representations and warranties shall be true and correct as of such earlier date) and (y) to the extent that the failure of such representations and warranties to be true and correct, individually or in the aggregate, would not have a Material Adverse Effect on Mergeparty; provided, however, that for the purpose of this clause (y), representations and warranties that are qualified as to materiality (including by reference to "Material Adverse Effect") shall not be deemed to be so qualified.; and

(b) Mergeparty shall have performed in all material respects all obligations required to be performed by it under this Agreement at or prior to the Closing Date.

ARTICLE 8

Termination, Amendment and Waiver

8.1 Termination. This Agreement may be terminated at any time prior to the Closing Date, whether before or after receipt by American of the Required Vote:

(a) by mutual written consent of American, Mergeparty and Mergeparty Subsidiary;

(b) by either Mergeparty or American if any Authority of competent jurisdiction shall have enacted, issued, promulgated, enforced or entered any Law that shall have become final and nonappealable and that restrains, enjoins or otherwise prohibits consummation of the Merger, unless the party seeking such restraint, injunction or prohibition or any Affiliate thereof was the terminating party;

(c) by either Mergeparty or American if the Merger shall not have been consummated by the Termination Date for any reason; provided, however, that the right to terminate this Agreement under this Section 8.1(c) shall not be available to any party whose action or failure to act (or the action or failure to act of any Affiliate) has been a principal cause of or resulted in the failure of the Merger to occur on or before such date and such action or failure to act constitutes a breach of this Agreement;

(d) by either Mergeparty or American if the Required Vote shall not have been obtained at the American Stockholders Meeting duly convened therefor or at any adjournment or postponement thereof or by written consent;

(e) by American in the event (i) American is not in material breach of this Agreement and none of its representations or warranties shall have been or become and continue to be untrue in any material respect, and (ii) Mergeparty is in material breach of this Agreement or any of its representations or warranties shall have become and continue to be untrue in any manner that would cause the condition in Section 7.3(a) not to be satisfied, and such a breach or untruth exists and is not capable of being cured by and will prevent or delay consummation of the Merger by or beyond the Termination Date; or

(f) by Mergeparty in the event (i) Mergeparty is not in material breach of this Agreement and none of its representations or warranties shall have been or become and continue to be untrue in any material respect, and (ii) American is in material breach of this Agreement or any of its representations or warranties shall have become and continue to be untrue in any manner that would cause the condition in Section 7.2(b) not to be satisfied, and such a breach or untruth exists and is not capable of being cured by and will prevent or delay consummation of the Merger by or beyond the Termination Date.

The term "Termination Date" shall mean December 31, 1998, as such date may from time to time be extended pursuant to the provisions of Section 7.1(b) or by mutual agreement of the parties.

8.2 Effect of Termination.

Except as provided in Sections 6.1 (Access to Information; Confidentiality), 6.3 (Public Announcements), and 9.3 (Fees, Expenses and other Payments) and this Section, in the event of the termination of this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.1, or in the event the Merger shall not have become effective prior to the end of business on the day prior to the Termination Date, this Agreement shall forthwith become void and have no effect, without any liability on the part of any party, or any of its respective stockholders, officers or directors, to the other; provided, however, that such termination shall not relieve any party from liability for any breach of any of its warranties, covenants or agreements set forth in this Agreement and, provided, however that such termination will not terminate the Confidentiality Agreement.

General Provisions

9.1 Amendment. This Agreement may be amended from time to time by the parties hereto at any time prior to the Closing Date but only by an instrument in writing signed by the parties hereto and, after receipt of the Required Vote, subject, in the case of American, to Applicable Law.

"Expenses" shall mean reasonable and reasonably documented out-of-pocket fees and expenses incurred or paid by or on behalf of Mergeparty in connection with the Merger or the consummation of any of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, including all fees and expenses of counsel, commercial banks, investment banking firms, accountants, experts and consultants to Mergeparty in an aggregate amount not to exceed $5 million.

9.5 Specific Performance; Other Rights and Remedies. Each party recognizes and agrees that in the event the other party should refuse to perform any of its obligations under this Agreement or any Collateral Document, the remedy at law would be inadequate and agrees that for breach of such provisions, each party shall, in addition to such other remedies as may be available to it at law or in equity or as provided in Article 8, be entitled to injunctive relief and to enforce its rights by an action for specific performance to the extent permitted by Applicable Law. Each party hereby waives any requirement for security or the posting of any bond or other surety in connection with any temporary or permanent award of injunctive, mandatory or other equitable relief. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as prohibiting each party from pursuing any other remedies available to it under Applicable Law or pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement for such breach or threatened breach, including without limitation the recovery of damages, including, to the extent awarded in any Legal Action, punitive, incidental and consequential damages (including without limitation damages for diminution in value and loss of anticipated profits) or any other measure of damages permitted by Applicable Law.

9.6 Survival of Representations, Warranties, Covenants and Agreements. None of the representations and warranties in this Agreement shall survive the Merger, and after effectiveness of the Merger neither Mergeparty, American or their respective officers, directors or shareholders shall have any further obligation with respect thereto. This Section 9.6 shall not limit any covenant or agreement of the parties which by its terms contemplates performance after the Effective Time.

9.7 Severability. If any term or provision of this Agreement shall be held or deemed to be, or shall in fact be, invalid, inoperative, illegal or unenforceable as applied to any particular case in any jurisdiction or jurisdictions, or in all jurisdictions or in all cases, because of the conflicting of any provision with any constitution or statute or rule of public policy or for any other reason, such circumstance shall not have the effect of rendering the provision or provisions in question invalid, inoperative, illegal or unenforceable in any other jurisdiction or in any other case or circumstance or of rendering any other provision or provisions herein contained invalid, inoperative, illegal or unenforceable to the extent that such other provisions are not themselves actually in conflict with such constitution, statute or rule of public policy, but this Agreement shall be reformed and construed in any such jurisdiction or case as if such invalid, inoperative, illegal or unenforceable provision had never been contained herein and such provision reformed so that it would be valid, operative and enforceable to the maximum extent permitted in such jurisdiction or in such case. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of any such determination, the parties shall negotiate in good faith to modify this Agreement so as to effect the original intent of the parties as closely as possible to the fullest extent permitted by Applicable Law in an acceptable manner to the end that the Merger is fulfilled and consummated to the maximum extent possible.

9.8 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in several counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument, binding upon all of the parties. In pleading or proving any provision of this Agreement, it shall not be necessary to produce more than one of such counterparts.

9.9 Section Headings. The headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not in any way affect the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement.

9.10 Governing Law. The validity, interpretation, construction and performance of this Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the Applicable Laws of the United States of America and the laws of the State of New York applicable to contracts made and performed in such State and, in any event, without giving effect to any choice or conflict of laws provision or rule that would cause the application of domestic substantive laws of any other jurisdiction, except to the extent the corporate laws of the State of Delaware are applicable. Anything in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, in the event of any dispute between the parties which results in a Legal Action, the prevailing party shall be entitled to receive from the non-prevailing party reimbursement for reasonable legal fees and expenses incurred by such prevailing party in such Legal Action.

9.11 Further Acts. Each party agrees that at any time, and from time to time, before and after the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, it will do all such things and execute and deliver all such Collateral Documents and other assurances, as the other party or its counsel reasonably deems necessary or desirable in order to carry out the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby or to facilitate the enjoyment of any of the rights created hereby or to be created hereunder.

9.12 Entire Agreement; No Other Representations or Agreements. This Agreement (together with the Disclosure Schedules and the Exhibits and the other Collateral Documents delivered or to be delivered in connection herewith) constitutes the entire agreement of the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior agreements, arrangements, covenants, promises, conditions, undertakings, inducements, representations, warranties and negotiations, expressed or implied, oral or written, between the parties, with respect to the subject matter hereof. Each of the parties is a sophisticated legal entity that was advised by experienced counsel and, to the extent it deemed necessary, other advisors in connection with this Agreement. Each of the parties hereby acknowledges that (a) neither party has relied or will rely in respect of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby upon any document or written or oral information previously furnished to or discovered by it or its representatives, other than this Agreement (including the Exhibits and the Disclosure Schedules and the other Collateral Documents) or such of the foregoing as are delivered at the Closing, (b) there are no covenants or agreements by or on behalf of either party hereto or any of its respective Affiliates or representatives other than those expressly set forth in this Agreement and the Collateral Documents, and (c) the parties' respective rights and obligations with respect to this Agreement and the events giving rise thereto will be solely as set forth in this Agreement and the Collateral Documents. WITHOUT LIMITING THE GENERALITY OF THE FOREGOING, EACH PARTY HERETO AGREES THAT, EXCEPT FOR THE REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES CONTAINED IN THIS AGREEMENT, NEITHER AMERICAN NOR MERGEPARTY MAKES ANY OTHER REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES, AND EACH HEREBY DISCLAIMS ANY OTHER REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES MADE BY ITSELF OR ANY OF ITS OFFICERS, DIRECTORS, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS, FINANCIAL AND LEGAL ADVISORS OR OTHER REPRESENTATIVES, WITH RESPECT TO THE EXECUTION AND DELIVERY OF THIS AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY, NOTWITHSTANDING THE DELIVERY OR DISCLOSURE TO THE OTHER OR THE OTHER'S REPRESENTATIVES OF ANY DOCUMENTATION OR OTHER INFORMATION WITH RESPECT TO ANY ONE OR MORE OF THE FOREGOING.

9.13 Assignment. This Agreement shall not be assignable by any party and any such assignment shall be null and void, except that it shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon any successor to each party by operation of Law, including by way of merger, consolidation or sale of all or substantially all of its assets, and each party may assign its rights and remedies hereunder to any bank or other financial institution which has loaned funds or otherwise extended credit to it.

9.14 Parties in Interest. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure solely to the benefit of each party and their permitted successors and assigns, and nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to or shall confer upon any Person any right, benefit or remedy of any nature whatsoever under or by reason of this Agreement, except as otherwise provided in Articles 2 and 3 and Sections 6.8(d), 6.12 and 9.13.

9.15 Mutual Drafting. This Agreement is the result of the joint efforts of Mergeparty and American, and each provision hereof has been subject to the mutual consultation, negotiation and agreement of the parties and there shall be no construction against either party based on any presumption of that party's involvement in the drafting thereof.

9.16 Obligations of American and of Mergeparty. Whenever this Agreement requires a Subsidiary of American to take any action, such requirement shall be deemed to include an undertaking on the part of American to cause such Subsidiary to take such action. Whenever this Agreement requires a Subsidiary of Mergeparty to take any action, such requirement shall be deemed to include an undertaking on the part of Mergeparty to cause such Subsidiary to take such action and, after the Effective Time, on the part of the Surviving Corporation to cause such Subsidiary to take such action.

9.17 Mergeparty Agent for Mergeparty Subsidiary. Anything in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, Mergeparty Subsidiary hereby grants Mergeparty an irrevocably power of attorney and hereby irrevocably appoints Mergeparty its agent for all purposes of this Agreement, including without limitation for the purpose of executing and delivering extensions of the time for the performance of any of the obligations or other acts of Mergeparty, waivers, terminations or amendments, and any action taken by Mergeparty pursuant to such power of attorney and agency, and any such extension, waiver, termination or amendment executed and delivered by Mergeparty, shall be binding upon Mergeparty Subsidiary whether or not it has specifically approved such action or executed such extension, waiver, termination or amendment.

9.18 Original Merger Agreement. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary in Section 9.3 of the Original Merger Agreement, this Agreement shall not amend or restate the Original Merger Agreement, and the Original Merger Agreement shall continue in full force and effect without any amendment or modification thereof pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement, until such time as this Agreement shall have been approved and adopted by the Required Vote.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, American, Mergeparty and Mergeparty Subsidiary have caused this Amended and Restated Agreement and Plan of Merger to be executed, pursuant to the authority and approval of each of their respective Boards of Directors, as of the date first written above by their respective officers thereunto duly authorized.

3.2 Exchange of Certificates.

(a) Pursuant to an agreement reasonably satisfactory to ARS and ATS Mergercorp (the "Exchange Agent Agreement") to be entered into at or prior to the Closing Date between ARS, ATS Mergercorp and the transfer agent for the ARS Common Stock (the "Exchange Agent"), at or immediately following the Effective Time, ARS shall deposit or cause to be deposited in trust for the benefit of the ARS common stockholders shares of Tower Class A Common Stock, Tower Class B Common Stock and Tower Class C Common Stock representing the aggregate Merger Consideration to which holders of ARS Common Stock shall be entitled at the Effective Time pursuant to the provisions of this Article.

(b) Not less than five (5) business days subsequent to the Effective Time, the Exchange Agent shall mail to each holder of record of a certificate or certificates that immediately prior to the Effective Time represented outstanding shares of ARS Common Stock (the "Certificates") (i) a letter of transmittal (which shall specify that delivery shall be effected, and risk of loss and title to the Certificates shall pass, only upon actual delivery of the Certificates to the Exchange Agent) and (ii) instructions for use in effecting the surrender of the Certificates in exchange for certificates representing shares of ARS Common Stock and Tower Class A Common Stock, Tower Class B Common Stock and Tower Class C Common Stock and cash in lieu of fractional shares as hereinafter provided. Upon surrender of Certificates for cancellation to the Exchange Agent, together with a duly executed letter of transmittal and such other documents as the Exchange Agent shall reasonably require, the holder of such Certificates shall be entitled to receive in exchange therefor (i) a certificate representing that number of whole shares of ARS Common Stock to be received pursuant to the provision of Section 3.1(c)(ii), (ii) cash in lieu of fractional shares as hereinafter provided and (iii) certificates representing the number of shares of Tower Class A Common Stock, Tower Class B Common Stock and Tower Class C Common Stock into which the shares of ARS Common Stock, theretofore represented by the Certificates so surrendered, shall have been converted pursuant to the provisions of Section 3.1(c)(i), and the Certificates so surrendered shall be canceled. Notwithstanding the foregoing, neither the Exchange Agent nor any party hereto shall be liable to a holder of shares of ARS Common Stock for any shares of ARS Common Stock or Tower Common Stock or dividends or distributions thereon delivered to a public official pursuant to applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar Laws.

(c) Promptly following the date which is six (6) months after the Closing Date, the Exchange Agent shall deliver to ARS all cash, certificates (including any ARS Common Stock and ATS Mergercorp Class A Common Stock) and other documents in its possession relating to the transactions described in this Agreement, and the Exchange Agent's duties shall terminate. Thereafter, each holder of a Certificate may surrender such Certificate to the Surviving Corporation and (subject to applicable abandoned property, escheat and similar Laws) receive in exchange therefor the Tower Merger Consideration to which such holder is entitled, without any interest thereon. Notwithstanding the foregoing, neither the Exchange Agent nor any party hereto shall be liable to a holder of ARS Common Stock for any ARS Common Stock or Tower Common Stock delivered to a public official pursuant to applicable abandoned property, escheat or similar Laws.

(d) No certificates or scrip representing fractional shares of ARS Common Stock shall be issued upon the surrender for exchange of Certificates, and such fractional share interests shall not entitle the owner thereof to vote or to any rights of a stockholder of ARS. As promptly as practicable following the Effective Time, the Exchange Agent shall determine the excess of (i) the number of shares of ARS Common Stock delivered to the Exchange Agent by ARS pursuant to Section 3.2(a) over (ii) the aggregate number of whole shares of ARS Common Stock to be distributed to holders of the Certificates pursuant to Section 3.2(b) (such excess being herein called the "Excess Shares"). As soon after the Effective Time as practicable, the Exchange Agent, as agent for the holders of the Certificates, shall sell the Excess Shares at then prevailing prices on the NYSE all in the manner provided in this Section 3.2((d). The sale of the Excess Shares by the Exchange Agent shall be executed on the NYSE through one or more member firms of the NYSE and shall be executed in round lots to the extent practicable. The proceeds from such sale or sales available for distribution to the holders of Certificates shall be reduced by the compensation payable to the Exchange Agent and the expenses incurred by the Exchange Agent, in each case, in connection with such sale or sales of the Excess Shares, including all related commissions, transfer taxes and other out-of-pocket transaction costs. Until the net proceeds of such sale or sales have been distributed to the holders of the Certificates, the Exchange Agent shall hold such proceeds in trust for the holders of the Certificates (the "Common Shares Trust"). The Exchange Agent shall determine the portion of the Common Shares Trust to which each holder of a Certificate shall be entitled, if any, by multiplying the amount of the aggregate net proceeds comprising the Common Shares Trust by a fraction, the numerator of which is the amount of the fractional share interest to which such holder of a Certificate is entitled and the denominator of which is the aggregate amount of fractional share interests to which all holders of the Certificates are entitled. As soon as practicable after the determination of the amount of cash, if any, to be paid to holders of the Certificates in lieu of any fractional share interests, the Exchange Agent shall make available such amounts, without interest, to such holders of the Certificates who have surrendered their Certificates in accordance with this Article III.

(e) If the Tower Merger Consideration (or any portion thereof) is to be paid to a Person other than the Person in whose name the Certificate surrendered in exchange therefor is registered, it shall be a condition to the payment of the Tower Merger Consideration that the Certificate so surrendered shall be properly endorsed or accompanied by appropriate stock powers (with signatures guaranteed in accordance with the transmittal form) and otherwise in proper form for transfer, that such transfer otherwise be proper and that the Person requesting such transfer pay to the Exchange Agent any transfer or other Taxes payable by reason of the foregoing or establish to the satisfaction of the Exchange Agent that such Taxes have been paid or are not required to be paid.

(f) In the event any Certificate shall have been lost, stolen or destroyed, upon the making of an affidavit of that fact by the Person claiming such Certificate to be lost, stolen or destroyed and subject to such other reasonable conditions as the Board of Directors of the Surviving Corporation may impose, the Surviving Corporation shall issue in exchange for such lost, stolen or destroyed Certificate the Tower Merger Consideration deliverable in respect thereof as determined in accordance with this Article. When authorizing such issue of the Tower Merger Consideration in exchange therefor, the Board of Directors of the Surviving Corporation may, in its discretion and as a condition precedent to the issuance thereof, require the owner of such lost, stolen or destroyed Certificate to give the Surviving Corporation a bond or other surety in such sum as it may reasonably direct as indemnity against any Claim that may be made against the Surviving Corporation with respect to the Certificate alleged to have been lost, stolen or destroyed.

(g) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this Agreement, no dividends or other distributions declared after the Effective Time on ARS Common Stock shall be paid with respect to any whole shares of ARS Common Stock or Tower Common Stock represented by a Certificate until such Certificate is surrendered for exchange as provided herein. Subject to the effect of Applicable Laws, following surrender of any such Certificate, there shall be paid to the holder of the shares of ARS Common Stock and Tower Common Stock issued in exchange therefor, without interest, (i) at the time of such surrender, the amount of dividends or other distributions with a record date after the Effective Time theretofore payable with respect to such whole shares of ARS Common Stock or Tower Common Stock, as the case may be, and not paid, less the amount of any withholding taxes which may be required thereon, and (ii) at the appropriate payment date, the amount of dividends or other distributions with a record date after the Effective Time but prior to surrender and a payment date subsequent to surrender payable with respect to such whole shares of ARS Common Stock or Tower Common Stock, as the case may be, less the amount of any withholding taxes which may be required thereon.

(h) ARS shall be entitled to, or shall be entitled to cause the Exchange Agent to, deduct and withhold from the consideration otherwise payable pursuant to this Agreement to any holder of shares of ARS Common Stock such amounts as are required to be deducted and withheld with respect to the making of such payment under the Code, or any provision of state, local or foreign tax law. To the extent that amounts are so withheld by ARS or the Exchange Agent, as the case may be, such withheld amounts shall be treated for all purposes of this Agreement as having been paid to the holder of the shares of ARS Common Stock in respect of which such deduction and withholding was made by ARS or the Exchange Agent.

(b) by either ATS Mergercorp or ARS if any Authority of competent jurisdiction shall have enacted, issued, promulgated, enforced or entered any Law that shall have become final and nonappealable and that restrains, enjoins or otherwise prohibits consummation of the Tower Merger, unless the party seeking such restraint injunction or prohibition or any Affiliate thereof was the terminating party; and

(c) by ARS in the event it determines to abandon the Tower Merger as not being in the best interests of the ARS common stockholders.

The term "Termination Date" shall mean December 31, 1998, as such date may from time to time be extended by mutual agreement of the parties.

General Provisions

8.1 Amendment. This Agreement may be amended from time to time by the parties hereto at any time prior to the Closing Date but only by an instrument in writing signed by the parties hereto and, subject, to Applicable Law.

8.2 Waiver. At any time prior to the Closing Date, except to the extent not permitted by Applicable Law, ATS Mergercorp or ARS may, either generally or in a particular instance and either retroactively or prospectively, extend the time for the performance of any of the obligations or other acts of the other, subject, however, to the provisions of Section 7.1, waive any inaccuracies in the representations and warranties of the other contained herein or in any document delivered pursuant hereto, and waive compliance by the other with any of the agreements, covenants, conditions or other provision contained herein. Any such extension or waiver shall be valid only if set forth in an instrument in writing signed by the party or parties to be bound thereby.

8.3 Fees, Expenses and Other Payments. All costs and expenses incurred in connection with the negotiation, preparation, performance and enforcement of this Agreement (including all fees and expenses of counsel, financial advisors, accountants, and other consultants, advisors and representatives for all activities of such persons undertaken pursuant to this Agreement) incurred by the parties hereto shall be borne by ARS.

8.4 Notices. All notices and other communications which by any provision of this Agreement are required or permitted to be given shall be given in writing and shall be (a) mailed by first-class or express mail, postage prepaid, or by recognized courier service, (b) sent by telecopy or other form of rapid transmission, confirmed by mailing (by first class or express mail, postage prepaid, or by recognized courier service) written confirmation at substantially the same time as such rapid transmission, or (c) personally delivered to the receiving party (which if, other than an individual, shall be an officer or other responsible party of the receiving party). or to such other person(s), telex or facsimile number(s) or address(es) as the party to receive any such communication or notice may have designated by written notice to the other party.

8.5 Specific Performance; Other Rights and Remedies. Each party recognizes and agrees that in the event the other party should refuse to perform any of its obligations under this Agreement or any Collateral Document, the remedy at law would be inadequate and agrees that for breach of such provisions, each party shall, in addition to such other remedies as may be available to it at law or in equity or as provided in Article 7, be entitled to injunctive relief and to enforce its rights by an action for specific performance to the extent permitted by Applicable Law. Each party hereby waives any requirement for security or the posting of any bond or other surety in connection with any temporary or permanent award of injunctive, mandatory or other equitable relief. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as prohibiting each party from pursuing any other remedies available to it under Applicable Law or pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement for such breach or threatened breach, including without limitation the recovery of damages, including, to the extent awarded in any Legal Action, punitive, incidental and consequential damages (including without limitation damages for diminution in value and loss of anticipated profits) or any other measure of damages permitted by Applicable Law.

8.6 Survival of Representations, Warranties, Covenants and Agreements. None of the representations and warranties in this Agreement shall survive the Tower Merger, and after effectiveness of the Tower Merger neither of the parties or their respective officers, directors or stockholders shall have any further obligation with respect thereto.

8.7 Severability. If any term or provision of this Agreement shall be held or deemed to be, or shall in fact be, invalid, inoperative, illegal or unenforceable as applied to any particular case in any jurisdiction or jurisdictions, or in all jurisdictions or in all cases, because of the conflicting of any provision with any constitution or statute or rule of public policy or for any other reason, such circumstance shall not have the effect of rendering the provision or provisions in question invalid, inoperative, illegal or unenforceable in any other jurisdiction or in any other case or circumstance or of rendering any other provision or provisions herein contained invalid, inoperative, illegal or unenforceable to the extent that such other provisions are not themselves actually in conflict with such constitution, statute or rule of public policy, but this Agreement shall be reformed and construed in any such jurisdiction or case as if such invalid, inoperative, illegal or unenforceable provision had never been contained herein and such provision reformed so that it would be valid, operative and enforceable to the maximum extent permitted in such jurisdiction or in such case. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of any such determination, the parties shall negotiate in good faith to modify this Agreement so as to effect the original intent of the parties as closely as possible to the fullest extent permitted by Applicable Law in an acceptable manner to the end that the Tower Merger is fulfilled and consummated to the maximum extent possible.

8.8 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in several counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument, binding upon all of the parties. In pleading or proving any provision of this Agreement, it shall not be necessary to produce more than one of such counterparts.

8.9 Section Headings. The headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not in any way affect the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement.

8.10 Governing Law. The validity, interpretation, construction and performance of this Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the Applicable Laws of the United States of America and the laws of the State of Delaware applicable to contracts made and performed in such State and, in any event, without giving effect to any choice or conflict of laws provision or rule that would cause the application of domestic substantive laws of any other jurisdiction. Anything in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, in the event of any dispute between the parties which results in a Legal Action, the prevailing party shall be entitled to receive from the non-prevailing party reimbursement for reasonable legal fees and expenses incurred by such prevailing party in such Legal Action.

8.11 Further Acts. Each party agrees that at any time, and from time to time, before and after the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, it will do all such things and execute and deliver all such Collateral Documents and other assurances, as the other party or its counsel reasonably deems necessary or desirable in order to carry out the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby or to facilitate the enjoyment of any of the rights created hereby or to be created hereunder.

8.12 Entire Agreement; No Other Representations or Agreements. This Agreement (together with the other Collateral Documents delivered or to be delivered in connection herewith) constitutes the entire agreement of the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior agreements, arrangements, covenants, promises, conditions, undertakings, inducements, representations, warranties and negotiations, expressed or implied, oral or written, between the parties, with respect to the subject matter hereof. Each of the parties is a sophisticated legal entity that was advised by experienced counsel and, to the extent it deemed necessary, other advisors in connection with this Agreement. Each of the parties hereby acknowledges that (a) neither party has relied or will rely in respect of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby upon any document or written or oral information previously furnished to or discovered by it or its representatives, other than this Agreement (including the other Collateral Documents) or such of the foregoing as are delivered at the Closing, (b) there are no covenants or agreements by or on behalf of either party hereto or any of its respective Affiliates or representatives other than those expressly set forth in this Agreement and the Collateral Documents, and (c) the parties' respective rights and obligations with respect to this Agreement and the events giving rise thereto will be solely as set forth in this Agreement and the Collateral Documents. WITHOUT LIMITING THE GENERALITY OF THE FOREGOING, EACH PARTY HERETO AGREES THAT, EXCEPT FOR THE REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES CONTAINED IN THIS AGREEMENT, NEITHER ARS NOR ATS Mergercorp MAKES ANY OTHER REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES, AND EACH HEREBY DISCLAIMS ANY OTHER REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES MADE BY ITSELF OR ANY OF ITS OFFICERS, DIRECTORS, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS, FINANCIAL AND LEGAL ADVISORS OR OTHER REPRESENTATIVES, WITH RESPECT TO THE EXECUTION AND DELIVERY OF THIS AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY, NOTWITHSTANDING THE DELIVERY OR DISCLOSURE TO THE OTHER OR THE OTHER'S REPRESENTATIVES OF ANY DOCUMENTATION OR OTHER INFORMATION WITH RESPECT TO ANY ONE OR MORE OF THE FOREGOING.

8.13 Assignment. This Agreement shall not be assignable by any party and any such assignment shall be null and void, except that it shall inure to the benefit of and be binding upon any successor to each party by operation of Law, including by way of merger, consolidation or sale of all or substantially all of its assets, and each party may assign its rights and remedies hereunder to any bank or other financial institution which has loaned funds or otherwise extended credit to it.

8.14 Parties in Interest. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure solely to the benefit of each party and their permitted successors and assigns, and nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to or shall confer upon any Person any right, benefit or remedy of any nature whatsoever under or by reason of this Agreement, except as otherwise provided in Section 8.13.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, ARS and ATS Mergercorp have caused this Agreement and Plan of Merger to be executed, pursuant to the authority and approval of each of their respective Boards of Directors, as of the date first written above by their respective officers thereunto duly authorized.

Dear Sirs:

You have asked Credit Suisse First Boston Corporation ("CSFB," "we" or "us") to advise you with respect to the fairness to the stockholders of American Radio Systems Corporation (the "Company") from a financial point of view of the Merger Consideration to be received by such stockholders pursuant to the terms of the Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of September 18, 1997 (the "Merger Agreement"), among the Company, Westinghouse Electric Corporation (the "Acquiror") and the Acquiror's wholly-owned subsidiary (the "Sub"). The Merger Agreement provides for, among other things, (i) the merger (the "Merger") of the Sub with and into the Company pursuant to which the Company will become a subsidiary of the Acquiror and each outstanding share of common stock, par value $0.01 per share, of the Company will be converted into the right to receive $44.00 in cash (the "Merger Consideration") and (ii) prior to the Merger, the distribution by the Company of all of the capital stock of the Company's wholly-owned subsidiary American Tower Systems Inc. or the net proceeds from the sale thereof to the stockholders of the Company on a pro rata basis (the "Distribution").

In arriving at our opinion, we have reviewed certain publicly available business and financial information relating to the Company, as well as the Merger Agreement. We have also reviewed certain other information, including financial forecasts and pro forma financial information concerning the Company after giving effect to the Distribution, provided to us by the Company and have met with the Company's management to discuss the business and prospects of the Company.

We have also considered certain financial and stock market data of the Company and compared those data with similar data for other publicly held companies in similar businesses, and we have considered the financial terms of certain other business combinations and other transactions which have recently been effected. We also considered such other information, financial studies, analyses and investigations and financial, economic and market criteria which we deemed relevant.

In connection with our review, we have not assumed any responsibility for independent verification of any of the foregoing information and have relied on it being complete and accurate in all material respects. With respect to the financial forecasts, we have assumed that they have been reasonably prepared on bases reflecting the best currently available estimates and judgments of the Company's management as to the future financial performance of the Company. In addition, we have not been requested to make, and have not made, an independent evaluation or appraisal of the assets or liabilities (contingent or otherwise) of the Company nor have we been furnished with any such evaluations or appraisal. Our opinion is necessarily based upon financial, economic, market and other conditions as they exist and can be evaluated on the date hereof. In connection with our engagement, we approached third parties to solicit indications of interest in a possible acquisition of the Company and held preliminary discussions with certain of these parties, which discussions, at your request, were not completed prior to the date hereof.

We have acted as financial advisor to the Company in connection with the Merger and will receive a fee for our services, a significant portion of which is contingent upon the consummation of the Merger.

In the past, we have performed certain investment banking services for the Company and the Acquiror and have received customary fees for such services.

In the ordinary course of business, CSFB and its affiliates may actively trade the debt and equity securities of both the Company and the Acquiror for their own accounts and for the accounts of customers and, accordingly, may at any time hold a long or short position in such securities.

It is understood that this letter is for the information of the Board of Directors in connection with its consideration of the Merger, does not constitute a recommendation to any stockholder as to how such stockholder should vote on the proposed Merger and is not to be quoted or referred to, in whole or in part, in any registration statement, prospectus or proxy statement, or in any other document used in connection with the offering or sale of securities, nor shall this letter be used for any other purposes, without our prior written consent.

Based upon and subject to the foregoing, it is our opinion that, as of the date hereof, the Merger Consideration to be received by the stockholders of the Company in the Merger is fair to such stockholders from a financial point of view.

Very truly yours,

Credit Suisse First Boston Corporation

DELAWARE GENERAL CORPORATION LAW
SECTION 262 APPRAISAL RIGHTS

262 APPRAISAL RIGHTS--(a) Any stockholder of a corporation of this State who holds shares of stock on the date of the making of a demand pursuant to subsection (d) of this section with respect to such shares, who continuously holds such shares through the effective date of the merger or consolidation, who has otherwise complied with subsection (d) of this section and who has neither voted in favor of the merger or consolidation nor consented thereto in writing pursuant to (S)228 of this title shall be entitled to an appraisal by the Court of Chancery of the fair value of the stockholder's shares of stock under the circumstances described in subsections (b) and (c) of this section. As used in this section, the word "stockholder" means a holder of record of stock in a stock corporation and also a member of record of a nonstock corporation; the words "stock" and "share" mean and include what is ordinarily meant by those words and also membership or membership interest of a member of a nonstock corporation; and the words "depository receipt" mean a receipt or other instrument issued by a depository representing an interest in one or more shares, or fractions thereof, solely of stock of a corporation, which stock is deposited with the depository.

(b) Appraisal rights shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock of a constituent corporation in a merger or consolidation to be effected pursuant to (S)251 (other than a merger effected pursuant to (S)251(g) of this title), (S)252, (S)254, (S)257, (S)258, (S)263 or (S)264 of this title:

(1) Provided, however, that no appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock, which stock, or depository receipts in respect thereof, at the record date fixed to determine the stockholders entitled to receive notice of and to vote at the meeting of stockholders to act upon the agreement of merger or consolidation, were either (i) listed on a national securities exchange or designated as a national market system security on an interdealer quotation system by the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. or (ii) held of record by more than 2,000 holders; and further provided that no appraisal rights shall be available for any shares of stock of the constituent corporation surviving a merger if the merger did not require for its approval the vote of the stockholders of the surviving corporation as provided in subsection (f) of (S)251 of this title.

(2) Notwithstanding paragraph (1) of this subsection, appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of stock of a constituent corporation if the holders thereof are required by the terms of an agreement of merger or consolidation pursuant to (S)(S)251, 252, 254, 257, 258, 263 and 264 of this title to accept for such stock anything except:

a. Shares of stock of the corporation surviving or resulting from such merger or consolidation, or depository receipts in respect thereof;

b. Shares of stock of any other corporation, or depository receipts in respect thereof, which shares of stock or depository receipts at the effective date of the merger or consolidation will be either listed on a national securities exchange or designated as a national market system security on an interdealer quotation system by the National Association of Securities Dealers, Inc. or held of record by more than 2,000 holders;

c. Cash in lieu of fractional shares or fractional depository receipts described in the foregoing subparagraphs a. and b. of this paragraph; or

d. Any combination of the shares of stock, depository receipts and cash in lieu of fractional shares or fractional depository receipts described in the foregoing subparagraphs a., b. and c. of this paragraph.

(3) In the event all of the stock of a subsidiary Delaware corporation party to a merger effected under (S)253 of this title is not owned by the parent corporation immediately prior to the merger, appraisal rights shall be available for the shares of the subsidiary Delaware corporation.

(c) Any corporation may provide in its certificate of incorporation that appraisal rights under this section shall be available for the shares of any class or series of its stock as a result of an amendment to its certificate of incorporation, any merger or consolidation in which the corporation is constituent corporation or the sale of all or substantially all of the assets of the corporation. If the certificate of incorporation contains such a provision, the procedures of this section, including those set forth in subsections (d) and (e) of this section, shall apply as nearly as is practicable.

(d) Appraisal rights shall be perfected as follows:

(1) If a proposed merger or consolidation for which appraisal rights are provided under this section is to be submitted for approval at a meeting of stockholders, the corporation, not less than 20 days prior to the meeting, shall notify each of its stockholders who was such on the record date for such meeting with respect to shares for which appraisal rights are available pursuant to subsections (b) or (c) hereof that appraisal rights are available for any or all of the shares of the constituent corporations, and shall include in such notice a copy of this section. Each stockholder electing to demand the appraisal of his shares shall deliver to the corporation, before the taking of the vote on the merger or consolidation, a written demand for appraisal of his shares. Such demand will be sufficient if it reasonably informs the corporation of the identity of the stockholder and that the stockholder intends thereby to demand the appraisal of his shares. A proxy or vote against the merger or consolidation shall not constitute such a demand. A stockholder electing to take such action must do so by a separate written demand as herein provided. Within 10 days after the effective date of such merger or consolidation, the surviving or resulting corporation shall notify each stockholder of each constituent corporation who has complied with this subsection and has not voted in favor of or consented to the merger or consolidation of the date that the merger or consolidation has become effective; or

(2) If the merger or consolidation was approved pursuant to (S)228 or (S)253 of this title, each constituent corporation, either before the effective date of the merger or consolidation or within ten days thereafter, shall notify each of the holders of any class or series of stock of such constituent corporation who are entitled to appraisal rights of the approval of the merger or consolidation and that appraisal rights are available for any or all shares of such class or series of stock of such constituent corporation, and shall include in such notice a copy of this section; provided that, if the notice is given on or after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, such notice shall be given by the surviving or resulting corporation to all such holders of any class or series of stock of a constituent corporation that are entitled to appraisal rights. Such notice may, and, if given on or after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, shall, also notify such stockholders of the effective date of the merger or consolidation. Any stockholder entitled to appraisal rights may, within 20 days after the date of mailing of such notice, demand in writing from the surviving or resulting corporation the appraisal of such holder's shares. Such demand will be sufficient if it reasonably informs the corporation of the identity of the stockholder and that the stockholder intends thereby to demand the appraisal of such holder's shares. If such notice did not notify stockholders of the effective date of the merger or consolidation, either (i) each such constituent corporation shall send a second notice before the effective date of the merger or consolidation notifying each of the holders of any class or series of stock of such constituent corporation that are entitled to appraisal rights of the effective date of the merger or consolidation or (ii) the surviving or resulting corporation shall send such a second notice to all such holders on or within 10 days after such effective date; provided, however, that if such second notice is sent more than 20 days following the sending of the first notice, such second notice need only be sent to each stockholder who is entitled to appraisal rights and who has demanded appraisal of such holder's shares in accordance with this subsection. An affadavit of the secretary or assistant secretary or of the transfer agent of the corporation that is required to give either notice that such notice has been given shall, in the absence of fraud, be prima facie evidence of the facts stated therein. For purposes of determining the stockholders entitled to receive either notice, each constituent corporation may fix, in advance, a record date that shall be not more than 10 days prior to the date the notice is given, provided, that if the notice is given on or after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, the record date shall be such effective date. If no record date is fixed and the notice is given prior to the effective date, the record date shall be the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which the notice is given.

(e) Within 120 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, the surviving or resulting corporation or any stockholder who has complied with subsections (a) and (d) hereof and who is otherwise entitled to appraisal rights, may file a petition in the Court of Chancery demanding a determination of the value of the stock of all such stockholders. Notwithstanding the foregoing, at any time within 60 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, any stockholder shall have the right to withdraw his demand for appraisal and to accept the terms offered upon the merger or consolidation. Within 120 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, any stockholder who has complied with the requirements of subsections (a) and (d) hereof, upon written request, shall be entitled to receive from the corporation surviving the merger or resulting from the consolidation a statement setting forth the aggregate number of shares not voted in favor of the merger or consolidation and with respect to which demands for appraisal have been received and the aggregate number of holders of such shares. Such written statement shall be mailed to the stockholder within 10 days after his written request for such a statement is received by the surviving or resulting corporation or within 10 days after expiration of the period for delivery of demands for appraisal under subsection (d) hereof, whichever is later.

(f) Upon the filing of any such petition by a stockholder, service of a copy thereof shall be made upon the surviving or resulting corporation, which shall within 20 days after such service file in the office of the Register in Chancery in which the petition was filed a duly verified list containing the names and addresses of all stockholders who have demanded payment for their shares and with whom agreements as to the value of their shares have not been reached by the surviving or resulting corporation. If the petition shall be filed by the surviving or resulting corporation, the petition shall be accompanied by such a duly verified list. The Register in Chancery, if so ordered by the Court, shall give notice of the time and place fixed for the hearing of such petition by registered or certified mail to the surviving or resulting corporation and to the stockholders shown on the list at the addresses therein stated. Such notice shall also be given by 1 or more publications at least 1 week before the day of the hearing, in a newspaper of general circulation published in the City of Wilmington, Delaware or such publication as the Court deems advisable. The forms of the notices by mail and by publication shall be approved by the Court, and the costs thereof shall be borne by the surviving or resulting corporation.

(g) At the hearing on such petition, the Court shall determine the stockholders who have complied with this section and who have become entitled to appraisal rights. The Court may require the stockholders who have demanded an appraisal for their shares and who hold stock represented by certificates to submit their certificates of stock to the Register in Chancery for notation thereon of the pendency of the appraisal proceedings; and if any stockholder fails to comply with such direction, the Court may dismiss the proceedings as to such stockholder.

(h) After determining the stockholders entitled to an appraisal, the Court shall appraise the shares, determining their fair value exclusive of any element of value arising from the accomplishment or expectation of the merger or consolidation, together with a fair rate of interest, if any, to be paid upon the amount determined to be the fair value. In determining such fair value, the Court shall take into account all relevant factors. In determining the fair rate of interest, the Court may consider all relevant factors, including the rate of interest which the surviving or resulting corporation would have had to pay to borrow money during the pendency of the proceeding. Upon application by the surviving or resulting corporation or by any stockholder entitled to participate in the appraisal proceeding, the Court may, in its discretion, permit discovery or other pretrial proceedings and may proceed to trial upon the appraisal prior to the final determination of the stockholder entitled to an appraisal. Any stockholder whose name appears on the list filed by the surviving or resulting corporation pursuant to subsection (f) of this section and who has submitted his certificates of stock to the Register in Chancery, if such is required, may participate fully in all proceedings until it is finally determined that he is not entitled to appraisal rights under this section.

(i) The Court shall direct the payment of the fair value of the shares, together with interest, if any, by the surviving or resulting corporation to the stockholders entitled thereto. Interest may be simple or compound, as the Court may direct. Payment shall be so made to each such stockholder, in the case of holders of uncertificated stock forthwith, and the case of holders of shares represented by certificates upon the surrender to the corporation of the certificates representing such stock. The Court's decree may be enforced as other decrees in the Court of Chancery may be enforced, whether such surviving or resulting corporation be a corporation of this State or of any state.

(j) The costs of the proceeding may be determined by the Court and taxed upon the parties as the Court deems equitable in the circumstances. Upon application of a stockholder, the Court may order all or a portion of the expenses incurred by any stockholder in connection with the appraisal proceeding, including, without limitation, reasonable attorney's fees and the fees and expenses of experts, to be charged pro rata against the value of all the shares entitled to an appraisal.

(k) From and after the effective date of the merger or consolidation, no stockholder who has demanded his appraisal rights as provided in subsection (d) of this section shall be entitled to vote such stock for any purpose or to receive payment of dividends or other distributions on the stock (except dividends or other distributions payable to stockholders of record at a date which is prior to the effective date of the merger or consolidation); provided, however, that if no petition for an appraisal shall be filed within the time provided in subsection (e) of this section, or if such stockholder shall deliver to the surviving or resulting corporation a written withdrawal of his demand for an appraisal and an acceptance of the merger or consolidation, either within 60 days after the effective date of the merger or consolidation as provided in subsection (e) of this section or thereafter with the written approval of the corporation, then the right of such stockholder to an appraisal shall cease. Notwithstanding the foregoing, no appraisal proceeding in the Court of Chancery shall be dismissed as to any stockholder without the approval of the Court, and such approval may be conditioned upon such terms as the Court deems just.

(l) The shares of the surviving or resulting corporation to which the shares of such objecting stockholders would have been converted had they assented to the merger or consolidation shall have the status of authorized and unissued shares of the surviving or resulting corporation.

DESCRIPTION OF AMERICAN TOWER CORPORATION

GENERAL

American Tower Corporation ("ATC") is a leading independent owner and operator of wireless communications towers with more than 775 towers in 31 states, including approximately 125 towers managed for a third party. ATC has agreed to acquire an additional 125 towers pursuant to letters of intent which are expected to be consummated, subject to negotiation and execution of definitive agreements and satisfaction of closing conditions, including, in certain cases, expiration or earlier termination of the HSR Act waiting period, in the first half of 1998. During 1997, ATC acquired or agreed to acquire 192 towers and constructed or had, at year end, under construction an aggregate of 64 towers; ATC plans to construct approximately 125 towers in 1998. ATC rents tower space and provides related services to wireless communications service providers, as well as operators of private networks and government agencies, for a diverse range of applications including paging, cellular, PCS, fixed microwave, SMR and ESMR. ATC owns and operates towers in 45 of the top 100 metropolitan statistical areas in the United States and has clusters of towers in cities such as Albuquerque, Atlanta, Baltimore, Dallas, Houston, Jacksonville, Kansas City, Nashville, San Antonio and San Diego. ATC's customers (which aggregate more than 680) include Bell South Mobility, CSX Transportation, GTE Mobilnet, Houston Cellular, Nextel, PageMart, Pagenet, Pittencrief Communications, SBC Communications, Shell Offshore, and various federal and local government agencies. While none of ATC's customers accounted for more than 10% of its pro forma revenues for the nine months ended September 30, 1997, most of the named customers accounted for more than 1% of such revenues and each is considered by ATC to be an important customer.

ATC believes that it is well positioned to capitalize on the continued growth in wireless communications. ATC's strategy for growth is to focus its internal sales and marketing activities on maximizing the capacity utilization of its towers. In addition, ATC has experience in the construction and acquisition of towers which it believes will allow ATC to increase its penetration of existing markets and expansion into new markets.

HISTORY OF ATC

ATC was organized in October 1994 by an investor group led by Summit Capital Inc. of Houston and Chase Manhattan Capital Corporation ("Chase Capital") to acquire Bowen-Smith. Bowen-Smith had been in the tower rental business since 1966, initially serving the communications tower requirements of two-way radio and microwave transmission users. At the time of the Bowen-Smith Acquisition, Bowen-Smith owned 184 towers on 175 sites located primarily in Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma. Within the first year after the Bowen-Smith Acquisition, ATC acquired or constructed more than 75 communications towers. In December 1995, ATC acquired 103 towers from CSX, and in October 1996, ATC acquired 154 towers from Prime. In June 1997, ATC completed a private placement of common stock with Clear Channel resulting in net proceeds to ATC of $23.0 million.

ATC's principal executive offices are located at 3411 Richmond Avenue, Suite 400, Houston, Texas 77046 and its telephone number is (713) 693-0000.

PROPERTIES

ATC's interests in its tower sites are comprised of a variety of fee interests, leasehold interests created by long-term lease agreements, private easements, and easements, licenses or rights-of-way granted by government entities. In rural areas, a tower site typically consists of a three to five acre tract which supports towers, equipment shelters and guy wires to stabilize the structure. Less than 3,000 square feet are required for a self-supporting tower structure of the kind typically used in metropolitan areas. ATC's land leases generally have five- or ten-year terms and frequently contain one or more renewal options. Some land leases provide "trade-out" arrangements whereby ATC allows the landlord to use tower space in lieu of paying all or part of the land rent. Pursuant to ATC's credit facility, ATC's senior lenders have liens on a substantial number of ATC's land leases and other property interests.

MANAGEMENT'S DISCUSSION AND ANALYSIS OF FINANCIAL CONDITION AND RESULTS OF OPERATIONS OF AMERICAN TOWER CORPORATION

The following discussion is intended to assist in an understanding of ATC's historical financial position and results of operations for each year of the three-year period ended December 31, 1996 and for the nine months ended September 30, 1996 and 1997. ATC's Consolidated Financial Statements and notes thereto included elsewhere in this Information Statement/Prospectus contain detailed information that should be read in conjunction with the following discussion.

OVERVIEW

ATC was organized to acquire the stock of Bowen-Smith in October 1994. Bowen-Smith was a closely held company which owned and operated 175 tower sites in Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma. At the time of the Bowen-Smith Acquisition, the book values of the acquired assets and liabilities were adjusted to their estimated fair values and the depreciation period for towers and related assets was extended to better reflect the estimated useful lives of such assets. At such time, ATC also implemented significant management and operational changes to the business. ATC outsourced its tower maintenance functions during the first quarter of 1995 which resulted in a reduction in personnel. In addition, ATC's new management undertook increased marketing activities for its existing tower network and began to pursue tower acquisitions, including opportunities outside ATC's traditional Gulf Coast market. Finally, borrowings to facilitate the Bowen-Smith Acquisition resulted in an increase in ATC's interest expense. The financial results for ATC described herein for the period prior to October 15, 1994 are the results of ATC's predecessor, Bowen-Smith, and may not be comparable to ATC's results since that date for the reasons described herein.

During 1995 and 1996, ATC acquired 297 towers, net of dispositions. In December 1995, ATC acquired 103 towers from CSX, the real estate affiliate of the railroad transportation company. In October 1996, ATC acquired 109 towers (net of dispositions of non-strategic towers) from Prime, an independent tower operator. The remaining 85 acquired towers were purchased in 16 separate acquisitions ranging in size from one to 50 towers. During 1997 ATC has acquired 77 towers and entered into commitments to acquire an additional 115 towers. In addition, during 1996 ATC began a significant tower construction program. By September 1997, ATC had completed construction of 57 new towers, had 38 towers under construction, and owned approximately 650 towers, including those under construction.

Since completing the Bowen-Smith Acquisition in October 1994, ATC's financial objective has been to increase revenues on existing towers through improved marketing efforts and to acquire and construct new towers which meet ATC's economic return criteria. Accordingly, ATC believes that EBITDA is a key measure of its economic performance and an indicator of the availability of funds to service indebtedness and to invest in continued internal growth and acquisition and construction opportunities. ATC's EBITDA increased from $3.1 million for the year ended December 31, 1994 to $7.5 million for the year ended December 31, 1996 (a compound annual growth rate of 56%) and increased from $4.9 million for the nine months ended September 30, 1996 to $9.2 million for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 (a compound annual growth rate of 88%). ATC's growth strategy and investment in additional towers has negatively affected net income during these periods primarily as a result of increased depreciation and interest expense, and extraordinary charges related to the write off of unamortized debt financing costs. See Notes 6 and 9 of Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements of American Tower Corporation.

ATC's primary business is the rental of antenna and transmitter space on communications towers to wireless communication companies, including paging, cellular, PCS, fixed microwave, SMR and ESMR, as well as operators of private and governmental communications systems. A majority of ATC's customers enter into one-year rental agreements with ATC. Substantially all of ATC's agreements exceeding one year include price escalation and 90-day cancellation clauses. A majority of ATC's contracts provide for monthly invoicing payable on or before the tenth day of the calendar month. ATC operators have been historically characterized by

(i) minimal inventory levels; (ii) low levels of accounts receivable; and (iii) customer turnover rates of less than 1% per year (based on revenues). Accordingly, ATC has minimal working capital requirements.

Direct tower costs consist primarily of land leases, tower inspections and maintenance, utilities, insurance and tower monitoring costs. The most significant of such costs are land leases and tower inspections and maintenance. ATC outsources its tower inspections and maintenance requirements which consist of scheduled site visits to perform ground and tower maintenance, tower and shelter inspections and inventories of installed customer equipment. On a per tower basis, ATC's direct tower costs are relatively fixed and are not subject to incremental increase as ATC adds additional customers.

Selling, general and administrative expenses consist primarily of wages and benefits for management, sales and marketing and operations, and professional fees, advertising, travel, bad debts and office-related expenses.

ATC's depreciation and amortization charges result primarily from the fixed capital required to operate in the tower industry and complete acquisitions and constructions. The principal components of depreciation and amortization relate to individual towers and related assets, buildings, site upgrades, computer monitoring systems and licenses and permits. In connection with the Bowen-Smith Acquisition, in order to better reflect the useful life of towers and related assets, ATC adjusted its depreciation period for such assets from 15 years to 25 years. Amortization relates to financing costs associated with ATC's credit facilities and non-competition agreements entered into in connection with the Bowen-Smith Acquisition.

RESULTS OF OPERATIONS

The following table sets forth, for the periods indicated, information derived from ATC's Consolidated Statements of Operations, expressed as a percentage of revenue.

Nine Months Ended September 30, 1997 to Nine Months Ended September 30, 1996

Revenues. Total revenues increased $6.1 million or 73% to $14.5 million in the nine months ended September 30, 1997 from $8.4 million in the nine months ended September 30, 1996. Revenue growth of $2.9 million was attributable to acquisitions consummated since October 1996. The remainder of the increase in revenues was primarily attributable to increased utilization and price increases on towers owned by ATC at September 30, 1997.

Direct Tower Costs. Direct tower costs increased 49% to $2.9 million in the nine months ended September 30, 1997 from $2.0 million in the nine months ended September 30, 1996. The increase in direct tower costs was primarily attributable to tower acquisitions consummated since October 1996. As a percentage of revenues, direct tower costs decreased due to the relatively fixed nature of the costs relative to revenue increases.

Selling, General and Administrative. Selling, general and administration expenses increased 57% to $2.3 million in the nine months ended September 30, 1997 from $1.5 million in the nine months ended September 30, 1996. The increase was primarily from the addition of personnel related to ATC's increased sales, marketing and construction activities. The decrease as a percentage of revenues was attributable to accelerated growth in revenue increases relative to additional selling, general and administrative expenses.

Depreciation and Amortization. Depreciation and amortization expenses increased 83% to $3.4 million in the nine months ended September 30, 1997 from $1.8 million in the nine months ended September 30, 1996. The increase in depreciation and amortization expenses of $1.6 million resulted primarily from tower acquisitions consummated since October 1996 and constructed towers placed in operation.

Interest Expense. Interest expense increased 48% to $3.9 million in the nine months ended September 30, 1997 from $2.6 million in the nine months ended September 30, 1996. The increase in interest expense was due primarily to increased borrowings associated with tower acquisitions and constructions consummated since October 1996.

Income Taxes. Income taxes for the nine months ended September 30, 1997 was $0.7 million as compared to $0.1 for the nine months ended September 30, 1996. The increase is attributable to increased operating income applied against ATC's effective tax rate, which is not materially different from the statutory rate.

Extraordinary Loss. ATC recognized an extraordinary loss of $0.6 million in the nine months ended September 30, 1997. The loss resulted from ATC restructuring and refinancing its debt arrangements in June 1997.

Total revenues. Revenue growth consisted of $2.8 million attributable to increased utilization and price increases on towers owned by ATC at the beginning of 1995 or acquired during 1995 as well as the full year effect of towers acquired during 1995. Total revenues increased $4.1 million or 49% to $12.4 million in 1996 from $8.3 million in 1995. The remainder of the increase in revenues was attributable to $0.6 million associated with 159 towers acquired during 1996, $0.6 million attributable to 103 towers acquired in December 1995 and $0.1 million associated with 27 towers constructed during 1996.

Direct tower costs. Direct tower costs increased 53% to $2.8 million in 1996 from $1.9 million in 1995. The increase in direct tower costs consisted of $0.2 million associated with 159 towers acquired during 1996, $0.7 million attributable to towers acquired during 1995 and expenses incurred during ATC's establishment of its automated tower monitoring services. As a percentage of revenues, direct tower costs remained relatively constant.

Selling, general and administrative expenses. Selling, general and administrative expenses increased 28% to $2.0 million in 1996 from $1.6 million in 1995. The increase was primarily from the addition of personnel related to ATC's increased sales, marketing and construction activities. The decrease as a percentage of revenues was due to operating efficiencies on existing towers as well as the construction and acquisition of new towers.

Depreciation and amortization expense. Depreciation and amortization expense increased 42% to $2.7 million in 1996 from $1.9 million in 1995. The increase in depreciation and amortization expense of $0.8 million resulted primarily from the effect of a full year of depreciation on towers acquired in 1995.

Interest expense. Interest expense increased 24% to $3.8 million in 1996 from $3.1 million in 1995. The increase in interest expense was due primarily to increased borrowing associated with ATC's acquisitions in 1995 and 1996 and construction of new towers in 1996.

Income taxes. Income tax expense for 1996 was $0.3 million as compared to a benefit of $0.2 million in 1995. ATC's effective tax rate is not materially different from the statutory rate.

Extraordinary loss. ATC recognized an extraordinary loss of $0.5 million in 1996 and $0.2 million in 1995. These losses resulted from ATC restructuring and refinancing its debt arrangements in both years in conjunction with acquisitions.

As described in "--Overview" above, ATC completed the Bowen-Smith Acquisition on October 15, 1994. The results described herein for 1994 reflect the addition of the historical results for ATC's predecessor prior to the Bowen-Smith Acquisition with ATC's results from October 15, 1994 to year end. The changes in ATC's operating and capital structure described in "--Overview" have a significant impact on the comparability of the results for the year ended December 31, 1994 with results for the year ended December 31, 1995.

Total revenues. Total revenues increased 16% to $8.3 million in 1995 from $7.2 million in 1994. Revenue growth consisted of $0.4 million associated with towers acquired during 1995 and $0.7 million attributable to increased utilization and price increases on ATC's existing towers which resulted primarily from a build-up of ATC's marketing efforts during 1995.

Direct tower costs. Direct tower costs increased 20% to $1.9 million in 1995 from $1.6 million in 1994. The increase in direct tower costs was primarily related to front-end costs associated with ATC's decision to outsource tower maintenance services effective during the second quarter of 1995.

Selling, general and administrative expenses. Selling, general and administrative expenses decreased 36% to $1.6 million in 1995 from $2.5 million in 1994. The decrease was primarily attributable to overhead charges related to the elimination of certain management and administrative personnel.

LIQUIDITY AND CAPITAL RESOURCES

ATC has historically funded its operations, acquisitions and construction of towers and site upgrade capital expenditures from bank borrowings, cash flow from operations, private placements of equity securities and the issuance of subordinated notes to sellers of tower sites. ATC had a working capital deficit of $1.0 million and $0.8 million, respectively, as of December 31, 1996 and 1995 and a working capital deficit of $3.0 million at September 30, 1997. ATC's ratio of total debt to stockholders' equity was 4.38 to 1 as of December 31, 1996 compared with 4.51 to 1 at year-end 1995, and 1.9 to 1 as of September 30, 1997.

ATC's primary sources of funds have been as follows:

	OCTOBER 15 TO DECEMBER 31, 1994	YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1995	YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1996	NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 1997
Bank borrowings.....	$ 21,000	$ 4,600	$ 21,600	$40,100
Seller financing.....	4,500	7,300	2,600	--
Sales of Preferred Stock.....	--	4,100	400	--
Sales of Common Stock...	6,800	--	4,100	26,300
Net cash provided by operating activities.....	300	1,600	3,100	7,000
	$ 32,600	$ 17,600	$ 31,800	$73,400

ATC's principal operating subsidiary is the borrower under a $125.0 million credit facility (the "ATC Credit Facility") which is guaranteed by ATC. At September 30, 1997, outstanding borrowings under the ATC Credit Facility were $63.3 million. Borrowings under the ATC Credit Facility currently bear interest at LIBOR plus a maximum of 200 basis points. The ATS Credit Facility is divided between a $25.0 million term loan and a $100.0 million revolving line of credit. The term loan requires principal amortization beginning in 1999 with quarterly payments totaling $1.3 million in 1999, $3.1 million in 2000, $5.0 million in 2001, $6.3 million in 2002 and 2003 and $3.0 million in 2004. The maximum amount outstanding under the revolving credit facility is required to be reduced quarterly beginning in September 1999 with a final maturity in June 2004. The ATC Credit Facility includes financial and operating covenants, including requirements that ATC maintain certain financial ratios and limitations on ATC's ability to incur certain other indebtedness, pay dividends, engage in transactions with affiliates, sell assets and engage in mergers, consolidations and other acquisitions. In addition, the ATC Credit Facility requires ATC to apply a certain portion of the proceeds of any equity offering to prepay borrowings under the ATC Credit Facility.

ATC issued a subordinated note to CSX in connection with the acquisition of tower sites in December 1995. This note is non-interest bearing and has an aggregate principal amount of $6.3 million. The note is repayable in annual installments of $1.0 million each in December 1997, 1998 and 1999 and in a final payment of $3.3 million in December 2000.

In December 1995, ATC issued 22,500 shares of its Series A Preferred Stock, together with warrants to purchase 22,500 shares of Common Stock at a nominal exercise price per share, in a private placement to its existing stockholders. ATC received proceeds of $4.5 million in exchange for the securities, which is equal to the redemption and liquidation value of the Series A Preferred Stock. The proceeds were used to pay part of the purchase price for the CSX Acquisition and for general working capital purposes. All outstanding warrants to purchase Common Stock have been exercised.

In June 1997, ATC completed a private placement offering of common stock with Clear Channel whereby ATC raised net proceeds of $23 million. ATC utilized the private placement proceeds in connection with securing its $125 million senior credit facility discussed herein.

Beginning with the Bowen-Smith Acquisition, ATC has made significant capital investments in site upgrades, new tower construction and tower acquisitions. The following table describes ATC expenditures, including the Bowen-Smith Acquisition, since October 1994:

	CAPITAL EXPENDITURES
	OCTOBER 15 TO DECEMBER 31, 1994	YEAR ENDED DECEMBER 31, 1995	1996	NINE MONTHS ENDED SEPTEMBER 30, 1997
Construction and Site Upgrades	$ 400	$ 1,900	$ 7,800	$14,400
Acquisitions	31,300	12,700	15,400	32,700
	$31,700	$ 14,600	$ 23,200	$47,100

ATC plans to construct 125 towers in 1998 and has budgeted site upgrade and new construction activities for 1998 of approximately $28.0 million. ATC's actual levels of capital expenditures relative to new sites may vary from these estimates depending upon the availability of suitable construction opportunities. ATC also presently has pending acquisitions of existing sites totaling approximately $40.0 million. While ATC continually reviews acquisition opportunities, ATC is unable to estimate the total amount expected to be expended on acquisitions of existing sites due to the inability to predict the availability of economically viable acquisition opportunities. ATC believes that bank borrowings and cash flow from operations will be sufficient to finance debt service obligations and budgeted capital expenditures during 1998. However, because ATC's acquisition and construction opportunities can be unpredictable resulting in additional capital requirements, ATC may seek additional debt or equity financing as required. There can be no assurance that such financing will be available on terms ATC considers acceptable.

DELAWARE BUSINESS COMBINATION STATUTE

ATC is subject to the provisions of Section 203 of the DGCL ("Business Combination Statute"). In general, the Business Combination Statute prohibits a publicly-held Delaware corporation from engaging in certain "business combinations" with an "interested stockholder" for a period of three years after the date such person became an interested stockholder, unless (i) before such person became a stockholder, the board of directors approved either the proposed business combination or the proposed acquisition of stock resulting in such person's becoming an interested stockholder; (ii) the interested stockholder acquired at least 85% of the voting stock of the corporation in the transaction in which it became an interested stockholder; or (iii) the business combination is approved by a majority of the board of directors and by the affirmative vote of the holders of two-thirds of the outstanding shares of the corporation's voting stock other than shares held by the interested stockholder at a meeting of the stockholders. A "business combination" is defined broadly to include a merger, consolidation, sale or other disposition of assets and certain other transactions resulting in the receipt of financial benefits by the interested stockholder. An "interested stockholder" is defined as a person who, together with affiliates and associates, beneficially owns (or within the preceding three years, did beneficially own) 15% or more of the corporation's voting stock.

Under Section 203, these restrictions also do not apply to certain business combinations proposed by an interested stockholder following the announcement or notification of one of certain extraordinary transactions involving ATC and a person who was not an interested stockholder during the previous three years or who became an interested stockholder with the approval of a majority of ATC's directors, if that extraordinary transaction is approved or not opposed by a majority of the directors who were directors before any person became an interested stockholder in the previous three years or who were recommended for election or elected to succeed such directors by a majority of such directors then in office.

CHASE MANHATTAN'S ACQUISITION OF THE INTEREST PURSUANT TO WHICH IT BECAME AN "INTERESTED STOCKHOLDER" WAS APPROVED BY THE ATC BOARD AND, THEREFORE, THE MERGER WITH AMERICAN TOWER SYSTEMS IS NOT SUBJECT TO THE BUSINESS COMBINATION STATUTE.

INFORMATION NOT REQUIRED IN THE PROSPECTUS

ITEM 20. INDEMNIFICATION OF DIRECTORS AND OFFICERS

Section 145 of the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DGCL") provides, in effect, that any person made a party to any action by reason of the fact that he is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of ATS may and, in certain cases, must be indemnified by ATS against, in the case of a non-derivative action, judgments, fines, amounts paid in settlement and reasonable expenses (including attorney's fees), if in either type of action he acted in good faith and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of ATS and, in a non-derivative action, which involves a criminal proceeding, in which such person had no reasonable cause to believe his conduct was unlawful. This indemnification does not apply, in a derivative action, to matters as to which it is adjudged that the director, officer, employee or agent is liable to ATS, unless upon court order it is determined that, despite such adjudication of liability, but in view of all the circumstances of the case, he is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnity for expenses.

Article XII of ATS' By-Laws provides that ATS shall indemnify each person who is or was an officer or director of ATS to the fullest extent permitted by Section 145 of the DGCL.

Article Sixth of the ATS' Restated Certificate states that no director of ATS shall be personally liable to ATS or its stockholders for monetary damages for breach of fiduciary duty as a director, except for (i) breach of the director's duty of loyalty to ATS or its stockholders, (ii) acts or omissions not in good faith or which involve intentional misconduct or knowing violation of law, (iii) liability under Section 174 of the DGCL relating to certain unlawful dividends and stock repurchases, or (iv) any transaction from which the director derived an improper personal benefit.

AGREEMENT AND PLAN OF MERGER

Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of November 21, 1997, by and among American Tower Systems Corporation, a Delaware corporation ("ATS"), American Tower Systems, Inc. a Delaware corporation ("ATSI"), Gearon & Co., Inc., a Georgia corporation ("Gearon"), and J. Michael Gearon, Jr. (the "Gearon Stockholder").

W I T N E S S E T H:

WHEREAS, the respective Boards of Directors of ATS, ATSI and Gearon have approved the merger (the "Merger") of Gearon with and into ATSI on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement and Plan of Merger (this "Agreement") and have approved this Agreement; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Directors of ATS has approved and adopted this Agreement as the sole stockholder of ATSI, and the sole voting shareholder of Gearon has approved and adopted this Agreement; and

WHEREAS, this Agreement provides that Gearon shall be merged into ATSI, and ATSI shall be the surviving corporation; and

WHEREAS, as a condition of the willingness of ATS and ATSI to enter into this Agreement, and as an inducement thereto, the Gearon Stockholder is delivering his written consent approving and adopting the Merger and this Agreement;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements herein contained and other valuable consideration, the receipt and adequacy whereof are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto hereby, intending to be legally bound, represent, warrant, covenant and agree as follows:

DEFINED TERMS

As used herein, unless the context otherwise requires, the terms defined in Appendix A shall have the respective meanings set forth therein. Terms defined in the singular shall have a comparable meaning when used in the plural, and vice versa, and the reference to any gender shall be deemed to include all genders. Unless otherwise defined or the context otherwise clearly requires, terms for which meanings are provided in this Agreement shall have such meanings when used in the Gearon Disclosure Schedule, and each Collateral Document executed or required to be executed pursuant hereto or thereto or otherwise delivered, from time to time, pursuant hereto or thereto. References to "hereof," "herein" or similar terms are intended to refer to the Agreement as a whole and not a particular section, and references to "this Section" or "this Article" are intended to refer to the entire section or article and not a particular subsection thereof. The term "either party" shall, unless the context otherwise requires, refer to ATS and ATSI, on the one hand, and Gearon and the Gearon Stockholder, on the other hand.

THE MERGER

2.1 The Merger. Upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, and in accordance with the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DCL") and the Georgia Business Corporation Code (the "GBCC"), at the Effective Time, Gearon shall be merged with and into ATSI. As a result of the Merger, the separate corporate existence of Gearon shall cease and ATSI shall continue as the surviving corporation in the Merger (sometimes referred to, as such, as the "Surviving Corporation"). ATS and Gearon acknowledge and agree that it is the intention of the parties that the business of Gearon conducted prior to the Effective Time continue to be operated and expanded either as a distinct operating division of ATSI or as a wholly owned subsidiary of ATSI.

2.2 Closing. Unless this Agreement shall have been terminated pursuant to Section 9.1 and subject to the satisfaction or, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law, waiver of the conditions set forth in Article 8, the closing of the Merger (the "Closing") will take place, at 10:00 a.m., on the Closing Date, at the offices of Sullivan & Worcester LLP, One Post Office Square, Boston, Massachusetts 02109, on the date that is the second (2nd) day after the date on which all of the conditions set forth in Article 8 (other than those which require delivery of opinions or documents at the Closing) shall have been satisfied or waived, unless another date, time or place is agreed to in writing by the parties. The date on which the Closing occurs is herein referred to as the "Closing Date."

2.3 Effective Time. Subject to the provisions of this Agreement, as promptly as practicable after the Closing, the parties hereto shall cause the Merger to be consummated by filing a Certificate of Merger and any related filings required under the DCL with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware and Articles of Merger and any related filings required under the GBCC with the Secretary of State of the State of Georgia. The Merger shall become effective at such time as such documents are duly filed as aforesaid, or at such later time as is specified in such documents (the "Effective Time").

2.4 Effect of the Merger. The Merger shall have the effects provided for under the DCL and the GBCC.

2.5 Certificate of Incorporation. The Certificate of Incorporation of ATSI, as in effect immediately prior to the Effective Time, shall be the Certificate of Incorporation of the Surviving Corporation until thereafter changed or amended as provided therein or by Applicable Law.

2.6 Bylaws. The bylaws of ATSI in effect at the Effective Time shall be the bylaws of the Surviving Corporation until amended in accordance with Applicable Law and the Organic Documents of ATSI.

2.7 Directors and Officers. From and after the Effective Time, until successors are duly elected or appointed and qualified, or upon their earlier resignation or removal, in accordance with Applicable Law and the Organic Documents of ATSI, and subject to satisfaction of the condition set forth in Sections 8.3(g) and 8.3(j), (a) the directors of ATSI at the Effective Time shall be the directors of the Surviving Corporation, and (b) the officers of ATSI at the Effective Time shall be the officers of the Surviving Corporation.

ARTICLE 3

CONVERSION OF SHARES; EXCHANGE OF CERTIFICATES

3.1 Conversion of Capital Stock. At the Effective Time, by virtue of the Merger and without any action on the part of ATS, ATSI or Gearon or their respective stockholders:

(a) Each share of Common Stock, par value $.01 per share, of ATSI issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall remain outstanding.

(b) Each share of Common Stock, no par value, of Gearon (the "Gearon Common Stock") issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time (other than shares held in the treasury of Gearon) shall, by virtue of the Merger and without any action on the part of the holder thereof, be converted into the right to receive its pro-rata share of the following:

(i) with respect to Dan King Brainard, Jeff Ebihara and Doug Wiest, 555,555, 16,666 and 33,333 shares, respectively, of Class A Common Stock, par value $.01 per share, of ATS (the "ATS Class A Common Stock") (being a number of shares of ATS Class A Common Stock with an agreed upon fair market value of $5,000,000, $150,000 and $300,000, respectively, based on an agreed upon per share value of the ATS Class A Common Stock of $9.00, which ATS represents is not more than the price per share at which shares are to be sold pursuant to the ATS Private Placement) to be issued to each such Gearon stockholder in proportion to the number of shares of Gearon Common Stock held by such stockholder to the number of shares of Gearon Common Stock held by all such stockholders (the "Gearon Employees Consideration" which term shall include any adjustment pursuant to the provisions of this Section); and

(ii) with respect to the Gearon Stockholder and the Gearon Family Partnership, (A) 4,727,778 shares of ATS Class A Common Stock (being a number of shares of ATS Class A Common Stock with an agreed upon fair market value of $42,550,000 based on an agreed upon per share value of the ATS Class A Common Stock of $9.00, which ATS represents is not more than the price per share at which shares are to be sold pursuant to the ATS Private Placement) (the "Gearon Common Stock Consideration"), and (B) $32.0 million in immediately available funds (the "Cash Consideration" and collectively, with the Gearon Common Stock Consideration, the "Merger Consideration" which term shall include any adjustment pursuant to the provisions of this Section).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Cash Consideration shall be (i) increased by an amount equal to the Net Working Capital of Gearon (if positive) on and as of the Closing Date, and (ii) decreased by an amount equal to the Net Working Capital of Gearon (if negative) on and as of the Closing Date. The term "Exchange Merger Consideration" shall mean an amount equal to the Gearon Employees Consideration or the Merger Consideration, as the case may be, divided by the aggregate number of shares of Gearon Common Stock (the "Gearon Shares") issued and outstanding at the Effective Time and held of record at the Effective Time by the Persons (x) named in paragraph (i), in the case of the Gearon Employees Consideration, and (y) named in paragraph (ii), in the case of the Gearon Common Stock Consideration and the Cash Consideration.

At the Effective Time, all Gearon Shares shall no longer be outstanding and shall automatically be canceled and retired and shall cease to exist, and certificates previously evidencing any such Gearon Shares (each, a "Certificate") shall thereafter represent the right to receive, upon the surrender of such Certificate in accordance with the provisions of Section 3.2, the Exchange Merger Consideration multiplied by the number of Gearon Shares represented by such Certificate, and a holder of more than one Certificate shall have the right to receive the Exchange Merger Consideration multiplied by the number of Gearon Shares represented by all such Certificates. In lieu of issuing fractional shares, ATS shall convert the holder's right to receive ATS Class A Common Stock pursuant to the provisions of this Section into a right to receive the highest whole number of shares of ATS Class A Common Stock constituting the Exchange Merger Consideration plus cash equal to the fraction of a share of ATS Class A Common Stock to which the holder would otherwise be entitled multiplied by $[i], and the Exchange Merger Consideration to which a holder is entitled shall be deemed to be such number of shares of ATS Class A Common Stock, the Cash Consideration and such cash. The holders of such Certificates previously evidencing Gearon Shares outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall cease to have any rights with respect to such Gearon Shares, except as otherwise provided herein or by Applicable Law.

3.2 Exchange of Certificates. At and after the Effective Time, each stockholder of Gearon, upon surrender of each of his Certificates, shall be issued a certificate of ATS Class A Common Stock and cash representing the Exchange Merger Consideration with respect to the Gearon Shares represented by such Certificate in accordance with the provisions of Section 3.1, plus cash in amount sufficient to make payment for fractional shares, subject, however, to the provisions of the Indemnity Escrow Agreement.

3.3 Stock Transfer Books. At the Effective Time, the stock transfer books of Gearon shall be closed, and there shall be no further transfer of shares of Gearon Common Stock thereafter on the records of Gearon. Any Certificates presented after the Effective Time for transfer shall be canceled and exchanged for the amount to which the Gearon Shares represented thereby shall be entitled pursuant to Sections 3.1 and 3.2.

3.4 Option Securities and Convertible Securities; Payment Rights. At the Effective Time, each outstanding Option Security and each Convertible Security of Gearon, if any, whether or not then exercisable for or convertible into Gearon Shares or other Gearon securities, outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time, shall be canceled and retired and shall cease to exist, and the holder thereof shall not be entitled to receive any consideration therefor.

ARTICLE 4

REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF GEARON

Gearon and the Gearon Stockholder, jointly and severally, hereby represent and warrant to ATS and ATSI as follows:

4.1 Organization and Business; Power and Authority; Effect of Transaction.

(a) Gearon is a corporation duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of its jurisdiction of organization, has all requisite power and authority (corporate and other) to own or hold under lease its properties and to conduct its business as now conducted.

(b) Gearon has all requisite power and authority (corporate and other) and has in full force and effect all Governmental Authorizations and Private Authorizations necessary to enable it to execute and deliver, and to perform its obligations under, this Agreement and each Collateral Document executed or required to be executed by it pursuant hereto or thereto or to consummate the Transactions; and the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and each Collateral Document executed or required to be executed by it pursuant hereto or thereto have been duly authorized by all requisite corporate or other action on the part of Gearon, including without limitation by the requisite approval of the stockholders of Gearon. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by Gearon and constitutes, and each Collateral Document executed or required to be executed by it pursuant hereto or thereto or to consummate the Transactions when executed and delivered by Gearon will constitute, legal, valid and binding obligations of Gearon, enforceable in accordance with their respective terms, except as such enforceability may be subject to bankruptcy, moratorium, insolvency, reorganization, arrangement, voidable preference, fraudulent conveyance and other similar laws relating to or affecting the rights of creditors and except as the same may be subject to the effect of general principles of equity.

(c) Except as set forth in Section 4.1(c) of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule, neither the execution and delivery by Gearon of this Agreement or any Collateral Document executed or required to be executed by it pursuant hereto or thereto, nor the consummation of the Transactions, nor compliance with the terms, conditions and provisions hereof or thereof by Gearon:

(i) will conflict with, or result in a breach or violation of, or constitute a default under, any Organic Document of Gearon or any Applicable Law, or will conflict with, or result in a breach or violation of, or constitute a default under, or permit the acceleration of any obligation or liability in, or but for any requirement of giving of notice or passage of time or both would constitute such a conflict with, breach or violation of, or default under, or permit any such acceleration in, any Contractual Obligation of Gearon; or

(ii) will require Gearon to make or obtain any Governmental Authorization, Governmental Filing or Private Authorization including without limitation under the FCA, except as required by the Hart-Scott-Rodino Act.

(d) Except as set forth in Section 4.1(d) of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule, Gearon does not have any Subsidiaries.

4.2 Financial and Other Information. Gearon has heretofore furnished to ATS copies of the financial statements of Gearon listed in Section 4.2 of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule (the "Gearon Financial Statements"). The Gearon Financial Statements, including in each case the notes thereto, have been prepared in accordance with GAAP applied on a consistent basis throughout the periods covered thereby, except as otherwise noted therein or as set forth in Section 4.2 of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule, are true, accurate and complete in all material respects, do not contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omit to state a material fact required by GAAP to be stated therein or necessary in order to make the statements contained therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading, and fairly present the financial condition and the results of operations and cash flow of Gearon, on the bases therein stated, as of the respective dates thereof, and for the respective periods covered thereby subject, in the case of unaudited financial statements, to normal nonmaterial year-end audit adjustments and accruals.

4.3 Material Statements and Omissions; Absence of Events. Neither any representation or warranty made by Gearon contained in this Agreement or any certificate, document or other instrument furnished or to be furnished by Gearon pursuant to the provisions hereof nor the Gearon Disclosure Schedule contains or will contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omits or will omit to state any material fact required to make any statement contained herein or therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading. Since the date of the most recent financial statements constituting a part of the Gearon Financial Statements, except to the extent specifically described in Section 4.3 of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule, there has been no material adverse change in Gearon. There is no Event known to Gearon which materially adversely affects, or (so far as Gearon can now reasonably foresee) is likely to materially adversely affect, Gearon, except to the extent specifically described in Section 4.3 of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule. Gearon is not aware of any impending or contemplated Event that would cause any of the representations and warranties made by it in this Article not to be true, correct and complete on the date of such Event as if made on that date.

4.4 Title to Properties; Leases.

(a) Section 4.4(a) of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule contains a true, accurate and complete description of all real property owned by Gearon that is part of the property and assets of Gearon (the "Gearon Assets"). Gearon has, to Gearon's knowledge, good indefeasible, marketable and insurable title to all real property (other than leasehold real property) and good indefeasible and marketable title to all other assets (other than real property), tangible and intangible, constituting a part of the Gearon Assets; all of such real property and other assets are so owned, in each case, free and clear of all Liens, except (i) Permitted Liens, and (ii) Liens set forth on Section 4.4(a) of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule. Except for financing statements evidencing Liens referred to in the preceding sentence (a true, accurate and complete list and description of which is set forth in Section 4.4(a) of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule), no financing statements under the Uniform Commercial Code and no other filing which names Gearon as debtor or which covers or purports to cover any of the Gearon Assets is on file in any state or other jurisdiction, and Gearon has not signed or agreed to sign any such financing statement or filing or any agreement authorizing any secured party thereunder to file any such financing statement or filing. Except as disclosed in Section 4.4(a) of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule, all improvements on the real property owned or leased by Gearon are, to Gearon's knowledge, in compliance with applicable zoning, wetlands and land use laws, ordinances and regulations and applicable title covenants, conditions, restrictions and reservations in all respects necessary to conduct the operations as presently conducted, except for any instances of non-compliance which do not and will not in the aggregate have a material adverse effect on the owner or lessee, as the case may be, of such real property. Except as disclosed in Section 4.4(a) of the Gearon Disclosure Statement, all such improvements comply in all material aspects with all Applicable Laws, Governmental Authorizations and Private Authorizations. Except as disclosed in Section 4.4(a) of the Gearon Disclosure Statement, all of the transmitting towers, ground radials, guy anchors, transmitting buildings and related improvements, if any, located on the real property owned or leased by Gearon are located entirely on such real property. There is no pending or, to Gearon's knowledge, threatened or contemplated action to take by eminent domain or otherwise to condemn any part of any real property owned by Gearon or, to Gearon's knowledge, any real property leased by Gearon. Except as set forth in Section 4.4(a) of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule, such real property (other than land), fixtures, fixed assets and other material items of personal property, including equipment, have, in Gearon's reasonable business judgment, been maintained in a manner consistent with generally accepted standards of sound engineering practice and currently permit the Gearon Business to be operated in all material respects in accordance with the terms and conditions of all Applicable Laws, Governmental Authorizations and Private Authorizations.

(b) Section 4.4(b) of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule contains a true, accurate and complete description of all Leases under which any real property used in the business of Gearon (the "Gearon Business") is leased. Except as otherwise set forth in Section 4.4(b) of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule, each

Lease or other occupancy or other agreement under which Gearon holds real or personal property constituting a part of the Gearon Assets has been duly authorized, executed and delivered by Gearon and, to Gearon's knowledge, each of the other parties thereto, and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of Gearon, and, to Gearon's knowledge, each of the other parties thereto, enforceable in accordance with its terms, except as such enforceability may be limited by bankruptcy, moratorium, insolvency and similar laws affecting the rights and remedies of creditors and obligations of debtors generally and by general principles of equity. Gearon has a valid leasehold interest in and enjoys peaceful and undisturbed possession under all Leases pursuant to which it holds any such real property or tangible personal property. All of such Leases are valid and subsisting and in full force and effect; neither Gearon nor, to Gearon's knowledge, any other party thereto, is in material default in the performance, observance or fulfillment of any obligation, covenant or condition contained in any such Lease. None of the fixed assets or equipment comprising a part of the Gearon Assets is subject to contracts of sale, and none is held by Gearon as lessee or as conditional sales vendee under any Lease or conditional sales contract and none is subject to any title retention agreement, except as set forth in Section 4.4(b) of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule.

(c) Section 4.4(c) of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule contains a true, accurate and complete description of all material items of Personal Property of Gearon. Gearon owns and has good and marketable title to all of its Personal Property, in each case, free and clear of all Liens, except (i) Permitted Liens and (ii) Liens set forth on Section 4.4(c) of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule (which Liens shall be released prior to Closing). Except as set forth in Section 4.4(c) of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule, and except for any defects or damage that would not, in the aggregate, have a material adverse effect on Gearon, all of the Personal Property of Gearon is in a state of good repair and maintenance and is in good operating condition, normal wear and tear excepted, has been maintained in a manner consistent with generally accepted standards of good engineering practice and currently permits the Gearon Business to be operated in accordance with the terms and conditions of all Applicable Laws.

4.5 Compliance with Private Authorizations. Section 4.5 of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule sets forth a true, accurate and complete list and description of each Private Authorization which individually is material to the Gearon Assets or the Gearon Business. Gearon has obtained all Private Authorizations which are necessary for the ownership or operation of the Gearon Assets or the conduct of the Gearon Business which, if not obtained and maintained, could, individually or in the aggregate, materially adversely affect Gearon. All of such Private Authorizations are valid and in good standing and are in full force and effect. Gearon is not in breach or violation of, or in default in the performance, observance or fulfillment of, any such Private Authorization, and no Event exists or has occurred, which constitutes, or but for any requirement of giving of notice or passage of time or both would constitute, such a breach, violation or default, under any such Private Authorization, except for such defaults, breaches or violations as do not and will not have in the aggregate any material adverse effect on Gearon. No such Private Authorization is the subject of any pending or, to Gearon's knowledge, threatened attack, revocation or termination.

4.6 Compliance with Governmental Authorizations and Applicable Law.

(a) Section 4.6(a) of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule contains a true, complete and accurate description of each Governmental Authorization required under Applicable Law (i) to own and operate the Gearon Assets and conduct the Gearon Business, as currently conducted or proposed to be conducted on or prior to the Closing Date, all of which are in full force and effect or (ii) that is necessary to permit Gearon to execute and deliver this Agreement and to perform its obligations hereunder. Gearon has obtained all Governmental Authorizations which are necessary for the ownership or operation of the Gearon Assets or the conduct of the Gearon Business as now conducted and which, if not obtained and maintained, would, individually or in the aggregate, have any material adverse effect on Gearon. None of the Governmental Authorizations listed in Section 4.6(a) of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule is subject to any restriction or condition which would limit in any material respect the ownership or operations of the Gearon Assets or the conduct of the Gearon Business as currently conducted, except for restrictions and conditions generally applicable to Governmental Authorizations of such type. The Governmental Authorizations listed in Section 4.6(a) of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule are valid and in good standing, are in full force and effect and are not impaired in any material respect by any act or omission of Gearon or its officers, directors, employees or agents, and the ownership or operation of the Gearon Assets or the conduct of the Gearon Business are in accordance in all material respects with the Governmental Authorizations. All material reports, forms and statements required to be filed by Gearon with all Authorities with respect to the Gearon Business have been filed and are true, complete and accurate in all material respects. No such Governmental Authorization is the subject of any pending or, to Gearon's knowledge, threatened challenge or proceeding to revoke or terminate any such Governmental Authorization. Gearon has no reason to believe that any such Governmental Authorization would not be renewed in the name of Gearon by the granting Authority in the ordinary course.

(c) Except as otherwise specifically described in Section 4.6(c) of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule, no Event exists or has occurred, which, to Gearon's knowledge, constitutes, or but for any requirement of giving of notice or passage of time or both would constitute, such a breach, violation or default, under (i) any Governmental Authorization or any Applicable Law, except for such breaches, violations or defaults as do not and will not have, individually or in the aggregate, any material adverse effect on Gearon or (ii) any material requirement of any insurance carrier, applicable to the ownership or operations of the Gearon Assets or the conduct of the Gearon Business, except for such breaches, violations or defaults as do not and will not have, individually or in the aggregate, any material adverse effect on Gearon.

(d) With respect to matters, if any, of a nature referred to in Section 4.6(a), 4.6(b) or 4.6(c) of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule, except as otherwise specifically described in Section 4.6(d) of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule, all such information and matters set forth in the Gearon Disclosure Schedule, if adversely determined against Gearon, will not, individually or in the aggregate, have a materially adversely effect on Gearon.

All Taxes which Gearon is required by law to withhold and collect have been duly withheld and collected, and have been paid over, in a timely manner, to the proper Authorities to the extent due and payable. Gearon has not executed any waiver to extend, or otherwise taken or failed to take any action that would have the effect of extending, the applicable statute of limitations in respect of any Tax liabilities of Gearon for the fiscal years prior to and including the most recent fiscal year. Since the date of the most recent financial statements constituting a part of the ATS Financial Statements, except to the extent specifically described in the ATS Information Statement, there has been no material adverse change in ATS. There is no Event known to ATS which materially adversely affects, or (so far as ATS can now reasonably foresee) is likely to materially adversely affect, ATS, except to the extent specifically described in the ATS Information Statement. ATS is not aware of any impending or contemplated Event that would cause any of the representations and warranties made by it in this Article not to be true, correct and complete on the date of such Event as if made on that date.

5.4 Absence of Sensitive Payments. Neither ATS, ATSI nor, to ATS' and ATSI's knowledge, any of their officers, directors, employees, agents or other representatives, has with respect to the assets and business of ATS and ATSI (a) made any contributions, payments or gifts to or for the private use of any governmental official, employee or agent where either the payment or the purpose of such contribution, payment or gift is illegal under the laws of the United States or the jurisdiction in which made or (b) established or maintained any unrecorded fund or asset for any illegal purpose or made any false or artificial entries on its books.

5.6 Compliance with Private Authorizations. ATSI has obtained all Private Authorizations which are necessary for the ownership or operation of its assets or the conduct of its business which, if not obtained and maintained, could, individually or in the aggregate, materially adversely affect ATS. All of such Private Authorizations are valid and in good standing and are in full force and effect. ATSI is not in breach or violation of, or in default in the performance, observance or fulfillment of, any such Private Authorization, and no Event exists or has occurred, which constitutes, or but for any requirement of giving of notice or passage of time or both would constitute, such a breach, violation or default, under any such Private Authorization, except for such defaults, breaches or violations as do not and will not have in the aggregate any material adverse effect on ATS. No such Private Authorization which is material to the ownership and operation of ATSI's assets or the conduct of ATSI's business is the subject of any pending or, to ATSI's knowledge, threatened attack, revocation or termination.

5.7 Compliance with Governmental Authorizations and Applicable Law.

(a) ATSI has obtained all Governmental Authorizations which are necessary for the ownership or operation of its assets or the conduct of its business as now conducted and which, if not obtained and maintained, would, individually or in the aggregate, have any material adverse effect on ATS. All material reports, forms and statements required to be filed by ATSI with all Authorities with respect to ATSI's business have been filed and are true, complete and accurate in all material respects. No Governmental Authorization which is material to the ownership and operation of ATSI's assets or the conduct of ATSI's business is the subject of any pending or, to ATSI's knowledge, threatened challenge or proceeding to revoke or terminate any such Governmental Authorization. ATSI has no reason to believe that any such Governmental Authorization would not be renewed in the name of ATSI by the granting Authority in the ordinary course.

(b) Except as otherwise specifically described in the ATS Information Statement, neither ATS or ATSI nor any director or officer thereof (in connection with the ownership or operation of ATSI's assets or the conduct of ATSI's business) is in or is charged by any Authority with or is threatened or under investigation by any Authority with respect to, breach or violation of, or default in the performance, observance or fulfillment of, any Governmental Authorization or any Applicable Law relating to the ownership and operation of ATSI's assets or the conduct of ATSI's business which, if determined adversely, individually or in the aggregate, would have a material adverse effect on ATSI. In particular, but without limiting the generality of the foregoing, there are no applications, Claims or Legal Actions pending or, to ATS' knowledge, threatened before or by any Authority (x) relating to the ownership or operation of the ATS assets or the conduct of the ATS business which, individually or in the aggregate, are reasonably likely to result in the revocation or termination of any Governmental Authorization or the imposition of any restriction of such a nature as would adversely affect the ownership or operation of the ATS assets or the conduct of the ATS business; (y) involving charges of illegal discrimination by ATS under any federal or state employment Laws, or (z) involving Environmental Laws or zoning laws, except, in each case, such applications, Claims or Legal Actions as do not and will not have, individually or in the aggregate, any material adverse effect on ATS.

(c) Except as otherwise specifically described in the ATS Information Statement, no Event exists or has occurred, which, to ATS' knowledge, constitutes, or but for any requirement of giving of notice or passage of time or both would constitute, such a breach, violation or default, under (i) any Governmental Authorization or any Applicable Law, or (ii) any material requirement of any insurance carrier, applicable to the ownership or operations of the ATS assets or the conduct of the ATS business, except, in each case, for such breaches, violations or defaults as do not and will not have, individually or in the aggregate, any material adverse effect on ATS.

5.8 Related Transactions. Neither ATS nor ATSI is a party or subject to any Contractual Obligation relating to the ownership or operation of ATSI's assets or the conduct of ATSI's business between either of them and any of its officers, directors, stockholders, employees or, to the knowledge of ATS, any Affiliate of any thereof, including without limitation any Contractual Obligation providing for the furnishing of services to or by, providing for rental of property, real, personal or mixed, to or from, or providing for the lending or borrowing of money to or from or otherwise requiring payments to or from, any such Person, other than those described or referred to in the ATS Information Statement or that are not, individually or in the aggregate, material to the business of ATS or ATSI.

5.9 Tax Matters. Each of ATS and ATSI has in accordance with all Applicable Laws filed all Tax Returns which are required to be filed, and has paid, or made adequate provision for the payment of, all Taxes which have or may become due and payable pursuant to said Tax Returns and all other governmental charges and assessments received to date other than those Taxes being contested in good faith for which adequate provision has been made on the most recent balance sheet forming part of ATS Financial Statements. The Tax Returns of ATS and ATSI have been prepared in all material respects in accordance with all Applicable Laws and generally accepted principles applicable to taxation consistently applied. All Taxes which ATS and ATSI is required by law to withhold and collect have been duly withheld and collected, and have been paid over, in a timely manner, to the proper Authorities to the extent due and payable. Adequate provision has been made on the most recent balance sheet forming part of ATS Financial Statements for all Taxes accrued through the date of such balance sheet of any kind, including interest and penalties in respect thereof, whether disputed or not, and whether past, current or deferred, accrued or unaccrued, fixed, contingent, absolute or other, and there are, to ATSI's knowledge, no past transactions or matters which could result in additional Taxes of a material nature to ATSI for which an adequate reserve has not been provided on such balance sheet.

5.10 Ordinary Course of Business. Each of ATS and ATSI, from the end of its most recent fiscal quarter to the date hereof, except (i) as may be described in the ATS Information Statement, or (ii) as may be required or expressly contemplated by the terms of this Agreement, has operated its business in all material respects in the normal, usual and customary manner in the ordinary and regular course of business, consistent with prior practice, it being understood that the acquisition of communications sites and other companies and assets involved in the communications sites industry is part of the ordinary course of business of each of ATS and ATSI.

TERMINATION, AMENDMENT AND WAIVER

9.1 Termination. This Agreement may be terminated at any time prior to the Closing Date:

(a) by mutual consent of Gearon and ATS; or

(b) by either ATS or Gearon if any permanent injunction, decree or judgment by any Authority preventing the consummation of the Merger shall have become final and nonappealable; or

(c) by Gearon in the event (i) neither Gearon nor the Gearon Stockholder are in material breach of this Agreement and none of its of their representations or warranties shall have become and continue to be untrue in any manner that would cause the condition set forth in Section 8.2(c) not to be satisfied, and (ii) either (A) the Merger has not been consummated prior to the Termination Date, or (B) ATS is in material breach of this Agreement or any of its representations or warranties shall have become and continue to be untrue in any manner that would cause the conditions set forth in Section 8.3(c) not to be satisfied, and such a breach or untruth exists and is not capable of being cured by and will prevent or delay consummation of the Merger by or beyond the Termination Date; or

(d) by ATS in the event (i) ATS is not in material breach of this Agreement and none of its representations or warranties shall have become and continue to be untrue in any manner that would cause the condition set forth in Section 8.3(c) not to be satisfied, and (ii) either (A) the Merger has not been consummated prior to the Termination Date, or (B) Gearon or the Gearon Stockholder are in material breach of this Agreement or any of Gearon's or any of the Gearon Stockholder's representations or warranties shall have become and continue to be untrue in any manner that would cause the conditions set forth in Section 8.2(c) not to be satisfied, and such a breach or untruth exists and is not capable of being cured by and will prevent or delay consummation of the Merger by or beyond the Termination Date.

The term "Termination Date" shall mean February 28, 1998 or such other date as the parties may, from time to time, mutually agree.

The right of ATS or Gearon to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section shall remain operative and in full force and effect regardless of any investigation made by or on behalf of any party, any Person controlling any such party or any of their respective Representatives whether prior to or after the execution of this Agreement.

9.2 Effect of Termination.

(a) Except as provided in Sections 7.1 (with respect to confidentiality), 7.3 and 11.2 and this Section, in the event of the termination of this Agreement pursuant to Section 9.1, or in the event the Merger shall not have been consummated prior to the end of business on the Termination Date, except as otherwise provided in Section 9.2(b), this Agreement shall forthwith become void, there shall be no liability on the part of any party, or any of their respective shareholders, officers or directors, to the other and all rights and obligations of any party shall cease; provided, however, that such termination shall not relieve any party from liability for any misrepresentation or breach of any of its warranties, covenants or agreements set forth in this Agreement.

(b) In the event this Agreement is terminated by Gearon pursuant to the provisions of Section 9.1(c), then Gearon shall be entitled to liquidated damages in an amount equal to (i) if such termination occurs on or before January 2, 1998, $5,000,000, and (ii) if such termination occurs after January 2, 1998, $10,000,000; the parties agree that such amount shall constitute full payment for any and all damages suffered by Gearon by reason of ATS' failure to consummate the Merger. ATS and Gearon agree in advance that actual damages would be difficult to ascertain and that such liquidated damages is a fair and equitable amount to reimburse Gearon for damages sustained due to ATS' failure to consummate the Merger for the above-stated reasons. Notwithstanding the foregoing, Gearon shall have the right to seek specific performance pursuant to the provisions of Section 11.4.

(c) In the event this Agreement is terminated pursuant to the provisions of Section 9.1(a), 9.1(b) or 9.1(d), except as provided in Section 9.2(a), none of the parties shall have any further rights or remedies.

INDEMNIFICATION

10.1 Survival. The representations and warranties of the parties contained in or made pursuant to this Agreement or any Collateral Document shall survive the Closing and shall remain operative and in full force and effect for a period of eighteen (18) months after the Closing Date, except that in the case of matters of a nature referred to in Sections 4.1, 4.10, 4.11, 4.20 and 4.21, Sections 5.1, 5.9, 5.11 and 5.16 and Article 6 which shall survive and remain operative and in full force and effect for the applicable statute of limitations, regardless of any investigation or statement as to the results thereof made by or on behalf of any party hereto. The covenants and agreements of the parties contained in or made pursuant to this Agreement or any Collateral Document shall survive the Closing (unless any such covenant or agreement by its express terms in this Agreement does not so survive) and shall remain operative and in full force and effect for the statute of limitations applicable to contractual obligations. The term "Indemnity Period" shall mean the applicable period with respect to which a representation, warranty, covenant or agreement survives the Closing as provided in this Section. No claim for indemnification, other than with respect to fraud or intentional and willful breach or misrepresentation, may be asserted after the expiration of the Indemnity Period. Notwithstanding anything herein to the contrary, any representation, warranty, covenant and agreement which arises and is the subject of a Claim which is asserted in writing prior to the expiration of the applicable Indemnity Period shall survive with respect to such Claim or any dispute with respect thereto until the final resolution thereof.

10.2 Indemnification.

(a) The Gearon Stockholder agrees that on and after the Closing he shall indemnify and hold harmless ATS and ATSI and their respective stockholders, directors, officers, employees and representatives (collectively, the "ATS Indemnified Parties") from and against any and all damages, claims, losses, expenses, costs, obligations, and liabilities including, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, liabilities for all reasonable attorneys', accountants' and experts' fees and expenses incurred, including those incurred to enforce the terms of this Agreement or any Collateral Document (collectively, "Loss and Expense"), suffered by the ATS Indemnified Parties by reason of, or arising out of any breach of representation or warranty made by Gearon or the Gearon Stockholder pursuant to this Agreement or any Collateral Document or any failure by Gearon or the Gearon Stockholder to perform or fulfill any of its or any of their covenants or agreements set forth in this Agreement or any Collateral Document.

(b) ATS and ATSI, jointly and severally, agree that on and after the Closing they will indemnify the Gearon Stockholder and hold him harmless from and against all Loss and Expense suffered by any of them by reason of, or arising out of :

(i) any breach of representation or warranty made by ATS or ATSI pursuant to this Agreement or any Collateral Document or any failure by ATS or ATSI to perform or fulfill any of its covenants or agreements set forth in this Agreement or any Collateral Document; or

(ii) any Legal Action or other Claim by any third party relating to ATS or ATSI or the ownership or operations of Gearon's business and properties subsequent to the Closing, including without limitation any and all obligations and liabilities under Governmental Authorizations, Private Authorizations, Leases, Material Agreements, Employment Arrangements, Plans, Benefit Arrangements and Contractual Obligations.

10.3 Limitation of Liability.

(a) Notwithstanding the provisions of Section 10.2, after the Closing, except as otherwise provided in Section 10.6, the ATS Indemnified Parties, on the one hand, and Gearon, on the other hand, shall be entitled to recover its Loss and Expense in respect of any Claim only in the event that the aggregate Loss and Expense for all Claims exceeds, in the aggregate, $100,000, in which event the indemnified party shall be entitled to recover all such Loss and Expense (including without limitation such $100,000).

(b) In the case any event shall occur which would otherwise entitle any party to assert a claim for indemnification hereunder, no Loss and Expense shall be deemed to have been sustained by such party to the extent of any proceeds received by such party from any insurance policies with respect thereto.

10.4 Notice of Claims. If an indemnified party believes that it has suffered or incurred any Loss and Expense, it shall notify the indemnifying party promptly in writing, and in any event within the applicable Indemnity Period specified in Section 10.1, describing such Loss and Expense, all with reasonable particularity and containing a reference to the provisions of this Agreement in respect of which such Loss and Expense shall have occurred. If any Legal Action is instituted by a third party with respect to which an indemnified party intends to claim any liability or expense as Loss and Expense under this Article, such indemnified party shall promptly notify the indemnifying party of such Legal Action, but the failure to so notify the indemnifying party shall not relieve such indemnifying party of its obligations under this Article, except to the extent such failure to notify prejudices such indemnifying party's ability to defend against such Claim.

10.5 Defense of Third Party Claims. The indemnifying party shall have the right to conduct and control, through counsel of their own choosing, reasonably acceptable to the indemnified party, any third party Legal Action or other Claim, but the indemnified party may, at its election, participate in the defense thereof at its sole cost and expense; provided, however, that if the indemnifying party shall fail to defend any such Legal Action or other Claim, then the indemnified party may defend, through counsel of its own choosing, such Legal Action or other Claim, and (so long as it gives the indemnifying party at least fifteen (15) days' notice of the terms of the proposed settlement thereof and permits the indemnifying party to then undertake the defense thereof) settle such Legal Action or other Claim and to recover the amount of such settlement or of any judgment and the reasonable costs and expenses of such defense. The indemnifying party shall not compromise or settle any such Legal Action or other Claim without the prior written consent of the indemnified party, which consent shall not unreasonably be withheld, delayed or conditioned if the terms and conditions of such compromise or settlement proposed by the indemnifying party and agreed to in writing by the claimant in such Legal Action or other Claim (the "Settlement Proposal") (a) include a full release of the indemnified party from the Legal Action or other Claim which is the subject of the Settlement Proposal, and (b) if the indemnified party is an ATS Indemnified Party, do not include any term or condition which would restrict in any material manner the continued ownership or operations of the Gearon Assets or the conduct of the Gearon Business in substantially the manner then being theretofore owned, operated and conducted by ATS or Gearon (or any successor or assign). No matter whether an indemnifying party defends or prosecutes any third party Legal Action or Claim, the indemnified and indemnifying parties shall cooperate in the defense or prosecution thereof. Such cooperation shall include access during normal business hours afforded to the indemnifying party to, and reasonable retention by the indemnified party of, records and information which are reasonably relevant to such third party Legal Action or Claim, and making employees available on a mutually convenient basis to provide additional information and explanation of any material provided hereunder, and the indemnifying party shall reimburse the indemnified party for all its reasonable out-of-pocket expenses in connection therewith.

10.6 Exclusive Remedy. Except for fraud, willful or intentional misrepresentation or willful or intentional breach of warranty, covenant or agreement or as otherwise provided in Section 11.4, the indemnification provided in this Article shall be the sole and exclusive post-Closing remedy available to any party against the other party for any Claim under this Agreement.

GENERAL PROVISIONS

11.1 Waivers; Amendments. Changes in or additions to this Agreement may be made, or compliance with any term, covenant, agreement, condition or provision set forth herein may be omitted or waived (either generally or in a particular instance and either retroactively or prospectively) with, but only with, the consent in writing of the parties hereto. No delay on the part of either party at any time or times in the exercise of any right or remedy shall operate as a waiver thereof. Any consent may be given subject to satisfaction of conditions stated therein. The failure to insist upon the strict provisions of any covenant, term, condition or other provision of this Agreement or to exercise any right or remedy thereunder shall not constitute a waiver of any such covenant, term, condition or other provision thereof or default in connection therewith. The waiver of any covenant, term, condition or other provision thereof or default thereunder shall not affect or alter this Agreement in any other respect, and each and every covenant, term, condition or other provision of this Agreement shall, in such event, continue in full force and effect, except as so waived, and shall be operative with respect to any other then existing or subsequent default in connection therewith.

11.2 Fees, Expenses and Other Payments. All Hart-Scott-Rodino filing fees shall be borne equally by Gearon and ATS, and all costs of preliminary title reports to a date reasonably proximate to the Closing Date and all costs of environmental studies shall be borne by ATS. All costs and expenses, incurred in connection with any transfer taxes, sales taxes, recording or documentary taxes, stamps or other charges levied by any Authority in connection with this Agreement and the consummation of the Merger shall be borne by ATS and all other costs and expenses incurred in connection with this Agreement and the consummation of the Merger, including without limitation fees and disbursements of counsel, financial advisors and accountants incurred by the parties hereto, shall be borne solely and entirely by the party which has incurred such costs and expenses.

11.3 Notices. All notices and other communications which by any provision of this Agreement are required or permitted to be given shall be given in writing and shall be deemed to have been delivered (a) three (3) days after being mailed by first-class or express mail, postage prepaid, (b) the next day when sent overnight by recognized courier service, (c) upon confirmation when sent by telex, telegram, telecopy or other form of rapid transmission, confirmed by mailing (by first class or express mail, postage prepaid, or by recognized courier service) written confirmation at substantially the same time as such rapid transmission, or (d) upon delivery when personally delivered to the receiving party (which if other than an individual shall be an officer or other responsible party of the receiving party). or to such other person(s), telex or facsimile number(s) or address(es) as the party to receive any such communication or notice may have designated by written notice to the other party.

11.4 Specific Performance; Other Rights and Remedies. Each party recognizes and agrees that in the event the other party should refuse to perform any of its obligations under this Agreement or any Collateral Document, the remedy at law would be inadequate and agrees that for breach of such provisions, each party shall, in addition to such other remedies as may be available to it at law or in equity or as provided in Section 9.2(b) or Article 10, be entitled to injunctive relief and to enforce its rights by an action for specific performance to the extent permitted by Applicable Law. Each party hereby waives any requirement for security or the posting of any bond or other surety in connection with any temporary or permanent award of injunctive, mandatory or other equitable relief. Nothing herein contained shall be construed as prohibiting each party from pursuing any other remedies available to it pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement or Applicable Law for such breach or threatened breach, including without limitation the recovery of damages, including, to the extent awarded in any Legal Action, punitive, incidental and consequential damages (including without limitation damages for diminution in value and loss of anticipated profits) or any other measure of damages permitted by Applicable Law.

11.5 Severability. If any term or provision of this Agreement shall be held or deemed to be, or shall in fact be, invalid, inoperative, illegal or unenforceable as applied to any particular case in any jurisdiction or jurisdictions, or in all jurisdictions or in all cases, because of the conflicting of any provision with any constitution or statute or rule of public policy or for any other reason, such circumstance shall not have the effect of rendering the provision or provisions in question invalid, inoperative, illegal or unenforceable in any other jurisdiction or in any other case or circumstance or of rendering any other provision or provisions herein contained invalid, inoperative, illegal or unenforceable to the extent that such other provisions are not themselves actually in conflict with such constitution, statute or rule of public policy, but this Agreement shall be reformed and construed in any such jurisdiction or case as if such invalid, inoperative, illegal or unenforceable provision had never been contained herein and such provision reformed so that it would be valid, operative and enforceable to the maximum extent permitted in such jurisdiction or in such case. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of any such determination the effect of which is to affect materially and adversely any party, the parties shall negotiate in good faith to modify this Agreement so as to effect the original intent of the parties as closely as possible to the fullest extent permitted by Applicable Law in an acceptable manner to the end that the Transactions are fulfilled and consummated to the maximum extent possible.

11.6 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in several counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument, binding upon all of the parties. In pleading or proving any provision of this Agreement, it shall not be necessary to produce more than one of such counterparts.

11.7 Section Headings. The headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not in any way affect the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement.

11.8 Governing Law. The validity, interpretation, construction and performance of this Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the applicable laws of the United States of America and the laws of the State of New York applicable to contracts made and performed in such State and, in any event, without giving effect to any choice or conflict of laws provision or rule that would cause the application of domestic substantive laws of any other jurisdiction.

11.9 Further Acts. Each party agrees that at any time, and from time to time, before and after the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, it will do all such things and execute and deliver all such Collateral Documents and other assurances, as any other party or its counsel reasonably deems necessary or desirable in order to carry out the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby or to facilitate the enjoyment of any of the rights created hereby or to be created hereunder.

11.10 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (together with the Gearon Disclosure Schedule, the Exhibits and the other Collateral Documents delivered or to be delivered in connection herewith) constitutes the entire agreement of the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior agreements, arrangements, covenants, promises, conditions, undertakings, inducements, representations, warranties and negotiations, expressed or implied, oral or written, between the parties, with respect to the subject matter hereof. Each of the parties is a sophisticated legal entity that was advised by experienced counsel and, to the extent it deemed necessary, other advisors in connection with this Agreement. Each of the parties hereby acknowledges that (a) none of the parties has relied or will rely in respect of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby upon any document or written or oral information previously furnished to or discovered by it or its representatives, other than this Agreement (or such of the foregoing as are delivered at the Closing, (b) there are no covenants or agreements by or on behalf of any party or any of its respective Affiliates or representatives other than those expressly set forth in this Agreement and the Collateral Documents, and (c) the parties' respective rights and obligations with respect to this Agreement and the events giving rise thereto will be solely as set forth in this Agreement and the Collateral Documents. WITHOUT LIMITING THE GENERALITY OF THE FOREGOING, EACH PARTY HERETO AGREES THAT, EXCEPT FOR THE REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES CONTAINED IN THIS AGREEMENT, NONE OF THE PARTIES MAKES ANY OTHER REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES,

AND EACH HEREBY DISCLAIMS ANY OTHER REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES MADE BY ITSELF OR ANY OF ITS OFFICERS, DIRECTORS, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS, FINANCIAL AND LEGAL ADVISORS OR OTHER REPRESENTATIVES, WITH RESPECT TO THE EXECUTION AND DELIVERY OF THIS AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY, NOTWITHSTANDING THE DELIVERY OR DISCLOSURE TO THE OTHER OR THE OTHER'S REPRESENTATIVES OF ANY DOCUMENTATION OR OTHER INFORMATION WITH RESPECT TO ANY ONE OR MORE OF THE FOREGOING.

11.11 Assignment. This Agreement shall not be assignable by any party and any such assignment shall be null and void, except that it shall inure to the benefit of and by binding upon any successor to any party by operation of law, including by way of merger, consolidation or sale of all or substantially all of its assets, and ATS may assign its rights and remedies hereunder to any bank or other financial institution which has loaned funds or otherwise extended credit to it.

11.12 Parties in Interest. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure solely to the benefit of each party, and nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to or shall confer upon any Person any right, benefit or remedy of any nature whatsoever under or by reason of this Agreement, except as otherwise provided in Section 11.11.

11.13 Mutual Drafting. This Agreement is the result of the joint efforts of Gearon and ATS, and each provision hereof has been subject to the mutual consultation, negotiation and agreement of the parties and there shall be no construction against any party based on any presumption of that party's involvement in the drafting thereof.

11.14 Due Diligence. Each of the parties shall have the right, during the period between the date hereof and 11:59 p.m., Eastern Standard Time, on December 1, 1997 (the "Due Diligence Period") (a) to continue their respective due diligence investigation of the other party and (b) to give notice to the other party that it is terminating this Agreement because such due diligence investigation has indicated that (i) a material adverse change in the other party has occurred of which the terminating party was unaware as of the date of this Agreement, (ii) a material breach of the representations and warranties of the other party has occurred of which the terminating party was unaware as of the date of this Agreement and the terminating party reasonably believes that such breach is not capable of being cured by the Termination Date, or (iii) in the case of ATS and ATSI, as the terminating party, ATS has reasonably determined that the Operating Cash Flow of Gearon for the quarter ending December 31, 1997 set forth in the financial projection included in Section 11.14 of the Gearon Disclosure Schedule is not likely to be achieved and the amount of such negative variance is reasonably likely to exceed 5 percent (5%); provided, however, that such negative variance shall not give rise to a termination right pursuant to the provisions of this Section if the amount of such variance is reasonably likely to be recouped in all material respects on or prior to March 31, 1998. In the event of any such termination, the terminating party shall give the other party written notice thereof prior to the expiration of the Due Diligence Period and, thereafter, the parties shall negotiate in good faith to determine the validity of the grounds of such termination and, if necessary, an adjustment in the Merger Consideration. If the parties are unable within ten (10) business days following the giving of any such termination notice to resolve their differences, either party may termination this Agreement, whereupon it shall become void, there shall be no liability on the part of any party, or any of their respective shareholders, officers or directors, to the other and all rights and obligations of any party shall cease; provided, however, that such termination shall not relieve any party from liability for any misrepresentation or breach of any of its warranties, covenants or agreements set forth in this Agreement.

(ii) with respect to the Gearon Stockholder and The 1997 Gearon Family Trust, (A) 4,240,002 and 471,111 shares, respectively, of ATS Class A Common Stock (being a number of shares of ATS Class A Common Stock with an agreed upon fair market value of $42,400,000 based on an agreed upon per share value of the ATS Class A Common Stock of $9.00, which ATS represents is not more than the price per share at which shares are to be sold pursuant to the ATS Private Placement) (the "Gearon Common Stock Consideration"), and (B) $28.8 million and $3.2 million, respectively, in immediately available funds (the "Cash Consideration" and collectively, with the Gearon Common Stock Consideration, the "Merger Consideration" which term shall include any adjustment pursuant to the provisions of this Section).

Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Cash Consideration shall be (i) increased by an amount equal to the Net Working Capital of Gearon (if positive) on and as of the Closing Date, and (ii) decreased by an amount equal to the Net Working Capital of Gearon (if negative) on and as of the Closing Date. The term "Exchange Merger Consideration" shall mean an amount equal to the Gearon Employees Consideration or the Merger Consideration, as the case may be, divided by the aggregate number of shares of Gearon Common Stock (the "Gearon Shares") issued and outstanding at the Effective Time and held of record at the Effective Time by the Persons (x) named in paragraph (i), in the case of the Gearon Employees Consideration, and (y) named in paragraph (ii), in the case of the Gearon Common Stock Consideration and the Cash Consideration.

At the Effective Time, all Gearon Shares shall no longer be outstanding and shall automatically be canceled and retired and shall cease to exist, and certificates previously evidencing any such Gearon Shares (each, a "Certificate") shall thereafter represent the right to receive, upon the surrender of such Certificate in accordance with the provisions of Section 3.2, the Exchange Merger Consideration multiplied by the number of Gearon Shares represented by such Certificate, and a holder of more than one Certificate shall have the right to receive the Exchange Merger Consideration multiplied by the number of Gearon Shares represented by all such Certificates. In lieu of issuing fractional shares, ATS shall convert the holder's right to receive ATS Class A Common Stock pursuant to the provisions of this Section into a right to receive the highest whole number of shares of ATS Class A Common Stock constituting the Exchange Merger Consideration plus cash equal to the fraction of a share of ATS Class A Common Stock to which the holder would otherwise be entitled multiplied by $9.00, and the Exchange Merger Consideration to which a holder is entitled shall be deemed to be such number of shares of ATS Class A Common Stock, the Cash Consideration and such cash. The holders of such Certificates previously evidencing Gearon Shares outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall cease to have any rights with respect to such Gearon Shares, except as otherwise provided herein or by Applicable Law. "

"Gearon shall have the meaning given to it in the Preamble and shall include CTI, unless the context otherwise implies."

3. All references in the Merger Agreement and each Collateral Document to "American Tower Systems, Inc." are hereby deleted and replaced by the name "American Tower Systems (Delaware), Inc.," and all references to "ATSI" in the Merger Agreement and each Collateral Document shall be deemed to refer to American Tower Systems (Delaware), Inc.

4. Each of ATS, ATSI, Gearon and the Gearon Stockholder represents and warrants that all requisite corporate and other action necessary for the valid execution and delivery of this Amendment No. 1 has been duly and effectively taken.

5. Each capitalized term used herein without definition shall have the same meaning herein as is given to such term in the Merger Agreement.

6. The Merger Agreement as amended hereby is ratified and confirmed in all respects and shall continue in full force and effect.

7. This Amendment No. 1 may be executed in one or more counterparts, and by the different Parties hereto in separate counterparts, each of which when executed shall be deemed to be an original but all of which taken together shall constitute one and the same agreement.

AGREEMENT AND PLAN OF MERGER

Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated as of December 12, 1997, by and among American Tower Systems Corporation, a Delaware corporation ("ATS"), and American Tower Corporation, a Delaware corporation ("ATC").

W I T N E S S E T H:

WHEREAS, the Boards of Directors of ATC and ATS have determined that the merger (the "Merger") of ATC into ATS on the terms and conditions set forth in this Agreement and Plan of Merger (this "Agreement") is consistent with and in furtherance of the long-term business strategy of each, and is fair to, and in the best interests of, ATS, ATC and the stockholders of each; and

WHEREAS, this Agreement provides that ATC shall be merged with and into ATS, and ATS shall be the surviving corporation; and

WHEREAS, the Boards of Directors of ATC and ATS have approved and adopted this Agreement and have directed that this Agreement be submitted to the stockholders of ATC and ATS, respectively, for their adoption and approval; and

WHEREAS, the Board of Directors of American Radio Systems Corporation, a Delaware corporation ("ARS"), has approved and adopted this Agreement and approved the Merger on behalf of ARS as the sole stockholder of ATS;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the premises and the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements herein contained and other valuable consideration, the receipt and adequacy whereof are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto hereby, intending to be legally bound, represent, warrant, covenant and agree as follows:

DEFINED TERMS

As used herein, unless the context otherwise requires, the terms defined in Appendix A shall have the respective meanings set forth therein. Terms defined in the singular shall have a comparable meaning when used in the plural, and vice versa, and the reference to any gender shall be deemed to include all genders. Unless otherwise defined or the context otherwise clearly requires, terms for which meanings are provided in this Agreement shall have such meanings when used in the ATC Disclosure Schedule, the ATS Disclosure Schedule and each Collateral Document executed pursuant hereto or thereto or otherwise delivered pursuant hereto or thereto. References to "hereof," "herein" or similar terms are intended to refer to the Agreement as a whole and not a particular section, and references to "this Section" or "this Article" are intended to refer to the entire section or article and not a particular subsection thereof.

THE MERGER

2.1 The Merger. Upon the terms and subject to the conditions set forth in this Agreement, and in accordance with the Delaware General Corporation Law (the "DCL"), ATC shall be merged with and into ATS. As a result of the Merger, the separate corporate existence of ATC shall cease and ATS shall continue as the surviving corporation in the Merger (sometimes referred to, as such, as the "Surviving Corporation").

2.2 Closing. Unless this Agreement shall have been terminated pursuant to Section 8.1 and subject to the satisfaction or, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law, waiver of the conditions set forth in Article 7, the closing of the Merger (the "Closing") will take place, at 10:00 a.m., on the Closing Date, at the offices of Sullivan & Worcester LLP, One Post Office Square, Boston, Massachusetts 02109, on the date on which the Tower Distribution occurs (whether by reason of the CBS Merger or otherwise), unless another date, time or place is agreed to in writing by the parties. The date on which the Closing occurs is herein referred to as the "Closing Date."

2.3 Effective Time. Subject to the provisions of this Agreement, as promptly as practicable after the Closing, the parties hereto shall cause the Merger to be consummated by filing a Certificate of Merger in the form attached hereto as Exhibit A and made a part hereof (the "Certificate of Merger") and any related filings required under the DCL with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware. The Merger shall become effective at such time as such documents are duly filed as aforesaid, or at such later time as is specified in such documents (the "Effective Time").

2.4 Effect of the Merger. The Merger shall have the effects provided for under the DCL.

2.5 Certificate of Incorporation. Subject to the consummation of the Merger, ATS shall file with the Secretary of State of the State of Delaware an Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation, in the form attached hereto as Exhibit B-1 and made a part hereof (the "ATS Existing Restated Certificate"), as amended to incorporate the principles set forth on Exhibit B-2 and made a part hereof, which principles will be incorporated in an Amended and Restated Certificate of Incorporation of ATS (the "ATS Restated Certificate") and which principles will control over any provision in the Existing ATS Restated Certificate, which shall be the Certificate of Incorporation of the Surviving Corporation until thereafter changed or amended as provided therein or by Applicable Law.

2.6 Bylaws. The bylaws of ATS in the form included as part of Section 2.5 of the ATS Disclosure Schedule modified to reflect the change of ATS' name to "American Tower Corporation" shall be the bylaws of the Surviving Corporation until amended in accordance with Applicable Law and the Organic Documents of ATS.

2.7 Directors and Officers. From and after the Effective Time, until successors are duly elected or appointed and qualified, or upon their earlier resignation or removal, in accordance with Applicable Law and the Organic Documents of ATS, (a) the directors of ATS at the Effective Time shall be the directors of the Surviving Corporation and Fred. R. Lummis and Randall Mays, and (b) the officers of ATS at the Effective Time shall be the officers of the Surviving Corporation.

ARTICLE 3

CONVERSION OF SHARES; EXCHANGE OF CERTIFICATES

3.1 Conversion of Capital Stock. At the Effective Time, by virtue of the Merger and without any action on the part of ATS or ATC or their respective stockholders:

(a) Each share of Common Stock, par value $.01 per share, of ATS (the "ATS Common Stock") issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall remain outstanding.

(b) Each share (each, an "ATC Share" and collectively the "ATC Shares") of Class A Common Stock, par value $.01 per share, of ATC and Class B Common Stock, par value $.01 per share, of ATC (collectively for both such classes, the "ATC Common Stock") issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time (other than Dissenting Shares) shall, by virtue of the Merger and without any action on the part of the holder thereof, be converted into the right to receive the number of shares (the "Merger Consideration") of Class A Common Stock, par value $.01 per share, of ATS (the "ATS Class A Common Stock") obtained by dividing the Aggregate Merger Shares by the number of shares of ATC Common Stock determined on a Fully-Diluted Basis immediately prior to the Effective Time (the "Exchange Ratio"). The parties acknowledge that the Exchange Ratio has been determined to give the ATC stockholders (assuming there are no Dissenting Shares) in the aggregate shares of ATS Class A Common Stock representing 35% of the Surviving Corporation's outstanding common stock determined on a Fully-Diluted Basis.

(c) Each share of ATC Common Stock owned by ATS or any of its Subsidiaries or ATC or any of its Subsidiaries immediately prior to the Effective Time shall automatically be canceled and extinguished without any conversion thereof and no payment shall be made with respect thereto.

(d) Each share of Senior Preferred Stock, par value $.01 per share, of ATC (the "ATC Preferred Stock"), issued and outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall, by virtue of the Merger and without any action on the part of the holder thereof, be converted into the right to receive cash or other immediately available funds in the amount of $200.00 (the "Preferred Stock Merger Consideration").

In the event either the Gearon Transaction or the ATS Private Placement has not been consummated prior to the Effective Time, the parties hereto will negotiate in good faith to determine the net effect, if any, of the failure to so consummate either or both of the foregoing on the enterprise value of ATS. If the parties agree that the net effect of the failure of either or both of the Gearon Transaction and the ATS Private Placement to occur is a reduction in the ATS enterprise value, the parties shall also determine an appropriate adjustment of the number of Aggregate Merger Shares so that the Aggregate Merger Shares, as adjusted, constitute a higher percentage to reflect the relative enterprise values of ATS and ATC. The parties shall negotiate in good faith for fifteen (15) days following the request by either party to do so. Any mater not resolved within such fifteen (15)-day period shall be submitted to a nationally recognized, independent investment banking firm selected by agreement of the parties hereto. Within five (5) days after the selection of such firm, ATC and ATS shall each submit to such firm and the other its calculation of its proposed adjustment, together with its methodology. The parties shall instruct such to render a final and binding decision by selecting one of the two submitted adjustment proposals that more fairly represents, in the opinion of such firm, the adjustment required by reason of the enterprise reductions solely attributable to the items set forth above. The investment banking firm shall not have any discretion to select an adjustment other than one of the two proposed. The parties shall instruct such firm to render its decision within fifteen (15) days after submission of the adjust. Each party shall cooperate in all reasonable respects with such firm in making its determination. The Termination Date shall be extended to allow for the foregoing discussions for the later of the fifteen (15)-day period the parties negotiate in good faith or, if they fail to reach agreement, for the period required by the investment banking firm to render its decision.

At the Effective Time, all ATC Shares shall no longer be outstanding and shall automatically be canceled and retired and shall cease to exist, and certificates previously evidencing any such ATC Shares (each, a "Certificate") shall thereafter represent the right to receive, upon the surrender of such Certificate in accordance with the provisions of Section 3.2, the Merger Consideration multiplied by the number of ATC Shares represented by such Certificate, and a holder of more than one Certificate shall have the right to receive the Merger Consideration multiplied by the number of ATC Shares represented by all such Certificates, or, in the case of a holder of Dissenting Shares, the right to perfect the right to receive payment for Dissenting Shares pursuant to Section 262 of the DCL. In lieu of any such fractional shares, each holder of ATC Common Stock who would otherwise have been entitled to receive a fraction of a share of ATS Class A Common Stock, upon surrender of Certificates for exchange pursuant to this Article, shall be entitled to receive a cash payment equal to such fraction multiplied by the closing price per share of ATS Class A Common Stock on the Nasdaq National Market ("Nasdaq") or, if not then traded on Nasdaq, on the principal stock exchange on which the ATS Class A Common Stock is admitted to trading, as reported by the Wall Street Journal, for the first trading day immediately following the Effective Time, and the Merger Consideration to which a holder is entitled shall be deemed to be such number of shares of ATS Class A Common Stock and such cash. The holders of such Certificates previously evidencing ATC Shares outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall cease to have any rights with respect to such ATC Shares, except as otherwise provided herein or by Applicable Law.

At the Effective Time, all shares of ATC Preferred Stock shall no longer be outstanding and shall automatically be canceled and retired and shall cease to exist, and certificates previously evidencing any such shares shall thereafter represent the right to receive, upon the surrender of certificates representing such shares in accordance with the provisions of Section 3.2, the Preferred Stock Merger Consideration multiplied by the number of shares of ATC Preferred Stock represented by such certificate, and a holder of more than one certificate shall have the right to receive the Preferred Stock Merger Consideration multiplied by the number of ATC Preferred Stock represented by all such certificates. The holders of such certificates previously evidencing shares of ATC Preferred Stock outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time shall cease to have any rights with respect to such shares, except as otherwise provided herein or by Applicable Law.

3.2 Surrender of Certificates; Payment of Merger Consideration and Preferred Stock Merger Consideration. At and after the Effective Time, the Surviving Corporation shall issue to each holder of ATC Common Stock, upon surrender of each of his or its Certificates, a certificate of ATS Class A Common Stock representing the Merger Consideration with respect to the ATC Shares represented by such Certificate in accordance with the provisions of Section 3.1, plus cash in amount sufficient to make payment for fractional shares. In addition, the Surviving Corporation shall pay to each holder of ATC Preferred Stock, upon surrender of his or its stock certificate evidencing ownership of ATC Preferred Stock, in cash or immediately available funds by wire transfer to an account or accounts designated by ATC to ATS at least two (2) Business Days prior to the Closing, the sum of $200.00 multiplied by the number of shares of ATC Preferred Stock evidenced by such certificate. In the event any ATC stockholder has not delivered the certificate referred to in Section 6.28, the Surviving Corporation shall be entitled to withhold from delivery certificates for the ATS Class A Common Stock to which such stockholder would otherwise be entitled, a number of shares of ATS

Class A Common Stock required to enable the Surviving Corporation to comply with the applicable provisions of the Code.

3.3 Stock Transfer Books. At the Effective Time, the stock transfer books of ATC shall be closed, and there shall be no further transfer of shares of ATC Common Stock or ATC Preferred Stock thereafter on the records of ATC. Any Certificates representing ATC Shares or certificates representing shares of ATC Preferred Stock presented after the Effective Time for transfer shall be canceled and exchanged for the amount to which the ATC Shares or shares of ATC Preferred Stock represented thereby shall be entitled pursuant to Sections 3.1 and 3.2.

3.4 Dissenting Shares.

(a) Notwithstanding any other provision of this Agreement to the contrary, shares of ATC Common Stock that are outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time and which are held by ATC stockholders who shall have not voted in favor of the Merger or consented thereto in writing and who shall be entitled to and shall have demanded properly in writing appraisal rights for such shares of ATC Common Stock in accordance with Section 262 of the DCL and who shall not have withdrawn such demand or otherwise have forfeited appraisal rights (collectively, the "Dissenting Shares"), shall not be converted into or represent the right to receive the Merger Consideration payable in respect of each share of ATC Common Stock represented thereby. Such ATC stockholders shall be entitled to receive payment of the appraised value of such shares of ATC Common Stock held by them in accordance with the provisions of the DCL; provided, however, that all Dissenting Shares held by ATC stockholders who shall have failed to perfect or who effectively shall have withdrawn, forfeited or lost their appraisal rights with respect to such shares of ATC Common Stock under the DCL shall thereupon be deemed to have been converted into and to have become exchangeable for, as of the Effective Time, the right to receive, without any interest thereon, the Merger Consideration upon surrender, in the manner provided in Section 3.2, of the Certificates with respect to such shares.

(b) ATC shall give ATS prompt notice of any demands for appraisal rights received by it, withdrawals of such demands, and any other instruments served pursuant to the DCL and received by ATC and relating thereto. ATC shall give ATS the opportunity to direct all negotiations and proceedings with respect to demands for appraisal rights under the provisions of the DCL. ATC shall not, except with the prior written consent of ATS, make any payment with respect to any demands for appraisal rights, or offer to settle, or settle, any such demands.

3.5 Option Securities and Convertible Securities; Payment Rights. At the Effective Time, subject to the provisions of Section 6.10, each outstanding Option Security and each Convertible Security of ATC, if any, whether or not then exercisable for or convertible into ATC Shares or other ATC securities, outstanding immediately prior to the Effective Time, shall be canceled and retired and shall cease to exist, and the holder thereof shall not be entitled to receive any consideration therefor.

REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES OF ATC

ATC hereby represents and warrants to ATS as follows (it being understood and agreed by the parties that, except as the context otherwise requires, the representations and warranties of ATC set forth in this Article shall apply to each of its Subsidiaries with the same force and effect as though each of them were named in each Section hereof):

4.1 Organization and Business; Power and Authority; Effect of Transaction.

(a) ATC is a corporation duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of its jurisdiction of organization, has all requisite power and authority (corporate and other) to own or hold under lease its properties and to conduct its business as now conducted and is duly qualified and in good standing as a foreign corporation in each other jurisdiction (as shown on Section 4.1(a) of the ATC Disclosure Schedule) in which the character of the property owned or leased by it or the nature of its business or operations requires such qualification, except for such qualifications the failure of which to obtain, individually or in the aggregate, would not have a Material Adverse Effect on ATC.

(b) ATC has all requisite power and authority (corporate and other) and has in full force and effect all Governmental Authorizations and Private Authorizations necessary to enable it to execute and deliver, and to perform its obligations under, this Agreement and each Collateral Document executed or required to be executed by it pursuant hereto or thereto and to consummate the Transactions to which ATC is a party; and the execution, delivery and performance of this Agreement and each Collateral Document executed or required to be executed by it pursuant hereto or thereto have been duly authorized by all requisite corporate or other action on the part of ATC, other than the approval of the stockholders of ATC, and no other corporate proceedings on the part of ATC are necessary to authorize this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby or to consummate the Merger or the other transactions so contemplated (other than, with respect to the Merger, the ATC Required Vote). This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by ATC and constitutes, and each Collateral Document executed or required to be executed by it pursuant hereto or thereto or to consummate the Transactions when executed and delivered by ATC will constitute, legal, valid and binding obligations of ATC, enforceable in accordance with their respective terms, except as such enforceability may be subject to bankruptcy, moratorium, insolvency, reorganization, arrangement, voidable preference, fraudulent conveyance and other similar laws relating to or affecting the rights of creditors and except as the same may be subject to the effect of general principles of equity. The provisions of Section 203 of the DCL will not apply to ATC by reason of this Agreement or the Merger. As of the date hereof, the Board of Directors of ATC, at a meeting duly called and held at which a quorum was present throughout, has approved the Merger and this Agreement, and has recommended that the ATC stockholders approve and adopt this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby, including without limitation the Merger and the ATC Voting Agreement and the acquisition by ATS of the "beneficial" ownership contemplated thereby.

(c) Except as set forth in Section 4.1(c) of the ATC Disclosure Schedule, neither the execution and delivery by ATC of this Agreement or any Collateral Document executed or required to be executed by it pursuant hereto or thereto, nor the consummation of the Transactions by ATC, nor compliance with the terms, conditions and provisions hereof or thereof by ATC:

(i) will conflict with, or result in a breach or violation of, or constitute a default under, any Organic Document of ATC or any Applicable Law, or will conflict with, or result in a breach or violation of, or constitute a default under, or permit the acceleration of any obligation or liability in, or but for any requirement of giving of notice or passage of time or both would constitute such a conflict with, breach or violation of, or default under, or permit any such acceleration in, any Material Agreement of ATC; or

(ii) will require ATC to make or obtain any Governmental Authorization, Governmental Filing or Private Authorization including without limitation under the FCA, except as required by the Hart-Scott-Rodino Act and other than any of the foregoing that have been obtained.

(d) Except as set forth in Section 4.1(d) of the ATC Disclosure Schedule, ATC does not have any Subsidiaries, each of which is (i) wholly-owned unless noted otherwise in Section 4.1(d) of the ATC Disclosure Schedule, (ii) a corporation which is duly organized, validly existing and in good standing under the laws of the respective state of incorporation set forth opposite its name on Section 4.1(d) of the ATC Disclosure Schedule, and (iii) duly qualified and in good standing as a foreign corporation in each other jurisdiction (as shown on Section 4.1(d) of the ATC Disclosure Schedule) in which the character of the property owned or leased by it or the nature of its business or operations requires such qualification, with full power and authority (corporate and other) to carry on the business in which it is engaged, except for such qualifications the failure of which to obtain, individually or in the aggregate, would not have a Material Adverse Effect on ATC. ATC owns, directly or indirectly, all of the outstanding capital stock and equity interests (as shown in Section 4.1(d) of the ATC Disclosure Schedule) of each Subsidiary, free and clear of all Liens (except for Permitted Liens or except as described in the notes to the ATC Financial Statements or set forth in Section 4.1(d) of the ATC Disclosure Schedule), and all such stock or other equity interests has been duly authorized and validly issued and is fully paid and nonassessable. There are no outstanding Option Securities or Convertible Securities, or agreements or understandings of any nature whatsoever, relating to the authorized and unissued or outstanding capital stock or equity interests of any Subsidiary of ATC.

4.2 Financial and Other Information. The financial statements of ATC, furnished by ATC, and included in the ATS Information Statement (the "ATC Financial Statements"), including in each case the notes thereto, have been prepared in accordance with GAAP applied on a consistent basis throughout the periods covered thereby, except as otherwise noted therein or as set forth in Section 4.2 of the ATC Disclosure Schedule, and fairly present in all material respects the financial condition and the results of operations and cash flow of ATC, on the bases therein stated, as of the respective dates thereof, and for the respective periods covered thereby subject, in the case of unaudited financial statements, to normal nonmaterial year-end audit adjustments and accruals.

4.3 Material Statements and Omissions; Absence of Events. Neither any representation or warranty made by ATC contained in this Agreement or any certificate, document or other instrument or other information furnished or to be furnished by ATC pursuant to the provisions hereof (including without limitation information with respect to ATC furnished for inclusion in the ATS Prospectus and the ATS Registration Statement) nor the ATC Disclosure Schedule or the ATC Business Description contains or will contain any untrue statement of a material fact or omits or will omit to state any material fact required to make any statement contained herein or therein, in light of the circumstances under which they were made, not misleading; provided, however, that to the extent that any such information contains any financial projections, ATC represents and warrants only that such projections have been prepared in good faith on the basis of the ATC Financial Statements and other information and assumptions which ATC believes to be reasonable. Since the date of the most recent financial statements constituting a part of the ATC Financial Statements, except to the extent specifically described in Section 4.3 of the ATC Disclosure Schedule, there has been no change in ATC which has had a Material Adverse Effect on ATC. There is no Event known to ATC which has had, or (so far as ATC can now reasonably foresee) is likely to have, a Material Adverse Effect on ATC, except to the extent specifically described in Section 4.3 of the ATC Disclosure Schedule and except for matters affecting the tower rental, ownership and construction industry generally, including without limitation competition, regulation and resources or events arising out of the execution or public announcement of this Agreement.

4.4 Title to Properties; Leases.

(a) ATC has, to ATC's knowledge, good and indefeasible title to all of its real property (other than leasehold real property) and good title to all of its other assets (other than real property), tangible and intangible (the "ATC Assets"); all of such real property and other assets are so owned, in each case, free and clear of all Liens, except (i) Permitted Liens, and (ii) Liens described in the notes to the ATC Financial Statements or set forth on Section 4.4(a) of the ATC Disclosure Schedule. Except for financing statements evidencing Liens referred to in the preceding sentence, no financing statements under the Uniform Commercial Code and no other filing which names ATC as debtor or which covers or purports to cover any of the ATC Assets is on file in any state or other jurisdiction, and ATC has not signed or agreed to sign any such financing statement or filing or any agreement authorizing any secured party thereunder to file any such financing statement or filing. Except as disclosed in Section 4.4(a) of the ATC Disclosure Schedule, all improvements on the real property owned or leased by ATC are, to ATC's knowledge, in compliance with applicable zoning, wetlands and land use laws, ordinances and regulations and applicable title covenants, conditions, restrictions and reservations in all respects necessary to conduct the operations as presently conducted, except for any instances of non-compliance which do not and will not in the aggregate have a Material Adverse Effect on ATC. Except as described in the notes to the ATC Financial Statements or disclosed in Section 4.4(a) of the ATC Disclosure Statement, all such improvements comply with all Applicable Laws, ATC Governmental Authorizations and ATC Private Authorizations, except where noncompliance is not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on ATC. There is no pending or, to ATC's knowledge, threatened or contemplated action to take by eminent domain or otherwise to condemn any part of any real property constituting a material portion of the real property owned by ATC or, to ATC's knowledge, any real property leased by ATC. Except as described in the notes to the ATC Financial Statements or set forth in Section 4.4(a) of the ATC Disclosure Schedule, such real property (other than land), fixtures, fixed assets and other material items of personal property, including equipment, have, in ATC's reasonable business judgment, been maintained in a manner consistent with customary industry practices and currently permit the business of ATC (the "ATC Business") to be operated in all material respects in accordance with the terms and conditions of all Applicable Laws, ATC Governmental Authorizations and ATC Private Authorizations.

(b) Each Lease or other occupancy or other agreement under which ATC holds real or personal property constituting a part of the ATC Assets has been duly authorized, executed and delivered by or assigned to ATC and, to ATC's knowledge, each of the other parties thereto, and is a legal, valid and binding obligation of ATC, and, to ATC's knowledge, each of the other parties thereto, enforceable in accordance with its terms, except as such enforceability may be limited by bankruptcy, moratorium, insolvency and similar laws affecting the rights and remedies of creditors and obligations of debtors generally and by general principles of equity , and except for such exceptions to the foregoing as, individually or in the aggregate, have not had and will not have any Material Adverse Effect on ATC. ATC has a valid leasehold interest in and enjoys peaceful and undisturbed possession under all Leases pursuant to which it holds any such real property or tangible personal property, subject to the terms of each such Lease and Applicable Law and except for such exceptions to the foregoing as, individually or in the aggregate, have not had and will not have any Material Adverse Effect on ATC. All of such Leases are valid and subsisting and in full force and effect, and neither ATC nor, to ATC's knowledge, any other party thereto, is in material default in the performance, observance or fulfillment of any obligation, covenant or condition contained in any such Lease, except for such exceptions to the foregoing as, individually or in the aggregate, have not had and will not have any Material Adverse Effect on ATC.

4.5 Compliance with Private Authorizations. ATC has obtained all Private Authorizations (collectively, the "ATC Private Authorizations") which are necessary for the ownership or operation of the ATC Assets or the conduct of the ATC Business which, if not obtained and maintained, could, individually or in the aggregate, be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on ATC. All of the ATC Private Authorizations are valid and in good standing and are in full force and effect, except for such exceptions as are not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on ATC. ATC is not in breach or violation of, or in default in the performance, observance or fulfillment of, any ATC Private Authorization, and no Event exists or has occurred, which constitutes, or but for any requirement of giving of notice or passage of time or both would constitute, such a breach, violation or default, under any ATC Private Authorization, except for such defaults, breaches or violations as do not and are not reasonably likely to have in the aggregate a Material Adverse Effect on ATC. No ATC Private Authorization is the subject of any pending or, to ATC's knowledge, threatened attack, revocation or termination, except for such exceptions as are not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on ATC.

4.6 Compliance with Governmental Authorizations and Applicable Law.

(a) ATC has obtained all Governmental Authorizations (collectively, the "ATC Governmental Authorizations") which are necessary for the ownership or operation of the ATC Assets or the conduct of the ATC Business as now conducted and which, if not obtained and maintained, would, individually or in the aggregate, have any Material Adverse Effect on ATC. None of the ATC Governmental Authorizations is subject to any restriction or condition which would limit in a material respect the ownership or operations of the ATC Assets or the conduct of the ATC Business as currently conducted, except for restrictions and conditions generally applicable to ATC Governmental Authorizations of such type. The ATC Governmental Authorizations are valid and in good standing, are in full force and effect and are not impaired by any act or omission of ATC or its officers, directors, employees or agents, and the ownership or operation of the ATC Assets or the conduct of the ATC Business are in accordance with the ATC Governmental Authorizations, except for such exceptions to the foregoing as, individually or in the aggregate, have not had and will not have any Material Adverse Effect on ATC. All material reports, forms and statements required to be filed by ATC with all Authorities with respect to the ATC Business have been filed and are true, complete and accurate in all material respects. Except as disclosed in Section 5.4(a) of the ATS Disclosure Statement, all such improvements comply with all Applicable Laws, ATS Governmental Authorizations and ATS Private Authorizations, except where noncompliance is not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on ATS. There is no pending or, to ATS' knowledge, threatened or contemplated action to take by eminent domain or otherwise to condemn any part of any real property constituting a material portion of the real property owned by ATS or, to ATS' knowledge, any real property leased by ATS. All of the ATS Private Authorizations are valid and in good standing and are in full force and effect, except for such exceptions as are not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on ATS. ATS is not in breach or violation of, or in default in the performance, observance or fulfillment of, any ATS Private Authorization, and no Event exists or has occurred, which constitutes, or but for any requirement of giving of notice or passage of time or both would constitute, such a breach, violation or default, under any ATS Private Authorization, except for such defaults, breaches or violations as do not and are not reasonably likely to have in the aggregate a Material Adverse Effect on ATS. No ATS Private Authorization is the subject of any pending or, to ATS' knowledge, threatened attack, revocation or termination, except for such exceptions as are not reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on ATS.

5.6 Compliance with Governmental Authorizations and Applicable Law.

(a) ATS has obtained all Governmental Authorizations (collectively, the "ATS Governmental Authorizations") which are necessary for the ownership or operation of the ATS Assets or the conduct of the ATS Business as now conducted and which, if not obtained and maintained, would, individually or in the aggregate, have any Material Adverse Effect on ATS. None of the ATS Governmental Authorizations is subject to any restriction or condition which would limit in a material respect the ownership or operations of the ATS Assets or the conduct of the ATS Business as currently conducted, except for restrictions and conditions generally applicable to ATS Governmental Authorizations of such type. The ATS Governmental Authorizations are valid and in good standing, are in full force and effect and are not impaired by any act or omission of ATS or its officers, directors, employees or agents, and the ownership or operation of the ATS Assets or the conduct of the ATS Business are in accordance with the ATS Governmental Authorizations, except for such exceptions to the foregoing as, individually or in the aggregate, have not had and will not have any Material Adverse Effect on ATS. All material reports, forms and statements required to be filed by ATS with all Authorities with respect to the ATS Business have been filed and are true, complete and accurate in all material respects. No ATS Governmental Authorization is the subject of any pending or, to ATS' knowledge, threatened challenge or proceeding to revoke or terminate any ATS Governmental Authorization which, if revoked or terminated, would have a Material Adverse Effect on ATS.

(b) ATS is in compliance with all Applicable Laws, except where such noncompliance, individually or in the aggregate, has not had and is not reasonably like to have a Material Adverse Effect on ATS. Except as set forth in Section 5.6(b) of the ATS Disclosure Schedule, there are no

5.7 Intangible Assets. Except as set forth in Section 5.7 of the ATS Disclosure Schedule, no Intangible Assets (except ATS Governmental Authorizations and ATS Private Authorizations) are required for the ownership or operation of the ATS Assets or the conduct of the ATS Business as currently owned, operated and conducted, except for such exceptions to the foregoing as, individually or in the aggregate, have not had and will not have any Material Adverse Effect on ATS. ATS does not, to its knowledge, wrongfully infringe upon or unlawfully use any Intangible Assets owned or claimed by another, and ATS has not received any notice of any claim or infringement relating to any such Intangible Asset, except for such exceptions to the foregoing as, individually or in the aggregate, have not had and will not have any Material Adverse Effect on ATS.

5.8 Related Transactions. ATS is not a party or subject to any material Contractual Obligation relating to the ownership or operation of the ATS Assets or the conduct of the ATS Business between ATS and any of its officers, directors or stockholders or, to the knowledge of ATS, any Affiliate of any thereof, including without limitation any Contractual Obligation providing for the furnishing of services to or by, providing for rental of property, real, personal or mixed, to or from, or providing for the lending or borrowing of money to or from or otherwise requiring payments to or from, any such Person, other than (i) Employment Arrangements listed or described in Section 5.13 of the ATS Disclosure Schedule, (ii) Contractual Obligations between ATS and any of its directors, stockholders or officers or any Affiliate of any of the foregoing, which are on arms' length terms and conditions, (iii) as specifically set forth in Section 5.8 of the ATS Disclosure Schedule; provided, however, that the foregoing representation and warranty shall not apply to the fact that prior to the consummation of the CBS Merger, all administrative, accounting, corporate, data processing and other informational, financial, human resources services, legal and other support services will have been provided by ARS to ATS and without which services ATS could not operate in the ordinary course of business. Following consummation of the Merger, a sufficient number of the individuals presently providing such services to ATS on behalf of ARS will continue to be available to provide services consistent with past practice to ATS so that ATS will be able to operate in the ordinary course of business.

5.9 Insurance. ATS maintains, with respect to the ATS Assets and the ATS Business, policies of fire and extended coverage and casualty, liability and other forms of insurance in such amounts and against such risks and losses as are customary for companies engaged in similar businesses.

The Tax Returns of ATS have been prepared in all material respects in accordance with all Applicable Laws. All Taxes which ATS is required by law to withhold and collect have been duly withheld and collected, and have been paid over, in a timely manner, to the proper Authorities to the extent due and payable. ATS has not executed any waiver to extend, or otherwise taken or failed to take any action that would have the effect of extending, the applicable statute of limitations in respect of any Tax liabilities of ATS for the fiscal years prior to and including the most recent fiscal year. ATS is not a "consenting corporation" within the meaning of Section 341(f) of the Code.

ATS has at all times been taxable as a Subchapter C corporation under the Code, and has never been a member of any consolidated group for Tax purposes, except as a member of the consolidated group with ARS and all of its Subsidiaries which can be consolidated for Federal income tax purposes.

(iv) all material contributions to, and material payments from, the Plans and Benefit Arrangements that may have been required to be made in accordance with the terms of the Plans and Benefit Arrangements, and any applicable collective bargaining agreement, have been made. All such contributions to, and payments from, the Plans and Benefit Arrangements, except those payments to be made from a trust qualified under Section 401(a) of the Code, for any period ending before the Closing Date that are not yet, but will be, required to be made, will be properly accrued and reflected on the financial books and records of ATS;

(v) No act, omission or transaction has occurred which would result in imposition on ATS of (A) any breach of fiduciary duty liability damages under Section 409 of ERISA, (B) a civil penalty assessed pursuant to subsections (c), (i) or (l) of Section 502 of ERISA or (C) a tax imposed pursuant to Chapter 43 of Subtitle D of the Code;

(vi) ATS has not incurred any material liability to a Plan (other than for contributions not yet due) which liability has not been fully paid or accrued for payment as of the date hereof;

(vii) except as otherwise contemplated by this Agreement or the ATS Disclosure Schedule, no current or former employee of ATS will be entitled to any additional benefits or any acceleration of the time of payment or vesting of any benefits under any Plan or Benefit Arrangement as a result of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement;

(viii) no compensation payable by ATS to any of its employees under any existing Plan, Benefit Arrangement (including by reason of the transactions contemplated hereby) will be subject to disallowance under Section 162(m) of the Code;

(x) all such Plans maintained by ATS that are intended to comply with Sections 401 and 501 of the Code comply in all material respects with all applicable requirements of such sections, and no Event has occurred which is known to ATS which will give rise to disqualification of any such Plan under such sections or to a tax under Section 511 of the Code and each such Plan has been the subject of a determination letter from the Internal Revenue Service to the effect that such Plan and related trust is qualified and exempt from Federal income Taxes under Sections 401(a) and 501(a), respectively, of the Code; no such determination letter has been revoked, and, to the knowledge of ATS, revocation has not been threatened. ATS has delivered or made available to ATC a copy of the most recent determination letter received with respect to each Plan for which such a letter has been issued, as well as a copy of any pending application for a determination letter. ATS has also provided or made available to ATC a list of all Plan amendments as to which a favorable determination letter has not yet been received;

(xi) no Plan which is an employee stock ownership plan (an "ESOP") constitutes a leveraged employee stock ownership plan within the meaning of Section 4975(e)(7) of the Code and there are no unallocated shares of stock of ATS currently held under any such ESOP in a suspense account; and

(xii) there are no outstanding options (or contractual obligations to issue options) to acquire ATS Common Stock or other ATS securities other than options held by employees or directors of ATS and issued under Benefit Arrangements (the aggregate number of which are as set forth in Section 5.11(a) of the ATS Disclosure Schedule).

5.12 Absence of Sensitive Payments. Neither ATS nor, to ATS' knowledge, any of its officers, directors, employees, agents or other representatives, has with respect to the ATS Assets or the ATS Business (a) made any contributions, payments or gifts to or for the private use of any governmental official, employee or agent where either the payment or the purpose of such contribution, payment or gift is illegal under the laws of the United States or the jurisdiction in which made or (b) established or maintained any unrecorded fund or asset for any illegal purpose or made any false or artificial entries on its books.

5.13 Employment Arrangements. ATS has no obligation or liability, contingent or other, under any Employment Arrangement with any employee of ATS or any of its Subsidiaries (the "ATS Employees"), other than (i) those listed or described in Section 5.11(a) or Section 5.13 of the ATS Disclosure Schedule, (ii) those incurred in the ordinary and usual course of business, or (iii) such obligations or liabilities as do not and will not have, in the aggregate, any Material Adverse Effect on ATS. True, accurate and complete copies of each of such Material Agreements have been made available by ATS to ATC. All of such Material Agreements are valid, binding and legally enforceable obligations of ATS, except as such enforceability may be limited by bankruptcy, moratorium, insolvency and similar laws affecting the rights and remedies of creditors and obligations of debtors generally and by general principles of equity. ATS has complied with all of the material terms and conditions of each such Material Agreement and has not done or performed, or failed to do or perform (and there is no pending or, to the knowledge of ATS, threatened in writing Claim with which ATS has not so complied, done and performed or failed to do and perform) any act which would invalidate or provide grounds for the other party thereto to terminate (with or without notice, passage of time or both) such Material Agreement or impair the rights or benefits, or increase the costs, of ATS under any of such Material Agreements, except for such noncompliances, acts or omissions that, individually or in the aggregate, have not had and will not have a Material Adverse Effect on ATS. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, Section 5.14 of the ATS Disclosure Schedule sets forth a true, correct and complete description of all material acquisitions pending or which are actively being negotiated and the current status of all such acquisitions, except for those which ATS cannot disclose due to its obligations to maintain the same in confidence, none of which, if consummated on the terms and conditions currently being negotiated, will have a Material Adverse Effect on ATS.

(b) ATC shall cooperate and use its reasonable business efforts to cause its independent accountants to reasonably cooperate with ATS, and at ATS' expense, in order to enable ATS to have ATC's or ATS' independent accountants prepare audited financial statements for ATC described in Section 7.2(d). ATC will use its reasonable business efforts to ensure that such financial statements will have been prepared in accordance with GAAP applied on a basis consistent with the ATC Financial Statements and will present fairly in all material respects the financial condition, results of operation and cash flow of ATC. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, ATC agrees that it will (i) consent to the use of such audited financial statements in any registration, proxy or information statement or other document filed by ATS or any of its Affiliates under the Securities Act or the Exchange Act and (ii) execute and deliver, and cause its officers to execute and deliver, such "representation" letters as are customarily delivered in connection with audits and as ATS' or ATC's independent accountants may reasonably request under the circumstances.

(c) Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, as promptly as practicable after the execution of this Agreement, ATS and ATC shall, at the written request of the other made from time to time within thirty (30) days of the date of this Agreement, deliver or cause to be delivered to ATC or ATS, as the case may be, copies of (i) all title report and title insurance and (ii) Phase I environmental site assessment reports or other environmental reports or studies in their possession with respect to real property owned or leased by such party. Each of ATS and ATC (an "investigating party") may at its own cost and expense obtain, and deliver to the other party (the "owning party") full and complete copies of, preliminary title reports and/or Phase I environmental site assessment reports (or other environmental reports or studies) with respect to any real property owned or leased by the owning party (i) which is not covered by a title or environmental report delivered to the investigating party or (ii) with respect to which the title or environment report so furnished, in the reasonable business judgment of the investigating party, raises questions of (x) defects in title, in the case of title reports, or (y) potential liability, in the case of Phase I environmental site assessment reports (or other environmental reports or studies) which, in the case of title defects or potential liability has had or could reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect on the owning or leasing party. Site assessments shall be conducted by such consultants and professionals as ATS and ATC shall mutually agree and shall be arranged at times mutually convenient to the parties. Each of ATC and ATS shall be entitled to have representatives present at the time such site assessments are conducted, and to have copies of all correspondence with any environmental company conducting the site assessment pursuant to the provisions of this Section.

(d) ATC agrees that prior to the Closing Date it will not make or permit to be made any change affecting any bank, trust company, savings and loan association, brokerage firm or safe deposit box or in the names of the Persons authorized to draw thereon, to have access thereto or to authorize transactions therein or in such powers of attorney, or open any additional accounts or boxes or grant any additional powers of attorney, without in each case notifying ATS in writing on or prior to the Closing Date.

6.3 Public Announcements. Until the Closing or the termination of this Agreement, each party shall consult with the other before issuing any press release or otherwise making any public statements with respect to this Agreement or the Merger and shall not issue any such press release or make any such public statement without the prior consent of the other. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the parties acknowledge and agree that they may, without each other's prior consent, issue such press releases or make such public statements as may be required by Applicable Law, in which case the disclosing party shall use its reasonable business efforts to consult with the other party and agree upon the nature, content and form of such disclosure, press release or other statement.

6.4 Notification of Certain Matters. Each party shall give prompt notice to the other, of the occurrence or non-occurrence of any Event of which such party becomes aware the occurrence or non-occurrence of which would be reasonably likely to cause (a) any representation or warranty made by it contained in this Agreement to be untrue or inaccurate in any material respect or (b) any failure made by it to comply with or satisfy, or be able to comply with or satisfy, in any material respect, any covenant, condition or agreement to be complied with or satisfied by it under this Agreement in any material respect, such that, in any such case, one or more of the conditions of Closing would not be satisfied; provided, however, that the delivery of any notice pursuant to this Section shall not limit or otherwise affect the rights and remedies available hereunder to the party receiving such notice or the obligations of the party delivering such notice and shall not, in any event, affect the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements of the parties or the conditions to their respective obligations under this Agreement.

6.5 No Solicitation. Neither ATC nor ATS shall, nor shall either of them knowingly permit any of its or any of their Representatives or, with respect to ATS, permit ARS (including, without limitation, any officer, director, stockholder or any investment banker, broker, finder, attorney or accountant retained by it) to, initiate, solicit or facilitate, directly or indirectly, any inquiries or the making of any proposal with respect to any Alternative Transaction applicable to it, engage in any discussions or negotiations concerning, or provide to any other Person any information or data relating to, it for the purposes of, or otherwise cooperate in any way with or assist or participate in, or facilitate any inquiries or the making of any proposal which constitutes, or may reasonably be expected to lead to, a proposal to seek or effect any Alternative Transaction applicable to it, or agree to or endorse any Alternative Transaction applicable to it. If ATC or ATS or any of its Representatives receives any inquiry with respect to an Alternative Transaction applicable to it while this Agreement is in effect, ATC or ATS, as the case may be, shall inform the inquiring party that it is not entitled to enter into discussions or negotiations relating to such an Alternative Transaction. The provisions of this Section shall apply to all Subsidiaries of ATC and ATS.

6.6 Conduct of Business by ATS Pending the Merger. Without limiting any other covenant or agreement of ATS set forth in this Agreement, except as otherwise permitted or contemplated by this Agreement, including without limitation pursuant to the ATS Separate Agreement and, in the case of paragraphs (a) and (b)(ii) and (iii), the Tower Distribution, after the date hereof and prior to the Closing Date or earlier termination of this Agreement unless ATC shall otherwise agree in writing, ATS shall, and shall cause its Subsidiaries, to:

(a) conduct its business in the ordinary and usual course of business and consistent with past practice, it being understood that the acquisition of communications sites and related assets and other business involved in the communications sites industry and the construction and maintenance of communications towers and related assets is part of the ordinary course of business of ATS; provided, however, that any such acquisition or construction activity shall be subject to the other paragraphs of this Section, including without limitation paragraphs (d) and (l);

(b) not (i) amend or propose to amend their respective Organic Documents, (ii) split, combine or reclassify (whether by stock dividend or otherwise) its outstanding capital stock or issue or authorize the issuance of any other securities in respect of, in lieu of, or in substitution for shares of its capital stock, or (iii) declare, set aside or pay any dividend or distribution payable in cash, stock, property or otherwise;

(c) not issue, sell, transfer, assign, convey, pledge or dispose of, or agree to issue, sell, transfer, assign, convey, pledge or dispose of, any shares of ATS Common Stock, Convertible Securities, Option Securities or other equity securities;

(d) not (i) incur or become contingently liable with respect to any Indebtedness for Money Borrowed other than (x) borrowings, in addition to those permitted or consented to pursuant to the provisions of clause (y) immediately following, not to exceed the sum of (I) the principal amount of borrowings presently outstanding and (II) $5.0 million in the aggregate outstanding at any one time, and (y) borrowings necessary to finance acquisitions and construction projects permitted or consented pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (l) below, (ii) redeem, purchase, acquire or offer to purchase or acquire any shares of its capital stock, Convertible Securities or Option Securities (iii) sell, lease, license, pledge, dispose of or encumber any properties or assets or sell any businesses other than (A) pursuant to agreements which are described in Section 6.6(d) of the ATS Disclosure Schedule, (B) Liens arising in accordance with the provisions of indebtedness in effect on the date hereof and in accordance with their present terms, and (C) leases of towers and shelter space to third-party customers, or (iv) make any loans, advances or capital contributions to, or investments in, any other Person, except to officers and employees of ATS for travel, business or relocation expenses in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practices;

(e) use reasonable business efforts to preserve intact its business organization and goodwill, keep available the services of its present officers and key employees, and preserve the goodwill and business relationships with customers and others having business relationships with them and not engage in any action, directly or indirectly, with the intent to adversely impact the transactions contemplated by this Agreement;

(f) at ATC's reasonable request, confer on a regular basis with one or more representatives of ATC to report material operational matters and the general status of ongoing operations, including without limitation the status of pending and prospective acquisitions and of the CBS Merger, including the satisfaction of the conditions to consummation thereof, to the extent permitted or not restricted by confidentiality provisions;

(g) not adopt, enter into, amend or terminate any employment, severance, special pay arrangement with respect to employment or termination of employment or other similar arrangements or agreements with any directors, officers or key employees;

(h) maintain with financially responsible insurance companies insurance on the ATS Assets and the ATS Business in such amounts and against such risks and losses as are consistent with past practice;

(i) not make any Tax election that could reasonably be likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on ATS or settle or compromise any material income Tax liability;

(j) except in the ordinary course of business, not modify or amend in any material adverse manner or terminate any Material Agreement to which ATS is a party or by which any of the ATS Assets may be bound or to which any of them may be subject or waive, release or assign any material rights or claims thereunder;

(k) not make any material change to its accounting methods, principles or practices, except as may be required by GAAP;

(l) not enter into or agree to enter into any Restricted Transaction (or group of related Restricted Transactions), whether for its own account or for any other Person, if (i) the aggregate amount reasonably expected to be expended by ATS or any of its Subsidiaries in connection with such individual Restricted Transaction (together with any group of related Restricted Transactions) exceeds $5.0 million, or (ii) the aggregate amount to be expended in connection with all Restricted Transactions (together with any group of related Restricted Transactions) exceeds $20.0 million; provided, however, that the foregoing restriction shall not apply to any Restricted Transaction pursuant to agreements which are described in Section 6.6(l) of the ATS Disclosure Schedule. (ATC agrees not to unreasonably withhold, delay or condition a consent to any Restricted Transaction as to which ATS has requested its consent pursuant to the provisions of this Section, it being understood that any such consent shall not, however, relieve ATS from the obligation to comply with the provisions of this Agreement (other than, to the extent so consented to, paragraph (d) hereof) and shall not be deemed to be a waiver of any condition of ATC's obligations to consummate the Merger set forth in Section 7.3);

(m) except as set forth in Section 5.13 of the ATS Disclosure Schedule, (i) not grant to any executive officer or other key employee of ATS any increase in compensation, except for normal increases in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice, (ii) not grant to any such executive officer any increase in severance or termination pay, (iii) not adopt or amend any Plan or Benefit Arrangement (including change any actuarial or other assumption used to calculate funding obligations with respect to any Plan, or change the manner in which contributions to any Plan are made or the basis on which such contributions are determined) and (iv) except in the ordinary course, not enter into, amend in any material respect or terminate any Governmental Authorization, material Private Authorization or Contract, except, for purposes of this clause (iv) only, as would not, individually or in the aggregate, be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on ATS;

(n) not voluntarily take or permit to be taken any action which if taken between the end of its most recent fiscal quarter and prior to the date of this Agreement would have been required to be noted as an exception on Section 5.15 of the ATS Disclosure Schedule, other than as permitted or not restricted by the preceding provisions of this Section 6.6; and

(o) not authorize or enter into any agreement that would violate any of the foregoing.

6.7 Conduct of Business by ATC Pending the Merger. Without limiting any other covenant or agreement of ATC set forth in this Agreement, except as otherwise permitted or contemplated by this Agreement, or as set forth or described in the ATC Disclosure Schedule, after the date hereof and prior to the Closing Date or earlier termination of this Agreement, unless ATS shall otherwise consent in writing, ATC shall, and shall cause its Subsidiaries to:

(a) conduct its business in the ordinary and usual course of business and consistent with past practice, it being understood that the acquisition of communications sites and related assets and other business involved in the communications sites industry and the construction and maintenance of communications towers and related assets is part of the ordinary course of business of ATC; provided, however, that any such acquisition or construction activity shall be subject to the other paragraphs of this Section, including without limitation paragraphs (d) and (l);

(b) not (i) amend or propose to amend their respective Organic Documents, (ii) split, combine or reclassify (whether by stock dividend or otherwise) its outstanding capital stock or issue or authorize the issuance of any other securities in respect of, in lieu of, or in substitution for shares of its capital stock, or (iii) declare, set aside or pay any dividend or distribution payable in cash, stock, property or otherwise;

(c) not issue, sell, transfer, assign, convey, pledge or dispose of, or agree to issue, sell, transfer, assign, convey, pledge or dispose of, any shares of ATC Common Stock, Convertible Securities, Option Securities or other equity securities;

(d) not (i) incur or become contingently liable with respect to any Indebtedness for Money Borrowed other than (x) borrowings, in addition to those permitted or consented to pursuant to the provisions of clause (y) immediately following, not to exceed $2.5 million in the aggregate outstanding at any one time, (y) borrowings necessary to fund finance acquisitions or construction projects permitted pursuant to the provisions of paragraph (l) below or to fund bonus payments and transaction fees permitted by the provisions of this Agreement, and (z) up to $4.5 million of subordinated borrowings to exercise redemption rights with respect to ATC's preferred stock, (ii) redeem, purchase, acquire or offer to purchase or acquire any shares of its capital stock, Convertible Securities or Option Securities (iii) sell, lease, license, pledge, dispose of or encumber any properties or assets (except for nonstrategic assets that in the aggregate have a fair market value of less than $1.0 million) or sell any businesses other than (A) pursuant to agreements which are described in Section 6.7(d) of the ATC Disclosure Schedule, (B) Liens arising in accordance with the provisions of indebtedness in effect on the date hereof and in accordance with their present terms, and (C) leases of towers and shelter space to third-party customers or (iv) make any loans, advances or capital contributions to, or investments in, any other Person, except to officers and employees of ATC for travel, business or relocation expenses in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practices;

(e) use reasonable business efforts to preserve intact its business organization and goodwill, keep available the services of its present officers and key employees (other than individuals identified to ATS prior to date hereof with specific reference to this provision), and preserve the goodwill and business relationships with customers and others having business relationships with them and not engage in any action, directly or indirectly, with the intent to adversely impact the transactions contemplated by this Agreement;

(f) at ATS' reasonable request, confer on a regular basis with one or more representatives of ATS to report material operational matters and the general status of ongoing operations, including without limitation the status of pending and prospective acquisitions to the extent permitted or not restricted by confidentiality provisions;

(g) not adopt, enter into, amend or terminate any employment, severance, special pay arrangement with respect to employment or termination of employment or other similar arrangements or agreements with any directors, officers or key employees;

(h) maintain with financially responsible insurance companies insurance on the ATC Assets and the ATC Business in such amounts and against such risks and losses as are consistent with past practice;

(i) not make any Tax election that could reasonably be likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on ATC or settle or compromise any material income Tax liability;

(j) except in the ordinary course of business, not modify or amend in a manner materially adverse to ATC or terminate any Material Agreement to which ATC is a party or by which any of the ATC Assets may be bound or to which any of them may be subject or waive, release or assign any material rights or claims thereunder;

(k) not make any material change to its accounting methods, principles or practices, except as may be required by GAAP;

(l) not enter into or agree to enter into any Restricted Transactions (or group of related Restricted Transactions), whether for its own account or for any other Person, if (i) the aggregate amount reasonably expected to be expended by ATC or any of its Subsidiaries in connection with such individual Restricted Transaction (together with any group of related Restricted Transactions) exceeds $5.0 million, or (ii) the aggregate amount to be expended in connection with all Restricted Transactions (together with any group of related Restricted Transactions) exceeds $20.0 million; provided, however, that the foregoing restriction shall not apply to any Restricted Transaction pursuant to agreements which are described in Section 6.7(l) of the ATC Disclosure Schedule. (ATS agrees not to unreasonably withhold, delay or condition a consent to any Restricted Transaction as to which ATC has requested its consent pursuant to the provisions of this Section, it being understood that any such consent shall not, however, relieve ATC from the obligation to comply with the provisions of this Agreement (other than, to the extent so consented to, paragraph (d) hereof) and shall not be deemed to be a waiver of any condition of ATS' obligations to consummate the Merger set forth in Section 7.2);

(m) except as set forth in Section 4.14 of the ATC Disclosure Schedule, (i) not grant to any executive officer or other key employee of ATC any increase in compensation, except for normal increases in the ordinary course of business consistent with past practice or as required under Benefit Arrangements in effect as of September 30, 1997, (ii) not grant to any such executive officer any increase in severance or termination pay, except as was required under any Benefit Arrangements in effect as of September 30, 1997, (iii) not adopt or amend any Plan or Benefit Arrangement (including change any actuarial or other assumption used to calculate funding obligations with respect to any Plan, or change the manner in which contributions to any Plan are made or the basis on which such contributions are determined) and (iv) except in the ordinary course, not enter into, amend in any material respect or terminate any Governmental Authorization, material Private Authorization or Contract, except, for purposes of this clause (iv) only, as would not, individually or in the aggregate, be reasonably likely to have a Material Adverse Effect on ATC;

(n) not voluntarily take or permit to be taken any action which if taken between the end of its most recent fiscal quarter and prior to the date of this Agreement would have been required to be noted as an exception on Section 4.16 of the ATC Disclosure Schedule, other than as permitted or not restricted pursuant to the provisions of this Section 6.7; and

(o) not authorize or enter into any agreement that would violate any of the foregoing.

6.8 Directors', Officers' and Employees' Indemnification and Insurance.

(a) The Organic Documents of ATS shall contain provisions no less favorable with respect to indemnification than are set forth in the Organic Documents of ATS, as in effect on the date hereof, which provisions shall not be amended, repealed or otherwise modified for a period of six (6) years from the Effective Time in any manner that would affect adversely the rights thereunder of individuals who at any time prior to the Effective Time were directors, officers or employees of ATC or any of its Subsidiaries, unless such modification shall be required by Applicable Law.

(b) From and after the Effective Time, ATS shall indemnify, defend and hold harmless the present and former officers, directors and employees of ATC or any of its Subsidiaries (collectively, the "Indemnified Parties") against all losses, expenses, claims, damages, liabilities or amounts that are paid in settlement of, or otherwise in connection with any claim, action, suit, proceeding or investigation (as used in this Section, a "claim"), based in whole or in part on the fact that the Indemnified Party (or the Person controlled by the Indemnified Party) is or was a director, officer or employee of ATC or any of its Subsidiaries and arising out of actions or omissions occurring at or prior to the Effective Time (including, without limitation, in connection with this Agreement, the Merger and the transactions contemplated hereby), whether asserted or claimed prior to, at or after the Effective Time, in each case to the fullest extent permitted under the DCL (and shall pay any expenses, as incurred, in advance of the final disposition of any such action or proceeding to each Indemnified Party to the fullest extent permitted under the DCL). Without limiting the foregoing, in the event any such claim is brought against any of the Indemnified Parties, (i) such Indemnified Parties may retain counsel (including local counsel) satisfactory to them and which shall be reasonably satisfactory to ATS and ATS shall pay all reasonable fees and expenses of such counsel for such Indemnified Parties; and (ii) ATS shall use its best efforts to assist in the defense of any such claim; provided, however, that ATS shall not be liable for any settlement effected without its written consent, which consent shall not be unreasonably withheld, delayed or conditioned.

(c) ATS will use its best efforts to cause to be maintained for a period of not less than six (6) years from the Effective Time a directors' and officers' insurance and indemnification policy that provides coverage for events occurring on or prior to the Effective Time ("D&O Insurance") for all Persons who are directors and officers of ATC or any of its Subsidiaries on the date of this Agreement, so long as the annual premium therefor would not be in excess of $500,000. If any then existing D&O Insurance expires, is terminated or canceled during such six-year period, ATS will use its best efforts to cause to be obtained as much D&O Insurance as can be obtained for the remainder of such period for an annualized premium not in excess of $500,000, on terms and conditions no less advantageous to the covered Persons than the then existing D&O Insurance.

(d) In the event ATS or any of their respective successors or assigns (i) consolidates with or merges into any other person and shall not be the continuing or surviving corporation or entity of such consolidation or merger or (ii) transfers all or substantially all of its properties and assets to any person, then and in each such case, proper provisions shall be made so that the successors and assigns of ATS shall assume the obligations set forth in this Section.

(e) This Section is intended to be for the benefit of, and shall be enforceable by, the Indemnified Parties, their heirs and personal representatives and shall be binding on ATS and its successors and assigns. ATS shall furnish ATC with a copy of the D&O insurance complying with the provisions of this Section 6.8 at or prior to the Closing.

6.9 ATC Employees and Benefit Plans.

(a) Notwithstanding any provision in this Agreement to the contrary, on or prior to the Closing Date, ATC may (i) take any action permitted under Paragraph VIII(c) of ATC's 1995 Stock Option Plan with respect to any or all Option Securities issued and outstanding under such plan, (ii) accelerate the vesting and exercisability of any or all of such Option Securities, (iii) amend any or all such Option Securities to provide that such Option Security shall continue to be exercisable for its entire stated term without regard to the employment status or death of the holder of such Option Security, and (iv) pay bonuses to the employees of ATC and its Subsidiaries in such amounts as ATC shall determine in its sole discretion; provided, however, that (A) the aggregate amount of the bonuses paid pursuant to clause (iv) of this sentence, when added to any fees or expense reimbursements paid or payable to any financial advisers in connection with the Merger or related financial advice, shall not exceed $5.0 million (which amount shall not include nor be reduced by any performance bonuses paid to employees of ATC and its Subsidiaries with respect to calendar year 1997 on a basis consistent with past practices), and (B) ATC shall have any action or payment described in this sentence approved by the stockholders of ATC in accordance with the provisions of Section 280G(b)(5) of the Code to the extent necessary to ensure that no actions taken with respect to the employees of ATC and its Subsidiaries or payments made to such employees would result in imposition of the sanctions imposed under Sections 280G and 4999 of the Code. Any bonus paid pursuant to clause (iv) of the preceding sentence may be paid in cash, by reducing the purchase price of shares of ATC Common Stock that may be acquired under an Option Security issued under ATC's 1995 Stock Option Plan, or any combination of the foregoing. Any actions taken or payments made by ATC pursuant to the provisions of this Section 6.9(a) may vary among the individual employees of ATC and its Subsidiaries and may vary among the Option Securities held by any individual employee, all as determined by ATC in its sole discretion.

(b) ATS shall take such action as may be necessary so that at the Effective Time and for twelve (12) months thereafter the individuals employed by ATC and its Subsidiaries immediately prior to the Effective Time (the "Continued Employees") shall receive base compensation (i.e., salary and wages) at a rate that is not less than that received by such Continued Employees immediately prior to the Closing Date; provided, however, that the foregoing provisions shall not impair ATS' ability to terminate any such Continued Employee for cause. If, within the twelve-month period beginning at the Effective Time, the employment of any Continued Employee is terminated by ATS or any of its Subsidiaries other than for cause, or any Continued Employee is required to accept a material reduction in his or her title or responsibilities or to transfer to a job location that is more than thirty-five (35) miles from his or her job location immediately prior to the Effective Time, but refuses such reduction or transfer within fifteen (15) days of notice of such reduction or transfer, then ATS shall continue to pay such Continued Employee his or her base rate of pay for the balance of such twelve-month period (without mitigation for any subsequent employment by such continued employee). The provisions of this Section 6.9(b) shall not be applicable with respect to Fred R. Lummis.

(c) ATS shall take such action as may be necessary so that on and after the Effective Time and for twelve (12) months thereafter, officers and employees of ATC and its Subsidiaries shall be provided employee benefits, plans and programs (excluding equity incentive arrangements) which are no less favorable in the aggregate than those generally available pursuant to those employee benefit plans and programs in effect for such officers and employees immediately prior to the Effective Time; it being understood that ATS shall determine the types and levels of specific benefits to be so provided. For purposes of eligibility to participate, vesting and benefit determinations (other than benefit accruals under any defined benefit plan) in all benefits provided to officers and employees of ATC and its Subsidiaries, such officers and employees of ATC and its Subsidiaries will be credited with their service with ATC and its Subsidiaries and their respective predecessors. Upon termination of any health plan of ATC or any of its Subsidiaries, individuals who were officers or employees of ATC or its Subsidiaries at the Effective Time shall if employed by ATS or its Subsidiaries become eligible to participate in such health plans as may be established or maintained by ATS or its Subsidiaries to the extent that such individuals and their eligible dependents were eligible to participate in the applicable health plan of ATC or its Subsidiaries immediately prior to the Effective Time. Amounts paid during the calendar year in which such change of coverage occurs by officers and employees of ATC and its Subsidiaries under any health plans of ATC shall after such change be taken into account in applying deductible and out-of-pocket limits applicable under the health plans of ATS or its Subsidiaries provided during such calendar year to the same extent as if such amounts had been paid under such health plans of ATS or its Subsidiaries and ATS shall cause to be waived under its health plans any pre-existing conditions as of the date of termination of the ATC health plan and eligibility to participate in such health plan to the extent such conditions would be waived under the applicable plans of ATC and its Subsidiaries as in effect on the date hereof. Nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as granting to any employee of ATC or its Subsidiaries any rights of continuing employment.

6.10 ATC Stock Options. Prior to the Effective Time, ATS and ATC shall take such action as may be necessary to cause each unexpired and unexercised option to purchase ATC Common Stock that is outstanding immediately prior to the Merger (each, an "ATC Option" and collectively, the "ATC Options") to be automatically converted at the Effective Time into an option (each, an "ATS Option" and collectively, the "ATS Options") to purchase a number of shares of ATS Class A Common Stock equal to the product of the number of shares of ATC Common Stock which the holder is entitled to purchase under the ATC Option multiplied by the Exchange Ratio, at a price per share equal to the quotient obtained by dividing (a) the per share option exercise price determined pursuant to the ATC Option by (b) the Exchange Ratio. Each ATS Option will otherwise have the same terms and conditions as the ATC Option exchanged therefor, including acceleration and period of exercise. At the Effective Time, ATS will execute and deliver to each holder of an ATS Option a document evidencing ATS' assumptions of ATC's obligations under the ATC Option and all references in the stock option agreements to ATC shall be deemed to refer to ATS. As of the Effective Time, ATS shall assume all of ATC's obligations with respect to the ATC Options as so amended and shall, from and after the Effective Time, have reserved for issuance upon exercise of the ATS Options all shares of ATS Class A Common Stock covered thereby and shall file a Registration Statement on Form S-8 to register the shares of ATS Class A Common Stock subject to the ATS Options granted in replacement of ATC Options. ATS shall take all actions reasonably necessary to maintain the effectiveness of such Registration Statement (and maintain the current status of the prospectus or prospectuses contained therein) for so long as such ATS Options remain outstanding. No fractional shares of ATS Class A Common Stock will be issued upon the exercise of any ATS Option, and instead the exercising holder of such ATS Option shall receive cash for any fractional share amounts, based on the fair market value of the ATS Class A Common Stock at the time of exercise.

6.11 ATS Voting Agreement. ATS shall use its best efforts to cause each of the Persons named therein to execute and deliver to ATC an agreement substantially in the form of Exhibit C attached hereto and made a part hereof (collectively, the "ATS Voting Agreement").

6.12 Stockholder Approval. ATC will, as soon as practicable following the date thereof, establish a record date (which will be as soon as practicable following the date hereof) for, and, after the Registration Statement has become effective, duly call, give notice of, convene and hold a meeting of its stockholders (the "ATC Stockholders Meeting") for the purpose of obtaining the approval and adoption of this Agreement and the approval of the Merger by the ATC stockholders (the "ATC Stockholder Approval"). ATC will, through its Board of Directors, recommend to its stockholders approval and adoption of this Agreement and approval of the Merger.

6.13 Registration Statement and Proxy/Information Statement.

(a) ATS shall prepare and file with the Commission as soon as is reasonably practicable after the date hereof a Registration Statement under the Securities Act (the "ATS Registration Statement") on Form S-4 in connection with the Merger for the purpose of registering all of the shares of ATS Class A Common Stock to be issued in the Merger. ATS shall also take any action required under Applicable Law in connection with causing the ATS Registration Statement declared effective by the Commission as promptly as practicable, including without limitation making all filings under applicable state blue sky or securities laws in connection with the issuance of ATS Class A Common Stock in the Merger. ATS shall promptly furnish to each other all information, and take such other actions, as may reasonably be requested in connection with any action by either of them in connection with the provisions of this Section.

(b) ATC shall, as soon as is reasonably practicable after the effectiveness of the ATS Registration Statement, mail notice to the ATC common stockholders of the ATC Stockholders Meeting. Such notice shall comply with the provisions of Applicable Law. ATS and ATC shall promptly furnish to the other all information, and take such other actions, as may reasonably be requested in connection with any action taken to comply with the provisions of this Section, including, in the case of ATS, the final prospectus (the "ATS Prospectus" and, collectively with the notice furnished to the ATC stockholders in connection with the ATC Stockholders Meeting, the "ATC Stockholder Information") contained in the ATS Registration Statement.

(c) Each of ATC and ATS shall correct promptly any information provided by it to be used specifically in the ATS Registration Statement and the ATC Stockholder Information that shall have become false or misleading in any material respect and ATS shall take all steps necessary to file with the Commission and have cleared by the Commission any amendment or supplement to the ATS Registration Statement so as to correct such information and ATS shall cause it to be disseminated to the ATC stockholders, to the extent required by Applicable Law. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, ATS shall notify ATC promptly of the receipt of the comments of the Commission and of any request by the Commission for amendments or supplements to the ATS Registration Statement or the ATS Prospectus, or for additional information, and shall supply ATC with copies of all correspondence between it or its representatives, on the one hand, and the Commission or members of its staff, on the other hand, with respect to the ATS Registration Statement or the ATS Prospectus. Whenever any event occurs which should be described in an amendment or a supplement to the ATS Registration Statement or the ATS Prospectus, ATS shall, upon learning of such event, promptly prepare, file and clear with the Commission and ATS shall mail to the ATC stockholders such amendment or supplement; provided, however, that, prior to such mailing, (i) ATS shall consult with ATC with respect to such amendment or supplement, (ii) shall afford ATC reasonable opportunity to comment thereon, and (iii) each such amendment or supplement shall be reasonably satisfactory to ATC.

(d) ATC shall use its reasonable business efforts to cause to be delivered to ATS and its directors a letter of independent auditors, dated (i) the date of the ATS Prospectus Statement, and (ii) the Closing Date, and addressed to ATS and its directors, in form, scope and substance customary for letters delivered by independent public accountants in connection with registrations statements similar to the ATS Registration Statement.

6.14 Listing of ATS Class A Common Stock. ATS shall use its reasonable business efforts to effect, at or before the Effective Time, authorization for listing on Nasdaq (or such stock exchange as ATS shall have reasonably selected) upon official notice of issuance, of the additional shares of the ATS Class A Common Stock to be issued pursuant to the Merger; provided, however, that such efforts shall not require the elimination of the different voting rights of the classes of ATS Common Stock.

6.15 Solicitation of Employees. If this Agreement is terminated, each of ATS and ATC agrees that neither it nor any of its Affiliates will, for a period of eighteen (18) months from the date of such termination, solicit or actively seek to hire any person who during such period is employed by ATC or any of its Affiliates or ATS or any of its Affiliates, as the case may be, whether or not such individual would commit breach of such individual's employment agreement or contact in leaving such employment; provided, however, that the foregoing shall not prevent ATS or ATC (or any of its respective Affiliates) from soliciting or actively seeking to hire any such key employee who (i) initiates employment discussions with it, (ii) is not employed by ATS or ATC, as the case may be, on the date ATC or ATS, as the case may be, first solicits such key employee, or (iii) soliciting through general advertisement.

6.16 Additional Tax Matters.

TERMINATION, AMENDMENT AND WAIVER

8.1 Termination. This Agreement may be terminated at any time prior to the Closing Date:

(a) by mutual consent of ATC and ATS; or

(b) by either ATS or ATC if any permanent injunction, decree or judgment by any Authority preventing the consummation of the Merger shall have become final and nonappealable; or

(c) by ATC in the event (i) ATC is not in breach of this Agreement and none of its representations or warranties shall have become and continue to be untrue in a manner that would cause the condition set forth in Section 7.2(b) not to be satisfied, and (ii) either (A) the Merger has not been consummated prior to the Termination Date, or (B) ATS is in breach of this Agreement or any of its representations or warranties shall have become and continue to be untrue in a manner that would be reasonably likely to cause the conditions set forth in Section 7.3(b) not to be satisfied, and such a breach or untruth exists and is not capable of being cured, by and will prevent or delay consummation of the Merger by or beyond, the Termination Date; or

(d) by ATS in the event (i) ATS is not in breach of this Agreement and none of its representations or warranties shall have become and continue to be untrue in a manner that would cause the condition set forth in Section 7.3(b) not to be satisfied, and (ii) either (A) the Merger has not been consummated prior to the Termination Date, or (B) ATC is in breach of this Agreement or any of ATC's representations or warranties shall have become and continue to be untrue in a manner that would be reasonably likely to cause the conditions set forth in Section 7.2(b) not to be satisfied, and such a breach or untruth exists and is not capable of being cured by, and will prevent or delay consummation of the Merger by or beyond, the Termination Date; or

(e) by ATS or ATC in the event (i) the ATC Stockholder Approval has not been obtained prior to the Termination Date, (ii) neither the CBS Merger nor the Tower Distribution has occurred prior to the Termination Date in the manner described in Section 6.21, or (iii) prior to the Termination Date, any consent or approval from the ARS stockholders required to satisfy any of the conditions in Article 7 or otherwise to consummate the Merger has not been obtained.

The right of ATS or ATC to terminate this Agreement pursuant to this Section shall remain operative and in full force and effect regardless of any investigation made by or on behalf of either party, any Person controlling either party or any of their respective Representatives whether prior to or after the execution of this Agreement.

8.2 Effect of Termination.

(a) Except as provided in Sections 6.1 (solely with respect to confidentiality), 6.3 and 6.15 and this Section and except as provided in Section 8.2(b), in the event of the termination of this Agreement pursuant to Section 8.1, or in the event the Merger shall not have been consummated prior to the end of business on the Termination Date, except as otherwise provided in this Section, this Agreement shall forthwith become void, there shall be no liability on the part of either party, or any of its respective shareholders, officers or directors, to the other and all rights and obligations of either party shall cease; provided, however, that such termination shall not relieve either party from liability for any willful misrepresentation or willful breach of any of its warranties, covenants or agreements set forth in this Agreement.

(b) Notwithstanding anything in this Agreement to the contrary, including without limitation the provisions of Section 9.4, in the event this Agreement is terminated (a) pursuant to the provisions of Section 8.1(e)(i), then ATC acknowledges and agrees that ATS shall be entitled to a termination fee in an amount equal to $15,000,000, together with the reasonable out of pocket fees and expenses (including without limitation the reasonable out of pocket fees and expenses of accountants, attorneys, financial advisors and printers and all registration and other filing fees), not to exceed $1,000,000, incurred by ATS in connection with this Agreement and the Merger, unless ATS has notified Fred R. Lummis (or the then acting Chairman of ATC, if not Mr. Lummis) or ATC is otherwise actually aware, at least five (5) business days in advance of the Termination Date, that the ATS Registration Statement has been declared effective, in which case ATS shall not be entitled to any termination fee, expense reimbursement or other payment from ATC, or (b) pursuant to the provisions of Section 8.1(e)(ii) or (iii), then ATS acknowledges and agrees that ATC shall be entitled to a termination fee in an amount equal to $15,000,000, together with the reasonable out of pocket fees and expenses (including without limitation the reasonable out of pocket fees and expenses of accountants, attorneys, financial advisors and printers and all registration and other filing fees), not to exceed $1,000,000, incurred by ATC in connection with this Agreement and the Merger. The parties agree that, anything in Section 8.2(a), Section 9.4 or elsewhere in this Agreement to the contrary notwithstanding, such amount shall be a sole and exclusive remedy and constitute full payment for any and all damages suffered by ATS or ATC, as the case may be, by reason of the events referred to in the preceding sentence. ATS and ATC agree in advance that actual damages would be difficult to ascertain and that such termination fee is a fair and equitable amount to be paid by ATC or by ATS in order to reimburse the other for damages sustained due to the failure of the Merger to be consummated for the above-stated reasons.

9.1 Waivers; Amendments. Changes in or additions to this Agreement may be made, or compliance with any term, covenant, agreement, condition or provision set forth herein may be omitted or waived (either generally or in a particular instance and either retroactively or prospectively) with, but only with, the consent in writing of the parties hereto. No delay on the part of either party at any time or times in the exercise of any right or remedy shall operate as a waiver thereof. Any consent may be given subject to satisfaction of conditions stated therein. The failure to insist upon the strict provisions of any covenant, term, condition or other provision of this Agreement or to exercise any right or remedy thereunder shall not constitute a waiver of any such covenant, term, condition or other provision thereof or default in connection therewith. The waiver of any covenant, term, condition or other provision thereof or default thereunder shall not affect or alter this Agreement in any other respect, and each and every covenant, term, condition or other provision of this Agreement shall, in such event, continue in full force and effect, except as so waived, and shall be operative with respect to any other then existing or subsequent default in connection therewith.

9.2 Fees, Expenses and Other Payments. All costs and expenses incurred in connection with this Agreement and the consummation of the Merger, including without limitation fees and disbursements of counsel, financial advisors and accountants incurred by the parties hereto, shall be borne solely and entirely by the party which has incurred such costs and expenses or which is responsible therefor under Applicable Law.

9.4 Specific Performance; Other Rights and Remedies. Each party recognizes and agrees that in the event the other party should refuse to perform any of its obligations under this Agreement or any Collateral Document, the remedy at law would be inadequate and agrees that for breach of such provisions, each party shall, in addition to such other remedies as may be available to it at law or in equity, except as otherwise provided in Section 8.2(b), be entitled to injunctive relief and to enforce its rights by an action for specific performance to the extent permitted by Applicable Law. Each party hereby waives any requirement for security or the posting of any bond or other surety in connection with any temporary or permanent award of injunctive, mandatory or other equitable relief. Except as otherwise provided in Section 8.2, nothing herein contained shall be construed as prohibiting either party from pursuing any other remedies available to it pursuant to the provisions of this Agreement or Applicable Law for a breach by the other party, including without limitation the recovery of damages, including, to the extent awarded in any Legal Action, punitive, incidental and consequential damages (including without limitation damages for diminution in value and loss of anticipated profits) or any other measure of damages permitted by Applicable Law.

9.5 Severability. If any term or provision of this Agreement shall be held or deemed to be, or shall in fact be, invalid, inoperative, illegal or unenforceable as applied to any particular case in any jurisdiction or jurisdictions, or in all jurisdictions or in all cases, because of the conflicting of any provision with any constitution or statute or rule of public policy or for any other reason, such circumstance shall not have the effect of rendering the provision or provisions in question invalid, inoperative, illegal or unenforceable in any other jurisdiction or in any other case or circumstance or of rendering any other provision or provisions herein contained invalid, inoperative, illegal or unenforceable to the extent that such other provisions are not themselves actually in conflict with such constitution, statute or rule of public policy, but this Agreement shall be reformed and construed in any such jurisdiction or case as if such invalid, inoperative, illegal or unenforceable provision had never been contained herein and such provision reformed so that it would be valid, operative and enforceable to the maximum extent permitted in such jurisdiction or in such case. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in the event of any such determination the effect of which is to affect materially and adversely either party, the parties shall negotiate in good faith to modify this Agreement so as to effect the original intent of the parties as closely as possible to the fullest extent permitted by Applicable Law in an acceptable manner to the end that the Transactions are fulfilled and consummated to the maximum extent possible.

9.6 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in several counterparts, each of which shall be deemed an original, but all of which together shall constitute one and the same instrument, binding upon all of the parties. In pleading or proving any provision of this Agreement, it shall not be necessary to produce more than one of such counterparts.

9.7 Section Headings. The headings contained in this Agreement are for reference purposes only and shall not in any way affect the meaning or interpretation of this Agreement.

9.8 Governing Law. The validity, interpretation, construction and performance of this Agreement shall be governed by, and construed in accordance with, the applicable laws of the United States of America and the laws of the State of New York applicable to contracts made and performed in such State and, in any event, without giving effect to any choice or conflict of laws provision or rule that would cause the application of domestic substantive laws of any other jurisdiction, except to the extent that the DCL or other laws of the State of Delaware shall be applicable.

9.9 Further Acts. Each party agrees that at any time, and from time to time, before and after the consummation of the transactions contemplated by this Agreement, it will do all such things and execute and deliver all such Collateral Documents and other assurances, as the other party reasonably deems necessary or desirable in order to carry out the terms and conditions of this Agreement and the transactions contemplated hereby or to facilitate the enjoyment of any of the rights created hereby or to be created hereunder.

9.10 Entire Agreement. This Agreement (together with the ATC Disclosure Schedule, the ATS Disclosure Schedule, the Exhibits and the other Collateral Documents delivered or to be delivered in connection herewith) constitutes the entire agreement of the parties with respect to the subject matter hereof and supersedes all prior agreements, arrangements, covenants, promises, conditions, undertakings, inducements, representations, warranties and negotiations, expressed or implied, oral or written, between the parties, with respect to the subject matter hereof. Each of the parties is a sophisticated legal entity that was advised by experienced counsel and, to the extent it deemed necessary, other advisors in connection with this Agreement. Each of the parties hereby acknowledges that (a) neither of the parties has relied or will rely in respect of this Agreement or the transactions contemplated hereby upon any document or written or oral information previously furnished to or discovered by it or its representatives, other than this Agreement (or such of the foregoing as are delivered at the Closing, (b) there are no covenants or agreements by or on behalf of either party or any of its respective Affiliates or representatives other than those expressly set forth in this Agreement and the Collateral Documents, and (c) the parties' respective rights and obligations with respect to this Agreement and the events giving rise thereto will be solely as set forth in this Agreement and the Collateral Documents. WITHOUT LIMITING THE GENERALITY OF THE FOREGOING, EACH PARTY

HERETO AGREES THAT, EXCEPT FOR THE REPRESENTATIONS AND WARRANTIES CONTAINED IN THIS AGREEMENT, NEITHER OF THE PARTIES MAKES ON BEHALF OF ITSELF AND ITS DIRECTORS, OFFICERS, STOCKHOLDERS AND OTHER AFFILIATES ANY OTHER REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES, AND EACH HEREBY DISCLAIMS ON BEHALF OF ITSELF AND ITS OFFICERS, DIRECTORS, STOCKHOLDERS AND OTHER AFFILIATES ANY OTHER REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES MADE BY ITSELF OR ANY OF ITS OFFICERS, DIRECTORS, EMPLOYEES, AGENTS, FINANCIAL AND LEGAL ADVISORS OR OTHER REPRESENTATIVES, WITH RESPECT TO THE EXECUTION AND DELIVERY OF THIS AGREEMENT OR THE TRANSACTIONS CONTEMPLATED HEREBY, NOTWITHSTANDING THE DELIVERY OR DISCLOSURE TO THE OTHER OR THE OTHER'S REPRESENTATIVES OF ANY DOCUMENTATION OR OTHER INFORMATION WITH RESPECT TO ANY ONE OR MORE OF THE FOREGOING.

9.11 Assignment. This Agreement shall not be assignable by either party and any such assignment shall be null and void, except that it shall inure to the benefit of and by binding upon any successor to either party by operation of law, including by way of merger, consolidation or sale of all or substantially all of its assets.

9.12 Parties in Interest. This Agreement shall be binding upon and inure solely to the benefit of each party, and nothing in this Agreement, express or implied, is intended to or shall confer upon any Person any right, benefit or remedy of any nature whatsoever under or by reason of this Agreement, except as otherwise provided in Sections 6.8, 6.9(b), 6.9(c), 6.10 and 8.11.

9.13 Non-Survival of Representations, Warranties, Covenants and Agreements. Except for damages or other remedies attributable to or based upon fraud, willful or intentional misrepresentation or willful or intentional breach of warranty, covenant or agreement, none of the representations, warranties, covenants and agreements in this Agreement shall survive the Merger, and after effectiveness of the Merger neither party nor any of its respective officers, directors or stockholders shall have any further obligation with respect thereto. This Section shall not limit any covenant or agreement of the parties which by its terms contemplates performance after the Effective Time.

9.14 Mutual Drafting. This Agreement is the result of the joint efforts of the parties, and each provision hereof has been subject to the mutual consultation, negotiation and agreement of the parties and there shall be no construction against either party based on any presumption of that party's involvement in the drafting thereof.

Termination Date shall mean May 31, 1998 or such other date as the parties may, from time to time, mutually agree.

Transactions shall mean the transactions contemplated by this Agreement to be consummated on or prior to the Closing Date, including without limitation the Merger and the execution, delivery and performance of the Collateral Documents.

Tower Distribution shall mean the pro rata distribution by ARS to each ARS common stockholder of a umber of shares of ATS Common Stock such that, after giving to such distribution, (i) immediately prior to the Merger, such ARS common stockholder will own the same percentage of ATS as it owned of ARS determined as if all Convertible Securities of ARS had been so converted and all Option Securities of ARS had ben exercised, (ii) neither ARS nor any of its Subsidiaries owns any capital stock in ATS or its Subsidiaries, other than shares of ATS Common Stock (a) required to satisfy ARS Convertible Securities and ARS Option Securities in the manner contemplated by the CBS Merger Agreement or (b) owned with respect to (x) shares of ARS Common Stock as to which appraisal rights have been asserted as a consequence of the Tower Distribution or (y) ARS Option Securities which have been converted to ATS Option Securities, and (iii) the Tower Distribution will have been made in all material respects in accordance with Applicable Law including Federal securities laws.

A. GENERAL

No holder of any of the shares of stock of this Corporation, whether now or hereafter authorized or issued, shall be entitled as of right to purchase or subscribe for (i) any unissued stock of any class, or (ii) any additional share of any class to be issued by reason of any increase of the authorized stock of the Corporation of any class, or (iii) bonds, certificates of indebtedness, debentures or other securities convertible into or exchangeable, or carrying any right to purchase or otherwise acquire, stock of any class of the Corporation. The Board of Directors of the Corporation may from time to time authorize by resolution the issuance of any or all shares of the Common Stock and the Preferred Stock herein authorized, together with any additional shares of any class to be issued by reason of any increase of the authorized stock of the Corporation of any class, or bonds, certificates of indebtedness, debentures or other securities convertible into or exchangeable, or carrying any right to purchase or otherwise acquire, stock of any class of the Corporation, for such purposes, in such amounts, to such Persons, for such consideration and, in the case of the Preferred

Stock, in one or more series or classes, all as the Board of Directors in its sole and absolute discretion may from time to time determine and without any vote, approval, consent or other action by the stockholders, except as otherwise required by applicable law.

Every reference in this Restated Certificate of Incorporation to a majority or other portion of shares of stock, including without limitation the provisions set forth in Articles EIGHTH and TENTH, shall refer to such majority or other portion of the votes of such shares of stock.

The designations and the powers, preferences and rights, of the capital stock of the Corporation and the qualifications, limitations and restrictions thereof, shall be as set forth in Sections B, C, D, E and F below.

B. RECAPITALIZATION

On the Effective Date, each issued share of the Corporation's existing Common Stock, $.01 par value per share (the "Existing Common Stock"), outstanding as of the Effective Date shall be cancelled and the Corporation shall be recapitalized with 29,667,883 shares of Class A Common Stock, 4,670,626 shares of Class B Common Stock and 1,295,518 shares of Class C Common Stock without any action on the part of the Corporation, the holders thereof or any other Person, and the aggregate amount of stated capital represented by such shares of Class A Common Stock, Class B Common Stock and Class C Common Stock shall be equal to the aggregate amount of stated capital represented by the shares of Existing Common Stock so reclassified and changed. Any and all such shares issued for which the full consideration has been paid or delivered, shall be deemed fully paid stock and the holders of such shares shall not be liable for any further call or assessment or any other payment thereon.

C. PREFERRED STOCK

The Board of Directors is expressly authorized to provide for the issuance of all or any shares of the Preferred Stock in one or more classes or series, and to fix for each such class or series such voting powers, full or limited, or no voting powers, and such distinctive designations, preferences and relative, participating, optional or other special rights and such qualifications, limitations or restrictions thereof, as shall be stated and expressed in the resolution or resolutions adopted by the Board of Directors, in its sole and absolute discretion, providing for the issuance of such class or series and as may be permitted by the Delaware General Corporation Law, including, without limitation, the authority to determine with respect to the shares of any such class or series (i) whether such shares shall be redeemable, and, if so, the terms and conditions of such redemption, including the date or dates upon or after which they shall be redeemable, and the amount per share payable in case of redemption, which amount may vary under different conditions and at different redemption dates; (ii) whether such shares shall be entitled to receive dividends (which may be cumulative or non-cumulative) and, if so, the rates and conditions of such dividends, including the times at which such dividends are payable, the preferences in relation to the dividends payable on any other class or classes or any other series of the same or any other class or classes of stock, and whether such dividends are payable, in whole or in part, in cash, in additional shares of such class or series, or in any other series of the same or any other class or classes of stock, or in other securities of the Corporation, or in any combination of the foregoing; (iii) the rights of such shares in the event of voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation, and the relative rights of priority, if any, of payment of such shares; (iv) whether such shares shall be convertible into, or exchangeable for, shares of any other class or classes of stock, or of any other series of the same or any other class or classes of stock, or any other securities of the Corporation, and, if so, the terms and conditions of such conversion or exchange, including provision for adjustment of the conversion or exchange rate in such events as the Board of Directors shall determine; (v) whether the class or series shall have a sinking fund for the redemption or purchase of such shares, and, if so, the terms and amount of such sinking fund; and (vi) any other relative rights, preferences or limitations.

D. COMMON STOCK

Except as otherwise provided in this Section or as otherwise required by the Delaware General Corporation Law, all shares of Class A Common Stock, Class B Common Stock and Class C Common Stock shall be identical and shall entitle the holders thereof to the same powers, preferences and rights, and shall be subject to the same qualifications, limitations and restrictions thereof.

1. Voting Rights and Powers. (a) Except as otherwise provided in this Restated Certificate of Incorporation, including without limitation Section E of this Article, with respect to all matters upon which stockholders are entitled to vote, the holders of the outstanding shares of Class A Common Stock shall be entitled to one (1) vote in person or by proxy for each share of Class A Common Stock standing in the name of such stockholders on the record of stockholders, and the holders of the outstanding shares of Class B Common Stock shall be entitled to ten (10) votes in person or by proxy for each share of Class B Common Stock standing in the name of such stockholders on the record of stockholders. Except as otherwise required by Applicable Law or paragraph (b), (c) or (d) below, holders of Class A Common Stock and Class B Common Stock shall vote together as a single class on all matters submitted to the stockholders for a vote, including, notwithstanding the first sentence of Section 242(b)(2) of the Delaware General Corporation Law, any amendment to this Restated Certificate of Incorporation which would increase or decrease the number of authorized shares of Class A Common Stock, Class B Common Stock and Class C Common Stock, subject to any voting rights which may be granted to holders of Preferred Stock. Except as otherwise provided by Applicable Law, holders of Class C Common Stock shall not be entitled to vote on any matters to be voted on by the Corporation's stockholders nor to take any action in meetings with respect to any such matters.

(b) In the election of directors, the holders of Class A Common Stock shall be entitled by class vote, exclusive of all other stockholders, to elect two (2) directors of the Corporation (the "Class A Directors"), with each share of Class A Common Stock entitled to one vote. Any one or more of the Class A Directors may be removed with or without cause only by a vote of the holders of Class A Common Stock holding not less than a majority of the issued and outstanding shares of Class A Common Stock.

(c) Except as set forth in paragraph (b) above, the holders of the Class A Common Stock and the Class B Common Stock, voting as a single class, shall have the right to vote on the election of all directors of the Corporation, with each share of Class A Common Stock being entitled to one (1) vote and each share of Class B Common Stock being entitled to ten (10) votes. Any one or more of the directors (other than the Class A Directors) may be removed with or without cause by a vote of the stockholders holding not less than a majority of the votes entitled to be cast for the election of directors (other than Class A Directors) of the Corporation.

(d) From and after the Final Class B Date, except as otherwise required by Applicable Law and subject to the rights, if any, of any class or series of Preferred Stock from time to time outstanding, with respect to each matter submitted to the vote of the stockholders (including without limitation the election of directors of the Corporation), the holders of the Class A Common Stock voting as a class shall be entitled to determine such matter, with each issued and outstanding share of Class A Common Stock entitled to one (1) vote.

2. Stock Splits, Dividends and Distributions. The Corporation shall not in any manner subdivide (by stock split or otherwise) or combine (by reverse stock split or otherwise), or pay or declare any stock dividend on, the outstanding shares of the Common Stock of any class or series unless the outstanding Common Stock of all the other classes and series shall be proportionately subdivided or combined or the holders thereof shall have received a proportionate dividend. All such subdivisions, combinations and dividends shall be payable only in shares of the respective classes or series to the holders of such classes or series. At any time shares of more than one class of Common Stock are outstanding, as and when dividends or other distributions payable in either cash, capital stock of the Corporation (other than in shares of Class A Common Stock, Class B Common Stock or Class C Common Stock) or other property of the Corporation may be declared by the Board of Directors, the amount of any such dividend or other distribution payable on each share of each class of Common Stock shall in all cases be equal, except that in the event of any such dividend or distribution in which shares (or other securities) of any company (including of any direct or indirect Subsidiary of the Corporation) are distributed, such shares (or other securities) may differ as to voting rights up to the extent that the voting rights of the Class A Common Stock, the Class B Common Stock and the Class C Common Stock differ immediately prior to such dividend or distribution.

3. Consideration on Merger, Consolidation, etc.; Distribution of Assets Upon Liquidation.

In any merger, consolidation or business combination, the consideration to be received per share by the holders of shares of Class A Common Stock, shares of Class B Common Stock and shares of Class C Common Stock shall be identical for each class of stock, except that in any such transaction in which shares of capital stock and/or other securities (including debt securities)

(including without limitation those of a surviving entity, or the direct or indirect parent entity thereof, whether or not such surviving entity is the Corporation) are to be distributed, such shares (or other securities) may differ as to voting rights up to the extent that the voting rights of the Class A Common Stock, the Class B Common Stock and the Class C Common Stock differ immediately prior to such merger, consolidation or business combination.

In the event the Corporation shall be liquidated, dissolved or wound up, whether voluntarily or involuntarily, after there shall have been paid or set aside for the holders of all shares of the Preferred Stock then outstanding the full preferential amounts to which they may be entitled, if any, under the resolutions authorizing the issuance of such Preferred Stock, the net assets of the Corporation remaining thereafter shall be distributed ratably to each share of Class A Common Stock, Class B Common Stock and Class C Common Stock in accordance with the number of shares thereof and without regard to class. For the purposes of this paragraph, neither the merger, consolidation or business combination of the Corporation with or into any other entity in which the stockholders of the Corporation receive capital stock and/or other securities (including debt securities) of the surviving entity (or of the direct or indirect parent entity thereof), nor the sale, lease or transfer by the Corporation of all or any part of its business and assets, nor the reduction of the capital stock of the Corporation, shall be deemed to be a voluntary or involuntary liquidation, dissolution or winding up of the Corporation.

4. Automatic Conversion of Class B Common Stock Upon Non-Permitted Transfer of Class B Common Stock.

No Person holding shares of Class B Common Stock may Transfer, and the Corporation shall not register the Transfer of, any share of Class B Common Stock, except to a Permitted Transferee of the Class B Holder (such transfer being referred to herein as a "Permitted Transfer"). Any purported Transfer of economic, record or beneficial ownership of shares of Class B Common Stock other than in accordance with the terms of this Subsection shall, without any act on the part of the Corporation, the Class B Holder, the transferee or any other Person, result in the conversion of each share of the purportedly transferred shares of Class B Common Stock into one share of Class A Common Stock effective on the date of such purported transfer, and the stock certificates formerly representing such shares of Class B Common Stock shall thereupon and thereafter be deemed to represent such number of shares of Class A Common Stock. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any Class B Holder may pledge its shares of Class B Common Stock to a pledgee pursuant to a bona fide pledge of such shares as collateral security for indebtedness due to the pledgee, provided that such shares shall not be registered in the name of the pledgee and shall remain subject to the provisions of this Subsection. In the event of foreclosure or other similar action with respect to such shares by the pledgee, such pledged shares of Class B Common Stock may only be Transferred to a Permitted Transferee of the pledgor or converted into shares of Class A Common Stock, as the pledgee may elect.

If at any time after the Effective Date, any of the following events shall occur:

(a) A Controlling Number of the trustees of any voting trust that is a Permitted Transferee of a Class B Holder shall cease to be Qualified Persons;

(b) A Controlling Number of the Governing Body of any Charitable Organization that is a Permitted Transferee of a Class B Holder shall cease to be Qualified Persons;

(c) An Entity that first became a Class B Holder as a result of a Permitted Transfer shall thereafter by reason of any transfer of the beneficial ownership of the capital stock or partnership equity or other equity interests of such Entity cease to be a Permitted Transferee of the transferor (and/or his Permitted Transferees) in such Permitted Transfer;

(d) A majority of the shares of capital stock entitled to vote in the election of directors of a corporation or a majority of the partnership equity or other equity interests of a partnership or other Entity entitled to participate in the management of a partnership or other Entity, which in each case was a Permitted Transferee of a Class B Holder as the result of a Permitted Transfer, shall cease to be beneficially owned and controlled by the owners thereof on the first date upon which such corporation, partnership or other Entity was a Permitted Transferee of such owners and/or their Permitted Transferees; or

(e) Any other transferee who at the time of such transfer is a Permitted Transferee, but thereafter shall fail to meet the requirements of a Permitted Transferee, then the Person or Persons referred to in the immediately preceding five (5) paragraphs (each a "Disqualified Transferee") shall immediately give written notice (the "Initial Notice") to the Corporation of such change in status. At any time after receipt of the Initial Notice or otherwise learning of any such change, the Corporation shall give written notice (the "Disqualification Notice") to such Disqualified Transferee that, unless within thirty (30) days of the date of the Disqualification Notice the Disqualified Transferee presents evidence (the "Qualifying Evidence") reasonably satisfactory to the Corporation that it never was, or is no longer, a Disqualified Transferee, then, without any further act of the Corporation, such Disqualified Transferee or any other Person, each share of Class B Common Stock held by such Disqualified Transferee shall be converted into one share of Class A Common Stock effective upon the expiration of such thirty (30) days, and the stock certificates formerly representing the shares of Class B Common Stock held by such Disqualified Transferee shall thereupon and thereafter be deemed to represent such shares of Class A Common Stock. The Corporation, may, in its sole and absolute discretion, conclusively presume (a) in the absence of any Initial Notice from any Class B Holder that such holder is entitled to hold Class B Common Stock, and (b) in the absence of any Qualifying Evidence that the Disqualified Transferee is no longer entitled to hold Class B Common Stock. Each holder of shares of Class B Common Stock agrees to deliver stock certificates representing shares of Class B Common Stock automatically converted pursuant to the provisions of this Section but the failure to deliver such certificates shall not affect the validity of such automatic conversion.

Shares of Class B Common Stock issued upon Transfer to a Permitted Transferee shall be issued to or registered in the names of the beneficial owners thereof and not in "street" or "nominee" names. If there is more than one beneficial owner of such transferred shares of Class B Common Stock, the shares may be registered in the name of one such beneficial owner, provided such registered owner files a certificate with the Corporation identifying the names of all beneficial owners of such shares. The Corporation may, in connection with preparing a list of stockholders entitled to vote at any meeting of stockholders, or as a condition to the transfer or the registration of shares of Class B Common Stock on the Corporation's books, require the furnishing of such affidavits or other proof as it deems necessary to establish that the registered owner of such shares is in fact the beneficial owner of such shares, or to establish the identity of the Economic Owner, as the case may be, of such shares or to establish that any transferee of such shares is a Permitted Transferee of a Class B Holder.

The Corporation shall note on all certificates for shares of Class B Common Stock that the shares represented by such certificates are subject to the restrictions on transfer and registration of transfer imposed by this Subsection.

5. Optional Conversion of Common Stock. At any time after the Effective Date, each fully paid share of Class B Common Stock and each fully paid share of Class C Common Stock shall be convertible at the election of the holder thereof into one share of Class A Common Stock in accordance with and subject to the provisions of this Subsection as follows:

(a) Class B Common Stock into Class A Common Stock. Any holder of shares of Class B Common Stock may, in its sole and absolute discretion, elect to convert any or all of such shares at one time or from time to time by surrendering the certificate representing each share of Class B Common Stock to be converted to the Corporation at its principal executive offices, accompanied by a written notice of the election by the holder thereof to convert and (if so required by the Corporation) by instruments of transfer, in form reasonably satisfactory to the Corporation, duly executed by such holder or his duly authorized attorney, with signature guaranteed (if so required by the Corporation).

(b) Class C Common Stock into Class A Common Stock.

(i) Any holder of shares of Class C Common Stock, other than Chase Equity Associates ("CEA") or any of its Affiliates (individually, a "CEA Holder" and collectively, the "CEA Holders"), may, in its sole and absolute discretion, elect to convert any or all of such shares at one time or from time to time by surrendering the certificate representing each share of Class C Common Stock to be converted to the Corporation at its principal executive offices, accompanied by a written notice of the election by the holder thereof to convert and (if so required by the Corporation) by instruments of transfer, in form reasonably satisfactory to the Corporation, duly executed by such holder or his duly authorized attorney, with signature guaranteed (if so required by the Corporation).

(ii) Upon the occurrence or expected occurrence of a Conversion Event, any CEA Holder may, in its sole and absolute discretion, elect to convert any or all of such shares at one time or from time to time by surrendering the certificate representing each share of Class C Common Stock to be converted to the Corporation at its principal executive offices, accompanied by a written notice of the election by the holder thereof to convert and (if so required by the Corporation) by instruments of transfer, in form reasonably satisfactory to the Corporation, duly executed by such holder or his duly authorized attorney, with signature guaranteed (if so required by the Corporation). Each CEA Holder shall be entitled to convert shares of Class C Common Stock in connection with any Conversion Event if such CEA Holder reasonably believes that such Conversion Event will be consummated, and a written request for conversion from any CEA Holder stating such CEA Holder's reasonable belief that a Conversion Event shall occur shall be conclusive and shall obligate the Corporation to effect such conversion in a timely manner so as to enable each such CEA Holder to participate in such Conversion Event. The Corporation will not cancel the shares of Class C Common Stock so converted before the tenth day following such Conversion Event and will reserve such shares until such tenth day for reissuance in compliance with the next sentence. If any shares of Class C Common Stock are converted into shares of Class A Common Stock in connection with a Conversion Event and such shares of Class A Common Stock are not actually distributed, disposed of or sold pursuant to such Conversion Event, such shares of Class A Common Stock shall be promptly converted back into the same number of shares of Class C Common Stock. Notwithstanding the foregoing, any CEA Holder may convert shares of Class C Common Stock into Class A Common Stock upon approval by the Board of Directors of the Corporation in accordance with applicable law.

(iii) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraphs (i) and (ii) immediately preceding, no such conversion of Class C Common Stock shall be permitted if the Corporation determines, in its reasonable business judgment, that the ownership, or proposed ownership, of shares of stock or other securities of the Corporation (A) would cause the holder or CEA Holder of the shares of Class C Common Stock proposed to be converted to become a Disqualified Person or (B) may be inconsistent with, or in violation of, any Applicable Law or Governmental Authorization.

(c) Issuance of Certificates. The issuance of a certificate or certificates for shares of Class A Common Stock upon conversion of shares of Class B Common Stock or Class C Common Stock shall be made without charge for any stamp or other similar tax in respect of such issuance. However, if any such certificate or certificates are to be issued in a name other than that of the holder of the shares of Class B Common Stock or Class C Common Stock to be converted, the Person requesting the issuance thereof shall pay to the Corporation the amount of any tax which may be payable in respect of any such transfer, or shall establish to the reasonable satisfaction of the Corporation that such tax has been paid or is not so payable. As promptly as practicable after the surrender for conversion of a certificate or certificates representing shares of Class B Common Stock or, except as provided in paragraph (b)(ii) of this Subsection, Class C Common Stock and, if required, payment of any tax as hereinabove provided, the Corporation will deliver to, or upon the written order of, the holder of such certificate or certificates, a certificate or certificates representing the number of shares of Class A Common Stock issuable upon such conversion. Such conversion shall be deemed to have been made immediately prior to the close of business on the date of the surrender of the certificate or certificates representing shares of Class B Common Stock or Class C Common Stock (or, if the transfer books of the Corporation shall be closed on such date, then immediately prior to the close of business on the first date thereafter that said books shall be open), and all rights of such holder arising from ownership of shares of Class B Common Stock or Class C Common Stock shall cease at such time and the Person in whose name the certificate or certificates representing shares of Class A Common Stock are to be issued shall be treated for all purposes as having become the record holder of such shares of Class A Common Stock at such time and shall have and may exercise all the rights and powers appertaining thereto.

6. Reservation of Common Stock upon Conversion of Common Stock. The Corporation shall, at all times, reserve and keep available, solely for the purpose of issuance upon conversion of outstanding shares of Class B Common Stock and Class C Common Stock, such number of shares of Class A Common Stock as may be issuable upon the conversion of all such outstanding shares of Class B Common Stock and Class C Common Stock; provided, however, that the Corporation may deliver shares of Class A Common Stock which are held in the treasury of the Corporation for shares of Class B Common Stock and Class C Common Stock converted. All shares of Class A Common Stock which may be issued upon conversion of shares of Class B Common Stock and Class C Common Stock will, upon issuance, be fully paid and nonassessable. The aggregate amount of stated capital represented by shares of Class A Common Stock issued upon conversion of shares of Class B Common Stock and shares of Class C Common Stock shall be the same as the aggregate amount of stated capital represented by the shares of Class B Common Stock and Class C Common Stock so converted.

E. COMMUNICATIONS ACT RESTRICTIONS

1. Foreign Ownership Limitations. The Corporation shall not issue, or permit the transfer on the books of the Corporation, to any Alien or Aliens, either individually or in the aggregate, of any shares of any class or series of capital stock (or other voting securities) if, after giving effect to such issue or transfer, the foreign ownership or voting levels of the Corporation or any of its subsidiaries would exceed the Foreign Ownership Limitations. No Alien shall be entitled to vote or direct or control the vote of shares of any class or series of capital stock (or other voting securities) of the Corporation in excess of the Foreign Ownership Limitations. The voting rights with respect to any such shares (or other securities) held by Aliens which exceed the Foreign Ownership Limitations shall be forfeited and such shares (or other securities) shall be deemed for all purposes (including without limitation for purposes of determining quorums and whether the requisite percentage of the issued and outstanding shares of any class or series of capital stock (or other voting securities) has voted or consented to a particular action) of this Restated Certificate of Incorporation not to be issued and outstanding.

2. Disqualified Person Determinations. Each stockholder agrees (a) to advise the Corporation promptly if (i) it is or becomes an Alien or a Disqualified Person, or (ii) its ownership or voting levels increase beyond those permitted by Section 310(b)(3) or (4), as applicable, of the Communications Act, and (b) to provide the Corporation promptly with such information as the Corporation may, from time to time, reasonably request to enable the Corporation to determine whether such stockholder is an Alien or a Disqualified Person. In the event the Corporation determines, in its reasonable business judgment, that any stockholder is, or is about to become, a Disqualified Person (a "Disqualified Person Determination"), it shall promptly so advise such stockholder and if, within thirty (30) days, or such shorter period as the Corporation shall require as being in the best interests of the Corporation, such stockholder has not made arrangements reasonably satisfactory to the Corporation to cause such stockholder to no longer be, or likely to be, a Disqualified Person, then the Corporation shall have the right, in its sole and absolute discretion, to effect an Automatic Conversion in accordance with the provisions of Subsection 3 of this Section.

3. Automatic Conversions. In the event the Corporation shall have made a Disqualified Person Determination and the stockholder that is the subject thereof has not made arrangements reasonably satisfactory to the Corporation to cause such stockholder to no longer be a Disqualified Person, then the Corporation shall have the right, in its sole and absolute discretion, if the same would cause such stockholder not to be a Disqualified Person, to convert automatically (an "Automatic Conversion") all, or such number as the Corporation shall specify, of such stockholder's shares of Class B Common Stock into Class C Common Stock, such conversion to become effective, without any further act of the Corporation, such Disqualified Person or any other Person, upon the date specified therefor in a resolution of the Board of Directors or, if no date is specified, upon the adoption of such resolution stating that such shares shall be so converted. Stock certificates formerly representing such shares of Class B Common Stock held by such Disqualified Person shall thereupon and thereafter be deemed to represent such shares of Class C Common Stock, and all rights of such Disqualified Person arising from ownership of shares of Class B Common Stock so converted shall cease at such time and such Disqualified Person in whose name the certificate or certificates representing such shares of Class B Common Stock shall be treated for all purposes as having become the record holder of such shares of Class C Common Stock at such time and shall have and may exercise all the rights and powers appertaining thereto . Each holder of shares of Class B Common Stock agrees to deliver stock certificates representing shares of Class B Common Stock subject to such Automatic Conversion but the failure to deliver such certificates shall not affect the validity of such Automatic Conversion. Upon such surrender, such Disqualified Person shall be entitled to a certificate or certificates for shares of Class C Common Stock without charge for any stamp or other similar taxes in respect of such issuance. However, if any such certificate or certificates are to be issued in a name other than that of the holder of the shares of Class B Common Stock subject to such Automatic Conversion, such Disqualified Person shall pay to the Corporation the amount of any tax which may be payable in respect of any such transfer, or shall establish to the reasonable satisfaction of the Corporation that such tax has been paid or is not so payable. As promptly as practicable after such surrender and, if required, payment of any tax as hereinabove provided, the Corporation will deliver to, or upon the written order of, such Disqualified Person, a certificate or certificates representing the number of shares of Class C Common Stock issuable upon such Automatic Conversion.

The Board of Directors of the Corporation shall have all power and authority necessary or advisable to implement the provisions of this Section. The certificates representing shares of capital stock (or other securities) of the Corporation shall contain a legend referring to such provisions.

SECTION 2. Other Offices. The Corporation may also have offices at such other places, within or without the State of Delaware, as the Board of Directors may from time to time appoint or the business of the Corporation may require.

ARTICLE II

SEAL

The seal of the Corporation shall, subject to alteration by the Board of Directors, consist of a flat-faced circular die with the word "Delaware", together with the name of the Corporation and the year of incorporation, cut or engraved thereon.

ARTICLE III

MEETINGS OF STOCKHOLDERS

SECTION 1. Place of Meeting. Meetings of the stockholders shall be held either within or without the State of Delaware at such place as the Board of Directors may fix from time to time.

SECTION 2. Annual Meetings. The annual meeting of stockholders shall be held for the election of directors on such date and at such time as the Board of Directors may fix from time to time. Any other proper business may be transacted at the annual meeting.

SECTION 3. Special Meetings. Special meetings of the stockholders for any purpose or purposes may be called by the Chairman of the Board of Directors, if there be one, the President or by the directors (either by written instrument signed by a majority or by resolution adopted by a vote of the majority), and special meetings shall be called by the President or the Secretary whenever stockholders owning a majority of the capital stock issued, outstanding and entitled to vote so request in writing. Such request of stockholders shall state the purpose or purposes of the proposed meeting.

SECTION 4. Notice. Written or printed notice of every meeting of stockholders, annual or special, stating the hour, date and place thereof, and the purpose or purposes in general terms for which the meeting is called shall, not less than ten (10) days, or such longer period as shall be provided by law, the Certificate of Incorporation, these By-Laws, or otherwise, and not more than sixty (60) days before such meeting, be served upon or mailed to each stockholder entitled to vote thereat, at the address of such stockholder as it appears upon the stock records of the Corporation or, if such stockholder shall have filed with the Secretary of the Corporation a written request that notices be mailed to some other address, then to the address designated in such request.

Notice of the hour, date, place and purpose of any meeting of stockholders may be dispensed with if every stockholder entitled to vote thereat shall attend either in person or by proxy and shall not, at the beginning of the meeting, object to the holding of such meeting because the meeting has not been lawfully called or convened, or if every absent stockholder entitled to such notice shall in writing, filed with the records of the meeting, either before or after the holding thereof, waive such notice.

SECTION 5. Quorum and Adjournments. Except as otherwise provided by law or by the Certificate of Incorporation, the presence in person or by proxy at any meeting of stockholders of the holders of a majority of the shares of the capital stock of the Corporation issued and outstanding and entitled to vote thereat, shall be requisite and shall constitute a quorum. If two or more classes of stock are entitled to vote as separate classes upon any question, then, in the case of each such class, a quorum for the consideration of such question shall, except as otherwise provided by law or by the Certificate of Incorporation, consist of a majority in interest of all stock of that class issued, outstanding and entitled to vote. If a majority of the shares of capital stock of the Corporation issued and outstanding and entitled to vote thereat or, where a larger quorum is required, such quorum, shall not be represented at any meeting of the stockholders regularly called, the holders of a majority of the shares present or represented by proxy and entitled to vote thereat shall have power to adjourn the meeting to another time, or to another time and place, without notice other than announcement of adjournment at the meeting, and there may be successive adjournments for like cause and in like manner until the requisite amount of shares entitled to vote at such meeting shall be represented; provided, however, that if the adjournment is for more than thirty (30) days, notice of the hour, date and place of the adjourned meeting shall be given to each stockholder entitled to vote thereat. Subject to the requirements of law and the Certificate of Incorporation, on any issue on which two or more classes of stock are entitled to vote separately, no adjournment shall be taken with respect to any class for which a quorum is present unless the Chairman of the meeting otherwise directs. At any meeting held to consider matters which were subject to adjournment for want of a quorum at which the requisite amount of shares entitled to vote thereat shall be represented, any business may be transacted which might have been transacted at the meeting as originally noticed.

SECTION 6. Votes; Proxies. Except as otherwise provided in the Certificate of Incorporation, at each meeting of stockholders, every stockholder of record at the closing of the transfer books, if closed, or on the date set by the Board of Directors for the determination of stockholders entitled to vote at such meeting, shall have one vote for each share of stock entitled to vote which is registered in such stockholder's name on the books of the Corporation, and, in the election of directors, may vote cumulatively to the extent, if any, and in the manner authorized in the Certificate of Incorporation.

At each such meeting every stockholder entitled to vote shall be entitled to do so in person, or by proxy appointed by an instrument in writing or as otherwise permitted by law subscribed by such stockholder and bearing a date not more than three (3) years prior to the meeting in question, unless said instrument provides for a longer period during which it is to remain in force. A duly executed proxy shall be irrevocable if it states that it is irrevocable and if, and only as long as, it is coupled with an interest sufficient in law to support an irrevocable power. A proxy may be made irrevocable regardless of whether the interest with which it is coupled is an interest in the stock itself or any interest in the Corporation generally. A stockholder may revoke any proxy which is not irrevocable by attending the meeting and voting in person or by filing with the Secretary of the Corporation an instrument in writing or as otherwise permitted by law revoking the proxy or another duly executed proxy bearing a later date.

Voting at meetings of stockholders need not be by written ballot and, except as otherwise provided by law, need not be conducted by inspectors of election unless so determined by the Chairman of the meeting or by the holders of shares of stock having a majority of the votes which could be cast by the holders of all outstanding shares of stock entitled to vote thereon which are present in person or represented by proxy at such meeting. If it is required or determined that inspectors of election be appointed, the Chairman shall appoint two inspectors of election, who shall first take and subscribe an oath or affirmation faithfully to execute the duties of inspectors at such meeting with strict impartiality and according to the best of their ability. The inspectors so appointed shall take charge of the polls and, after the balloting, shall make a certificate of the result of the vote taken. No director or candidate for the office of director shall be appointed as such inspector.

At any meeting at which a quorum is present, a plurality of the votes properly cast for election to fill any vacancy on the Board of Directors shall be sufficient to elect a candidate to fill such vacancy, and a majority of the votes properly cast upon any other question shall decide the question, except in any case where a larger vote is required by law, the Certificate of Incorporation, these By-Laws, or otherwise.

SECTION 7. Organization. The Chairman of the Board, if there be one, or in his or her absence the Vice Chairman, or in the absence of a Vice Chairman, the President, or in the absence of the President, a Vice President, shall call meetings of the stockholders to order and shall act as chairman thereof. The Secretary of the Corporation, if present, shall act as secretary of all meetings of stockholders, and, in his or her absence, the presiding officer may appoint a secretary.

SECTION 8. Consent of Stockholders in Lieu of Meeting. Unless otherwise restricted by the Certificate of Incorporation, any action required or permitted by the Delaware General Corporation Law to be taken at any annual or special meeting of the stockholders of the Corporation, may be taken without a meeting, without prior notice and without a vote, if a consent or consents in writing, setting forth the action so taken, shall be signed by the holders of outstanding stock having not less than the minimum number of votes that would be necessary to authorize or take such action at a meeting at which all shares entitled to vote thereon were present and voted and shall be delivered to the Corporation by delivery to its registered office in Delaware, its principal place of business, or an officer or agent of the Corporation having custody of the book in which proceedings of meetings of stockholders are recorded. Delivery made to the Corporation's registered office shall be by hand or by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested.

Every written consent shall bear the date of signature of each stockholder who signs the consent and no written consent shall be effective to take the corporate action referred to therein unless, within sixty (60) days of the earliest dated consent delivered in the manner required by this section to the Corporation, written consents signed by a sufficient number of stockholders to take action are delivered to the corporation by delivery to its registered office in Delaware, its principal place of business, or an officer or agent of the Corporation having custody of the book in which proceedings of meetings of stockholders are recorded. Delivery made to the Corporation's registered office shall be by hand or by certified or registered mail, return receipt requested.

Prompt notice of the taking of the corporate action without a meeting by less than unanimous written consent shall be given to those stockholders who have not consented in writing. In the event that the action which is consented to is such as would have required the filing of a certificate under any section of the Delaware General Corporation Law other than Section 228 thereof, if such action had been voted on by stockholders at a meeting thereof, the certificate filed under such other section shall state, in lieu of any statement required by such section concerning any vote of stockholders, that written consent has been given in accordance with Section 228 of the Delaware General Corporation Law, and that written notice has been given as provided in such Section 228.

ARTICLE IV

SECTION 1. Number. The business and affairs of the Corporation shall be conducted and managed by a Board of Directors consisting of not less than one director, none of whom needs to be a stockholder. The number of directors for each year shall be fixed at each annual meeting of stockholders, but if the number is not so fixed, the number shall remain as it stood immediately prior to such meeting.

At each annual meeting of stockholders, the stockholders shall elect directors. Each director so elected shall hold office, subject to the provisions of law, the Certificate of Incorporation, these By-Laws, or otherwise, until the next annual meeting of stockholders or until his or her successor is elected and qualified.

SECTION 3. Vacancies. If any vacancy shall occur among the directors, or if the number of directors shall at any time be increased, the directors then in office, although less than a quorum, by a majority vote may fill the vacancies or newly- created directorships, or any such vacancies or newly-created directorships may be filled by the stockholders at any meeting.

SECTION 4. Removal by Stockholders. CERTIFICATES OF STOCK

SECTION 1. Form and Execution of Certificates. The interest of each stockholder of the Corporation shall be evidenced by a certificate or certificates for shares of stock in such form as the Board of Directors may from time to time prescribe. The certificates of stock of each class shall be consecutively numbered and signed by the Chairman of the Board, the Vice Chairman of the Board, if any, the President, an Executive Vice President or a Vice President and by the Secretary, an Assistant Secretary, the Treasurer or an Assistant Treasurer of the Corporation, and may be countersigned and registered in such manner as the Board of Directors may by resolution prescribe, and shall bear the corporate seal or a printed or engraved facsimile thereof. Where any such certificate is signed by a transfer agent or transfer clerk acting on behalf of the Corporation, the signatures of any such Chairman, Vice Chairman, President, Executive Vice President, Vice President, Treasurer, Assistant Treasurer, Secretary or Assistant Secretary may be facsimiles, engraved or printed. In case any officer or officers, who shall have signed, or whose facsimile signature or signatures shall have been used on, any such certificate or certificates, shall cease to be such officer or officers, whether because of death, resignation or otherwise, before such certificate or certificates shall have been delivered by the Corporation, such certificate or certificates may nevertheless be issued and delivered by the Corporation as though the person or persons who signed such certificate or certificates or whose facsimile signature or signatures shall have been used thereon had not ceased to be such officer or officers.

In case the corporate seal which has been affixed to, impressed on, or reproduced in any such certificate or certificates shall cease to be the seal of the Corporation before such certificate or certificates have been delivered by the Corporation, such certificate or certificates may nevertheless be issued and delivered by the Corporation as though the seal affixed thereto, impressed thereon or reproduced therein had not ceased to be the seal of the Corporation.

Every certificate for shares of stock which are subject to any restriction on transfer pursuant to law, the Certificate of Incorporation, these By-Laws, or any agreement to which the Corporation is a party, shall have the restriction noted conspicuously on the certificate, and shall also set forth, on the face or back, either the full text of the restriction or a statement of the existence of such restriction and (except if such restriction is imposed by law) a statement that the Corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

Every certificate issued when the Corporation is authorized to issue more than one class or series of stock shall set forth on its face or back either the full text of the preferences, voting powers, qualifications, and special and relative rights of the shares of each class and series authorized to be issued, or a statement of the existence of such preferences, powers, qualifications and rights, and a statement that the Corporation will furnish a copy thereof to the holder of such certificate upon written request and without charge.

SECTION 2. Transfer of Shares. The shares of the stock of the Corporation shall be transferred on the books of the Corporation by the holder thereof in person or by his or her attorney lawfully constituted, upon surrender for cancellation of certificates for the same number of shares, with an assignment and power of transfer endorsed thereon or attached thereto, duly executed, with such proof or guaranty of the authenticity of the signature as the Corporation or its agents may reasonably require. The Corporation shall be entitled to treat the holder of record of any share or shares of stock as the holder in fact thereof and accordingly shall not be bound to recognize any equitable or other claim to or interest in such share or shares on the part of any other person whether or not it shall have express or other notice thereof, save as expressly provided by law or by the Certificate of Incorporation. It shall be the duty of each stockholder to notify the Corporation of his or her post office address.

SECTION 3. Closing of Transfer Books. The stock transfer books of the Corporation may, if deemed appropriate by the Board of Directors, be closed for such length of time not exceeding fifty (50) days as the Board may determine, preceding the date of any meeting of stockholders or the date for the payment of any dividend or the date for the allotment of rights or the date when any issuance, change, conversion or exchange of capital stock shall go into effect, during which time no transfer of stock on the books of the Corporation may be made.

SECTION 4. Fixing Date for Determination of Stockholders of Record. In order that the Corporation may determine the stockholders entitled to notice of or to vote at any meeting of stockholders or any adjournment thereof, or to express consent to corporate action in writing without a meeting, or entitled to receive payment of any dividend or other distribution or allotment of any rights, or entitled to exercise any rights in respect of any change, conversion or exchange of stock or for the purpose of any other lawful action, the Board of Directors may fix a record date, which record date shall not precede the date upon which the resolution fixing the record date is adopted by the Board of Directors and which record date: (a) in the case of determination of stockholders entitled to vote at any meeting of stockholders or adjournment thereof, shall, unless otherwise required by law, the Certificate of Incorporation or otherwise, not be more than sixty (60) nor less than ten (10) days before the date of such meeting; (b) in the case of determination of stockholders entitled to express consent to corporate action in writing without a meeting, shall, unless otherwise required by law, the Certificate of Incorporation or otherwise, not be more than ten (10) days from the date upon which the resolution fixing the record date is adopted by the Board of Directors; and (c) in the case of any other action, shall not be more than sixty (60) days prior to such other action. If no record date is fixed: (a) the record date for determining stockholders entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting of stockholders shall be at the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which notice is given, or, if notice is waived, at the close of business on the day next preceding the day on which the meeting is held; (b) the record date for determining stockholders entitled to express consent to corporate action in writing without a meeting when no prior action of the Board of Directors is required by law, shall be the first date on which a signed written consent setting forth the action taken or proposed to be taken is delivered to the Corporation in accordance with applicable law, or, if prior action by the Board of Directors is required by law, shall be at the close of business on the day on which the Board of Directors adopts the resolution taking such prior action; and (c) the record date for determining stockholders for any other purpose shall be at the close of business on the day on which the Board of Directors adopts the resolution relating thereto. A determination of stockholders of record entitled to notice of or to vote at a meeting of stockholders shall apply to any adjournment of the meeting; provided, however, that the Board of Directors may fix a new record date for the adjourned meeting.

SECTION 5. Lost or Destroyed Certificates. In case of the loss or destruction of any certificate of stock, a new certificate may be issued under the following conditions:

(a) The owner of said certificate shall file with the Secretary or any Assistant Secretary of the Corporation an affidavit giving the facts in relation to the ownership, and in relation to the loss or destruction of said certificate, stating its number and the number of shares represented thereby; such affidavit shall be in such form and contain such statements as shall satisfy the President, any Executive Vice President, Vice President, the Secretary, any Assistant Secretary, the Treasurer or any Assistant Treasurer, that said certificate has been accidentally destroyed or lost, and that a new certificate ought to be issued in lieu thereof. Upon being so satisfied, any such officer may require such owner to furnish the Corporation a bond in such penal sum and in such form as he or she may deem advisable, and with a surety or sureties approved by him or her, to indemnify and save harmless the Corporation from any claim, loss, damage or liability which may be occasioned by the issuance of a new certificate in lieu thereof. Upon such bond being so filed, if so required, a new certificate for the same number of shares shall be issued to the owner of the certificate so lost or destroyed; and the transfer agent and registrar, if any, of stock shall countersign and register such new certificate upon receipt of a written order signed by any such officer, and thereupon the Corporation will save harmless said transfer agent and registrar in the premises. In case of the surrender of the original certificate, in lieu of which a new certificate has been issued, or the surrender of such new certificate, for cancellation, the bond of indemnity given as a condition of the issue of such new certificate may be surrendered; or

(b) The Board of Directors of the Corporation may by resolution authorize and direct any transfer agent or registrar of stock of the Corporation to issue and register respectively from time to time without further action or approval by or on behalf of the Corporation new certificates of stock to replace certificates reported lost, stolen or destroyed upon receipt of an affidavit of loss and bond of indemnity in form and amount and with surety satisfactory to such transfer agent or registrar in each instance or upon such terms and conditions as the Board of Directors may determine.

SECTION 6. Uncertificated Shares. The Board of Directors of the Corporation may by resolution provide that one or more of any or all classes or series of the stock of the Corporation shall be uncertificated shares, subject to the provisions of Section 158 of the Delaware General Corporation Law.

ARTICLE VIII

SECTION 1. Execution of Checks, Notes, etc. All checks and drafts on the Corporation's bank accounts and all bills of exchange and promissory notes, and all acceptances, obligations and other instruments for the payment of money, shall be signed by such officer or officers, or agent or agents, as shall be thereunto authorized from time to time by the Board of Directors, which may in its discretion authorize any such signatures to be facsimile.

SECTION 2. Execution of Contracts, Assignments, etc. Unless the Board of Directors shall have otherwise provided generally or in a specific instance, all contracts, agreements, endorsements, assignments, transfers, stock powers, or other instruments shall be signed by the President, any Executive Vice President, any Vice President, the Secretary, any Assistant Secretary, the Treasurer or any Assistant Treasurer. The Board of Directors may, however, in its discretion, require any or all such instruments to be signed by any two or more of such officers, or may permit any or all of such instruments to be signed by such other officer or officers, agent or agents, as it shall be thereunto authorize from time to time.

Any by-law, whether made, altered, amended, changed or repealed by the stockholders or the Board of Directors may be repealed, amended, changed, further amended, changed, repealed or reinstated, as the case may be, either by the stockholders or by the Board of Directors, as herein provided; except that this Article may be altered, amended, changed or repealed only by vote of the stockholders.

ARTICLE XII

INDEMNIFICATION

SECTION 1. Indemnification. (a) The Corporation shall indemnify and hold harmless, to the fullest extent permitted by applicable law as it presently exists or may hereafter be amended, any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party or is otherwise involved in any threatened, pending or completed action, suit or proceeding, whether civil, criminal, administrative or investigative (other than an action by or in the right of the Corporation) by reason of the fact that he, or a person for whom he is the legal representative, is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the Corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the Corporation as a director, officer, partner, member, trustee, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, limited liability company, trust or other enterprise or non-profit entity against all liability, losses, expenses (including attorneys' fees), judgments, fines, and amounts paid in settlement actually and reasonably incurred by him in connection with such action, suit or proceeding if he acted in good faith and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interest of the Corporation, and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, had no reasonable cause to believe his conduct was unlawful. The termination of any action, suit or proceeding by judgment, order, settlement, conviction, or upon a plea of nolo contendere or its equivalent, shall not, of itself, create a presumption that the person did not act in good faith and in a manner which he reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interest of the Corporation, and, with respect to any criminal action or proceeding, had reasonable cause to believe that his conduct was unlawful.

(b) The Corporation shall indemnify any person who was or is a party or is threatened to be made a party to any threatened, pending or completed action or suit by or in the right of the Corporation to procure a judgment in its favor by reason of the fact that he is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the Corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the Corporation as a director, officer, partner, member, trustee, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, limited liability company, trust or other enterprise or non-profit entity against expenses (including attorneys' fees) actually and reasonably incurred by him in connection with the defense or settlement of such action or suit if he acted in good faith and in a manner he reasonably believed to be in or not opposed to the best interests of the Corporation; except that no indemnification shall be made in respect of any claim, issue or matter as to which such person shall have been adjudged to be liable for negligence or misconduct in the performance of his duty to the Corporation unless and only to the extent that the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware or the court in which such action or suit was brought shall determine upon application that despite the adjudication of liability but in view of all the circumstances of the case, such person is fairly and reasonably entitled to indemnity for such expenses which the Court of Chancery of the State of Delaware or such other court shall deem proper.

(c) To the extent that a present or former director or officer referred to in paragraphs (a) or (b) has been successful on the merits or otherwise in defense of any action, suit or proceeding referred to therein, or in defense of any claim, issue or matter therein, such person shall be indemnified against expenses (including attorneys' fees) actually and reasonably incurred by such person in connection therewith.

SECTION 2. Authorization. Any indemnification under Section 1 of this Article (unless ordered by a court) shall be made by the Corporation only as authorized in the specific case upon a determination that indemnification of the director, officer, partner, member, trustee, employee or agent is proper in the circumstances because such person has met the applicable standard of conduct set forth in Section 1 of this Article. Such determination shall be made: (a) by the Board of Directors by a majority vote of a quorum consisting of directors who were not parties to such action, suit or proceeding, or (b) if such a quorum is not obtainable, or, even if obtainable, a quorum of disinterested directors so directs, by independent legal counsel in written opinion, or (c) by the stockholders.

SECTION 3. Expense Advance. Expenses (including attorneys' fees) incurred by an officer or director of the Corporation in defending any civil, criminal, administrative or investigative action, suit or proceeding may be paid by the Corporation in advance of the final disposition of such action, suit or proceeding as authorized by the Board of Directors in the manner provided in Section 2 of this Article upon receipt of an undertaking by or on behalf of such officer or director to repay such amount, unless it shall ultimately be determined that such person is entitled to be indemnified by the Corporation as authorized in this Article. Such expenses (including attorneys' fees) incurred by other employees or agents of the Corporation may be so paid upon such terms and conditions, if any, as the Board of Directors deems appropriate.

SECTION 4. Nonexclusivity. The indemnification and advancement of expenses provided by, or granted pursuant to, the other Sections of this Article shall not be deemed exclusive of any other rights to which those seeking indemnification or advancement of expenses may be entitled under any statute, by-law, agreement, vote of stockholders or disinterested directors or otherwise, both as to action in an official capacity and as to action in another capacity while holding such office, and shall continue as to a person who has ceased to be a director, officer, partner, member, trustee, employee or agent and shall inure to the benefit of the heirs, executors and administrators of such a person.

SECTION 5. Insurance. The Corporation shall have power to purchase and maintain insurance on behalf of any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of the Corporation, or is or was serving at the request of the Corporation as a director, officer, partner, member, trustee, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, limited liability company, trust or other enterprise or non-profit entity against any liability asserted against and incurred by him or her in any such capacity, or arising out of his or her status as such, whether or not the Corporation would have the power to indemnify such person against such liability under the provisions of this Article or Section 145 of the Delaware General Corporation Law.

SECTION 6. "The Corporation". For the purposes of this Article, references to "the Corporation" shall include the resulting corporation and, to the extent that the Board of Directors of the resulting corporation so decides, all constituent corporations (including any constituent of a constituent) absorbed in a consolidation or merger which, if its separate existence had continued, would have had power and authority to indemnify its directors, officers and employees or agents so that any person who is or was a director, officer, employee or agent of such a constituent corporation or is or was serving at the request of such constituent corporation as director, officer, partner, member, trustee, employee or agent of another corporation, partnership, joint venture, limited liability company, trust or other enterprise or non-profit entity shall stand in the same position under the provisions of this Article with respect to the resulting or surviving corporation if its separate existence had continued.

SECTION 7. Other Indemnification. Ladies and Gentlemen:

The following opinion is filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") as Exhibit 8 to the registration statement on Form S-4 (the "Registration Statement") filed by American Tower Systems Corporation ("Tower") under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended (the "Securities Act") with respect to the offering of Tower common stock pursuant to the Amended and Restated Agreement and Plan of Merger, dated December 18, 1997, and as may be amended from time to time, by and among American Radio Systems Corporation ("Radio"), CBS Corporation, and R Acquisition Corp.

We have acted as counsel for Tower and for Radio in connection with the preparation of the Registration Statement, and we have examined originals or copies, certified or otherwise identified to our satisfaction, of the Registration Statement, corporate records, certificates and statements of officers and accountants of Radio and Tower and of public officials, and such other documents as we have considered relevant and necessary in order to furnish the opinion hereinafter set forth. Specifically, and without limiting the generality of the foregoing, we have reviewed Radio's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 1996, as amended (the "Annual Report"), filed under the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended. With respect to all questions of fact on which the opinion set forth below is based, we have assumed the accuracy and completeness of and have relied on the information set forth in the Annual Report and in the Registration Statement, and in the documents incorporated therein by reference, and on representations made to us by the officers of Radio. We have not independently verified such information; nothing has come to our attention, however, which would lead us to believe that we are not entitled to rely on such information.

The opinion set forth below is based upon the Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, the Treasury Regulations issued thereunder, published administrative interpretations thereof, and judicial decisions with respect thereto, all as of the date hereof (collectively, the "Tax Laws"). No assurance can be given that the Tax Laws will not change. In preparing the discussions with respect to Tax Laws matters in the sections of the Registration Statement captioned "The Merger and Tower Separation--Certain Federal Income Tax Consequences of Merger and Tower Merger" and "The Merger and Tower Separation--Certain Federal Income Tax Consequences of ATC Merger," we have made certain assumptions and expressed certain conditions and qualifications therein, all of which assumptions, conditions and qualifications are incorporated herein by reference.

Based upon and subject to the foregoing, we are of the opinion that the discussions with respect to Tax Laws matters in the sections of the Registration Statement captioned "The Merger and Tower Separation--Certain Federal Income Tax Consequences of Merger and Tower Merger" and "The Merger and Tower Separation--Certain Federal Income Tax Consequences of ATC Merger," in all material respects are accurate and fairly summarize the material Tax Laws consequences with respect to the transactions discussed in said sections, and hereby confirm that the opinions of counsel referred to in said sections represent our opinions on the subject matter thereof.

This opinion is intended solely for the benefit and use of Radio and Tower and their respective stockholders, and it is not to be used, released, quoted, or relied upon by anyone else for any purpose (other than as required by law) without our prior written consent. We hereby consent to the filing of this opinion as an exhibit to the Registration Statement and to the reference to our firm therein under the captions "The Merger and Tower Separation--Certain Federal Income Tax Consequences of Merger and Tower Merger" and "The Merger and Tower Separation--Certain Federal Income Tax Consequences of ATC Merger." In giving such consent, we do not thereby admit that we come within the category of persons whose consent is required under Section 7 of the Securities Act or under the rules and regulations of the SEC promulgated thereunder.

Very truly yours,

Any Advance under the Commitment shall, at the option of the Borrower, be made as a Base Rate Advance or a LIBOR Advance; provided, however, that at such time as there shall have occurred and be continuing a Default hereunder, the Borrower shall not have the right to receive a LIBOR Advance. given to the Administrative Agent prior to 11:00 a.m. (New York time) in order for such Business Day to count toward the minimum number of Business Days required.

(ii) Repayments and Reborrowings. At least three (3) Business Days prior to the Payment Date for each LIBOR Advance, the Borrower shall give the Administrative Agent telephonic notice followed by written notice specifying whether all or a portion of such LIBOR Advance (A) is to be repaid and then reborrowed in whole or in part as one or more LIBOR Advances, (B) is to be repaid and then reborrowed in whole or in part as a Base Rate Advance, or (C) is to be repaid and not reborrowed. Upon such Payment Date such LIBOR Advance will, subject to the provisions hereof, be so repaid and, as applicable, reborrowed.

(d) Notification of Banks. Upon receipt of a Request for Advance, or a notice from the Borrower with respect to any outstanding Advance prior to the Payment Date for such Advance, the Administrative Agent shall promptly but no later than the close of business on the day of such notice notify each Bank by telephone or telecopy of the contents thereof and the amount of such Bank's portion of the Advance. available to the Borrower on such date a corresponding amount. If and to the extent the Bank does not make such ratable portion available to the Administrative Agent, such Bank agrees to repay to the Administrative Agent on demand such corresponding amount together with interest thereon, for each day from the date such amount is made available to the Borrower until the date such amount is repaid to the Administrative Agent, at the Federal Funds Rate.

(iii) If such Bank shall repay to the Administrative Agent such corresponding amount, such amount so repaid shall constitute such Bank's portion of the applicable Advance for purposes of this Agreement. If such Bank does not repay such corresponding amount immediately upon the Administrative Agent's demand therefor, the Administrative Agent shall notify the Borrower and the Borrower shall immediately pay such corresponding amount to the Administrative Agent, with interest at the Federal Funds Rate. The failure of any Bank to fund its portion of any Advance shall not relieve any other Bank of its obligation, if any, hereunder to fund its respective portion of the Advance on the date of such borrowing, but no Bank shall be responsible for any such failure of any other Bank.

(iv) In the event that, at any time when the Borrower is not in Default and has otherwise satisfied each of the conditions in Section 3.2 hereof, a Bank for any reason fails or refuses to fund its portion of an Advance and such failure shall continue for a period in excess of thirty (30) days, then, until such time as such Bank has funded its portion of such Advance (which late funding shall not absolve such Bank from any liability it may have to the Borrower), or all other Banks have received payment in full from the Borrower (whether by repayment or prepayment) or otherwise of the principal and interest due in respect of such Advance, such non-funding Bank shall not have the right (A) to vote regarding any issue on which voting is required or advisable under this Agreement or any other Loan Document, and such Bank's portion of the Loans shall not be counted as outstanding for purposes of determining "Majority Banks" hereunder, and (B) to receive payments of principal, interest or fees from the Borrower, the Administrative Agent or the other Banks in respect of its portion of the Loans.

Any prepayment hereunder shall be in amounts of not less than $500,000 and in integral multiples of $100,000.

(b) Repayments.

(i) Loans in Excess of Commitment. If, at any time, the amount of the Loans then outstanding shall exceed the Available Commitment, the Borrower shall, on such date and subject to Sections 2.10 and 2.11 hereof, make a repayment of the principal amount of the Loans in an amount equal to such excess, together with any accrued interest and fees with respect thereto.

Each Bank which opens such a loan account shall debit such loan account for the principal amount of its portion of each Advance made by it and accrued interest thereon, and shall credit such loan account for each payment on account of principal of or interest on its Loans. The records of a Bank with respect to the loan account maintained by it shall be prima facie evidence of its portion of the Loans and accrued interest thereon absent manifest error, but the failure of any Bank to make any such notations or any error or mistake in such notations shall not affect the Borrower's repayment obligations with respect to such Loans.

Section 2.9 Manner of Payment.

(a) Each payment (including any prepayment) by the Borrower on account of the principal of or interest on the Loans, commitment fees and any other amount owed to the Banks or the Administrative Agent or any of them under this Agreement or the Notes shall be made not later than 1:00 p.m. (New York time) on the date specified for payment under this Agreement to the Administrative Agent at the Administrative Agent's Office, for the account of the Banks or the Administrative Agent, as the case may be, in lawful money of the United States of America in immediately available funds. Any payment received by the Administrative Agent after 1:00 p.m. (New York time) shall be deemed received on the next Business Day. Receipt by the Administrative Agent of any payment intended for any Bank or Banks hereunder prior to 1:00 p.m. (New York time) on any Business Day shall be deemed to constitute receipt by such Bank or Banks on such Business Day. In the case of a payment for the account of a Bank, the Administrative Agent will promptly, but no later than the close of business on the date such payment is deemed received, thereafter distribute the amount so received in like funds to such Bank. If the Administrative Agent shall not have received any payment from the Borrower as and when due, the Administrative Agent will promptly notify the Banks accordingly. In the event that the Administrative Agent shall fail to make distribution to any Bank as required under this Section 2.9, the Administrative Agent agrees to pay such Bank interest from the date such payment was due until paid at the Federal Funds Rate.

(b) The Borrower agrees to pay principal, interest, fees and all other amounts due hereunder or under the Notes without set-off or counterclaim or any deduction whatsoever.

(c) Prior to the declaration of an Event of Default under Section 8.2 hereof, if some but less than all amounts due from the Borrower are received by the Administrative Agent with respect to the Obligations, the Administrative Agent shall distribute such amounts in the following order of priority, all on a pro rata basis to the Banks: (i) to the payment on a pro rata basis of any fees or expenses then due and payable to the Administrative Agent or the Banks, or any of them; (ii) to the payment of interest then due and payable on the Loans; (iii) to the payment of all other amounts not otherwise referred to in this Section 2.9(c) then due and payable to the Administrative Agent or the Banks, or any of them, hereunder or under the Notes or any other Loan Document; and (iv) to the payment of principal then due and payable on the Loans.

(d) Subject to any contrary provisions in the definition of Interest Period, if any payment under this Agreement or any of the other Loan Documents is specified to be made on a day which is not a Business Day, it shall be made on the next Business Day, and such extension of time shall in such case be included in computing interest and fees, if any, in connection with such payment.

Section 2.10 Reimbursement.

(a) Whenever any Bank shall sustain or incur any losses or reasonable out-of-pocket expenses in connection with (i) failure by the Borrower to borrow any LIBOR Advance after having given notice of its intention to borrow in accordance with Section 2.2 hereof (whether by reason of the Borrower's election not to proceed or the non-fulfillment of any of the conditions set forth in Article 3), or (ii) prepayment (or failure to prepay after giving notice thereof) of any LIBOR Advance in whole or in part for any reason, the Borrower agrees to pay to such Bank, upon such Bank's demand, an amount sufficient to compensate such Bank for all such losses and out-of-pocket expenses. Such Bank's good faith determination of the amount of such losses or out-of-pocket expenses, as set forth in writing and accompanied by calculations in reasonable detail demonstrating the basis for its demand, shall be presumptively correct absent manifest error.

(b) Losses subject to reimbursement hereunder shall include, without limiting the generality of the foregoing, lost margins, expenses incurred by any Bank or any participant of such Bank permitted hereunder in connection with the re-employment of funds prepaid, paid, repaid, not borrowed, or not paid, as the case may be, and will be payable whether the Maturity Date is changed by virtue of an amendment hereto (unless such amendment expressly waives such payment) or as a result of acceleration of the Obligations.

Section 2.11 Pro Rata Treatment.

(a) Advances. Each Advance from the Banks hereunder, shall be made pro rata on the basis of the respective Commitment Ratios of the Banks.

(b) Payments. Each payment and prepayment of principal of the Loans, and, except as provided in Section 2.2(e) and Article 10 hereof, each payment of interest on the Loans, shall be made to the Banks pro rata on the basis of their respective unpaid principal amounts outstanding under the Notes immediately prior to such payment or prepayment. If any Bank shall obtain any payment (whether involuntary, through the exercise of any right of set-off, or otherwise) on account of the Loans in excess of its ratable share of the Loans under its Commitment Ratio, such Bank shall forthwith purchase from the other Banks such participations in the portion of the Loans made by them as shall be necessary to cause such purchasing Bank to share the excess payment ratably with each of them; provided, however, that if all or any portion of such excess payment is thereafter recovered from such purchasing Bank, such purchase from each Bank shall be rescinded and such Bank shall repay to the purchasing Bank the purchase price to the extent of such recovery. The Borrower agrees that any Bank so purchasing a participation from another Bank pursuant to this Section 2.11(b) may, to the fullest extent permitted by law, exercise all its rights of payment (including the right of set-off) with respect to such participation as fully as if such Bank were the direct creditor of the Borrower in the amount of such participation.

Section 2.12 Capital Adequacy. If after the date hereof, the adoption of any Applicable Law regarding the capital adequacy of banks or bank holding companies, or any change in Applicable Law (whether adopted before or after the Agreement Date) or any change in the interpretation or administration thereof by any governmental authority, central bank or comparable agency charged with the interpretation or administration thereof, or compliance by such Bank with any directive regarding capital adequacy (whether or not having the force of law) of any such governmental authority, central bank or comparable agency, has or would have the effect of reducing the rate of return on any Bank's capital as a consequence of its obligations hereunder with respect to the Loans and the Commitment to a level below that which it could have achieved but for such adoption, change or compliance (taking into consideration such Bank's policies with respect to capital adequacy immediately before such adoption, change or compliance and assuming that such Bank's capital was fully utilized prior to such adoption, change or compliance) by an amount reasonably deemed by such Bank to be material, then, upon demand by such Bank, the Borrower shall promptly pay to such Bank such additional amounts as shall be sufficient to compensate such Bank for such reduced return, together with interest on such amount from the fourth (4th) Business Day after the date of demand or the Maturity Date, as applicable, until payment in full thereof at the Default Rate. A certificate of such Bank setting forth the amount to be paid to such Bank by the Borrower as a result of any event referred to in this paragraph and supporting calculations in reasonable detail shall be presumptively correct absent manifest error.

Section 2.13 Bank Tax Forms. On or prior to the Agreement Date and on or prior to the first Business Day of each calendar year thereafter, each Bank which is organized in a jurisdiction other than the United States shall provide each of the Administrative Agent and the Borrower with a properly executed originals of Forms 4224 or 1001 (or any successor form) prescribed by the Internal Revenue Service or other documents satisfactory to the Borrower and the Administrative Agent, and properly executed Internal Revenue Service Forms W-8 or W-9, as the case may be, certifying (i) as to such Bank's status for purposes of determining exemption from United States withholding taxes with respect to all payments to be made to such Bank hereunder and under the Notes or (ii) that all payments to be made to such Bank hereunder and under the Notes are subject to such taxes at a rate reduced to zero by an applicable tax treaty. Each such Bank agrees to provide the Administrative Agent and the Borrower with new forms prescribed by the Internal Revenue Service upon the expiration or obsolescence of any previously delivered form, or after the occurrence of any event requiring a change in the most recent forms delivered by it to the Administrative Agent and the Borrower.

The Borrower and each of its Restricted Subsidiaries are duly qualified, in good standing and authorized to do business in each jurisdiction in which the character of their respective properties or the nature of their respective businesses requires such qualification or authorization, except where failure to be so qualified, in the aggregate, could not reasonably be expected to have a Material Adverse Effect.

(b) Authorization; Enforceability. The Borrower has the corporate power and has taken all necessary corporate action to authorize it to borrow hereunder, to execute, deliver and perform this Agreement and each of the other Loan Documents to which it is a party in accordance with their respective terms, and to consummate the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby. This Agreement has been duly executed and delivered by the Borrower and is, and each of the other Loan Documents to which the Borrower is party is, a legal, valid and binding obligation of the Borrower enforceable against the Borrower in accordance with its terms, subject, as to enforcement of remedies, to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, fraudulent conveyance, reorganization, moratorium and similar laws affecting creditors' rights and remedies generally, and subject, as to enforceability, to general principles of equity.

Each Restricted Subsidiary of the Borrower has the corporate power and has taken all necessary corporate action to authorize it to execute, deliver and perform each of the Loan Documents to which it is a party in accordance with their respective terms and to consummate the transactions contemplated by this Agreement and by such Loan Documents. Each of the Loan Documents to which any Restricted Subsidiary of the Borrower is party is a legal, valid and binding obligation of such Restricted Subsidiary enforceable against such Restricted Subsidiary in accordance with its terms, subject, as enforcement of remedies, to applicable bankruptcy, insolvency, fraudulent conveyance, reorganization, moratorium and similar laws affecting creditors' rights and remedies generally, and subject, as to enforceability, to general principles of equity. The Borrower's ownership interest in each of its Restricted Subsidiaries represents a direct or indirect controlling interest of such Restricted Subsidiary for purposes of directing or causing the direction of the management and policies of each Restricted Subsidiary.

(d) Compliance with Other Loan Documents and Contemplated Transactions. The execution, delivery and performance, in accordance with their respective terms, by the Borrower of this Agreement and the Notes, and by the Borrower and its Restricted Subsidiaries of each of the other Loan Documents to which they are respectively party, and the consummation of the transactions contemplated hereby and thereby, do not and will not (i) require any consent or approval, governmental or otherwise, not already obtained, (ii) violate any Applicable Law respecting the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary of the Borrower, (iii) conflict with, result in a breach of, or constitute a default under the certificate or articles of incorporation or by-laws or partnership agreements, as the case may be, as amended, of the Borrower or of any Restricted Subsidiary of the Borrower, or under any material indenture, agreement, or other instrument, including without limitation the Licenses, to which the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries is a party or by which any of them or their respective properties may be bound, or (iv) result in or require the creation or imposition of any Lien upon or with respect to any property now owned or hereafter acquired by the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, except for Permitted Liens.

(f) Licenses, etc. The Licenses have been duly issued and are in full force and effect. The Borrower and its Restricted Subsidiaries are in compliance in all material respects with all of the provisions thereof. Neither any License nor any Necessary Authorization is the subject of any pending or, to the best of the Borrower's knowledge, threatened revocation.

(h) Title to Assets. As of the Agreement Date, the Borrower and its Restricted Subsidiaries have good, legal and marketable title to, or a valid leasehold interest in, all of its assets. None of the properties or assets of the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries is subject to any Liens, except for Permitted Liens. Except for financing statements evidencing Permitted Liens, no financing statement under the Uniform Commercial Code as in effect in any jurisdiction and no other filing which names the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries as debtor or which covers or purports to cover any of the assets of the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries is currently effective and on file in any state or other jurisdiction, and neither the Borrower nor any of its Restricted Subsidiaries has signed any such financing statement or filing or any security agreement authorizing any secured party thereunder to file any such financing statement or filing.

(i) Litigation. No such action, suit, proceeding or investigation (i) calls into question the validity of this Agreement or any other Loan Document, or (ii) individually or collectively involves the possibility of any judgment or liability not fully covered by insurance which, if determined adversely to the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, would have a Materially Adverse Effect.

(j) Taxes. All federal, state and other tax returns of the Borrower and each of its Restricted Subsidiaries required by law to be filed have been duly filed and all federal, state and other taxes, including, without limitation, withholding taxes, assessments and other governmental charges or levies required to be paid by the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries or imposed upon the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries or any of their respective properties, income, profits or assets, which are due and payable, have been paid, except any such taxes (i) (x) the payment of which the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries is diligently contesting in good faith by appropriate proceedings, (y) for which adequate reserves have been provided on the books of the Borrower or the Restricted Subsidiary of the Borrower involved, and (z) as to which no Lien other than a Permitted Lien has attached and no foreclosure, distraint, sale or similar proceedings have been commenced, or (ii) which may result from audits not yet conducted. The charges, accruals and reserves on the books of the Borrower and each of its Restricted Subsidiaries in respect of taxes are, in the judgment of the Borrower, adequate.

(k) Financial Statements. The Borrower has furnished or caused to be furnished to the Administrative Agent and the Banks as of the Agreement Date, the audited financial statements for American Radio Systems and its Subsidiaries on a consolidated basis for the fiscal year ended December 31, 1995, and unaudited financial statements for the Borrower and its Restricted Subsidiaries for the fiscal quarter ended June 30, 1996, all of which have been prepared in accordance with GAAP and present fairly in all material respects the financial position of the Borrower and its Restricted Subsidiaries on a consolidated basis, on and as at such dates and the results of operations for the periods then ended (subject, in the case of unaudited financial statements, to normal year-end and audit adjustments). Neither the Borrower nor any of its Restricted Subsidiaries has any material liabilities, contingent or otherwise, other than as disclosed in the financial statements referred to in the preceding sentence or as set forth or referred to in this Agreement.

(l) No Material Adverse Change. There has occurred no event since June 30, 1996 which has or which could reasonably be expected to have a Materially Adverse Effect.

(m) ERISA. The Borrower and each Subsidiary of the Borrower and each of their respective Plans are in compliance with ERISA and the Code and neither the Borrower nor any of its ERISA Affiliates, including its Subsidiaries, has incurred any accumulated funding deficiency with respect to any such Plan within the meaning of ERISA or the Code. The Borrower, each of its Subsidiaries, and each other ERISA Affiliate have complied in all material respects with all requirements of COBRA. Neither the Borrower nor any of its Subsidiaries has made any promises of retirement or other benefits to employees, except as set forth in the Plans, in written agreements with such employees, or in the Borrower's employee handbook and memoranda to employees. Neither the Borrower nor any of its ERISA Affiliates, including its Subsidiaries, has incurred any material liability to PBGC in connection with any such Plan. The assets of each such Plan which is subject to Title IV of ERISA are sufficient to provide the benefits under such Plan, the payment of which PBGC would guarantee if such Plan were terminated, and such assets are also sufficient to provide all other "benefit liabilities" (within the meaning of Section 4041 of ERISA) due under the Plan upon termination. No Reportable Event has occurred and is continuing with respect to any such Plan. No such Plan or trust created thereunder, or party in interest (as defined in Section 3(14) of ERISA), or any fiduciary (as defined in Section 3(21) of ERISA), has engaged in a "prohibited transaction" (as such term is defined in Section 406 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code) which would subject such Plan or any other Plan of the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries, any trust created thereunder, or any such party in interest or fiduciary, or any party dealing with any such Plan or any such trust, to the tax or penalty on "prohibited transactions" imposed by Section 502 of ERISA or Section 4975 of the Code. Neither the Borrower nor any of its ERISA Affiliates, including its Subsidiaries, is or has been obligated to make any payment to a Multiemployer Plan.

(n) Compliance with Regulations G, T, U and X. Neither the Borrower nor any of the Borrower's Restricted Subsidiaries is engaged principally or as one of its important activities in the business of extending credit for the purpose of purchasing or carrying, and neither the Borrower nor any of the Borrower's Restricted Subsidiaries owns or presently intends to acquire, any "margin security" or "margin stock" as defined in Regulations G, T, U, and X (12 C.F.R. Parts 207, 220, 221 and 224) of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System (herein called "margin stock"). None of the proceeds of the Loans will be used, directly or indirectly, for the purpose of purchasing or carrying any margin stock or for the purpose of reducing or retiring any Indebtedness which was originally incurred to purchase or carry margin stock or for any other purpose which might constitute this transaction a "purpose credit" within the meaning of said Regulations G, T, U, and X. The Borrower has not taken, caused or authorized to be taken, and will not take any action which might cause this Agreement or the Notes to violate Regulation G, T, U, or X or any other regulation of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System or to violate the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, in each case as now in effect or as the same may hereafter be in effect. If so requested by the Administrative Agent, the Borrower will furnish the Administrative Agent with (i) a statement or statements in conformity with the requirements of Federal Reserve Forms G-3 and/or U-1 referred to in Regulations G and U of said Board of Governors and (ii) other documents evidencing its compliance with the margin regulations, reasonably requested by the Administrative Agent. Neither the making of the Loans nor the use of proceeds thereof will violate, or be inconsistent with, the provisions of Regulation G, T, U, or X of said Board of Governors.

(o) Investment Company Act. Neither the Borrower nor any of its Restricted Subsidiaries is required to register under the provisions of the Investment Company Act of 1940, as amended, and neither the entering into or performance by the Borrower and its Restricted Subsidiaries of this Agreement and the Loan Documents nor the issuance of the Notes violates any provision of such Act or requires any consent, approval or authorization of, or registration with, the Securities and Exchange Commission or any other governmental or public body or authority pursuant to any provisions of such Act.

(p) Governmental Regulation. Neither the Borrower nor any of its Restricted Subsidiaries is required to obtain any consent, approval, authorization, permit or license which has not already been obtained from, or effect any filing or registration which has not already been effected with, any federal, state or local regulatory authority in connection with the execution and delivery of this Agreement or any other Loan Document. Neither the Borrower nor any of its Restricted Subsidiaries is required to obtain any consent, approval, authorization, permit or license which has not already been obtained from, or effect any filing or registration which has not already been effected with, any federal, state or local regulatory authority in connection with the performance, in accordance with their respective terms, of this Agreement or any other Loan Document, other than filing of appropriate UCC financing statements and mortgages.

(q) Absence of Default, Etc. The Borrower and its Restricted Subsidiaries are in compliance in all respects with all of the provisions of their respective partnership agreements, Certificates or Articles of Incorporation and By-Laws, as the case may be, and no event has occurred or failed to occur (including, without limitation, any matter which could create a Default hereunder by cross-default) which has not been remedied or waived, the occurrence or non-occurrence of which constitutes, (i) a Default or (ii) a material default by the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries under any indenture, agreement or other instrument relating to Indebtedness of the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries in the amount of $1,000,000 or more in the aggregate, any material License, or any judgment, decree or order to which the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries is a party or by which the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries or any of their respective properties may be bound or affected.

(r) Accuracy and Completeness of Information. All information, reports, prospectuses and other papers and data relating to the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries and furnished by or on behalf of the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries to the Administrative Agent or the Banks, taken as a whole, were, at the time furnished, true, complete and correct in all material respects to the extent necessary to give the Administrative Agent and the Banks true and accurate knowledge of the subject matter, and all projections, consisting of a consolidated projected cash flow statement, an income statement, and a balance sheet for Borrower and its Restricted Subsidiaries (the "Projections") (i) disclose all assumptions made with respect to costs, general economic conditions, and financial and market conditions formulating the Projections; (ii) are based on reasonable estimates and assumptions; and (iii) reflect, as of the date prepared, and continue to reflect, as of the date hereof, the reasonable estimate of Borrower of the results of operations and other information projected therein for the periods covered thereby.

(s) Agreements with Affiliates. Except for agreements or arrangements with Affiliates wherein the Borrower or one or more of its Restricted Subsidiaries provides services to such Affiliates for fair consideration or which are set forth on Schedule 4.1(s) attached hereto, neither the Borrower nor any of its Restricted Subsidiaries has (i) any written agreements or binding arrangements of any kind with any Affiliate or (ii) any management or consulting agreements of any kind with any Affiliate, other than those between the Borrower and its Restricted Subsidiaries.

(t) Payment of Wages. The Borrower and each of its Restricted Subsidiaries are in compliance with the Fair Labor Standards Act, as amended, in all material respects, and to the knowledge of the Borrower and each of its Subsidiaries, such Persons have paid all minimum and overtime wages required by law to be paid to their respective employees.

(u) Priority. The Security Interest is a valid and, upon filing of appropriate UCC financing statements and/or mortgages, will be a perfected first priority security interest in the Collateral in favor of the Administrative Agent, for the benefit of itself and the Banks, securing, in accordance with the terms of the Security Documents, the Obligations, and the Collateral is subject to no Liens other than Permitted Liens. The Liens created by the Security Documents are enforceable as security for the Obligations in accordance with their terms with respect to the Collateral subject, as to enforcement of remedies, to the following qualifications: (i) an order of specific performance and an injunction are discretionary remedies and, in particular, may not be available where damages are considered an adequate remedy at law, and (ii) enforcement may be limited by bankruptcy, insolvency, liquidation, reorganization, reconstruction and other similar laws affecting enforcement of creditors' rights generally (insofar as any such law relates to the bankruptcy, insolvency or similar event of the Borrower or any of its Subsidiaries, as the case may be).

(v) Indebtedness. Except as shown on the financial statements of Borrower for the fiscal quarter ended June 30, 1996, or as described on Schedule 4.1(v) attached hereto neither the Borrower nor any of its Restricted Subsidiaries has outstanding, as of the Agreement Date, and after giving effect to the initial Advances hereunder on the Agreement Date, any Indebtedness for Money Borrowed.

(w) Solvency. As of the Agreement Date and after giving effect to the transactions contemplated by the Loan Documents (i) the property of the Borrower, at a fair valuation, will exceed its debt; (ii) the capital of the Borrower will not be unreasonably small to conduct its business; (iii) the Borrower will not have incurred debts, or have intended to incur debts, beyond its ability to pay such debts as they mature; and (iv) the present fair salable value of the assets of the Borrower will be greater than the amount that will be required to pay its probable liabilities (including debts) as they become absolute and matured. For purposes of this Section, "debt" means any liability on a claim, and "claim" means (i) the right to payment, whether or not such right is reduced to judgment, liquidated, unliquidated, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, undisputed, legal, equitable, secured or unsecured, or (ii) the right to an equitable remedy for breach of performance if such breach gives rise to a right to payment, whether or not such right to an equitable remedy is reduced to judgment, fixed, contingent, matured, unmatured, undisputed, secured or unsecured.

Section 4.2 Survival of Representations and Warranties, etc. All representations and warranties made under this Agreement and any other Loan Document shall be deemed to be made, and shall be true and correct in all material respects, at and as of the Agreement Date and on the date of each Advance except to the extent relating specifically to the Agreement Date. All representations and warranties made under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents shall survive, and not be waived by, the execution hereof by the Banks and the Administrative Agent, any investigation or inquiry by any Bank or the Administrative Agent, or the making of any Advance under this Agreement.

The Borrower will, and will cause each of its Restricted Subsidiaries to, timely file all information returns required by federal, state or local tax authorities.

case to have acted with gross negligence or willful misconduct, in any case, by a final, non-appealable judicial order. The obligations of the Borrower under this Section 5.12 are in addition to, and shall not otherwise limit, any liabilities which the Borrower might otherwise have in connection with any warranties or similar obligations of the Borrower in any other Loan Document.

Section 5.13 Interest Rate Hedging. Within sixty (60) days of the Agreement Date and forty-five (45) days after each Advance, the Borrower shall enter into (and shall at all times thereafter maintain for a period of not less than two (2) years) one or more Interest Hedge Agreements with respect to the Borrower's interest obligations on not less than fifty percent (50%) of the principal amount of the Loans outstanding from time to time. Such Interest Hedge Agreements shall provide interest rate protection in conformity with International Swap Dealers Association standards and for an average period of at least two (2) years from the date of such Interest Hedge Agreements or, if earlier, until the Maturity Date on terms reasonably acceptable to the Administrative Agent, such terms to include consideration of the creditworthiness of the other party to the proposed Interest Hedge Agreement. All Obligations of the Borrower to either Administrative Agent or any of the Banks pursuant to any Interest Hedge Agreement and all Liens granted to secure such Obligations shall rank pari passu with all other Obligations and Liens securing such other Obligations; and any Interest Hedge Agreement between the Borrower and any other Person shall be unsecured.

Section 5.14 Covenants Regarding Formation of Restricted Subsidiaries and Acquisitions; Partnership, Subsidiaries. At the time of (i) any Acquisition permitted hereunder, (ii) the purchase by the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries of any interests in any Restricted or Unrestricted Subsidiary of the Borrower, or (iii) the formation of any new Restricted or Unrestricted Subsidiary of the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries which is permitted under this Agreement, the Borrower will, and will cause its Restricted Subsidiaries, as appropriate, to (a) provide to the Administrative Agent an executed Subsidiary Security Agreement for any new Restricted Subsidiary, in substantially the form of Exhibit I attached hereto, together with appropriate UCC-1 financing statements, as well as an executed Subsidiary Guaranty for such new Restricted Subsidiary, in substantially the form of Exhibit G attached hereto, which shall constitute both Security Documents and Loan Documents for purposes of this Agreement, as well as a loan certificate for such new Restricted Subsidiary, substantially in the form of Exhibit L attached hereto, together with appropriate attachments; (b) pledge to the Administrative Agent all of the stock or partnership interests (or other instruments or securities evidencing ownership) of such Subsidiary or Person which is acquired or formed, beneficially owned by the Borrower or any of the Borrower's Restricted Subsidiaries, as the case may be, as additional Collateral for the Obligations to be held by the Administrative Agent in accordance with the terms of the Borrower's Pledge Agreement, or a new Subsidiary Pledge Agreement in substantially the form of Exhibit H attached hereto, and execute and deliver to the Administrative Agent all such documentation for such pledge as, in the reasonable opinion of the Administrative Agent, is appropriate; and (c) with respect to any Acquisition or Restricted Subsidiary, provide revised financial projections for the remainder of the fiscal year and for each subsequent year until the Maturity Date which reflect such Acquisition or formation, certified by the Chief Financial Officer of the Borrower, together with a statement by such Person that no Default exists or would be caused by such Acquisition or formation, and all other documentation, including one or more opinions of counsel, reasonably satisfactory to the Administrative Agent which in their reasonable opinion is appropriate with respect to such Acquisition or the formation of such Subsidiary. Notwithstanding the foregoing, the Borrower shall not be required to pledge any of the stock or other ownership interests for any Unrestricted Subsidiary which (x) was not formed or created in anticipation of the Borrower's direct or indirect investment therein and (y) at the time such stock or ownership interest was acquired by the Borrower or its Restricted Subsidiaries is subject to a restriction on any such Lien (whether such restriction is in such Person's formation documents or otherwise), but shall be required to grant the Administrative Agent (for the benefit of the Banks) a Lien upon any right to receive distributions from such Unrestricted Subsidiary. Any document, agreement or instrument (other than the Projections) executed or issued pursuant to this Section 5.14 shall be a "Loan Document" for purposes of this Agreement.

Section 5.15 Payment of Wages. The Borrower shall and shall cause each of its Restricted Subsidiaries to at all times comply, in all material respects, with the material requirements of the Fair Labor Standards Act, as amended, including, without limitation, the provisions of such Act relating to the payment of minimum and overtime wages as the same may become due from time to time.

The Borrower at its expense will promptly execute and deliver to the Administrative Agent and the Banks, or cause to be executed and delivered to the Administrative Agent and the Banks, all such other and further documents, agreements, and instruments in compliance with or accomplishment of the covenants and agreements of the Borrower in the Loan Documents, including this Agreement, or to correct any omissions in the Loan Documents, or more fully to state the obligations set out herein or in any of the Loan Documents, or to obtain any consents, all as may be necessary or appropriate in connection therewith and as may be reasonably requested.

(k) The Borrower and its Restricted Subsidiaries are for any reason no longer able to operate or manage the related communications tower facilities or portions thereof and retain the revenue received therefrom, and the overall effect of such

(o) Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries shall be indicted under the Racketeer Influenced and Corrupt Organizations Act of 1970 (18 U.S.C. ss. 1961 et seq.).

Section 8.2 Remedies.

(a) If an Event of Default specified in Section 8.1 (other than an Event of Default under Section 8.1(f) or Section 8.1(g)) shall have occurred and shall be continuing, the Administrative Agent, at the request of the Majority Banks subject to Section 9.8(a) hereof, shall (i) terminate the Commitment, and/or (ii) declare the principal of and interest on the Loans and the Notes and all other amounts owed to the Banks and the Administrative Agent under this Agreement, the Notes and any other Loan Documents to be forthwith due and payable without presentment, demand, protest or other notice of any kind, all of which are hereby expressly waived, anything in this Agreement, the Notes or any other Loan Document to the contrary notwithstanding, and the Commitment shall thereupon forthwith terminate.

(b) Upon the occurrence and continuance of an Event of Default specified in Section 8.1(f) or Section 8.1(g), all principal, interest and other amounts due hereunder and under the Notes, and all other Obligations, shall thereupon and concurrently therewith become due and payable and the Commitment shall forthwith terminate and the principal amount of the Loans outstanding hereunder shall bear interest at the Default Rate, all without any action by the Administrative Agent or the Banks or the Majority Banks or any of them and without presentment, demand, protest or other notice of any kind, all of which are expressly waived, anything in this Agreement or in the other Loan Documents to the contrary notwithstanding.

(c) Upon acceleration of the Notes, as provided in subsection (a) or (b) of this Section 8.2, above, the Administrative Agent and the Banks shall have all of the post-default rights granted to them, or any of them, as applicable under the Loan Documents and under Applicable Law.

(d) Upon acceleration of the Notes, as provided in subsection (a) or (b) of this Section 8.2, the Administrative Agent shall have the right (but not the obligation) upon the request of the Banks to operate the communications tower facilities of the Borrower and its Restricted Subsidiaries in accordance with the terms of the Licenses and pursuant to the terms and subject to any limitations contained in the Security Documents and, within guidelines established by the Majority Banks, to make any and all payments and expenditures necessary or desirable in connection therewith, including, without limitation, payment of wages as required under the Fair Labor Standards Act, as amended, and of any necessary withholding taxes to state or federal authorities. In the event the Majority Banks fail to agree upon the guidelines referred to in the preceding sentence within six (6) Business Days' after the Administrative Agent has begun to operate the communications tower facilities, the Administrative Agent may, after giving three (3) days' prior written notice to the Banks of its intention to do so, make such payments and expenditures as it deems reasonable and advisable in its sole discretion to maintain the normal day-to-day operation of such communications tower facilities. Such payments and expenditures in excess of receipts shall constitute Advances under the Commitment, not in excess of the amount of the Commitment. Advances made pursuant to this Section 8.2(d) shall bear interest as provided in Section 2.3(d) and shall be payable on demand. The making of one or more Advances under this Section 8.2(d) shall not create any obligation on the part of the Banks to make any additional Advances hereunder. No exercise by the Administrative Agent of the rights granted to it under this Section 8.2(d) shall constitute a waiver of any other rights and remedies granted to the Administrative Agent and the Banks, or any of them, under this Agreement or at law. The Borrower hereby irrevocably appoints the Administrative Agent as agent for the Banks, the true and lawful attorney of the Borrower, in its name and stead and on its behalf, to execute, receipt for or otherwise act in connection with any and all contracts, instruments or other documents in connection with the completion and operation of the communications tower facilities in the exercise of the Administrative Agent's and the Banks' rights under this Section 8.2(d). Such power of attorney is coupled with an interest and is irrevocable. The rights of the Administrative Agent under this Section 8.2(d) shall be subject to its prior compliance with the Communications Act and the FCC rules and policies promulgated thereunder to the extent applicable to the exercise of such rights.

(e) Upon acceleration of the Notes, as provided in subsection (a) or (b) of this Section 8.2, the Administrative Agent, upon request of the Majority Banks, shall have the right to the appointment of a receiver for the properties and assets of the Borrower and its Restricted Subsidiaries, and the Borrower, for itself and on behalf of its Restricted Subsidiaries, hereby consents to such rights and such appointment and hereby waives any objection the Borrower or any Restricted Subsidiary may have thereto or the right to have a bond or other security posted by the Administrative Agent on behalf of the Banks, in connection therewith. The rights of the Administrative Agent under this Section 8.2(e) shall be subject to its prior compliance with the Communications Act and the FCC rules and policies promulgated thereunder to the extent applicable to the exercise of such rights.

(f) The rights and remedies of the Administrative Agent and the Banks hereunder shall be cumulative, and not exclusive.

Section 8.3 Payments Subsequent to Declaration of Event of Default. Subsequent to the acceleration of the Loans under Section 8.2 hereof, payments and prepayments under this Agreement made to the Administrative Agent and the Banks or otherwise received by any of such Persons (from realization on Collateral for the Obligations or otherwise) shall be paid over to the Administrative Agent (if necessary) and distributed by the Administrative Agent as follows: first, to the Administrative Agent's reasonable costs and expenses, if any, incurred in connection with the collection of such payment or prepayment, including, without limitation, any reasonable costs incurred by it in connection with the sale or disposition of any Collateral for the Obligations and all amounts under Section 11.2(b) and (c); second, to the Banks or the Administrative Agent for any fees hereunder or under any of the other Loan Documents then due and payable; third, to the Banks pro rata on the basis of their respective unpaid principal amounts (except as provided in Section 2.2(e)), to the payment of any unpaid interest which may have accrued on the Obligations; fourth, to the Banks pro rata until all Loans have been paid in full (and, for purposes of this clause, obligations under Interest Hedge Agreements with the Banks or any of them shall be paid on a pro rata basis with the Loans); fifth, to the Banks pro rata on the basis of their respective unpaid amounts, to the payment of any other unpaid Obligations; and sixth, to the Borrower or as otherwise required by law.

The Administrative Agent

Section 9.1 Appointment and Authorization. Each Bank hereby irrevocably appoints and authorizes, and hereby agrees that it will require any transferee of any of its interest in its portion of the Loans and in its Note irrevocably to appoint and authorize, the Administrative Agent to take such actions as its agent on its behalf and to exercise such powers hereunder and under the other Loan Documents as are delegated by the terms hereof and thereof, together with such powers as are reasonably incidental thereto. Neither the Administrative Agent, nor any of its respective directors, officers, employees or agents, shall be liable for any action taken or omitted to be taken by it or them hereunder or in connection herewith, except for its or their own gross negligence or willful misconduct as determined by a final, non-appealable judicial order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Section 9.2 Interest Holders. The Administrative Agent may treat each Bank, or the Person designated in the last notice filed with the Administrative Agent, as the holder of all of the interests of such Bank in its portion of the Loans and in its Note until written notice of transfer, signed by such Bank (or the Person designated in the last notice filed with the Administrative Agent) and by the Person designated in such written notice of transfer, in form and substance satisfactory to the Administrative Agent, shall have been filed with the Administrative Agent.

Section 9.3 Consultation with Counsel. The Administrative Agent may consult with Powell, Goldstein, Frazer & Murphy, Atlanta, Georgia, special counsel to the Administrative Agent, or with other legal counsel selected by it and shall not be liable for any action taken or suffered by it in good faith in consultation with the Majority Banks and in reasonable reliance on such consultations.

Section 9.4 Documents. The Administrative Agent shall be under no duty to examine, inquire into, or pass upon the validity, effectiveness or genuineness of this Agreement, any Note, any other Loan Document, or any instrument, document or communication furnished pursuant hereto or in connection herewith, and the Administrative Agent shall be entitled to assume that they are valid, effective and genuine, have been signed or sent by the proper parties and are what they purport to be.

Section 9.5 Administrative Agent and Affiliates. With respect to the Commitment and the Loans, the Administrative Agent shall have the same rights and powers hereunder as any other Bank and the Administrative Agent and Affiliates of the Administrative Agent may accept deposits from, lend money to and generally engage in any kind of business with the Borrower, any of its Subsidiaries or any Affiliates of, or Persons doing business with, the Borrower, as if they were not affiliated with the Administrative Agent and without any obligation to account therefor.

Section 9.6 Responsibility of the Administrative Agent. The duties and obligations of the Administrative Agent under this Agreement are only those expressly set forth in this Agreement. The Administrative Agent shall be entitled to assume that no Default or Event of Default has occurred and is continuing unless it has actual knowledge, or has been notified in writing by the Borrower, of such fact, or has been notified by a Bank in writing that such Bank considers that a Default or an Event of Default has occurred and is continuing, and such Bank shall specify in detail the nature thereof in writing. The Administrative Agent shall not be liable hereunder for any action taken or omitted to be taken except for its own gross negligence or willful misconduct as determined by a final, non-appealable judicial order of a court of competent jurisdiction. The Administrative Agent shall provide each Bank with copies of such docum ents received from the Borrower as such Bank may reasonably request.

Section 9.7 Action by the Administrative Agent.

(a) The Administrative Agent shall be entitled to use its discretion with respect to exercising or refraining from exercising any rights which may be vested in it by, and with respect to taking or refraining from taking any action or actions which it may be able to take under or in respect of, this Agreement, unless the Administrative Agent shall have been instructed by the Majority Banks to exercise or refrain from exercising such rights or to take or refrain from taking such action; provided that the Administrative Agent shall not exercise any rights under Section 8.2(a) of this Agreement without the request of the Majority Banks (or, where expressly required, all the Banks) unless time is of the essence, in which case, such action can be taken at the request of the Administrative Agent. The Administrative Agent shall incur no liability under or in respect of this Agreement with respect to anything which it may do or refrain from doing in the reasonable exercise of its judgment or which may seem to it to be necessary or desirable in the circumstances, except for its gross negligence or willful misconduct as determined by a final, non-appealable judicial order of a court having jurisdiction over the subject matter.

(b) The Administrative Agent shall not be liable to the Banks or to any Bank or the Borrower or any of the Borrower's Subsidiaries in acting or refraining from acting under this Agreement or any other Loan Document in accordance with the instructions of the Majority Banks (or, where expressly required, all the Banks), and any action taken or failure to act pursuant to such instructions shall be binding on all Banks, except for its gross negligence or willful misconduct as determined by a final, non-appealable judicial order of a court having jurisdiction over the subject matter. The Administrative Agent shall not be obligated to take any action which is contrary to law or which would in its reasonable opinion subject it to liability.

Section 9.8 Notice of Default or Event of Default. In the event that the Administrative Agent or any Bank shall acquire actual knowledge, or shall have been notified, of any Default or Event of Default, the Administrative Agent or such Bank shall promptly notify the Banks (provided failure to give such notice shall not result in any liability on the part of such Bank or Administrative Agent), and the Administrative Agent shall take such action and assert such rights under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents as the Majority Banks shall request in writing, and the Administrative Agent shall not be subject to any liability by reason of its acting pursuant to any such request. If the Majority Banks shall fail to request the Administrative Agent to take action or to assert rights under this Agreement or any other Loan Documents in respect of any Default or Event of Default within ten (10) days after their receipt of the notice of any Default or Event of Default from the Administrative Agent or any Bank, or shall request inconsistent action with respect to such Default or Event of Default, the Administrative Agent may, but shall not be required to, take such action and assert such rights (other than rights under Article 8 hereof) as it deems in its discretion to be advisable for the protection of the Banks, except that, if the Majority Banks have instructed the Administrative Agent not to take such action or assert such right, in no event shall the Administrative Agent act contrary to such instructions unless time is of the essence, in which case, the Administrative Agent may act in accordance with its reasonable discretion.

Section 9.9 Responsibility Disclaimed. The Administrative Agent shall not be under any liability or responsibility whatsoever as Administrative Agent:

(a) To the Borrower or any other Person as a consequence of any failure or delay in performance by or any breach by, any Bank or Banks of any of its or their obligations under this Agreement;

(b) To any Bank or Banks, as a consequence of any failure or delay in performance by, or any breach by, (i) the Borrower of any of its obligations under this Agreement or the Notes or any other Loan Document, or (ii) any Restricted Subsidiary of the Borrower or any other obligor under any other Loan Document;

(c) To any Bank or Banks, for any statements, representations or warranties in this Agreement, or any other document contemplated by this Agreement or any information provided pursuant to this Agreement, any other Loan Document, or any other document contemplated by this Agreement, or for the validity, effectiveness, enforceability or sufficiency of this Agreement, the Notes, any other Loan Document, or any other document contemplated by this Agreement; or

(d) To any Person for any act or omission other than that arising from gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Administrative Agent as determined by a final, non-appealable judicial order of a court of competent jurisdiction.

Section 9.10 Indemnification. The Banks agree to indemnify the Administrative Agent (to the extent not reimbursed by the Borrower) pro rata according to their respective Commitment Ratios, from and against any and all liabilities, obligations, losses (other than the loss of principal and interest hereunder in the event of a bankruptcy or out-of-court `work-out' of the Loans), damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses (including fees and expenses of experts, agents, consultants and counsel), or disbursements of any kind or nature whatsoever which may be imposed on, incurred by or asserted against the Administrative Agent in any way relating to or arising out of this Agreement, any other Loan Document, or any other document contemplated by this Agreement or any other Loan Document or any action taken or omitted by the Administrative Agent under this Agreement, any other Loan Document, or any other document contemplated by this Agreement, except that no Bank shall be liable to the Administrative Agent for any portion of such liabilities, obligations, losses, damages, penalties, actions, judgments, suits, costs, expenses, or disbursements resulting from the gross negligence or willful misconduct of the Administrative Agent as determined by a final, non-appealable judicial order of a court having jurisdiction over the subject matter.

Section 9.11 Credit Decision. Each Bank represents and warrants to each other and to the Administrative Agent that:

(a) In making its decision to enter into this Agreement and to make its portion of the Loans it has independently taken whatever steps it considers necessary to evaluate the financial condition and affairs of the Borrower and that it has made an independent credit judgment, and that it has not relied upon the Administrative Agent or information provided by the Administrative Agent (other than information provided to the Administrative Agent by the Borrower and forwarded by the Administrative Agent to the Banks); and

(b) So long as any portion of the Loans remains outstanding or such Bank has an obligation to make its portion of Advances hereunder, it will continue to make its own independent evaluation of the financial condition and affairs of the Borrower.

Section 9.12 Successor Administrative Agent. Subject to the appointment and acceptance of a successor Administrative Agent as provided below, the Administrative Agent may resign at any time by giving written notice thereof to the Banks and the Borrower and may be removed at any time for cause by the Majority Banks. Upon any such resignation or removal, the Majority Banks shall have the right to appoint a successor Administrative Agent which appointment shall, prior to a Default, be subject to the consent of the Borrower, acting reasonably. If (a) no successor Administrative Agent shall have been so appointed by the Majority Banks or (b) if appointed, no successor Administrative Agent shall have accepted such appointment within thirty (30) days after the retiring Administrative Agent gave notice of resignation or the Majority Banks removed the retiring Administrative Agent, then the retiring Administrative Agent may, on behalf of the Banks, appoint a successor Administrative Agent which shall be any Bank or a commercial bank organized under the laws of the United States of America or any political subdivision thereof which has combined capital and reserves in excess of $250,000,000 and which shall be reasonably acceptable to the Borrower. Upon the acceptance of any appointment as Administrative Agent hereunder by a successor Administrative Agent such successor Administrative Agent shall thereupon succeed to and become vested with all the rights, powers, privileges, duties and obligations of the retiring Administrative Agent and the retiring Administrative Agent shall be discharged from its duties and obligations hereunder and under the other Loan Documents. After any retiring Administrative Agent's resignation or removal hereunder as Administrative Agent the provisions of this Article shall continue in effect for its benefit in respect of any actions taken or omitted to be taken by it while it was acting as the Administrative Agent. In the event that the Administrative Agent or any of its respective affiliates ceases to be a Bank hereunder, such Person shall resign its agency hereunder.

Section 9.13 Delegation of Duties. The Administrative Agent may execute any of its duties under the Loan Documents by or through agents or attorneys selected by it using reasonable care, and shall be entitled to advice of counsel concerning all matters pertaining to such duties.

Change in Circumstances Affecting LIBOR Advances

Section 10.1 LIBOR Basis Determination Inadequate or Unfair. If with respect to any proposed LIBOR Advance for any Interest Period, the Administrative Agent determines after consultation with the Banks that deposits in dollars (in the applicable amount) are not being offered to each of the Banks in the relevant market for such Interest Period, the Administrative Agent shall forthwith give notice thereof to the Borrower and the Banks, whereupon until the Administrative Agent notifies the Borrower that the circumstances giving rise to such situation no longer exist, the obligations of any affected Bank to make its portion of such LIBOR Advances shall be suspended.

Section 10.2 Illegality. If after the date hereof, the adoption of any Applicable Law, or any change in any Applicable Law (whether adopted before or after the Agreement Date), or any change in interpretation or administration thereof by any governmental authority, central bank or comparable agency charged with the interpretation or administration thereof, or compliance by any Bank with any directive (whether or not having the force of law) of any such authority, central bank or comparable agency, shall make it unlawful or impossible for any Bank to make, maintain or fund its portion of LIBOR Advances, such Bank shall so notify the Administrative Agent, and the Administrative Agent shall forthwith give notice thereof to the other Banks and the Borrower. Before giving any notice to the Administrative Agent pursuant to this Section 10.2, such Bank shall designate a different lending office if such designation will avoid the need for giving such notice and will not, in the sole reasonable judgment of such Bank, be otherwise materially disadvantageous to such Bank. Upon receipt of such notice, notwithstanding anything contained in Article 2 hereof, the Borrower shall repay in full the then outstanding principal amount of such Bank's portion of each affected LIBOR Advance, together with accrued interest thereon, on either (a) the last day of the then current Interest Period applicable to such affected LIBOR Advances if such Bank may lawfully continue to maintain and fund its portion of such LIBOR Advance to such day or (b) immediately if such Bank may not lawfully continue to fund and maintain its portion of such affected LIBOR Advances to such day. Concurrently with repaying such portion of each affected LIBOR Advance, the Borrower may borrow a Base Rate Advance from such Bank, whether or not it would have been entitled to effect such borrowing and such Bank shall make such Advance, if so requested, in an amount such that the outstanding principal amount of the affected Note held by such Bank shall equal the outstanding principal amount of such Note or Notes immediately prior to such repayment.

Section 10.3 Increased Costs.

(a) If after the date hereof, the adoption of any Applicable Law, or any change in any Applicable Law (whether adopted before or after the Agreement Date), or any interpretation or change in interpretation or administration thereof by any governmental authority, central bank or comparable agency charged with the interpretation or administration thereof or compliance by any Bank with any directive (whether or not having the force of law) of any such authority, central bank or comparable agency:

(1) shall subject any Bank to any tax, duty or other charge with respect to its obligation to make its portion of LIBOR Advances, or its portion of existing Advances, or shall change the basis of taxation of payments to any Bank of the principal of or interest on its portion of LIBOR Advances or in respect of any other amounts due under this Agreement, in respect of its portion of LIBOR Advances or its obligation to make its portion of LIBOR Advances (except for changes in the rate or method of calculation of tax on the revenues or net income of such Bank); or

(2) shall impose, modify or deem applicable any reserve (including, without limitation, any imposed by the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System, but excluding any included in an applicable Eurodollar Reserve Percentage), special deposit, capital adequacy, assessment or other requirement or condition against assets of, deposits with or for the account of, or commitments or credit extended by, any Bank or shall impose on any Bank or the London interbank borrowing market any other condition affecting its obligation to make its portion of such LIBOR Advances or its portion of existing Advances; and the result of any of the foregoing is to increase the cost to such Bank of making or maintaining any of its portion of LIBOR Advances, or to reduce the amount of any sum received or receivable by such Bank under this Agreement or under its Note with respect thereto, then, within ten (10) days after demand by such Bank, the Borrower agrees to pay to such Bank such additional amount or amounts as will compensate such Bank for such increased costs. Each Bank will promptly notify the Borrower and the Administrative Agent of any event of which it has knowledge, occurring after the date hereof, which will entitle such Bank to compensation pursuant to this Section 10.3 and will designate a different lending office if such designation will avoid the need for, or reduce the amount of, such compensation and will not, in the sole reasonable judgment of such Bank made in good faith, be otherwise disadvantageous to such Bank.

(b) Any Bank claiming compensation under this Section 10.3 shall provide the Borrower with a written certificate setting forth the additional amount or amounts to be paid to it hereunder and calculations therefor in reasonable detail. Such certificate shall be presumptively correct absent manifest error. In determining such amount, such Bank may use any reasonable averaging and attribution methods. If any Bank demands compensation under this Section 10.3, the Borrower may at any time, upon at least five (5) Business Days' prior notice to such Bank, prepay in full such Bank's portion of the then outstanding LIBOR Advances, together with accrued interest thereon to the date of prepayment, along with any reimbursement required under Section 2.10 hereof. Concurrently with prepaying such portion of LIBOR Advances the Borrower may, whether or not then entitled to make such borrowing, borrow a Base Rate Advance, or a LIBOR Advance not so affected, from such Bank, and such Bank shall, if so requested, make such Advance in an amount such that the outstanding principal amount of the affected Note or Notes held by such Bank shall equal the outstanding principal amount of such Note or Notes immediately prior to such prepayment.

Section 10.4 Effect On Other Advances. If notice has been given pursuant to Section 10.1, 10.2 or 10.3 suspending the obligation of any Bank to make its portion of any type of LIBOR Advance, or requiring such Bank's portion of LIBOR Advances to be repaid or prepaid, then, unless and until such Bank notifies the Borrower that the circumstances giving rise to such repayment no longer apply, all amounts which would otherwise be made by such Bank as its portion of LIBOR Advances shall, unless otherwise notified by the Borrower, be made instead as Base Rate Advances.

Section 11.2 Expenses. The Borrower will promptly pay, or reimburse:

(a) all reasonable out-of-pocket expenses of the Administrative Agent in connection with the preparation, negotiation, execution and delivery of this Agreement and the other Loan Documents, and the transactions contemplated hereunder and thereunder and the making of the initial Advance hereunder (whether or not such Advance is made), including, but not limited to, the reasonable fees and disbursements of Powell, Goldstein, Frazer & Murphy, special counsel for the Administrative Agent; and

(b) all reasonable out-of-pocket costs and expenses of the Administrative Agent and the Banks of enforcement under this Agreement or the other Loan Documents and all reasonable out-of-pocket costs and expenses of collection if an Event of Default occurs in the payment of the Notes, which in each case shall include reasonable fees and out-of-pocket expenses of counsel for the Administrative Agent and the Banks.

Section 11.3 Waivers. The rights and remedies of the Administrative Agent and the Banks under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents shall be cumulative and not exclusive of any rights or remedies which they would otherwise have. No failure or delay by the Administrative Agent, the Majority Banks, or the Banks, or any of them, in exercising any right, shall operate as a waiver of such right. The Administrative Agent and the Banks expressly reserve the right to require strict compliance with the terms of this Agreement in connection with any future funding of a Request for Advance. In the event the Banks decide to fund a Request for Advance at a time when the Borrower is not in strict compliance with the terms of this Agreement, such decision by the Banks shall not be deemed to constitute an undertaking by the Banks to fund any further Request for Advance or preclude the Banks or the Administrative Agent from exercising any rights available under the Loan Documents or at law or equity. Any waiver or indulgence granted by the Administrative Agent, the Banks, or the Majority Banks, shall not constitute a modification of this Agreement or any other Loan Document, except to the extent expressly provided in such waiver or indulgence, or constitute a course of dealing at variance with the terms of this Agreement or any other Loan Document such as to require further notice of their intent to require strict adherence to the terms of this Agreement or any other Loan Document in the future.

Section 11.4 Set-Off. In addition to any rights now or hereafter granted under Applicable Law and not by way of limitation of any such rights, upon the occurrence of an Event of Default and during the continuation thereof, the Administrative Agent and each of the Banks are hereby authorized by the Borrower at any time or from time to time, without notice to the Borrower or to any other Person, any such notice being hereby expressly waived, to set off and to appropriate and to apply any and all deposits (general or special, time or demand, including, but not limited to, Indebtedness evidenced by certificates of deposit, in each case whether matured or unmatured) and any other Indebtedness at any time held or owing by any Bank or Administrative Agent, to or for the credit or the account of the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries, against and on account of the obligations and liabilities of the Borrower to the Banks and the Administrative Agent, including, but not limited to, all Obligations and any other claims of any nature or description arising out of or connected with this Agreement, the Notes or any other Loan Document, irrespective of whether (a) any Bank or Administrative Agent shall have made any demand hereunder or (b) any Bank or Administrative Agent shall have declared the principal of and interest on the Loans and other amounts due hereunder to be due and payable as permitted by Section 8.2 and although such obligations and liabilities or any of them shall be contingent or unmatured. Upon direction by the Administrative Agent with the consent of all of the Banks each Bank holding deposits of the Borrower or any of its Restricted Subsidiaries shall exercise its set-off rights as so directed; and, within one (1) Business Day following any such setoff, the Administrative Agent shall give notice thereof to the Borrower. Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained in this Section 11.4, no Bank shall exercise any right of offset without the prior consent of the Majority Banks so long as the Obligations shall be secured by any real property or real property interest including leaseholds located in the State of California, it being understood and agreed that the provisions of this sentence are for the exclusive benefit of the Banks, may be amended, modified or waived by the Majority Banks without notice to or consent of the Borrower or any Subsidiary of the Borrower and shall not constitute a waiver of any rights against the Borrower or any Subsidiary or against any Collateral.

Section 11.5 Assignment.

(a) The Borrower may not assign or transfer any of its rights or obligations hereunder, under the Notes or under any other Loan Document without the prior written consent of each Bank.

(b) Each Bank may sell (i) assignments of any amount of its interest hereunder to any Bank, or (ii) assignments or participations of one hundred percent (100%) (or, with the consent of the Borrower, a smaller percentage) of its interest hereunder to (A) one or more wholly-owned Affiliates of such Bank (provided that, if such Affiliate is not a financial institution, such Bank shall be obligated to repurchase such assignment if such Affiliate is unable to honor its obligations hereunder), or (B) any Federal Reserve Bank as collateral security pursuant to Regulation A of the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve System and any Operating Circular issued by such Federal Reserve Bank (no assignment shall relieve such Bank from its obligations hereunder).

(c) Each of the Banks may at any time enter into assignment agreements or participations with one or more other banks or other Persons pursuant to which each Bank may assign or participate its interest under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents, including, its interest in any particular Advance or portion thereof, provided, that (1) all assignments (other than assignments described in clause (b) hereof) shall be in minimum principal amounts of the lesser of (X) $5,000,000, and (Y) the amount of such Bank's Commitment (in a single assignment only), and (2) all assignments (other than assignments described in clause (b) hereof) and participations hereunder shall be subject to the following additional terms and conditions:

(i) No assignment (except assignments permitted in Section 11.5(b) hereof) shall be sold without the prior consent of the Administrative Agent and prior to the occurrence and continuation of an Event of Default, the consent of the Borrower, which consents shall not be unreasonably withheld;

(ii) Any Person purchasing a participation or an assignment of any portion of the Loans from any Bank shall be required to represent and warrant that its purchase shall not constitute a "prohibited transaction" (as defined in Section 4.1(m) hereof);

(iii) The Borrower, the Banks, and the Administrative Agent agree that assignments permitted hereunder (including the assignment of any Advance or portion thereof) may be made with all voting rights, and shall be made pursuant to an Assignment and Assumption Agreement substantially in the form of Exhibit N attached hereto. An administrative fee of $3,500 shall be payable to the Administrative Agent by the assigning Bank at the time of any assignment under this Section 11.5(b);

(iv) No participation agreement shall confer any rights under this Agreement or any other Loan Document to any purchaser thereof, or relieve any issuing Bank from any of its obligations under this Agreement, and all actions hereunder shall be conducted as if no such participation had been granted; provided, however, that any participation agreement may confer on the participant the right to approve or disapprove decreases in the interest rate, increases in the principal amount of the Loans participated in by such participant, decreases in fees, extensions of the Maturity Date or other principal payment date for the Loans or of the scheduled reduction of the Commitment and releases of Collateral;

(v) Each Bank agrees to provide the Administrative Agent and the Borrower with prompt written notice of any issuance of participations in or assignments of its interests hereunder;

(vi) No assignment, participation or other transfer of any rights hereunder or under the Notes shall be effected that would result in any interest requiring registration under the Securities Act of 1933, as amended, or qualification under any state securities law;

(vii) No such assignment may be made to any bank or other financial institution (x) with respect to which a receiver or conservator (including, without limitation, the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, the Resolution Trust Company or the Office of Thrift Supervision) has been appointed or (y) that is not "adequately capitalized" (as such term is defined in Section 131(b)(1)(B) of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation Improvement Act as in effect on the Agreement Date); and

(viii) If applicable, each Bank shall, and shall cause each of its assignees to, provide to the Administrative Agent on or prior to the effective date of any assignment an appropriate Internal Revenue Service form as required by Applicable Law supporting such Bank's or assignee's position that no withholding by the Borrower or the Administrative Agent for U.S. income tax payable by such Bank or assignee in respect of amounts received by it hereunder is required. For purposes of this Agreement, an appropriate Internal Revenue Service form shall mean Form 1001 (Ownership Exemption or Reduced Rate Certificate of the U.S. Department of Treasury), or Form 4224 (Exemption from Withholding of Tax on Income Effectively Connected with the Conduct of a Trade or Business in the United States), or any successor or related forms adopted by the relevant U.S. taxing authorities.

(d) Except as specifically set forth in Section 11.5(b) or (c) hereof, nothing in this Agreement or the Notes, expressed or implied, is intended to or shall confer on any Person other than the respective parties hereto and thereto and their successors and assignees permitted hereunder and thereunder any benefit or any legal or equitable right, remedy or other claim under this Agreement or the Notes.

(e) In the case of any participation, all amounts payable by the Borrower under the Loan Documents shall be calculated and made in the manner and to the parties hereto as if no such participation had been sold.

(f) The provisions of this Section 11.5 shall not apply to any purchase of participations among the Banks pursuant to Section 2.11 hereof.

Section 11.6 Accounting Principles. All references in this Agreement to GAAP shall be to such principles as in effect from time to time. All accounting terms used herein without definition shall be used as defined under GAAP. All references to the financial statements of the Borrower and to its Operating Cash Flow, Total Debt, Fixed Charges, Pro Forma Debt Service, and other such terms shall be deemed to refer to such items of the Borrower and its Restricted Subsidiaries, on a fully consolidated basis. The Borrower shall deliver to the Banks at the same time as the delivery of any quarterly or annual financial statements required pursuant to Section 6.1 or 6.2 hereof, as applicable, (a) a description in reasonable detail of any material variation between the application of GAAP employed in the preparation of such statements and the application of GAAP employed in the preparation of the next preceding quarterly or annual financial statements, as applicable, and (b) reasonable estimates of the differences between such statements arising as a consequence thereof. If, within thirty (30) days after the delivery of the quarterly or annual financial statements referred to in the immediately preceding sentence, the Majority Banks shall object in writing to the Borrower's determining compliance hereunder on such basis, (1) calculations for the purposes of determining compliance hereunder shall be made on a basis consistent with those used in the preparation of the latest financial statements as to which such objection shall not have been made, or (2) if requested by the Borrower, the Majority Banks will negotiate in good faith to amend the covenants herein to give effect to the changes in GAAP in a manner consistent with this Agreement (and so long as the Borrower complies in good faith with the provisions of this Section 11.6, no Default or Event of Default shall occur hereunder solely as a result of such changes in GAAP).

Section 11.7 Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original, but all such separate counterparts shall together constitute but one and the same instrument.

Section 11.8 Governing Law. This Agreement and the Notes shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the internal laws of the State of New York applicable to agreements made and to be performed in New York. If any action or proceeding shall be brought by the Administrative Agent or any Bank hereunder or under any other Loan Document in order to enforce any right or remedy under this Agreement or under any Note or any other Loan Document, the Borrower hereby consents and will, and the Borrower will cause each Restricted Subsidiary to, submit to the jurisdiction of any state or federal court of competent jurisdiction sitting within the area comprising the Southern District of New York on the date of this Agreement. The Borrower, for itself and on behalf of its Restricted Subsidiaries, hereby agrees that, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law, service of the summons and complaint and all other process which may be served in any such suit, action or proceeding may be effected by mailing by registered mail a copy of such process to the offices of the Borrower at the address given in Section 11.1 hereof and that personal service of process shall not be required. Nothing herein shall be construed to prohibit service of process by any other method permitted by law, or the bringing of any suit, action or proceeding in any other jurisdiction. The Borrower agrees that final judgment in such suit, action or proceeding shall be conclusive and may be enforced in any other jurisdiction by suit on the judgment or in any other manner provided by Applicable Law.

Section 11.9 Severability. Any provision of this Agreement which is prohibited or unenforceable in any jurisdiction shall be ineffective to the extent of such prohibition or unenforceability without invalidating the remaining provisions hereof in that jurisdiction or affecting the validity or enforceability of such provision in any other jurisdiction.

Section 11.10 Interest.

(a) In no event shall the amount of interest due or payable hereunder or under the Notes exceed the maximum rate of interest allowed by Applicable Law, and in the event any such payment is inadvertently made by the Borrower or inadvertently received by the Administrative Agent or any Bank, then such excess sum shall be credited as a payment of principal, unless the Borrower shall notify the Administrative Agent or such Bank, in writing, that it elects to have such excess sum returned forthwith. It is the express intent hereof that the Borrower not pay and the Administrative Agent and the Banks not receive, directly or indirectly in any manner whatsoever, interest in excess of that which may legally be paid by the Borrower under Applicable Law.

(b) Notwithstanding the use by the Banks of the Base Rate and the LIBOR as reference rates for the determination of interest on the Loans, the Banks shall be under no obligation to obtain funds from any particular source in order to charge interest to the Borrower at interest rates related to such reference rates.

Section 11.11 Table of Contents and Headings. The Table of Contents and the headings of the various subdivisions used in this Agreement are for convenience only and shall not in any way modify or amend any of the terms or provisions hereof, nor be used in connection with the interpretation of any provision hereof.

Section 11.12 Amendment and Waiver. Neither this Agreement nor any Loan Document nor any term hereof or thereof may be amended orally, nor may any provision hereof or thereof be waived orally but only by an instrument in writing signed by or at the direction of the Majority Banks and, in the case of an amendment, by the Borrower, except that in the event of (a) any increase in the amount of any Bank's portion of the Commitment, (b) any delay or extension in the terms of repayment of the Loans provided in Section 2.5 or 2.7 hereof, (c) any reduction in principal, interest or fees due hereunder or postponement of the payment thereof without a corresponding payment of such principal, interest or fee amount by the Borrower, (d) any release of any portion of the Collateral for the Loans, except under Section 7.4 hereof, (e) any waiver of any Default due to the failure by the Borrower to pay any sum due to any of the Banks hereunder, (f) any release of any Guaranty of all or any portion of the Obligations, except in connection with a merger, sale or other disposition otherwise permitted hereunder (in which case, such release shall require no further approval by the Banks), (g) any amendment to the pro rata treatment of the Banks set forth in Section 2.11 hereof, or (h) any amendment of this Section 11.12, of the definition of Majority Banks, or of any Section herein to the extent that such Section requires action by all Banks, any amendment or waiver or consent may be made only by an instrument in writing signed by each of the Banks and, in the case of an amendment, by the Borrower. Any amendment to any provision hereunder governing the rights, obligations, or liabilities of the Administrative Agent in its capacity as such, may be made only by an instrument in writing signed by such affected Person and by each of the Banks.

Section 11.13 Entire Agreement. Except as otherwise expressly provided herein, this Agreement and the other documents described or contemplated herein will embody the entire agreement and understanding among the parties hereto and thereto and supersede all prior agreements and understandings relating to the subject matter hereof and thereof.

Section 11.14 Other Relationships. No relationship created hereunder or under any other Loan Document shall in any way affect the ability of the Administrative Agent and each Bank to enter into or maintain business relationships with the Borrower or any of its Affiliates beyond the relationships specifically contemplated by this Agreement and the other Loan Documents.

Section 11.15 Directly or Indirectly. If any provision in this Agreement refers to any action taken or to be taken by any Person, or which such Person is prohibited from taking, such provision shall be applicable whether such action is taken directly or indirectly by such Person, whether or not expressly specified in such provision.

Section 11.16 Reliance on and Survival of Various Provisions. All covenants, agreements, statements, representations and warranties made herein or in any certificate delivered pursuant hereto (i) shall be deemed to have been relied upon by the Administrative Agent and each of the Banks notwithstanding any investigation heretofore or hereafter made by them, and (ii) shall survive the execution and delivery of the Notes and shall continue in full force and effect so long as any Note is outstanding and unpaid. Any right to indemnification hereunder, including, without limitation, rights pursuant to Sections 2.10, 2.12, 5.12, 10.3 and 11.2 hereof, shall survive the termination of this Agreement and the payment and performance of all Obligations.

Section 11.17 Senior Debt. The Obligations are secured by the Security Documents and are intended by the parties hereto to be in parity with the Interest Hedge Agreements and senior in right of payment to all other Indebtedness of the Borrower.

Section 11.18 Obligations Several. The obligations of the Administrative Agent and each of the Banks hereunder are several, not joint.

Section 11.19 Confidentiality. The Banks shall hold all non-public, proprietary or confidential information (which has been identified as such by the Borrower) obtained pursuant to the requirements of this Agreement in accordance with their customary procedures for handling confidential information of this nature and in accordance with safe and sound banking practices; provided, however, the Banks may make disclosure of any such information to their examiners, Affiliates, outside auditors, counsel, consultants, appraisers and other professional advisors in connection with this Agreement or as reasonably required by any proposed syndicate member or any proposed transferee or participant in connection with the contemplated transfer of any Note or participation therein or as required or requested by any governmental authority or representative thereof or in connection with the enforcement hereof or of any Loan Document or related document or pursuant to legal process or with respect to any litigation between or among the Borrower and any of the Banks, so long as the person (other than any examiners) receiving such information is advised of the provisions of this Section 11.19 and agrees to be bound thereby. In no event shall any Bank be obligated or required to return any materials furnished to it by the Borrower. The foregoing provisions shall not apply to a Bank with respect to information that (i) is or becomes generally available to the public (other than through such Bank), (ii) is already in the possession of such Bank on a nonconfidential basis, or (iii) comes into the possession of such Bank in a manner not known to such Bank to involve a breach of a duty of confidentiality owing to the Borrower.

Section 11.20 Termination of Agreement. Notwithstanding anything contained in this Agreement or any Loan Document to the contrary, in the event that the Borrower has failed to satisfy all of the conditions set forth in Section 3.1 hereof on or prior to December 20, 1996, then at 5:00 p.m. (New York time) all obligations of the Banks hereunder, pursuant to the Commitment or otherwise, shall immediately (and without notice of any kind) terminate and be of no force and effect; provided, however, that notwithstanding any such termination and irrespective of any such termination, the Borrower hereby agrees to pay to the Administrative Agent, on or prior to December 20, 1996, the fees required to be paid pursuant to Section 2.4(a) hereof and hereby acknowledges that such Section 2.4(a) shall survive any such termination of this Agreement. Promptly following the termination of the Banks' obligations pursuant to the preceding sentence, the Banks shall return the Notes to the Borrower and take reasonable steps (at the expense of the Borrower) as may be requested by the Borrower to cause any Liens granted under the Loan Documents to be released.

Waiver of Jury Trial

Section 12.1 Waiver of Jury Trial. THE BORROWER, FOR ITSELF AND ON BEHALF OF ITS RESTRICTED SUBSIDIARIES, AND THE ADMINISTRATIVE AGENT AND THE BANKS, HEREBY AGREE, TO THE EXTENT PERMITTED BY LAW, TO WAIVE AND HEREBY WAIVE THE RIGHT TO A TRIAL BY JURY IN ANY COURT AND IN ANY ACTION OR PROCEEDING OF ANY TYPE IN WHICH THE BORROWER, ANY OF THE BORROWER'S RESTRICTED SUBSIDIARIES, ANY OF THE BANKS, THE ADMINISTRATIVE AGENT OR ANY OF THEIR RESPECTIVE SUCCESSORS OR ASSIGNS IS A PARTY, AS TO ALL MATTERS AND THINGS ARISING DIRECTLY OR INDIRECTLY OUT OF THIS AGREEMENT, ANY OF THE NOTES OR THE OTHER LOAN DOCUMENTS AND THE RELATIONS AMONG THE PARTIES LISTED IN THIS SECTION 12.1. EXCEPT AS PROHIBITED BY LAW, EACH PARTY TO THIS AGREEMENT WAIVES ANY RIGHTS IT MAY HAVE TO CLAIM OR RECOVER IN ANY LITIGATION REFERRED TO IN THIS SECTION, ANY SPECIAL, EXEMPLARY, PUNITIVE OR CONSEQUENTIAL DAMAGES OR ANY DAMAGES OTHER THAN, OR IN ADDITION TO, ACTUAL DAMAGES. EACH PARTY TO THIS AGREEMENT (i) CERTIFIES THAT NEITHER ANY REPRESENTATIVE, AGENT OR ATTORNEY OF THE ADMINISTRATIVE AGENT OR ANY BANK HAS REPRESENTED, EXPRESSLY OR OTHERWISE, THAT THE ADMINISTRATIVE AGENT OR ANY BANK WOULD NOT, IN THE EVENT OF LITIGATION, SEEK TO ENFORCE THE FOREGOING WAIVERS AND (ii) ACKNOWLEDGES THAT IT HAS BEEN INDUCED TO ENTER INTO THIS AGREEMENT AND EACH OTHER LOAN DOCUMENT BY, AMONG OTHER THINGS, THE MUTUAL WAIVERS AND CERTIFICATIONS IN THIS SECTION. THE PROVISIONS OF THIS SECTION HAVE BEEN FULLY DISCLOSED BY AND TO THE PARTIES AND THE PROVISIONS SHALL BE SUBJECT TO NO EXCEPTIONS. NO PARTY HAS IN ANY WAY AGREED WITH OR REPRESENTED TO ANY OTHER PARTY THAT THE PROVISIONS OF THIS SECTION WILL NOT BE FULLY ENFORCED IN ALL INSTANCES.

FORM OF BORROWER'S PLEDGE AGREEMENT

THIS BORROWER'S PLEDGE AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), entered into as of this 22nd day of November 1996, by and between American Tower Systems, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Borrower"), and Toronto Dominion (Texas), Inc. (the "Administrative Agent") as administrative agent for itself and on behalf of the Banks.

W I T N E S S E T H:

WHEREAS, the Borrower, the Banks and the Administrative Agent are all parties to that certain Loan Agreement dated as of even date herewith (the "Loan Agreement"); and

WHEREAS, as a condition precedent to the effectiveness of the Loan Agreement, the Borrower is required to execute and deliver this Agreement; and

WHEREAS, to secure the payment and performance of, among other things, all obligations of the Borrower under the Loan Agreement and the promissory notes issued by the Borrower to the Banks thereunder (the "Notes"), the Borrower and the Administrative Agent (on behalf of itself and the Banks), have agreed that the shares of capital stock (the "Stock") owned by the Borrower in each of the Subsidiaries of the Borrower listed on Schedule 1 attached hereto, which are the only directly owned corporate Subsidiaries of the Borrower, shall be pledged by the Borrower to the Administrative Agent (on behalf of itself and the Banks) to secure the Obligations;

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and for other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto agree that capitalized terms used herein shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the Loan Agreement to the extent not otherwise defined or limited herein, and further agree as follows:

1. Warranty. The Borrower hereby represents and warrants to the Administrative Agent and the Banks that, except for the security interest created hereby, the Borrower owns the Stock, which constitutes the percentage of the issued and outstanding stock of the Subsidiaries as set forth on Schedule 1 attached hereto, free and clear of all Liens, that the Stock is duly issued, fully paid and non-assessable, and that the Borrower has the unencumbered right to pledge the Stock. In addition, the Borrower represents and covenants as follows: (1) the Stock represents all of Borrower's shares of capital stock in any Subsidiary of the Borrower; (2) upon possession and retention of the Stock by the Administrative Agent, the Administrative Agent shall have a valid and perfected first priority security interest in the Stock, securing the payment of the Obligations; and (3) except as noted on Schedule 2 attached hereto, the Stock represents all of the outstanding shares of stock issued by any direct Subsidiary of the Borrower.

2. Security Interest. Subject to the provisions of Section 13 hereof, the Borrower hereby unconditionally grants and assigns to the Administrative Agent, for itself and on behalf of the Banks, and their respective successors and assigns, a continuing security interest in and security title to the Stock and any other shares of capital stock of any Subsidiary of the Borrower obtained in the future, and in each case, all certificates representing such shares, all rights, options, warrant, stock or other securities or other property which may hereafter be received, receivable or distributed in respect of the Stock, together with all proceeds of the foregoing, including, without limitation, all dividends, cash, notes, securities or other property from time to time acquired, receivable or otherwise distributed in respect of, or in exchange for, the foregoing, all of which shall constitute "Stock" hereunder. The Borrower has delivered to and deposited with the Administrative Agent all of its right, title and interest in and to the Stock, together with certificates representing the Stock, and undated stock powers endorsed in blank, as security for the Obligations; it being the intention of the parties hereto that beneficial ownership of the Stock, including, without limitation, all voting, consensual and dividend rights, shall remain in the Borrower until the occurrence and during continuance of an Event of Default under the terms of the Loan Agreement and until the Administrative Agent shall notify the Borrower of the Administrative Agent's exercise of voting and dividend rights to the Stock pursuant to Section 9 of this Agreement.

3. Additional Shares. In the event that, during the term of this Agreement:

(a) any stock dividend, stock split, reclassification, readjustment, or other change is declared or made in the capital structure of any directly owned Subsidiary, or any new stock is issued by such Subsidiary, or any new directly owned Subsidiary is formed or acquired, all new, substituted, and additional shares shall be issued to the Borrower and shall be promptly delivered to the Administrative Agent, together with undated stock powers endorsed in blank by the Borrower, and shall thereupon constitute Stock to be held by the Administrative Agent under the terms of this Agreement; and

(b) any subscriptions, warrants or any other rights or options shall be issued in connection with the Stock, all new stock or other securities acquired through such subscriptions, warrants, rights or option by the Borrower shall be promptly delivered to the Administrative Agent, together with undated stock powers endorsed in blank, and shall thereupon constitute Stock to be held by the Administrative Agent under the terms of this Agreement.

4. Default. In the event of the occurrence of an Event of Default and so long as any such Event of Default is continuing, subject, however, to Section 13 hereof, the Administrative Agent may sell or otherwise dispose of the Stock at a public or private sale or make other commercially reasonable disposition of the Stock or any portion thereof after fifteen (15) days' notice to the Borrower, and the Administrative Agent and the Banks or any of them, may purchase the Stock or any portion thereof at any public sale. The proceeds of the public or private sale or other disposition shall be applied first to the costs of the Administrative Agent incurred in connection with the sale, expressly including, without limitation, any costs under Section 7 hereof, and then to the Obligations as provided in the Loan Agreement. In the event the proceeds of the sale or other disposition of the Stock are insufficient to satisfy the Obligations, the Borrower shall remain liable for any such deficiency. The Borrower waives, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law, the rights of equity of redemption, appraisal, notice of acceptance, presentment, demand and marshalling, to the extent applicable.

5. Additional Rights of Secured Party. In addition to its rights and privileges under this Agreement, the Administrative Agent, on behalf of itself and the Banks, shall have all the rights, powers and privileges of a secured party under the Uniform Commercial Code as in effect in any applicable jurisdiction and other Applicable Law.

6. Return of Stock to the Borrower. Upon payment in full of all principal and interest on the Notes, full performance by the Borrower of all covenants, undertakings and obligations under the Loan Agreement, the Notes, and the other Loan Documents, and satisfaction in full of any other Obligations, other than the Obligations which survive the termination of the Loan Agreement as provided in Section 11.16 of the Loan Agreement, and after such time as the Banks shall have no obligation to make any further Advances to the Borrower, this Agreement shall terminate and the Administrative Agent shall return the remaining Stock and all rights received by the Administrative Agent as a result of its possessory interest in the Stock to the Borrower.

7. Disposition of Stock by Administrative Agent. The Stock is not registered or qualified under the various Federal or state securities laws of the United States and disposition thereof after default may be restricted to one or more private (instead of public) sales. The Borrower understands that upon such disposition, the Administrative Agent may approach only a restricted number of potential purchasers and further understands that a sale under such circumstances may yield a lower price for the Stock than if the Stock were registered and qualified pursuant to Federal and state securities laws and sold on the open market.

The Borrower, therefore, agrees that:

(a) if the Administrative Agent shall, pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, sell or cause the Stock or any portion thereof to be sold at a private sale, the Administrative Agent shall have the right to rely upon the advice and opinion of any national brokerage or investment firm having recognized expertise and experience in connection with shares of communications tower companies (but shall not be obligated to seek such advice and the failure to do so shall not be considered in determining the commercial reasonableness of such action) as to the best manner in which to expose the Stock for sale and as to the best price reasonably obtainable at the private sale thereof; and

(b) that such reliance shall be conclusive evidence that the Administrative Agent has handled such disposition in a commercially reasonable manner absent manifest error.

8. Borrower's Obligations Absolute. The obligations of the Borrower under this Agreement shall be direct and immediate and not conditional or contingent upon the pursuit of any remedies against the Borrower or any other Person, nor against other security or liens available to the Administrative Agent or any Bank. The Borrower hereby waives any right to require that an action be brought against any other Person or to require that resort be had to any other security or to any balance of any deposit account or credit on the books of the Administrative Agent or any of the Banks in favor of any other Person prior to the exercise of remedies hereunder, or to require action hereunder prior to resort by the Administrative Agent to any other security or collateral for the Notes and the other Obligations. No amendment, modification, waiver, transfer or renewal, extension, assignment or termination of this Agreement or of the Loan Agreement or of any other Loan Document, or of any instrument or document executed and delivered by the Borrower or any other obligor with respect to the Obligations to the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, nor additional advances made by the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, to the Borrower, nor the taking of further security, nor the retaking or re-delivery or release of the Collateral or any other collateral or guaranty to the Borrower by the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, nor any lack of validity or enforceability of any Loan Document or any term thereof, nor any other act of the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, shall release the Borrower from any Obligation, except a release or discharge executed in writing by the Administrative Agent in accordance with the Loan Agreement with respect to such Obligation or upon full payment and satisfaction of all Obligations. Neither the Administrative Agent nor any Bank shall, by any act, delay, omission or otherwise, be deemed to have waived any of its or their rights or remedies hereunder, unless such waiver is in writing and signed by the Administrative Agent in accordance with the Loan Agreement and then only to the extent therein set forth. A waiver by the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, of any right or remedy on any occasion shall not be construed as a bar to the exercise of any such right or remedy which any such Person would otherwise have had on any other occasion.

9. Voting Rights.

(a) For so long as the Notes or any other Obligations remain unpaid, after and during the continuation of an Event of Default, but subject to the provisions of Section 13 hereof, (i) the Administrative Agent may, upon fifteen (15) days' prior written notice to the Borrower of its intention to do so, exercise all voting rights, and all other ownership or consensual rights of the Stock, but under no circumstances is the Administrative Agent obligated by the terms of this Agreement to exercise such rights, and (ii) the Borrower hereby appoints the Administrative Agent, which appointment shall be effective on the fifteenth (15th) day following the giving of notice by the Administrative Agent as provided in the foregoing Section 9(a)(i), the Borrower's true and lawful attorney-in-fact and IRREVOCABLE PROXY to vote the Stock in any manner the Administrative Agent deems advisable for or against all matters submitted or which may be submitted to a vote of shareholders. The power-of-attorney granted hereby is coupled with an interest and shall be irrevocable.

(b) For so long as the Borrower shall have the right to vote the Stock, the Borrower covenants and agrees that it will not, without the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent, vote or take any consensual action with respect to the Stock which would constitute an Event of Default.

10. Notices. All notices and other communications required or permitted hereunder shall be in writing, and shall be given in the manner and at the addresses set forth in Section 11.1 of the Loan Agreement.

11. Binding Agreement. The provisions of this Agreement shall be construed and interpreted, and all rights and obligations of the parties hereto determined, in accordance with the internal laws of the State of New York applicable to contracts made and to be performed in the State of New York. This Agreement, together with all documents referred to herein, constitutes the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the matters addressed herein and may not be modified except by a writing executed by the Administrative Agent and the Borrower and delivered by the Administrative Agent to the Borrower.

12. Severability. If any paragraph or part thereof shall for any reason be held or adjudged to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable by any court of competent jurisdiction, such paragraph or part thereof so adjudicated invalid, illegal or unenforceable shall be deemed separate, distinct and independent, and the remainder of this Agreement shall remain in full force and effect and shall not be affected by such holding or adjudication.

13. FCC Compliance. Notwithstanding anything herein which may be construed to the contrary, no action shall be taken by the Administrative Agent which may require the consent or approval of the FCC, and the proxy granted in Section 9(a) shall not become effective, unless and until all requirements of the Communications Act requiring the consent to or approval of such action by the FCC have been satisfied. The Borrower covenants that, following and during the continuation of an Event of Default, upon request of the Administrative Agent, it will cause to be filed such applications and take such other action as may be reasonably requested by the Administrative Agent to obtain consent or approval of the FCC to any action contemplated by this Agreement and to give effect to the security interest of the Administrative Agent, including, without limitation, the execution of an application for consent by the FCC to an assignment or transfer involving a change in ownership or control pursuant to the provisions of the Communications Act.

14. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in multiple counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original, but all such separate counterparts shall together constitute but one and the same instrument.

15. Administrative Agent. Each reference herein to any right granted to, benefit conferred upon or power exercisable by the "Administrative Agent" shall be a reference to the Administrative Agent for the benefit of all the Banks, and each action taken or right exercised hereunder shall be deemed to have been so taken or exercised by the Administrative Agent for the benefit of and on behalf of all the Banks.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the undersigned parties hereto have executed this Agreement by and through their duly authorized officers, as of the day and year first above written.

The Inventory, Accounts, Equipment, Contracts, Other Contracts, Leases, Intangibles, Licenses, Furniture and Fixtures, Miscellaneous Items, and Proceeds, as described above, are hereinafter collectively referred to as the "Collateral."

This Agreement and the Security Interest secure the payment and performance of the Obligations (as defined in the Loan Agreement).

2. Further Assurances. The Borrower hereby authorizes the Administrative Agent to file such financing statements and such other documents as the Administrative Agent may reasonably require to protect or perfect the interest of the Banks and the Administrative Agent in the Collateral, and the Borrower further irrevocably appoints the Administrative Agent as the Borrower's attorney-in-fact, with a power of attorney to execute on behalf of the Borrower such Uniform Commercial Code

(the "UCC") financing statement forms as the Administrative Agent may from time to time deem necessary or desirable to protect or perfect such interest in the Collateral. Such power of attorney is coupled with an interest and shall be irrevocable. In addition, the Borrower agrees to do, execute and deliver or cause to be done, executed and delivered all such further acts, documents and things as the Administrative Agent may reasonably require for the purpose of perfecting or protecting the rights of the Banks and the Administrative Agent hereunder or otherwise giving effect to this Agreement, all promptly upon request therefor.

3. Representations and Warranties. The Borrower represents and warrants to the Banks and the Administrative Agent that:

(a) Exhibit A attached hereto and incorporated herein by this reference sets forth a complete and accurate list of the Contracts in effect on the date hereof which provide for aggregate payments to the Borrower over the life of any single Contract in excess of $250,000 or which are otherwise material to the Borrower, and the Borrower will furnish copies thereof to the Banks and the Administrative Agent upon the request of the Administrative Agent;

(b) Exhibit B attached hereto and incorporated herein by this reference sets forth a complete and accurate list of all Leases providing for aggregate payments to the Borrower over the life of any single Lease in excess of $100,000, to which the Borrower is party in effect on the date hereof, and the Borrower will furnish copies thereof to the Banks and the Administrative Agent upon the request of the Administrative Agent; and

(c) Exhibit C attached hereto and incorporated herein by this reference sets forth a complete and accurate list of the Licenses in effect on the date hereof.

4. Representations and Warranties Concerning Collateral. The Borrower further represents and warrants that (a) the Security Interest in the Collateral granted hereunder shall constitute at all times a valid first priority security interest (subject only to Permitted Liens), vested in the Administrative Agent, in and upon the Collateral, free of any Liens except for Permitted Liens, (b) the location of the Inventory and Equipment is as set forth in Schedule 1 hereto, and (c) none of the Accounts are represented by promissory notes or other instruments. The Borrower shall take or cause to be taken such acts and actions as shall be necessary or appropriate to assure that the Security Interest in the Collateral shall not become subordinate or junior to the security interests, liens or claims of any other Person, and that the Collateral shall not otherwise be or become subject to any Lien, except for Permitted Liens.

5. Location of Books and Records. The Borrower further represents and warrants that it now keeps all of its records concerning its Accounts, Contracts, Leases, Other Contracts, and Intangibles at its chief executive office, which is the address set forth with respect to the Borrower in Section 11.1 of the Loan Agreement. The Borrower covenants and agrees that it shall not keep any of such records at any other address, unless written notice thereof is given to the Administrative Agent at least thirty (30) days prior to the creation of any new address for the keeping of such records. The Borrower further agrees that it shall promptly advise the Administrative Agent, in writing making reference to this Section 4 of this Agreement, of the opening of any material new place of business, the closing of any existing material place of business, or any change in the location of the place where it keeps the Collateral or of its chief executive officer.

6. Collateral Not Fixtures. The parties intend that, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law, the Collateral shall remain personal property irrespective of the manner of its attachment or affixation to realty.

7. Covenants Regarding Collateral. Any and all injury to, or loss or destruction of, the Collateral shall be at the Borrower's risk, and shall not release the Borrower from its obligations hereunder. The Borrower agrees not to sell, transfer, assign, dispose of, mortgage, grant a security interest in, or encumber any of the Collateral except as permitted under the Loan Agreement. The Borrower agrees to maintain in force such insurance with respect to the Collateral as is required under the Loan Agreement. The Borrower agrees to pay all required taxes, liens, and assessments upon the Collateral, its use or operation, as required under the Loan Agreement. The Borrower further agrees that the Administrative Agent may, but shall in no event be obligated to, upon prior written notice to the Borrower, insure any of the Collateral in such form and amount as the Administrative Agent may deem necessary or desirable if the Borrower fails to obtain insurance as required by the Loan Agreement, and that the Administrative Agent may pay or discharge any taxes if the Borrower fails to pay such taxes as required by the Loan Agreement or Liens (which are not Permitted Liens) on any of the Collateral, and the Borrower agrees to pay any such sum so expended by the Administrative Agent, with interest at the Default Rate, and such amounts shall be deemed to be a part of the Obligations secured by the Collateral under the terms of this Agreement.

8. Covenants Regarding Contracts, Other Contracts and Leases. The Borrower shall (i) fulfill, perform and observe each and every material condition and covenant contained in any of the Contracts, the Other Contracts or the Leases other than those being contested in good faith or unless the other party thereto is in default, (ii) give prompt notice to the Administrative Agent of any claim of material default under any Contract, Other Contract or Lease given to the Borrower or by the Borrower, (iii) at the sole cost and expense of the Borrower, enforce the performance and observance of each and every material covenant and condition of the Contracts, the Other Contracts and the Leases, and (iv) appear in and defend any action growing out of or in any manner connected with any Contract, Other Contract or Lease other than those which in the Borrower's reasonable business judgment are no longer in the best interest of the Borrower to enforce and which have been approved by the Administrative Agent. The rights and interests granted to the Administrative Agent hereunder include all of the Borrower's rights and title (i) to modify the Contracts, the Other Contracts and the Leases, (ii) to terminate the Contracts, the Other Contracts and the Leases, and (iii) to waive or release the performance or observance of any obligation or condition of the Contracts, the Other Contracts and the Leases; provided, however, that the Borrower shall have the right to exercise these rights in a fashion consistent with this Agreement prior to any Event of Default and that these rights shall not be exercised by the Administrative Agent prior to the occurrence and during the continuance of an Event of Default.

9. Remedies. Upon the occurrence and during the continuation of an Event of Default the Banks and the Administrative Agent shall have such rights and remedies as are set forth in the Loan Agreement and herein, all the rights, powers and privileges of a secured party under the UCC of the State of New York and any other applicable jurisdiction, and all other rights and remedies available to the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, at law or in equity. The Borrower covenants and agrees that any notification of intended disposition of any Collateral, if such notice is required by law, shall be deemed reasonably and properly given if given in the manner provided for in Section 20 hereof at least ten (10) days prior to such disposition. Under such circumstances, the Administrative Agent shall have the right to the appointment of a receiver for the properties and assets of the Borrower, and the Borrower hereby consents to such right and to such appointment and hereby waives any objection the Borrower may have thereto and hereby waives the right to have a bond or other security posted by the Administrative Agent or any other Person in connection therewith. The Borrower agrees, after the occurrence and during the continuation of an Event of Default, to take any actions that the Administrative Agent may reasonably request in order to enable the Administrative Agent to obtain and enjoy the full rights and benefits granted to the Administrative Agent under this Agreement and the other Loan Documents. Without limiting the generality of the foregoing, the Borrower shall, at the Borrower's cost and expense, use its reasonable best efforts to assist in obtaining all approvals of the FCC which are then required by law for or in connection with any action or transaction contemplated by this Agreement or Article 9 of the UCC as in effect in any applicable jurisdiction, and, at the Administrative Agent's request, prepare, sign and file with the FCC the assignor's or transferor's portion of any application or applications for consent to the assignment of the Licenses or transfer of control thereof necessary or appropriate under the FCC's rules for approval of any sale or transfer of the Licenses in connection with the Administrative Agent's exercise of remedies under this Agreement. The Administrative Agent shall have the right, in connection with the issuance of any order for relief in a bankruptcy proceeding, to petition the bankruptcy court for the transfer of control or assignment of the Licenses to a receiver, trustee, transferee, or similar official or to any purchaser of the Collateral pursuant to any public or private sale, foreclosure or other exercise of remedies available to the Administrative Agent, all as permitted by Applicable Law. All amounts realized or collected through the exercise of remedies hereunder shall be applied to the Obligations as provided in the Loan Agreement.

10. Notification of Account Debtors. Upon the occurrence and during the continuation of an Event of Default, the Administrative Agent may notify the account debtors that all payments with respect to Accounts are to be paid directly to the Administrative Agent and any amount thereafter paid to the Borrower shall be received in trust by the Borrower for the benefit of the Administrative Agent and segregated from other funds of the Borrower and paid over to the Administrative Agent in the form received (together with any necessary endorsements).

11. Remedies of Administrative Agent. Upon the occurrence and during the continuation of an Event of Default, and after written notice to the Borrower, the Administrative Agent or its designee may proceed to perform any and all of the obligations of the Borrower contained in any of the Contracts, Other Contracts or Leases and exercise any and all rights of the Borrower therein contained as fully as the Borrower itself could. The Borrower hereby appoints the Administrative Agent its attorney-in-fact, with power of substitution, to take such action, execute such documents, and perform such work as the Administrative Agent may deem appropriate in exercise of the rights and remedies granted the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, herein or in any other Loan Document. The power of attorney granted herein is coupled with an interest and shall be irrevocable.

12. Additional Remedies. Upon the occurrence and during the continuation of an Event of Default, should the Borrower fail to perform or observe any covenant or comply with any condition contained in any of the Contracts, the Other Contracts or the Leases, then the Administrative Agent may, but without obligation to do so and without releasing the Borrower from its obligation to do so, and after written notice to the Borrower, perform such covenant or condition and, to the extent that the Administrative Agent shall incur any reasonable costs or pay any expenses in connection therewith, including any reasonable costs or expenses of litigation associated therewith, such costs, expenses or payments shall be included in the Obligations secured hereby and shall bear interest from the payment of such costs or expenses by the Administrative Agent at the Default Rate. Neither the Administrative Agent nor any Bank shall be obliged to perform or discharge any obligation of the Borrower under any of the Contracts, the Other Contracts or the Leases.

13. Administrative Agent May Collect Accounts. The Borrower hereby further appoints the Administrative Agent, effective upon the occurrence and during continuation of an Event of Default as its attorney-in-fact, with power of substitution, with authority to collect all Accounts, to endorse the name of the Borrower on any note, acceptance, check, draft, money order or other evidence of debt or of payment which constitutes a portion of the Collateral and which may come into the possession of the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, and generally to do such other things and acts in the name of the Borrower with respect to the Collateral as are necessary or appropriate to protect or enforce the rights hereunder of the Banks and the Administrative Agent. The Borrower further authorizes the Administrative Agent, effective upon the occurrence and during the continuation of an Event of Default, to compromise and settle or to sell, assign or transfer or to ask, collect, receive or issue any and all claims possessed by the Borrower which constitute a portion of the Collateral, all in the name of the Borrower. After deducting all reasonable expenses and charges (including the Administrative Agent's attorneys' fees) of retaking, keeping, storing and selling the Collateral, the Administrative Agent may apply the proceeds in payment of any of the Obligations in the order of application set forth in the Loan Agreement. The power of attorney granted herein is coupled with an interest and shall be irrevocable. The Borrower agrees that if steps are taken by the Administrative Agent to enforce its rights hereunder, or to realize upon any of the Collateral, the Borrower shall pay to the Administrative Agent the amount of the Administrative Agent's reasonable costs, including attorneys' fees, and the Borrower's obligation to pay such amounts shall be deemed to be a part of the Obligations secured hereunder. Upon the occurrence and during the continuation of an Event of Default, the Borrower shall segregate all proceeds of any Collateral from other assets of the Borrower.

14. Indemnification. The Borrower shall indemnify and hold harmless the Administrative Agent and each Bank, and any other Person acting hereunder for all losses, costs, damages, fees and expenses whatsoever associated with the exercise of the powers of attorney granted herein and shall release the Administrative Agent and each Bank, and any other Person acting hereunder from all liability whatsoever for the exercise of the foregoing powers of attorney and all actions taken pursuant thereto, except, in either event, in the case of bad faith, gross negligence or willful misconduct by the Person seeking indemnification.

15. Remedies Cumulative. The Borrower agrees that the rights of the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, under this Agreement, the Loan Agreement, any other Loan Document or any other contract or agreement now or hereafter in existence among the Banks and the Administrative Agent and the Borrower or any Subsidiary of the Borrower and the other obligors thereunder, or any of them, shall be cumulative, and that the Administrative Agent and each Bank may from time to time exercise such rights and such remedies as such Person or Persons may have thereunder and under the laws of the United States or any state, as applicable, in the manner and at the time that such Person or Persons in its or their sole discretion desire, subject to the terms of such agreements. The Borrower further expressly agrees that the Banks and the Administrative Agent shall in no event be under any obligation to resort to any Collateral secured hereby prior to exercising any other rights that the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, may have against the Borrower or any Subsidiary of the Borrower or any of their respective properties, nor shall the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, be obliged to resort to any other collateral or security for the Obligations, other than the Collateral, prior to any exercise of the Administrative Agent's rights against the Borrower and its property hereunder.

16. Obligations Commercial in Nature. The Borrower hereby acknowledges that the Obligations arose out of a commercial transaction, and agrees that if an Event of Default shall occur and be continuing, the Administrative Agent shall, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law, have the right to immediate possession without notice or a hearing, and hereby knowingly and intelligently waives, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law, any and all rights it may have to any notice and posting of a bond by the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, prior to seizure by the Administrative Agent or any of its transferees, assigns or successors in interest, of the Collateral or any portion thereof.

17. Amendments and Waivers. No amendment, modification, waiver, transfer or renewal, extension, assignment or termination of this Agreement or of the Loan Agreement or of any other Loan Document, or of any instrument or document executed and delivered by the Borrower or any other obligor to the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, nor additional advances made by the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, to the Borrower, nor the taking of further security, nor the retaking or re-delivery or release of the Collateral to the Borrower or any other collateral or guaranty by the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, nor any lack of validity or enforceability of any Loan Document or any term thereof nor any other act of the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, shall release the Borrower from any Obligation, except a release or discharge executed in writing by the Administrative Agent in accordance with the Loan Agreement with respect to such Obligation or upon full payment and satisfaction of all Obligations and termination of the Commitment. Neither the Administrative Agent nor any Bank shall by any act, delay, omission or otherwise, be deemed to have waived any of its or their rights or remedies hereunder, unless such waiver is in writing and signed by the Administrative Agent or one or more of the Banks in accordance with the Loan Agreement and then only to the extent therein set forth. A waiver by the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, of any right or remedy on any occasion shall not be construed as a bar to the exercise of any such right or remedy which any such Person would otherwise have had on any other occasion.

18. Assignment. The Borrower hereby agrees that this Agreement or the rights hereunder may, in the discretion of the Banks and the Administrative Agent or any of them, as applicable, be assigned in whole or in part in connection with any assignment of the Loan Agreement or the Obligations arising thereunder, as permitted thereunder. In the event this Agreement or the rights hereunder are so assigned by any of the Banks and the Administrative Agent, the terms "Banks", or "Administrative Agent" wherever used herein shall be deemed, as applicable, to refer to and include any such assignee.

19. Successors and Assigns. This Agreement shall apply to and bind the respective successors and permitted assigns of the Borrower and inure to the benefit of the successors and permitted assigns of the Borrower, the Banks and the Administrative Agent.

20. Notices. All notices and other communications required or permitted hereunder shall be in writing and shall be given in the manner prescribed in Section 11.1 of the Loan Agreement.

21. Governing Law. The provisions of this Agreement shall be construed and interpreted, and all rights and obligations of the parties hereto determined, in accordance with the internal laws of the State of New York applicable to contracts made and to be performed in the State of New York. This Agreement, together with all documents referred to herein, constitutes the entire agreement among the Borrower and the Banks and the Administrative Agent with respect to the matters addressed herein and may not be modified except by a writing executed by the Administrative Agent and delivered to the Borrower.

22. Severability. If any paragraph or part thereof of this Agreement shall for any reason be held or adjudged to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable by any court of competent jurisdiction, such paragraph or part thereof so adjudicated invalid, illegal or unenforceable shall be deemed separate, distinct and independent, and the remainder of this Agreement shall remain in full force and effect and shall not be affected by such holding or adjudication.

23. FCC Consent. Notwithstanding anything herein which may be construed to the contrary, no action shall be taken by the Administrative Agent with respect to the Licenses issued by the FCC unless and until all requirements of Applicable Law, including, without limitation, any required approval under the Communications Act, including without limitation the provision for ten (10) days notice to the FCC required by 47 C.F.R. ss. 22.917(e), requiring the consent to or approval of such action by the FCC or any governmental or other authority, have been satisfied. The Borrower covenants that upon request of the Administrative Agent it will cause to be filed such applications and take such other action as may be reasonably requested by the Administrative Agent to obtain the consent or approval of the FCC or any governmental or other authority which has granted any License to the Borrower to any action contemplated by this Agreement and to give effect to the Security Interest of the Administrative Agent, including, without limitation, the execution of an application for consent by the FCC to an assignment or transfer involving a change in ownership or control pursuant to the provisions of the Communications Act.

24. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in any number of counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original, but all such separate counterparts shall together constitute but one and the same instrument.

25. Changes in Applicable Law. The parties acknowledge their intent that, upon the occurrence and during the continuation of an Event of Default, the Administrative Agent shall receive, to the fullest extent permitted by Applicable Law and governmental policy (including, without limitation, the rules, regulations and policies of the FCC), all rights necessary or desirable to obtain, use or sell the Collateral and to exercise all remedies available to it under this Agreement, the UCC as in effect in any applicable jurisdiction, or other Applicable Law. The parties further acknowledge and agree that, in the event of changes in law or governmental policy occurring subsequent to the date hereof that affect in any manner the Administrative Agent's rights of access to, or use or sale of, the Collateral, or the procedures necessary to enable the Administrative Agent to obtain such rights of access, use or sale, the Administrative Agent and the Borrower shall amend this Agreement in such manner as the Administrative Agent shall reasonably request in order to provide the Administrative Agent such rights to the greatest extent possible consistent with Applicable Law and governmental policy.

26. Administrative Agent. Each reference herein to any right granted to, benefit conferred upon or power exercisable by the "Administrative Agent" shall be a reference to the Administrative Agent for the benefit of all the Banks, and each action taken or right exercised hereunder shall be deemed to have been so taken or exercised by the Administrative Agent for the benefit of and on behalf of all the Banks.

FORM OF CERTIFICATE OF FINANCIAL CONDITION

American Tower Systems, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Borrower"), in connection with that certain Loan Agreement (the "Loan Agreement") of even date herewith among the Borrower, the Banks (as defined in the Loan Agreement) and Toronto Dominion (Texas), Inc., as administrative agent for the Banks (in such capacity, the "Administrative Agent"), pursuant to which the Banks have agreed to make loans to the Borrower (the "Loans") as evidenced by those certain promissory notes of even date herewith by the Borrower to the order of the Banks, hereby certifies to each of the foregoing Persons other than the Borrower that:

1. The financial statements and all other documents relating to the Borrower's present or projected future financial condition (together with similar information relating to the Restricted Subsidiaries of the Borrower) provided to the Administrative Agent and the Banks in connection with the Loan Agreement, have been prepared by the undersigned or under the supervision of the undersigned, with due diligence and in full awareness of the reliance of the Banks on the information contained therein in reaching their decision to make the Loans. Such financial statements (other than those relating to projected financial condition) have been prepared in accordance with GAAP.

2. The Borrower, as a result of the Loans and any obligations incurred in connection therewith and the other transactions contemplated by the Loan Agreement, believes that the Borrower has not incurred and will not incur debts beyond its ability to satisfy them as they mature, and will have a positive operating cash flow after paying all of its anticipated indebtedness when due, including the obligations due to the Banks under the Loan Agreement.

3. After giving effect to the Loans and the obligations incurred in connection therewith and the other transactions contemplated by the Loan Agreement and the Loan Documents, the Borrower (on a consolidated basis with its Restricted Subsidiaries) anticipates that it will have sufficient proceeds from its cash flow, the sale of assets in the ordinary course of business, the proceeds of contemplated sales of assets not necessary for the Borrower's business (and the business of its Restricted Subsidiaries), and future debt or equity financings sufficient to pay cash interest expense and long-term Indebtedness when due, whether at maturity or otherwise.

4. Immediately after giving effect to the transactions contemplated by the Loan Agreement and the other Loan Documents, the fair saleable value of the assets of the Borrower and its Restricted Subsidiaries (on a consolidated basis) will exceed the aggregate amount of all Indebtedness then outstanding of the Borrower and its Restricted Subsidiaries (on a consolidated basis).

5. Based on the present and anticipated needs for capital of the businesses conducted, or anticipated to be conducted in the future by the Borrower and its Restricted Subsidiaries, and after giving effect to the Loans, the Borrower (on a consolidated basis with its Restricted Subsidiaries) will not be left with unreasonably small capital to finance the needs and anticipated needs of such businesses.

Capitalized terms used herein and not otherwise defined are used as defined in the Loan Agreement.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, the Borrower has caused the execution of this Certificate and the affixation hereto of the seal of the Borrower this _____ day of November 1996.

FORM OF PROMISSORY NOTE

$_____ As of _____ ____, ____

FOR VALUE RECEIVED, the undersigned, AMERICAN TOWER SYSTEMS, INC., a Delaware corporation (the "Borrower"), promises to pay to the order of _____ (hereinafter, together with its successors and assigns, called the "Bank"), in immediately available funds, at such place as is designated in or pursuant to the Loan Agreement (as hereinafter defined), the principal sum of _____ AND __/100s DOLLARS ($_____) of United States funds, or, if less, so much thereof as may from time to time be advanced by the Bank to the Borrower and is outstanding hereunder, plus interest as hereinafter provided. Such advances and repayments thereof may be endorsed from time to time on the grid attached hereto, but the failure to make such notations (or any error in such notation) shall not affect the obligation of the Borrower to repay unpaid principal and interest hereunder.

Except as otherwise defined or limited herein, capitalized terms used herein shall have the meanings ascribed to them in that certain Loan Agreement dated as of _____ ____, 1996 (as amended from time to time, the "Loan Agreement") among the Borrower, the Bank, the other financial institutions party thereto (together with the Bank, the "Banks") and Toronto Dominion (Texas), Inc., as administrative agent for the Banks (in such capacity, the "Administrative Agent").

The principal amount of this Note shall be paid in such amounts and at such times as are set forth in Sections 2.5 and 2.7 of the Loan Agreement. A final payment of all principal amounts and other Obligations then outstanding hereunder shall be due and payable in full on the Maturity Date.

The Borrower shall be entitled to borrow, repay and reborrow hereunder pursuant to the terms and conditions of the Loan Agreement. Prepayment of the principal amount hereof may be made only as provided in the Loan Agreement. The principal amount of each Advance shall be repaid on its Payment Date.

The Borrower hereby promises to pay interest on the unpaid principal amount of the Loans outstanding hereunder as provided in the Loan Agreement. Interest under this Note shall also be due and payable when this Note shall become due (whether at maturity, by reason of acceleration or otherwise). Overdue principal and, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law, overdue interest, shall bear interest at the Default Rate as provided in the Loan Agreement.

No provision of the Loan Agreement or this Note shall require the payment or permit the collection of interest in excess of that permitted by Applicable Law. If any excess amount of interest in such respect is provided for, or shall be adjudicated to be so provided for, in connection with the Loans outstanding hereunder, the provisions of this paragraph shall govern and prevail, and neither the Borrower nor any sureties, guarantors, successors or assigns of the Borrower shall be obligated to pay the excess amount of such interest or any other excess sum paid for the use, forbearance, or detention of sums loaned pursuant hereto. In the event the Borrower ever pays, or the Bank ever receives, collects or applies as interest any such sum, such amount which would be in excess of the maximum amount permitted by Applicable Law shall be applied as a payment in the reduction of the principal, unless the Borrower shall notify the Bank in writing that it elects to have such excess returned forthwith; and, if the principal has been paid in full, any remaining excess shall forthwith be returned to the Borrower. Because of the variable nature of the rates of interest applicable to the Loans evidenced by this Note, the total interest that will accrue hereon cannot be determined in advance. Neither the Borrower nor the Bank intends for the Bank to contract for, charge or receive usurious interest and, to prevent such an occurrence, any agreements which may now or hereafter be in effect between the Borrower and the Bank regarding the payment of fees to the Bank are hereby limited by the provisions of this paragraph. To the extent not prohibited by Applicable Law, determination of the legal maximum amount of interest shall at all times be made by amortizing, prorating or allocating all interest at any time contracted for, charged or received from the Borrower in connection with the portion of the Loans outstanding hereunder until the Maturity Date, so that the actual rate of interest on account of the Loans outstanding hereunder does not exceed the maximum amount permitted under Applicable Law.

All parties now or hereafter liable with respect to this Note, whether the Borrower, any guarantor, endorser or any other Person, hereby waive to the extent permitted by Applicable Law presentment for payment, demand, notice of nonpayment or dishonor, protest and notice of protest.

No delay or omission on the part of the Bank or any holder hereof in exercising its rights under this Note, or delay or omission on the part of the Bank, the Administrative Agent or the Banks collectively, in exercising its or their rights under the Loan Agreement or any other Loan Documents, or course of conduct relating thereto, shall operate as a waiver of such right or any other right of the Bank or any holder hereof, nor shall any waiver by the Bank, the Administrative Agent or the Banks collectively, or any holder hereof, of any such right or rights on any one occasion be deemed a bar to, or waiver of, the same right or rights on any future occasion.

The Borrower promises to pay all reasonable costs of collection, including attorneys' fees, should this Note be collected by or through an attorney-at-law or under advice therefrom.

Time is of the essence of this Note.

This Note evidences the Bank's portion of the Loans under, and is entitled to the benefits and subject to the terms of, the Loan Agreement which contains provisions with respect of the acceleration of the maturity of this Note upon the happening of certain stated events and provisions for prepayment. This Note is secured by and is also entitled to the benefits of the Security Documents.

This Note shall be construed in accordance with and governed by the internal laws of the State of New York applicable to contracts made and to be performed in the State of New York.

FORM OF PARENT PLEDGE AGREEMENT

THIS PARENT PLEDGE AGREEMENT (this "Agreement"), entered into as of this 22th day of November 1996, by and between American Tower Systems Holding Corporation, a Delaware corporation (the "Pledgor"), and Toronto Dominion (Texas), Inc., as administrative agent (the "Administrative Agent") for itself and on behalf of the Banks.

W I T N E S S E T H:

WHEREAS, American Tower Systems, Inc., a Delaware corporation (the "Borrower"), the Banks and the Administrative Agent are all parties to that certain Loan Agreement dated as of even date herewith (the "Loan Agreement"); and

WHEREAS, the Pledgor is the sole stockholder of the Borrower and, as such, will derive substantial direct and indirect economic benefit from the making of the Loans; and

WHEREAS, as a condition precedent to the effectiveness of the Loan Agreement, the Pledgor is required to execute and deliver this Agreement; and

WHEREAS, to secure the payment and performance of Borrower arising under the Loan Agreement, the Pledgor and the Administrative Agent (on behalf of itself and the Banks) have agreed that the shares of capital stock (the "Stock") owned by the Pledgor in each of the Subsidiaries of the Pledgor listed on Schedule 1 attached hereto (the "Subsidiaries") shall be pledged by the Pledgor to the Administrative Agent (on behalf of itself and the Banks) to secure the Obligations (as defined below);

NOW, THEREFORE, in consideration of the foregoing and other good and valuable consideration, the receipt and sufficiency of which are hereby acknowledged, the parties hereto agree that capitalized terms used herein shall have the meanings ascribed to them in the Loan Agreement to the extent not otherwise defined or limited herein, and further agree as follows:

1. Warranty. The Pledgor hereby represents and warrants to the Administrative Agent and the Banks that, except for the security interest created hereby, the Pledgor owns the Stock, which constitutes the percentage of the issued and outstanding stock of the Subsidiaries as set forth on Schedule 1 attached hereto, free and clear of all Liens, that the Stock is duly issued, fully paid and non-assessable, and that the Pledgor has the unencumbered right to pledge the Stock. In addition, Pledgor represents and covenants as follows: (1) the Stock represents all of Pledgor's shares of capital stock in any Subsidiary; (2) upon possession and retention of the Stock by the Administrative Agent, the Administrative Agent shall have a valid and perfected first priority security interest in the Stock, securing the payment of the Obligations; and (3) except as noted on Schedule 2 attached hereto, the Stock represents all the outstanding shares of stock issued by any Subsidiary of the Pledgor.

2. Security Interest. Subject to the provisions of Section 13 hereof, the Pledgor hereby unconditionally grants and assigns to the Administrative Agent, for itself and on behalf of the Banks, and their respective successors and assigns, a continuing security interest in and security title to the Stock and any other shares of capital stock of any Subsidiary of the Pledgor obtained in the future, and in each case, all certificates representing such shares, all rights, options, warrants, stock or other securities or other property which may hereafter be received, receivable or distributed in respect of the Stock, together with all proceeds of the foregoing, including, without limitation, all dividends, cash, notes, securities or other property from time to time acquired, receivable or otherwise distributed in respect of, or in exchange for, the foregoing, all of which shall constitute "Stock" hereunder. The Pledgor has delivered to and deposited with the Administrative Agent herewith all of its right, title and interest in and to the Stock, together with certificates representing the Stock, and undated stock powers endorsed in blank, as security for the payment and performance of all of the obligations of the Pledgor and any other obligor to the Administrative Agent, the Banks, or any of them, under this Agreement and any extensions, renewals or amendments of any of the foregoing, however created, acquired, arising or evidenced, whether direct or indirect, absolute or contingent, now or hereafter existing, or due or to become due (the "Obligations"); it being the intention of the parties hereto that beneficial ownership of the Stock, including, without limitation, all voting, consensual and dividend rights, shall remain in the Pledgor until the occurrence and during continuance of an Event of Default and until the Administrative Agent shall notify the Pledgor of the Administrative Agent's exercise of voting and dividend rights to the Stock pursuant to Section 9 of this Agreement.

3. Additional Shares. In the event that, during the term of this Agreement:

(a) any stock dividend, stock split, reclassification, readjustment, or other change is declared or made in the capital structure of any Subsidiary, or any new stock is issued by such Subsidiary, all new, substituted, and additional shares shall be issued to the Pledgor and shall be promptly delivered to the Administrative Agent, together with undated stock powers endorsed in blank by the Pledgor, and shall thereupon constitute Stock to be held by the Administrative Agent under the terms of this Agreement; and

(b) any subscriptions, warrants or any other rights or options shall be issued in connection with the Stock, all new stock or other securities acquired through such subscriptions, warrants, rights or options by the Pledgor shall be promptly delivered to the Administrative Agent, together with undated Stock powers endorsed in blank, and shall thereupon constitute Stock to be held by the Administrative Agent under the terms of this Agreement.

4. Default. In the event of the occurrence of an Event of Default and so long as any such Event of Default is continuing, subject, however, to Section 13 hereof, the Administrative Agent may sell or otherwise dispose of the Stock at a public or private sale or make other commercially reasonable disposition of the Stock or any portion thereof after fifteen (15) days' notice to the Pledgor and the Administrative Agent and the Banks, or any of them, may purchase the Stock or any portion thereof at any public sale. The proceeds of the public or private sale or other disposition shall be applied first to the costs of the Administrative Agent incurred in connection with the sale, expressly including, without limitation, any costs under Section 7 hereof, and then as provided in the Loan Agreement. In the event the proceeds of the sale or other disposition of the Stock are insufficient to satisfy the Obligations, the Pledgor shall remain liable for any such deficiency. Pledgor waives, to the extent permitted by Applicable Law, the rights of equity of redemption, appraisal, notice of acceptance, presentment, demand and marshalling, to the extent applicable.

5. Additional Rights of Secured Party. In addition to its rights and privileges under this Agreement, the Administrative Agent, on behalf of itself and the Banks, shall have all the rights, powers and privileges of a secured party under the Uniform Commercial Code as in effect in any applicable jurisdiction and other Applicable Law.

6. Return of Stock to the Pledgor. Upon payment in full of all principal and interest on the Notes, full performance by the Borrower of all covenants, undertakings and obligations under the Loan Agreement and the other Loan Documents, and satisfaction in full of any other Obligations, other than the Obligations which survive the termination of the Loan Agreement as provided in Section 11.16 of the Loan Agreement, and after such time as the Banks shall have no obligation to make any further Advances to the Borrower, this Agreement shall terminate and the Administrative Agent shall return the remaining Stock and all rights received by the Administrative Agent as a result of its possessory interest in the Stock to the Pledgor.

7. Disposition of Stock by Administrative Agent. The Stock is not registered or qualified under the various Federal or state securities laws of the United States and disposition thereof after an Event of Default may be restricted to one or more private (instead of public) sales in view of the lack of such registration. The Pledgor understands that upon such disposition, the Administrative Agent may approach only a restricted number of potential purchasers and further understands that a sale under such circumstances may yield a lower price for the Stock than if the Stock were registered and qualified pursuant to Federal and state securities laws and sold on the open market. The Pledgor, therefore, agrees that:

(a) if the Administrative Agent shall, pursuant to the terms of this Agreement, sell or cause the Stock or any portion thereof to be sold at a private sale, the Administrative Agent shall have the right to rely upon the advice and opinion of any national brokerage or investment firm having recognized expertise and experience in connection with shares of communications tower companies (but shall not be obligated to seek such advice and the failure to do so shall not be considered in determining the commercial reasonableness of such action) as to the best manner in which to expose the Stock for sale and as to the best price reasonably obtainable at the private sale thereof; and

(b) that such reliance shall be conclusive evidence that the Administrative Agent has handled such disposition in a commercially reasonable manner absent manifest error.

8. Pledgor's Obligations Absolute. The obligations of the Pledgor under this Agreement shall be direct and immediate and not conditional or contingent upon the pursuit of any remedies against the Borrower or any other Person, nor against other security or liens available to the Administrative Agent or any Bank. The Pledgor hereby waives any right to require that an action be brought against any other Person or to require that resort be had to any security or to any balance of any deposit account or credit on the books of the Administrative Agent or any of the Banks in favor of any other Person prior to the exercise of remedies hereunder, or to require action hereunder prior to resort by the Administrative Agent to any other security or collateral for the Obligations. No amendment, modification, waiver, transfer or renewal, extension, assignment or termination of this Agreement or of the Loan Agreement or of any other Loan Document, or of any instrument or document executed and delivered by the Pledgor or any other obligor with respect to the Obligations to the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, nor additional advances made by the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, to the Borrower, nor the taking of further security, nor the retaking or re-delivery or release of the Collateral to the Borrower or any other Person or any other collateral or guaranty to the Borrower or any other Person by the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, nor any lack of validity or enforceability of any Loan Document or any term thereof, nor any other act of the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, shall release the Pledgor from any Obligation, except a release or discharge executed in writing by the Administrative Agent in accordance with the Loan Agreement with respect to such Obligation or upon full payment and satisfaction of all Obligations. Neither the Administrative Agent nor any Bank shall, by any act, delay, omission or otherwise, be deemed to have waived any of its or their rights or remedies hereunder, unless such waiver is in writing and signed by the Administrative Agent in accordance with the Loan Agreement and then only to the extent therein set forth. A waiver by the Banks and the Administrative Agent, or any of them, of any right or remedy on any occasion shall not be construed as a bar to the exercise of any such right or remedy which any such Person would otherwise have had on any other occasion.

9. Voting Rights.

(a) For so long as any Obligations remain unpaid, after and during the continuation of an Event of Default, but subject to the provisions of Section 13 hereof, (i) the Administrative Agent may, upon fifteen (15) days' prior written notice to the Pledgor of its intention to do so, exercise all voting rights, and all other ownership or consensual rights of the Stock, but under no circumstances is the Administrative Agent obligated by the terms of this Agreement to exercise such rights, and (ii) the Pledgor hereby appoints the Administrative Agent, which appointment shall be effective on the fifteenth (15th) day following the giving of notice by the Administrative Agent as provided in the foregoing Section 9(a)(i), the Pledgor's true and lawful attorney-in-fact and IRREVOCABLE PROXY to vote the Stock in any manner the Administrative Agent deems advisable for or against all matters submitted or which may be submitted to a vote of shareholders. The power-of-attorney granted hereby is coupled with an interest and shall be irrevocable.

(b) For so long as the Pledgor shall have the right to vote the Stock, the Pledgor covenants and agrees that it will not, without the prior written consent of the Administrative Agent, vote or take any consensual action with respect to the Stock which would constitute an Event of Default.

10. Notices. All notices and other communications required or permitted hereunder shall be in writing, and shall be given in the fashion set forth in Section 11.1 of the Loan Agreement, and with respect to the Pledgor, at the address for the Borrower set forth in or otherwise provided pursuant to Section 11.1 of the Loan Agreement.

11. Binding Agreement. The provisions of this Agreement shall be construed and interpreted, and all rights and obligations of the parties hereto determined, in accordance with the internal laws of the State of New York applicable to contracts made and to be performed in the State of New York. This Agreement, together with all documents referred to herein, constitutes the entire agreement between the parties with respect to the matters addressed herein and may not be modified except by a writing executed by the Administrative Agent and the Pledgor and delivered by the Administrative Agent to the Pledgor.

12. Severability. If any paragraph or part thereof shall for any reason be held or adjudged to be invalid, illegal or unenforceable by any court of competent jurisdiction, such paragraph or part thereof so adjudicated invalid, illegal or unenforceable shall be deemed separate, distinct and independent, and the remainder of this Agreement shall remain in full force and effect and shall not be affected by such holding or adjudication.

13. FCC Compliance. Notwithstanding anything herein which may be construed to the contrary, no action shall be taken by the Administrative Agent which may require the consent or approval of the FCC, and the proxy granted in Section 9(a) hereof shall not become effective, unless and until all requirements of the Communications Act, requiring the consent to or approval of such action by the FCC have been satisfied. The Pledgor covenants that, following and during the continuance of an Event of Default, upon request of the Administrative Agent, it will cause to be filed such applications and take such other action as may be reasonably requested by the Administrative Agent to obtain consent or approval of the FCC to any action contemplated by this Agreement and to give effect to the security interest of the Administrative Agent, including, without limitation, the execution of an application for consent by the FCC to an assignment or transfer involving a change in ownership or control pursuant to the provisions of the Communications Act.

14. Counterparts. This Agreement may be executed in multiple counterparts, each of which shall be deemed to be an original, but all such separate counterparts shall together constitute but one and the same instrument.

15. Administrative Agent. Each reference herein to any right granted to, benefit conferred upon or power exercisable by the "Administrative Agent" shall be a reference to the Administrative Agent for the benefit of all the Banks, and each action taken or right exercised hereunder shall be deemed to have been so taken or exercised by the Administrative Agent for the benefit of and on behalf of all the Banks.
